

The following is a translation of the Diploma from the University of Cambridge, in New England, to his Excellency GEORGE WASHINGTON, Esq; Captain General and Commander in Chief of the Forces of the United Colonies in North-America.

The Corporation of Harvard College at Cambridge, in New England, to all faithful in Christ, to whom their presents shall come, greeting.

WHEREAS academical degrees were originally instituted for this purpose, that men, eminent for knowledge, wisdom, and virtue, who have highly merited of the Republic of Letters, should be rewarded with the honour of these laurels; there is the greatest propriety in conferring such honour on that very illustrious gentleman, GEORGE WASHINGTON, Esq; the accomplished General of the Confederate Colonies in America, whose knowledge and patriotic ardour are manifest to all; who, for his distinguished virtue, both civil and military; in the first place, being elected by the suffrages of the Virginians, one of their DELEGATES, exerted himself with fidelity and singular wisdom in the celebrated CONGRESS in America, for the defence of Liberty, when in the utmost danger of being lost, and for the salvation of his country; and then, at the earnest request of that Grand Council of Patriots, without hesitation, left all the pleasures of his delightful seat in Virginia, and the affairs of his own estate, that through all the fatigues and dangers of camp, without accepting any reward, he might deliver New England from the unjust and cruel arms of Great Britain, and defend the other colonies; and who, by the most signal smiles of Divine Providence on his military operations, drove the fleet and troops of the enemy, with disgraceful precipitation, from the towns of Boston, which for eleven months had been shut, fortified, and defended, by a garrison of above 7000 regulars; so that the inhabitants, who suffered a great variety of hardships and cruelties, while under the power of their oppressors, now rejoice in their deliverance. The neighbouring towns are also freed from the tumults of arms, and our University has the agreeable prospect of being restored to its ancient state.

Know ye therefore, that we, the President and Fellows of Harvard College, in Cambridge, (with the consent of the honourable and reverend Governors of our Academy) have constituted and created the aforesaid gentleman, GEORGE WASHINGTON, who merits the highest honour, DOCTOR OF LAWS, the law of nature and nations, and the civil law; and have given and granted him at the same time, all rights, privileges, and honours to the said degree pertaining.

In testimony whereof, we have affixed the common seal of our University to these letters, and subscribed them with our hand writing, this third day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy six.

(Signed) SAMUEL LANGDON, S. T. D. Prefes. NATHANIEL APPLETON, S. T. D. JOHANNES WINTHROP, Mat. et Phi. P. ANDREAS ELLIOT, S. T. D. (Hol. L. L. D.) JOHN WADSWORTH, Log. et Eth. Pre. SAMUEL COOPER, S. T. D.

Pearce, at No. 186, Fleet street, near St. Dunstons Church; and sold by all the Bookellers, printers, news carriers, &c. in Great Britain. [1270]

To be SOLD by PRIVATE CONTRACT ALL that modern, substantial, well-built, BRICK MANSION HOUSE, consisting of a large, spacious hall, four parlours, butler's pantry, and house-keeper's room, five exceeding good bedchambers, together with closets and dressing rooms, and six garrets, a very large servants hall and kitchen, large and good cellars, brew-house, and all other spacious and convenient out offices, coach house for two carriages, and stabling for eight horses, a pleasure garden with great variety of wall fruit, together with thirty-three acres of very rich meadow land, lying all together, in a paddock behind the house, and four acres more, with a kitchen garden, opposite the front of the house, very pleasantly situated on the borders of the town of Horham, in the county of Suffex, and now in the occupation of John Baker, Esq. N. B. Horham is a large market town, in an exceeding healthy situation, in the direct and pleasant road from London to Brighton, 36 miles from the former, and 24 miles from the latter.

And also all that messuage or tenement, barns, farm, lands, and premises, situate in Horham aforesaid, called the Parsonage Farm, containing, by estimation, 150 acres of arable meadow, and pasture lands, now in the occupation of Thomas Redford, or his under tenants. And also all that messuage or tenement; barns, farms, lands, and premises, situate in Horham aforesaid, called Holebrooke and Morrice, containing, by estimation, 160 acres of arable meadow, wood, and pasture lands, and now in the occupation of Benjamin Boorer, or his under tenants. And also all that messuage or tenement, barns, farms, lands, and premises, situate in Horham aforesaid, called Park Farm Randall and Gibbs James, containing, by estimation, 145 acres of arable meadow, and pasture land, and now in the occupation of Richard Boorer, the elder, or his under tenants.

And also all those woodlands and coppice grounds, called by the several names of Svingers, Baddin meens, Leach-pool, and Bonniwecks, containing, by estimation, 90 acres, situate in Horham aforesaid, now in the occupation of William Harding, or his under tenants. And also all those extensive manors, or reputed manors, o Shortfield and Nutham, with all heriots, rents, waives, commons, timber rights, royalties, members, and appurtenances whatsoever to the same belonging, or in any wife appertaining. The above three farms, woodlands and manors, are not far from the capital mansion, and may be purchased therewith, or such parts only as the purchaser shall think proper, or no part thereof without he chuses it.

And also all those several messuages, or tenements, mills, millponds, farms, lands, and premises, situate, lying, and being in the several parishes of Shipley and Westgirth, in the said county of Suffex, containing, by estimation, between sixteen and seventeen hundred acres of arable meadow, pasture and woodlands, called Knapp, otherwise Knapp, and now in the several occupations of John Britton, John Stejney, James Turner, Mary Coates, William Bower, Solomon Nye, John Pollard, Philip Kenfert, and the widow Herriot, or their respective under-tenants; together also with the very extensive manor, or reputed manor, of Knapp, otherwise Knapp, with all fines, heriots, rents, quit rents, commons, timber rights, royalties, members and appurtenances whatsoever to the same belonging, or in any wife appertaining.

The above mentioned estates are for the most part very full of fine growing timber, and are all situate within the Rape of Bramber, which by a late act of parliament is annexed to the Borough of New Shoreham, and all freeholders have a right to vote for the members to serve in parliament for that borough, and the purchase of these large estates may probably have some weight in future elections for that borough. The respective tenants will they the respective estates; and further particulars may be had by applying to William Ellis, attorney at law, at Horham aforesaid. [1281]

By the KING'S ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, HORSE BALLS, PREPARED and sold by WILLIAM RADLEY, druggist and chemist, No. 27, near Gray's-inn-Gate, Holborn.

The purging balls contain in a small compass all the essential qualities of a stomach purge; they, without the least griping, scour a horse well, and make him stifle plentifully. Horses, after being badly or irregularly fed, or coming from grass into a stable, are apt, on change of diet, to have humours flying about them; which, settling on the lungs, legs, or blood vessels, cause either an obstinate cough, greafe, or farcy, which might be prevented by a few doses of physic, and therefore highly necessary for horses newly purchased. Price 2s. each parcel, containing three doses. Diuretic balls, which essentially cure the greafe by an urinary discharge, price 2s. per box. Worm powders and Worm balls 6d. each. Cordia's Saffron Balls, 3s. per box. Fever powders for horses, 3s. a parcel. Purging balls for horses, 2s. 6d. per box.

Like-wisE POWDERS FOR COUGHS and EPIDEMICAL COLDS in HORSES, which may be given with out trouble, as they will take it in their food, 2s. a parcel. [202]

UNIVERSITY of GLASGOW. AS some Gentlemen who propose to study in the University of Glasgow, go thither at an improper season of the year, public notice is therefore given that the Lectures in that University begin every year at the following terms:

The Lectures upon the Latin Language, the Greek Language, Logic, Rhetoric, Metaphysics, Moral Philosophy, and a Natural Philosophy, upon the tenth day of October. The Lectures upon Divinity, Church History, Oriental Languages; the Institutes of the Roman Law, the Pandects, the History of Government, the Law of Scotland; the Theory of Medicine, the Practice of Medicine, Anatomy, Midwifery, Chymistry, Materia Medica; Mathematics, Experimental Philosophy, Practical Astronomy, Civil History, and Modern Languages, upon the first day of November. The Lectures upon Botany on the tenth day of May.

The Vacation is from the tenth of June to the tenth of October, and there is no intermission in the Lectures above two days at Christmas, Easter, and Whitfuntide. [1263]

This day was published, The Second Edition, price 1s. 6d. sewed, A MORAL DEMONSTRATION of the TRUTH of the CHRISTIAN RELIGION. With an introduction on the nature and force of probable arguments.

Printed for T. Cadell, in the Strand. "The author of this Moral Dissertation was the eminent and excellent Dr. Jeremy Taylor; and the re-publisher of it, we are informed, is Bishop Horne. We cannot give its character in better terms than those of the ingenious and Right Reverend Editor: There is so much truth and sense in this little Treat, so much good reasoning, enforced by so exuberant an eloquence and so sublime a piety—that, if I mistake not, it will afford to serious minds a more than common satisfaction." Monthly Review for May, 1776. [2294]

WHEREAS FRANCIS DANSAYS, deceased, late Lieutenant Governor of Greenwhich-Hospital, by his Will, dated the 15th day of September, 1751, gave to his Nephew WILLIAM DANSAYS, Esq. of his brother Peter Dansays, formerly of Little Earl-street, Seven Dials, London, watchmaker, a Legacy of Two Hundred Pounds, to be paid within two months next after his wife's death, provided his said nephew should be then living; and also a Mitey of one Mitey of the residue of his personal estate after his said wife's death. Now in pursuance of a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, the said William Dansays, if living, or his representative or representatives, if dead, or any other persons otherwise deriving, or claiming any right to the said legacy, or share of the said residue, in case the said William Dansays was living at the death of the said testator's widow, is and are forthwith to come in before Edward Montague, Esq. one of the Masters of the said Court, at his Chambers, in St. Dunstons Inn, Chancery-lane; and claim the same, on or before the 6th day of November next, or in default thereof, he, she, or they will be excluded the benefit of the said Decree.
