Keene, Thursday, June 3, 1847.

There is one remarkable fact disclosed in the report of the "Foreign Evangelical Society." The funds received during the year are stated to amount to $14,820 26. Of this $7,690 were paid to the work in Europe, and $4,412 84 for "expenses at home, including salaries, traveling expenses, &c."—nearly one-third of the whole amount received. The balance of the expenditures went to Canada, South America, and Africa. The agents and salary officers should not swallow up such a proportion of funds gratuitously given.

The attendance upon the "Evangelical Alliance" meetings does not show much interest beyond the immediate influence of the delegates who went last year to London—seldom over 200. On one occasion Dr. Cox commenced a speech by lamenting the want of a larger audience. On the third day Rev. Mr Chancy was called to order for going into the subject of slavery. He was against admitting slaveholders. Rev. Mr Hatfield would have the whole subject of moral reform excluded and a merely doctrinal basis adhered to. Mr Chancy said another branch would be formed if slaveholders were admitted. Rev. Mr Kirk, of Boston, would feel bound to withdraw if this slave discussion continued. Mr Chancy yielded to the calls to order and left his speech unfinished, some twenty-five persons only being present. The "declaration" published last week, was subsequently agreed to.

RELIGIOUS ANNIVERSARIES.

[Reported for the Boston Daily Advertiser]

These annual celebrations in this city were opened on Sabbath evening; 23d ult., by a Discourse before the American and Foreign Sabbath Union, by Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College. It was an able effort to show that in a proper observance of the Sabbath lies the purity and perpetuity of free Institutions.

He commenced by remarking, that the preservation and final destruction of the political policy of the Jews were intimately connected with their observance and desecration of the Sabbath and that all well authenticated facts in the annals of the human race go to establish the position, that the purity and permanency of free institutions necessarily depend upon an elevated public morality, and that that state of public morality can never be reached and enjoyed, where the Sabbath is not properly respected.

The proper observance of the Sabbath affects the purity and permanence of civil institutions through its effects on individual character. Self government is free government, and the only free government. The Sabbath, properly observed, enlightens the intellect, and the conscience, and educates man for his duties and responsibilities here, and for his higher responsibilities in reference to the future state. The prospects of our country are fraught with the deepest interest to the patriot and the christian. What shall hold society here together, when we come to number, as we soon shall, an hundred millions, composed of various nations, languages, and religions? What shall then be able to restrain the excited passions of the greatest mass of human beings, which the sun has ever seen associated together under one government? If, then, our political heavens should gather blackness, and the winds blow and the storms descend, and this mighty ocean of popular will be lashed into fury by maddened factions, the little bark of civil liberty will founder and go down, except it be saved by the conservative, controlling influence of the Sabbath. But let the Sabbath be properly observed, and the result will be that "the people shall all be righteous, and shall inherit the land forever."

MASSACHUSETTS BIBLE SOCIETY.—The anniversary of this institution was celebrated in the Winter-street Church yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Pierce presided, and opened the exercises by a very appropriate address, in which, among other illustrations of the moral influence of the Word of God, he alluded to the fact that desertions from the American army in the revolutionary war were almost entirely prevented by the introduction of the practice of requiring the soldiers to swear allegiance to their country upon the Bible.

Rev. Dr. Parkman, chairman of the Board of Managers, submitted the annual report. The Massachusetts Bible Society has circulated the past year 5,858 Bibles and Testaments among seamen, in Sabbath schools, to volunteers in the army, to the Massachusetts Hospital, in public houses, and in various schools. This Society was formed in the year 1809.

The Society was ably addressed by Rev. E. B. Hall of Providence, R. I. Rev. Dr. Caruthers of Portland, Me., and Hon. Simon Greenleaf of Cambridge.

Prof Greenleaf adverted to several points in which the Bible has most essentially and favorably modified the codes of international law. All Eastern and Pagan lawgivers do not distinguish between the act and the intent, but Christianity does They nowhere enjoin the law of love, the Bible does. They do not discourage litigation, the Bible does. They do not improve the condition of woman, Christianity does.

AMERICAN TEMPERANCE UNION.—This Society held its anniversary in the Central Church, in Winter Street, on Tuesday evening, John Tappan, Esq., presiding. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Humphrey. Mr Tappan made a brief introductory statement, in which he said that the temperance cause has been in successful operation for more than 20 years, and that a whole generation of young people have grown up under its influence. They have not known ardent spirits offered and used, as they formerly were, in social visits, at funerals, and on all festive occasions. The moral influence of such a new order of things, upon society generally is most auspicious, and calls for gratitude to God, and for perseverance in the high and holy work of reform till the last vestige of intemperance shall be banished from the land and the world.

Rev. John Marsh, Secretary of the Union, submitted an abstract of the annual report. It is stated that the two great facts, which had distinguished the temperance reformation the past year, have been the Temperance Convention in London, last summer, and the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, affirming the constitutionality of the license laws of several States of the Union. In Maine, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa, the public voice has unequivocally declared in favor of this cause. In Iowa every county but one have voted that there shall be no licenses. In 1846, 655 towns in the State of New York voted against licenses, but this year, through great exertions on the part of the friends of licenses, operating through political prejudices, 200 out of 300 towns which have voted upon the subject, have gone the other way. But this is only a temporary triumph.

The question, all over the land, is now narrowed down to the point, whether a few venders or the people shall rule in this matter. The contest is between these two parties, and which will be triumphant requires no prophetic spirit to divine. 12,000 seamen in the United States have already signed the temperance pledge. The iniquitous war with Mexico has sent the cause backward at the South and West. An unsuccessful effort has been made to abolish the spirit ration in the army: Foreign nations are doing well in this cause. The King and Queen of Sweden are active in promoting it. In Holland, France and England the cause is advancing.—Two millions in England, Scotland and Wales have subscribed the pledge, and six millions in Ireland have, done the same thing. Within seven months, 62 millions of breadstuffs have been sent from this country to Ireland, and 44 millions from other lands, much of which had, otherwise, been converted into poison and death.

This is the eleventh year of the Society's operations, and the receipts have been $1.522.

AMERICAN UNITARIAN ASSOCIATION.—From the Boston Courier we copy the following account of the meeting of this Association:

The Prayer meeting at the vestry of Mr Waterston's Church, in Bedford street, was yesterday morning very fully attended. In the forenoon the business meeting of the Association was held at the same place, and excited great interest; it was ascertained that, owing to some informality in references to giving notices of the meeting, the act of incorporation granted by the last Legislature could not be legally accepted, and another meeting will be necessary for that purpose, to be held at some future day. In the meantime the details of the constitution proposed for the new association were taken up and discussed with a view to recommending its adoption at the legal meeting of the corporators. A long discussion ensued, Richard Sullivan of this city in the chair, principally relating to the salary of the Secretary; one party was for abolishing the salary of that officer, or making it very small, and appropriating the funds of the Society to the dissemination of tracts, &c., while the other was for paying a large salary, and making the office of secretary an important and very laborious one. The meeting adjourned after one o'clock, without taking any vote upon the subject.

The following officers were subsequently chosen, under the new Constitution: President, E. S. Gannett, D. D.; Vice President, Hon. Stephen Fairbanks; Directors, Rev. E. Peabody, F. D. Huntington, J. W. Thompson, Isaiah Bangs, and Lewis G. Pray, Esq.; Secretary, Rev. W G. Elliot.

A collation of the Unitarian Laymen of Boston, to the Clergy of the Denomination, was given at the Hall over the Depot of the Maine Extension Railroad. The Hall was crowded—about 1400 present. A blessing was invoked by Rev. F. T. Gray; after which an original hymn was sung. George S. Hilliard, Esq. presided, and in an address spoke in praise of the clergy of New England, demonstrating how undeserving they were of the harsh and indiscriminate censures of the zealous moral reformers of the day. Speeches were made by Dr Pierce, Dr Parkman, Rev. Mr Sanger of Dover, Rev. Mr Fisher of Ireland, Capt. Forbes, Rev. Mr Cordner of Montreal, Rev. Mr Bellows of New York, Rev. R. C. Waterston, Rev. Dr Nichols of Portland, and Father Taylor. The last named announced his intention of going to Ireland in the Macedonian.

AMERICAN EDUCATION SOCIETY.—This Society celebrated its thirty-first anniversary in the Tremont Temple on Monday evening.

Number assisted.—The number of young men assisted by the Society during the year is three hundred and eighty-nine. This is a greater number by fourteen than was assisted last year.

AMERICAN PEACE SOCIETY.—The 19th anniversary of this society was held in the Winter street Church, Dea. S. Greele, in the Chair.

The presiding officer made an introductory address. Rev. Mr Beckwith, Secretary of the Society, then read the annual report. It dwelt more particularly upon the atrocious character of the present war with Mexico. The financial condition of the Society is more prosperous; $3,387 have been received the past year, and $3,404 expended.

PRISON DISCIPLINE SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this philanthropic Institution was held in the Tremont Temple, yesterday, at 11 o'clock, A. M. Hon. Theoeore Lyman, who was on the preceding day elected President of the Society, took the Chair, and requested Rev. Dr. Tucker, of Wethersfield, Ct, to lead in the opening devotional exercises. He read the 13th chapter of the first Epistle to the Corinthians, which so beautifully urges the exercise of Christian charity, and then offered an appropriate prayer for the Divine blessing upon the Society.

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.—Abstract of the thirty-third annual Report:

Receipts of the past year.....	$33,972 54
In donations and legacies.....	20,055 00
Expenditures the past year.....	$34,390 55
No. of volumes circulated.....	132,500
Colporteurs employed in New England	32
They circulated.....	49,818 vols.
They visited.....	18,834 families.

The annual meeting of this Society was held in the Tremont Temple, on Wednesday evening and Mr Cross of Western Virginia, Rev. S. L. Pomeroy, of Bangor, Maine, and Rev. R. S. Cook, of New York, addressed the assembly.

FOREIGN EVANGELICAL SOCIETY.—A meeting on behalf of this excellent Institution was held in the Tremont Temple, Thursday morning. Mr Henry Edwards was in the chair. Prayer was offered by Rev. Thomas Shepard, of Bristol R. I. Rev. Dr. Baird made an oral statement of the plans and operations of the Society, and the meeting was addressed by Rev. Rodney A. Miller of Worcester, Rev. Dr. Tucker of Wethersfield, Ct., Rev. S. L. Pomroy of Bangor, Me., and Rev. Mr Kirk of this city.

The Boston Post Society met at Rev. Dr. Gannett's Church, on Monday evening. Albert Fearing, Esq, President of the Society, Capt. Richard Girdler, Thomas B. Curtis, Esq., Captain Forbes and Father Taylor made interesting speeches. The expenses for the last year have been $1925 28; receipts from rents and contributions at the Bethel, $1253 86. A Mariner's House has been built at a cost of $35,477; $20,848 of this sum was given by citizens of Boston; the remainder was borrowed on a mortgage.—The House has been rented to the Seaman's Aid Society for $1500 per year, yielding an income of $600, sufficient to meet all the current expenses of the Society. The Society hope to receive donations enough to pay the debt.

MEETING ON BEHALF OF THE AMERICAN BOARD.—In the Tremont Temple, on Thursday evening, a crowded meeting of the friends of Foreign Missions was held to listen to such statements as might be calculated to awaken an increased interest in favor of Missions to the Heathen.

Rev. Dr. Codman, of Dorchester, took the Chair, and the meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr Badger, of New York.

Rev. Dr. Anderson, senior Secretary of the Board, read a brief statement setting forth the present financial condition of the Board, and the opening prospects of usefulness in various sections of the pagan world.

It commenced with a touching allusion to the sudden death of Rev. Dr. Armstrong, another Secretary, who perished on board the steamer Atlantic, in Long Island Sound It represented the finances of the Board as not in the most prosperous condition, the receipts thus far in the present year, have fallen $30,000 below those of the last. Twenty missionaries, and twice that number of assistant missionaries have been despatched to the heathen world, and several more are already under appointment.

THE N. E. ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY, (says the Whig) commenced its three days session yesterday morning, at the Marlboro' Chapel, and continued through the day. Mr Garrison, early in the day, offered some resolutions of a radical character, which afforded abundance of material to talk upon. Francis Jackson presided at the meeting. In the evening, there was a great disposition among the large boys to disturb the exercises, and one of them was taken to the watch-house, where he was followed by some hundreds with the hope of his rescue.

The principal speakers have been Wendell Phillips, (who made a grand attack upon Daniel Webster and Rev. Dr. Putnam of Roxbury) Mr Garrison, Wm. A. White of Watertown, Rev. T. Williams of Rhode Island, Charles L. Remond of Salem, James N. Buffum of Lynn, Stephen S. Foster, Rev. Mr Willis of New Hampshire, Wm. W. Brown, a fugitive slave, Rev. Mr Grew of Philadelphia, Mrs Lucretia Mott, Dr. Snodgrass of Baltimore, Nathaniel Southard of Vermont, Parker Pillsbury of New Hampshire, and Seth Sprague of Duxbury. The subjects discussed were the Church, the State, the Politicians, the propriety of using the products of slave labor, the war, the Whigs, the Locofocos, financial affairs, &c. &c. Parker Pillsbury, in the course of his remarks, told the following story: it is to be hoped it is only a story. We quote from the Post:

To show how much the pulpit was under the influence of the aristocracy, he related a conversation which he once had with a rich Universalist, who was in the habit of attending an Orthodox Church. He was the most wealthy member of the Congregation. Whenever he found the preacher showing symptoms of bearing down on Universalism, he used to send him a barrel of flour, and then nothing would be heard of Universalism for several weeks; and the moment Universalism was mentioned in the pulpit, he knew the barrel was about empty, and all he had to do was to send another, and the subject would be dropped. So it went on for years.

Seven hundred dollars were contributed for the purpose of carrying on operations.

SOCIETY FOR AIDING DISCHARGED CONVICTS. This Society held its first anniversary at the Masonic Temple, Sunday evening, May 23, 1847. From the Report of the General Agent it appeared that one hundred and three discharged convicts had been aided by the Society during the year, most of them from the State Prison in Charlestown.

The receipts of the American Bible Society for the last year have been $205,068—776 over last year. Bibles and Testaments printed 671,500, in different languages. Distributed and sold, 625,878.

☞ Miss Beecher, the daughter of the venerable Dr. Beecher, is untiring in her efforts to promote education at the West. She is in a few days to meet, at Albany, twenty-six young ladies from New England, who are to go out with her as teachers, after having spent a season at the State Normal School. Her plan is to transfer a large number of educated young ladies to the West, and there employ them as teachers.—Salem Register.

FEMALE BEAUTY.

Those who are accustomed to enlightened views of female beauty, well know that there are different kinds of personal beauty, among which that of form and coloring hold a very inferior rank. There is a beauty of expression, for instance, of sweetness, of nobility, of intellectual refinement, of feeling, of animation, of meekness, of resignation, and many other kinds of beauty, which may be allied to the plainest features, and yet may remain to give pleasure long after the blooming cheek has faded, and silver gray has mingled with the hair. And how far more powerful in their influence upon others, are some of those kinds of beauty. For, after all, beauty depends more upon the form of the features when at rest; and thus, a countenance habitually under the influence of amiable feelings acquires a beauty of the highest order, from the frequency with which such feelings are the originating causes of the movement or expressions which stamp their character upon it. Who has not waited for the first opening of the lips of a celebrated belle, to see whether her claims would be supported by "the mind, the music breathing from her face;" and who has not occasionally turned away, repelled by the utter blank, or worse than blank, which the simple movement of the mouth, in speaking, or smiling, has revealed? The language of poetry describes the loud laugh as indicative of the vulgar mind; and certainly there are expressions conveyed through the medium of a smile, which need not Lavater to inform us that refinement of feeling, or elevation of soul, has little to do with the fair countenance on which they are impressed. On the other hand, there are plain women sometimes met in society, every movement of whose features is instinct with intelligence; who, from the genuine heart warm smiles which play about the mouth, the sweetly modulated voice, and the lighting up of an eye, that looks as if it could "comprehend the universe," becomes perfectly beautiful to those who live with them and love them. Before such pretensions as these, how soon does the pink and white of a merely pretty face vanish to nothing!

HERVIO NANO, THE MAN MONKEY AND GNOME-FLY DISSECTED.

Every body must remember this curious specimen of the genus homo, who has exhibited himself so often. His real name was Harvey Leach, and he was a native of Connecticut. He died in London on the 16th ult., bequeathing his singular body to a celebrated surgeon for dissection, and we learn from an article in The London Literary Gazette, the following striking facts elicited by the operator:—

"The head is remarkably fine in form, and the expression intelligent and benign; the chest, shoulders, and arms form a perfect model of strength and beauty; the arms are exceedingly muscular, and the hands very well and strongly formed; when standing the arms could reach the ground easily, so as to be employed in progression or leaping; in the place of legs, there are two limbs, the left about eighteen inches from the hip to the point of the toes, the right about twenty-four from the same points. The feet are natural. The easiest mode of explaining the nature of these limbs is to say, that it seems as though the thigh bones and muscles had disappeared, and the knee joints been raised up to the hips; the bone on the one side is tolerably like a leg bone, on the other it is compressed into an immensely strong bone of triangular form with the base upwards, and knit to the hip with very strong ligaments. These limbs are furnished with the muscles which should have belonged to the thigh, and those of the leg are much increased in size; the muscles of the calf being comparatively small, on account probably of his mode of walking, contribute to give the limb the look of a lion's fore-arm. Nearly double power must have been obtained over the feet by this arrangement; and this would account for his extraordinary feats of leaping, such as following a horse at full speed on his hands and feet, suddenly springing on his back like a monkey, or jumping ten feet in the air. His mode of fighting, too, was most original; he used to spring in the air, and at the same time deal the most terrific blow upon his unwary antagonist's head, so that he was a very formidable combatant. It is said that in his palmy days, while driving his cab, a clumsy carter drove against him, and, as usual,
