A. They rest from Sin, never to feel temptation or inclination to sin, Heb. 12. 23. And to the spirits of just men made perfect.

Q. 7. How long shall the Bodies rest in the Grave?

A. Not for ever, but till the Day of the Resurrection, Job 19. 26. For though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God.

Q. 8. What is the First Inference from hence?

A. That union with Christ redounds to the singular advantage of the Body as well as the Soul, Rom. 8. 11. But if the spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his spirit that dwelleth in you.

Q. 9. What is the Second Inference?

A. That Death dissolves not the union betwixt Christ and the Souls or Bodies of his, Mat. 22. 32. I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob; God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

Q. 10. What is the Third Inference?

A. That seeing our Bodies are to have so long and so sweet rest in the Grave, we should not spare them in God's Service now, 2 Pet. 1. 13, 14. Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this Tabernacle, to stir you up, by putting you in remembrance, knowing that shortly I must put off this my Tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

Q. 11. What is the Fourth Inference?

A. That Christians should neither too much fear their own, nor sorrow for others death, Rom. 8. 38. For I am perswaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, —— nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord, 1 Thes. 4. 13. I would not have you to be ignorant concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not even as others which have no hope.

Of the Resurrection.

Quest. 1. IS the Resurrection a credible Doctrine?

A. Yes, it is, Acts 26. 8. Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

Q. 2. Why then doth it seem incredible to man?

A. Because they err, not knowing the Scriptures, and the Power of God, Mark. 12. 24. Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God? The Power of God assures us it may be so, and the word of God to us it must be so.

Q. 3

Q. 3. Is it ſinful to doubt of the Doctrine of the Reſurrection?

A. 'Tis not only a ſin to doubt it, but an hereſy to deny it, it being a fundamental Article, Heb. 6. 2. And of the reſurrection of the dead, 1 Cor. 15. 13, 14. But if there be no reſurrection of the dead, then is Chriſt not riſen; and if Chriſt be not riſen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is alſo vain.

Q. 4. Who muſt riſe again at the Reſurrection?

A. All men, good and bad, muſt riſe again, Acts 24. 15. And have hope towards God, which they themſelves alſo allow, that there ſhall be a reſurrection of the dead, both of the juſt and the unjuſt, Rev. 20. 12, 13, 14. And I ſaw the dead ſmall and great, ſtand before God, &c.

Q. 5. What is the firſt difference betwixt the Reſurrection of the juſt and unjuſt.

A. Saints riſe by virtue of their union with Chriſt, Rom. 8. 11. But if the Spirit of him that raiſed up Jeſus from the dead dwell in you; he that raiſed up Chriſt from the dead, ſhall alſo quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you. But the wicked by his power.

Q. 6. What is the ſecond difference?

A. The ſecond and main difference will be in the contrary ends to which they riſe, ſome to life, and ſome to condemnation, Dan. 12. 2. And many of them that ſleep in the duſt of the earth ſhall awake, ſome to everlaſting life, and ſome to ſhame, and everlaſting contempt.

Q. 7. What is the glory to which Saints bodies ſhall be raiſed?

A. In the likeneſs of Chriſt's glorious Body, Phil. 3. 21. Who ſhall change our vile body, that it may be faſhioned like to his glorious body.

Q. 8. What is the Firſt Inference from hence?

A. That every man ſhould ſtrive to the uttermoſt to attain to the Reſurrection of the juſt, Phil. 3. 10, 11. That I may know him, and the power of his Reſurrection, and the fellowſhip of the ſufferings, being made conformable unto his death, if by any means I might attain to the reſurrection of the dead.

Q. 9. What is the Second Inference?

A. Comfort to them that now groan under manifold Diſtempers, and Deformities of Body; they being made equal to Angels, Mark 12. 25. For when they ſhall riſe from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the Angels which are in heaven.

Q. 10. What is the Third Inference?

A. Get union with Chriſt by Faith, as you expect a joyful Reſurrection, John 11. 25. Jeſus ſaid unto her, I am the reſurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet ſhall he live.

Q. 11. What is the Fourth Inference?

A. Saints ſhould not fear Death, Gen. 46. 3. Fear not to go down into Egypt.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference?

A. Imploy your Bodies for good now.

Of Chriſt's acknowledging Believers.

Queſt. 38. What benefit do Believers receive from Chriſt at the Reſurrection?

A. At the Reſurrection Believers being raiſed in glory, ſhall be openly acknowledged, and acquitted in the Day of Judgment, and made perfectly bleſſed in the full enjoying of God to all Eternity.

Q. 1. What is it to be acknowledged by Chriſt?

A. It is Chriſt's owning of the ſpecial relation betwixt him and them, Mat. 25. 34. Come ye bleſſed of my father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Q. 2. Whom will Chriſt acknowledge for his?

A. Such as confeſs Chriſt now, Mat. 10. 32. Whoſoever therefore ſhall confeſs me before men, him will I confeſs alſo before my father which is in heaven.

Q. 3. Before whom will Chriſt confeſs them?

A. Before his Father, Angels and men, Rev. 3. 5. He that overcometh, the ſame ſhall be cloathed in white Raiment, and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confeſs his name before my Father, and before Angels.

Q. 4. Who ſhall be denied by Chriſt in that Day?

A. All that now deny Chriſt, ſhall be denied by him, 2 Tim. 2. 12. If we deny him, he alſo will deny us.

Q. 5. Why will Chriſt openly acknowledge them?

A. To wipe off all Aſperſions and Cenſures that now are caſt upon them, Iſa. 66. 5. Your brethren that hated you, that caſt you out for my names ſake, ſaid, Let the Lord be glorified; but he ſhall appear to your joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed.

Q. 6. What will be the effect of Chriſt's acknowledgement?

A. 'Twill put a full end to all Doubts, Fears, and Jealouſies of themſelves, 1 Cor. 4. 3, 4 But with me it is a very ſmall thing that I ſhould be judged of you, or of man's judgment; yea, I judge not my own ſelf, for I know nothing by my ſelf, yet am I not hereby juſtified, but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

Q. 7. What other effect will it produce in them?

A. Joy unſpeakable and tranſcendent; often called time of refreſhing, Acts 3. 19. When the time of refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord.

Q. 8. Is this the only time Chriſt acknowledgeth them?

A. No, he acknowledgeth them by his Spirit's Teſtimony now; but that's private in their Boſoms, Rom. 8. 16. The Spirit it ſelf beareth witneſs with our ſpirits, that we are the children of God.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. To warn all how they paſs raſh Cenſures on Chriſt's Servants, Pſalm 73. 15. If I ſay, I will ſpeak this, Behold I ſhould offend againſt the generation of thy children.

Q. 10. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. Let none be afraid or aſhamed to confeſs the Perſon, Office, or any truth of Chriſt, for any loſs or danger, that may threaten them, Luke 12. 8, 9. Alſo I ſay unto you whoſoever ſhall confeſs me before men, him ſhall the ſon of man alſo confeſs before the Angels of God. But he that denieth me before men, ſhall be denied before the Angels of God.

Q. 11. What is the third Inference?

A. Let Chriſtians abound in good works. Every act of Charity for Chriſt, ſhall be acknowledged by him in the Day of Judgment, Mat. 25. 35. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat; I was thirſty, and ye gave me drink; I was a ſtranger, and ye took me in.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference?

A. Let all Chriſtians love and long for the day of Chriſt's appearing, 2 Tim. 4. 8. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteouſneſs, which the Lord, the righteous Judge ſhall give me at that day, and not to me only, but unto them alſo that love his appearing.

Of Chriſt's acquitting Believers.

Queſt. 1. WHat is it to be acquitted by Chriſt?

A. It is to be diſcharged and cleared from all the guilt of Sin, and puniſhment due to it by the Law, upon the account of Chriſt's Righteouſneſs imputed by God, and received by Faith, Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, Rom. 8. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Chriſt Jeſus.

Q. 2. How many ways are Believers acquitted.

A. They are acquitted now in the Court of Heaven, Rom. 8. 33. Who ſhall lay any thing to the charge of God's Elect? It is God that juſtifieth. In the Court of their own Conſciences, 1 John 3. 21. Beloved, if our hearts condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God. And in the Day of Judgment. Both particular; Heb. 9. 27. As it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment. And general, Acts 3. 19. Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your ſins may be blotted out. Their Sins are then blotted out.

Q. 3. How doth Chriſt's acquittance now, differ from that at Judgment?

A. They differ in reſpect of Publickneſs; this is ſecret in the Believer's boſom, and that open before Men and Angels, Rev. 3. 5. I will confeſs his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

Q. 4. What is the ſecond Difference?

A. They differ in reſpect of ſubjective certainty and aſſurance. A Believer may doubt of this but not of that, 1 Cor. 4. 4, 5. For I know nothing of my ſelf, yet am I not hereby juſtified; but he that judgeth me is the Lord; therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come.

Q. 5. What is the third Difference betwixt them?

A. They differ in point of Conſolation. This always bears proportion to the certainty of it. Hence that day is called the time of refreſhing; when Chriſt blots out their Sins by Sentencial Juſtification. Acts 3. 19. Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your ſins may be blotted out, when the times of refreſhing ſhall come from the preſence of the Lord.

Q. 6. Do Believers then lie under condemnation till that day?

A. No, they are truly and fully juſtified now. John 5. 24. He that heareth my Word, and believeth on him that ſent me, hath Everlaſting Life, and ſhall not come into condemnation; but is paſſed from Death unto Life. But this Sentence is not yet publiſht by Chriſt's own Mouth, as it ſhall be then.

Q. 7. On what account ſhall they be acquitted in that Day?

A. On the very ſame account and ſcore they are now, viz. For the imputed Righteouſneſs of Chriſt in the way of Free-grace. Eph. 1. 7. In whom we have Redemption through his Blood, the Forgiveneſs of Sins, according to the Riches of his Grace.

Q. 8. Muſt the Saints be ſummoned to Chriſt's Bar in that Day?

A. Yes, they muſt appear as well as others. 2 Cor. 5. 10. For we muſt all appear before the Judgment-Seat of Chriſt. But not to the ſame end. John 5. 29. And ſhall come forth, they that have done good, unto the Reſurrection of Life: And they that have done evil unto the Reſurrection of Damnation.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference hence?

A. How ſure is a Believers Juſtification, being ſo ratified privately and publickly, in this World, and that to come?

Q. 10. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. Though the Day of Judgment be awefully ſolemn, it ſhould not be dreadful to Believers. They ſhould look for, and haſten to the coming of the Day of God. 2 Pet. 3. 12. Looking for, and haſtening unto the coming of the day of God, &c.

Q. 11. What is the third Inference?

A. That Faith is a Grace of abſolute neceſſity, and unſpeakable excellency. Rom. 5. 1, 2. Therefore being juſtified by Faith, we have Peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. By whom alſo we have acceſs by Faith into this Grace wherein we ſtand.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference?

A. All unbelievers are in a miſerable State now. John 3. 18. He that believeth not, is condemned already. And worſe in the World to come. Mat. 25. 41. Depart from me ye curſed into everlaſting Fire, prepared for the Devil and his Angels.

Of the full Enjoyment of God.

Queſt. 1. WHat doth perfect Bleſſedneſs ſuppoſe and imply?

A. It ſuppoſes the total Freedom of Believers from all the moral evil of Sin. Eph. 5. 27. That he might preſent you to himſelf a glorious Church, not having ſpot nor wrinkle, or any ſuch thing, but that it ſhould be holy, and without blemiſh. And from all the penal evils of ſuffering. Rev. 21. 4. And God ſhall wipe away all Tears from their Eyes, and there ſhall be no more Death, neither Sorrow, nor crying, neither ſhall there be any more Pain, for the former things are paſſed away.

Q. 2. What elſe is implied in perfect Bleſſedneſs?

A. It implies the full and perfect Enjoyment of God. 1 Cor. 15. 28. And when all things ſhall be ſubdued unto him, then ſhall the Son alſo himſelf be ſubject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

Q. 3. What is for God to be all in all?

A. It implies three things in it. Firſt, That all the Saints ſhall be filled and ſatisfied from God alone. Secondly, That there ſhall be no need of other things out of which they were wont to fetch Comfort. Thirdly, That all other things, as Heaven, Angels, Saints, ſhould be loved and enjoyed in God.

Q. 4. In what reſpect ſhall they enjoy God in Heaven?

A. They ſhall have the glorious and immediate Preſence of God with them. Rev. 21. 3. God himſelf ſhall be with them and be their God.

Q. 5. In what other reſpects ſhall they enjoy God?

A. They ſhall ſee him as he is. 1 John 3. 2. We ſhall be like him; for we ſhall ſee him as he is.

Q. 6. What will ſuch a Viſion of God produce?

A. It will produce perfect conformity in them to God. 1 John 3. 2. When he ſhall appear, we ſhall be like him, for we ſhall ſee him as he is. And perfect Joy will reſult from hence. Pſalm 16. 11. In thy preſence presence is fulness of joy, at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

Q. 7. Do not the Saints enjoy God here?

A. Yes, they do; but not so as they shall enjoy him in Heaven. 1 Cor. 13. 12. Now we see through a Glass darkly, but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

Q. 8. What are the special differences between the Saints Communion with God here, and that in Heaven?

A. Their Communion with God here is clogg'd with Sin. Rom. 7. 21. I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me. Here it is not constant. Psal. 22. 1. My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? Nor is it satisfying; but in Heaven it will be pure, constant, and satisfying.

Q. 9. How long shall they there enjoy God?

A. Not for Days, Years, Ages, but for ever and ever. 1 Thes. 4. 17. And so shall we be ever with the Lord.

Q. 10. What is the first Instruction from hence?

A. That the World is not the place of the Saints rest and satisfaction. Heb. 4. 9. There remaineth therefore a rest to the People of God. 2 Cor. 5. 2, 6. For in this we groan earnestly, desiring to be cloathed upon with our House which is from Heaven; therefore we are always confident, knowing that whilst we were at home in the Body, we are absent from the Lord.

Q. 11. What is the second Instruction from hence?

A. That Death is a singular benefit to the Saints; and though it be an Enemy to Nature, yet it is the Medium to Glory. 2 Cor. 5. 4. For we that are in this Tabernacle do groan, being burthened, not for that we would be uncloathed, but cloathed upon, that Mortality might be swallowed up of Life.

Q. 12. What is the third Instruction hence?

A. The necessity of Faith and Regeneration in this World. None shall be raised up in Glory, acknowledged, acquitted, and made perfectly blessed in the full Enjoyment of God, but Believers. Rom. 8. 30. Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called; and whom he called, them he also justified; and whom he justified, them he also glorified. Heb. 12. 14. Follow Peace with all Men, and Holiness, without which no Man shall see the Lord.

Of Man's Duty to God.

Quest. 39. What is the Duty that God requireth of Man?

A. The Duty which God requireth of Man, is Obedience to his revealed will.

Q. 1. Is obedience to God's Will the Duty of every Man?

A. It is unquestionably the Duty of every man to obey the will of God, so far as he hath made it known to him. Micah 6. 8. He hath shewed thee O man, what is good, and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.

Q. 2. On what account is Man's Obedience due to God?

A. 'Tis due to him, First, As he is our Creator, In whom we live, and move, and have our being. Acts 17. 27, 28. Secondly, As he is our Benefactor, from whom we receive all our Mercies. Deut. 28. 47. Because thou servest not the Lord thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of Heart, for the abundance of all things; Therefore shalt thou serve thine Enemies, which the Lord shall send against thee, in hunger, thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things. Thirdly, As he is our Lord, and Law-giver. Jam. 4. 12. There is one Law-giver, who is able to save and to destroy.

Q. 3. Is Obedience due to none but God only?

A. Yes, Subjects must obey their lawful Magistrates. Rom. 13. 1. Let every Soul be subject to the higher Powers, for there is no Power but of God. The Powers that be are ordained of God. People their Ministers. Heb. 13. 17. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit your selves, for they watch for your souls, as they that must give an Account. Children their Parents. Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your Parents in the Lord, for this is right. But not as they are to obey God.

Q. 4. What is the difference betwixt our Obedience to God's Commands, and Men's.

A. We are to obey God chiefly and supreamly, for his own sake. 1 Pet. 2. 13. Submit your selves to every Ordinance of Man, for the Lord's sake. And Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your Parents [in the Lord] for this is right.

Q. 5. What must we do when the Commands of God and Men fall cross to one another?

A. In that case we must yield our Obedience to God, and not to man, whatever we suffer for it. Acts 4. 19. Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

Q. 6. Why must we obey God rather than Man?

A. Because God is the Supream and Sovereign Lord of our Consciences, and no Creature hath power to command our Obedience, but in, and from him. Isa. 33. 22. For the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Law-giver, the Lord is our King, he will save us.

Q. 7. Have the People Liberty to compare the Laws of God and Men, and judge how they agree, or differ?

A. Yes, their Judgment of Discretion is both commanded; 1 Cor. 1. 10. 15. I speak as to wise Men, judge ye what I say. And commended; Acts 17. 11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that that they received the Word with all readiness of Mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

Q. 8. What is the only Rule for our Obedience to God?

A. The Will of God revealed in the Scriptures, is our only Rule of Obedience. Isa. 8. 20. To the Law, and to the Testimony; if they speak not according to this Word, it is because there is no Light in them.

Q. 9. But if a Man have a Voice, a Vision, or a Dream, seeming to hint the secret Will of God, may he not obey it?

A. Yes, if it be consonant to the revealed Will of God in the Word, otherwise not. Deut. 29. 29. The secret things belong unto the Lord our God, but those things which are revealed belong unto us, and to our Children for ever, that we may do all the Words of this Law.

Q. 10. What is the first Instruction hence?

A. That it's highly sinful and dangerous to disobey the known Will of God in any thing. Rom. 1. 18. For the Wrath of God is revealed from Heaven against all Ungodliess and Unrighteousness of Men, who hold the Truth in Unrighteousness. Luke 12. 47. And that Servant which knew his Lord's Will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his Will shall be beaten with many Stripes.

Q. 11. What is the second Instruction?

A. That's a bleſſed man, who conſcienciouſly labours to obey the Will of God ſo far as he can diſcover it. John 13. 17. If ye know theſe things, happy are ye if ye do them. Gal. 6. 16. And as many as walk according to this Rule, peace be on them, and Mercy.

Q. 12. What is the third Inference?

A. It is highly ſinful and dangerous to command others, or obey Commands from others, which are not according to God's Command. Hoſ. 5. 11. Ephraim is oppreſſed, and broken in Judgment, becauſe he willingly walketh after the Commandment. Jer. 7. 31. And they have built the high Places of Tophet which is in the Valley of the Son of Hinnom, to burn their Sons and their Daughters in the Fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my Heart.

Of the Moral Law.

Queſt. 40. and 41. What did God at firſt reveal to Man for the Rule of his Obedience?

A. The Rule which God at firſt revealed to Man for his Obedience, was the Moral Law.

Where is the Moral Law ſummarily comprehended?

A. The Moral Law is ſummarily comprehended in the Ten Commandments.

Q. 1. Is every Man under the Direction and Obligation of a Law?

A. Yes, Man being a reaſonable Creature, is capable of, and fitted for Government by Law, which other Creatures are not; and being an accountable Creature to God, muſt needs be under a Law. Rom. 2. 15. Which ſhew the Works of the Law written in their Hearts; their Conſciences alſo bearing witneſs, and their Thoughts the mean while accuſing, or elſe excuſing one another?

Q. 2. How could Man be under a Law before the Law was given by Moſes?

A. Before ever the Law was given at Sinai, all the race of Adam had a Law written in their Hearts, viz. the Light of Reaſon, and Dictates of Natural Conſcience, Rom. 2. 14. For when the Gentiles which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the Law, theſe having not the law are a law unto themſelves. And beſides this, the Church had the revealed will of God to direct them, 2 Pet. 1. 19, 20. We have alſo a more ſure word of Propheſy, wereunto ye do well to take heed, as unto a light that ſhineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-ſtar ariſe in your hearts. Knowing this firſt, that no propheſy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation.

Q. 3. What is the meaning of the Moral Law?

A. 'Tis not a Law to direct and order our Manners; but a Law that binds univerſally and perpetually, as the Ten Commandments do thoſe to whom they are promulged, and the Light of Nature doth all others, Rom. 2. 14. For when the Gentiles which have not the Law, do by nature the things contained in the Law, theſe having not the Law, are a Law unto themſelves, Luke 16. 17. It is eaſier for heaven and earth to paſs, than one tittle of the Law to fall.

Q. 4. Why is it ſaid to be ſummarily comprehended in the Ten Commandments?

A. Becauſe much more is included in every Command, than is expreſt, as our Saviour ſhews in his expoſition of it, Mat. 22. 40. On theſe two Commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Q. 5. Doth the Moral Law bind Chriſtians under the Goſpel?

A. Yes, it doth, as a Rule to order their Converſations by, Jam. 2. 8, 9, 10. If ye fulfil the royal law according to the Scripture, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf; ye do well: but if ye have reſpect to perſons, ye commit ſin, and are convinced of the law as tranſgreſſors; for whoſoever ſhall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, is guilty of all?

Q. 6. Is the Moral Law the ſame thing with the Covenant of Works, and impoſed for the ſame end?

A. God never deſigned the Law to be the way of Man's Juſtification ſince the Fall, Gal. 3, 21, 22. Is the law then againſt the promiſes of God? God forbid! for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteouſneſs would have been by the law; but the Scripture hath concluded all under ſin, that the promiſe by faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe. But it was promulged to convince Men of Sin, Rom. 7. 7. What ſhall we ſay then? Is the law ſin? God forbid! Nay, I had not known ſin, but by the law; for I had not known luſt, except the law had ſaid, Thou ſhalt not covet. And bring them to Chriſt, Gal. 3. 24. Wherefore the law was our School-maſter to bring us unto Chriſt, that we might be juſtified by faith.

Q. 7. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. Hence we learn the abominable Nature of Popery. The Pope being that lawleſs One, who will not be bound to the Laws of God himſelf, 2 Theſ. 2. 8. Then ſhall that wicked one be revealed whom the Lord ſhall conſume with the ſpirit of his mouth, and ſhall deſtroy with the brightneſs of his coming, But aſſumes Power to diſpence with God's Laws to others.

Q. 8. What is the ſecond Inference hence?

A. That man dieth not as Beaſts die; which are under no Moral Law, and therefore capable of no ſin; but muſt come to Judgment after Death, Eccleſ. 3. 21. Who knoweth the ſpirit of man that goeth upward, and the ſpirit of the Beaſt that goeth downward to the earth? Heb. 9. 27. And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the Judgment.

Q. 9. What is the third Inference hence?

A. That though the actions of men naturally conſidered are tranſcient, yet their conſequences and effects are permanent; an act is ſoon done, a word ſoon ſpoken, a thought ſoon thought; but when done, ſpoken or thought, they are placed to account, Gal. 6. 7, 8. Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatſoever a man ſoweth, that ſhall he alſo reap; for he that ſoweth to the fleſh, ſhall of the fleſh reap corruption; but he that ſoweth to the ſpirit, ſhall of the ſpirit reap life everlaſting.

Q. 10. What is the fourth Inference from hence?

A. That God will proceed with men by different rules in the Day of Judgment, according to the different Laws they lived under in this World, Rom. 2. 12. For as many as have ſinned without law, ſhall alſo periſh without law; and as many as have ſinned in the law, ſhall be judged by the law.

Q. 11. What is the fifth Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe who have ſinned againſt the cleareſt Light, and beſt Helps, will, if they die impenitent, be judged to the greateſt Miſery, Matt. 11. 23. And

And thou Capernaum which art exalted unto heaven, ſhalt be brought down to Hell; for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day, Heb. 2. 3. How ſhall we eſcape if we neglect ſo great ſalvation?

Q. 12. What is the ſixth Inference from hence?

A. That as we are to prize the Moral Law highly, as a Rule of Life; Pſal. 119. 105. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. So are we to bleſs God for the Goſpel-Diſpenſation, by which only we can attain to Juſtification and Salvation, Heb. 12. 22. But we are come to Mount Sion, and unto the City of the living God, the heavenly Jeruſalem, to an innumerable company of Angels.

Of Love to God and man.

Queſt. 42. What is the ſum of the Ten Commandments?

A. The ſum of the Ten Commandments is to love the Lord our God with all our hearts, with all our ſoul, with all our ſtrength, and with all our mind; and our Neighbour as our ſelves.

Q. 1. What is the ſum of the Ten Commandments?

A. To love the Lord our God with a Sincere love, in and for him, Matt. 22. 37, 38. Jeſus ſaid unto him, Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul, and with all thy mind. This is the Firſt and Great Commandment; The Second is like unto it, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf.

Q. 2. What is the firſt thing contained in our ſupream Love to God?

A. It implies the loving of God purely and abſolutely for himſelf. The Excellencies that are in him, Cant. 1. 3. Thy name is as ointment poured forth; therefore the virgins love thee. And the benefits we receive from him, Pſal. 116. 1. I love the Lord becauſe he hath heard my voice and my ſupplication.

Q. 3. What is the Second Property of this Supream Love?

A. Supream love devotes the whole man to God and Chriſt: So that in life and death that man deſigns the Glory of God as his main end, Rom. 14. 7, 8. For none of us liveth to himſelf, and no man dieth to himſelf; for whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord; whether we live therefore or die, we are the Lord's.

Q. 4. What is the third Property of Supream Love?

A. It cauſes the Soul to depreciate and ſlight all other things in compariſon of God's Glory, and an Intereſt in Chriſt, Acts 20. 24. But none of theſe things move me, neither count I my life dear unto my ſelf, ſo that I may finiſh my courſe with joy, Phil. 3. 8, 9. I count all things but loſs for the excellency of the knowledge of Chriſt Jeſus my Lord.

Q. 5. What is the fourth Property of Supream Love?

A. It centers the Soul in God as its only reſt, Pſal. 116. 7. Return unto thy reſt, O my ſoul. And cannot be ſatisfied till it come to the full enjoyment of him, 2 Theſ. 3. 5. The Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and patient waiting for Chriſt.

Q. 6. Why muſt we love God with a ſupream love?

A. Becauſe ſuch a love only ſuits the tranſcendent Excellency of God; commands all we are and have for God, and is the only love that will continue to the end, Rom. 8. 35. Who ſhall ſeparate us from the love of Chriſt?

Q. 7. What is it to love our Neighbour as our ſelves?

A. It is the exact Obſervation and Practice of the golden Rule of Chriſt, Matt. 7. 12. Therefore all things whatſoever ye would that men ſhould do to you, do ye even ſo to them, for this is the law and the prophets.

Q. 8. Are all men to be loved alike, and with the ſame degree of Love?

A. No; tho' we muſt love all men with the love of Benevolence; yet the Saints only with the love of Complacency, Pſal. 16. 3. But to the ſaints that are in the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight. And to ſuch we muſt eſpecially do good, Gal. 6. 10. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, eſpecially unto them who are of the houſhold of faith.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. Hence we learn the excellency of Divine love. Moſes expreſſes the Whole Duty of Man in Ten Commandments. Chriſt hangs the Whole Law upon theſe Two, Love to God and our Neighbour, Mark 12. 30, 31. Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy ſtrength. This is the firſt Commandment. And the Second is like, namely this, Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thy ſelf; there is none other Commandment greater than theſe. And the Apoſtle reduces theſe Two into One, Gal. 5. 14. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour as thy ſelf.

Q. 10. What is the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. It convinces the holieſt of men how far ſhort they come in their Obedience to the rule of duty, and therein the law is our School-maſter to bring us to Chriſt, Gal. 3. 24.

Q. 11. What is the third Inference from hence?

A. It diſcovers the excellency and perfection of the Law of God, Pſal. 19. 7. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoul. And that we are highly to honour and magnify it as a rule of duty, though we muſt utterly renounce it as the way of our Juſtification.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That there is nothing too dear for a Chriſtian in this world, but he muſt give it up by ſelf-denial, when it comes in competition with his ſupream love to God, Luke 14. 26. If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, wife, and children, and brethren, and ſiſters, yea, and his own life alſo, he cannot be my diſciple, (i. e.) Love them leſs than me.

Of the Preface to the Commandments.

Queſt. 43, and 44. What is the Preface to the Ten Commandments?

A. The Preface to the Ten Commandments is in theſe words, I am the Lord thy God which have brought thee out of the Land of Egypt, out of the Houſe of Bondage.

What doth the Preface to the Ten Commandments teach us?

A. The Preface to the Ten Commandments teacheth us, that becauſe God is the Lord, and our God, and Redeemer, therefore we are bound to keep all his Commandments.

Q. 1. Why

Q. 1. Why doth God uſe arguments and inducements to win men to the obedience of his laws?

A. Becauſe he loves to work on man as a rational Creature, according to the principles of his Nature, Hoſ. 11. 4. I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love. And becauſe he delights in none but free and chearful Obedience, Pſal. 110. 3. Thy people ſhall be willing in the day of thy power.

Q. 2. What is the firſt argument in this Preface?

A. It is the ſovereignty of the Law-giver [I am the Lord] which ſhould awe the heart of every man to obedience, Jam. 4. 12. There is one law-giver, who is able to ſave and to deſtroy.

Q. 3. What is the ſecond argument to Obedience?

A. One propriety in God by covenant [I am the Lord thy God] This obligeth to Obedience and aggravateth diſobedience, Pſal. 50. 7. Hear, O my people, and I will ſpeak; O Iſrael, and I will teſtify againſt thee; I am God, even thy God, Hoſ. 9. 1. Thou haſt gone a whoring from thy God.

Q. 4. What is the third argument unto Obedience?

A. The benefits of Redemption that they receive from God. Benefits perſwade to duty; and the goodneſs of God leads to repentance, Rom. 2. 4.

Q. 5. How can deliverance out of Egypt, be an argument to them that never were in Egypt?

A. As that Deliverance was a Type of our Deliverance, ſo 'tis an argument to us, and an argument from the leſs to the greater; ſo it obligeth us more than them, Luke 1. 74, 75. That he would grant us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might ſerve him without fear, in holineſs and righteouſneſs before him all the days of our life.

Q. 6. What is that deliverance we have? and how doth it oblige us to Obedience?

A. Our Deliverance is not from Egypt, but from Hell. Who hath delivered us from the power of darkneſs, and hath tranſlated us into the kingdom of his dear Son, Col. 1. 13. And our perſons are bought by the Redeemer to glorify God, 1 Cor. 6. 19. What, know ye not that your body is the Temple of the Holy Ghoſt, which is in you; for ye are bought with a price; wherefore glorify God in your body, and in your ſpirits which are Gods.

Q. 7. Is it not mercenary to ſerve God upon the account of benefits received, or to be received?

A. He that makes religious Duties Mediums to attain carnal Advantages only, is of worſe than a mercenary Spirit. Hoſ. 7. 14. And they have not cried unto me with their Hearts when they howled upon their Beds; they aſſembled for Corn and Wine, and they rebelled againſt me. But to be quickened by Mercy to Duty is not Mercenary, but Evangelical. Ho 3. 5. They ſhall fear the Lord and his goodneſs.

Q. 8. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That great is the Condeſcention of God to Man, that he will uſe Arguments to induce him to Obedience, who might exact it only by his Sovereignty, and juſtly damn us for our Diſobedience. 2 Cor. 5. 20. Now then we are Ambaſſadors for Chriſt, as though God did beſeech you by us, we pray you in Chriſt's ſtead, be ye reconciled to God.

Q. 9. What is the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That the more Mercy any receive from God, the more Obligations are laid on them to obey him. Pſalm 116. 1, 2. I love the Lord becauſe he hath heard my Voice, and my Supplication; becauſe he hath inclined his Ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.

Q. 10. What is the third Inference from hence?

A. The more Mercies and Favours any Man ſins againſt, the greater is that Man's Sin, and the ſorer will be his Puniſhment. Amos 3. 1, 2. You only have I known of all the Families of the Earth, wherefore I will puniſh you for all your Iniquities.

Q. 11. What is the fourth Inference from hence?

A. That God's Expectations are greater, where his Mercies and Favours have been ſo. Iſa. 5. 4. What could have been done more to my Vineyard, that I have not done in it? Wherefore when I looked that it ſhould bring forth Grapes, brought it forth wild Grapes.

Q. 12. What is the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That Memorials of God's Mercies are to be kept by us, to provoke us to conſtant and chearful Duties of Obedience. Exod. 17. 14. And the Lord ſaid unto Moſes, write this for a Memorial in a Book, and rehearſe it in the Ears of Joſhua. Pſal. 103. 2, 3. Bleſs the Lord, O my Soul, forget not all his Benefits.

Of the First Commandment.

Queſt. 45. Which is the Firſt Commandment?

A. The Firſt Commandment is, Thou ſhalt have no other Gods before me.

Q. 1. What is the firſt Duty enjoined in the firſt Commandment?

A. It is to know and acknowledge the Exiſtence or Being of God, and conſequently condemns all Atheiſm, both in judgment and practice, Heb. 11. 6. He that cometh to God muſt believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently ſeek him, Pſal. 14. 1. The fool hath ſaid in his heart, there is no God.

Q. 2. What is the ſecond duty of the First Commandment?

A. It requires all men to know and acknowledge the unity of God, Deut. 6. 4. Hear, O Iſrael, the Lord our God is one Lord. And condemns Polytheiſm, or plurality of Gods, 1 Cor. 8. 5, 6. For tho' there be that are called Gods, whether in heaven or in earth, as there be Gods many, and Lords many; but to us there is but one God.

Q. 3. Whence ſprang the Opinion of more Gods than one at firſt in the world?

A. It ſprang from ignorance of God's Omnipreſence and Omnipotence. Hence came their vain imaginations, Rom. 1. 21. Becauſe that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their fooliſh heart was darkened. They thought the preſence and power of God might reach one place, and not another, 1 Kings 20. 23. And the ſervants of the King of Aſſyria ſaid unto him, Their gods are gods of the hills, therefore they were ſtronger than we; but let us fight againſt them in the plain, and ſurely we ſhall be ſtronger than they.

Q. 4. What were the firſt Creatures worſhipped as Gods?

A. Probably the heavenly Bodies, Sun, Moon and Stars, becauſe of their ſplendor and influences; ences? theſe as Heralds, do proclaim God to the World, Pſal. 19. 1, 2. The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament ſheweth his handy work. Day unto day uttereth ſpeech, and night unto night ſheweth knowledge. And theſe meſſengers of God were miſtaken for God himſelf; Job 31. 26, 27. If I beheld the Sun when it ſhined, or the Moon walking in Brightneſs, and my Heart hath been ſecretly inticed, or my Mouth hath kiſſed my Hand; This alſo were an Iniquity, for I ſhould have denied the God that is above.

Q. 5. What do theſe Words [before me] import?

A. It notes God's perfect Knowledge and Abhorrence of Idolatry, or worſhiping of another God, as what he cannot endure to behold. Jer. 44. 3, 4. Becauſe of their Wickedneſs which they have committed to provoke me to Anger, in that they went to burn Incenſe to ſerve other Gods, whom they knew not, neither they, you, nor your Fathers; howbeit I ſent unto you all my Servants the Prophets, riſing early, and ſending them, ſaying, O do not this abominable thing that I hate.

Q. 6. Are none guilty of this ſin but heatheniſh Idolaters?

A. Yes, all that place their ſupream Love or Truſt in any Creature, make their Creature their God, and in Scripture are called Idolaters. Col. 3. 5. And Covetouſneſs which is Idolatry.

Q. 7. How doth the Idolatry forbidden in the firſt, differ from that forbidden in the ſecond Commandment?

A. The Idolatry forbidden in the firſt Commandment is a Sin reſpecting the object of Worſhip, when we ſet up any thing in the place of God, which by nature is not God. Gal. 4. 8. Howbeit then when ye knew not God, ye did ſervice unto them which by nature are no Gods. But that againſt the ſecond Commandment is, when we pretend to worſhip the true God, but do it by ſuch means, and in ſuch a manner as he hath not required, or hath forbidden. Exod. 32. 4, 5. And he received them at their Hands, and faſhioned it with a graving Tool, after he had made a molten Calf, and they ſaid, Theſe be thy Gods, O Iſrael, which brought thee up out of the Houſe of Egypt.

Q. 8. What is the firſt Inference from the firſt Commandment?

A. That it is a ſpecial Mercy to be brought forth in a Land where the true God is known and worſhipped. Pſalm 147. 20. He hath not dealt ſo with any Nation; and as for his Judgments they have not known them; praiſe ye the Lord.

Q. 9. What is the ſecond Inference from the firſt Commandment?

A. That it is a great and dreadful ſin to live without the Worſhip of God in the World. Eph. 2. 12. That at that time ye were without Chriſt, and without God in the World.

Q. 10 What is the third Inference from the firſt Commandment?

A. That Chriſtians muſt not comply with Idolatrous and Superſtitious Worſhip, when they are caſt into Idolatrous Places, how great ſoever the danger be. Pſal. 16. 4. Their Sorrows ſhall be multiplied, that haſten after another God; their drink-offerings of Blood will I not offer, nor take up their Names into my Lips.

Q. 11. What is the fourth Inference from

A. That the ſupream Love, Fear, and Truſt of the Soul, is God's peculiar Right and Due. Whoſoever places them on any other beſides God is guilty of a very heinous and great ſin againſt him. 1 John 2. 15. Love not the World, neither the things that are in the World; if any Man love the World, the Love of the Father is not in him. Compar'd with Job 31. 24, 28. If I have made Gold my Hope, or have made ſaid to the fine Gold, Thou art my Confidence; this alſo were an Iniquity to be puniſhed by the Judge, for I ſhould have denied the God that is above.

Q. 12. What is the fifth Inference from hence?

A. That God's Eye diſcovers the cloſeſt Idolatry in the World, whether it be in ſecret Actions; Ezek. 8. 12. Haſt thou ſeen what the Antients of the Houſe of Iſrael do in the dark? Every Man in the Chambers of his Imagery? for they ſay, the Lord ſeeth us not, the Lord hath forſaken the Earth. Or inward Affections. Col. 3. 5. Mortify therefore your Members which are upon the Earth, Fornication, Uncleanneſs, inordinate Affection, evil Concupiſcence, and Covetouſneſs, which is Idolatry.

Q. 13. What is the ſixth Inference from hence?

A. That an high and full Condition in the World, is a dangerous Condition, and lies moſt expoſed to the danger of Heart-Idolatry. Prov. 30. 9. Leſt I be full, and deny thee, and ſay, Who is the Lord? Mark 10. 24. How hard is it for them that truſt in Riches to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven?

Q. 14. What is the laſt Inference?

A. That in covenanting with God, and avouching him for our God, we muſt wholly renounce all others, and take God alone for our portion; and the object of our love and dependance. Hoſ. 3. 3. Thou ſhalt not be for another man. So will I alſo be for thee. Luke 14. 33. So likewiſe whoſoever he be of you, that forſaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my diſciple.

Of the ſecond Commandment.

Queſt. 49. Which is the ſecond Commandment?

A. The ſecond Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not make unto thee any graven Image, or any likeneſs of any thing that is in Heaven above, or that is in the Earth beneath, or that is in the Water under the Earth; thou ſhalt not bow down thy ſelf to them, nor ſerve them: For I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, viſiting the iniquities of the Fathers upon the Children, unto the third and fourth generation, of them that hate me, and ſhewing mercy unto thouſands of them that love me, and keep my Commandments]

Queſt. 50 What is required in the ſecond Commandment?

A. The ſecond Commandment requireth, the receiving, obſerving, and keeping pure and entire all ſuch Religious Worſhip and Ordinances, as God hath appointed in his Word

Queſt. 51. What is forbidden in the ſecond Commandment?

A. The ſecond Commandment forbiddeth the Worſhipping of God by Images, or any other way, not appointed in his word.

Queſt. 52.

Quest. 52. What are the Reasons annexed to the second Commandment.

A. The Reasons annexed to the second Commandment are, God's Sovereignty over us, his Propriety in us, and his Zeal he hath to his own Worship?

Q. 1. What is the Sin especially forbidden in the second Commandment?

A. The Sin here forbidden is the Corruption of God's Worship, by making any similitude of any Person in the Godhead, and performing Divine Worship before it, or to it, Exod. 32. 8. They have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them: They have made them a molten Calf, and have worshipped, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, these be thy Gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the Land of Egypt. Deut. 4. 15, 16. Take ye therefore good heed unto your selves, (for ye saw no manner of similitude on the Day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb, out of the midst of the Fire;) lest ye corrupt your selves and make you a graven Image, the Similitude of any Figure, the likeness of Male or Female.

Q. 2. What is the second Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

The second Sin against this Commandment is Will-worship, consisting in the Addition of Man's Inventions to the Worship of God as a part thereof. Matth. 15. 9. But in vain do they worship me, teaching for Doctrines the Commandments of Men. Col. 2. 20, 21, 22, 23. Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the Rudiments of the World; why, as though living in the World, are ye subject to Ordinances, (Touch not, taste not, handle not: Which all are to perish with the using) after the Commandments and Doctrines of Men: Which things have indeed a Shew of Wisdom in Will-worship and Humility, and neglecting of the Body, not in any Honour to the satisfying of the Flesh.

Q. 3. But if those Additions be for the more decent worshipping of God, it is not allowed by 1 Cor. 14. 40. Let all things be done decently and in order?

A. No; That Scripture commands that Gods Institutions be regularly and decently performed, but not that we invent Ceremonies that are symbolical, to make them more decent than Christ left them.

Q. 4. Why is the second Commandment left out in all the publick Offices of the Popish Church?

A. Because it expresly condemns their Idolatrous Images, kneeling at the Sacrament, Prayers to Saints, and all their Superstitious Crosses, Surplices, Chrisme, as sinful.

Q. 5. Do they not clear themselves from Idolatry, by telling us they only worship God before, or by them, but not the Images themselves?

A. No, they do not; for the use of Images in Gods Worship is expresly condemned in this Commandment; and if this would excuse the Papists, it had also excused the Israelites in worshipping the Calf, Exod. 32. 4. ---And they said, these be thy Gods, O Israel, that brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

Q. 6. What's the first Reason annexed to the second Commandment?

A. The first Reason annexed is Gods Sovereignty, I the Lord; which shews that it belongs to God only to institute his own Worship, and make it effectual? and therefore to do that in his Worship which he never commanded, is sinful and dangerous; Jer. 7. 31. And they have built the high places of Topbet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

Q. 7. What's the second Reason annexed to the second Commandment?

A. The second Reason is Gods Propriety in us? he is our God, and we belong to him; and therefore to corrupt his Worship, greatly aggravates our Sin, Hos. 9. 1. Rejoyce not, O Israel, for joy as other people; for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, &c.

Q. 8. What's the third Reason annexed to the second Commandment?

A. The jealousie of God over his Worship and Worshippers; so that this sin of corrupting his Worship, will dreadfully incense his wrath, as it did, Levit. 10. 1, 2. And Nadab and Abihu the sons of Aaron, took either of them his censer, and put fire thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they dyed before the Lord.

Q. 9. What's the first Instruction from the second Commandment?

A. That it is an hainous sin to neglect the Worship of God, in that manner he hath appointed us to Worship him, as in Prayer, Jer. 10. 25. Pour out thy fury upon the Heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name. ---Hearing the Word, Prov. 28. 9. He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.

Q. 10. What's the second Instruction from the second Commandment?

A. That those that suffer for endeavouring to preserve the purity of Gods Ordinances, and Nonconformity to the contrary injunctions of men, have a good warrant to bear them out in all such Sufferings; Deut. 4. 2. Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall you diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the Commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you, &c.

Q. 11. What's the third Instruction from the second Commandment?

A. That it is highly sinful and dangerous to innovate and prescribe by Humane Authority, such symbolical Rites in the Worship of God, as he never appointed or allowed in his Word, Matth. 15. 9. But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

Q. 12. What's the fourth Instruction hence?

A. Hence we learn how much Parents and Children are obliged to worship God constantly, spiritually, and agreeably to his Will revealed in his Word, otherwise the jealousie of God will visit them both in the way of Judgment. For as Obedience entails a Blessing, so Disobedience entails a Curse on Posterity, Exod. 34. 14. For thou shalt worship no other God: for the Lord, whose name is jealous, is a jealous God.

Of the third Commandment.

Quest. 53. Which is the third Commandment?

A. T

A. The third Commandment is, [Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless, that taketh his Name in vain.]

Quest. 54. What is required in the third Commandment?

A. The third Commandment requireth the holy and reverend use of Gods Names, Titles, Attributes, Ordinances, Word and Works.

Quest. 55. What is forbidden in the third Commandment?

A. The third Commandment forbiddeth all profaning or abusing of any thing, whereby God maketh himself known.

Quest. 56. What is the Reason annexed to the Third Commandment?

A. The Reason annexed to the third Commandment is, that however the breakers of this Commandment may escape punishment from men, yet the Lord our God will not suffer them to escape his Righteous Judgment.

Q. 1. How doth this Commandment differ from the first and second?

A. The first hath respect to the object of Worship, forbidding us to worship any other but God. The second respects the means of Worship, forbidding us to worship God by any other means than what he hath prescribed. But the third respects the manner of his Worship, forbidding all careless or profane use of his Name, and commanding an holy reverence from us in all our solemn addresses to him, or ordinary mention of his Name, Mal. 1. 6. A son honoureth his father, and a servant his Master: If I then be a father, where is mine honour, and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the Lord of hosts unto you, O Priests, that despise my name: And ye say, wherein have we despised thy name?

Q. 2. What is the first thing especially required in the third Commandment?

A. It requires the most aweful and reverential frame of our hearts in all our approaches to God; Psal. 89.7. God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints; and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him. And in his Worship, John 4. 24. God is a Spirit; and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth.

Q. 3. What's the second thing required in this Commandment?

A. It requires truth in our witness-bearing, as knowing God seeth our hearts, and is witness to all that we think or speak; Zech. 5. 4. I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsly by my name, &c.

Q. 4. What's the third thing required in this Commandment?

A. That in all our Appeals to God in secret or doubtful matters, we be sure that the Appeal be necessary, aweful and true; Jer. 17. 16. As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee, neither did I desired the woful day, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was right before thee, Psal. 139. 23, 24. Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts. And see if there be any wicked way in me; and lead me in the way everlasting.

Q. 5. What doth this Commandment especially forbid?

A. It forbids and condemns all profane Oaths as unjurious to the Name of God, Mat. 5. 34, 37. Swear not at all, neither by heaven for it is Gods throne, &c. but let your communication be yea, yea, nay, nay, for whatsoever is more than these, cometh of evil.

Q. 6. What is the danger of profane or false Swearing?

A. Such are reckoned Enemies to God, Psal. 139. 20. ---Thine enemies take thy name in vain. The Curse of God enters into such Families, Zech. 5. 4. I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsly by my name, &c. And the Lord will not hold them guiltless.

Q. 7. What else is forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids and condemns all heedless, wandering, and drowsie performance of Gods Worship: Isa. 29. 13, 14. Wherefore the Lord said, forasmuch as this people drew near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear towards me is taught by the precept of men: Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work amongst this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid. And 2 Kings 10. 31. But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord God of Israel, with all his heart: for he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sin?

Q. 8. What other sin is forbidden in this Comand?

A. It forbids all light and irreverent use of the Scriptures, especially in our jests, or by way of scoffing, Jer. 17. 15. Behold, they say unto me, where is the word of the Lord? let it come now, Jer. 6. 10.---Behold the word of the Lord is unto them reproach: they have no delight in it.

Q. 9. By what argument doth God enforce the third Commandment on men?

A. That the breakers of this Comand shall surely be punished by the Lord, either in this life, Deut. 28. 58, 59. If thou wilt not observe to do all the words of this law, that are written in this book, that thou mayst fear this glorious and fearful name, The Lord thy God: Then the Lord will make thy plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sickness, and of long continuance: Or in that to come, Rom. 2. 5. But after thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thy self wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God: Except they repent and reform.

Q. 10. What's the first Instruction from the third Commandment?

A. That great and infinite is the Patience of God in forbearing provoking Sinners so long as he doth; Rom. 9. 22. What if God willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction?

Q. 11. What's the second Instruction from hence?

A. That God is to be justified in the severest of his Judgments, by which at any time he manifests his displeasure against the profaneness of the World, Hos. 4. 1, 2, 3. Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversie with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood. Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, yea the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

Q. 12. What's the third Instruction from hence?

A. That God takes special notice of, and greatly delighteth in them that fear and reverence his Name; Isa. 66. 5. Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my names sake, said, let the Lord be glorified; but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed, Mal. 3. 16. ---And a book of remembrance was written written before him, for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon his name.

Q. 13. What's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe Parents have much to anſwer for, that by their Examples teach, or by their Negligence encourage their Children to profane Gods Name, Jer. 5.7. How ſhall I pardon thee for this? Thy children have forſaken me, and ſworn by them that are no Gods, &c.

Of the Sabbath.

Quæ. 57. Which is the fourth Commandment?

A. The fourth Commandment is, [Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy: Six days ſhalt thou labour, and do all thy work; but the ſeventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God; in it thou ſhalt not do any work, thou, nor thy Son, nor thy Daughter, thy Man-ſervant, nor thy Maid-ſervant, nor thy Cattle, nor thy Stranger which is within thy Gates: For in ſix days the Lord made Heaven and Earth, the Sea, and all that in them is, and reſted the ſeventh day, wherefore the Lord bleſſed the Sabbath day, and hallowed it.]

Queſt. 58. What is required in the fourth Commandment?

A. The fourth Commandment requireth the keeping holy to God, ſuch ſet time as he hath appointed in his Word, expreſly one whole day in ſeven, to be an holy Sabbath unto the Lord.

Queſt. 59. Which day of the ſeven hath God appointed to be the weekly Sabbath?

A. From the beginning of the World to the Reſurrection of Chriſt, God hath appointed the ſeventh day of the week to be the weekly Sabbath; and the firſt day of the week ever ſince, to continue to the end of the World, which is the Chriſtian Sabbath.

Q. 1. What ſpecial marks of honour hath God ſet upon this fourth Commandment?

A. God hath ſet four peculiar marks of honour on it.

(1.) It is the largeſt of all the Commands.

(2.) It hath a ſolemn Memento prefixed to it.

(3.) It is delivered both poſitively and negatively, which the reſt are not. And,

(4.) It is enforced with more Arguments to ſtrengthen the Command on us, than any other.

Q. 2. Why will God have a Sabbath obſerved on Earth?

A. God will have a Sabbath on Earth, to give us therein an Emblem of that Eternal Sabbath in Heaven, wherein his people ſhall be ſerving him and praiſing him without interruption, or mixture of any other buſineſs throughout Eternity; Heb. 4. 9. There remaineth therefore a reſt to the people of God.

Q. 3. For what other Reaſons will God have a Sabbath?

A. He will have a Sabbath for the honour of his name, Iſa. 58. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the ſabbath, from doing thy pleaſure on my holy day, and call the ſabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable, and ſhalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleaſure, nor ſpeaking thine own words. For the good of Mens Souls; Mark 2. 27. And he ſaid unto them, the ſabbath was made for man, and not man for the ſabbath. And in mercy to the Bodies of Men and Beaſts.

Q. 4. Is this Commandment Moral and Perpetual, or Ceremonial and Temporary?

A. It is, and muſt needs be Moral, and not Ceremonial; becauſe all the Reaſons that enforce it, are perpetual, and the Sabbath continued, when the Ceremonial Law ceaſed, and was vaniſhed; Mat. 24. 20. But pray ye, that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the ſabbath day.

Q. 5. What day of the ſeven is the Chriſtian Sabbath?

A. The firſt day of the Week is our Sabbath, ſince the Reſurrection of Chriſt. This is the day which was foretold to be our Sabbath; Pſalm 118. 24. This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoyce and be glad in it. The Lord hath marked it for himſelf by ſetting his own Name on it; Rev. 1. 10. I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day. And the Apoſtles and Primitive Church conſtantly ſet it apart to Religious uſes and ends; Acts 20. 7. And upon the firſt day of the week, when the diſciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, &c. 1 Cor. 16. 2. Upon the firſt day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in ſtore, as God hath proſpered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

Q. 6. When doth the Chriſtian Sabbath begin?

A. It appears that this day is not to be reckoned from evening to evening, but from morning to morning; becauſe the Chriſtian Sabbath muſt begin, when the Jewiſh Sabbath ended, but that ended towards the morning; Matth. 28. 1. In the end of the ſabbath, as it began to dawn, towards the firſt day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to ſee the ſepulchre.

Q. 7. What is the ground of changing the day?

A. The ſolemn commemoration of our Redemption by the Reſurrection of Chriſt from the dead, is the ground of tranſlating the Sabbath from the ſeventh to the firſt day of the Week; Pſal. 118. 24. This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoyce, and be glad in it. Mark 16. 9. Now when Jeſus was riſen early the firſt day of the week, he appeared firſt to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had caſt ſeven devils.

Q. 8. Is it the whole day, or only ſome hours of the day that are ſet apart for God?

A. Not a part, but the whole day is the Lords; and it is as dangerous to halve it with God in point of time, as it was for Annanias and Sapphira to halve their dedicated Goods, and bring in but a part. Remember that thou keep holy the ſabbath day, is the Command.

Q. 9. Is there any other day holy beſides this?

A. No day but this is holy by Inſtitution of the Lord; yet days of Humiliation and Thankſgiving may be lawfully ſet apart by men on a Call of Providence; but Popiſh Holy days are not warrantable nor to be obſerved; Gal. 4. 10. Ye obſerve days and months, and times, and years.

Q. 10. But ſeeing every day ſhould be a Sabbath to a Chriſtian, what needs any other ſet time?

A. Though Chriſtians muſt walk every day with God, yet every day cannot be a Sabbath, becauſe God calls us to other Duties on thoſe days, but will have this to be a ſolemn and entire day to himſelf.

Q. 11. But if a man ſcruple the change of the Sabbath, may he not keep both days weekly?

A. No; for then by doing more than God requires, he breaks a plain Command, Six days ſhalt thou labour.

Q. 12. At what time ſhould Chriſtians be up, and at their Duties on the Lords day?

A. As early in the morning as their ſtrength will permit, to prepare by private for publick Duties; but the publick are not to be entrenched on by private Duties; Acts 10. 33. --- Now therefore are we all here preſent before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

Of the Sabbath.

Queſt. 60. How is the Sabbath to be ſanctified?

A. The Sabbath is to be Sanctified by an holy resting all that day, even from such worldly employments and recreations as are lawful on other days, and spending the whole time in the publick and private exercises of Gods Worship, except so much as is to be taken up in the works of necessity and mercy.

Quest. 61. What are the Sins forbidden in the fourth Commandment?

A. The fourth Commandment forbiddeth the omission or careless performance of the Duties required, and the profaning the day by Idleness, or doing that which is in it self sinful, or by unnecessary thoughts, words or works, about our worldly employments or recreations.

Quest. 62. What are the Reasons annexed to the fourth Commandment?

A. The Reasons annexed to the fourth Commandment are, Gods allowing us six days of the week for our own employment, his challenging a special propriety in the seventh, his own example, and his blessing the Sabbath day.

Q. 1. What is the Rest which God requires on the Sabbath?

A. It is not a meer natural or civil, but an holy rest, resembling the rest in Heaven, wherein the Mind is most active and busie in the work of God, though the Body be at rest, and the Spirit not wearied with its work; Rev. 4. 8. And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they rest not day and night, saying, holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

Q. 2. May not any works of our civil Calling be ordinarily done on that day?

A. No; it is sinful to put our hands ordinarily to our Callings on that day, and God usually punishes it; Neh. 13. 15, 16, 17, 18. In those days saw I in Judah, some treading wine-presses on the sabbath, and bringing in sheaves, and lading asses, as also wine, grapes, and figs, and all manner of burdens, which they brought into Jerusalem on the sabbath day; and I testified against them in the day wherein they sold victuals. There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish and all manner of ware, and sold on the sabbath, unto the children of Judah, and in Jerusalem. Then I contended with the nobles of Judah, and said unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profane the sabbath day? Did not your fathers thus, and did not our God bring all this evil upon us, and upon this city? yet ye bring more wrath upon Israel by profaning the sabbath.

Q. 3. May we not refresh our Bodies by Recreations, or our Minds by thoughts of Earthly Business or Discourses on that day?

A. Recreations of the Body which are lawful on other days, are sinful on this day; and all the Recreations of the Mind allowed on this day, are Spiritual and Heavenly; Isa. 58. 13, 14. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honourable, and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words: Then shalt thou delight thy self in the Lord, and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father; for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

Q. 4. What works may lawfully be done on that day?

A. Christs example warrants works of necessity, and works of mercy, but no other, Mat. 12. 3, 4. But he said unto them, have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him, How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shew-bread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests. And ver. 7. But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, &c.

Q. 5. What are the holy Duties of the Sabbath?

A. The Publick Worship of God in reading and hearing the Word Preached; Isa. 66. 23. And it shall come to pass that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord, Luke 4. 16. --- And as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read. And Prayer; Acts 16. 13, 14. And on the sabbath day we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made, &c. And receiving the Sacrament; Acts 20. 7. And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, &c.

Q. 6. Are private Duties in our Families required, as well as publick on the Sabbath?

A. Yes; it is not enough to sanctifie the Sabbath in publick Ordinances, but God requires it to be sanctified in Family and private Duties; Lev. 23. 3. --- But the seventh day is the sabbath of rest, an holy convocation, ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the Lord in all your dwellings.

Q. 7. With what frame of Spirit are all Sabbath duties, both publick and private to be performed?

A. They are to be performed with Spiritual delight; Isa. 58. 13. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight, &c. And all grudging at, and weariness of Spiritual exercises is a sin forbidden; Mal. 1. 13. Ye said also, behold what a weariness is it, and ye have snuffed at it saith the Lord of hosts, and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick: thus ye brought an offering; should I accept this of your hand saith the Lord? Amos 8. 5. When will the new moon be gone that we may sell corn? and the sabbath that we may set forth wheat? &c.

Q. 8. What is the first Reason annexed to this Command?

A. The first Reason is the sufficient and large allowance of time God hath given us for our civil Callings and earthly business. Six days in the week is a large allowance.

Q. 9. What is the second Reason annexed to this fourth Command?

A. The second Reason is God's sanctifying and separating this day by a special Command and Institution for his service; so that to profane this time is to sin against an express Divine Statute.

Q. 10. What's the third Reason annexed to this Command?

A. The third Reason is God's own Example, who rested the seventh day from all his works, and blessed this day, by vertue of which Blessing we are encouraged to sanctifie it.

Q. 11. Is it not enough to sanctifie this day in our own persons?

A. No; if God hath put any under our Authority, their profaning the Sabbath will become our sin, though we be never so strict in the observation of it our selves.

Q. 12. May we continue our civil Employments to the last moment of our common time?

A. Except Necessity or Mercy urge us, we ought to break off before, and allow some time to prepare for the Sabbath; Luke 23. 54. And that day was the preparation, and the Sabbath drew on.

Q. 13. What is the first Inference from hence?

A. That we have all great cause to be humbled for our Sabbath Transgressions, either in our unpreparedness for it, our want of delight and spirituality in it, or the due government of our Families as God requires.

Q. 14. What is the second Inference from hence?

A. That Christians on the Sabbath day have a fair occasion and help to reallize to themselves the Heavenly state, in which they are to live abstract from the World, and God is to be all in all to them.

Of the fifth Commandment.

Quest. 63. Which is the fifth Commandment?

A. The fifth Commandment is, [Honour thy Father and thy Mother, that thy days may be long in the Land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.]

Quest. 64. What is required in the fifth Commandment?

A. The fifth Commandment requireth the preserving the Honour, and performing the Duties belonging to every one in their several places and relations, as superiors, inferiors, or equals.

Quest. 65. What is forbidden in the fifth Commandment?

A. The fifth Commandment forbiddeth the neglecting of, or doing any thing against the honour and duty which belongeth to every one in their several places and relations.

Quest. 66. What is the Reason annexed to the fifth Commandment?

A. The Reason annexed to the fifth Commandment is, a promise of long life and prosperity (as far as it shall serve for Gods glory, and their own good) to all such as keep this Commandment

Q. 1. What Relatives are directly and more especially concerned in this fifth Commandment?

A. All Superious and Inferiours are concerned in it; Especially (1.) Political Fathers and their Children; that is, Kings and Subjects: Mark 11. 10. Blessed be the Kingdom of our Father David, &c. (2.) Spiritual Fathers and their Children; that is, Ministers and their People: 1 Cor. 4. 15. For though you have ten thousand Instructers in Christ, yet have ye not many Fathers, for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the Gospel. (3.) Natural Parents and their Children; Ephes. 6. 1. Children obey your Parents in the Lord. (4.) All Civil Superiours and Inferiours, as Husbands and Wives, Masters and Servants; Ephes. 5. 22. Wives submit your selves unto your own Husbands, as unto the Lord. And Eph. 6. 5. Servants be obedient to them that are your Masters according to the Flesh, &c.

Q. 2. What is the Duty of Political Fathers or Magistrates, to their Political Children or Subjects?

A. It is to rule and govern the People over whom God hath set them with Wisdom; 2 Chron. 1. 10. Give me now Wisdom and Knowledge, that I may go out and come in before this People. Justice, 2 Chron. 16. 5, 6, 7. And he set Judges in the Land, throughout all the fenced Cities of Judah, City by City. And he said to the Judges, Take heed what ye do; for ye judge not for Man, but for the Lord, who is with you in the Judgment. Wherefore now let the Fear of the Lord be upon you, take heed and do it, &c. And Piety, 2 Sam. 23. 3. —— He that ruleth over Men must be just, ruling in the Fear of God. Carefully providing for their Souls in every place of their Dominion; 2 Chron. 17. 9. And they taught in Judah, and had the Book of the Law of the Lord with them, and went about throughout all the Cities of Judah, and taught the People. And for their common outward Peace and Safety? 2 Chr. 17. 12. And Jehoshaphat waxed great exceedingly, and he built in Judah Castles and Cities of Store.

Q. 3. What are the Duties of Subjects to their Rulers?

A. It is to pray for them: 1 Tim. 2. 1, 2. I exhort therefore, that first of all Supplications, Prayers, Intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all Men: For Kings, and for all that are in Authority, &c. To honour them, 1 Pet. 2. 17. ... Fear God, honour the King. To obey their just Laws, Rom. 13. 1. Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers, &c. And to pay them the Tribute that is due to them, Rom. 13. 7. Render therefore to all their dues, tribute to whom tribute is due, custom to whom custom, &c.

Q. 4. What are the duties of Ministers to their people?

A. Their duty is, (1) To feed their flock constantly with wholesom food, 2 Tim. 4. 2. Preach the word, be instant in season, and out of season, rebuke, reprove, exhort, with all long-suffering and doctrine. (2.) To be full of bowels of tender Affection to them, 1 Thess. 2. 7, 8. But we were gentle, among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children: So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us, (3.) To pray for them, Eph. 1. 15, 16. Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the Saints, Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers. (4.) To watch over them, 1 Pet. 5. 2. Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof not by constraint, but willingly, &c. And (5.) To walk as an Example of Godliness before them, Tit. 2. 7. In all things shewing thy self a pattern of good works, &c. All which Duties require their residence among them, 1 Pet. 5. 2. Feed the flock of God which is among you, &c.

Q. 5. What are the peoples Duties towards their Ministers?

A. Their Duty, is, (1.) To esteem and love them dearly for their works sake, 1 Thes. 5. 12, 13. And we beseech you, Brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord and admonish you; and to esteem them very highly in love for their works sake. (2.) To attend on the Word preached by them, as the Word of God, 1 Thes. 2. 13. For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because when ye received the Word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the Word of Men, but (as it is in Truth) the Word of God. (3.) To pray for them and the Success

Succeſs of their Labours, Heb. 13. 18. Pray for us, &c. (4.) Not to receive light and malicious Reports againſt them. 1 Tim. 5. 19. Againſt an Elder receive not an Accuſation but before two or three Witneſſes. (5.) To make a competent and comfortable Proviſion for them, Gal. 6. 6. Let him that is taught in the Word, communicate unto him that teacheth, in all good things.

Q. 6. What are the Duties of Natural Parents to their Children?

A. It is their Duty, (1.) To be tenderly, but not fondly affectionate to, and tender over them, Iſa. 40. 15. Can a woman forget her ſucking child, that ſhe ſhould not have compaſſion on the ſon of her womb? (2.) To educate them for God, Epheſ. 6. 4. And ye fathers provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (3.) To reſtrain their Sins by Correction, Prov. 29. 15. The rod and reproof give wiſdom, but a child left to himſelf, bringeth his mother to ſhame. (4.) To provide for their livelyhood, 1 Tim. 5. 8. But if any provide not for his own, and eſpecially for thoſe of his own houſe, he hath denied the faith, and is worſe than an infidel. (5.) To pray daily for them, Job 1. 5. And it was ſo when the days of their feaſting were gone about, that Job ſent and ſanctified them, and roſe up early in the Morning, and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all: For Job ſaid, it may be that my ſons have ſinned, and curſed God in their hearts: Thus did Job continually. (6.) To encourage them with endearing language in the way of Godlineſs, Prov. 31. 1, 2, 3. The words of King Lemuel, the propheſie that his mother taught him. What, my ſon! and what the ſon of my womb! and what the ſon of my vows! Give not thy ſtrength unto women, nor thy ways to that which deſtroyeth Kings.

Q. 7. What are the Duties of Children to Parents?

A. Their Duty is, (1.) To obey them only in the Lord, Eph. 6. 1. Children obey your parents in the Lord. (2.) To reverence and honour them, Levit. 19. 3. Ye ſhall fear every man his mother and his father, &c. (3.) To ſubmit to their Reproofs and Corrections, Heb. 12. 9. Furthermore we have had fathers of our fleſh, which corrected us, and we gave them reverence. (4.) To provide for them, if they be poor and needy, and we have ability, Gen. 47. 12. And Joſeph nouriſhed his father and his brethren, and all his fathers houſhold with bread, according to their families.

Q. 8. What ſhall Children do, when Parents abuſe their Authority, by forbidding Duty or commanding Sin?

A. In ſuch caſes Children are to obey God rather than their Parents, Acts 4. 19. But Peter and John anſwered, and ſaid unto them, Whether it be right in the ſight of God, to hearken unto you, more than unto God, judge ye. But yet to manage their refuſals of Obedience with all Meekneſs and Humility.

Q. 9. What is the firſt duty of Husbands to their Wives?

A. The firſt Duty, on which all other Duties depend, is cohabitation with them, 1 Pet. 3. 7. Likewiſe ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, &c. And nothing can make this Duty void, but a lawful divorce for Adultery, Matth. 5. 31, 32. ---But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever ſhall put away his wife, ſaving for the cauſe of fornication, cauſeth her to commit adultery, &c.

Q. 10. What's the Husbands ſecond Duty to his Wife?

A. True and hearty love to Soul and Body, Eph. 5. 25. Husbands love your wives, even as Chriſt alſo loved the church, and gave himſelf for it, Evidencing it ſelf in careful proviſion for them. 2 Cor. 7. 33. But he that is married, careth for the things of the world, how he may pleaſe his wife. But eſpecially to their Souls in winning them to Chriſt, 1 Cor. 7. 16. ---Or how knoweſt thou, O man, whether thou ſhalt ſave thy wife? And building them up in Chriſt, 1 Pet. 3. 7. Likewiſe, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker veſſel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindred.

Q. 11. What are the Duties of Wives to their Husbands?

A. 'Tis their Duty, (1.) To be in ſubjection to their own Husbands; Eph. 5. 22, 23. Wives ſubmit your ſelves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord: For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Chriſt is the head of the Church. (2.) To reverence them; Eph. 5. 33. ---And the wife ſee that ſhe reverence her husband. (3.) To expreſs their Reverence in ſuitable Words and Actions; 1 Pet. 3. 6. Even as Sarah obeyed Abraham, calling him Lord, &c. (4.) To be faithful to them; Prov. 31. 12. She will do him good and not evil, all the days of her life. (5.) To adorn their Relation with meekneſs and quietneſs of Spirit; 1 Pet. 3. 4. But let it be the hidden man of the heart in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet ſpirit, which is in the ſight of God of great price.

Q. 12. What are the Duties of Servants to their Maſters?

A. 'Tis their Duty, (1.) To be faithful in all things committed to their charge; Tit. 2. 10. Not purloining, but ſhewing all good fidelity, &c. (2.) To honour them in all reſpectful Words and Carriages; 1 Tim. 6. 1. Let as many ſervants as are under the yoke, count their own maſters worthy of all honour, &c. (3.) To bear patiently their rebukes; 1 Pet. 2. 18, 19. Servants, be ſubject to your maſters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but alſo to the froward, for this is thank-worthy, if a man for conſcience toward God, endure grief, ſuffering wrongfully.

Q. 13. What is the Firſt Duty of Maſters to their Servants?

A. Their firſt Duty is to rule over them with gentleneſs, and not with terrour and rigour; Eph. 6. 9. And ye maſters, do the ſame things unto them, forbearing threatning: Knowing that your maſter alſo is in heaven, neither is there reſpect of perſons with him.

Q. 14. What's the ſecond Duty of Maſters to their Servants?

A. To pay them their Wages fully and without delay; Deut. 24. 14, 15. Thou ſhalt not oppreſs an hired ſervant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy ſtrangers that are in thy land within thy gates. At his day thou ſhalt give him his hire, neither ſhall the ſun go down upon it, for he is poor, and ſetteth his heart upon it; leſt he cry againſt thee unto the Lord, and it be ſin unto thee. And to provide Food for them convenient; Prov. 27. 27. And thou ſhalt have goats-milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy houſhold, and for the maintenance for thy Maidens.

Q. 15. What's

Q. 15. What's the third Duty of Masters to their Servants?

A. The third and principal Duty is to engage them as much as in them lies, to the ways of God, and Duties of Religion, as Abraham did, Gen. 18. 19. For I know him that he will command his children, and his houshold after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, &c. And Joshua, Josh. 24. 15. ---But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

Of the sixth Commandment.

Quest. 67. Which is the sixth Commandment?

A. The sixth Commandment is, [Thou shalt not kill.]

Quest. 68. What is required in the sixth Commandment?

A. The sixth Commandment requireth all lawful endeavours to preserve our own life, and the life of others.

Quest. 69. What is forbidden in the sixth Commandment?

A. The sixth Commandment forbiddeth the taking away of our own life, or the life of our Neighbour unjustly, or whatsoever tendeth thereunto.

Q. 1. What is the natural order of these Commandments in the second Table?

A. In these Commands God begins with the nearest concern of Man, which is Life, Job 2. 4. ---Skin for skin, yea all that a man hath, will he give for his life. Next to that his Command guards his nearest Relative, from whom the best outward comfort is to rise, his Wife, Mark 10. 8. And they twain shall be one flesh, &c. After that his good Name, which is very precious to him, Eccles. 7. 1. A good name is better than precious oyntment. And then his Goods, which support his life, Isa. 3. 1. For behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem, and from Judah, the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water.

Q. 2. How far doth this Command extend it self?

A. It prohibits all Cruelty, and commands all Help, Care, and Pity, so far as Mens hearts and hands can go, for the relief and preservation of others, Psalm 119. 96. ---But thy commandment is exceeding broad.

Q. 3. Doth this Command respect only the outward action, or also the inward passion of the Soul?

A. It respects and bridles the inward Passion of the Soul, as well as outward Actions; as Hatred, 1 John 3. 15. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer, &c. And causeless Anger, Matth. 5. 22. But I say unto you, that whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the judgment, &c.

Q. 4. Doth this Command only respect the Lives of others?

A. No, it primarily respects our own Lives, and forbids us all things that tend to the shortening and ruin of them, Eph. 5. 29. For no Man ever yet hated his own Flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the Church.

Q. 5. How many ways may Men sin against this Command, with respect to their own Lives?

A. A Man sinneth against his own Life, not only by destroying himself as the Jaylour would have done. Acts 16. 27. And the Keeper of the Prison awaking out of his Sleep, and seeing the Prison Doors open, he drew out his Sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the Prisoners had been fled; But by refusing Food or Physick to preserve Life, or macerating our Bodies with excessive Sorrows, 2 Cor. 7. 10. ——But the Sorrow of the World worketh Death, or Envy at others Felicity: Prov. 14. 30. —— But Envy the Rottenness of the Bones.

Q. 6. How are Men guilty of Murther with respect to others?

A. Murther with respect to others, may be either with relation to their Bodies; Num. 35. 30. Whoso killeth, any person, the murtherer shall be put to death, &c. Or to their Souls, which is the most heinous murder in the World? Ezek. 3. 18. When I say unto the wicked, thou shalt surely dye, and thou givest him not warning, nor speaketh to warn the wicked from his way to save his life; the same wicked man shall dye in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

Q. 7. Is all destruction of anothers Life, murder in the account of God?

A. No, it is not, if the Life of a Person be taken away in the course of Justice, Gen. 9. 6. Whoso sheddeth mans blood, by man shall his blood be shed. Or in a just and necessary War, Judges 5. 23. Curse ye Meroz (said the Angel of the Lord*) curse ye bitterly the inhabitants thereof; because they came not to the help of the* Lord, to the help of the Lord against the mighty. Or by pure Accident, Deut. 19. 5. As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the axe to cut down the tree, and the head slippeth from the helve, and lighteth upon his neighbour that he dye, he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live. Or in self defence, Exod. 22. 2. If a thief be found breaking up and be smitten that he dye, there shall no blood be shed for him.

Q. 8. Is there no other way of breaking this Command?

A. Yes, there is: Innocents may be murdered under the forms and solemnities both of Justice and Religion. So Naboth was murdered by Jezebel. 1 Kings 21. 12, 13. They proclaimed a fast, and set Naboth on high among the people. And there came in two men, children of Belial, and sat before him: And the men of Belial witnessed against him, even against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did blaspheme God and the King. Then they carried him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones that he dyed. And the Martyrs by bloody Papists. And this strongly proves a day of Judgment, Eccles. 3. 16, 17. And moreover, I saw under the Sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there; and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there. I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose, and for every work.

Q. 9. Are Duels forbidden in this Commandment?

A. Yes, they are, for whatever Point of Honour be touched, or whatever Provocation be given, we are not to be our own avengers; Rom. 12. 19. Dealy beloved, avenge not your selves, &c.

Q. 10. What's the first Inference hence?

A. That we have great cause to bless God for his protecting Law, and for Humane Laws grounded upon his Law for the protection of our Lives; Rom. 13. 4. ---For he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath, upon him that doth evil.

Q. 11. What's the second Inference hence?

A. That all that are guilty of this Sin, have great cause to be humbled and afflicted: For it's a crying Sin, Gen. 4. 10. ---The voice of thy brothers blood cryeth unto me from the ground. Yet not to despair of Mercy upon true Repentance. Manasseh shed innocent blood, and yet was pardoned upon Repentance, 2 Kin. 21. 16. Moreover Manasseh shed innocent blood very much, till he had filled Jerusalem from one end to another, &c.

Q. 12. What's the third Inference hence?

A. Let all Men watch against Pride, Passion, Malice and and Revenge, the Sin of the Heart, from which this horrid Sin proceeds, Mat. 15. 18, 19. ---For out of the heart proceed evil thought, murders, &c.

Of the ſeventh Commandment.

Queſt. 70. Which is the ſeventh Commandment?

A. The ſeventh Commandment is, Thou ſhalt not commit Adultery.

Queſt. 71. What is required in the ſeventh Commandment?

A. The ſeventh Commandment requireth the preſervation of our own and our Neighbours chaſtity in heart, ſpeech, and behaviour.

Queſt. 72. What is forbidden in the ſeventh Commandment?

A. The ſeventh Commandment forbiddeth all unchaſt thoughts, words and actions.

Q. 1. What is the Duty required in this Commandment?

A. The firſt Duty required in this Commandment is, the preſervation of our own Chaſtity in heart, lip, and life; 1 Theſ. 4. 3, 4. For this is the will of God, even your ſanctification, that ye ſhould abſtain from fornication. That every one of you ſhould know how to poſſeſs his veſſel in ſanctification and honour. And Eph. 4. 29. Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, &c.

Q. 2. Why muſt we preſerve our own Chaſtity?

A. Becauſe our Bodies are, or ought to be the Temples of the Holy Ghoſt; 1 Cor. 6. 15, 19. Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Chriſt? Shall I then take the members of Chriſt, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid. What, know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghoſt, which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? And it is the expreſs charge of God that they be kept pure and clean, 1 Theſſ. 4. 3, 4. For this is the will of God, even your ſanctification, that ye ſhould abſtain from fornication. That every one of you ſhould know how to poſſeſs his veſſel in ſanctification and honour.

Q. 3. What is the ſecond Reaſon?

A. The ſecond Reaſon is, becauſe of the evil of it to our ſelves: As (1.) It injures the Body, 1 Cor 6. 18. He that committeth fornication, ſinneth againſt his own body. (2.) It levels us with the Heathen, Eph. 4. 17, 19. This I ſay therefore, and teſtify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, —— Who being paſt feeling, have given themſelves over unto lasciviouſneſs, to work all uncleanneſs with greedineſs. (3.) Diſhonours our Names; Prov. 6. 32, 33. But whoſo committeth adultery with a woman, —— a wound and diſhonour ſhall he get, &c. (4.) Scatters our Eſtates, Prov. 5. 10. Leſt ſtrangers be filled with thy wealth, and thy labours be in the houſe of ſtrangers. (5.) Deſtroyeth the Soul; Prov. 6. 32. —— He that doth it, deſtroyeth his own ſoul.

Q. 4. What Age is moſt incident to this Sin?

A. The Youthful Age is moſt apt to be drawn into this Sin; Prov. 7. 7. And behold among the ſimple ones, I diſcerned among the youths, a young man void of underſtanding. And 2 Tim. 2. 22. Flee alſo youthful luſts, &c.

Q. 5. How far doth this Command extend it ſelf?

A. It extends it ſelf to the Heart, Mind and Fancy, as well as to the Body and external Actions, Mat. 5. 28. But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever looketh on a woman, to luſt after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Q. 6. What are the uſual inducements to this Sin?

A. The uſual inducements to this Sin are, (1.) Idleneſs and fulneſs of the Creatures, Ezek. 16. 49, 50. Behold, this was the iniquity of thy ſiſter Sodom; Pride, fulneſs of bread, and abundance of idleneſs was in her, and in her daughters, &c. (2.) Wanton Geſtures, Iſa. 3. 16. Moreover, the Lord ſaith, becauſe the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with ſtretched forth necks, and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet. (3.) Filthy Communication, Eph. 5. 4. Neither filthineſs, nor fooliſh talking, nor jeſting, which are not convenient, &c.

Q. 7. What's the firſt Remedy againſt this ſin?

A. The firſt Remedy, and the moſt effectual is, to get the Spirit of God within us, to ſanctifie and rule us, Gal. 5. 16. —— Walk in the Spirit, and ye ſhall not fulfil the luſts of the fleſh.

Q. 8. What is the ſecond Remedy?

A. The keeping of a ſtrict watch over the Heart, Prov. 4. 23. Keep thy heart with all diligence, &c. And over the external Senſes, Job 31. 1. I made a covenant with mine eyes; why then ſhould I think upon a maid?

Q. 9. What's the third Remedy againſt it?

A. Deep and ſerious conſideration of the danger of this Sin, and what God threatens againſt Adulterers, Heb. 13. 4. —— Whoremongers and adulterers God will judge. 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. —— Be not deceived, neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, ——ſhall inherit the Kingdom of God. And how he deſcribes them, Prov. 22. 14. The mouth of a ſtrange woman is a deep pit; he that is abhorred of the Lord ſhall fall therein.

Q. 10. What's the fourth Remedy againſt it?

A. Prayer, Pſal. 119. 37. Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity, &c. And to evidence our ſincerity in Prayer, we muſt ſtudy to ſhun all occaſions of this Sin, Pſal. 18. 23. I was alſo upright before him; and I kept my ſelf from mine iniquity.

Q. 11. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. What cauſe thoſe have to bleſs God, that have been kept from this Sin; though the beſt ought to be humbled for their pollutions.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. Let it warn Parents to do what in them lyes to prevent the ruin of their Children by this Sin, (1.) By filling their heads and hands with lawful buſineſs. (2.) By ſerious Admonitions and Prayers for them, (3.) By keeping them from vain and tempting Company. (4.) By diſpoſing them ſeaſonably in ſuitable Marriage.

Q. 13. What's the third Inference from hence?

A. Let thoſe that are defiled with this Sin, repent ſeriouſly of it, as David did, Pſal. 51. 8. Make me to hear joy and gladneſs, that the bones which thou haſt broken may rejoyce. And apply the Blood of Chriſt by Faith; for in ſo doing, it may be pardoned, 1 Cor. 6. 11. And ſuch were ſome of you: but ye are waſhed, but ye are ſanctified, but ye are juſtified in the name of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and by the ſpirit of our God.

Of the eighth Commandment.

Q. 73. Which is the eighth Commandment?

A. The eighth Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not ſteal.]

Queſt. 74. What is required in the eighth Commandment?

A. The eighth Commandment requireth the lawful procuring and furthering the Wealth, and outward Eſtate of our ſelves, and others.

Queſt. 75. What is forbidden in the eighth Commandment?

A. The eighth Commandment forbiddeth whatſoever doth or may, unjuſtly hinder our own, or our Neighbours Wealth, or outward Eſtate.

Q. 1. What is preſuppoſed in this Commandment?

A. It preſuppoſeth that God hath given every Man a propriety in his Eſtate, and that no Man's Goods are common to others, except by his Conſent in Times and Caſes extraordinary, Acts 2. 44. And all that believed were together, and had all things common.

Q. 2. What

Q. 2. What is required in this Commandment?

A. It requires of every Man diligence in a lawful Calling, to get and preſerve an Eſtate for his own and others good, Prov. 13. 11. He that gathereth by labour, ſhall increaſe. Eph. 4. 28. — But rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.

Q. 3. What elſe is required in this Commandment?

A. It requires us not only to get and keep the things of the World in a lawful manner, but to diſtribute and communicate them to thoſe that are in want, and not caſt them into Temptations of Sin or inevitable Ruin, Iſa. 58. 10. And if thou draw out thy ſoul to the hungry, and ſatisfie the afflicted ſoul: Then ſhall thy light riſe in obſcurity, and thy darkneſs be as the noon-day. 1 John 3. 17. But whoſo hath this worlds good, and ſeeth his brother hath need, and ſhutteth up his bowels of compaſſion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?

Q. 4. What elſe is required in this Commandment?

A. It requires in every Man a publick Spirit to procure and promote the good and proſperity of others. 1 Cor. 10. 24. Let no man ſeek his own; but every man anothers Wealth?

Q. 5. What elſe is required in this Command?

A. It requires reſtitution of all Goods unjuſtly gotten, or taken from others, Lev. 6. 4 Then it ſhall be becauſe he hath ſinned and is guilty, that he ſhall reſtore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, &c. And the reſtoring of Pawns and Pledges, when it's due. Ezek. 18. 7. And hath not oppreſſed any, but hath reſtored to the debtor his pledge, &c. Or things loſt, if we can diſcover the true Owners.

Q. 6. What's the firſt Sin forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids all couzening and cheating of others in our dealings and civil commerce with them, 1 Theſ. 4. 6. That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter, &c. Prov. 26. 28. A lying tongue hateth thoſe that are afflicted by it, and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

Q. 7. What's the 2d thing forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids all exaction and oppreſſion of our Neighbour, by going beyond them, or working on their neceſſities, or detaining their Dues; Lev. 25. 14. And if thou ſell aught unto thy neighbour, or buyeſt ought of thy neighbours hand ye ſhall not oppreſs one another. Prov. 24. 28, 29. Be not a witneſs againſt thy neighbour without cauſe: and deceive not with thy lips. Say not, I will do ſo to him as he hath done to me. I will render to the man according to his work.

Q. 8. What's the 3d thing forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids all unlawful Weights and Meaſures, which is no better than Theft in God's account, Mic. 6. 10, 11. Are there yet the treaſures of wickedneſs in the houſe of the wicked, and the ſcant meaſure that is abominable? Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

Q. 9. What's the 4th Sin forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids all Family frauds by Children, Prov. 28. 24. Whoſo robbeth his father or his mother, and ſaith, it is no tranſgreſſion, the ſame is the companion of a deſtroyer. Or Servants, Tit. 2. 9, 10. Exhort ſervants to be obedient unto their own Maſters, — Not purloining, but ſhewing all good fidelity, &c.

Q. 10. What's the 5th thing forbidden in this command?

A. It forbids all tempting of, or encouraging others to defraud thoſe who have any truſt committed to them, Pſal. 50. 18. When thou ſaweſt a thief, then thou conſentedſt with him, Prov. 29. 24. Whoſo is partner with a theif, hateth his own Soul, &c.

Q. 11. What's the 6th thing forbidden in this Command?

A. It forbids the taking away of anothers Goods by open Robbery by Sea or Land, Job 5. 5. — And the robber ſwalloweth up their ſubſtance. Or clandeſtinely and privately; 1 Pet. 4. 15. But let none of you ſuffer as a murderer, or as a thief, &c.

Q. 12. What is the danger of this Sin?

A. It brings Men's Soul's, Bodies and Eſtates under the Curſe of God, Zech. 5. 2, 4. Then ſaid he unto me, This is the curſe that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: For every one that ſtealeth ſhall be cut off as on this ſide, according to it: — I will bring it forth ſaith the Lord of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the Thief.

Q. 13. What is the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. Let all that are guilty of this ſin repent, and reſtore, as they expect Mercy from God, Eph. 4. 28. Let him that ſtole, ſteal no more, &c. Luke 19. 8. And Zaccheus ſtood, and ſaid unto the Lord, Behold Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken away any thing from any man by falſe accuſation I reſtore him fourfold.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. To excite all to whom God hath given a competency of the things of the World, that they bleſs God for keeping them from the temprations of this ſin, Prov. 30. 8, 9. Give me neither poverty nor riches, feed me with food convenient for me: leſt I be full and deny thee, and ſay, who is the Lord? or leſt I be poor and ſteal, and take the name of my God in vain.

Of the ninth Commandment.

Q. 76. Which is the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not bear falſe witneſs againſt thy neighbour.]

Q. 77. What is required, in the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Commandment requireth the maintaining and promoting of Truth between man and man, and of our Neighbours good names, eſpecially in witneſs-bearing.

Q. 78. What is forbidden in the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Commandment forbiddeth whatſoever is prejudicial to truth, or injurious to our own or our neighbours good name.

Q. 1. What is the general ſcope and aim of the ninth Commandment?

A. The ninth Command aims chiefly at the preſervation and promoting of Truth amongſt Men, Zech. 8. 16. — Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour, &c. This being of indiſpenſable neceſſity to the ſubſiſtence and welfare of Humane Society, Eph. 4 25. Wherefore putting away lying, ſpeak every man truth with his neighbour, for we are members one of another.

Q. 2. What is the firſt thing required particularly in this Command?

A. This Command requires every Man to take care of preſerving his own good Name, by ordering his Converſation in univerſal Integrity, 1 Pet. 3. 15, 16. But ſanctifie the Lord God in your hearts, and be ready always to give an anſwer to every man that asketh you a reaſon of the hope that is in you, with meekneſs and fear; having a good conſcience, that whereas they ſpeak evil of you as of evil doers, they may be aſhamed that falſely accuſe your good converſation in Chriſt.

Q. 3. What's the 2d thing required in this Command?

A. It requires all due care to preſerve the good Name and Honour of other Men, as well as our own; for Chriſtians are not to be of narrow and private Spirits, which center only in their own intereſts and concernment, Phil. 2. 4. Look not every man on his own things; but every man alſo on the things of others.

Q. 4. How

Q. 4. How are we to preſerve the good Names of others?
A. We are to preſerve the good Names of others by an inward eſteem of all the good that is in them, Phil. 2. 3.—In lowlineſs of mind let each eſteem other better than themſelves. And manifeſting our inward Eſteem of them by a wiſe and ſeaſonable Expreſſion thereof for their Encouragement in the ways of Godlineſs, Rom. 1. 8. Firſt, I thank my God through Jeſus Chriſt for you all, that your faith is ſpoken of throughout the whole world.

Q. 5. How elſe are we to defend other Mens Names?
A. By our readineſs to receive with Joy the Reports of that good that is in them, 3 Epiſt. John 3. for I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and teſtified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkeſt in the truth. And diſcountenancing all Reproaches maliciouſly vented againſt them, Pſal. 15. 3.--Nor taketh up a reproach againſt his neighbour.

Q. 6. But what if the Report be evidently true?
A. In that caſe we are to grieve for their Miſcarriages, as the Effect and Fruit of our Love to their Souls, 2 Cor. 2. 4. For out of much affliction and anguiſh of heart, I wrote unto you with many tears, not that ye ſhould be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you. And to diſcharge our Duties privately and faithfully in order to their recovery, Mat. 18. 15, 16, 17. Moreover, if thy brother ſhall treſpaſs againſt thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone, &c. Winking at and concealing in love their leſſer and common Infirmities; 1 Pet. 4. 8. And above all things have fervent charity among your ſelves: for charity ſhall cover the multitude of ſins.

Q. 7. What is forbidden in the ninth Commandment.
A. It forbids us to injure others, by raiſing or receiving Lyes and falſe Reports, which are highly injurious to their good Names, Col. 2. 9. Lye not one to another, &c.

Q. 8. What elſe is forbidden in the ninth Commandment?
A. It eſpecially forbids Perjury or falſe Swearing, whereby not only the Names, but Eſtates and Lives of the innocent are injured and ruined, Pſal. 35. 11. Falſe witneſſes did riſe up: they laid to my charge things that I knew not. Prov. 19. 5. A falſe witneſs ſhall not be unpuniſhed: and he that ſpeaketh lies ſhall not eſcape. A Sin which God will puniſh, Mal. 3. 5. And I will come near to you to judgment, and I will be a ſwift witneſs againſt the ſorcerers, and againſt the adulterers, and againſt falſe ſwearers, &c.

Q. 9. What elſe is forbidden in this Commandment?
A. It forbids all whiſpering and back-biting of others ſecretly, 2 Cor. 12. 20.—Leſt there be debates, envyings, wraths, ſtrifes, back-bitings, whiſperings, &c. and all Tale-carrying from one to another to our Neighbours Injury, Levit. 19. 16. Thou ſhalt not go up and down as a Tale-bearer among the People, &c. And 1 Tim. 5. 13.—And not only idle, but tattlers alſo and buſie-bodies, ſpeaking things which they ought not.

Q. 10. What elſe doth the ninth Commandment forbid?
A. It forbids all raſh and unwarrantable judging of other Mens Hearts and final Eſtates, which is uſually accompanied with ignorance of our own, Matth. 7. 6. 3. Judge not that ye be not judged.—And why beholdeſt thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but conſidereſt not the beam that is thine own eye?

Q. 11. What elſe is forbidden in this Commandment?
A. It forbids the eclipſing of the true Word and Honour of others, by a proud exalting of our ſelves, 1 Cor. 13. 4, 5. Charity envieth not, Charity vaunteth not it ſelf, is not puffed up, &c. Or by crying up one to the diſparagement of another good Man, 1 Cor. 3. 4, 5. For while one ſaith, I am of Paul, and another I of Apollo, are ye not carnal? &c.

Q. 12. What is the firſt Inference from hence?
A. That the beſt Chriſtians have cauſe to be humbled for the Sins of the Tongue, whereby God is diſhonoured, and others are injured, Jam. 3. 2. If any man offend not in word, the ſame is a perfect man, and able alſo to bridle the whole body. And ver. 5, 6. Even ſo the tongue is a little member, and boaſteth great things: behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth. And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: ſo is the tongue amongſt our members, that it defileth the whole body, and ſetteth on fire the courſe of nature, and it is ſet on fire of hell.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?
A. 'Tis our great Concernment to walk with that Piety and Juſtice towards God and Men, as to cut off all juſt Occaſions of Reproach from our Names, 2 Cor. 11. 12. But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occaſion from them which deſire occaſion, &c. 1 Tim. 5. 14. I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the houſe, give none occaſion to the adverſary to ſpeak reproachfully.

Q. 14. What's the third Inference from this Commandment?
A. To bleſs God that our Names are kept ſweet and honourable in the World among good Men, 3 Epiſt. John 12. Demetrius hath a good report of all men, &c. Or if we be reproached, it is by none but wicked Men, and that for our Duty to God, Dan. 6. 5. Then ſaid theſe men, we ſhall not find any occaſion againſt this Daniel, except we find it againſt him concerning the law of his God.

Of the Tenth Commandment.

Queſt. 79. Which is the Tenth Commandment.

A. The Tenth Commandment is, [Thou ſhalt not covet thy Neighbour's Houſe, thou ſhalt not covet thy Neighbour's Wife, nor his Man-ſervant, nor his Maid-ſervant, nor his Oxe, nor his Aſs, nor any thing that is thy Neighbours.]

Queſt. 80. What is required in the Tenth Commandment?

A. The Tenth Commandment requireth full contentment with our own condition, with a right and charitable frame of Spirit towards our Neighbour, and all that is his.

Queſt. 81. What is forbidden in the Tenth Commandment?

A. The Tenth Commandment forbiddeth all diſcontentment with our eſtate, envying or grieving at the good of our Neighbour, and all inordinate motions and affections to any thing that is his.

Q. 1. What is the principal ſcope and aim of the Tenth Commandment?

A. It is to prevent all occaſions of tranſgreſſing the other Precepts of the ſecond Table, by retaining this Sin of Covetouſneſs in the Heart, Pſal. 119. 35, 36. Make me to go in the path of thy Commandments: for therein do I delight. Incline my heart unto thy teſtimonies; and not to covetouſneſs.

Q. 2. What doth this tenth Command require of us in reference to our ſelves?

A. It requires of us perfect Contentment and Satisfaction with that Eſtate and Condition, wherein God hath placed us in the World, Heb. 13. 5. Let your converſation be without covetouſneſs: and be content with ſuch things as ye have, &c. Reckoning it to be good for us to be in that State we are, though never ſo low or afflicted, Pſal. 119. 67. Before I was afflicted, I went aſtray; but now have I kept thy word. And ver. 71. It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy ſtatutes.

Q. 3. Is contentment with God's appointments attainable in this Life?

A. Some Chriſtians have attained to a very great meaſure and eminent degree of Contentment in the midſt of changeable and afflictive Providences, Phil. 4. 11.—I have learned in whatſoever ſtate I am, therewith to be content. Pſal. 16, 5, 6. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou maintaineſt my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleaſant places: yea, I have a goodly heritage.

Q. 4. Is there no danger of the ſin of diſcontent in a full and proſperous Condition?

A. Fulneſs of the World ſecures no Man from the Sin of Diſcontentment with his own, or coveting that which is anothers; becauſe the Deſires enlarge as the Eſtate doth, Pſal. 62. 10.—If riches increaſe, ſet not your heart upon them. An inſtance whereof we have in Ahab, 1 Kings 21. 4. And Ahab came into his houſe heavy and diſpleaſed, becauſe of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had ſpoken to him: for he had ſaid, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers; and he laid him down upon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no bread.

Q. 5. Whence doth Diſcontent with our Condition ſpring?

A. It ſprings partly from our ignorance of God's Wiſdom and Love in ordering all for our good, Rom. 8. 28. And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, &c. Partly from our inconſiderateneſs of the Vanity of the Creature, 1 Tim. 6. 7, 8. For we brought nothing into this world; and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content. And partly from our Unbelief, Matth. 6. 31, 32. Therefore take no thought, ſaying, what ſhall we eat? or what ſhall we drink? or wherewithal ſhall we be cloathed? (for after all theſe things do the Gentiles ſeek) for your heavenly father knoweth that ye have need of all theſe things.

Q. 6. Is Contentment with our own eſtate all that this Commandment requires?

A. No, it requires a Charitable Frame of Spirit towards our Neighbours alſo, Rom. 12. 10, 15. Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love, in honour preferring one another. Rejoyce with them that do rejoyce, and weep with them that weep.

Q. 7. What's the firſt Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It directly and eſpecially forbids all ſinful and inordinate Deſires and Motions after other Mens Enjoyments, Col. 3. 5. Mortify therefore your Members which are upon the earth, fornication, uncleanneſs, inordinate affection, evil concupiſcence, and covetouſneſs, which is idolatry.

Q. 8. What's the ſecond Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids all Cruelty and Incompaſſionateneſs to others in Neceſſity, and keeping back from them that Relief which is made theirs by God's Command, Prov. 12. 24. There is that with-holdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty, Lev. 19. 9, 10. And when ye reap the harveſt of your Land, thou ſhalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither ſhalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harveſt. And thou ſhalt not glean thy vineyard, neither ſhalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard: thou ſhalt leave them for the poor and the Stranger: I am the Lord your God.

Q. 9. What is the Third Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids the detaining of the Hirelings Wages when it is due, Hab. 2. 9, 10, 11. Wo to him that covetch an evil covetouſneſs to his Houſe, that he may ſet his neſt on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil. Thou haſt conſulted ſhame to thy houſe, by cutting off my people, and haſt ſinned againſt thy ſoul. For the ſtone ſhall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber ſhall anſwer it.

Q. 10. What's the Fourth Sin forbidden in this Commandment?

A. It forbids all inward grudgings at, and envyings of the Enjoyments of others, whether they be inward Goods of the Mind, or outward belonging to the Body; 1 Cor. 13. 14. Charity envieth not, &c.

Q. 11. What's the Miſchief of Covetouſneſs?

A. It diſtracts the Heart in Duties, Ezek. 33. 31. And they come unto thee as thy people cometh, and they ſit before thee, as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them; for with their mouth they ſhew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetouſneſs. Provokes the Wrath of God, Iſa. 57. 17. For the iniquity of his covetouſneſs was I wroth, and ſmote him, &c. And where it reigns, it becomes Idolatry, Col. 3. 5. And covetouſneſs which is idolatry.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inference hence?

A. It calls all Men to Humiliation for the inordinacy of their Affections towards the World, their diſcontent with their own, and envyings of others Conditions.

Q. 13. What's the Second Inference hence?

A. As ever we would keep clear from this Sin, let us make God our portion, Pſal. 16. 5, 6. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cup: thou maintaineſt my lot. And labour to get the Soul-ſatisfying Comforts of his Spirit, John. 4. 14. But whoſoever drinketh of the water that I ſhall give him, ſhall never thirſt, &c. 2 Cor. 6. 10. As having nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all things.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. If God have given us a ſufficiency of the things of this Life for our Neceſſity, let us be ſatisfied though we want other things for our delight, 1 Tim. 6. 8. And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content. And relieve our ſelves by an expectation of thoſe better Things laid up in Heaven for us, if we be Believers, Jam. 2. 5. Hath not God choſen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promiſed to them that love him.

Of keeping the Law.

Queſt. 82. Is any Man able perfectly to keep the Commandments of God?

A. No meer man ſince the fall, is able in this life perfectly to keep the Commandments of God, but doth daily break them in Thought, Word, and Deed.

Q. 1. Wherein doth the perfect keeping of God's Law conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts in the perfect and conſtant Conformity of the internal and external Actions of Heart and Life, to every Command of God, Gal. 3. 10. Curſed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them, Matt. 22. 37, 38, 39. Jeſus ſaid unto him, thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul, and with all thy mind. This is the firſt and great Commandment. And the ſecond is like unto it, Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thy ſelf.

Q. 2. Ba

Q. 2. But if a man commit no external act againſt the Law, may he not be ſaid perfectly to keep it, although in mind or thought he ſhould tranſgreſs?

A. No; for an inward Motion of Sin in the Heart, that never breaks forth into Act, is a Violation of the Law, and brings the Soul under the Curſe of it, Mat. 5. 21, 22. Ye have heard that it was ſaid by them of old time, Thou ſhalt not kill: and whoſoever ſhall kill, ſhall be in danger of the judgment. But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever is angry with his brother without a cauſe, ſhall be in danger of the judgment, &c. And Ver. 27, 28. Ye have heard that it was ſaid by them of old time, Thou ſhalt not commit adultery. But I ſay unto you, that whoſoever looketh upon a woman to luſt after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Q. 3. May not a Man keep the Law, if he keep ſome of its Commands, though he cannot keep every one of them actually?

A. No, he cannot; for the Tranſgreſſion of any one Command in the leaſt degree, is a Breach of all, and brings the Curſe of the whole upon a Man's Soul, Jam. 2. 10. For whoſoever ſhall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

Q. 4. Was the Law never kept by any ſince it was made?

A. Yes, Adam in his innocent State kept it; for he was made upright, Eccleſ. 7. 29. God made man upright, &c. And Chriſt perfectly kept it, Mat. 5. 17. Think not that I am come to deſtroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to deſtroy, but to fulfil.

Q. 5. What's the firſt Reaſon, why no mere man in this life can fulfil and keep the Law of God perfectly?

A. It is becauſe the Law of God is perfect, and the beſt of Men in this Life are imperfect. Pſal. 19. 7. The Law of the Lord is perfect, &c. Eccleſ. 7. 20. For there is not a juſt man upon earth, that doeth good, and ſinneth not.

Q. 6. But may not Men perfectly keep it, when regenerate, and born of God?

A. No; becauſe even in the Regenerate there is a Law of Sin, which wars againſt the Law of God. Gal. 5. 17. For the fleſh luſteth againſt the ſpirit, and the ſpirit againſt the fleſh, &c. Rom. 7. 22, 23. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man. But I ſee another law in my members, warring againſt the law of my mind, &c. And though they are ſaid not to ſin, 1 Joh. 3. 9. Whoſoever is born of God, doth not commit ſin, &c. that is not to be taken abſolutely, but comparatively, as they once did, and others ſtill do.

Q. 7. But did not Chriſt command the Young Man to keep the Law?

A. 'Tis true, that Chriſt did put the Young Man upon this Task, Mat. 19. 17. If thou wilt enter into life keep the commandments: But it was not on a Suppoſition that he was able to do it; but to convince him of the Impoſſibility of Juſtification that way.

Q. 8. But doth not the Apoſtle ſay, that the Righteouſneſs of the Law is fulfilled in Believers?

A. 'Tis true that the Apoſtle doth ſay ſo, Rom. 8. 4. but the Meaning is not, that we fulfil it in our own Perſons, by our compleat Obedience to it; but it is fulfilled in us, by our Union with Chriſt, who perfectly kept it; and the Righteouſneſs of the Law, which is in Chriſt, becomes ours, by God's Imputation of it to us, Rom. 4. 23, 24. Now it was not written for his ſake alone, that it was imputed to him; but for us alſo, to whom it ſhall be imputed, if we believe on him that raiſed up Jeſus our Lord from the dead.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That Juſtification by our own Works is utterly impoſſible to the Holieſt of Men. Gal. 2. 16. For by the works of the law ſhall no fleſh be juſtified. Pſal. 103. 3. If thou, Lord, ſhouldeſt mark iniquities; O Lord, who ſhall ſtand?

Q. 10. What's the Second Inference from hence?

A. Hence we learn what an infinite Mercy it is, that God ſent Jeſus Chriſt made under the Law, Gal. 4. 4, 5. But when the fulneſs of time was come, God ſent forth his ſon, made of a woman, under the law, &c. To do that for us we could never do for our ſelves. Rom. 8. 3, 4. For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the fleſh, God ſending his own Son in the likeneſs of ſinful fleſh, and for ſin condemned ſin in the fleſh: That the righteouſneſs of the law might be fulfilled in us; who walk not after the fleſh, but after the Spirit.

Q. 11. What's the Third Inference from hence?

A. That the dreadful Curſe muſt needs lye on all Unbelievers, that are out of Chriſt. Joh. 3. 36. He that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. And ſeek their Juſtification by the Deeds of the Law: Gal. 3. 10. For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curſe, &c.

Q. 12. What's the Fourth Inference from hence?

A. That a Deluge of Sin and Miſery brake in upon the whole World by the Fall of Adam, and all his Poſterity being by him plunged under both, Rom. 5. 12. Wherefore, as by one man ſin entered into the world, and death by ſin: and ſo death paſſed upon all men, for that all have ſinned.

Q. 13. What's the Fifth Inference from hence?

A. That the Popiſh Doctrines of Merits, and Works of Supererogation, are falſe and groundleſs Doctrines, ſpringing out of the Ignorance and Pride of Man's Heart.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That all God's People ſhould ſigh under their unhappy Neceſſity of Sinning. Rom. 7. 24. O wretched man that I am, who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death! And long to be with Chriſt in the perfect State. Heb. 12. 23. And to the ſpirits of juſt men made perfect.

Of the Inequality of Sin.

Queſt. 83. Are all Tranſgreſſions of the Law equally heinous?

A. Some Sins in themſelves, and by reaſon of ſeveral Aggravations, are more heinous in the Sight of God than others.

Q. 1. Whence ariſeth the firſt Difference of Sin?

A. The firſt Difference betwixt one Sin and another, ariſeth from the immediate Object, againſt which the Sin is committed: On this Account, Sins immediately committed againſt God, are more heinous than Sins committed immediately againſt Man. 1 Sam. 2. 25. If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge him: but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall intreat for him? And all Sins of the Firſt Table are greater than thoſe of the Second; yet there are crying Sins againſt the Second.

Q. 2. What's the firſt Sin noted for an heinous Sin?

A. The Sin of Murder is in Scripture ſet down for an heinous and crying Sin in its own Nature. Gen. 4. 10. The voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the earth.

Q. 3. What other Sin is noted for a crying Sin?

A. The Sin of Oppreſſion is noted in Scripture for a crying Sin. Hab. 2. 11. For the ſtone ſhall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber ſhall anſwer it. Eſpecially the Oppreſſion of the Widow and Fatherleſs. Exod. 22. 22, 23. Ye ſhall not afflict any widow, or fatherleſs child. If thou afflict them in any wiſe, and they cry at all unto me, I will ſurely hear their cry.

Q. 4. What is reckoned in Scripture an heinous Sin againſt the Firſt Table?

A. The Sin of Atheiſm, or denying the Being of God, is a Sin of the firſt Magnitude. Job 31. 28. This alſo were an iniquity to be puniſhed by the Judge: for I ſhould have denied the God that is above. This was the Sin of Pharaoh; Exod. 5. 2. And Pharaoh ſaid, who is the Lord, that I ſhould obey his voice, to let Iſrael go? I know not the Lord; neither will I let Iſrael go.

Q. 5. What other Sin is heinous in God's Account?

A. The Sin of Idolatry is a moſt heinous Sin, and goes nearer to the Heart of God than other Sins do. Ezek. 6. 9. And they that eſcape of you, ſhall remember me among the nations whither they ſhall be carried captives; becauſe I am broken with their whoriſh heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols; and they ſhall loath themſelves, for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations. Jer. 44. 4. O do not this abominable thing that I hate.

Q. 6. What's the moſt heinous of all the Sins in the World?

A. The Sin againſt the Holy Ghoſt is the moſt heinous of all other Sins, and ſhall never be forgiven by him. Matth. 12. 31. All manner of ſin and blaſphemy ſhall be forgiven unto men: but the blaſphemy againſt the Holy Ghoſt ſhall not be forgiven unto men.

Q. 7. From whence doth this Scripture aggravate Sin?

A. The Spirit of God in Scripture aggravates and eſtimates Sin, from the Degree of Light and Knowledge Men ſin againſt. Luk. 12. 27. And that ſervant which knew his Lord's will, and prepared not himſelf, neither did according to his will, ſhall be beaten with many ſtripes. Joh. 15. 22. If I had not come and ſpoken unto them, they had not had ſin: but now they have no cloak for their ſin.

Q. 8. What's the Second Thing that aggravates Sin?

A. The more Mercies any Man ſins againſt, the greater is his Sin. Rom. 2. 4. Or deſpiſeſt thou the riches of his goodneſs, and forbearance, and long-ſuffering, not knowing that the goodneſs of God leadeth thee to repentance? And eſpecially when 'tis againſt Spiritual Mercies, and Means of Salvation. Heb. 2. 3. How ſhall we eſcape, if we neglect ſo great ſalvation? &c.

Q. 9. Are heinous and crying Sins capable of Forgiveneſs?

A. Yes; great and heinous Sins are capable of Forgiveneſs, upon true Repentance. Iſa. 1. 18. Tho' your ſins be as ſcarlet, they ſhall be as white as ſnow; tho' they be red like crimſon, they ſhall be as wooll.

Q. 10. From what Fountains doth the Pardon of all Sins, both great and ſmall, flow?

A. They all flow from the Free Grace of God. Luk. 7. 41, 42. And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. And through the Meritorious, Satisfying Blood of Chriſt. Eph. 1. 7. In whom we have redemption thro' his blood, the forgiveneſs of ſins, according to the riches of his grace.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inference hence?

A. Tho' ſome Sins are more heinous than others, yet no Sinner ſhould abſolutely deſpair of Mercy; for the vileſt have been pardon'd. 1 Cor. 6. 11. And ſuch were ſome of you: but ye are waſhed, but ye are ſanctified, but ye are juſtified, &c.

Q. 12. What's the Second Inference hence?

A. That there are different Degrees of Torments in Hell, proportioned to the different Degrees of Sins on Earth. Mat. 11. 21, 22. Wo unto thee Chorazin, wo unto thee Bethſaida: For if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in ſackcloth and aſhes. But I ſay unto you, it ſhall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon, at the day of judgment, than for you.

Q. 13. What's the Third Inference hence?

A. That great Sinners, when pardoned and received to Mercy, ſhould excel all others in Love to Chriſt. Luk. 7. 42, 43. Which of them will love him moſt? Simon anſwered and ſaid, I ſuppoſe that he, to whom he forgave moſt. And he ſaid unto him, thou haſt rightly judged.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. Let no Man neglect Chriſt, becauſe his Sins are not ſo heinous as others; becauſe the leaſt Sin without Chriſt is damning. Rom. 6. 23. For the wages of ſin is death, &c. And greater Sinners are often called, when leſſer are not. Mat. 21. 31, 32. The publicans and harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

Of the Demerit of Sin.

Queſt. 84. What doth every Sin deſerve?

A. Every Sin deſerveth God's Wrath and Curſe, both in this Life, and in that which is to come.

Q. 1. Wherein doth the Evil of Sin principally conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts principally in the Offence it gives and the Wrong it doth to God. Pſal. 15. 4. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight.

Q. 2. What's the firſt Offence and Wrong Sin doth to God?

A. It conſiſts in its Enmity to God. Rom. 8. 7. Becauſe the carnal mind is enmity againſt God, &c. Expreſs'd in Scripture by Walking contrary to him, Levit. 26. 40. They have alſo walked contrary to me. Fighting againſt God; Acts 5. 39. Leſt haply ye be even found to fight againſt God. And Reſiſting his Spirit; Acts 7. 51. Ye do always reſiſt the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 3. Wherein is its Enmity to God further diſcovered in Scripture?

A. It's diſcovered under the Names and Notion of Hatred of God. Rom. 1. 30. Backbiters, haters of God, &c. Rebellion againſt God: 1 Sam. 15. 23. For rebellion is as the ſin of witchcraft, &c. And Deſpiſing the Commandment of God; 2 Sam. 12. 9. Wherefore haſt thou deſpiſed the commandment of the Lord?

Q. 4. What are the Attributes of God that Sin wrongs?

A. It wrongs all his Attributes; for it ſlights his Sovereignty, Exod. 5. 2. And Pharaoh ſaid, who is the Lord, that I ſhould obey his voice, to let Iſrael go? Reſiſts his Power; 1 Cor. 10. 22. Are we ſtronger than he? Deſpiſeth his Goodneſs; Rom. 2. 4. Or deſpiſeſt thou the riches of his goodneſs, &c. Taxeth his Juſtice, Ezek. 18. 25. Yet ye ſay the way of the Lord is not equal, &c. And clouds his Holineſs; Jam. 2. 7. Do not they blaſpheme that worthy name, by the which ye are called?

Q. 5. What doth Sin deſerve in the Courſe of Juſtice from God?

A. It deſerves all Temporal and Eternal Effects of God's Wrath, on the Souls and Bodies of Sinners, which in Scripture go under the Name of Death, Rom. 6. 23. For the wages of ſin is death, &c.

Q. 6. Can theſe Sufferings ſatisfy God for all this Wrong?

A. No, they cannot; and therefore they muſt and ſhall be Eternal on the Damned. Mat. 5. 26. Verily I ſay unto thee, thou ſhalt by no means come out thence, till thou haſt paid the uttermoſt farthing. Mar. 9. 44. Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

Q. 7. Shall all Sinners bear the Deſert of their Sins?

A. No; all that are out of Chriſt ſhall; but Chriſt hath freed Believers from it. Joh. 3. 18. He that believeth on him, is not condemned, &c.

Q. 8. But is it not hard, that Sinners ſhould ſuffer eternally for the Sins of a few Years?

A. No, it is not; for the Evil of Sin is not to be meaſur'd by the Time in which, but by the Object againſt which it is committed. Pſ. 51. 4, 5. Againſt thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight, &c.

Q. 9. What learn we from hence?

A. He

A. Hence in the first place we learn the impossibility of satisfying God's Justice for the least Sin that ever we committed, Job 7. 20. I have sinned, what shall I do unto thee, &c. Psal. 130. 3. If thou Lord shouldst mark iniquity, O Lord, who shall stand?

Q. 10. What's the second Instruction hence?

A. Hence we see the Necessity of a Mediator betwixt God and us, Psal. 40. 6, 7. Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire, &c. Then said I, lo, I come; in the volume of the book it is written of me.

Q. 11. What's the Third Instruction hence?

A. That the greatest Suffering is rather to be chosen than the least Sin, Heb. 11. 25. Chusing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.

Q. 12. What's the Fourth Instruction hence?

A. It teacheth us what an invaluable Mercy the full, free and final remission of Sin is, Psal. 32. 1, 2. Blessed is he whose wickedness is forgiven, and whose sin is covered, &c.

Q. 13. What's the Fifth Instruction hence?

A. It vindicates God in his severest strokes on Sinners, Hos. 6. 5. Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth, and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.

Q. 14. What's the last Instruction?

A. Hence we learn the infinite Nature of Christ's Suffering, Rom. 8. 32. He that spared not his own son, but delivered him up for us all: how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

Of what God requires of us.

Quest. 85. What doth God require of us that we may escape his Wrath and Curse due to us for Sin?

A. To escape the Wrath and Curse of God due to us for Sin, God requireth of us Faith in Jesus Christ, Repentance unto Life, with the diligent use of all the outward means, whereby Christ communicateth to us the Benefits of Redemption.

Q. 1. What are the things required of us to escape God's Wrath and Curse due to us for Sin?

A. The things required of us, are, (1.) Faith in Jesus Christ, Acts 17. 31. And they said, believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thine house. (2.) Repentance from Sin, Acts 3. 19. Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, &c. (3.) Diligent striving in the use of all God's appointed means, Luke 13. 24. Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

Q. 2. Are these things in man's power to perform, that God requires of him?

A. Though they are our Duties, yet we have no power in our selves by Nature to perform them, but the Power is of God, 2 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are sufficient of our selves to think any thing as of our selves, but our sufficiency is of God.

Q. 3. But if Men be in Christ, and justifyed from Eternity, what need of this?

A. Though God from Eternity decreed, and Christ long since purchased the Salvation of the Elect; yet have they no union with Christ, till they believe, Ephes. 3. 17. That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love. Nor Remission of Sin, Acts 3. 19. That your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord. But lye under the Wrath as others do, Eph. 2. 3, 12. And were by nature the children of wrath even as others. Ver. 12. That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world.

Q. 4. If it be God that can only work these Graces in us, to what purpose is our striving?

A. God's working doth not exclude Man's striving, but more excites and obliges us to it, Phil. 2. 12, 13. Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling: For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do, of his own good pleasure.

Q. 5. To what purpose is it to strive in the use of means, except we knew we were elected.

A. The Knowledge of our Election is not antecedent to our Diligence, but our Diligence is required antecedently to that Knowledge, 2 Pet. 1. 10. Wherefore the rather, Brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure, &c.

Q. 6. Is it not legal to put Natural Men upon striving in the Use of Means?

A. No, it is not; for Christ himself enjoins it, Luke 13. 24. Strive to enter in at the strait gate, &c. And so did the Apostles after him, Acts 8. 22. Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

Q. 7. Is there no escaping God's Wrath and Curse without Faith and Repentance?

A. No, it is impossible to escape them, John 3. 18. He that believeth not, is condemned already, Heb. 2. 3. How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation.

Q. 8. But if a man reform his life, and live soberly and justly for time to come, may he not that way escape God's Wrath and Curse?

A. No, Sobriety and Reformation are Duties, but it's Faith and Regeneration that puts Men into Christ, and out of danger, Matth. 5. 20. Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven. Titus 3. 5. Not by works of righteousness, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.

Q. 9. Do all believing and penitent Sinners escape God's Wrath and Curse?

A. Yes, they do, and shall for ever escape it, Rom. 8. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, &c. Col. 1. 12, 13. Giving thanks unto God the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light; who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear son. Joh. 5. 24. He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation: but is passed from death unto life.

Q. 10. What is the first Inference hence?

A. Hence it appears how false and dangerous the Antinomian Doctrine is, which teaches that our Sins are pardoned before they are committed, or we either believe or repent; contrary to Acts 26. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith, that is in me. James 5. 20. He which converteth the sinner from the error of his way, shall save a soul from death, &c. Acts 10. 43. To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

Q. 11. What's the second Inference from hence?

A. Hence it follows, that it is dangerous on the one side not to strive in all the ways of Duty for Christ and Salvation, contrary to Luke 13. 24. Strive to enter in at the strait gate, for many I say unto you, will seek ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able. And as dangerous on the other ſide to reſt in, and depend on our own Works and Duties. Phil. 3. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteouſneſs which is of the law; but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt: The righteouſneſs which is of God by faith.

Q. 12. What's the third Inference hence?

A. Hence we learn the miſerable State of all unbelievers, and impenitent Perſons; the Curſe and Wrath of God lies upon them, Gal. 3. 10. For as many as are of the works of the Law are under the curſe,&c. And their Mittimus for Hell is already made, John 3. 18. He that believeth not, is condemned already.

Q. 13. What's the fourth Inference hence?

A. Hence we learn the happy State into which Faith and Repentance bring the Souls of Men, Acts 13. 38, 39. By him all that believe are juſtified from all things from which ye could not be juſtified by the Law of Moſes.

Of Saving Faith.

Queſt. 86. What is Faith in Jeſus Chriſt?

A. Faith in Jeſus Chriſt is a ſaving Grace, whereby we receive and reſt upon him alone for Salvation, as he is offered to us in the Goſpel.

Q. 1. What's the Root or Cauſe of Faith?

A. Not the Power of Man's Will, Eph. 2. 8. For by Grace ye are ſaved through Faith, and that not of your ſelves: It is the gift of God. But the Spirit of God, Gal. 5. 22. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, long-ſuffering, gentleneſs, goodneſs, faith. John 1. 12, 13. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the ſons of God, even to them that believe on his Name; which were born, not of blood, nor of the Will of the Fleſh, nor of the Will of Man, but of God.

Q. 2. How doth the Spirit of God ordinarily produce Faith?

A. By the Preaching of the Word he ordinarily begets it, Rom. 10. 17. Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God; tho' ſometimes he doth it immediately.

Q. 3. Who are the proper Subjects of Faith?

A. Convinced and ſenſible Sinners are the proper Subjects of Faith, John 16. 8, 9, 10. And when he is come he will reprove the world of ſin, of righteouſneſs, and of judgment. Of ſin, becauſe they believe not on me: Of righteouſneſs, becauſe I go to my Father, and ye ſee me no more: Of judgment, becauſe the Prince of this world is judged.

Q. 4. What is the Seat or Habitation of Faith?

A. Not only the Head or Underſtanding, but principally the Heart and Will, Rom. 10. 10. With the heart man believeth unto righteouſneſs, &c. Acts 8. 37. And Philip ſaid, if thou believeſt with all thine heart, thou mayeſt.

Q. 5. But is not the aſſent of the Underſtanding true Faith?

A. The meer Aſſent of the Underſtanding to the Truths of Scripture, is not ſuch a Faith as will ſave the Soul, James 2. 19. Thou believeſt that there is one God, thou doeſt well; the devils alſo believe and tremble.

Q. 6. What's the act of Faith that juſtifies a Sinner?

A. 'Tis the receiving of Chriſt by the full and hearty Conſent of the Heart that juſtifies us; John 1. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the ſons of God, even to them that believe on his Name.

Q. 7. What is the Object of Faith?

A. The primary Object of Faith is the Perſon of Chriſt, and the ſecondary are his Benefits, Iſa. 45. 22. Look unto me, and be ſaved, all the ends of the earth,&c. Phil. 3. 8, 9. Yea doubtleſs, and I count all things but loſs for the excellency of the knowledge of Chriſt Jeſus my Lord: For whom I have ſuffered the loſs of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Chriſt, and be found in him, not having mine own righteouſneſs which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt: The righteouſneſs which is of God by Faith.

Q. 8. May not a man look partly to Chriſt, and partly to his own Works and Duties for Righteouſneſs?

A. No, he muſt eye Chriſt only, and exclude all others, or he cannot be juſtified, Phil. 3. 9. And be found in him, not having mine own righteouſneſs, which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Chriſt: The righteouſneſs which is of God by Faith. Rom. 4. 5. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that juſtifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteouſneſs.

Q. 9. Is it enough to eye the Perſon of Chriſt only in believing?

A. No, we muſt eye the Perſon of Chriſt, as cloathed with all his Offices, Acts 16. 31. And they ſaid, believe on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and thou ſhalt be ſaved, and thine houſe. Our Ignorance needs him as a Prophet, our Guilt as a Prieſt, our Sins and Enmity as a King.

Q. 10. Is true Faith excluſive of all Fears and Doubts?

A. No, it is not, but true Believers are troubled with many fears and doubtings, Iſa. 50. 10. Who is he among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his ſervant, that walketh in darkneſs, and hath no light,&c. Mark 9. 24. And ſtraitway the father of the child cried out with tears, Lord, I believe, help thou mine unbelief.

Q. 11. Is no Man actually juſtified till he believe?

A. No, he cannot be juſtified actually till he believe actually, Gal. 3. 22. But the Scripture hath concluded all under ſin, that the promiſe by faith of Jeſus Chriſt might be given to them that believe. John 3. 18. He that believeth on him, is not condemned: But he that believeth not is condemned already, becauſe he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

Q. 12. Is every Man that believes juſtified immediately and fully upon his believing?

A. Yes, he is, Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. John 5. 24. He that heareth my words, and believeth on him that ſent me, hath everlaſting Life, and ſhall not come into Condemnation: But is paſſed from Death unto Life.

Q. 13. What's the true Character or Deſcription of a Believer?

A. He is one that having been convinced of his Sin and Miſery, and of his own and all other Creatures inability to ſave him, and of the ability and willingneſs of Chriſt to ſave him, lets go all hold and dependance on Creatures, and his own Righteouſneſs, caſts himſelf entirely upon Chriſt for Righteouſneſs and Life.

Of the Properties, Signs and Means of Faith.

Q. 1. What is the firſt Property of Faith?

A. 'Tis a moſt precious Grace, 2 Pet. 1. 1. To them that have obtained like precious faith with us, &c. And muſt needs be ſo, ſeeing 'tis the bond of our Union with Chriſt, Eph. 3. 17. That Chriſt may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love. That by which we are juſtified, Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by Faith, &c. And that by which our Souls do live, Heb. 2. 4. The juſt ſhall live by his faith.

Q. 2. What's the ſecond Property of Saving Faith?

A. Th

A. The ſecond Property of Faith is this, that it is the moſt uſeful Grace in this World to a Believer, it being the Soul's Eye, Heb. 11. 27. By faith he forſook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the King: for he endured, as ſeeing him who is inviſible, &c. It's hard to apprehend Chriſt, Phil. 3. 12. That I may apprehend that for which alſo I am apprehended of Chriſt Jeſus. It's Cordial in a fainting ſeaſon, Pſalm 27. 3. I had fainted, unleſs I had believed, &c.

Q. 3. What are the Foundations that ſupport Faith?

A. The firſt Foundation or Prop of Faith is the Power of God, Rom. 40. 20, 21. He ſtaggered not at the promiſe through unbelief; but was ſtrong in faith, giving glory to God. And being fully perſwaded, that what he had promiſed, he was able alſo to perform. Heb. 7. 25. He is able alſo to ſave them to the uttermoſt that come unto God by him, &c.

Q. 4. What's the Second Prop of Faith?

A. The Truth and Faithfulneſs of God in his Promiſes, Heb. 10. 23. Let us hold faſt the profeſſion of our faith without wavering, for he is faithful that hath promiſed, Heb. 6. 18. That by two immutable things, in which it was impoſſible for God to lye, we might have a ſtrong conſolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope ſet before us.

Q. 5. What encourages the Faith of the Saints?

A. The manifold ſweet and ſenſible Experiences of others, Pſal. 74. 14. Thou brakeſt the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and gaveſt him to be meat for the people inhabiting the wilderneſs. And eſpecially their own Experiences, Joſhua 23. 14. Ye know in all your hearts, and in all your ſouls, that not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God ſpake concerning you: all are come to paſs unto you, and not one thing hath failed thereof.

Q. 6. What's the firſt ſign of a weak Faith?

A. Staggerings in our aſſent to Divine Truths are the weakneſs of Faith, Rom. 4. 10. He ſtaggered not at the promiſe of God through unbelief, but was ſtrong in Faith, &c.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond ſign of a weak Faith?

A. Inability to truſt God in time of danger, evinced by ſinful haſte to avoid it, Iſa. 28. 16. He that believeth ſhall not make haſte.

Q. 8. What's the third ſign of a weak Faith?

A. When we cannot live purely by Faith, except we have ſome ſenſible Encouragement, John 20. 25. Except I ſhall ſee in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thruſt my hand into his ſide, I will not believe.

Q. What's the fourth ſign of a weak Faith?

A. When a new Temptation makes us eaſily let go our former Confidence, Luke 24. 21. But we truſted that it had been he which ſhould have redeemed Iſrael: and beſides all this, to day is the third day ſince theſe things were done.

Q. 10. What's the fifth ſign of a weak Faith?

A. The prevalence of carnal Fears in time of Trouble argues weak Faith, Matth. 8. 26. And he ſaith unto them, why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? &c.

Q. 11. What's the ſixth ſign of a weak Faith?

A. Too much Carefulneſs and Anxiety about the things of this Life, Matth. 6. 30. Wherefore if God ſo clothe the graſs of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is caſt into the oven, ſhall he not much more cloath you, O ye of little faith?

Q. 12. What's the firſt Benefit of a ſtrong Faith?

A. A ſtrong Faith gives much Glory to God, Rom. 4. 20. And being not weak in faith, he conſidered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadneſs of Sarah's womb: He ſtaggered not at the promiſe of God through unbelief; but was ſtrong in faith, giving glory to God.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Benefit of a ſtrong Faith?

A. It gives the Soul the raviſhing foreſight and foretaſts of Heaven upon Earth, 1 Pet. 1. 8. Whom having not ſeen, ye love; in whom though now ye ſee him not, yet believing, ye rejoyce with joy unſpeakable and full of glory.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Office Faith doth for a Believer in this World?

A. It Supports and Encourages him at Death by the Promiſes, when all other Comforts fail, Heb. 11. 13. Theſe all dyed in faith, not having received the promiſes, but having ſeen them afar off, and were perſwaded of them, and embraced them, and confeſſed that they were ſtrangers and pilgrims on the earth.

Of Saving Repentance.

Queſt. 87. What is Repentance unto Life?

A. Repentance unto Life is a ſaving Grace, whereby a Sinner out of a true ſenſe of his Sin, and apprehenſion of the Mercy of God in Chriſt, doth with grief and hatred of his Sin, turn from it unto God, with full purpoſe of, and endeavour after new Obedience.

Q. 1. Who is the Author of ſaving Repentance?

A. The Spirit of God is the Author of it; the Heart by Nature is ſo hard, that none but the Spirit can break it, Ezek. 36. 26, 27. A new heart alſo will I give, and a new Spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you an heart of fleſh. And I will put my ſpirit within you, &c.

Q. 2. In what act doth all true Repentance begin?

A. It begins in a true ſight and ſenſe of Sin, and the Danger and Miſery we are in by Sin, Acts 2. 37. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their hearts, &c.

Q. 3. Why doth God work ſuch a ſenſe of Sin and Miſery?

A. He doth it to make Chriſt deſirable in the Sinners Eyes, that he may fly to him, Matth. 9. 12, 13. But when Jeſus heard that, he ſaid unto them, they that be whole need not a Phyſician, but they that are ſick. But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy and not ſacrifice; for I am not come to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

Q. 4. Is the ſight of Sin ſufficient to Repentance?

A. No; there muſt be apprehenſion of Mercy and Forgiveneſs with God, or elſe no Man can ſincerely repent, Rom. 2. 4. Not knowing that the goodneſs of God leadeth thee to repentance. And this Mercy muſt be diſcerned in and through Chriſt, Zech. 12. 10. And they ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they ſhall mourn for him as one mourneth for his only ſon, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born.

Q. 5. Wherein doth Repentance chiefly conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts in real inward Sorrow for Sin, as committed againſt God, Pſal. 51. 3, 4. For I acknowledge my tranſgreſſions, and my ſin is ever before me. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight, &c. A loathing of our ſelves for it, Ezek. 36. 31. And ſhall loath your ſelves in your own ſight, for your iniquities, and for your abominations. And of our beſt Duties as ſinful and inſufficient things, Iſa. 64. 5, 6. We are all as an unclean thing; and all our righteouſneſſes are as filthy rags, &c.

Q. 6. Wherein elſe doth it conſiſt?

A. In turning from Sin as well as grieving for it, Iſa. 55. 7. Let the wicked forſake his way, and the unrighteous unrighteous man his thoughts, &c. Prov. 28. 13. He that covereth his sins, shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them, shall have mercy.

Q. 7. Is turning from Sin sufficient?

A. No, that is but the Negative Part of Religion; there must be also a sincere Turning to God. Psal. 119. 59. I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. Acts 11. 23. And exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart, they would cleave unto the Lord.

Q. 8. Is all Sorrow for Sin saving?

A. No, there is a Repentance that doth no good. Mat. 27. 3. Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, &c. And a Repentance unto Life: Acts 11. 18. Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

Q. 9. What are the Signs of true Repentance?

A. Fear of Sin; Care to preserve our selves from it; and Zeal to honour God by New Obedience. 2 Cor. 7. 11. For behold, this self-same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you; yea, what clearing of your selves; yea, what indignation; yea, what fear; yea, what vehement desire; yea, what zeal; yea, what revenge? In all things you have approved your selves to be clear in this matter.

Q. 10. Is there a Necessity of Repentance, in order to Forgiveness?

A. Yes, there is; and they are therefore conjoined in Scripture. Acts 5. 31. For to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins. And Destruction threatned to the Impenitent; Luk. 13. 3. Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

Q. 11. What's the first Inference hence?

A. That it's a false Doctrine, which teaches us that Sins are actually forgiven from Eternity; and therefore no Need either of Repentance or Prayer, save only for the Manifestation of Pardon.

Q. 12. What's the Second Inference hence?

A. That an hard Heart is a dreadful Sign of a lost State of Soul. Rom. 2. 5. But after thy hardness and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thy self wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgment of God.

Q. 13. What's the last Inference hence?

A. That there is no Cause to despair of the vilest Sinner; seeing there is Power enough in the Spirit of God to break the hardest Heart. Ezek. 36. 26. I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh.

Of Christ's Ordinances.

Quest. 88. What are the outward means whereby Christ communicateth to us the Benefits of Redemption?

A. The outward and ordinary Means whereby Christ communicateth to us the Benefits of Redemption, are his Ordinances; especially the Word, Sacraments, and Prayer; all which are made effectual to the Elect for Salvation.

Q. 1. What makes any Thing become a Divine Ordinance?

A. The Institution or Appointment of God, is that alone which makes a Divine Ordinance. Mat. 28. 20. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, &c.

Q. 2. Are the Institutions of all Ordinances alike clear in Scripture?

A. No: Some are more explicitly and clearly revealed in Scripture than others; as the Lord's-Supper is more clear than Baptism: But whatever hath Scripture-Warrant, in the Words or Consequence, is of Divine Appointment.

Q. 3. May not Men institute Ordinances of Divine Worship?

A. No; this in Scripture is condemned as Will-Worship. Col. 2. 20, 22, 23. Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world; why, as tho' living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances? &c. Which Things indeed have a Shew of Wisdom in Will-Worship, &c.

Q. 4. Why cannot Man institute a Divine Ordinance?

A. He cannot do it; because it's the Prerogative belonging to Christ's Kingly Office. Matth. 28. 20. Teaching them to observe all things, whatsoever I have commanded you.

Q. 5. For what other Reason cannot Man do it?

A. Because he cannot bless them, and make them effectual to their Ends; but they will be in vain. Matth. 15. 9. But in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

Q. 6. Why are the Ordinances called Means of Salvation?

A. Because by and through them, the Spirit of the Lord conveys Spiritual Graces into Mens Souls. 1 Cor. 1. 21. It pleased God, by the foolishness of preaching, to save them that believe. 1 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are sufficient of our selves, to think any thing as of our selves; but our sufficiency is of God.

Q. 7. Whence is the Virtue of Ordinances?

A. 'Tis not in and from themselves, or the Gifts and Abilities of him that administers them; but from the Blessing and Spirit of the Lord. 1 Cor. 3. 7. Neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth, but God that giveth the increase.

Q. 8. Do all God's Ordinances attain their End?

A. Yes; there is none of them in vain, but do attain their End, in the Salvation, or Damnation of all that come under them. Isa. 55. 10, 11. For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: So shall my word be, that goeth forth out of my mouth: It shall not return unto me void; but it shall accomplish that which I please, and shall prosper in the thing whereto I send it. 2 Cor. 2. 15, 16. For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish: To the one we are the savour of death unto death, and to the other the savour of life unto life, &c.

Q. 9. Are instituted Ordinances the only Means of Salvation?

A. They are not the only Means; for God can convert Men to Christ without them. Acts 9. 5. And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And he said who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. But they are the ordinary standing Means. Rom. 10. 14, 15. How then shall they call him, in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in him, of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach, except they be sent? &c.

Q. 10. To whom are the Ordinances made effectual to Salvation?

A. To all God's Elect they are effectual to Salvation, and to them only. Acts 13. 48. As many as were ordained to eternal life, believed. Joh. 10. 26. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, &c.

Q. 11. What's the first Instruction from hence?

A. That great Preparation is due to all the Ordinances, before we engage in them. Job 11. 13,

If thou prepare thine heart, and ſtretch out thy hand towards him. If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedneſs dwell in thy tabernacles. 1 Cor. 29. 18. And prepare their heart unto thee.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That great Reverence is due to God's Ordinances, when we are actually engaged in the uſe of them, Pſal. 89. 7. God is greatly to be feared in the aſſembly of the ſaints; and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.

Q. 13. What's the third Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe People that want Ordinances, are in a ſad and deplorable Condition, Eph. 2. 11, 12. Wherefore remember that ye being in time paſt Gentiles in the fleſh, who are called uncircumciſion by that which is called the circumciſion in the fleſh made by hands; that at that time ye were without Chriſt, being aliens from the Commonwealth of Iſrael, and ſtrangers from the covenant of promiſe, having no hope, and without God in the world.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That thoſe that periſh in the midſt of Ordinances, and Means of Salvation, periſh with aggravated Perdition, Matth. 11. 23. And thou Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, ſhalt be brought down to hell; for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this Day.

Of the Word read and heard.

Queſt. 89. How is the Word made Effectual to Salvation?

A. The Spirit of God maketh the reading, but eſpecially the preaching of the Word, an effectual Means of convincing and converting Sinners; and building them up in Holineſs and Comfort, through Faith unto Salvation.

Q. 1. What mean you by the Word?

A. By the Word is meant the Word of God, conſigned to writing in the Books of the Old and New Teſtament; which though it be miniſtred by Men, yet it is no other than the Word of God, and as ſuch to be received, 1 Theſſ. 2. 13. For this cauſe alſo thank we God without ceaſing, becauſe when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men: But (as it is in truth) the word of God, &c.

Q. 2. Whence is the Efficacy of this Word?

A. It is wholly from the Spirit of God that it becomes effectual to any Man's Salvation, 1 Cor. 3. 6, 7. I have planted, and Apollo watered, but God gave the increaſe. So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increaſe.

Q. 3. Is the reading of the Scripture an Ordinance of God for Mens Salvation?

A. Yes, it is, Deut. 17. 19. And it ſhall be with him, and he ſhall read therein all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, to keep all the words of this law, and theſe ſtatutes to do them. And in reading of it, God ſometimes comes in by his Spirit to Mens Converſion, Acts 8. 27, 28, 29. And he aroſe and went, and behold a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great Authority under Candace Queen of the Ethiopians, who had the Charge of all her Treaſure, and had come to Jeruſalem for to worſhip, was returning, and ſitting in his Chariot, read Iſaias the Prophet. Then the Spirit ſaid to Philip, go near, and join thy ſelf to his Chariot, &c.

Q. 4. Is the hearing of the word a means of Salvation?

A. Yes, it is; Iſa. 55. 3. Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your ſoul ſhall live, &c. 1 Cor. 1. 21. It pleaſed God by the fooliſhneſs of preaching to ſave them that believe?

Q. 5. To what End is the Word uſeful to Men?

A. The firſt End and Uſe of the Word is to convince Men of their Sin and Miſery out of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 14. 24, 25. But if all propheſy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all. And thus are the ſecrets of his heart made manifeſt, &c.

Q. 6. What is it uſeful for, beſides Conviction?

A. 'Tis uſeful for Converſion, as well as Conviction, Pſalm 19. 7. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the ſoul, &c. Acts 26. 18. To turn them from darkneſs to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, &c.

Q. 7. Doth the Word convince and convert all that hear it?

A. No, but thoſe only that are ordained to Eternal Life, Acts 13. 48. As many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

Q. 8. What elſe is the Word uſeful for?

A. To build up the Saints to Perfection in Chriſt, Eph. 4. 11, 12, 13. And he gave ſome Apoſtles, and ſome Prophets, and ſome Evangeliſts, and ſome Paſtors and Teachers; for the perfecting of the Saints, for the work of the Miniſtry, for the edifying of the body of Chriſt: Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man; unto the meaſure of the ſtature of the fulneſs in Chriſt. Acts 20. 32. And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his Grace, which is able to build you up, and give you an Inheritance among all them that are ſanctified.

Q. 9. May the common People read the Scriptures?

A. Yes, 'tis a Duty commanded by Chriſt, John 5. 39. Search the Scriptures, &c. and commended by the Apoſtle, Acts 17. 11. Theſe were more noble than thoſe in Theſſalonica, in that they received the word with all readineſs of mind, and ſearched the Scriptures daily, whether thoſe things were ſo.

Q. 10. Is it their Duty or Liberty alſo to preach it?

A. No, it is not, for beſides Abilities for that Work, there muſt be a Call, Rom. 10. 14, 15. How ſhall they hear without a preacher, and how ſhall they preach except they be ſent? &c.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. That the Enjoyments of the Scripture, and an able faithful Miniſtry to expound and apply them, is a ſpecial Mercy to any People, Pſalm 147. 19, 20. He ſheweth his word unto Jacob, his ſtatutes and judgments unto Iſrael; he hath not dealt ſo with any nation, and as for his Judgments they have not known them.

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inſtruction?

A. That Men cannot expect Special and Spiritual Bleſſings from God in the wilful neglect of the Ordinances, Prov. 28. 9. He that turneth away his Ear from hearing the Law, even his Prayer ſhall be Abomination.

Q. 13. What's the third Inference?

A. That ſad is their Condition, who ſit all their Days under the Word to no purpoſe at all, 2 Cor. 4. 3, 4. If our Goſpel be hid, it is hid to them that are loſt: In whom the God of this world hath blinded the Minds of them which believe not, leſt the light of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt, who is the Image of God, ſhould ſhine into them.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference?

A. That Chriſt's Ordinances and Miniſters ſhould be moſt welcome to the People to whom God ſends them, Iſa. 52. 7. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publiſheth liſheth Peace, that publiſheth Salvation, that ſaith unto Zion, thy God reigneth.

Of the Manner of Hearing.

Queſt. 90. How is the Word to be read and heard, that it may become effectual to Salvation?

A. That the Word may become effectual to Salvation, we muſt attend thereunto with Diligence, Preparation and Prayer, receive it with Faith and Love, lay it up in our Hearts, and practiſe it in our Lives.

Q. 1. If the Matter we read or hear be good, is not that enough for our Salvation?

A. No, God requires that the Word be read and heard in a due manner, and the manner of hearing is of ſpecial regard with God, Luke 8. 18. Take heed therefore how ye hear, &c.

Q. 2. How many things belong to the due manner of hearing?

A. Three ſorts of Duties belong to it; ſome antecedent, as, Preparation and Prayer; ſome concomitant, as due Diligence and Retention; and ſome ſubſequent, as Practice.

Q. 3. What is due Preparation for hearing?

A. It conſiſts in ſerious Conſideration of the Greatneſs and Holineſs of that God, whom we approach in hearing the Word, Acts 10. 33. Now therefore we are all here preſent before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God. And awing the Heart even to a degree of holy trembling thereby, Iſa. 66. 2. To him will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite ſpirit, and trembleth at my word.

Q. 4. What's the principal Conſideration thus to awe the Heart?

A. The Word is in its own Nature an Heart-ſearching Word, Heb. 4. 12. For the word of God is quick and powerful, and ſharper than any two-edged ſword, piercing even to the dividing aſunder of ſoul and ſpirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a diſcerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart. And that eventually 'twill be the ſavour of Life or Death to us, 2 Cor. 2. 16. To the one we are the ſavour of death unto death; and to the other the ſavour of life unto life, &c.

Q. 5. What elſe belongs to due preparation to hear?

A. The diſcharging of the Heart from worldly cares, Matth. 13. 7. And fell among thorns, and the thorns ſprang up and choaked them. And carnal Luſts, Jam. 1. 21. Wherefore lay apart all filthineſs and ſuperfluity of naughtineſs, and receive with meekneſs the ingrafted word, which is able to ſave your ſouls.

Q. 6. What's the third Act of due Preparation?

A. Longing after the Word for further Communications of Grace by it, 1 Pet. 2. 2. As new-born babes deſire the ſincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby. Iſa. 2. 3. And many people ſhall go and ſay, come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the houſe of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion ſhall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jeruſalem.

Q. 7. What's the ſecond antecedent Duty of hearing?

A. Prayer is an antecedent Duty to hearing the Word, and that both for the Aſſiſtance of the Miniſter, 2 Theſſ. 3. 1. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free courſe, and be glorified, even as it is with you. And our own illumination, Pſal. 119. 18. Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

Q. 8. What elſe ſhould we pray for?

A. That God would pour out his Spirit with the Word, according to that Promiſe, Prov. 1. 23. I will pour out my ſpirit upon you, I will make known my words unto you.

Q. 9. Doth unpreparedneſs for the Word always hinder its efficacy on the Heart?

A. No, God ſometimes is found of them that ſought him not, Iſa. 65. 1. I was found of them that ſought me not, &c. But it is a Sin to neglect it, and needs a Pardon of God.

Q. 10. What's the firſt Motive to prepare for ſolemn Duties?

A. That it argues the Sincerity of the Heart, and in that Caſe God will be merciful to infirmities, 2 Chron. 30. 18, 19. For a multitude of the people, even a multitude of Ephraim and Manaſſeth, Iſſachar and Zebulun had not cleanſed themſelves, yet did eat the paſſover, but not as it is written: Wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, ſaying, the good Lord be merciful towards him that prepareth his whole heart to ſeek the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleanſed according to the purification of the ſanctuary.

Q. 11. What's the ſecond Motive?

A. 'Tis a ſweet ſign that God will make that Duty ſucceſsful for which the Heart is prepared, Pſal. 10. 17. Thou prepareſt their heart; thou bendeſt thine ear to them.

Q. 12. What's the third Motive to Preparation?

A. The Majeſty and Jealouſie of God, to whom we approach, obliges us to ſolemn Preparation, Heb. 12. 28, 29. Whereby we may ſerve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear; for our God is a conſuming fire.

Q. 13. But muſt a Man neglect the Duty if his Heart be not duly prepared for it?

A. No, for that would be to add a new Sin to a former, and aggravate it the more.

Q. 14. In what manner muſt the prepared heart go to the word?

A. Not in dependance on its own Preparations, but upon the Spirit's Aſſiſtance, Pſal. 71. 16. I will go forward in the ſtrength of the Lord God, &c.

Q. 15. What's the firſt Act of Faith due to the Word?

A. The aſſenting Act of Faith is required to the Word read or preached, whereby we acknowledge it to be of Divine Authority, 2 Tim. 3. 16. And without controverſie, great is the myſtery of godlineſs: God was manifeſt in the fleſh, juſtified in the ſpirit, ſeen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory, 2 Pet. 1. 21. For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God ſpake as they were moved by the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 16. What's the ſecond Act of Faith required of us?

A. An applying Act of Faith is alſo required of us, Rom. 15. 4. For whatſoever things were written afore-time, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of ſcriptures might have hope.

Q. 17. What's the firſt end in applying the Word?

A. It is firſt to be applyed to our Conviction both of Sin and Miſery, Acts 2. 37. Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their hearts, and ſaid unto Peter and to the reſt of the Apoſtles, men and brethren, what ſhall we do?

Q. 18. What's the ſecond End, or uſe of applying it?

A. It muſt be applied for our Guidance and Direction to Chriſt, John 6. 4, 5. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

Q. 19. What

Q. 19. What's the Third Use to which it must be applied?

A. We must apply it for our Direction through the whole Course of Christian Duties, 2 Pet. 1. 19. We have also a more sure word of Prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts.

Q. 20. What other Use must we apply it to?

A. It must be applied for our Comfort in all inward and outward Troubles, Rom. 15. 4. For whatsoever things were written afore time, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope.

Q. 21. On what Account are we to receive it with Love?

A. We are to Love it for its Author's sake, because it's the Word of God, Psalm 119. 159. Consider how I love thy precepts, &c.

Q. 22. What's the second Motive of Love to the Word?

A. The Holiness and Purity of it deserves and engages our Love to it, Psalm 119. 140. Thy word is very pure; therefore thy servant loveth it.

Q. 23. What's the third Motive to engage our Love to it?

A. The great and constant Usefulness of it to our Souls, as that we cannot subsist without, Job 23. 12. I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.

Q. 24. How doth this Love to the Word manifest it self?

A. Our Love manifests it self in our longing after it, Psalm 119. 20. My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times. Our diligent Attendance on it, Acts 10. 33. Immediately therefore I sent unto thee, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

Q. 25. How is Faith and Love evidenced to the Word after hearing it?

A. By preserving it carefully in our Hearts and Memories, Psalm 119. 11. Thy word have I hid in my heart: That I might not sin against thee.

Q. 26. What's the best Cure for a bad Memory?

A. Labour to get an high esteem of it, and an experimental feeling of it, and frequently meditate on it, Psalm 119. 16. I will delight my self in thy Statutes: I will not forget thy word. Psalm 119. 93. I will never forget thy precepts; for with them thou hast quickened me. Psalm. 119. 99. Thy testimonies are my meditation.

Q. 26. How is Faith and Love principally manifested to the Word after hearing?

A. 'Tis principally manifested by bringing forth the Fruits of it in our Lives, Col. 1. 5, 6. For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the Gospel, which is come unto you, as it is in all the World, and bringeth forth Fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the Grace of God in Truth.

Q. 28. What's the Use of all this?

A. This serves to reprove our formal and dead hearing the Word, and excites us all to evidence and exercise more Faith, Love and Obedience in hearing it.

Of Sacraments as Means of Salvation.

Quest. 91. How do the Sacraments become effectual means of Salvation?

A. The Sacraments become effectual means of Salvation, not from any Vertue in them, or in him that doth administer them, but only by the Blessing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit in them, that by Faith receive them.

Q. 1. What's the first proper Sense of this Word Sacrament?

A. It primarily signifies a solemn Oath taken by Soldiers, when they List themselves under a Prince or General; and this Oath was mutual.

Q. 2. Why do we use it, seeing it is not a Scripture Word?

A. Though the Word be not found in Scripture, yet the thing intended by it is, and that brings the Word in use; for in the Sacraments God obliges himself to us by confirming his Covenant by it, Rom. 4. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith, which he had yet being uncircumcised: That he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised, that righteousness might be imputed unto them also. And we oblige our selves to God, Rom. 6. 3, 4. Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Christ, were baptized into his Death? Therefore we are buried with him in baptism into Death, that like as Christ was raised up from the Dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

Q. 3. What is here meant by Salvation?

A. By Salvation is meant our compleat and final Deliverance from Sin and Misery, both Temporal and Eternal. From Sin, Matth. 1. 21. For he shall save his people from their sins. From Misery, 1 Thes. 1. 10. Even Jesus which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

Q. 4. What is a mean of Salvation?

A. A Mean of Salvation signifies any Appointment of God, whereby he promotes and accomplishes his Design of saving our Souls; so the Word is a Mean, Rom. 1. 16. For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, for it is the Power of God unto Salvation, to every one that believeth.

Q. 5. How doth the Word and Sacraments differ as means of Salvation?

A. The Word is appointed to be the first means of begetting Faith, 1 Cor. 3. 5. Who then is Paul? Or who is Apollo? but Ministers by whom ye believed, &c. Sacraments are to Seal and Confirm it, Rom. 4. 11. And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of faith, &c.

Q. 6. What is meant by an effectual Mean of Salvation?

A. By an effectual Mean, is meant such a Mean as fully obtains and accomplishes the End it was appointed for, 1 Thess. 2. 13. Because when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men; but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

Q. 7. Don't all the Means of Salvation prove effectual to Men?

A. Though the Means of Salvation prove effectual to God's Elect, yet they are so to no others, Acts 28. 23, 24. And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his Lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the Kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the Law of Moses, and out of the Prophets, from morning till evening. And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

Q. 8. Do not the Sacraments save all that partake of them?

A. No, they do not; Baptiſm may paſs on a Caſtaway, Acts 8. 23. For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterneſs, and in the bond of Iniquity. And the Lord's Supper may be received unworthily, 1 Cor. 11. 27. Wherefore whoſoever ſhall eat this bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

Q. 9. What's the Reaſon they prove not Effectual to all?

A. Becauſe their Virtue and Efficacy is not in themſelves, but in God; for we ſee they work as God's Spirit concurs, or not concurs with them, as in the Inſtance before given.

Q. 10. But is not that for want of Wiſdom, Holineſs, or Zeal in the Miniſter, that they have no more Efficacy?

A. No, it is not principally, or only from thence; for it's not in the Power of the holieſt Miniſter in the World to make them effectual, 1 Cor. 3. 7. Neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increaſe.

Q. 11. Whence is it that Sacraments become Effectual?

A. 'Tis only from the Spirit of Chriſt working in them, and by them, on the Souls of Men, 1 Cor. 12. 13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one Body,—and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That Men enjoying all the Ordinances of the Goſpel, and partaking of the Sacraments annexed to the Covenant of Grace, may yet periſh for ever, 1 Cor. 10. 3, 4, 5. And did all eat the ſame ſpiritual meat; and did all drink the ſame ſpiritual drink; (for they drank of that ſpiritual rock that followed them: and that rock was Chriſt.) But with many of them God was not well pleaſed: For they were overthrown in the wilderneſs. Luke 13. 26, 27. Then ſhall ye begin to ſay, we have eaten and drank in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreets. But he ſhall ſay, I tell you, I know you not whence you are; depart from me all ye workers of iniquity.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference?

A. That Men ſhould not idolize ſome Miniſters for the Excellency of their Gifts, and deſpiſe others, ſeeing 'tis not in them to make the Means Effectual.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference?

A. That in all our Attendance upon the Means of Salvation, we ſhould be careful to beg the Spirit and Bleſſing of Chriſt, without which they cannot be Effectual to our Salvation.

Of the Nature of Sacraments.

Queſt. 92. What is a Sacrament?

A. A Sacrament is an Holy Ordinance inſtituted by Chriſt; wherein by ſenſible ſigns, Chriſt and the Benefits of the New Covenant are repreſented, ſealed and applied to Believers.

Q. 1. How many ſorts of Sacraments are found in Scripture?

A. Of Sacraments there are Two ſorts, ſome extraordinary and tranſient, as the Fiery Pillar, Manna, and Water out of the Rock, 1 Cor. 10. 1, 2, 3, 4. Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye ſhould be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all paſſed through the Sea; and were all baptized unto Moſes in the cloud, and in the ſea; and did all eat the ſame ſpiritual meat; and did all drink the ſame ſpiritual drink (for they drank of that ſpiritual rock that followed them; and that rock was Chriſt). And ſome ordinary and ſtanding, as Circumciſion and the Paſſover, before Chriſt; and Baptiſm and the Lord's Supper ſince Chriſt's Death.

Q. 2. How many things are to be conſidered in every Sacrament?

A. In every Sacrament five Things muſt be conſidered, (1.) The Author. (2.) The Parts. (3.) The Union of thoſe Parts. (4.) The Subjects. (5.) The Ends and Uſes of it.

Q. 3. Who is the Author of the Sacraments?

A. The Lord Jeſus Chriſt as King of the Church, by whoſe ſole Authority Baptiſm was inſtituted, Matth. 28. 19, 20. Go ye therefore and teach all Nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt: Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you, &c. And the Lord's Supper, 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24. For I have received of the Lord that which alſo I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jeſus, the ſame Night in which he was betrayed, took bread, and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and ſaid, Take, eat, this is my Body, which is broken for you: This do in remembrance of me.

Q. 4. Are the old Sacraments yet in being and uſe in the Church?

A. No, they are paſt away, and the new come in their room. Baptiſm takes place of Circumciſion, Col. 2. 11, 12. In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the circumciſion made without hands, in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh by the circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in baptiſm, &c. And the Lord's Supper of the Paſſover, 1 Cor. 5. 7. Purge out therefore the old Leaven, that ye may be a new Lump, as ye are unleavened, for even Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us.

Q. 5. Of what parts doth every Sacrament conſiſt?

A. Every Sacrament conſiſts of Two Parts, one External and Earthly; another Internal and Heavenly, or Spiritual. Bread, Wine and Water, are the External, Chriſt's Blood and Spirit the Internal Parts, Rom. 6. 3. Know ye not that ſo many of us as were baptized into Jeſus Chriſt were baptized into his Death? 1 Cor. 11. 25. This Cup is the new Teſtament in my Blood, &c.

Q. 6. Wherein conſiſts the Sacramental Union of the Parts?

A. It conſiſts by Virtue of Chriſt's Inſtitution, in Three Things, (1.) In apt Signification. (2.) Firm Obſignation. And (3.) Real Exhibition of the Things ſignified and ſealed.

Q. 7. What are the Bleſſings ſignified by Water in Baptiſm?

A. It ſignifies our Implantation into Chriſt, and Communion with him in his Death and Reſurrection, Rom. 6. 4. Therefore we are buried with him by baptiſm into Death, that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the dead by the glory of the Father; even ſo we alſo ſhould walk in newneſs of life. And our ſolemn Admiſſion into the viſible Church, Gal. 3. 26, 27, 28, 29. For ye are all the Children of God by Faith in Chriſt Jeſus. For as many of you as have been baptized into Chriſt, have put on Chriſt. There is neither Jew, nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Chriſt Jeſus. And if ye be Chriſt's, then are ye Abraham's ſeed, and heirs according to the promiſe.

Q. 8. What are the Bleſſings ſignified by Bread and Wine?

A. They ſignifie Chriſt's Body and Blood, broken and poured out for us, with all the Bleſſings of Remiſſion, Peace and Salvation, purchaſed by his Blood, 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the Communion of the blood of Chriſt? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt? For we being many, are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

Q. 9.

Q. 9. Do the Sacraments ſeal, as well as ſignify theſe Things?

A. Yes, they do. Rom. 4. 11. And he received the ſign of circumciſion, a ſeal of the righteouſneſs of the faith, &c. Their Uſe is to confirm God's Covenant with Believers.

Q. 10. Who are the proper Subjects of the Sacraments?

A. Believers, and their Seed, are the Subjects of Baptiſm, but Adult Chriſtians only of the Lord's-Supper. Acts 2. 38, 39. Repent, and be baptized every one of you; for the promiſe is unto you, and to your children, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. 1 Cor. 11. 28. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

Q. 11. What is the main Uſe and End of Sacraments?

A. It is to ratify and confirm God's Covenant with Believers. Rom. 4. 21. And he received the ſign of circumciſion, a ſeal of the righteouſneſs of the faith that he had, yet being uncircumciſed, &c. 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do ſhew the Lord's death till he come.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inſtruction from hence?

A. That the Abuſe of ſuch Holy and Solemn Myſteries, is a Sin of dreadful Aggravation, and ſuch as God will puniſh. 1 Cor. 11. 27. Wherefore whoſoever ſhall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

Q. 13. What's the Second Inſtruction?

A. Hence we learn the tender Care and Love of Chriſt over the Church, in Inſtituting ſuch uſeful and comfortable Ordinances for us.

Of the Number of Sacraments.

Queſt. 93. Which are the Sacraments of the New Teſtament?

A. The Sacraments of the New Teſtament are, Baptiſm, and the Lord's Supper.

Q. 1. How many Sacraments hath Chriſt appointed in the New Teſtament?

A. Chriſt hath appointed Two, and no more; theſe being ſufficient for our Initiation and Confirmation.

Q. 2. How many have the Papiſts added to them?

A. They have added Five more; viz. Confirmation, Penance, Ordination, Marriage, and Extreme Unction.

Q. 3. What is their Sacrament of Confirmation?

A. It is the Anointing of the Baptized with Chriſm in the Forehead, with this Form of Words, I Sign thee with the Sign of the Croſs, and Confirm thee with the Chriſm of Salvation, in the Name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 4. What's their Ground for this Practice?

A. The Abuſe of that Scripture, Heb. 6. 2. Of the Doctrine of Baptiſms, and Laying on of Hands, &c. Which, by a figurative Speech, expreſſeth the whole Standing Miniſtry in the Church, by Laying on of Hands.

Q. 5. What's their Sacrament of Penance?

A. It is Repentance manifeſted by outward Signs, to which the Word of Abſolution coming, makes it a Sacrament, miſgrounded on John 20. 23. Whoſeſoever ſins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whoſe-ſoever ſins ye retain, they are retained.

Q. 6. What is their Sacrament of Orders, or Ordination?

A. It is the Laying on of Hands in Ordination of Miniſters, by which they conceive Spiritual Grace is given; by Miſtake of 2 Tim. 1. 6. Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, that thou ſtir up the Gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands.

Q. 7. What's their Fourth ſuperadded Sacrament?

A. It is Marriage; grounded upon thoſe Words of the Apoſtle, Eph. 5. 32. This is a great myſtery; but I ſpeak concerning Chriſt and the Church. Which only ſhews a Similitude of our Union with Chriſt, not an Inſtituted Sign to that End.

Q. 8. What is their Fifth ſuperadded Sacrament?

A. Extreme Unction; or Anointing the Sick, near Death, with Conſecrated Oyl: Grounded on Mark 6. 13. And anointed with oyl many that were ſick, and healed them. And Jam. 5. 14. Is any ſick among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oyl in the name of the Lord. Which are neither Sacramental Rites, nor of Ordinary Standing Uſe in the Church, but Extraordinary, and Temporary for that Age.

Q. 9. What learn we hence?

A. Hence we learn, how apt Men are to corrupt God's Ordinances, by their Superſtitious Additions. Matth. 15. 9. Teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

Q. 10. What's the Second Inſtruction hence?

A. How juſt and neceſſary our Separation from Rome is, who have groſly corrupted God's Ordinances, and left Men no other Remedy. Rev. 13. 6. And he opened his mouth in blaſphemy againſt God, to blaſpheme his name, and his tabernacles, and them that dwelt in heaven.

Q. 11. What's the Third Inſtruction?

A. That the Reformation of Religion is an invaluable Mercy, a great Deliverance from Spiritual Bondage. Rev. 11. 19. And the temple of God was opened in heaven; and there was ſeen in his temple the ark of this teſtament: And there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

Q. 12. What's the Fourth Inſtruction?

A. That Rome ſhall certainly fall, and all her Adherents, for the horrid Injury done by them to Chriſt, and the Souls of Men. Rev. 18. 20, 21. Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy Apoſtles and Prophets; for God hath avenged you on her. And a mighty angel took up a ſtone, like a great milſtone, and caſt it into the ſea, ſaying, Thus with violence ſhall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and ſhall be found no more at all.

Of Baptiſm.

Queſt. 94. What is Baptiſm?

A. Baptiſm is a Sacrament, wherein the Waſhing of Water, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt, doth ſignify and ſeal our Ingrafting unto Chriſt, and Partaking of the Benefits of the Covenant of Grace, and our Engagement to be the Lord's.

Q. 1. What is the External Part of Baptiſm?

A. It is pure unmixed Water. Heb. 10. 22. And our bodies waſhed with pure water. And therefore it's a vile Practice of Papiſts, to add Oyl, Salt and Spittle, to Water in Baptiſm.

Q. 2. What doth Water in Baptiſm ſignify?

A. It ſignifies the Blood of Chriſt. Rev. 1. 5. Unto him that loved us, and waſhed us from our ſins in his own blood.

Q. 3. What's the firſt Reſemblance it hath to Chriſt's Blood?

A. In

A. In the Freeneſs of it to all, it repreſents the unpurchaſed Blood of Chriſt. Iſa. 55. 1. Ho, every one that thirſteth, come ye to the waters; and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk, without money, and without price.

Q. 4. What's the Second Reſemblance to Chriſt's Blood?

A. It reſembles it in its refreſhing Quality: Water refreſheth the Thirſty; ſo doth Chriſt's Blood. Joh. 6. 35. He that believeth on me, ſhall never thirſt.

Q. 5. What's the Third Reſemblance it hath to Chriſt's Blood?

A. The cleanſing Property of Water, ſhews the purifying Virtue of Chriſt's Blood. Heb. 9. 14. How much more ſhall the blood of Chriſt, who thro' the eternal Spirit offered himſelf without ſpot to God, purge your conſcience from dead works, to ſerve the living God?

Q. 6. What's the Fourth Reſemblance it hath to Chriſt's Blood?

A. It reſembles it in the Neceſſity of it: For as the Body cannot live without Water, ſo neither can the Soul without Chriſt's Blood. Heb. 9. 23. It was therefore neceſſary, that the paterns of things in the heavens ſhould be purified with theſe, but the heavenly things themſelves with better ſacrifices than theſe.

Q. 7. What's the Fifth Reſemblance of Water to the Blood of Chriſt?

A. As Water neither refreſhes, nor purifies the Body without Application; ſo neither doth Chriſt's Blood refreſh or purify the Soul till applied. 1 Cor. 1. 30. But of him are ye in Chriſt Jeſus; who of God is made unto us wiſdom, and righteouſneſs, and ſanctification, and redemption.

Q. 8. Is it neceſſary to plunge the whole Body under Water, in Baptizing every Perſon?

A. The Word [Baptize] ſignifying as well to waſh, as to plunge; a Perſon may be truly baptized, that is not plunged. And we cannot think, by the Circumſtances of Time and Place, that the Jaylor, in the Night, was carried to a River out of the City. Acts 16. 33. And he took them the ſame hour of the night, and waſhed their ſtripes, and was baptized, he and all his ſtraitway.

Q. 9. But is it not ſaid, Joh. 3. 23. That John was Baptizing in Ænon, near to Salim, becauſe there was much water there; and they came, and were baptized?

A. The Word ſignifies many waters, that is, Springs of Waters there; which are known by Travellers to be ſmall, not capable of Plunging into.

Q. 10. What are the Benefits accruing to us by Baptiſm?

A. The Benefits are twofold: Some External, called the Fatneſs of the Olive-tree; i. e. Ordinances and Viſible Memberſhip: Rom. 11. 17. And thou being a wild olive-tree, wer't grafted in among them, and with them, partakeſt of the root and fatneſs of the olive-tree. And ſome Spiritual and Saving: 1 Pet. 3. 21. The like figure whereunto, even baptiſm, doth alſo now ſave us, (not the putting away the filth of the fleſh, but the anſwer of a good conſcience towards God) by the reſurrection of Jeſus Chriſt.

Q. 11. What Engagements are laid on the Baptized?

A. They are engaged to be the Lord's People, and to walk ſuitably to that Engagement. Rom. 6. 4. Therefore we are buried with him by baptiſm into death; that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even ſo we alſo ſhould walk in newneſs of life.

Q. 12. Is Baptiſm to be reiterated, as the Lord's Supper?

A. No; for the Lord's Supper is the Sacrament for Nouriſhing, but this for Implantation. Rom. 6. 4, 5. Therefore we are buried with him by baptiſm into death, that like as Chriſt was raiſed up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even ſo we alſo ſhould walk in newneſs of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeneſs of his death, we ſhall be alſo in the likeneſs of his reſurrection.

Q. 13. Doth Baptiſm regenerate Men, and confer Saving Grace?

A. No, it doth not in its own Virtue convey Grace, no more than the Lord's Supper; but the Spirit of God is the Author of Grace, and works it as he pleaſes, before, or after Baptiſm.

Of the Subjects of Baptiſm.

Queſt. 95. To whom is Baptiſm to be adminiſtred?

A. Baptiſm is not to be adminiſtred to any that are out of the viſible Church, till they profeſs their Faith in Chriſt, and Obedience to him: But the Infants of ſuch as are Members of the viſible Church, are to be baptized.

Q. 1. Who are to be baptized?

A. Believers, and their Infant Offspring. Acts 2. 39. For the promiſe is to you, and your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call.

Q. 2. How doth it appear, that the Infant-Seed of Believers ought to be baptized?

A. It appears by this; that they being Abraham's Seed, were taken into Covenant with God, and ordered to have the Sign of the Covenant applied to them; and that Grant was never reverſed. Gen. 17. 7, 10. And I will eſtabliſh my covenant between me and thee, and thy ſeed after thee, in their generations, for an everlaſting covenant, to be a God unto thee, and to thy ſeed after thee. This is my covenant, which ye ſhall keep between me and you, and thy ſeed after thee; every man-child among you ſhall be circumciſed.

Q. 3. But was not that the Covenant of Works; and ſo will not hold, to infer their Privilege under the Covenant of Grace?

A. No, it was not; for God never did, nor will become a God by way of ſpecial Intereſt to any People, by virtue of the Covenant of Works, ſince the Breach of it by the Fall.

Q. 4. But if it were the Covenant of Grace; how doth it appear, the Right of Believers, Infants, is ſtill the ſame it was before in Abraham's Time?

A. It appears plainly from the Apoſtle's own Words and Arguments; Acts 2. 39. For the promiſe is to you, and to your children, &c.

Q. 5. But tho' Infants then were Members of God's Viſible Church among the Jews; how doth it appear they are ſo now, when God hath caſt them off?

A. It appears, the Memberſhip and Privileges are as ſure and ample to them now, that are the Children of Gentile Believers, as ever they were to the Jewiſh Infants. Rom. 11. 17. And if ſome of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wild olive-tree wer't grafted in amongſt them, and with them partakeſt of the root and fatneſs of the olive-tree.

Q. 6. How elſe doth it appear they are within the Covenant?

A. It appears by this, that they are pronounced Holy. 1 Cor. 7. 14. Elſe were your children unclean, but now are they holy. Which is a Fœderal Holineſs; and none out of Covenant can be Holy by Covenant.

Q. 7. But may not that Place mean only their Legi- timacy? A. No

A. No, it cannot; for then the Apoſtle muſt pronounce all the Infants in the World Baſtards, that deſcend not at leaſt from One Believing Parent.

Q. 8. But Infants are not capable to Covenant with God, or perform Covenant-Duties; and therefore why ſhould they be admitted to Covenant-Privileges?

A. A Child now of Eight Days old, is as capable of being admitted into Covenant with God, as Children of the ſame Age were in Abraham's Days; and then it's manifeſt they were admitted.

Q. 9. Tho' they were admitted by Circumciſion then; will it follow, they may be ſo by Baptiſm now, ſeeing that Ordinance is aboliſhed?

A. Yes, it will: For tho' Circumciſion ceaſe, yet Baptiſm is come into its place. Col. 2. 10, 11, 12. And ye are compleat in him, which is the head of all principality and power. In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the circumciſion made without hands, in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh, by the circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in baptiſm, &c.

Q. 10. Circumciſion was a Seal of the Covenant of Works; and the Argument will not hold, from a Seal of the Covenant of Works, to a Seal of the Covenant of Grace?

A. Circumciſion never was, nor was intended to be a Seal of the Covenant of Works, but of the Righteouſneſs of Faith. Rom. 4. 11. And he received the ſign of circumciſion, a ſeal of the righteouſneſs of the faith that he had, yet being uncircumciſed, &c.

Q. 11. But have we no expreſs Command in the New Teſtament to Baptize Infants?

A. There needed no New Command; their Privilege had been ſettled many Ages before upon them, and never reverſed by Chriſt, or his Apoſtles, but their former Right declared to continue ſtill to them. Acts 2. 39. For the promiſe is to you, and your children, &c.

Q. 12. But if they have a Right, we might expect to find ſome Examples of their Baptizing?

A. 'Tis manifeſt, that Believers Houſholds were baptized with them. Acts 16. 15, 33. And when ſhe was baptized, and her houſhold, &c. Ver. 33. And he took them the ſame hour of the night, and waſhed their ſtripes, and was baptized, he and all his, ſtrait-way. And if Infants are not named, ſo neither are any of Age, born of Chriſtian Parents.

Q. 13. But many truſt to their Infant-Baptiſm, as their Regeneration, and ſo much Miſchief's done?

A. They do ſo; yet the Duty is not therefore to be neglected. The Preaching of Chriſt is to ſome a Stumbling-Block; yet Chriſt muſt be preached for that.

Q. 14. But many baptized Infants prove naught?

A. And ſo do many baptized at Age too. Duties are not to be meaſured by Events.

Of the Lord's Supper.

Queſt. 96. What is the Lord's Supper?
A. The Lord's Supper is a Sacrament, wherein, by giving and receiving Bread and Wine, according to Chriſt's Appointment, his Death is ſhewed forth; and the worthy Receivers are, not after a corporal and carnal manner, but by Faith, made Partakers of his Body and Blood, with all his Benefits, to their Spiritual Nourishment, and Growth in Grace.

Q. 1. By whoſe Authority is the Lord's Supper inſtituted and appointed?

A. By the Sovereign Authority of Chriſt, the King of the Church; and not by the Pleaſure of Man. 1 Cor. 11. 23. For I have received of the Lord, that which alſo I delivered unto you; that the Lord Jeſus, the ſame night in which he was betrayed, took bread.

Q. 2. Of what Parts doth this Sacrament conſiſt?

A. It conſiſts of Two Parts; one Earthly and Viſible, to wit, Bread and Wine; the other Spiritual and Inviſible, the Body and Blood of Chriſt. 1 Cor. 10. 16. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt? the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt?

Q. 3. How do theſe Earthly and Heavenly Things become a Sacrament?

A. By the Word of Inſtitution, and Bleſſing coming from Chriſt upon them. 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25. For I have received of the Lord, that which alſo I delivered unto you; that the Lord Jeſus, the ſame night in which he was betrayed, took bread. And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and ſaid; Take, eat, this is my body which is broken for you: This do in remembrance of me. After the ſame manner he took the cup, when he had ſupped, ſaying, This cup is the new teſtament in my blood: This do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

Q. 4. When did Chriſt ordain and inſtitute this Sacrament?

A. He inſtituted it in the ſame Night he was betrayed. 1 Cor. 11. 23. The Lord Jeſus, the ſame night in which he was betrayed, took bread. It could not be ſooner; becauſe the Paſſover muſt be firſt celebrated, and, by the Inſtitution of this, abrogated: Nor later; for ſoon after he was apprehended.

Q. 5. What doth the Time of its Inſtitution teach us?

A. It teaches us, how great Chriſt's Care and Love to his People is, that he makes in his Ordinance ſuch Proviſion for our Comfort, tho' he knew his own bitter Agony was juſt at Hand.

Q. 6. What is the General Uſe and End of this Sacrament?

A. It is to confirm, ſeal and ratify, the New Covenant to Believers. 1 Cor. 11. 25. This cup is the new teſtament in my blood: This do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

Q. 7. What are the particular Ends, and Uſe of it?

A. The firſt particular End and Uſe of it, is, to bring Chriſt and his Sufferings afreſh to our Remembrance. 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25. Thus do in remembrance of me.

Q. 8. What Kind of Remembrance of Chriſt is here intended?

A. Not a mere ſpeculative, but an affectionate, heart-melting Remembrance of him; like that of Peter, Matth. 26. 75. And Peter remembred the words of Jeſus, which ſaid unto him, Before the cock ſhall crow, thou ſhalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly. Or of Joſeph, Gen. 43. 29, 30. And Joſeph made haſte, for his bowels did yern upon his brother: And he ſought where to weep; and he entered into his chamber, and wept there.

Q. 9. What doth this End of the Sacrament imply?

A. It implies this; That the beſt of God's People are too apt to forget Chriſt, and what he hath endured and ſuffered for them.

Q. 10. What elſe doth it imply?

A. It implies this; That none but thoſe that have the Saving Knowledge of Chriſt, and have had former Acquaintance with Chriſt, are fit for this Ordinance; for no Man can remember, what he never knew. 1 Cor. 11. 28. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

Q. 11. What's

Q. 11. What's the Second particular Uſe and End of this Sacrament ?

A. It is to repreſent Chriſt to Believers, as an apt Sign of him, and of his Death ; and that both Memorative, Significative, and Inſtructive.

Q. 12. How is it a Memorative Sign of Chriſt ?

A. It brings Chriſt to our Remembrance, as his Death and bitter Sufferings are therein repreſented to us, by the Breaking of Bread, and Pouring forth of Wine. 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do ſhew forth the Lord's death till he come.

Q. 13. How is it a Significative Ordinance ?

A. It is a Significative Ordinance, not only as it repreſents Chriſt's Sufferings, but the Believers Union with him as the Head, and with each other as Members of his Body. 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt ? For we being many, are one bread, and one body, &c.

Q. 14. In what reſpect is it an Inſtructive Sign ?

A. It is an Inſtructive Sign in divers Reſpects: Namely, Firſt, As it teaches us, that Chriſt is the only Nutritive Bread, by which our Souls live. Joh. 6. 15. I am the living bread, which came down from heaven : If any man eat of this bread, he ſhall live for ever. And the bread that I ſhall give is my fleſh, which I ſhall give for the life of the world. And Secondly, As it inſtructs us, that the New Teſtament is now in its full Force, by the Death of Chriſt the Teſtator. Heb. 9. 16, 17. For where a teſtament is, there muſt alſo of neceſſity be the death of the teſtator. For a teſtament is of force after men are dead ; otherwiſe it is of no force at all, whilſt the teſtator liveth.

Thus much of the Author, Nature, and Ends of the Lord's-Supper.

Of the Elements, Actions, and Subjects of it.

Q. 1. ARE not Bread and Wine too ſmall and common Things, to repreſent the Body and Blood of Chriſt ?

A. Tho' a Bit of Bread, and a Draught of Wine, be Things of ſmall Value in themſelves, yet they are great in reſpect of their Uſe and End. A Penny-worth of Wax is a ſmall Thing in it ſelf ; but being applied to the Label of a Deed, may be advanced to the Worth of Thouſands of Pounds, as it receives the Seal to a great Inheritance.

Q. 2. Is not the Bread in the Sacrament turned into the very Body of Chriſt it ſelf, by Tranſubſtantiation ?

A. No, it is not ; but the Elements retain ſtill their own proper Nature of Bread and Wine, after the Words of Conſecration ; and are ſo called, 1 Cor. 11. 26. For as often as ye eat this bread, &c. Matth. 26. 29. But I ſay unto you, I will not henceforth drink of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

Q. 3. What is the firſt Argument, by which Proteſtants confute the Popiſh Doctrine of Tranſubſtantiation ?

A. The firſt Argument againſt it, is taken from the End of the Sacrament ; which is, to bring Chriſt's Body and Blood to our Remembrance. 1 Cor. 11. 24, 25. This do in remembrance of me. Now Signs for Remembrance, are of Things abſent, not preſent.

Q. 4. What's the Second Argument ?

A. Becauſe the Language in which our Saviour ſpake, had no other Property of Expreſſion ; there being no other Word for ſignify, but is inſtead the of, as is manifeſt in both Teſtaments. Gen. 41. 2 And the ſeven ill-favoured kine, that came up after the are ſeven years of famine. Rev. 1. 20. The ſeven ſta are the angels of the ſeven Churches ; and the ſeven c dleſticks which thou ſaweſt, are the ſeven Churches.

Q. 5. What's the Third Argument againſt Tranſu ſtantiation ?

A. The manifold groſs Abſurdities, that natur ly and neceſſarily follow on this Doctrine, ſhew Falſeneſs of it, and that it is juſtly rejected and horred by all Sound Chriſtians.

Q. 6. What's the firſt Abſurdity that follows it?

A. This Doctrine allows that to a ſilly Prie which is not to be allow'd to all the Angels in He ven. It allows him Power to make his Maker, a eat his God. And in juſtifying this by the Omn potency of God, they ſay no more, than what Turk may ſay, to juſtify the moſt Ridiculous Foo ries of the Alcoran.

Q. 7. What's the Second Abſurdity of Tranſubſta tiation ?

A. The Second Abſurdity is this ; That it den the Truth of the Teſtimony given by the Senſes all Men, that it is Real Bread, and Real Wine, a ter Conſecration, and not Fleſh and Blood. A if the Teſtimony of Senſe be not certain, then t Being of God cannot be proved by the Things th are made ; contrary to Rom. 1. 20. For the inviſi things of him, from the creation of the world, are cle ly ſeen, being underſtood by the things that are made, ev his eternal Power and Godhead, &c. Nor the Tru of Chriſt's Reſurrection, by Seeing and Feeling contrary to Luk. 24. 39. Behold my hands and my fe that it is I my ſelf ; handle me, and ſee, &c.

Q. 8. What's the Third Abſurdity of Tranſubſta tiation ?

A. The Third Abſurdity is this ; That in affirm ing the Accidents of Bread and Wine to remai and their Subſtance to vaniſh ; they affirm, th there is Length, Breadth, Thickneſs, Moiſture, a Sweetneſs ; and yet nothing long, broad, thick, moi or ſweet ; which is a perfect Contradiction.

Q. 9. What's the Fourth Abſurdity of Tranſubſta tiation ?

A. It implies, that the entire Living Body Chriſt ſat at the Table, and at the ſame time w dead, and in the Diſciples Mouths and Stoma in the firſt Sacrament ; and that in all after-Sac ments it is wholly in Heaven, and wholly in as m ny Thouſand Places in the World, as there are S craments adminiſtred.

Q. 10. What doth the Breaking of this Bread, Pouring out of Wine in the Sacrament ſignify ?

A. It ſignifies the violent painful Death, and b ter Sufferings of Chriſt for us. 1 Cor. 11. 26. as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do ſh the Lord's death till he come.

Q. 11. What doth the Giving and Taking of the Sac mental Bread and Wine ſignify ?

A. Theſe Actions ſignify God's Exhibiting, a the Believers Applying, of Chriſt and all his Be fits, to their Souls.

Q. 12. Who are fit Subjects to receive the Lord's Supp

A. None that are groſly ignorant, ſcandalo or Unbelievers in their natural State ; for ſuch ca not examine themſelves, as the Word require 1 Cor. 11. 28. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. But do and drink Judgment to themſelves ; 1 Cor. 11. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and dri eth damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's body.

Q. 13.

Q. 13. Are morally Honeſt and Sober Perſons qualified for the Sacrament?

A. No; Civility and Morality do not qualify Perſons; they are not the Wedding-Garment; but regenerating Grace, and Faith doth, in the ſmalleſt Meaſure. Matth. 22. 12. And he ſaith unto him, Friend, how cameſt thou in hither, not having a wedding-garment? &c. 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. The cup of bleſſing which we bleſs, is it not the communion of the blood of Chriſt? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Chriſt? For we being many, are one bread, and one body; for we are all partakers of that one bread.

Of the Duties of Communicants.

Queſt. 97. What is required to the worthy Receiving of the Lord's-Supper?

A. It is required of them that would worthily partake of the Lord's-Supper, that they examine themſelves of their knowledge to diſcern the Lord's Body; of their Faith to feed upon him; of their Repentance, Love, and New Obedience; leſt coming unworthily, they eat and drink Judgment to themſelves.

Q. 1. What are the Duties of worthy Receivers?

A. There are Three Sorts of Duties incumbent on them; ſome Antecedent to it, ſome Concomitant of it, and ſome Subſequent to it.

Q. 2. What are the Antecedent Duties to it?

A. They are Two. (1.) Examination of their Graces. (2.) Preparation of their Souls. Examination of their Graces. 1 Cor. 11. 28, 29. But let a man examine himſelf, and ſo let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's body. And Preparation of their Souls: 1 Cor. 5. 8. Therefore let us keep the feaſt; not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedneſs, but with the unleavened bread of ſincerity and truth.

Q. 3. What's the firſt Grace to be try'd?

A. Our Saving Knowledge of God in Chriſt, without which we cannot diſcern the Lord's Body. 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's body.

Q. 4. What are we to enquire of, touching our Knowledge of God in Chriſt?

A. We are to examine whether it be competent in Quantity, and ſavingly operative and influential in the Heart and Life, for Quality. Hoſ. 4. 6. My people are deſtroyed for lack of knowledge, &c. 1 Cor. 13. 1. Tho' I ſpeak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity; I am become as a ſounding brass, or tinkling cymbal.

Q. 5. When is Knowledge competent, and influential?

A. When we truly underſtand by the Teachings of the Father, the Sin and Miſery of the Fall, the Nature and Neceſſity of Chriſt, and under theſe Convictions come to him in the way of Faith. John 6. 45.----Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me. And ſubject our ſelves to him in ſincere Obedience. Matth. 11. 28, 29. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you reſt. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye ſhall find reſt unto your ſouls.

Q. 6. What are we to examine our ſelves about, before Knowledge?

A. We are obliged to examine our ſelves about our Faith, whether we have it in any Saving Degree. 2 Cor. 13. 5. Examine your ſelves, whether ye be in the Faith: Prove your ſelves, &c. For without Faith we cannot pleaſe God. Heb. 11. 6. But without faith it is impoſſible to pleaſe God, &c. Nor enjoy Spiritual Communion with Chriſt. Eph. 3. 17. That Chriſt may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye being rooted and grounded in love, &c.

Q. 7. What other Grace muſt be examin'd, and ſought for?

A. We muſt examine our Love to Chriſt, and all that are his; becauſe no Gifts ſignify any thing without Love. 1 Cor. 13. 2. And tho' I have the gift of prophecy, and underſtand all myſteries, and all knowledge; and tho' I have all faith, ſo that I could remove mountains, and have no charity, I am nothing.

Q. 8. What elſe muſt worthy Receivers examine themſelves about?

A. The Sincerity of their Hearts, evidenced by their Obedience; without which, they cannot worthily approach the Table. 1 Cor. 5. 8. Therefore let us keep the feaſt, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedneſs, but with the unleavened bread of ſincerity and truth.

Q. 9. But if, upon Examination, we are in Doubts about our Faith and Sincerity, muſt we forbear?

A. If our Doubts ariſe from the Weakneſs, and not the total Want of Grace, ſuch Doubts ſhould not hinder us. Rom. 14. 1. Him that is weak in the faith, receive you, &c.

Q. 10. What is the Danger of coming to the Lord's Table without theſe Graces?

A. The Danger is exceeding great to Soul and Body. (1.) To the Soul: 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, &c. And to the Body, 1 Cor. 11. 30. For this cauſe many are weak and ſickly among you, and many ſleep.

Q. 11. What are the Duties of worthy Receivers at the Lord's Table?

A. Their Duties at the Table, are to diſcern Chriſt by the Eye of Faith, under thoſe Signs of his Body and Blood. 1 Cor. 11. 29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himſelf, not diſcerning the Lord's body. On the Diſcovery of him, to mourn bitterly for Sin. Zech. 12. 10.----And they ſhall look upon me, whom they have pierced; and they ſhall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only ſon, and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born. And to excite all their Graces into vigorous Acts, for the applying Chriſt to themſelves. Cant. 4. 16. Awake, O north-wind, and come thou ſouth; blow upon my garden, that the ſpices thereof may flow out, &c.

Q. 12. What is the Duty of worthy Receivers, after the Sacrament?

A. Their Duty is, heartily to bleſs God for Chriſt, and the Benefits of his Blood. Matth. 26. 30. And when they had ſung an hymn, they went out into the mount of olives. To double their Care and Watchfulneſs againſt Sin. Eph. 4. 30. And grieve not the holy Spirit, whereby ye are ſealed to the day of Redemption. And to grow more fruitful in all Spiritual Obedience. Col. 1. 10. That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleaſing; being fruitful in every good work, and increaſing in the knowledge of God.

Q. 13. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That the Abuſe and Profanation of this Ordinance, either by coming to it for Carnal Ends, or being forced upon it by fear of Sufferings, or approaching to it without due Qualifications, is a dreadful Sin, which God will terribly avenge. Matth. 22. 11, 12, 13. And when the King came in to ſee the gueſts, he ſaw there a man which had not on a wedding-garment. And he ſaith unto him, Friend, how cameſt thou in hither, not having on a wedding-garment? And he was ſpeechleſs. Then ſaid the King unto the ſervants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and caſt him into outer darkneſs: There ſhall be weeping, and gnaſhing of teeth.

Q. 14. What's the Second Inference from it?

A. That great and manifold are the Bleſſings and Advantages, which Chriſtians duly prepared may reap by this Ordinance.

Of Prayer.

Queſt. 98. What is Prayer?

A. Prayer is an Offering up of our Deſires unto God, for Things agreeable to his Will, in the Name of Chriſt; with Confeſſion of our Sins, and thankful Acknowledgment of his Mercies.

Q. 1. Who is the Proper, and only Object of Prayer?

A. God only is the Proper Object of Prayer; it is a Part of his Natural Worſhip, therefore 'tis peculiarly his Honour and Prerogative; and none elſe can hear and anſwer them, but God. Pſal 65. 2. O thou that heareſt Prayer, unto thee ſhall all fleſh come.

Q. 2. Through whom, or in whoſe Name, are our Prayers to be directed to God?

A. Our Prayers are to be directed to God only thro' Chriſt, and his Name; and not by the Mediation of Angels, or Saints. Col. 2. 18. Let no man beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility, and worſhipping of angels. For the Merit and Satisfaction of Chriſt alone, give Succeſs and Acceptance to our Prayers. Rev. 8. 3, 4. And another angel came, and ſtood at the altar, having a golden cenſer; and there was given unto him much incenſe, that he ſhould offer it with the Prayers of all the Saints, upon the golden altar, which was before the throne. And the ſmoke of the incenſe, which came with the Prayers of the Saints, aſcended up before God, out of the angel's hand. 1 Tim. 2. 5. For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the man Chriſt Jeſus.

Q. 3. What's the firſt Property, or Quality of acceptable Prayer?

A. No Prayer can be acceptable to God, except the Matter of it be agreeable to his Will. Jam. 4. 3. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts. 1 Joh. 5. 14, 15. And this is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us. And if we know that he hear us whatſoever we ask, we know that we have the Petitions that we deſired of him.

Q. 4. Is it enough to make Prayer acceptable, that the Matter is agreeable to God's Will?

A. No, it is not; for the Manner, as well as the Matter, muſt be ſo too. Pſal. 66. 18. If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me.

Q. 5. What's the firſt Qualification of an acceptable Prayer, reſpecting the Manner of it?

A. That it be ſincere, and flowing from the Heart of a Regenerate Perſon. Prov. 15. 29. The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. Jer. 29. 13. And ye ſhall ſeek me, and find me, when ye ſhall ſearch for me with all your heart.

Q. 6. What's the Second Qualification of Prayer, reſpecting the Manner?

A. It muſt be perform'd in the Heart of a Child of God, by the Spirit of Adoption. Gal. 4. 6. And because ye are ſons, God hath ſent forth the Spirit of his Son in our hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the Spirit alſo helpeth our infirmities: For we know not what we ſhould pray for as we ought; but the Spirit it ſelf maketh interceſſion for us, with groanings which cannot be uttered.

Q. 7. What's the Third Qualification of an acceptable Prayer, reſpecting the Manner?

A. It muſt be fervent and importunate, not cold and formal. Jam. 5. 16.----The effectual fervent Prayer of a righteous man availeth much. Matth. 7. 7. Ask, and it ſhall be given you; ſeek, and ye ſhall find; knock, and it ſhall be opened unto you.

Q. 8. Wherein doth true Importunity with God in Prayer conſiſt?

A. Not in the Multitude of Words. Matth. 6. But when ye pray, uſe not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think they ſhall be heard for their much ſpeaking. But in an Holy Earneſtneſs of Spirit to be heard. Pſal. 143. 7. Hear me ſpeedily, O Lord, my Spirit faileth; hide not thy face from me, leſt I be like unto them that go down into the pit. A prudent Choice of prevalent Arguments: Job 23. 4. I would order my cauſe before him, and fill my mouth with arguments. And a reſolute Perſiſtance in our Requeſts, till they be granted: Iſa. 62. 7. And give him no reſt, till he eſtabliſh, and till he make Jeruſalem a praiſe in the earth.

Q. 9. Do not Prayers thus qualified ſometimes miſcarry?

A. God may delay and ſuſpend the Anſwer of them for a Time. Pſal. 22. 2. O my God, I cry in the day-time, but thou heareſt not, &c. But ſooner or later, God will always anſwer them, either in the very Thing we ask; 1 Joh. 5. 15.-----We know that we have the Petitions, that we deſired of him: Or that which is equivalent or better; Gen. 17. 18, 19. And Abraham ſaid unto God, O that Iſhmael might live before thee. And God ſaid, Sarah thy wife ſhall bear thee a Son indeed, and thou ſhalt call his name Iſaac: And I will eſtabliſh my Covenant with him, for an everlaſting Covenant, and with his ſeed after him.

Q. 10. Is there no Prayer but what is ſtated and fixed?

A. Yes, there is ſudden Occaſional Prayer which we call Ejaculatory. Such was Jacob's, Gen. 49. 18. I have waited for thy ſalvation, O Lord. And this is exceeding uſeful, to maintain conſtant Communion with God, and keep the Heart in a Spiritual Frame.

Q. 11. Is all ſtated and fixed Prayer publick in the Congregation, or Church?

A. No; ſtated Prayer ought to be in our Families, with thoſe under our Charge; and in our Cloſets, betwixt God and us alone. Joſh. 24. 15. -----But as for me and my houſe, we will ſerve the Lord. And Matth. 6. 6. But when thou prayeſt, enter into thy cloſet; and when thou haſt ſhut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in ſecret; and thy Father which ſeeth in ſecret, ſhall reward thee openly.

Q. 12. What infer you from hence?

A. The Reſtraint of Prayer is not only a great Sin, but an ill Sign of a graceleſs Heart. Job 15. Yea, thou caſteſt off fear, and reſtraineſt prayer before God. And that which entails a Judgment and Curſe upon Men, and their Families. Jer. 10. 25. Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not upon thy name.

Q. 13. What's the Second Inference from the Ordinance of Prayer?

A. T

A. That the true Reaſon why we enjoy not the Mercies we pray for, is not becauſe God is unwilling to grant Mercies; but becauſe we either neglect Prayer, or miſcarry in the Manner of Prayer. Jam. 4. 2, 3. Ye luſt, and have not; ye kill, and deſire to have, and cannot obtain: Ye fight and war, yet ye have not, becauſe ye ask not: Ye ask, and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts.

Of Direction in Prayer.

Queſt. 99. What Rule hath God given, for our Direction in the Duty of Prayer?

A. The whole Word of God is of uſe to direct us in Prayer; but the ſpecial Rule of Direction, is that Form of Prayer which Chriſt taught his Diſciples, commonly called the Lord's-Prayer.

Q. 1. Do Men need Directions, Rules, and Helps in Prayer?

A. They do greatly need them; for in and of our ſelves we know not what to pray for as we ought; Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the Spirit alſo helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we ſhall pray for as we ought, &c. Nor how to pray in a right manner, and for right Ends, and a Miſtake in either frustrates our Prayer. Jam. 4. 3. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts.

Q. 2. When do men miſtake in the Matter of their Prayer?

A. They miſtake in the Matter of Prayer, when they ask of God Things that are not lawful, good and agreeable to his Will. So the Diſciples were ready to do, in calling for Fire from Heaven on the Samaritans, Luke 9. 54, 55. And when his Diſciples, James and John, ſaw this, they ſaid, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and conſume them, even as Elias did? But he turned and rebuked them, and ſaid, Ye know not what manner of ſpirit ye are of.

Q. 3. When do Men miſtake in the Manner of Prayer?

A. They miſtake in the Manner, when they ask Mercies of God for Carnal Ends, to ſatisfy their Luſts; Jam. 4. 3. Ye ask and receive not, becauſe ye ask amiſs, that ye may conſume it upon your luſts. Or in a drowſy and careleſs manner, Iſa. 64. 7. And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that ſtirreth up himſelf to take hold of thee, &c.

Q. 4. What Helps hath God afforded us to furniſh us for Prayer, both in Reſpect of the Matter and Manner?

A. The Scriptures abundantly furniſh us with all Sorts of Helps and Directions for the Matter of Prayer. It directs us, both in Confeſſion of Sins, Original and Actual. Pſal. 51. 4, 5. Behold, I was ſhapen in iniquity, and in ſin did my mother conceive me. Againſt thee, thee only have I ſinned, and done this evil in thy ſight, &c. Petition and Thankſgiving; Phil. 4. 6. Be careful for nothing; but in every thing, by prayer and ſupplication, with thankſgiving, let your requeſts be made known unto God.

Q. 5. Doth it afford us any Help, or Direction, as to the Manner of Prayer alſo?

A. Yes, it doth; and that both as to (1.) our Sincerity in Prayer. Heb. 10. 22. Let us draw near with a true heart, in full aſſurance of faith; having our hearts ſprinkled from an evil conſcience, and our bodies waſhed with pure water. (2.) As to our Humility in Prayer. Pſal. 10. 17. Lord, thou haſt heard the deſire of the humble; thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cauſe thine ear to hear. (3.) As to our Faith in Prayer. Jam. 1. 6. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering, &c. (4.) As to our Fervency in Prayer. Jam. 5. 16.----The effectual fervent Prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

Q. 6. Are theſe external Rules and Directions ſufficient in themſelves to enable us to Pray acceptably?

A. In reſpect of external Direction they are ſufficient, and we need no other outward Rules than what the Scriptures furniſh; but beſides that, the internal Helps and Aſſiſtances of the Spirit, are neceſſary to the Offering up acceptable Prayer. Rom. 8. 26. Likewiſe the Spirit alſo helpeth our infirmities; for we know not what we ſhould pray for as we ought; but the Spirit it ſelf maketh interceſſion for us, &c.

Q. 7. But doth the Scripture only furniſh us with General Rules of Direction for Prayer?

A. No; it furniſhes us alſo with an Excellent Pattern and Example of Prayer, compos'd by Chriſt for our Direction. Mat. 6. 9. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father, which art in Heaven, &c.

Q. 8. Are Chriſtians tied by a Neceſſity to uſe that Form of Words? Or, Was it only intended for a Directory to them?

A. That Form of Words may be lawfully uſed; but it's plain, its Intention was to regulate our Petitions by it: And therefore, they that uſe it in Spells and Charms, as the Papiſts; or thoſe that think nothing is Prayer, but that Form of Words; abuſe Chriſt's Intention in it.

Q. 9. How doth it appear, it was not Chriſt's Intention, ſtrictly to bind us to that very Form of Words in our Prayers?

A. Divines give us theſe Reaſons againſt it. (1.) Becauſe this Prayer is ſet down diverſly by the Evangeliſts. Matth. 6. 11, 12. Thy kingdom come; thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And Luk. 11. 3, 4. Give us day by day our daily bread: And forgive us our ſins, for we alſo forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil. (2.) Chriſt and his Apoſtles did not always uſe this Form of Words afterwards; as appears by his Prayer at Lazarus's Grave, Joh. 11. and that for his Apoſtles, Joh. 17. (3.) Becauſe theſe Words, Matth. 6. 9. After this manner, &c. plainly ſhew, its Uſe was intended for a Directory to us.

Q. 10. What's the firſt Inference from hence?

A. Hence we learn the Fulneſs and Compleatneſs of the Scriptures, not only for the Guiding and Settling of our Faith in Things that are to be believed, but alſo of our whole Practice, in every Duty we are to perform.

Q. 11. What's the Second Inference hence?

A. Hence we are inform'd, how neceſſary it is to acquaint our ſelves with the Mind of God, revealed in his Word, that we may guide our ſelves in Prayer, both for Matter and Manner thereby; and not utter to God Words without Knowledge.

Q. 12. What's the laſt Inference from hence?

A. That thoſe who neglect all Prayer, and thoſe that ſatisfy themſelves with a Form of Prayer, which they utter without Knowledge or Affection, do greatly ſin againſt God. And that it is the Duty of all Chriſtians, from a Senſe of their own Sins, Wants and Mercies, to be often with God in Prayer; guiding themſelves in that Spiritual Duty, by ſuch inward and outward Helps, as his Word and Spirit are able to furniſh them with.

Of the Preface to the Lord's-Prayer.

Quest. 100. What doth the Preface of the Lord's-Prayer teach us?

A. The Preface of the Lord's-Prayer, [which is, Our Father, which art in Heaven,] teacheth us to draw near to God with all holy Reverence and Confidence, as Children to a Father ready to help us; and that we should pray with, and for others.

Q. 1. What doth the Word Father import in this Preface?

A. It imports the Spirit of Adoption to be the principal of all acceptable Prayers. Gal. 4. 6. And because ye are sons, God hath given forth the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

Q. 2. What's the first Benefit, or Help we have in Prayer, from the Spirit of Adoption?

A. He excites our Spirits to seek God in Prayer. Psal. 27. 8. When thou said'st, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.

Q. 3. What's the Second Assistance he gives us in Prayer?

A. He indites and suggests, suitable and acceptable Matter to us in Prayer. Rom. 8. 26. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: For we know not what we should pray for as we ought; but the Spirit it self maketh intercession for us, &c.

Q. 4. What's the Third Benefit we have by him in Prayer?

A. He fills our Souls with Spiritual and Holy Affections in Prayer, and helps us to act his Graces in our Duties. Rom. 8. 26. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: For we know not what we should ask as we ought; but the Spirit it self maketh intercession for us, with groanings which cannot be uttered.

Q. 5. What else doth this Word Father import?

A. It imports that holy Confidence which Believers may, and ought to draw near to God withal, as Children to a Father. Eph. 3. 12. In whom we have boldness and access, with confidence, by the faith of him.

Q. 6. Doth it only signify our Relation and Confidence?

A. No; it also signifies the Reverential Fear of God, which ought at all times to be on our Hearts, especially in Prayer. Mal. 1. 6. A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master. If then I be a father, where is my honour? And if I be a master, where is my fear?

Q. 7. What is further imported in this Word Father?

A. It imports God's Willingness and Readiness to grant the best Mercies to his People, that seek them duly at his Hand. Matth. 7. 11. If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your Father which is in heaven, give good things to them that ask him?

Q. 8. Why is he here called Our Father?

A. To signify to us, that it is not only our Duty to pray secretly by and for our selves, but also with and for others. Eph. 6. 18. Praying always, with all prayer and supplication in the spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance, and supplication for all saints.

Q. 9. Why is God said here to be in Heaven?

A. It is to note his Sovereign Power and Dominion over all, as a Ground-work of Faith in Prayer.

Q. 10. What else doth it import?

A. The great Distance between God and us, which should fill our Hearts with an Holy Awe of him. Eccles. 5. 2. —— God is in heaven, and thou upon earth; therefore let thy words be few.

Q. 11. What's the first Inference from hence?

A. It shews us, what a sad Case all those are in, that have no special Interest in God as a Father.

Q. 12. What's the Second Inference?

A. It shews us, what a Glorious Privilege the Lord Jesus Christ hath purchased for, and settled on his People. Heb. 4. 15, 16. For we have not an High-Priest, which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin. Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

Q. 13. What's the last Inference from hence?

A. That seeing Believers have a Father in Heaven, they should never fear Wants while they live, nor be afraid to die, since Death brings them to Heaven, their Father's House.

Of Sanctifying God's Name.

Quest. 101. What do we pray for in the first Petition?

A. In the first Petition, [which is, Hallowed be thy Name,] we pray, That God would enable us, and others, to glorify him in all that, whereby he maketh himself known, and that he would dispose all Things to his own Glory.

Q. 1. Is there any Word full enough, perfectly to express what God is?

A. No, his Name is secret. Judg. 13. 18. And the angel of the Lord said unto him, why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is secret? A Name which none can tell: Prov. 30. 4. —— What is his name, and what is his son's name; if thou can'st tell? A Name above every Name: Phil. 2. 9. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name. But the Name by which he most especially manifests himself, is the Name I AM. Exod. 3. 14. And God said unto Moses, I am that I am. And he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the Children of Israel, I am hath sent me unto you.

Q. 2. What doth the Name of God, I AM, signify to us?

A. It signifies to us, first, The Reality of his Being, in Opposition to Idols, which are but imaginary and fantastick Things. 1 Cor. 8. 4. — We know that an Idol is nothing in the world, &c. God is not only the most Perfect Being, but the Root of all other Beings.

Q. 3. What else doth this Name I AM import?

A. It imports both the Perfection and Eternity of God's Being. I am implies, he hath not that now which he had not formerly; and that he shall have afterwards have, what he hath not now: And that there is neither Beginning, End, or Succession in God, whose Name is I AM.

Q. 4. But what are we here to understand by the Name of God?

A. All those Things are here intended, by which he manifests himself to the Creature; as his Word, Works, and Ordinances, but especially his Glorious Attributes. Exod. 34. 5, 6. —— The Lord, the God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth.

Q. 5. What is it to hallow, or sanctify his Name?

A. Not to infuse any Holiness into him, which he had not before; so he sanctifies us; but to manifest and acknowledge the Holiness of

Iſa. 29. 23. But when he ſeeth his children, the work of my hands in the midſt of him, they ſhall ſanctifie my name, and ſanctifie the holy one of Jacob, and ſhall fear the God of Iſrael.

Q. 6. Why Hallowed or Sanctified rather than Glorified? Why that word rather than this?

A. Becauſe his Holineſs is the Beauty and Luſtre of his other Attributes. His Greatneſs appears in his Holineſs, Iſa. 12. 6.—Great is the holy one of Iſrael in the midſt of thee. So doth his Power, Luke 1. 49. For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name. And therefore his Holineſs is that Attribute, which Angels ſingle out eſpecially to celebrate, Iſa. 6. 3. And one cried unto another, and ſaid, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hoſts, &c. And ſo do Men alſo, as it is the Cauſe why they ſhould glorifie him, Exod. 15. 11.—Who is like thee, glorious in holineſs, &c.

Q. 7. What's the firſt thing we are to intend in this Petition?

A. The meaning is, that God would ſo diſpoſe and order all things in the World, as may beſt promote and advance the Glory of his Name; on which account we may pray for the defeat of God's Enemies, Pſal. 83. 16, 17, 18. Fill their Faces with ſhame, that they may ſeek thy name, O Lord. Let them be confounded and troubled for ever; yea, let them be put to ſhame and periſh; that men may know that thou, whoſe name alone is Jehovah, art the moſt high over all the earth. And the Deliverance of his Church and People, Pſal. 79. 9. Help us, O God of our ſalvation, for the glory of thy name; and deliver us, and purge away our ſins for thy names ſake.

Q. 8. What's the ſecond thing we are to intend in it?

A. That God would fit us for, and uſe us in the moſt ſerviceable Capacity for the glorifying of his Name, Pſal. 67. 1, 2, 3. God be merciful unto us, and bleſs us, and cauſe his face to ſhine upon us: That thy way may be known upon earth, thy ſaving health among all nations. Let the people praiſe thee, O God, let all the people praiſe thee.

Q. 9. What's the third thing intended in this Petition?

A. That God may not only glorify his own Name, and uſe us to glorify it, but that it ſhould be our endeavour and joy to have it glorified by others all the World over, Pſal. 145. 4, 5, 6. One generation ſhall praiſe thy works to another, and ſhall declare thy mighty acts. I will ſpeak of the glorious honour of thy majeſty, and of thy wondrous works. And men ſhall ſpeak of the might of thy terrible acts; and I will declare thy greatneſs.

Q. 10. Why muſt our Hearts be ſo intently ſet upon the Sanctification of God's Name?

A. Becauſe this is the ultimate End of our own and every other Being, Rom. 11. 36. For of him, and through him, and to him are all things; to whom be glory for ever, Amen. And the particular End of God in our effectual Calling, 1 Pet. 2. 9. But ye are a choſen generation, a royal prieſthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye ſhould ſhew forth the praiſes of him, who hath called you out of darkneſs into his marvellous light.

Q. 11. What's the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That the diſhonour of God's Name muſt needs be a cutting Affliction to a gracious Soul; Pſal. 42. 10. As with a ſword in my bones my enemies reproach me; while they ſay daily unto me, Where is their God?

Q. 12. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That it is a dreadful Infatuation, and ſpiritual Judgment upon thoſe Men that think they glorify God in doing thoſe things which his Soul hateth, Iſa. 66. 5. Hear the word of the Lord, ye that tremble at his word: your brethren that hated you, that caſt you out for my names ſake, ſaid, Let the Lord be glorified: but he ſhall appear to your joy, and they ſhall be aſhamed. And John 16. 2. They ſhall put you out of the Synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whoſoever killeth you, will think that he doth God ſervice.

Q. 13. What is the third Inference from hence?

A. That it ſhould be indifferent to a Chriſtian what Condition God puts him into, ſo that he may but be uſeful to ſanctify and exalt the Name of God therein. Phil. 1. 20.—As always, ſo now alſo Chriſt ſhall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inference hence?

A. That it's an high and dreadful Provocation of God to prophane and abuſe his Worſhip, whereon his Name is called, and wherein it is to be ſanctified, Levit. 10. 1, 2, 3. And Nadab and Abihu, the ſons of Aaron, took either of them his cenſer, and put fire therein, and put incenſe thereon, and offered ſtrange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord. Then Moſes ſaid unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord ſpake, ſaying, I will be ſanctified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people will I be glorified.

Of God's Kingdom.

Queſt. 102. What do we pray for in the ſecond Petition?

A. In the ſecond Petition, which is, [Thy Kingdom come.] we pray that Satan's Kingdom may be deſtroy'd, and that the Kingdom of Grace may be advanc'd, our ſelves and others brought into it, and kept in it, and that the Kingdom of Glory may be haſtened.

Q. 1. What is the firſt thing ſignify'd by the Kingdom of God here?

A. The Goſpel is here intended by the Kingdom of God, Matth. 13. 47.—Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net that was caſt into the ſea, and gathered of every kind.

Q. 2. What's the thing ſignified by the coming of this Kingdom of God?

A. It ſignifies the removal of all Impediments, that hinder its Propagation in the World, 2 Theſſ. 3. 1. Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free courſe, and be glorified, even as it is with you.

Q. 3. Who, and what hinders the propagation of it?

A. Antichriſt, that Man of Sin, hinders it externally, 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. Who oppoſeth and exalteth himſelf above all that is called God, or that is worſhipped: ſo that he as God ſitteth in the temple of God, ſhewing himſelf that he is God. The Devil and Mens Luſts internally, 1 Theſſ. 2. 18. Wherefore we would have come unto you (even I Paul) once and again, but Satan hindered. Luke 19. 14. But his citizens hated him, and ſent a meſſenger after him, ſaying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

Q. 4. What then is the deſire of all good Men, with reſpect to the coming of the Goſpel Kingdom?

A. That all Nations may be brought to Chriſt by the preaching of it, and ſo Chriſt's Kingdom be greatly exalted and enlarged, Iſa. 2. 2. And it ſhall come to paſs in the laſt days, that the mountain of the Lord's houſe ſhall be eſtabliſhed in the top of the mountains, and ſhall be exalted above the hills; and all nations ſhall flow unto it.

Q. 5. What's

Q. 5. What's the ſecond thing here meant by the Kingdom of God?

A. It ſignifies and intends the work of Saving Grace wrought in Mens Souls, Luke 17. 21.—Behold the Kingdom of God within you.

Q. 6. Why is this work of Grace called the Kingdom of God?

A. Becauſe whereever ſaving Grace comes, it ſubdues the Soul to Chriſt's Scepter, 2 Cor. 10. 5. Caſting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth it ſelf againſt the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Chriſt.

Q. 7. Wherein conſiſts the Kingdom of Grace?

A. It conſiſts not in external Rites and Obſervances, but in Righteouſneſs, and Peace, and Joy in the Holy Ghoſt, Rom. 14. 17. For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteouſneſs, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghoſt.

Q. 8. What do we ask of God in this Petition, with reſpect to this Kingdom of Grace?

A. Herein we deſire not only our own perſonal progreſſive Sanctification, but the Sanctification of others all the World over, Acts 26. 29. And Paul ſaid, I would to God that not only thou, but alſo all that hear me this day, were both almoſt and altogether ſuch as I am, except theſe bonds.

Q. 9. What's the third thing here meant by the Kingdom of God?

A. By it is here meant the future State of Glory and Bleſſedneſs, 1 Cor. 15. 50. Now this I ſay, brethren, that fleſh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, &c.

Q. 10. Why is the heavenly ſtate call'd the Kingdom of God?

A. This is call'd the Kingdom of God, becauſe in that State God Reigns over his People glorioufly, there being no Rebellion in them in the leaſt degree, Luke 20. 36.—For they are equal unto the angels, and are the children of God, being the children of the reſurrection. And they reign with Chriſt. Rev. 3. 21. To him that overcometh, will I grant to ſit with me in my throne, &c.

Q. 11. What do we deſire in Prayer for the coming of this Kingdom?

A. We deſire not only our Preſervation in our Paſſage to that State of Glory, 1 Pet. 5. 10. But the God of all grace, who hath called us into his eternal glory by Chriſt Jeſus, after that ye have ſuffered a while, make you perfect, ſtabliſh, ſtrengthen, ſettle you. But the haſtening of it to our ſelves and others, Rev. 22. 20.—Amen, even ſo come, Lord Jeſus.

Q. 12. What's the firſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That the Goſpel is an invaluable Mercy, as it is the Inſtrument of bringing us into Chriſt's Gracious and Glorious Kingdom, Acts 26. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkneſs to light, and from the power of ſatan unto God, that they may receive forgiveneſs of ſins, and inheritance among them which are ſanctified by faith that is in me.

Q. 13. What's the ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That many Men really hate and oppoſe the very thing they pray for.

Q. 14. What's the laſt Inſtruction hence?

A. That how firmly ſoever Satan's and Antichriſt's Kingdom ſeem to be founded in the World, they muſt and ſhall fall before the daily Prayers of the Saints.

Concerning the doing of God's Will.

Queſt. 103. What do we pray for in the third Petition?

A. In the third Petition, which is [Thy Will be done in Earth, as it is in Heaven] we pray, that God by his Grace would make us able and willing to know, obey, and ſubmit to his Will in all things, as the Angels do in Heaven.

Q. 1. What Will of God is here intended?

A. Not the Will of his Decree, for that is in himſelf alone; 1 Cor. 2. 11. The things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

Q. 2. What Will then is here meant?

A. The Will of his Providence may be here meant, Pſal. 125. 6. Whatſoever the Lord pleaſed, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the ſeas, and all deep places. And Pſal. 119. 89. For ever, O Lord, thy word is ſettled in heaven. Ver. 91. They continue this day according to thine ordinances; for all are thy ſervants.

Q. 3. How are we to underſtand the doing of this Will of Providence in Heaven?

A. (1.) As 'tis done by the Sun, Moon, and Stars, Pſal. 119. 89. Thy word is ſettled in heaven. Ver. 91. They continue this day according to thine Ordinances. Pſal. 19. 6. His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it; and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof. (2.) As 'tis done by Angels, Pſal. 104. 4. Who maketh the Angels Spirits; his miniſters a flaming fire. Heb. 1. ult. Are they not all miniſtring Spirits, ſent forth to miniſter for them who ſhall be heirs of ſalvation?

Q. 4. How do theſe perform the Will of God's Providence?

A. (1.) The Heavenly Bodies do it evenly, conſtantly and unweariedly, Pſal. 104. 19. He appointeth the Moon for ſeaſons, the Sun knoweth his going down. (2.) The Angels do it ſpeedily, voluntarily, cheerfully, and ſo knowingly, Pſal. 103. 21. Ye miniſters of his, that do his pleaſure.

Q. 5. Muſt we be Agents in this Providential Will?

A. Yes, we muſt, Acts 13. 36. For David, after he had ſerved his generation by the will of God, fell on ſleep.

Q. 6. How muſt we do it?

A. By employing our Abilities, Faculties, and Intereſts in the Duties of our particular Callings, and by moving conſtantly, prudently and vigorouſly in our own Sphere, and ſo imitate thoſe in Heaven.

Q. 7. Why do we pray that God's Will of Providence may be done by us?

A. Becauſe we are his Creatures, and the moſt noble Inſtruments of the inferior World; and therefore we ſhould be willing to be acted by him, and active for him; and becauſe this Will of Providence is always juſt, good, and true, and for his own Glory, Pſal. 145. 17. The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. Pſal. 119. 89. For ever, O Lord, thy word is ſettled in heaven. Ver. 91. They continue this day according to thine ordinances; for all are thy ſervants.

Q. 8. What other Will of God is here meant?

A. The Will of his Precepts; and this is chiefly intended.

Q. 9. And how is this Will of God done in heaven?

A. By the Angels 'tis done univerſally, chearfully, conſtantly, humbly, thankfully, loyally, readily, Pſal. 103. 20. Bleſs the Lord ye his Angels that excel in ſtrength, that do his commandments, hearkning unto the voice of his word. And ſo 'tis done by the Saints in Heaven, Rev. 7. 15. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and ſerve him day and night in his temple. And 22. 3. And his ſervants ſhall ſerve him.

Q. 10.

Q. 10. Do we pray then that we may thus do the Will of God?

A. Yes; for tho' we cannot perfectly without Sin do it, yet that is our Duty, Mat. 5. ult. Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. And in all other Particulars we may and we muſt imitate them herein. Pſal. 119. 6. Then ſhall I not be aſhamed, when I have reſpect unto all thy commandments. Ver. 14. I have rejoiced in the way of thy teſtimonies, as much as in all riches. Ver. 60. I made haſte, and delayed not to keep thy commandments. Ver. 112, &c. I have inclined my heart to perform thy ſtatutes alway, even unto the end.

Q. 11. How muſt we know God's will?

A. Not notionally and rationally only, but ſpiritually alſo, 1 Cor. 2. 14. They are ſpiritually diſcerned.

Q. 12. Why is knowing God's will placed here before doing it, &c?

A. Becauſe the Underſtanding is the leading Faculty, without which 'tis impoſſible there ſhould be any Obedience, Prov. 19. 2. Alſo that the ſoul be without knowledge it is not good. Jer. 5. 4. Therefore I ſaid, ſurely theſe are poor, they are fooliſh; for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

Q. 13. Why pray we to God for this Knowledge; can we not know it of our ſelves?

A. No, 'tis the ſpecial Gift and Grace of God, Gal. 1. 15, 16. But when it pleaſed God, who ſeparated me from my mothers womb, and called me by his grace, to reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen, immediately I conferred not with fleſh and blood. Eph. 1. 17, 19. That the God of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the Father of glory, may give unto you the Spirit of wiſdom and revelation in the knowledge of him.—And what is the exceeding greatneſs of his power to us-ward, who believe according to the working of his mighty power? Eph. 5. 8. For ye were ſometimes darkneſs, but now are ye light in the Lord.

Q. 14. Why do we pray that we may obey, can we not do it of our own free will when we know it?

A. No, for our Wills are ſtubborn and rebellious againſt God's Commands, as well as our Minds ignorant of them, Rom. 8. 7. Becauſe the carnal mind is enmity againſt God; for it is not ſubject to the law of God, neither indeed can be. Ezek. 36. 25, 26. Then will I ſprinkle clean water upon you, and ye ſhall be clean; from all your filthineſs, and from all your idols, will I cleanſe you. A new heart alſo will I give you, and a new ſpirit will I put into you: and I will take away the ſtony heart out of your fleſh, and I will give you an heart of fleſh. Phil. 2. 13. For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleaſure.

Q. 15. What is meant by ſubmitting to God's Will?

A. (1.) Either a voluntary Subjection of Soul, and preparedneſs actually to do his Will: Or (2.) A voluntary and ſilent Submiſſion to his Will of Providence in Affliction; but in this particular we cannot imitate thoſe in Heaven, becauſe no Croſs ever befals them.

Q. 16. Why is Will added in all things?

A. Becauſe partial Obedience is no Obedience; that does not obey God in every thing, obeys him in nothing, Jam. 2. 10. For whoſoever ſhall keep whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

Q. 17. Why do we pray that God by his Grace would work this Will in us and by us?

A. Becauſe 'tis Free-Grace that determines it, Tim. 1. 9. Who hath ſaved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpoſe and grace, which was given us in Chriſt Jeſus, before the world began. And efficacious Grace that works it in us, and enables us to do it, Eph. 5. 8. For ye were ſometimes darkneſs, but now are ye light in the Lord. Ver. 10. Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

Q. 18. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That 'tis Man's Glory and Felicity to be conformed to the Will of God, Prov. 12. 26. The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour. Pſal. 19. 10, 11. More to be deſired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold; ſweeter alſo than honey and the honey-comb. Moreover by them is thy ſervant warned; and in keeping of them there is great reward.

Q. 19. What is the ſecond Inference?

A. That we muſt mortifie in our ſelves every luſt that contradicts God's Will, and renounce without our ſelves every thing that comes in competition therewith, 1 Cor. 9. ult. But I keep under my body, and bring it into ſubjection; leſt that by any means when I have preached to others, I my ſelf ſhould be a caſt-away. Gal. 6. 14. But God forbid that I ſhould glory, ſave in the croſs of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

Q. 20. What is the third Inference?

A. That it is in vain, yea, a Provocation, to pray, if we be not obedient to God's Will, Prov. 2. 8, 9. He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preſerveth the way of his Saints. Then ſhalt thou underſtand righteouſneſs, and judgment, and equity; yea, every good path.

Q. 21. What is the fourth Inference?

A. That the Law ſtill hath the Authority of a Rule to Believers, becauſe it reveals God's Will, which they muſt do.

Concerning our Daily Bread.

Queſt. 14. What do we pray for in the fourth Petition?

A. In the fourth Petition, which is, [Give us this day our daily Bread] we pray, that of God's free Gift we may receive a competent portion of the good things of this Life, and enjoy his Bleſſing with them,

Q. 1. Why is this Petition placed after the three former?

A. Becauſe thoſe concern immediately and generally God's Glory, in the Advancement of his Name, Kingdom and Will, which ought to be preferred to all our perſonal Concerns, Pſal. 69. 9. For the zeal of thine houſe hath eaten me up. Acts 21. 13. For I am ready not to be bound only, but alſo to die at Jeruſalem for the name of the Lord Jeſus.

Q. 2. Why is it put before the two following Petitions?

A. Not for its Worth, but for its Order; for we can have no Spiritual Bleſſings, unleſs we have a Natural Being in this Life.

Q. 3. What kind of Bread is here meant?

A. Not Spiritual Bread, or our Lord Chriſt, (as ſome) but Corporal and Temporal.

Q. 4. What is included in this word Bread?

A. Not that only which we call ſtrictly Bread, but all the good things of this preſent Life.

Q. 5. Do we hereby beg pure Neceſſities only?

A. No, we pray for Conveniences for our Comfort, as well as Neceſſaries for our Life.

Q. 6. Do we herein pray only for perſonal good things for our Being?

A. No, we pray for civil good things for our Condition, that according to our degree in the World in which God hath placed us, we may have a convenient allowance.

Q. 7. Do we pray here for our ſelves only?

A. No,

A. No, but alſo for our Charge, Children and Family, that under and with us they may have the good things of this Life.

Q. 8. Why do we pray to God for theſe good things, can we not get them our ſelves, or our fellow creatures give them to us?

A. Not without God: Whatever we have of theſe things, they are from God; whoever be the Second Cauſe or Inſtrument; if our ſelves, God gives us Ability and Succeſs to get them; if others, God inclined their Hearts, and opened their Hands to beſtow them, Deut. 8. 17, 18. And thou ſay in thine heart, my power and the might of my hand hath gotten me this wealth. But thou ſhalt remember the Lord thy God; for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth.

Q. 9. Why do we pray to God to give us Bread?

A. Becauſe the leaſt crumb of Bread is a free Gift, and never can be merited by all we can do or ſuffer, Luke 17. 10. So likewiſe ye, when ye ſhall have done all theſe things which are commanded you, ſay, we are unprofitable Servants.

Q. 10. Why are all theſe things couched under the expreſſion Bread?

A. (1.) Becauſe Bread is one of the moſt neceſſary and uſeful things to preſerve Life. (2.) Becauſe we muſt not ask Delicacies and Dainties of God.

Q. 11. What is meant by Day in the Petition?

A. Either (1.) a natural Day of Twenty Four Hours; or (2.) the Day of our whole Life.

Q. 12. Why do we pray for Daily Bread?

A. Becauſe God muſt give us the Mercies and good things of every Day, or elſe we cannot have them.

Q. 13. Why ſhould we not pray for weekly, or monthly, or yearly Bread, as well as daily?

A. (1.) Becauſe 'tis fit we ſhould be ſtill ſenſible of our dependance upon God. (2.) Becauſe we do frequently pray to God, and ſo exert our Graces, and maintain Communion with him, and daily render thanks for daily favour, Pſal. 55. 17. Evening and morning, and at noon will I pray, and cry aloud, and he ſhall hear my voice.

Q. 14. What need we to pray for Daily Bread, when we may have ſtores laid up for Years?

A. They that have the good things of this Life need to pray this Petition, as well as they that have them not. Not that they may have Bread, but that it may be Bread to them; for except God give his Bleſſing upon it, Bread would be Aſhes, and not ſuſtaneous; neither could all the Comforts of this Life do us any good, Iſa. 3. 1. For behold, the Lord, the Lord of hoſts doth take away from Jeruſalem, and from Juda, the whole ſtay of bread, and the whole ſtay of water. Mal. 2. 1, 2. And now, O ye prieſts, this commandment is for you: If you will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, ſaith the Lord of hoſts, I will even ſend a curſe upon you, and I will curſe your bleſſings; yea, I have curſed them already, becauſe you do not lay it to heart.

Q. 15. Why do we pray only for Daily Bread, or a Competency, may we not pray for Abundance and Riches?

A. No, becauſe Riches are a great Snare and Temptation, Matth. 19. 23, 24. Then ſaid Jeſus unto his diſciples, Verily, I ſay unto you, that a rich man ſhall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven. And again I ſay unto you, it is eaſier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. Prov. 30. 8, 9. Remove far from me vanity and lies, give me neither poverty nor riches, feed me with food convenient for me; leſt I be full and deny thee, and ſay, who is the Lord? Or leſt I be poor and ſteal, and take the name of my God in vain.

Q. 16. What ſhall we then do with Riches, if Providence caſt them upon us, ſhall we caſt them away?

A. No; for ſome of the beſt of Men, and greateſt of God's Favourites, have liv'd and died rich. But (1.) we muſt wean our Hearts from them, Pſal. 62. 10. Truſt not in oppreſſion, and become not vain in robbery; if riches increaſe, ſet not your heart upon them. (2.) Be thankful for them; and (3.) Fruitful with them in Acts of Piety and Charity, 1 Tim. 6. 17, 19. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor truſt in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy: laying up in ſtore for themſelves a good foundation againſt the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

Q. 17. Wherefore is the Bread call'd our Bread?

A. Not becauſe we are abſolute Lords and Poſſeſſors of it, for ſo 'tis God's only, Pſal. 24. 1, 2. The earth is the Lord's, and the fulneſs thereof; the world and they that dwell therein. For he hath founded it upon the ſeas, and eſtabliſhed it upon the floods. Pſal. 50. 10, 12. For every beaſt of the foreſt is mine, and the cattle upon a thouſand hills. If I were hungry, I would not tell thee, for the world is mine, and the fulneſs thereof. But (1.) becauſe we muſt have a Covenant Right to it; and (2.) a Civil Right; we muſt come lawfully and honeſtly by, and ſo keep the good things of this Life, 2 Theſſ. 3. 10. For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither ſhould he eat.

Q. 18. Having pray'd for our Daily Bread, need we to labour and endeavour to get it?

A. Yes, we muſt labour in good and honeſt Callings; God's Bleſſing and Man's Induſtry muſt concur towards the preſent Maintenance of Life, Pſal. 128. 1, 2. Bleſſed is every one that feareth the Lord, that walketh in his ways, for thou ſhalt eat the labour of thine hands; happy ſhalt thou be, and it ſhall be well with thee. Prov. 10. 4, 22. He becometh poor that dealeth with a ſlack hand; but the hand of the diligent maketh rich. The bleſſing of the Lord maketh rich, and he addeth no ſorrow with it.

Q. 19. What is the firſt Inference from it?

A. That we muſt not ſeek great matters for our ſelves, neither make them the matter of Prayer to God; nor the End and Deſign of our Labours and Callings among Men.

Q. 20. What is a ſecond Inference from hence?

A. That having Food and Raiment, we muſt be therewith content, and therefore thankful, 1 Tim. 6. 8. And having food and raiment let us be therewith content. 1 Theſſ. 5. 18. In every thing give thanks.

Q. 21. What is the third Inference?

A. That we aſcribe not our Succeſs in the World to our own Skill and Induſtry, for the wiſeſt and moſt induſtrious do ſometimes labour in the Fire, and put their Gain in a Bag of Holes; but to God's free Donation to us, and to his Bleſſing upon our Endeavours, Gen. 33. 5, 11. And he lift up his eyes, and ſaw the women and the children, and ſaid, who are thoſe with thee? And he ſaid, the children which God hath graciouſly given thy Servant.—Take, I pray thee, my bleſſing that is brought to thee, becauſe God hath dealt graciouſly with me, and becauſe I have enough. Deut. 28. 3. Bleſſed ſhalt thou be in the city, and bleſſed ſhalt thou be in the field. Ver. 6. Bleſſed ſhalt thou be when thou comeſt in, and bleſſed ſhalt thou be when thou goeſt out.

Concerning Forgiveneſs of Sins.

Queſt. 105. What do we pray for in the fifth Petition?

A. In the fifth Petition, which is, [And forgive us our Debts, as we forgive our Debtors,] we pray, that God, for Chriſt's Sake, would freely pardon all our Sins: Which we are the rather encourag'd to aſk, becauſe by this Grace we are enabled from the Heart to forgive others.

Q. 1. Why doth this Petition immediately follow the former?

A. To teach, that all Temporal and Corporal Good Things, without Special and Spiritual ones, are little worth. Pſal. 4. 6. There be many that ſay, Who will ſhew us any good? Lord, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us. Pſal. 17. 14, 15. From men which are thy hand, O Lord; from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whoſe belly thou filleſt with thy hid treaſure. They are full of children, and leave the reſt of their ſubſtance to their babes. As for me, I will behold thy face in righteouſneſs: I ſhall be ſatisfied, when I awake with thy likeneſs.

Q. 2. Why is it annexed to the former with the Copulative and?

A. To teach, that to be one Minute in the Confluence of all Earthly Good Things, without the Pardon of Sin, is a very dangerous and dreadful Condition. Luk. 12. 16, 20. And he ſpake a parable unto them, ſaying; The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: But God ſaid unto him, Thou fool, this night ſhall thy ſoul be required of thee; then whoſe ſhall thoſe things be, which thou haſt provided?

Q. 3. Why is Forgiveneſs of Sins placed in the Front of Spiritual Bleſſings?

A. Becauſe till Sin be pardon'd, we are under Wrath, and can have no Special Saving Grace applied to us, till we are accepted; till we are in Chriſt, we have no Covenant-Right to the Bleſſings of Chriſt. Mat. 11. 28. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you reſt. Ver. 30. For my yoke is eaſy, and my burden is light. John 15. 4, 5. Abide in me, and I in you: As the branch cannot bear fruit of it ſelf, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine; ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the ſame bringeth forth much fruit: For without me ye can do nothing.-----Ver. 7. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you; ye ſhall aſk what ye will, and it ſhall be done unto you. Joh. 3. ult. He that believeth on the Son, hath everlaſting life; and he that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

Q. 4. Why do we pray for Forgiveneſs? Cannot we make Amends for our Sins, and be freed from their Guilt, without Pardon?

A. No; all that we can ever do or ſuffer, can never expiate the Guilt of the leaſt Sin. Pſal. 49. 8. None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ranſom for him: (For the redemption of their ſoul is precious, and it ceaſeth for ever.) 1 Sam. 2. 25. If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge him: but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall intreat for him?

Q. 5. Does God then freely, and out of mere Grace, forgive us?

A. Yes, without any Reſpect had to any Thing we can do, or be. Iſa. 43. 25. I, even I, am he that bloteth out thy tranſgreſſions for my own ſake, and will not remember thy ſins. Rom. 9. 15. I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy; and I will have compaſſion, on whom I will have compaſſion. Ver. 18. Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.

Q. 6. How doth God forgive Sins?

A. (1.) Univerſally, all Sins. Exod. 34. 6, 7. And the Lord paſſed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord, the Lord God; merciful and gracious, long-ſuffering, and abundant in goodneſs and truth; keeping mercy for thouſands; forgiving iniquity, and tranſgreſſion, and ſin. Jer. 33. 8. And I will cleanſe them from all their iniquity, whereby they have ſinned againſt me: And I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have ſinned, and whereby they have tranſgreſſed againſt me. Hoſ. 14. 2. Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciouſly. (2.) Compleatly and perfectly. Iſa. 43. 25. I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy tranſgreſſions for my own ſake, and will not remember thy ſins. Pſal. 103. 12. As far as the eaſt is from the weſt; ſo far hath he removed our tranſgreſſions from us. Mic. 7. 19. He will ſubdue our iniquities; and thou wilt caſt all our ſins into the depths of the ſea. Iſa. 38. 17. For thou haſt caſt all my ſins behind thy back. (3.) Everlaſtingly. Jer. 31. 34. For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their ſin no more. Heb. 8. 12. And their ſins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

Q. 7. But doth not God puniſh them afterward, whom he has juſtified and forgiven?

A. No, not with a proper and vindictive Puniſhment; but he brings Evil upon them for their Sins, as a Father chaſtiſes his Child; and other ſorts of Afflictions for their Spiritual Good: He may be angry, as a Father, with thoſe he has pardoned, but never hate them as a condemning Judge, Pſal. 89. 28. My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant ſhall ſtand faſt with him. Ver. 34. My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my Lips.

Q. 8. How can God be ſaid freely to pardon all our Sins, when we pray it may be done for Chriſt's ſake; does not that imply that Chriſt has ſatisfied God for our Sins, and deſerv'd our Remiſſion?

A. Yes, it does ſo; for the Lord Chriſt, by his Life and Death, did ſatisfie Divine Juſtice, and did merit our Forgiveneſs; but if he did ſo, we did not ſo: Our Sins coſt him dear, but their Pardon coſt us nothing; our Pardon is perfectly free to us, tho' due to Chriſt, for God gave Chriſt freely for us; God accepts of his Merits, and applies them to us freely, Rom. 3. 24. Being juſtified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jeſus Chriſt.

Q. 9. But is there nothing requir'd from us as the Condition of Pardon? and if ſo, how can it be abſolutely free?

A. There are requir'd Repentance from Sin, and Faith in the Lord Chriſt, Luke 13. 3. But except ye repent, ye ſhall all likewiſe periſh. John 3. ult. And he that believeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life, but the wrath of God abideth on him. This is requir'd from us towards our Pardon, but yet 'tis free, (1.) Becauſe God freely ordains thus to Pardon. (2.) Becauſe both theſe are the free Gifts of God, Acts 11. 18. Then hath God alſo to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life. Eph. 2. 8. For by grace are ye ſaved, through Faith; and that not of your ſelves, it is the gift of God.

Q. 10. When then are our ſins forgiven?

A. Juſt upon our Cloſure with Chriſt by Faith, in that very moment, Rom. 5. 1. Therefore being juſtified by Faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Rom. 8. 1. There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Chriſt Jeſus.

Q. 11. Why do we pray in the Anſwer, for the Forgiveneſs of all our Sins?

A. Becauſe if the leaſt Guilt ſhould remain upon us, 'twould exclude us from God's Favour, and lodge us in everlaſting Burnings. Rom. 6. ult. For the wages of ſin is death.

Q. 12. What are the Privileges and Bleſſings that accompany Pardon?

A. Juſtification is accompanied with Adoption. Joh. 1. 12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the ſons of God, even to them that believe on his name. With the Spirit and Principle of all Grace and Holineſs. 1 Cor. 6. 11. And ſuch were ſome of you; but ye are waſhed, but ye are ſanctified, but ye are juſtified, in the name of the Lord Jeſus, and by the Spirit of our God. With an infallible Title to Eternal Glory. Joh. 3. 16. That whoſoever believeth in him ſhould not periſh, but have everlaſting life. Rom. 8. 30. Whom he juſtified, them he alſo glorified.

Q. 13. How may we know that we are pardon'd and juſtified?

A. Ordinarily, by our Sanctification, by our Loathing of Sin, our Contempt of the World, our Valuing of Chriſt, our Love and Thankfulneſs to God, &c. 1 Cor. 6. 11. But ye are ſanctified. Rom. 7. 24. O wretched man that I am, who ſhall deliver me from the body of this death? Gal. 6. 14. By whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world. 1 Pet. 2. 7. Unto you therefore which believe, he is precious. Luke 7. 47. Her ſins, which are many, are forgiven; for ſhe loved much.

Q. 14. What is meant by [Our]? Is it only ſuch Sins as we have perſonally and actually committed?

A. No; but alſo Adam's Sin, which is ours by Imputation. Rom. 5. 19. By one man's diſobedience, many were made ſinners. And Original Sin, which is ours by Inheſion. Pſal. 51. 5. Behold, I was ſhapen in iniquity, and in ſin did my mother conceive me. And other Men's Sins, which we have made ours, by exciting them to them, not hindring of them, Silence at them, and other ways. 2 Sam. 12. 9. Thou haſt killed Uriah the Hittite with the ſword, and haſt taken his wife to be thy wife, and haſt ſlain him with the ſword of the children of Ammon. 1 Tim. 5. 22. Neither be partaker of other mens ſins.

Q. 15. Wherefore are Sins called Debts?

A. Becauſe they are a Non-Payment of God's Dues, a Non-Performance of our Duty; which makes us liable to the Arreſt of Death, and to the Priſon of Hell.

Q. 16. Why do we plead our own Forgiveneſs of others?

A. Not as any Merit of our own Pardon; but either as an Encouragement to our ſelves to beg Pardon; ſeeing ſuch evil, envious and malignant Perſons, are enabled to forgive others, much more may we hope the Good and Gracious God will forgive us: Or, as a Condition, without which we can have no Pardon, and with which we ſhall. Mat. 6. 14. For if ye forgive men their treſpaſſes, your heavenly Father will alſo forgive you.

Q. 17. How do others treſpaſs againſt us?

A. When they injure us, either in our Perſons, or Names, or Families, or Eſtates, or Souls, &c. 1 Sam. 2. 25. If one man ſin againſt another, the judge ſhall judge him; but if a man ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall intreat for him?

Q. 18. Can we forgive our Neighbours freely, fully and perfectly, as God doth forgive us?

A. We cannot.

Q. 19. What then is the Meaning of God's Forgiving us, as we forgive others?

A. Not as to the Quantity and Perfection of Forgiveneſs, but as to the Sincerity and Quality thereof. Mat. 18. ult. So likewiſe ſhall my heavenly Father do alſo unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their treſpaſſes.

Q. 20. Are we always bound to manifeſt outwardly our Love and Forgiveneſs to all our Enemies, and to behave our ſelves towards them as Friends?

A. No, if we have experienc'd them to be treacherous and falſe, and ſee no Change, we are not bound to truſt them; if they be and remain wicked and profane, we muſt not aſſociate with them. Pſal. 26. 5. I have hated the congregation of evil-doers, and will not ſit with the wicked. Ver. 4. I have not ſat with vain perſons, neither will I go in with diſſemblers.

Q. 21. What then muſt we do to ſuch?

A. We muſt heartily forgive them all their Injuries; we muſt love them with the Love of Benevolence, pray for them, and be ready and willing to do them all good, both of Body and Soul. Mat. 5. 44, 45. But I ſay unto you, love your enemies; bleſs them that curſe you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which deſpitefully uſe you and perſecute you. That you may be the children of your Father which is in heaven; for he maketh his ſun to riſe on the evil, and on the good, and ſendeth rain on the juſt, and on the unjuſt.

Q. 22. If we forgive others, ſhall we be forgiven our ſelves?

A. We ſhall, if out of Obedience to God, and Love to Chriſt, we do it.

Q. 23. What is the firſt Inference from hence?

A. That except our Sins be forgiven, we are loſt and undone Creatures; and therefore we muſt never be contented, till we are pardon'd.

Q. 24. What is a Second Inference?

A. That God is a God of Love, Goodneſs, and Pardon; ſeeing he will not pardon us, if we do not pardon others; but will, if we do ſo.

Q. 25. What is a Third Inference?

A. That if we live in Hatred when we pray the Lord's-Prayer, we pray for our own Damnation. Mat. 18. 22. Jeſus ſaith unto him, I ſay not unto thee until ſeven times, but until ſeventy times ſeven. Ver. 35. So likewiſe ſhall my heavenly Father do alſo unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their treſpaſſes.

Of God's leading us into Temptation.

Queſt. 106. What do we pray for in the ſixth Petition?

A. In the ſixth Petition, [which is, And lead us not into Temptation; but deliver us from Evil:] we pray, that God would either keep us from being tempted to Sin, or ſupport and deliver us when we are tempted.

Q. 1. Why is this Petition join'd to the former with the Copulative And?

A. Becauſe 'twill be but little Advantage to have former Sins pardon'd, and to be left to the Power and Practice, to the Love and Trade of Sin for the future. Ezek. 18. 26. When a righteous man turneth away from his righteouſneſs, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done, ſhall he die.

Q. 2. What is meant by Temptation?

A. In general, a Trial or Probation of what is in us, or of what we will do.

Q. 3. What is meant by Temptation here?

A. Temptation to Sin and Wickedneſs.

Q. 4. H

Q. 4. How may we be ſaid to be tempted to Sin?

A. (1.) Effectually by our ſelves, and our own Hearts. Jam. 1. 14, 15. But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own luſt, and enticed. Then when luſt hath conceived, it bringeth forth ſin; and ſin, when it is finiſhed, bringeth forth death. (2.) Formally, with an Intention to draw into Sin; and ſo we are tempted of the Devil: 1 Chron. 21. 1. And Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David to number Iſrael. Mat. 4. 1, 3. Then was Jeſus led up of the Spirit into the wilderneſs, to be tempted of the devil. And when the tempter came to him, he ſaid, If thou be the Son of God, command that theſe ſtones be made bread. (3.) Innocently, and blameleſly; and ſo God is ſaid to tempt: 2 Sam. 24. 1. And again the anger of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael; and he moved David againſt them to ſay, Go number Iſrael and Judah.

Q. 5. How many ways may God be ſaid to tempt to Evil?

A. (1.) By withdrawing his Grace, either common, or ſpecial. 2 Chron. 32. 31. Howbeit, in the buſineſs of the Ambaſſadors of the Princes of Babylon, who ſent unto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land; God left him to try him, that he might know all that was in his heart. (2.) By Permitting Satan, and Wicked Men, to tempt. 2 Sam. 24. 1. He moved David againſt them, to ſay, Go and number Iſrael and Judah. With 1 Chron. 21. 1. Satan ſtood up againſt Iſrael, and provoked David. Mat. 4. 1. Then was Jeſus led up of the Spirit into the wilderneſs, to be tempted of the devil. (3.) By preſenting Occaſions in his Providence, which he knows will be abuſed to Sin; as in the Fall of Adam, the Hard'ning of Pharaoh, &c.

Q. 6. What do we beg in this Petition?

A. We beg, that we may not any of theſe, or any other ways, whereby the Holy God may be ſaid to lead into Temptation, be led thereinto. Pſal. 141. 4. Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practiſe wicked works with men that work iniquity; and let me not eat of their dainties. Pſal. 19. 13. Keep back thy ſervant alſo from preſumptuous ſins; let them not have dominion over me: Then ſhall I be upright, and I ſhall be innocent from the great tranſgreſſion.

Q. 7. What is meant by Evil?

A. Some underſtand it of the Devil; but the beſt Meaning is Sin, which is the Evil of Evils, and makes the Devil evil; and is the worſt of Evils the Devil can bring upon us, and is uſually ſo underſtood in Scripture. Pſal. 97. 10. Ye that love the Lord, hate evil. Iſa. 1. 16. Ceaſe to do evil. Amos 5. 15. Hate the evil, and love the good. Rom. 12. 9. Abhor that which is evil.

Q. 8. What by Deliverance from Evil is meant?

A. That if God ſees meet to permit us to be tempted by Satan, and the Wicked without, or by our own Hearts within, to Sin; or occaſionally by his Providence; that he will not leave us, but undertake for us, that we may not be led into Sin thereby, but by his Grace be made more than Conquerors. Pſal. 51. 10. Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right ſpirit within me. Pſal. 119. 133. Order my ſteps in thy word; and let not any iniquity have dominion over me. According to his Promiſe; 1 Cor. 10. 13. But God is faithful, who will not ſuffer you to be tempted above that ye are able. 2 Cor. 12. 9. And he ſaid unto me, my grace is ſufficient for thee; for my ſtrength is made perfect in weakneſs.

Q. 9. What is the firſt Inference?

A. That Sin is the worſt of Evils.

Q. 10. What's the Second Inference?

A. That without God's Grace we can never withſtand, but ſhall be overcome by every Temptation. 2 Cor. 3. 5. Not that we are ſufficient of our ſelves, to think any thing as of our ſelves; but our ſufficiency is of God. Joh. 15. 5. For without me ye can do nothing.

Q. 11. What is the Third Inference?

A. That we muſt do all we can to keep our ſelves from Temptation, and to engage the Grace of God with us in Temptation, by Prayer, by Pleaſing the Spirit of God, by Looking to Jeſus, &c.

Of the Concluſion.

Queſt. 107. What doth the Concluſion of the Lord's-Prayer teach us?

A. The Concluſion of the Lord's-Prayer, [which is, For thine is the Kingdom, and the Power and the Glory, for ever and ever; Amen.] teacheth us, to take our Encouragement in Prayer from God only; and in our Prayers to praiſe him, aſcribing Kingdom, Power, and Glory to him; and in Teſtimony of our Deſire, and Aſſurance to be heard, we ſay, Amen.

Q. 1. Why is the Concluſion join'd to the Particle For?

A. To teach us, that therein are included Arguments, or Reaſons to preſs God withal, and to prevail with him for Audience.

Q. 2. But is it lawful to argue with God, and to urge him with Reaſons in Prayer?

A. 'Tis not only lawful, but expedient, yea, highly commendable; as is ſeen in the Saints Prayers. In Moſes's; Numb. 14. 13. And Moſes ſaid unto the Lord, Then the Egyptians ſhall hear it, (for thou broughteſt up this people in thy might from among them.) Ver. 19. Pardon, I beſeech thee, the iniquity of this people, according unto the greatneſs of thy mercy, and as thou haſt forgiven this people from Egypt, even until now. In Joſhua's, Chap. 7. 7. And Joſhua ſaid, Alas! O Lord God; wherefore haſt thou at all brought this people over Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to deſtroy us? Would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other ſide Jordan. Ver. 9. For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land ſhall hear of it, and ſhall environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth: And what wilt thou do unto thy great name? In Aſa's; 2 Chron. 14. 11. And Aſa cried unto the Lord his God, and ſaid; Lord, it is nothing with thee to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power. Help us, O Lord our God, for we reſt on thee; and in thy name, we go againſt this great multitude. O Lord, thou art our God; let not man prevail againſt thee. In Jehoſhaphat's; 2 Chron. 20. 6.----And ſaid, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heaven? And ruleſt not thou over all the kingdoms of the heathen? And in thine hand is there not power and might, ſo that none is able to withſtand thee? And Hezekiah's; 2 Kings 19. 15. And Hezekiah prayed before the Lord, and ſaid; O Lord God of Iſrael, which dwelleſt betweeen the Cherubims; thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: Thou haſt made heaven and earth. Ver. 19. Now therefore, O Lord our God, &c.

Q. 3. But to what Purpoſe can we think to prevail with God by our Arguments and Importunity?

A. They are not uſed, as tho' we would put God in Remembrance of any thing, or would prevail with God to do that for us, which he is unwilling to give.

Q. 4. Why then?

A. For our own Profit, for the enlarging of our own Hearts, for the exciting of our Fervency, for the exerting of Faith, Hope, Zeal, Charity, &c. in Prayer; and ſo to prepare our ſelves for the Mercy, that we may the more gratefully receive it, and the more fruitfully employ it.

Q. 5. How many Arguments are in this Concluſion?

A. Three.

Q. 6. From whence are they taken?

A. From God's Kingdom, from his Law, and from his Glory.

Q. 7. What Kingdom is here meant?

A. God's Univerſal, Eſſential, and Abſolute Kingdom; wherein may be, and is involved, his Special Kingdom over the Church.

Q. 8. What are the Arguments from hence?

A. Becauſe all that we can pray for in this Prayer, is for the Advancement and Perfecting of this his Kingdom, by the Deſtruction of all Perſons and Things that oppoſe it, and the Completion of his Dominion over all his Subjects; therefore he would grant all theſe Requeſts.

Q. 9. What is another?

(2.) Becauſe he being ſuch an Abſolute Lord and Sovereign, has an undeniable Right, and unqueſtionable Authority, to give and grant all we ask, and to effect and bring to paſs all we beg: For all Perſons and Things are his own, and at his Diſpoſal. Mat. 20. 15. Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with my own?

Q. 10. What is meant by Power?

A. God's Eſſential, Infinite, Irreſiſtible Power, whereby he can do what he pleaſes. Pſal. 135. 6. Whatſoever the Lord pleaſed, &c.

Q. 11. What is the Argument from hence?

A. That we ask nothing from God, but what he can do with infinite Eaſe, in deſpite of all the Oppoſition that Hell, Earth, and Heart can make to the contrary. Phil. 3. ult. According to the working, &c. Eph. 3. 20. Now unto him that is able, &c.

Q. 12. What is meant by Glory?

A. Not his Eſſential Glory; which no Man, or Angel, can ever apprehend.

Q. 13. What Glory then?

A. His declar'd and acknowledg'd Glory, even the Accompliſhment of all his Decrees by his Providence; and then the Love, the Adoration, and the Praiſes, the Self-Dedications of Angels and Saints, return'd to him for the ſame.

Q. 14. What is the Argument or Motive from hence?

A. That ſeeing the Subſtance of every Requeſt does directly tend to, and will perfectly end in, this Glory of God, when they are fully anſwer'd; therefore he would gradually anſwer them while we are here, and perfectly at laſt, to the Advancement of his Glory now, and the Completion of it then. 1 Chron. 29. 11. Thine, O Lord, is the greatneſs, and the power, and the glory, &c. Joſh. 7. 9. And what wilt thou do unto thy great name? Iſa. 42. 8. I am the Lord, that is my name, &c. Iſa. 48. 11. For my own ſake, even for my own ſake will I do it, &c.

Q. 15. Why is Amen added?

A. Becauſe 'tis the uſual Concluſion of Prayers and Praiſes. Pſal. 41. 13. Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, &c. Pſal. 72. 19. And bleſſed be his glorious name for ever, &c. 2 Cor. 13. ult. The grace of the Lord Jeſus, and the love of God, &c. Rom. 16. 20. The grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you. Amen.

Q. 16. But what doth this Word here ſignify?

A. It ſignifies (1.) the Reality and Ardency of our Deſire to be granted in what we pray for. Rev. 22. 20. He which teſtifieth theſe things, ſaith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even ſo come, Lord Jeſus.

Q. 17. And what beſides?

A. Our Truſt and firm Confidence, that we ſhall be heard and anſwer'd in all theſe our Requeſts. Rev. 1. 7. Even ſo, Amen. Rev. 7. 12. Saying, Amen. Bleſſing, and glory, and wiſdom, &c.

Q. 18. What are the Inferences from hence?

A. That we ought to uſe in Prayer all ſuch Arguments, as may moſt and beſt affect our Hearts towards God, excite our Graces, and ſucceed with God.

Q. 19. What's another?

A. That all we pray for muſt be in a Subſerviency to God's Kingdom, and with a Deſire of his Glory.

Q. 20. What is the next?

A. That we muſt act according to our Prayers; do all we can for the Advancement of God's Kingdom, and the Exaltation of his Glory, as Subjects and Votaries thereto. Pſal. 116. 16. 1 Cor. 10. 31.

Q. 21. What may more be gathered hence?

A. That as we ought to begin, ſo to continue, and conclude our Prayers, in loweſt Adorations of God, and Acknowledgments of his Glory and Attributes.

Q. 22. What more doth this Concluſion teach?

A. That in Prayer we muſt be fervent in our Deſires, and longing for what we pray. Jam. 5. 16.

Q. 23. Is there any thing beſides?

A. That praying for Things agreeable to God's Will, we ought to be confident that we ſhall ſucceed in our Requeſts, praying for the Matter, and after the Manner of this Prayer. Jam. 1. 6, &. Mat. 21. 22.

Vindi-

Vindiciæ Legis & Fœderis:

OR, A

REPLY

TO

Mr. PHILIP CARY's Solemn Call.

Wherein he pretends to Anſwer all the Arguments of Mr. ALLEN, Mr. BAXTER, Mr. SYDENHAM, Mr. SEDGWICK, Mr. ROBERTS, and Dr. BURTHOGGE,

For the Right of Believers Infants to BAPTISM.

By proving the Law at Sinai, and the Covenant of Circumciſion with Abraham, were the very ſame with Adam's Covenant of Works, and that becauſe the Goſpel-Covenant is Abſolute.

A Friendly PREFACE to the AUTHOR of the SOLEMN CALL, and the more Diſcreet and Charitable of the Party concern'd with him in this Controverſy.

Chriſtian Friends,

WHEN we open our Bibles, and read that Text, 1 Cor. 1. 10. we have cauſe to deal with it as Origen once did by another Scripture, even cloſe the Book, and weep over it, in conſideration of the weak and feeble Influences ſuch melting words, deliver'd with ſuch a Pathos, have upon the Hearts of Profeſſors this Day. Now I beſeech you, Brethren, by the Name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that ye all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no Diviſions among you, but that ye be perfectly joined together in the ſame Mind, and in the ſame Judgment.

I beſeech you] He dips the Nail in Oyl, that it may drive the eaſier. I beſeech you, Brethren] A Compellation breathing Sweetneſs and Affection, and ſhould drop from our Lips into each others Ears, with the ſame effect that Word once did upon the Ears of Benhadad's Servants, my Brother Benhadad. Sirs, (ſaid Moſes the ſtriving Iſraelites) ye are Brethren. O when all the Church become a true Philadelphia!

I beſeech you Brethren, by the Name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt] or as you love Jeſus Chriſt, ut quantum ſum amant, tantum ſtudeant concordiæ, ſaith Calvin; be as ſtudious of Concord, as you are free in profeſſing love to Chriſt.

That there be no Diviſions] or Rents among you; a Σχίσμα, Schiſm, or Rent in the Church, is much the ſame, and altogether as dangerous as a Στάσις or Sedition in the Common-wealth, and harder to be cured: For as the Lord Verulam truly obſerves, Differences amongſt perſecuting Enemies and the Church, are like the ſtrivings of the Egyptian with the Iſraelite, which Moſes quickly ended, by ſticking down the Egyptian; but Diſſentions in the Church are like the ſtriving of one Iſraelite with another; all that Moſes can do to quiet and part theſe, is only fair and gentle words, and reminding them that they Brethren.

Great is the miſchief of Diviſions among Chriſtians; and the leſs the Grounds and Cauſes are, the greater always is the Sin and Miſchief of them. In the Primitive Church Contentions grew fervent about Meats lawful and unlawful, which did not profit, the meaning is, it greatly damnified them that were occupied therein, Heb. 13. 9. Practical Religion among them grew cold, as Diſputations about theſe Trifles grew fervent.

The readieſt way to cool ſuch Heats is, by diſcovering the trivial nature of the Matter contended about; as Demoſthenes appeas'd the tumult among the People rais'd by a ſmall occaſion, by relating to them the Story of a Man that had hir'd an Aſs to carry him a Journey, but the Sun ſhining fervent, he was forced to quit her Back, and betake himſelf to her ſhadow; the Owner withſtood him, alledging, that he had hired the Body of the Aſs, but her Shadow was not in the bargain; and ſo the Contention between them grew as hot as the Sun. Many ſuch Trifles have raiſed great Contentions in the World; witneſs the great Contention betwixt the Eaſtern and Weſtern Church, about keeping of Eaſter.

Other Points there are of greater moment, about which good Men contend, and yet theſe oftentimes are magnified much above their true intrinſecal value. So I am ſure it is in the Controverſie before us. Mr. Cary tells us, That theſe things will be found at length to be of higheſt concernment unto us, and muſt therefore be our moſt ſerious Practice, pag. 243. If ſo, then the proper Subject of Baptiſm muſt be one of thoſe that is of greateſt weight, and the Profeſſion thereof, the very Schibboleth to diſtinguiſh one Perſon from another in matters of Religion. No wonder therefore the Fires of Contention are blown up to ſuch a vehement heat, even in ſuch an improper ſeaſon; much like the Contentions among the Engliſh Fugitives at Frankfort, when their Brethren were frying in the Flames

Flames at Smithfield. Juſt ſo muſt we be ſcuffling, whilſt thouſands of our Brethren are bleeding in Ireland. Had we a true Senſe of the quality of the Subject, or the unſeaſonableneſs of the Time, it would certainly allay theſe Heats among us. Did we ſee who ſtand by, and look with pleaſure upon our Follies, it would quickly allay our Heats. Tertullian tells the Chriſtians of his time, that they were like the Funambulones, or Men that walk upon Ropes, the leaſt tread awry might be their ruin, ſo narrowly did their Enemies watch them.

Sirs, the Peace, Safety and Honour of the Diſſenting Intereſt are things of too great value to be hazarded amongſt the hands of our common Enemies. You may fancy they will neglect the Advantage you give them; but if they do, the Devil will call them Fools for it. Mr. Herle tells us of a King's Fool, who wrote down the King himſelf in his Table among his Brother Fools, becauſe he had truſted an African Stranger with Four Thouſand Pounds to buy Barbary Horſes. The King asked him how he would make him amends, if the Stranger ſhould come again? Why then (ſaid he) I'll blot your Name out of my Table of Fools, and write down the African in your ſtead. Think not our Enemies are ſuch Fools to neglect the Advantage we caſt into their Hands. 'Tis a weighty Note of Livy, Conſilia non dant homines rebus, ſed res hominibus; Men don't counſel Things, but Time and Things counſel Men. Methinks the poſtures of Times and Affairs give us better Counſel than we ſeem to be govern'd by in ſuch work as this. Diviſions of Forty Years ſtanding and more, about Infants Baptiſm, have eaten up the Times, waſted the Spirits, and alienated the Hearts of Engliſh Profeſſors, divided them both in Society and Love; by reaſon whereof God's pleaſant Plant in this reſembles the Bramble, which taking Root at both Ends, by reaſon of the Rancounters of the Sap, commonly withers in the middle. Your Brethren, in their Narrative from their General Aſſembly, make a ſad and ſenſible complaint of withering in the Power of Godlineſs. And truly we as well as they may complain with the Church, We do all fade as a Leaf: The Lord help us to diſcern the true Cauſe, whether it be not the miſplacing of our Zeal, our being cold where we ſhould be fervent, and fervent hot where we ſhould be cool; and whether the eating up of ſo much time and ſtudy about Baptizing of Infants, have not kept us theſe Forty Years in the Infancy of our Graces?

I well remember that bleſſed time, when Ours and Yours were terms almoſt unknown among Profeſſors in England. When their Affections and Prayers melted and mingled together ſweetly in days of Humiliation, and other Duties of edifying and heavenly Communion; and then Churches began to flouriſh, and the Graces of Chriſtians every where flouriſhed, and became fruitful; but no ſooner did the Saints divide in Society and Affection, but theſe pleaſant Bloſſoms were nipt by it, as by a froſty morning. The Church form'd it ſelf as it were into two Armies, ſet in Battalia againſt each other. It was now with us much like as it's ſaid of the Amphisbena, that hath an Head at either end, of which neither can well move without the conſent of both; but if each move a contrary way, the Body tears in the middle. I doubt not but many that differ'd from us belong'd to Chriſt, the ſame Head with us; and yet 'tis paſt doubt, that many who ſeem'd to be of us were headed by Satan; and quickly diſcover'd themſelves to be ſo, by running farther than we firſt, or you next, imagin'd, even into Quakeriſm, Socinianiſm, Ranteriſm, and the fouleſt Puddle and Sink of complicated Errors; of which an impartial Stranger under the Name of Honorius Reggius, ἀναγεγμμενῶς, Georgius Hornius, having heard the Report in his own Country, came over on purpoſe into England for his particular and perfect information, and hath given the foreign Churches a full and ſad account thereof in a Latin Narrative, which I have by me; whereby I find, that if the Lord in mercy to us, had not let in a third Party with the common Calamity upon us all, we our ſelves muſt in all probability have mutually ruin'd each other. But God ſaw other Hands fitter for ſuch dirty Work than ours; and now it was time to reflect upon former Follies, and renew our ancient Acquaintance in the common Goals. And through the Goodneſs of God this did ſomewhat allay the Heats of good Men, and gave us freſh hopes of an hearty and laſting redintegration. We hoped the Furnace might have purged our Droſs, and melted our Hearts into Unity, both by diſcovering the Evils for which the Lord afflicted us, and the Sincerity of the Sufferers Hearts under thoſe Tryals. Chriſtians (ſaith Mr. Jenkins) if we muſt die, let us die like Men, by an unanimous holy Contention againſt the common Enemy; not like Fools, by giving him our Sword, and deſtroying one another by Schiſms in our own Bowels.

But alas! alas! no ſooner is the Rod off our Backs, and a reſpite from Sufferings given us, but we are preſently ſounding an Alarm to the Battel again, and, to my ſorrow, my ſelf unavoidably engaged therein.

Friends, I have a Witneſs in many of your Boſoms, how peacefully and reſpectfully I have always carried it towards you, even to ſuch a degree as began to bring me under the ſuſpicion of ſome of your Party, that I was inclining to their Opinion, tho' I did not openly profeſs it. But the true Reaſons of my Moderation in this Point were, (1.) That I ever did, and ſtill do, look upon many of you as Chriſtians, ſound in the other great Doctrines of the Goſpel. (2.) That there are difficulties in this Controverſie which may puzzle the Minds of well-meaning Chriſtians. (3.) I highly valued the Peace of the Church, and durſt do nothing that tended to keep open the breaches upon a Controverſie of this nature, you being for Purity in Doctrine and Worſhip in moſt other controverted Points, as well as we. (4.) I obſerv'd how rare a thing it is for engaged Parties to give ground.

Qui velit ingenio cedere, rarus erit.

(5.) My Head, Heart, and Hands have been filled with better Employments, from which I am extreamly loth to be diverted. If Bellarmine turn'd with loathing from School-Divinity, becauſe it wanted the ſweet juice of Piety, much more may I turn from ſuch perverſe Diſputes as theſe. Sure I may find as fair Expoſitions of Scripture, and as accurate and legitimate Diſtinctions among the School-men, as in Mr. Tombes's Examen and Apology; or (which for the moſt part is but a Tranſcript of both) in Mr. Cary's Solemn Call. But I ſee I muſt not be my own Chaſer; I cannot now be both ſilent and innocent; for in the Solemn Call I find the great Doctrines of God's Covenants abuſed by my Neighbour; the Books diſpers'd into many Families related to me in this place, one of them deliver'd to me by the Author's own Hand, with a preſſing deſire to give my Judgment upon it: Several Objections which I privately and ſeaſonably ſent him, to prevent the Sin and Folly of his Attempt, pretended to be anſwer'd from p. 164. ad p. 183. Thus am I neceſſarily brought into the Field of Controverſy; whither I come not a Volunteer but a preſs'd Man; not out of Choice, but Neceſſity. And now I am here, I reſolve to be only Adverſarius ſine non perſonæ, an Adverſary in the Controverſy, not the Perſon, eſpecially of my friendly Neighbour. Neither would I have appear'd thus publickly againſt him, if Differences could have been accommodated, and the Evil prevented in a more private way; in order whereto, I have punctually obſerv'd and kept the Rules and Meaſures of Friendſhip.

'Tis poſſible ſome may judge my Stile againſt him too ſharp; but if they pleaſe to read the Concluſion of Call, and my Answer, I presume they will find enough to make atonement for that fault, if it be a fault. 'Tis from the Nature of the Matter before me, not from defect of Charity to the Person or Party, that I am forced to be so plain and pungent as I am.

To conclude, I suspect this very Preface may be also censur'd for its plainness and tediousness. I confess, when Times are busie we should be brief; and I am perswaded a sufficient Preface may be contracted into four words, ἄνευ προοιμίων, καὶ παθῶν, without Preface or Passions. However, I have a little eased my own Heart, by discharging my Duty to my differing Brethren, and pleas'd my self, if not them.

The God of Peace create Peace in all the borders of Sion, beat our Swords into Plowshares, and our Spears into Pruning-hooks; I mean our Polemicals into Practicals; that Jerusalem may once more be a City compact, and no more terrible to her self, but only to her Enemies, as an Army with Banners. This, Brethren, is the Prayer, and shall ever be the Endeavour of

Your Friend and Servant in Christ,

JOHN FLAVELL.

PROLEGOMENA.

BEfore we enter into the main Controversie, it will be necessary to acquaint the Reader, why I begin with the middle of the Book; and it is because I there find these three Principles or Positions, on which the other parts of his Discourse are superstructed; and these being destroy'd, his other Discourses are but aræne, sine calce. I properly therefore begin with the Foundation.

Next I shall shew how far we are agreed in the Matters here Controverted, and where it is in each of these that the Controversie indeed lies betwixt us. And as to

I. Position, viz.

That the Sinai Law is the same with Adam's Covenant of Works, made in Paradise:

The Difference betwixt us here is not (1.) Whether both these be call'd Covenants in Scripture? nor (2.) Whether there were no Grace at all in both, or either of them; for we are agreed, it is Grace in God to enter into Covenant with Man, whatever that Covenant be. Nor (3.) Whether the Sinai Law be not a Covenant of Works to some Men, by their own fault and occasion? Nor (4.) Whether the Scriptures do not many times speak of it in that very Sense and Notion wherein Carnal Justiciaries apprehend and take it; and by rejecting Christ, make it so to themselves? Nor (5.) Whether the very Matter of the Law of Nature be not reviv'd and represented in the Sinai Law? These are not the Points we contend about. But the Question is, Whether the Sinai Law do in its own Nature, and according to God's Purpose and Design in the Promulgation of it, revive the Law of Nature, to the same Ends and Uses it serv'd to in Adam's Covenant; and so is properly and truly a Covenant of Works? Or whether God had not gracious and Evangelical Ends and Purposes, viz. by such a dreadful Representation of the severe and impracticable Terms of the first Covenant, instead of obliging them to the Personal and punctual Observance of them for Righteousness and Life, he did not rather design to convince them of the impossibility of legal Righteousness, humble proud Nature, and shew them the necessity of betaking themselves to Christ, now exhibited in the New Covenant, as the only Refuge to fallen Sinners. The latter I defend according to the Scriptures, the former Mr. Cary seems to assert and vehemently argue for.

2*dly*. In this Controversy about the Sinai Law, I do not find Mr. Cary distinguishing (as he ought) betwixt the Law consider'd more largely and comprehensively, as containing both the Moral and Ceremonial Law, for both which it is often taken in Scripture, and more strictly for the Moral Law only, as it is sometimes used in Scripture. These two he makes one and the same Covenant of Works; though there be some that doubt whether the meer Moral Law may not be a Covenant of Works; yet I never met with any Man before, that durst affirm the Ceremonial Law, which is so full of Christ, to be so; and to this Law it is that Circumcision appertains.

3*dly*. The Moral Law, strictly taken for the Ten Commandments, is not by him distinguish'd (as it ought to be, and as the Scripture frequently doth) according to God's Intention and Design in the Promulgation of it, which was to add it as an Appendix to the Promise, Gal. 3. 19. and not to set it up as an opposite Covenant, Gal. 3. 21. as the carnal Jews mistaking and perverting the use and end of the Law, and making it to themselves a Covenant of Works, by making it the very Rule and Reason of their Justification before God, Rom. 9. 32, 33. Rom. 10. 3. These things ought carefully to have been distinguish'd, forasmuch as the whole Controversy depends on this double Sense and Intention of the Law; yea, the very denomination of that Law depends hereon: For I affirm, it ought not to be denominated from the abused and mistaken End of it amongst carnal Men, but from the true Scope, Design and End for which God publish'd it after the Fall: And tho' we find such Expressions as these in Scripture, The man that doth them shall live in them; and Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things, &c. yet these respecting the Law, not according to God's Intention, but Man's Corruption and Abuse of it, the Law is not thereby to be denominated a Covenant of Works. God's End was not to justifie them, but to try them by that terrible Dispensation, Exod. 20. 20. whether they would still hanker after that natural way of Self-righteousness: For this End God propounded the Terms of the first Covenant to them on Sinai, not to open the way of Self-justification to them, but to convince them, and shut them up to Christ; just as our Saviour, Matt. 19. 17. puts the young Man upon keeping the Commandments, not to drive him from, but necessitate him to himself in the way of Faith.

The Law in both these Senses is excellently describ'd, Gal. 4. in that Allegory of Hagar and Sarah, the Figures of the two Covenants. Hagar in her first and proper Station was but a serviceable Handmaid to Sarah, as the Law is a Schoolmaster to Christ; but when Hagar the Handmaid is taken into Sarah's Bed, and brings forth Children that aspire to the Inheritance, then saith the Scripture, Cast out the Bond-woman, with her Son. So it is here; take the Law

Law in its primary use, as God design'd it, as a Schoolmaster or Handmaid to Christ and the Promise, so it is consistent with them, and excellently subservient to them; but if we marry this Handmaid, and espouse it as a Covenant of Works, then are we bound to it for Life, Rom. 7. and must have nothing to do with Christ. The Believers of the Old Testament had true Apprehensions of the right End and Use of the Law, which directed them to Christ, and so they became Children of the Free-woman. The Carnal Jews trusted to the Works of the Law for Righteousness, and so became the Children of the Bond-woman; but neither could be Children of both at once, no more than the same Man can naturally be born of two Mothers. This is the Difference betwixt us about the first Position. And as to the II Position.

That Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. is an Adam's Covenant of Works also, because Circumcision was annexed to it, which obliged Men to keep the whole Law:

The Controversy betwixt us in this Point, is not whether Circumcision were an Ordinance of God, annexed by him to his Covenant with Abraham: Nor (2.) Whether Abraham's ordinary and extraordinary Seed ought to be, and actually were Sign'd by it? Nor (3.) Whether it were a Seal of the Righteousness of Faith to any individual Person; for he allows it to be so to Abraham? Nor (4.) Whether it pertain'd to the Ceremonial Law, and so must cease at the Death of Christ? But the Difference betwixt us is, Whether (1.) it was a Seal of the Covenant to none but Abraham? And, (2.) Whether in the very Nature of the Act, or only from the Intention of the Agent, it did oblige Men to keep the whole Law, as Adam was obliged to keep it in Innocency? (3.) Whether it were utterly abolish'd at the Death of Christ, as a Condition of the Covenant of Works; or being a Sign of the same Covenant of Grace we are now under, it be not succeeded by the new Gospel-sign, which is Baptism? Mr. Cary affirms, that it was in it self a Condition of the Covenant of Works, and being annexed to God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. it made that a true Adam's Covenant of Works also. This I utterly deny, and say, Abraham's Covenant was a true Covenant of Grace. (2.) That Circumcision was a Seal of Righteousness of Faith, and therefore could not possibly belong to the Covenant of Works. (3.) That as it was applied both to the ordinary and extraordinary Infant-seed of Abraham, during that Administration of the Covenant, so it is the Will of Christ that Baptism should take its place under the Gospel, and be applied now to the Infant-seed of all Abraham's Spiritual Children. These are the things wherein we differ about the second Position. And lastly, as to the

III Position.

That neither Moses's Law, Exod. 20. nor God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. can be any other than an Adam's Covenant of Works, because they have each of them Conditions in them on Man's part; but the Gospel-Covenant hath none at all, but is altogether free and absolute:

The Controversy here betwixt us is not (1.) Whether the Gospel-covenant requires no Duties at all of them that are under it? Nor (2.) Whether it requires any such Conditions as were in Adam's Covenant, namely, perfect, personal, and perpetual Obedience, under the severest Penalty of a Curse, and admitting no place of Repentance? Nor (3.) Whether any Condition requir'd by it, on our part, have any thing in its own Nature Meritorious of the Benefits promised? Nor (4.) Whether we be able in our own Strength, and by the Power of our Free Will, without the preventing as well as the assisting Grace of God, to perform any such Work or Duty as we call a Condition? In these things we have no Controversy; but the only Question betwixt us is Whether in the New Covenant some Act of ours (tho' it have no Merit in it, nor can be done in our own single Strength) be not requir'd to be perform'd by us, antecedently to a Blessing or Privilege consequent by vertue of a Promise? And whether such an Act or Duty, being of a suspending Nature to the Blessing promis'd, it have not the true and proper Nature of a Gospel Condition? This I affirm, and he positively denies.

These three Positions being Confuted, and the contrary well confirm'd, viz. that the Law at Sinai was not set up by God as an Adam's Covenant, to open the old way of Righteousness and Life by Works; but was added to the Promise, as subservient to Christ in its Design and Use, and consequently can never be a pure Adam's Covenant of Works. And secondly,

That Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. is the very same Covenant of Grace we are now under; and (2*dly*,) That Circumcision in the Nature of the Act did not oblige all Men to keep the whole Law for Righteousness. And (3*dly*,)

That the New Covenant is not absolutely and wholly unconditional, though notwithstanding a most free and gracious Covenant; the Pillars on which Mr. Cary sets his new Structure sink under it, and the Building falls into Ruins.

I have not here taken Mr. Cary's two Syllogisms, proving Abraham's Covenant to be a Covenant of Works, because I find my self therein prevented by that ingenious and learned Man Mr. Whiston, in his late Answer to Mr. Grantham. Neither have I particularly spoken to his Twenty Three Arguments to prove the Sinai Law to be a pure Adam's Covenant, because frustra fit per plura, quod fieri potest per pauciora; I have overthrown them all together at one blow, by evincing every Argument to have four Terms in it, and so proves nothing; but I have spoken to all those Scriptures which concern our four Positions, and fully vindicated them from the injurious Senses to which Mr. Cary (following Mr. Tombes) had wrested them.

These things premised, I shall only further add, that if Mr. Cary shall attempt a Reply to my Answer, and free his own Theses from the gross Absurdities with which I have loaded them, he must plainly and substantially prove against me,

(1.) That the Sinai Law, according to its true Scope and End, was promulgated by God for Man's Justification and Happiness in the way of personal Obedience; and that the Jews, that did accordingly endeavour after Righteousness by the Works of the Law, did not mistake its true End and Meaning; or if they did, and thereby made it what God never intended it to be, a Covenant of Works to themselves, that the Sinai Law ought rather to be denominated from their Mistake and Abuse of it, than from its primary and proper Use, and God's Design in its Promulgation.

(2.) He must prove against me with like Evidence of Truth, that Circumcision discover'd no more of Man's Native Corruption, nor any more of his Remedy by Christ; nor sealed to any Person whatsoever the Righteousness of Faith, than Adam's Covenant in Paradise did; and that it did in its own Nature oblige all upon whom it passed, to the same terms of Obedience that Adam's Covenant oblig'd him. And,

(3.) That there is not to be found in the New Covenant any such Act or Duty of ours, as hath been describ'd and limited above; which is of a suspending Nature to the Benefits therein granted. And,

(4.) That the respective Expositions he gives of the several Texts by me explain'd and vindicated, are more congruous to the Scope and Grammar than mine are, and more agreeable to the current sense of Orthodox Expositors; and then he shall be sure to receive an answerable return from me, else 'tis but labour lost to write again.

A REPLY TO Mr. PHILIP CARY's Solemn Call, &c.

THE Book I have undertaken to Animadvert briefly upon, bears the Title of A Solemn Call; but I am not so much concern'd with the Solemnity as I am with the Authority of this Call. Not how it is, but whose it is. If it be the Call of God, it must be obey'd, tho' it be to part not only with the Privileges, but Lives of our dearest Children; but then we had need to be very well assur'd it is the Call of God, else we are guilty at once of the highest Folly, and basest Treachery, to part with so rich an Inheritance, convey'd by God's Covenant with Abraham, to us believing Gentiles, and our Seed, at Mr. Cary's Call.

You direct your Solemn Call to all that would be own'd as Christ's faithful Witnesses.

Here you are too obscure and general: Do you mean all that would be own'd by you, or by Christ? If you mean, that we must not expect to be own'd by you till we renounce Infants Baptism, you tell us no News, for you have long since turn'd your back upon our Ministry and Assemblies: Yet methinks 'tis strange, that we who were lately own'd as Christ's faithful Witnesses under our late Sufferings, must now be disown'd by you, when we have been forward to amplifie and confirm our Testimony in the peaceful improvement of our common Liberty. But if your meaning be, (as I strongly suspect it) that we must not expect to be own'd by Christ, except we give up Infants Baptism; then, I say, it is the most uncharitable, as well as unwarrantable, and dangerous Censure that ever dropt from the Pen of any sober Christian. 'Tis certainly your great Evil to lay Salvation it self on such a point as the proper Object of Baptism, and to make it Articulus Stantis, vel cadentis Religionis, the very Basis on which the whole Christian Religion and its Professors Salvation must stand. I hope the rest of your Brethren are more charitable than your self; but however it is what I do openly profess, that I ever have, and still do own you, and many more of your Persuasion, as my Brethren in Christ, and am perswaded that I will own you too, notwithstanding your Errors and Mistakes about the lesser and circumstantial Matters of Religion. Nor need your Censure much to affect us, as long as we are satisfied that we have neither a Faculty nor Commission thus peremptorily to pronounce it upon us.

But what's the Condition upon which this dreadful Sentence depends? why, it is our Attendance or Non-attendance to the Primitive Purity of the Gospel Doctrine.

Sir, I hope we do attend it, and in some respects better than some greater Pretenders to Primitive Purity, who have cast off not only the initiating Sign of God's Covenant, (this did not Abraham) but also that most comfortable and ancient Ordinance of singing Psalms; and what other Primitive Ordinance of God may be cashier'd next, who can tell?

We have a Witness in your Bosom, that the Defence of Christ's pure Worship and Institution hath cost us something; and as for me, were I convinced by all that you have here said, or any of your Friends, that in baptizing the Infants of Believers, we did really depart from the Primitive Purity, I would renounce it, and turn Anabaptist the same Day.

But really, Sir, this Discourse of yours hath very much convinc'd me of the weakness and sickliness of your Cause, which is forc'd to seek a new Foundation, and is here laid by you upon such a Foundation as must inevitably Ruin it, if your Party, as well as your self, have but Resolution enough to venture it thereupon.

And it appears to me very probable, that they intend to fight us upon the new Ground you have here chosen and mark'd out for them, by the high Encomiums they give your Book in their Epistles to it, wherein they tell us, Your Notions are of so rare a Nature, that you are not beholden to any other for them; and it is a wonder if you should, for I think it never enter'd into any sober Christian's Head before you, that Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. was the very same with Adam's Covenant made in Paradise; or that Moses, Abraham, and all the Elect of God in those Days were absolutely under the very Rigor and Tyranny of the Covenant of Works, and at the same time under the Covenant of Grace, and all the Blessings and Priviledges thereof; with many other such rare Notions, of which it is pity but you should have the sole Propriety.

I am particularly concern'd to detect your dangerous Mistakes, both in love to your own Soul, and care of my Peoples, amongst whom you have dispers'd them; tho' I foresee by M. E's Epistle to your Book, what Measure I am like to have for my plain and faithful dealing with you; for if that Gentleman, upon a meer ſurmiſe and preſumption that one or other would oppoſe your Book, dare adventure to call your unknown Anſwerer, before ever he put Pen to Paper, a Man-pleaſer, a Quarreller at Reformation, and rank him with the Papiſts, which oppos'd the Faithful for their Nonconformity to their Inventions: What muſt I expect from ſuch raſh Cenſurers, for my ſober, plain, and rational Confutation of your Errors?

As to the Controverſy betwixt us, you truly ſay in your Title Page, and many parts of your Book, and your Brethren comprobate it in their Epiſtles, that the main Arguments made uſe of by the Pædo-baptiſts, for the Support of their Practice, are taken from the Covenant of God with Abraham, Gen. 17. You call this the very Hinge of the Controverſy; and therefore if you can but prove this to be the very ſame Covenant of Works with that made with Adam in Paradiſe, we ſhall then ſee what Improvements you will quickly make of it.

Ay, Sir, you are ſenſible of the Advantage, no leſs than a compleat Victory you ſhall obtain by it; and therefore being a more hardy and adventurous Man than others, put deſperately upon it, (which never any before you durſt attempt) to prove Abraham's Covenant, which ſtands ſo much in the way of your Cauſe, to be a meer Covenant of Works, and therefore now aboliſh'd.

My proper Province is to diſcover here, that part of the Foundation (I mean Abraham's Covenant) whence our Divines, with great Strength and Evidence, deduce the Right of Believers Infants to Baptiſm now. Next, to evince the Abſurdity of your Aſſertions and Arguments you bring to deſtroy it: And laſtly, To Reflect briefly upon the Anſwers you give in the beginning of your Book, to thoſe ſeveral Texts of Scripture pleaded by the learned and judicious Divines you oppoſe, for the juſtification of Infants Baptiſm.

(1.) Thoſe that plead God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. as a Scripture Foundation for baptizing Believers Infants under the Goſpel, proceed generally upon theſe four Grounds or Principles.

(1.) That God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. was the ſame Covenant for Subſtance we Gentile Believers are now under; and they ſubſtantially prove it from Luke 1. from the 54th to the 74th Verſe; which place evidently ſhews the ſameneſs of the Covenant of Grace they were and we are now under; and from Matth. 21. 41, 43. the ſame Vineyard and Kingdom the Jews then had, is now let out to us Gentiles; and from Rom. 11. that the Gentile Chriſtians are grafted into the ſame Olive-tree, from which the Jews were broken off for their Unbelief; and that the Bleſſing of Abraham cometh now upon the Gentiles, Gal. 3. 8, 14, 16. And in a word, that the Partition Wall betwixt them and us, is now pulled down; and that we, through Faith, are let into the ſelf-ſame Covenant, and all the Privileges they then enjoy'd, Epheſ. 2. 13.

(2.) They aſſert and prove, That in Abraham's Covenant the Infant-Seed were taken in with their Parents, and that in token thereof, they were to have the Sign of the Covenant applied to them, Gen. 17. 9.

(3.) They affirm and prove, That the Promiſe of God to Abraham and his Seed, with the Privileges thereof to his Children, do, for the ſubſtance of them, deſcend to Believers now, and their Seed, Acts 2. 38, 39. and tho' the external Sign, viz. Circumciſion, be chang'd, yet Baptiſm takes its place under the Goſpel, Col. 2. 11, 12.

(4.) They conſtantly affirm, That none of thoſe Grants or Privileges made to the Infant-Seed of Abraham's Family, were ever repeal'd or revok'd by Chriſt or his Apoſtles; and therefore Believers Children now are in the rightful Poſſeſſion of them; and that therefore there needed no new Command or Promiſe: In Abraham's Command we find our Duty to ſign our Children with the Sign of the Covenant; and in Abraham's Promiſe we find God's gracious Grant to our Children, as well as his, eſpecially ſince the Apoſtle directs us, in this very reſpect, to the Covenant of God with Abraham, Acts 2. 38, 39.

Theſe, Sir, are the Principles on which we lay (as you ſay) great ſtreſs, and which to this Day you have never been able to ſhake down; here therefore you attempt a new method to do it, by proving this Covenant is now aboliſh'd; and this is your method in which you promiſe your ſelf great Succeſs: Three things you pretend to prove;

(1.) That the Sinai Covenant, Exod. 20.

(2.) That Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. are no Goſpel-Covenants; and that becauſe, (3.) The Goſpel-Covenant is Abſolute and Unconditional.

How you come to hook in the Moſaick Covenant into this Controverſy, is not very evident, unleſs you think it were eaſy for you to prove that to be Covenant of Works; and then Abraham's Covenant Gen. 17. being an Old Teſtament Covenant, were the more eaſily proved to be of the ſame Nature. I am oblig'd to examine your three Poſitions above noted, and if I evidence to the World the falſity of them, the Cauſe you manage is ſo far loſt, and the right of Believers Infants to Baptiſm ſtands firm upon its old and ſure Foundation. I begin therefore with your

I. Poſition.

That the Covenant made with Iſrael on Mount Sinai is the very ſame Covenant of Works made with Adam in Innocency, p. 122. and divers other places of your Book, the very ſame.

Now, if I prove that this Aſſertion of yours does naturally and regularly draw many falſe and abſurd Conſequents upon you, which you are and muſt be forced to own, then this your Poſition cannot be true; for from true Premiſſes nothing but Truth can naturally and regularly follow: But I ſhall make it plain to you, that this your Poſition regularly draws many falſe Concluſions and groſs Abſurdities upon you; ſome of which you own expreſly, and others you as good as own, being able to return nothing rational or ſatisfactory in your own Defence against them.

(1.) From this Aſſertion, That the Sinai Covenant was a pure Covenant of Works, the very ſame with Adam's Covenant, it regularly and neceſſarily follows, that either Moſes and all Iſrael were damned, there being no Salvation poſſible to be attain'd by that firſt Covenant; or elſe, that there was a Covenant of Grace at the ſame time running parallel with that Covenant of Works; and ſo the Elect People of God were at one and the ſame time under the firſt, as a Covenant of Death and Condemnation; and under the ſecond, as a Covenant of Grace and Juſtification.

This Dilemma pinches you. To aſſert, that Moſes and all the Elect of God under that Diſpenſation were damn'd, you dare not; and if you had, you muſt have expung'd the Eleventh Chapter to the Hebrews, and a great part of the New Teſtament together with all your Hopes of ſitting down with Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob, in the Kingdom of Heaven. The latter therefore (ſeeing you cannot avoid) you are forc'd upon, and in plain words yield it, p. 174, 175. That Moſes, and the whole Body of the Children of Iſrael, without exception of any, were under, yea, abſolutely under the ſevereſt penalties of a dreadful Curſe; That the Covenant they were under could be no other than a Covenant of Works, a miniſtration of Death and Condemnation; when yet it is alſo evident from the ſame Holy Scriptures of Truth, that at the ſame time both Moſes and all the Elect among that People, were under a pure Covenant of Goſpel-grace; and that theſe two Covenants were juſt oppoſite the one to the other; but to this you have nothing to ſay, but with the Apoſtle in another Caſe, O the depth!

Here, Sir, you father a pure and perfect contradiction upon the Holy Scriptures, That it ſpeaks things juſt oppoſite and contradictory one to the other, and of neceſſity one part or member of a Contradiction muſt be falſe: This all the rational World knows; but ſo it is, ſay you, and fly to the Infinite Wiſdom to reconcile them; for you ſay, You know not what to ſay to it. Juſt ſo the Papiſts ſerve us in the Controverſy about Tranſubſtantiation, when they cannot reconcile one thing with another, they fly to the Omnipotent Power to do it.

But, Sir, I wonder how you hold and hug a Principle that runs naturally into ſuch groſs Abſurdities: do you ſee what follows from hence by unavoidable Conſequence? You muſt, according to this Principle, hold, That Moſes, and all God's peculiar Elect People in Iſrael, muſt, during their Life, hang mid-way between Juſtification and Condemnation; and after Death, between Heaven and Hell.

(1.) During Life, they muſt hang mid-way between Juſtification and Condemnation; juſtified they could not be, for Juſtification is the Soul's paſſing from Death to Life, 1 John 3. 14. John 5. 24. This they could not poſſibly do, for the miniſtration of Death and Condemnation hindred. He that is under Condemnation by the Law, cannot, during that State, paſs into Life. And yet to be under Condemnation is as impoſſible on the other ſide; for he that is juſtified, cannot at the ſame time be under Condemnation, Rom. 8. 1. John 5. 24. What remains then, but that during Life they muſt ſtick mid-way betwixt both, neither juſtified nor condemn'd; and be both ſo and ſo. Juſtification is our Life, and Condemnation our Death in Law: Betwixt theſe two which are privately oppos'd, there can be no Medium of participation, and yet ſuch a Medium you make fancy.

(2.) And then after Death they muſt neceſſarily hang betwixt Heaven and Hell; to Heaven none can go that are under the very rigor and tyranny of the Law, a pure Covenant of Works, as you ſay they were. To Hell they could not go, being under a pure Covenant of Grace: What remains then, but the third State muſt be aſſign'd them; and ſo at laſt you have found the Limbus Patrum, and your Poſition leads us right to Purgatory; a Concluſion which, I believe, you your ſelf abhor as much as I.

(3dly,) This Hypotheſis pinches you with another Dilemma, viz. Either there was pardon on Repentance in Moſes's Covenant and the Sinai Diſpenſation of the Law, or there was none; if you ſay none, you directly contradict Lev. 26. 40, 46. if there were, then it cannot be Adam's Covenant of Works.

You anſwer, pag. 179. That God promiſeth Pardon for the Breach of Moſes's Covenant, and of Adam's Covenant too, but neither Adam's Covenant, nor the Jewiſh legal Covenant, promiſed any Pardon upon Repentance, but rather threatens and inflicts the contrary.

Reply. Either this is a direct Anſwer to my Argument, to prove the Law at Sinai cannot be a pure Adam's Covenant, becauſe it had a Promiſe of Pardon annexed to it, Lev. 26. 40. but Adam's Covenant had none. If your Anſwer be direct, then 'tis a plain contradiction in ſaying it had, and it had not a promiſe of Pardon belonging to it. Or elſe it is a meer Evaſion, and an eluding of the Argument; and your only meaning is, that the Relief I ſpeak of is not to be found in any Promiſe belonging to the Sinai Diſpenſation, but in ſome other Goſpel Covenant or Promiſe. But Sir, this will not ſerve your turn; you ſee I cite the very Promiſe of Grace made to the Iſraelites on Mount Sinai by the hand of Moſes, wherein God promiſeth, upon their Humiliation, to remember his Covenant for their good. Now, Sir, you had as good have ſtood to your firſt Anſwer, which is ſelf-contradictory, as to this which is no leſs ſo; as will evidently appear by a nearer and more particular view of the Place, and gathering up your own Conceſſions about it. That this Text, Lev. 26. 40. hath the Nature of a gracious Goſpel-promiſe in it, no Man can deny, except he that will deny that God's remembring of his Covenant, for the Relief of poor broken-hearted Sinners, is no Goſpel-promiſe pertaining to the Covenant of Grace: That it was made to the penitent Iſraelites upon Mount Sinai, and there deliver'd them by the Hand of Moſes for their Relief, is as viſible and plain as the Words and Syllables of the 46th Verſe are to him that reads them. Let the Promiſe then be conſider'd both ways, (1.) in your Senſe, as a plain direction to the Covenant of Grace made with Abraham for their relief; for ſo you ſay it was, p. 180. or let it be conſider'd abſolutely, as that which contain'd Relief in it ſelf for the penitent Iſraelites that ſhould live towards the end of the World, after they ſhould be gather'd from all their Diſperſions and Captivities, as you there ſpeak, and more fully explicate in your Accommodation of a parallel Promiſe, p. 111, 112, 113. Firſt let us view it in your Senſe, as a relative Promiſe to the Covenant of Grace made with Abraham, Gen. 12. to which, ſay you, it plainly directs them; and then this legal Diſpenſation can never be the ſame with Adam's Covenant, for to that Covenant no ſuch Promiſe was ever annexed, which ſhould guide and plainly direct them to Chriſt and Pardon, as that Star which appear'd to the Wiſe Men directed their way to Chriſt. If there be any ſuch relative Promiſe belonging to Adam's Covenant in Paradiſe, as this which I plainly ſhew you was made on Mount Sinai, be pleas'd to produce it, and you end the Controverſy; but if you cannot, (as you know you cannot) then never ſay the legal Diſpenſation at Sinai, and the Covenant of Works with Adam in Paradiſe, are the very ſame Covenant. Secondly, Let us conſider this Promiſe abſolutely in it ſelf, and then I demand, Was there Mercy, Relief and Pardon contain'd in it for any penitent Sinner preſent or to come? Yes, ſay you, it extends Relief to Penitents, after God ſhall gather them from all their Captivities at the end of the World; very good. Then 'tis a very vigorous Promiſe of Grace, which not only reaches 430 Years backward, as far as the firſt Promiſe to Abraham, but alſo extends its Reliefs and Comforts many thouſand Years forwards, even to the pureſt times of the Goſpel, juſt before Chriſt's coming to Judgment; And can ſuch a Promiſe as this be denied to be in it ſelf a Goſpel-Promiſe? Sure it can neither be denied to be ſuch, nor yet to be made upon Mount Sinai by the Hand of Moſes. This Dilemma is as pinching as the former.

Perhaps you will ſay, This Promiſe did not belong to the Moral Law given at Sinai, but to the Ceremonial Law: If ſo, then I ſhould reaſonably conclude, that you take the Ceremonial Law (of which you ſeem to make this a Branch, pag. 181.) to be a Covenant of Grace, ſeeing one of its Branches bears ſuch a gracious Promiſe upon it. No, that muſt not be ſo neither; for ſay you, p. 151. the Ceremonial Covenant is of the ſame Nature with the Covenant of Works, or Law written in Tables of Stone: Whither then ſhall we ſend this Promiſe? To the Covenant of Grace we muſt not ſend it, unleſs only as an Index or Finger to point to it, becauſe it was made upon Mount Sinai, and deliver'd to Iſrael by the Hand of Moſes: To the Goſpel-Covenant we muſt not therefore annex it; and to the Legal Diſpenſation at Sinai you are as loth to annex it, becauſe it contains ſo much Relief and Grace in it for poor Penitents; and that will prove, that neither the Moral nor Ceremonial Law (place it in which you pleaſe) can be a pure Covenant of Works as Adam's was.

Moreover, in making this the Promiſe which muſt Relieve and Comfort the diſtreſſed Iſraelites in the pureſt Goſpel-times, towards the end of the World, you as palpably contradict your ſelf in another reſpect; for we ſhall find you by and by ſtoutly denying, that the Goſpel-Promiſes have any Conditions or Qualifications annexed to them; but ſo hath this, which you ſay relates to them that ſhall live at the end of the World. If their uncircumciſed Hearts be humbled, and if they accept the puniſhment of their Iniquities, then will I remember my Covenant, &c. But be this Promiſe Conditional or Abſolute, two things are undeniably clear: (1.) That it is a Promiſe full of Grace, for the relief of Law-Tranſgreſſors, ver. 40. (2.) That it was a Mount Sinai Promiſe, ver. 46. and ſuch a Promiſe as you can never ſhew in Adam's Covenant.

Beſides, it is to me an unaccountable thing, that a Promiſe which hath a double comfortable Aſpect, 430 Years back, and ſome thouſands of Years forward; ſhould not caſt one comfortable glance upon the Penitents of the preſent Age when it was made, nor upon any till near the end of the World. What think you, Sir, of the 3000 Jews prick'd at the Heart, Acts 2. had they no Relief from it, becauſe their Lot fell not late enough in time? Were the Penitent Jews in Moſes and Peter's Days all Born out of due time for this Promiſe to relieve? O what ſhifting and ſhuffling is here! Who can think a Man that twiſts and winds every way, to avoid the dint of an Argument, can poſſibly have a Moral Aſſurance of the Truth of his own Opinion?

(3.) You ſay, pag. 134. That through Chriſt's Satisfaction there is no repugnancy or hoſtile contrariety betwixt the Law and Promiſe, but an Agreement betwixt them, and that they differ only in reſpect of Strength and Weakneſs; the Goſpel is able to go through-ſtitch with it, which the Law cannot do.

Reply. Well then, the Law conſider'd as a Covenant of Works, whoſe Terms or Condition is, Do this and live; and the Promiſe or Goſpel, whoſe Condition is, Believe and thou ſhalt be ſaved; are not Specifically different, but only gradually, in point of Strength and Weakneſs: And the Reaſon you give is as ſtrange, that this comes to paſs through the Satisfaction of Chriſt. Good Sir, enlighten us in this rare Notion. Did Chriſt die to purchaſe a Reconciliation betwixt the Covenant of Works as ſuch, and the Covenant of Grace; as if both were now by the Death of Chriſt agreed; and to be juſtified by Works and by Faith, ſhould after Chriſt's Death make no odds or difference between them? If it be ſo, why have you kept ſuch a coil to prove Moſes's and Adam's Covenant, yea, Abraham's too, being a Covenant of Works, can never conſiſt or mingle with the Goſpel-Covenant? And then I ſay, you contradict the Apoſtle, who ſo directly oppoſes the Covenant of Works as ſuch, to the Covenant of Grace, and tells us they are utterly inconſiſtent and excluſive of each other; and this he ſpake after Chriſt's Death and actual Satisfaction: But Gal. 3. 18.

(4.) That which more amazes me, is the ſtrange Anſwer you give to Mr. Sedgwick, pag. 132, 133. in your return to his Argument, That if the Law and the Promiſe can conſiſt, then the Law cannot be ſet up as a Covenant of Works. You anſwer, That the Law and the Promiſe having divers Ends, it doth not thence follow, that there is an inconſiſtence betwixt them, and that the Law, even as it is a Covenant of Works, inſtead of being againſt the Promiſe, tends to the Eſtabliſhment of it. And pag. 133. That by convincing Men of the Impoſſibility of obtaining Reſt and Peace in themſelves, and the neceſſity of betaking themſelves to the Promiſe, &c. the Law is not againſt the Promiſe, having ſo Bleſſed a Subſerviency towards the Eſtabliſhment thereof. Here you own a Subſerviency, yea, a Bleſſed Subſerviency of the Law to the Promiſe, which is that Mr. Sedgwick and my ſelf have urg'd to prove it cannot be ſo, as it is a pure Adam's Covenant, but that therefore it muſt come under another Conſideration; only here we differ; you ſay it hath a Bleſſed Subſerviency to the Promiſe, as it is the ſame with Adam's Covenant; we ſay it can never be ſo as ſuch, but as it is either a Covenant of Grace, though more obſcure, as he ſpeaks; or though the matter of it ſhould be the ſame with Adam's Covenant, yet it is ſubſervient a Covenant of Grace, as others ſpeak; and under no other Conſideration can it be reconciled to the Promiſe. But will you ſtand to this, that the Law hath no hoſtile Contradiction to the Promiſe, but a Bleſſed Subſerviency to it, as you ſpeak, p. 17. where you ſay, That if we preach up the Law as a Covenant of Life, or a Covenant of Faith and Grace, (which are equipolent terms) let us diſtinguiſh as we pleaſe betwixt a Covenant of Grace Abſolutely and Subſervient ſuch; then we make an ill uſe of the Law, by perverting it to ſuch a Service as God never intended it for, and are guilty of mingling Law and Goſpel, Life and Death together.

Reply. Here, Sir, my Underſtanding is perfectly poſed, and I know not how to make any tolerable Orthodox Senſe out of this Poſition: Is the Law preached up as a pure Covenant of Works, (that is preſſing Men to the perſonal and punctual Obedience of it, in order to their Juſtification by Works) no way repugnant to the Promiſe, but altogether ſo, when preach'd in ſubſerviency to Chriſt and Faith? This is new Divinity with me, and I believe muſt be ſo to every intelligent Reader. Do I oppoſe the Promiſe, when I preach up the Law as a pure Covenant of Works, which therefore ſuch muſt be excluſive of Chriſt and the Promiſe? And do I oppoſe either, when I tell Sinners the Terrors of the Law ſerve only to drive them to Chriſt, their only Remedy, who is the End of the Law for Righteouſneſs, to every one that believeth, Rom. 10. 4? Are Works and Grace more inconſiſtent than Grace with Grace? Explain meaning in this Paradoxical Expreſſion, and leave not your ſelf and others in ſuch a Maze. I read Gal. 3. 19. for what End God publiſh'd the Law 430 Years after the Promiſe was made to Abraham, and find it was added becauſe of Tranſgreſſion, προσετέθη, it was put to, not ſet up by it ſelf alone as a diſtinct Covenant, but added as an Appendix to the Covenant of Grace; whence it is plain, that God added the Sinai Law to the Promiſe with Evangelical Ends and Purpoſes. If then I preach the Law to the very ſame Evangelical Uſes and Purpoſes for which God added it to the Promiſe, do I therein make an ill uſe of the Law, and mingle Life and Death together? but preaching it as a pure Covenant of Works, as it holds forth Juſtification to Sinners by Obedience to its Precepts, do I then make it bleſſedly ſubſervient (as you ſpeak) to the Promiſe or Covenant of Grace? The Law was added becauſe of Tranſgreſſion, that is, to reſtrain Sin in the World, and to convince Sinners under Guilt, of the Neceſſity of another Righteouſneſs than their own, even that of Chriſt, and for the ſame Ends God added it to the Promiſe; I always did, and ſtill ſhall preach it, and, I am perſwaded, without the leaſt Danger of mingling Law and Goſpel, Life and Death together, in your ſenſe.

'Tis plain to me, that in the publication of the Law on Sinai, God did not in the leaſt intend to give them ſo much as a Direction how to obtain Juſtification by their moſt punctual Obedience to its Precepts, that being to fallen Man utterly impoſſible; and beſide, had he promulged the Law to that End and Purpoſe, he had not added it, but directly oppoſed it to the Promiſe; which it's manifeſt he did not, Gal. 3. 21. Is the Law then againſt the promiſe of God? God forbid. And ver. 18. makes it appear, that had it been ſet up to that End and Purpoſe, it had utterly diſannulled the Promiſe; for if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more by promiſe. What then can be clearer, than that the Law at Sinai was publiſh'd with gracious Goſpel-Ends and Purpoſes, to lead Men to Chriſt, which Adam's Covenant had no reſpect nor reference to? And therefore it can never be a pure Adam's Covenant, as you falſly call it; neither is it capable of becoming a pure Covenant of Works to any Man, but by his own Fault, in rejecting the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, and ſeeking Juſtification by the Works of the Law, as the miſtaken carnal Jews did, Rom. 10. 3. and other legal Juſticiaries now do. And upon this account only it is that Paul, who ſo highly praiſes the Law in its ſubſerviency to Chriſt, thunders ſo dreadfully againſt it, as it is thus ſet by ignorant miſtaken Souls in direct oppoſition to Chriſt.

(5*thly*,) And further, to clear this Point, the Apoſtle tells us, Rom. 10. 4. That Chriſt is the end of the Law for righteouſneſs to every one that believeth. Whence I argue, That if Adam's Covenant had one End, namely, the Juſtification of Men by their own perſonal Obedience; and the Law at Sinai had a quite contrary End, namely, to bring Sinners to Chriſt by Faith for their Righteouſneſs; the one to keep him within himſelf, the other to take him quite out of himſelf, and bring him for his Juſtification to the Righteouſneſs of another, even that of Chriſt; then the Sinai Law cannot poſſibly be the ſame thing with Adam's Covenant of Works. But the Antecedent is true and plain in the forecited Text, therefore ſo is the Conſequent.

Chriſt is the end of the Law for Righteouſneß. Take the Law here either more ſtrictly for the Moral Law, or more largely, as it comprehends the Ceremonial Law, ſtill Chriſt is the end of the Law. The Moral Law ſhuts up every Man to Chriſt for Righteouſneſs, by convincing him (according to God's deſign in the publication of it) of the impoſſibility of obtaining Juſtification in the way of Works.

And the Ceremonial Law many ways prefigur'd Chriſt, his Death and Satisfaction by Blood, in our room, and ſo led Men to Chriſt, their true Propitiation; and all its Types were fulfilled and ended in Chriſt. Was there any ſuch thing in Adam's Covenant? You muſt prove there was, elſe you will never be able to make them one and the ſame Covenant.

(6*thly*,) It ſeems exceeding probable from Acts 7. 37, 38. That the Sinai Covenant was deliver'd to Moſes by Jeſus Chriſt, there called the Angel. This is he that was in the Church in the Wilderneſs, with the Angel that ſpake to him in the Mount Sinai, and with our Fathers, who received the lively Oracles to give unto us. Now if Chriſt himſelf were the Angel, and the Precepts of the Law deliver'd by him to Moſes were the lively Oracles of God, as they are expreſly affirm'd to be, then the Law deliver'd on Mount Sinai cannot be a pure Adam's Covenant of Works; for it is never to be imagined that Jeſus Chriſt himſelf ſhould deliver to Moſes ſuch a Covenant, directly oppoſite to all the Ends of his future Incarnation; and that thoſe Precepts (which if they were of the ſame Nature, and reviv'd to the ſame End, at which Adam's Covenant directly aim'd) ſhould be called the lively Oracles of God: When contrariwiſe, upon your Suppoſition, they could be no other than a Miniſtration of Condemnation and Death: But that they were lively Oracles, viz. in their Deſign and Intention, is plain in the Text; and that they were deliver'd to Moſes by Jeſus Chriſt the Angel of the Covenant, ſeems more than probable, by comparing it with the former Verſes.

(7*thly*,) Neither is it eaſy to imagine how ſuch a Covenant, which by the Fall of Adam had utterly loſt all its Promiſes, Privileges, and Bleſſings, and could retain nothing but the Curſes and Puniſhments annexed to it, in caſe of the leaſt failure, could poſſibly be numbred among the chief Privileges in which God's Iſrael gloried; as it apparently was, Rom. 9. 4. Who are Iſraelites, to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the ſervice of God, and the promiſes.

Theſe things conſider'd, with many more, (which the intended brevity of this Diſcourſe will not now admit) I am fully ſatisfied of the falſity of your Poſition, and ſo may you too, when you ſhall review the many groſs and palpable Abſurdities with which I have clogg'd and loaded it, with many more, regularly and fairly deducible from it, which I could eaſily produce, did I not ſuſpect theſe I have produced have already preſt your Patience a little too far: But if ever I ſhall ſee (which I never expect) a fair and Scriptural Solution of theſe weighty Objections, you may expect from me more Arguments againſt your unſound Poſition, which at the preſent I judge needleſs to add.

To conclude, Thoſe Premiſes (as before I noted) can never be true, from whence ſuch, and ſo many groſs and notorious Abſurdities are regularly and unavoidably deducible. For ex veris nil niſi verum, from true Premiſes nothing but Truth can regularly follow.

Had you minded thoſe things which I ſeaſonably ſent you, you had avoided all thoſe Boggs into which you are now ſunk, and been able fairly to reconcile all thoſe ſeeming contradictions in Paul's Epiſtles, with reſpect to the Law at Sinai: But however, by what hath been ſaid, your firſt Poſition, That the the Sinai Covenant is the ſame Covenant of Works with Adam's in Paradiſe, vaniſhes before the Evidence of Scripture, Truth, and ſound Reaſon.

But yet, tho' what I have ſaid deſtroys your falſe Poſition, I am not willing to leave you, or the Reader ignorant, wherein the Truth lies in this controverted Point betwixt us; and that will appear, by a due Conſideration of the following Particulars.

(1.) 'Tis plain and uncontroverted, that Adam's Covenant in Paradiſe, contained in it a perfect Law and Rule of Natural Righteouſneſs, founded both in God's Nature, and in Man's; which, in its perfect State of Innocency, was every way enabled perfectly to comply therewith: For the Scripture tells us, Eccleſ. 7. 29. That God made Man upright; and his punctual complying therewith, was the Righteouſneſs by which he ſtood.

(2.) This Covenant of Works being once broken, can never more be available to the Juſtification and Salvation of any fallen Man. There was not now a Law found that could give Righteouſneſs: The broken Covenant of Works loſt immediately all the Bleſſings and Privileges which before it contain'd, and retain'd only the Curſe and Puniſhment; in Token whereof, Cherubims, with flaming Swords, turning every way, were ſet to keep the way of the Tree of Life. Gen. 3. 24.

(3.) Soon after the Violation of the Covenant of Works, God was graciouſly pleaſed to publiſh for the Relief of Mankind, now miſerable and hopeleſs, the Second Covenant, which we call the Covenant of Grace, Gen. 3. 15. which is the firſt opening of the Grace of God in Chriſt to fallen Man. And tho' this firſt Promiſe of Chriſt was but ſhort and obſcure; yet it was in every Age to be opened clearer and clearer, until the promiſed Seed ſhould come. After the firſt opening of this New Covenant, in the firſt Promiſe of Chriſt, the firſt Covenant is ſhut up for ever, as a Covenant of Life and Salvation; and all the World are ſhut up to the only way of Salvation by Chriſt; Gal. 3. 23. It being contrary to the Will of God, that Two Ways of Salvation ſhould ſtand open to Man at once, and they ſo oppoſite one to another, as the Way of Works and the Way of Faith are. Acts 4. 12. Joh. 14. 6. Gal. 2. 21.

(4.) 'Tis evident however, that after the firſt opening of the Promiſe of Chriſt, Gen. 3. 15. God foreſeeing the Pride of fallen Man, who naturally inclines to a Righteouſneſs of his own in the way of doing, was pleaſed to revive the Law of Nature, as to its Matter, in the Sinai Diſpenſation; which was 430 Years after the firſt Promiſe had been renew'd, and further open'd unto Abraham, of whoſe Seed Chriſt ſhould come: And this he did, not in Oppoſition to the Promiſe, but in Subſerviency thereto. Gal. 3. 21. And tho' the Matter and Subſtance of the Law of Nature be found in the Sinai Covenant, ſtrictly taken for the Ten Commandments; yet the Ends and Intentions of God in that terrible Sinai Diſpenſation were twofold: (1.) To convince fallen Man of the Sinfulneſs and Impotency of his Nature, and the Impoſſibility of obtaining Righteouſneſs by the Law, and ſo by a bleſſed Neceſſity, to ſhut him up to Chriſt, his only Remedy. And (2.) to be a ſtanding Rule of Duty, both towards God and Man, to the End of the World. But if we take the Sinai Covenant more largely, as incluſive of the Ceremonial with the Moral Law, (as it is often taken, and is ſo by you, in the New Teſtament;) then it did not only ſerve for a Conviction of Impotency, and a Rule of Duty; but exhibited and taught much of Chriſt, and the Myſteries of the New Covenant in thoſe its Ceremonies, wherein he was prefigured to them.

(5.) Whence it evidently appears, that the Sinai Covenant was neither repugnant to the New Covenant in its Scope and Aim: The law is not againſt the promiſe, Gal. 3. 21. Nor yet ſet up as co-ordinate with it, with a Deſign to open Two different Ways of Salvation to fallen Man; but was added to the Promiſe, in reſpect of its Evangelical Purpoſes and Deſigns: On which Account it is call'd by ſome a Covenant of Faith, or Grace, in reſpect of its Subſerviency unto Chriſt, who is the End of the Law for Righteouſneſs, Rom. 10. 4. and by others a ſubſervient Covenant, according to Gal. 3. 23, 24. And accordingly we find both Tables of the Law put into the Ark, Heb. 9. 4. which ſhews their Conſiſtency and Subordination with, and to the Method of Salvation by Chriſt in the New Covenant.

(6.) This Deſign and Intention of God was fatally miſtaken by the Jews, ever ſince God promulg'd that Law at Sinai; and was by them notoriouſly perverted to a quite contrary End to that which God promulg'd it for, even to give Righteouſneſs and Life, in the way of perſonal and perfect Obedience. Rom. 10. 3. For they being ignorant of God's righteouſneſs, and going about to eſtabliſh their own righteouſneſs, have not ſubmitted themſelves unto the righteouſneſs of God. Hence Chriſt came to be ſlighted by them, and his Righteouſneſs rejected: For they reſted in the Law; Rom. 2. 17. were married to the Law, as an Husband, Rom. 7. 2, 3. and ſo might have no Conjugal Communion with Chriſt. However Moſes, Abraham, and all the Elect, diſcerned Chriſt as the End of the Law for Righteouſneſs, and were led to him thereby.

(7.) This fatal Miſtake of the Uſe and Intent of the Law, is the Ground of thoſe ſeeming Contradictions in Paul's Epiſtles. Sometimes he magnifies the Law, when he ſpeaks of it according to God's End and Purpoſe in its Promulgation, Rom. 7. 12, 14, 16. But as it was fatally miſtaken by the Jews, and ſet in Oppoſition to Chriſt; ſo he thunders againſt it, calls it a Miniſtration of Death and Condemnation, and all its appendent Ceremonies, weak and beggarly Elements. And by this Diſtinction, whatſoever ſeems repugnant in Paul's Epiſtles, may be ſweetly reconciled. And 'tis a Diſtinction of his own making, 1 Tim. 1. 8. We know that the Law is good, if we uſe it lawfully. Rom. 10. 3. There is a good and an evil Uſe of Rom. 2. 17. the Law. Had you attended theſe Things, you had not ſo confidently and inconſiderately pronounced it a Pure Covenant of Works.

II. Poſition.

Secondly, You affirm with like Confidence, That the Covenant of Circumciſion is alſo the ſame; viz. the Covenant of Works made with Adam in Paradiſe.

This I utterly deny; and will try whether you have any better Succeſs in the Proof of your Second, than you had in your firſt Poſition. And to convince you of your Miſtake, let us conſider what the General Nature of this Ordinance of Circumciſion was; what its Ends were; and then prove, That it cannot be, what you affirm it to be, the very ſame Covenant God made with Adam before the Fall; but muſt needs be a Covenant of Grace.

(1.) Circumciſion, in its General Nature, was (1.) an Ordinance of God's own Inſtitution, in the 99th Year of Abraham's Age; at which Time of its its Inſtitution, God renew'd the Covenant with him, Gen. 17. 9, 10. (2.) That it conſiſted, (as all Sacraments do) of an External Sign, and a Spiritual Myſtery ſignified thereby. The External Part of it, (which we call the Sign) was the Cutting off the Fore-skin of the Genital Part of the Hebrew Males, on the Eighth Day from their Birth. The Spiritual Myſtery thereby ſignified and repreſented, was the Cutting off the Filth and Guilt of Sin from their Souls, by Regeneration and Juſtification, called the Circumciſion of the Heart, Deut. 10. 16. And tho' this was laid upon them by the Command, as their Duty; yet a gracious Promiſe of Power from God, to perform that Duty, was added to the Command: Deut. 30. 6. The Lord thy God will circumciſe thy heart, to love him, &c. juſt as Promiſes of Grace in the New Teſtament, are added to Commands of Duty. (3.) Betwixt this Outward Viſible Sign, and Spiritual Myſtery, there was a Sacramental Relation; from which Relation, it is called the Token of the Covenant, Gen. 17. 12. The Sign and Seal of the Covenant, Rom. 4. 11. Yea, the Covenant it ſelf, Acts 7. 8.

(2.) Next let us conſider the Ends for which Circumciſion was inſtituted and ordained of God: Of which theſe were the principal.

(1.) It was inſtituted to be a Convictive Sign of their Natural Corruption, propagated by the way of Natural Generation: For which Reaſon, this Natural Corruption goes in Scripture under the Name of the Uncircumciſion of the Heart, Jer. 9. 26.

(2.) It alſo ſignified the Putting off of this Body of Sin, in the Virtue of Chriſt's Death, Col. 2. 11.

(3.) It was appointed to be the initiating Sign of the Covenant, or a Token of their Matriculation, and Admiſſion into the Church and Covenant of God. Gen. 17. 9, 10, 11.

(4.) It was ordain'd to be a diſcriminating Mark betwixt God's Covenanted People and the Pagan World, who were Strangers to the Covenant, and without God in the World. And accordingly both Parties were from this Ordinance denominated the Circumciſion, and the Uncircumciſion, Col. 3. 11.

(5.) It was alſo an obliging Sign to Abraham, and his Seed, to walk with God in the Uprightneſs and Sincerity of their Hearts, in the Performance of all Covenanted Duties; in which Duties, Abraham and the Faithful walked obedientially with God, looking to Chriſt for Righteouſneſs: But the Carnal Jews reſting in, and truſting to thoſe Duties and Ordinances for Righteouſneſs and Juſtification, made it a Covenant of Works to themſelves, and Circumciſion it ſelf a Bond of that Covenant.

(6.) Now foraſmuch as Circumciſion prefigured Chriſt, who was to come of this Holy Circumcis'd Seed of Abraham, and his Death alſo was pointed at therein, Heb. 2. 16. Col. 2. 11. of neceſſity this Ordinance muſt vaniſh at the Death of Chriſt, and accordingly did ſo.

Theſe Things duly ponder'd, how irrational is it to imagine this Covenant of Circumciſion to be the very ſame with the Paradiſical Covenant? Did that Covenant diſcover Native Corruption, and direct to its Remedy in Chriſt, as this did? Surely it gave not the leaſt Glimpſe of any ſuch Thing. Did that Covenant ſeparate and diſtinguiſh one Perſon from another, as this did? No, no; it left all under equal and common Miſery. Eph. 2. 3.

Had Adam's Covenant a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith annexed to it, as this had? Rom. 4. 11. He received Circumciſion, a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith. The Righteouſneſs of Faith is Evangelical Righteouſneſs; and this Circumciſion ſeal'd. Say not it was to Abraham only that it ſealed it; for 'tis an injurious Reſtriction put upon the Seal of a Covenant, which extended to the Fathers, as well as to Abraham. Luk. 1. 72. But you admit however, that it ſeal'd Evangelical Righteouſneſs to Abraham: But I hope you will not ſay, that a Seal of the Covenant of Works ever did, or could ſeal Evangelical Righteouſneſs to any individual Perſon in the World. So then, turn which way you will, this Truth ſtill follows you, and will faſten upon you, That the Covenant of Circumciſion was not a Pure Covenant of Works, but a Goſpel-Covenant. Which I thus prove:

Argument I.

If Circumciſion be a Part of the Ceremonial Law, and the Ceremonial Law was dedicated by Blood; and whatſoever is ſo dedicated, is by you confeſs'd to be no Part of the Covenant of Works; then Circumciſion is no Part of the Covenant of Works, even by your own Confeſſion. But it is ſo. Ergo.

That it is a Part of the Ceremonial Law, was never doubted, or denied by any Man. That it was dedicated by Blood, and therefore no Part of the Moral Law, you your ſelf not only acknowledge, but vehemently plead for it, P. 148. where you blame Mr. Sedgwick with ſome Sharpneſs, and unbecoming Reflection, for making no Diſtinction betwixt the Ceremonial Covenant, which was dedicated by Blood, and the Law written in Tables of Stone; which was not ſo dedicated, and therefore could not be the ſame with the Moral Law, which you make the Covenant of Works; telling him, that this Dedication by Blood ought to diſtinguiſh it from the Moral Law, or Sinai Covenant of Works, as you ſay it doth, and ought to do; how then can Circumciſion be the ſame with, and yet quite another Thing from the Sinai Covenant? Was the Ceremonial Law dedicated by Blood? Yes, the Apoſtle plainly aſſerts it, from Exod. 24. 7, 8. Moſes took the Book of the Covenant, and read it in the audience of the people; and took the blood, and ſprinkled it upon the people, and ſaid; Behold the blood of the Covenant, which the Lord hath made with you concerning theſe things. But what kind of Covenant then was this Covenant that was ſprinkled with Blood? You tell us, Pag. 147. it could not poſſibly be the Law written in Stones, (which you make the Covenant of Works) but was indeed another Covenant, deliver'd at a diſtinct Seaſon, and in a diſtinct Method. What Covenant then muſt this be, ſeeing it could not poſſibly (as you ſay) be the Sinai Covenant written in Stones? It muſt either be the Covenant of Grace, or none. No, ſay you, that it was not, neither; for it was of the ſame Nature with, and is no other than a Covenant of Works, Pag. 151. It was the ſame; and yet could not poſſibly be the ſame.

Heb. 9. 18, 19.

Mr. Sedgwick, that Learned and Grave Divine, is check'd, P. 148. for confounding the Ceremonial Law that was ſprinkled with Blood, with the Moral Law (which you call the Covenant of Works) that was not ſprinkled with Blood; and ſay you, Pag. 147. It could not poſſibly be the ſame. And then, P. 151. you ſay, It's clear, theſe Two, viz. the Moral and Ceremonial Law, were both of the ſame Nature; that is, no other than a Covenant of Works. How doth this hang together? Pray reconcile it, if you can. You ſay, It is an ungrounded Suppoſition of Mr. Sedgwick's, that that Covenant which was ſo confirm'd by Blood, muſt of neceſſity be confirm'd by the Blood of Chriſt alſo; ſo; p. 148. But, Sir, the Truth you oppoſe, viz. that the Book of the Ceremonial Law was ſprinkled by Typical Blood, and therefore confirm'd by the Blood of Chriſt, for the Time it was to continue, ſhines like a bright Sun-Beam in your Eyes, from Heb. 9. 14, 23. Was not the Blood that ſprinkled this Law, the Figure or Type of Chriſt's own Blood? Whoſe Blood was it then, if not Chriſt's? How dare you call this an ungrounded Suppoſition? Was not that Blood Typical Blood? And what, I pray you, was the Antitype, but Chriſt's Blood? And did not the Holy Ghoſt ſignify the one by the other? Heb. 9. 8. I ſtand amazed at theſe Things! You diſtinguiſh, and confound all again. You ſay, it could not poſſibly be the ſame with the Law written in Stone: And you ſay, it's clear both were of the ſame Nature, no other than a Covenant of Works. At this Rate you may ſay what you pleaſe; for I ſee Contradiction is no Crime in your Book.

Argument II.

If Circumciſion was the Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, it did not pertain to the Covenant of Works; for the Righteouſneſs of Faith and Works are Oppoſites, and belong to Two contrary Covenants.

But Circumciſion was the Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith: Rom. 4. 11. He (i. e. Abraham) received the ſign of Circumciſion, a ſeal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith. Therefore it pertains not to the Covenant of Works, but Grace.

A Man would think it impoſſible to evade ſo clear and Scriptural an Argument as this is. The Major Propoſition is even ſelf-evident and undeniable; the Minor, the plain Words of the Apoſtle.

And what is your Reply to this? Certainly as ſtrange a one as ever I met with, Page 205. you ſay, 'Tis true, Circumciſion was a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith to Abraham, but it was ſo to him only, in his extraordinary Circumſtances, but it was not ſo to any of his natural Seed in its ordinary Uſe.

I cannot deny but I have met with ſuch an Aſſertion before in Mr. Tombes; and I can tell you too, that Bellarmine invented it before Mr. Tombes was Born, and that Dr. Ames fully confuted it in his third Tome, pag. 27. proving, that there was no extraordinary Cauſe on Abraham's Account, why God ſhould juſtify or ſeal him more than any other Believer; and that Abraham had nothing to glory in before God. But to reſtrain, as you do, the publick Seal of a Covenant, that comprehended and equally concern'd the whole Church and People of God, to one ſingle Perſon; ſo that neither Iſaac nor Jacob, who were by Name enrolled in that great Charter, ſhould have any right to the Seal of it; is ſuch a Conceit as amazes an intelligent Reader. We know Abraham was the firſt that receiv'd it, but utterly deny that he receiv'd only for himſelf, but he receiv'd it as the Father of all them that believe, whether Jews or Gentiles, as the very next words tell us, He received it that he might be the Father of all them that believe, that is, for himſelf and all his Spiritual Children. One half of this Sacrament of Circumciſion you allow, p. 205. to the reſt that were under it, viz. to be a ſign of the Covenant; but the other half you cut off, and ſay it was only a Seal to him. What good Vouchers have you for this Expoſition of the Text? Have you the Concurrence of Orthodox Expoſitors? Or is it the raſh and bold Adventure of your own Head? I am ſure it no ways agrees with the drift and ſcope of the Apoſtle's Argument, which evidently is to prove, that both Jews and Gentiles are juſtified by Faith, as Abraham was; and that the Ground of Juſtification and Bleſſedneſs is common both to the uncircumciſed Gentiles, and circumciſed Jews; and that Abraham and all other Believers, have but one way of Juſtification and Salvation; and that how great ſoever Abraham was, in this caſe he hath found nothing whereof to glory, ver. 1, 2. And is not your Expoſition a notable one, to prove the Community of the Privilege of Juſtification, becauſe the Seal of it was peculiar to Abraham alone? Rectify it, and better conſider it.

Argument III.

In the Covenant of Circumciſion, Gen. 17. God makes over himſelf to Abraham and his Seed to be their God, or give them a ſpecial Intereſt in himſelf.

But in the Covenant of Works God doth not, ſince the Fall, make over himſelf to any to be their God by way of ſpecial Intereſt.

Therefore the Covenant of Circumciſion cannot be the Covenant of Works.

This is ſo plain and clear, that none can doubt or deny it, that underſtands the Nature of the two Covenants. And now, Sir, what courſe do you take to avoid this Argument? Such a one ſure as no Man that ever I met with took before you, and that's this; you boldly cut Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. into two parts, and make the firſt to be the pure Covenant of Grace; which is the promiſſory part, to the ninth Verſe, and the Reſtipulation (as you call it) pag. 205. to be as pure a Covenant of Works. What hard ſhift will ſome Men make to maintain their Opinion! You ſay truly, pag. 205. that at the ſeventh and eighth Verſes was their Reſtipulation; why then do you ſay, pag. 224. that at Verſe the 7th he proceeds to ſpeak of another Covenant than what he had been ſpeaking of before? Does the Promiſe and the Reſtipulation make Two Covenants; or are they juſt and neceſſary Parts of One and the ſame Covenant? You alſo tell us, that the Covenant, Gen. 17. 1, 2, 3, 4. was a plain Tranſcript of ſeveral free Promiſes of the Goſpel, under the Denomination of a Covenant. But why then don't you take the Reſtipulation, Ver. 7, 8, 9, 10. to be a Part of it? Oh, no; there is ſomething requir'd on Abraham's and his Poſterity's Part; they muſt be circumcis'd, and that ſpoils all. Why, but Sir; if the requiring of Circumciſion alters the Caſe ſo greatly, as to make it a quite contrary Covenant; how comes it to paſs, that in the Covenant to Abraham, he himſelf was firſt requir'd to be circumcis'd? Why this is the Reaſon: Here is ſomewhat requir'd on their Part as a Condition; and a Condition quite alters the Nature of the Covenant. Very well; but tell me then why you ſay, P. 223. and in many other Places, that the Covenant made with Abraham, in Gen. 12. was a Goſpel-Covenant; and yet there Abraham is obliged to walk before God, and be perfect? Does not that alſo there alter the Nature of the Covenant, as well as here in the ſeventh Chapter? You alſo grant, the Covenant made with Abraham, Gen. 22. was a pure Goſpel-Covenant; or if you deny it, the Apoſtle proves it, Heb. 6. 13. And yet there is more Appearance of Reſpect to Abraham's Obedience in that Covenant, than is in ſubmitting to Circumciſion. See Gen. 22. 16, 17. By my ſelf have I ſworn, ſaith the Lord; for becauſe thou haſt done this thing, &c. That in bleſſing, I will bleſs thee; and in multiplying, I will multiply thee.

I will trouble you on this Head but with one Query more: If the Four firſt Verſes of the Seventeenth teenth of Geneſis contain a pure Goſpel-covenant, as you ſay, and the Reſtipulation in the following Verſes make a Covenant of Works, becauſe it thereby becomes conditional; then tell me, if you pleaſe, whether what God graciouſly granted to Abraham in the former Verſes be not all null'd, and made void again by their Reſtipulation? Does not this ſeem harſh? Here you have brought Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, and all the Believers of Abraham's Race, juſt into the ſame caſe you brought Moſes and all the Iſraelites before, under two oppoſite Covenants, where one cuts off all that the other granted.

But there is a ſtronger Reaſon urg'd than the Conditionality of the Covenant, to prove it a Covenant of Works; and that is, Circumciſion is made the Condition of Abraham's Covenant; and that's the worſt of all Conditions, for it obliges a Man to keep the whole Law, Gal. 5. 3. 'tis the Yoke of Bondage, and to whatſoever Covenant it be ſo annexed, it makes it become a Bondage Legal Covenant. If we be Circumciſed, Chriſt ſhall profit us nothing. Thus it was in the Covenant, Gen. 17.

Great uſe is made of this in many parts of your Diſcourſe; but, Sir, you are greatly miſtaken in applying theſe Texts to the Purpoſes you do; for the Apoſtle all along in that Epiſtle to the Galatians argues againſt the falſe Teachers, who taught and preſſed the Neceſſity of Circumciſion, as a Bond obliging them to the ſtrict and perfect Obedience of the Law, in order to their Juſtification thereby, or at leaſt to joyn it with the Righteouſneſs of Chriſt, as a Con-cauſe of Juſtification; ſee Gal. 2. 4, 5. and the 3. 1. Now againſt this Abuſe of Circumciſion it is, that the Apoſtle argues thus, and tells them, that in ſubmitting to it on that account, they made the Death of Chriſt of no effect, and obliged themſelves by it to the whole Law; for Circumciſion did not ſimply and abſolutely, in the nature of the Work or Action, oblige Men to the whole Law in the way of Juſtification by it, but it did ſo from the Intention of the Worker, and the Suppoſition of ſuch an Opinion of it, and Deſign in it; for in it ſelf, and with reſpect to God's Deſign in the Inſtitution of it, it was to be a Seal of the Righteouſneſs of Faith, Rom. 4. 11. and ſo it was an excellent, uſeful, inſtructive Ordinance to all Believers, as long as the Ceremonial Law ſtood; and even when it was expiring, as the Goſpel began to open more and more clearly, there was yet ſome kind of Toleration of it to ſuch as were born of Jewiſh Parents: Thus Paul himſelf Circumcis'd Timothy, his Mother being a Jeweſs, Acts 16. 1, 3. but Titus being a Greek, was not Circumcis'd, and that becauſe of theſe falſe Teachers, that would make an ill uſe of that their Liberty, Gal. 2. 3, 4. This Paul could never have done, in caſe Circumciſion, in the nature of the Act, had bound Timothy to keep the Law for Juſtification. By which it appears that the Action in its own nature did not oblige to the keeping of the whole Law, but from the Intention of the Agent; and therefore as the Apoſtle rightly argues, if a Man be Circumcis'd with this deſign to be juſtified by it, he would thereby bind himſelf to the whole Law, and fruſtrate the Death of Chriſt himſelf; but it was now to have its Funeral with other parts of the Ceremonial Law which vaniſh'd, and were accompliſh'd in the Death of Chriſt; and it falling out that ſuch a vile uſe was made of it at that time, the Apoſtle thus thunders againſt it. Had this been obſerv'd, as alſo the like uſe of the Moral Law, you would have known how to have reconcil'd the Apoſtle's Encomiums of them both, with his ſharp Invectives againſt the one and the other. But being ignorant of theſe two great and neceſſary Diſtinctions of the Law, according to God's Intention in the Promulgation of it at Sinai, and the carnal Jews Senſe of it, as a pure Covenant of Works, againſt which the Apoſtle ſo ſharply inveighs in the places by you cited, all your 23 Arguments from Page 183, to Page 187. fall to the Ground at one ſtroke, your Medius Terminus having one Senſe in your Major Propoſition, and another in your Minor; and ſo every Argument hath four Terms in it; as will eaſily be evinc'd by the particular conſideration of the reſpective places from whence you draw them.

So in like manner in your arguing here againſt Circumciſion, as a Bond to keep the whole Law; and as ſuch vacating the Death of Chriſt, is a ſtumble at the ſame Stone, not diſtinguiſhing as you ought to have done, betwixt an Obligation ariſing out of the nature of the Work, and out of the end and intention of the Workers; and this every learned and judicious Eye will eaſily diſcern. But we proceed to Argument IV.

That which in its direct and primary End teacheth Man the Corruption of his Nature by Sin, and the Mortification of Sin by the Spirit of Chriſt, cannot be a Condition of the Covenant of Works; but ſo did Circumciſion in the very direct and primary End of it.

This Ordinance ſuppoſeth the Fall of Man points to the Means and Inſtruments of his Sin and Miſery, and alſo to the Remedy thereof by Chriſt: (1.) It ſingles out that Genital part by which Original Sin was propagated, Gen. 17. 11. Pſal. 51. 1. to this the Sign of the Covenant is applied in Circumciſion, for the Remiſſion of Sins paſt, and the Extirpation of Sin for the future. (2.) Therefore it was inſtituted of God, that Men might ſee both the Neceſſity and true way of mortifying their Luſts, in the vertue of Chriſt's Death and Reſurrection, whereof Baptiſm, that ſucceeds it, is a Sign now, as Circumciſion was then; as is plain from Col. 2. 11, 12. In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the circumciſion made without hands, in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh by the circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in baptiſm, wherein alſo ye are riſen with him, through the Faith of the operation of God, who raiſed him from the dead. 'Tis clear then that Circumciſion directed Men to the Death and Reſurrection of Chriſt, as the true and only means of mortifying their Luſts; and if it did ſo, ſure it was not the Covenant of Works, for that gives fallen Man no hint of a Remedy. (3.) It was alſo a diſcriminating Sign or Token, betwixt the Church and the World: God's People, and the Heathens, who were accordingly denominated from it, the Circumciſion and the Uncircumciſion, the Holy Seed and the Gentiles: And now under the New Teſtament, the Children of Abraham by Faith, and the Children of the Fleſh. This alſo ſhews it cannot be the Covenant of Works; for in that Covenant all are equally and alike concluded under Sin and Miſery, Epheſ. 2. 3. and there is no difference made by that Covenant betwixt Perſon and Perſon, State and State.

If this be not enough to evince, that the Covenant of Circumciſion is a Covenant of Grace, I promiſe you many more Arguments to prove it, as ſoon as I ſhall find theſe refuted, and your contrary Aſſertion well diſcharg'd from the groſs Abſurdities with which it is clogg'd and loaded. You ſee how genuine, natural and congruous to Scripture the notion of it as a Covenant of Grace is, and all the World may ſee how harſh, alien, and repugnant to Scripture your Notion of Circumciſion, as a Covenant of Works, is. You ſee into what Boggs you are again driven in Defence of your Opinion. Exemp. gra.

That Circumciſion is a part of the Ceremonial Law, which was dedicated with Blood, and therefore could be no part of the Moral Law or Ten Commandments, which was (ſay you) the Covenant of Works; and yet that it is of the ſame Nature; and that it's clear it is no other than a Covenant of Works. Don't you there diſtinguiſh and confound all again, blame and check Mr. Sedgwick without cauſe, and commit a greater Abſurdity preſently than you charg'd him with? Don't you queſtion whether that Covenant that was typically ſeal'd by Blood, was ſeal'd by Chriſt's Blood? Pray, Sir, conſider where-ever God commands typical Blood to be applied, it relates to Chriſt's Blood ſpiritually applied, or to nothing.

Are not you forced, in defence of your erroneous Theſis, to ſay with Bellarmine, That Circumciſion was extraordinary in its Inſtitution, and applied as a Seal to none but Abraham himſelf? It excluded even Iſaac the Type of Chriſt, and Jacob a Prince with God. O what will not Men venture upon in defence of their darling Opinions!

Are you not forced, for your Security from the danger of the Third Argument, to cut one of the ſame Covenants made with Abraham juſt in two, and of the pure promiſſory part to make a Covenant of Grace; and of the other part, which you your ſelf call a Reſtipulation, to make another quite oppoſite Covenant? Don't you magnify the Bounty and Grace of God to Abraham in the firſt four Verſes, and then deſtroy it all, by putting him at once under a contrary Covenant, and ſo cut off all capacity to enjoy one of thoſe Mercies?

Don't you make Circumciſion, in its own nature, without reſpect to the Intention of the Perſon, an Obligation to the whole Law, and that which fruſtrates the Death of Chriſt, and yet muſt grant, that Paul himſelf took Timothy and circumciſed him, and yet thereby brought him under no ſuch dangerous Obligation to the Law? In a word,

You reject all thoſe Covenants as legal, that have any conditions in them, or reſpect to any thing that is to be done by us, and allow Gen. 12. and Gen. 22. to be pure Goſpel-covenants of Grace; and yet in the firſt Abraham is bound to walk before God and be perfect; and in the other God ſaith, For becauſe thou haſt done this thing, ſurely bleſſing I will bleſs thee.

And ſo much for Abraham's Covenant.

III. Of the Conditionality of the New Covenant.

Come we next to conſider that Opinion of yours, which led you into theſe other groſs Miſtakes and Abſurdities, and that is this, That the Covenant of Grace is abſolute, and whatever Covenant is not ſo, but hath any Condition upon our part, muſt needs for that reaſon be a Covenant of Works. See Page 229. It is obſervable (ſay you) that as the Covenants mention'd Gen. 2. Exod. 20. &c. were all conditional, and therefore legal Covenants, requiring ſtrict and perfect Obedience, as the Condition propounded, in order to the enjoyment of the mercies contain'd in them, which are all therefore done away in Chriſt; ſo on the other hand we ſee, that the Covenant God made with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. and Gen. 17. 2, 3. and Gen. 22. 16, 17, 18. was wholly free and abſolute, and therefore purely Evangelical, &c. We will review theſe things anon, and ſee if you truly repreſent the matter, but in order to it let me firſt tell you,

(1.) What we mean by a Goſpel-condition.

(2.) Prove that there are ſuch in the Goſpel-Covenant.

(3.) Shew you the Abſurdity of your Opinion againſt it.

(1.) What we mean by a Condition in the Goſpel-Covenant. By a Condition of the Covenant, we do not mean in the ſtricteſt rigid ſenſe of the word, ſuch a Reſtipulation to God from Man of perfect Obedience in his own Perſon, at all times, ſo as the leaſt failure therein forfeits all the Mercies of the Covenant: That's rather the Condition of Adam's Covenant of Works, than of the Evangelical Covenant: Nor do we aſſert any meritorious Condition, that in the nature of an impulſive Cauſe ſhall bring Man into the Covenant and its Privileges, or continue him in when brought in. This we renounce as well as you; but our Queſtion is about ſuch a Condition as is neither in the nature of it an Act perfect in every degree, nor meritorious in the leaſt of the Benefit conferr'd, nor yet done in our own Strength. But plainly and briefly, our Queſtion is, Whether there be not ſomething as an Act requir'd of us in point of Duty, to a Bleſſing conſequent by vertue of a Promiſe? Such a thing, whatever it be, hath the nature of a Condition, inaſmuch as it is antecedent to the Benefit of the Promiſe, and the Mercy or Benefit granted is ſuſpended until it be perform'd. The Queſtion is not, Whether there be any intrinſecal Worth or Value in the thing ſo requir'd, to oblige the diſpoſer to make or perform the Grant or Promiſe, but meerly that it be antecedent to the Enjoyment of the Benefit; and that the diſpoſer of the Benefit do ſuſpend the Benefit until it be perform'd. Thus an Act or Duty of ours, which hath nothing at all of Merit in it, or anſwerable Value to the Benefit it relates to, may be in a proper ſenſe a Condition of the ſaid Benefit. For what is a Condition in the true notion of it, but * the Suſpenſion of a Grant until ſomething future be done? Or, † as others to the ſame purpoſe, the adding of Words to a Grant, for the future, of a ſuſpending Quality, according to which the Diſpoſer will have the Benefit he diſpoſeth to be regulated. This properly is a Condition, tho' there be nothing of equivalent Value or Merit in the thing requir'd. And ſuch your Brethren, in their Narrative, pag. 14. do acknowledge Faith to be, when they aſſert none can be actually reconcil'd, juſtified, or adopted, till they are really implanted into Jeſus Chriſt by Faith, and ſo by vertue of this their Union with him, have theſe Fundamental Benefits actually convey'd unto them; which contains the proper Notion of the Condition we contend for.

* Conditio eſt ſuſpenſio alicujus dispoſitionis, tantiſper dum aliquid futurum fiat. Navarr. Enchirid. 482.

† Eſt verborum adjectio in futurum ſuſpendentium, ſecundum quam diſponens vult diſpoſitum regulari.

And ſuch a Condition of Salvation we aſſert Faith to be in the New Covenant Grace; that is to ſay, the Grant of Salvation by God in the Goſpel-Covenant is ſuſpended from all Men, till they believe, and is due by Promiſe (not Merit) to them as ſoon as they do truly believe. The Notes or Signs of a Condition given by Civilians, or Moraliſts, are ſuch as theſe, If, if not, unleſs, but if, except only, and the like. When theſe are added in the Promiſe of Bleſſing or Benefit for the future, they make the Promiſe conditional; and your Grammar (according to which you muſt ſpeak, if you ſpeak properly and ſtrictly) will tell you, that Si, ſin, modo, dum, dummodo, are all conditional Particles; and it is evident, that theſe conditional Particles are frequently inſerted in the Grants of the Bleſſings and Privileges of the New Teſtament. As for Example, Mark 9. 23. εἰ δύνασαι πιστεῦσαι, If thou canſt believe. Acts 8. 37. εἰ πιστεύεις ἐξ ὅλης τῆς καρδίας, If thou believeſt with thy whole heart, thou mayeſt, &c. Rom. 10. 9. ὅτι ἐαν, That if thou ſhalt confeſs with thy mouth, and believe with thy heart, &c. thou ſhalt be ſaved. Matth. 18. 3. ἐαν μὴ, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, you ſhall not enter into the kingdom of Heaven. Mark 5. 36. μόνον, Only believe. Mark 11. 26. εἰ δὲ οὐκ, But if ye forgive not, &c. With multitudes more, which are all conditional Particles inſerted in the Grants of Benefits.

(2.) Having ſhewn you what the Nature of a Condition is, I ſhall, I hope, make it plain to you, That Faith is ſuch a Condition in the Goſpel-Grant of our Salvation; for we find the Benefit ſuſpended till this Act of Faith be perform'd, John 3. 36. He that believeth on the Son hath everlaſting life; and he that believeth not the Son ſhall not ſee life, but the wrath of God abideth on him. And moſt plainly, Rom. 10. 9. having ſhewn before what the Condition of Legal Righteouſneſs was, he tells us there what the Goſpel-Condition of Salvation is. The Righteouſneſs which is of Faith, ſpeaketh on this wiſe; that if thou ſhalt confeſs with thy mouth the Lord Jeſus, and ſhalt believe in thy heart, that God raiſed him from the dead, thou ſhalt be ſaved. I ask you, Sir, whether it be poſſible to put words into a frame more lively expreſſive of a Condition than theſe are? Do but compare Mark 16. 16. He that believeth, and is baptized, ſhall be ſaved; but he that believeth not, ſhall be damned: Do but compare, I ſay, that Scripture-phraſe with the words of Jacob's Sons, which all allow to be conditional, Gen. 43. 4, 5. If thou wilt ſend our brother with us, we will go down; but if thou wilt not ſend him, we will not go down; and judge whether the one be not as conditional as the other: More particularly,

Argument I.

If we cannot be juſtified or ſav'd till we believe, then Faith is the Condition on which thoſe conſequent Benefits are ſuſpended.

But we cannot be juſtified or ſaved till we believe. Ergo.

The Sequel of the Major is evident; for as was ſaid before, a Condition is the Suſpenſion of a Grant till ſomething future be done. The Minor is plain by Scripture, Rom. 4. 24. Now it was not written for his ſake alone, that righteouſneſs was imputed to him, but for our ſakes alſo, to whom it ſhall be imputed if we believe. οἷς μέλλει λογίζεσθαι, Quibus futurum eſt ut imputetur, to whom it ſhall come to paſs, that it ſhall be imputed, if we believe: And Acts 10. 43. Whoſoever believeth on him, ſhall receive remiſſion of ſins. John 3. 36. He that believeth not, ſhall not ſee life, but the wrath of God remaineth on him; with multitudes more. Now, Sir, lay ſeriouſly before your Eyes ſuch Scriptures as theſe, that promiſe Salvation to Believers, and threaten Damnation to all Unbelievers, as Mark 16. 16. doth, and then give a plain and clear Anſwer to this Queſtion; Either the poſitive part of that Text promiſes Salvation abſolutely to Men, whether they believe or believe not, and conſequently Unbelievers ſhall be ſav'd as well as Believers; and the Negative part threatens Damnation abſolutely to Sinners, as Sinners; and conſequently all Sinners ſhall be damned, whether they believe or believe not. Or elſe if you allow neither to be abſolute, but that none can be ſav'd till they believe, nor any damn'd when they do believe; is not that a conditional Promiſe and Threatning?

Argument II.

If God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. and that Gen. 17. 2, 3. were (as you ſay) pure Goſpel-Covenants of Grace, and yet in both ſome things are requir'd as Duties on Abraham's part, to make him partaker of the Benefits of the Promiſes, then the Covenant of Grace is not abſolute, but conditional.

But ſo it was in both theſe Covenants. Ergo.

The Minor only requires Proof, for which let us have recourſe to the places, and ſee whether it be ſo or not.

(1.) For the firſt you inſtance in as a pure Goſpel-covenant made with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. I muſt confeſs, as you diſmember the Text, p. 229. by chuſing out the ſecond and third Verſes, and leaving out the firſt, which was the tryal of Abraham's Obedience in forſaking his Native Country, and his Father's Houſe; I ſay, give me but this liberty to ſeparate and disjoin one part of a Covenant from the other, and it's eaſy to make any conditional Covenant in the World to become abſolute: For take but the Duty requir'd, from the Promiſe that is made, and that which was a conditional, preſently becomes an abſolute Grant. Suppoſe, Sir, that Abraham had refus'd to leave his dear native Country and neareſt Relations, as many do, think you that the promis'd Mercies had been his? I muſt plainly tell you, you aſſume a ſtrange liberty in this matter, and make a great deal bolder with the Scriptures than you ought: And the very ſame uſage the other Scriptures hath.

(2.) For when you cite your Second Covenant with Abraham, you only cite Gen. 17. 2. 3. and then call it an abſolute Goſpel-covenant; when indeed you made it ſo, by leaving out the firſt Verſe, which contains the Condition or Duty requir'd on Abraham's part; for thus run the three firſt Verſes, And when Abraham was ninety nine years old, the Lord appeared to Abraham, and ſaid unto him, I am the Almighty God, walk thou before me, and be thou perfect, and I will make my Covenant between me and thee, &c. Here an upright Converſation before God is requir'd of him, at God's entrance into this Covenant with him; but that is, and muſt be omitted, and cut off, to make the Covenant look abſolute. I am really griev'd to ſee the Scriptures thus dealt with to ſerve a Deſign.

Argument III.

If all the Promiſes of the Goſpel be abſolute and unconditional, requiring no Reſtipulation from Man, then they cannot properly and truly belong to the New Covenant.

But they do properly and truly belong to the New Covenant; therefore they are not all abſolute and unconditional.

The Sequel of the Major is only liable to doubt or denial, namely, That the Abſoluteneſs of all the Promiſes of the New Teſtament cuts off their relation to a Covenant; but that it doth ſo, no Man can deny, that underſtands the difference between a Covenant and an abſolute Promiſe. A Covenant is a mutual Compact or Agreement betwixt Parties, in which they bind each other to the performance of what they reſpectively promiſe; ſo that there can be no proper Covenant where there is not a Reſtipulation or Re-obligation of one part, as well as a Promiſe on the other: But an abſolute Promiſe binds only one Party, and leaves the other wholly free and unoblig'd to any thing in order to the Enjoyment of the Good promis'd. So then, if all the New Teſtament Promiſes be unconditional and abſolute, they are not part of a Covenant, nor muſt that word be applied to them; they are abſolute Promiſes, binding no Man to whom they are made to any Duty, in order to the Enjoyment of the Mercies promis'd: But thoſe Perſons that are under theſe abſolute Promiſes, muſt and ſhall enjoy the Mercies of Pardon and Salvation, whether they repent or repent not, believe or believe not, obey or obey not. Now, to what Licentiouſneſs this Doctrine leads Men, is obvious to every Eye. Yet this Abſoluteneſs of the Covenant (as you improperly call it) is by you aſſerted, p. 229, 230. There is (ſay you) no Condition at all, 'tis wholly free and abſolute, as the Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 12. 2, 3. Gen. 17. 2, 3. Thank you, Sir, for making them ſo; for by cutting off the firſt Verſes, where the Duty requir'd on Abraham's part is contain'd, you make them what God never intended them to be. And the ſame foul play is in Deut. 30. where you ſeparate the plain Condition contain'd in ver. 1, 2. from the Promiſe, ver. 6. Or if the Condition, ver. 1, 2. be not plain enough, but you will make it part of the Promiſe, I hope that after, in ver. 10. is too plain to be denied. As to the other Texts, more anon; mean time ſee how you deſtroy the Nature of a Covenant.

Object. But ſay you, pag. 233. To impoſe new Conditions, though never ſo mild, is a new Covenant of Works with ſome Mercy, but not a Covenant of Grace, properly ſo call'd.

Sol. 'Tis true, if thoſe Works or Acts of ours, which God requires, be underſtood of meritorious Works in our own Strength and Power to perform, it deſtroys the Free Grace of the Covenant; but this we utterly reject, and ſpeak only of Faith wrought in us by the Spirit of God, which receives all from God, and gives the entire Glory to God, Epheſ. 2. 5, 8.

Obj. But you will ſay, If Faith be the Condition, and that Faith be not of our ſelves, then both the Promiſe and the Condition are on God's part, (if you will call Faith a Condition) and ſo ſtill on our part the Covenant is abſolute.

Sol. This is a miſtake, and the miſtake in this leads you into all the reſt; tho' Faith (which we call the Condition on our part) be the Gift of God, and the Power of believing be deriv'd from God, yet the Act of believing is properly our Act, tho' the Power by which we believe be of God; elſe it would follow, when we act any Grace, as Faith, Repentance, or Obedience, that God believes, repents, and obeys in us, and it is not we, but God that doth all theſe. This, I hope, you will not dare to aſſert; they are truly our Works, tho' wrought in God's Strength, Iſa. 26. 12. Lord, thou haſt wrought all our works in us, (i. e.) though they be our Works, yet they are wrought in us by thy Grace or Strength.

As for Dr. Owen, 'tis plain from the place you cite in the Doctrine of Juſtification, pag. 156. he only excludes Conditions as we do, in reſpect of the Dignity of the Act, and is more plain in his Treatiſe of Redemption, pag. 103, 104. in which he allows Conditions in both the Covenants, and makes this the difference, That the Old requir'd them, but the New effects them in all the Federates.

I know no Orthodox Divine in the World that preſumes to thruſt in any Work of Man's into the Covenant of Grace, as a Condition, which in the Arminian Senſe he may or may not perform, according to the Power and Pleaſure of his own Free-will, without the preventing or determining Grace of God; which preventing Grace is contain'd in thoſe Promiſes, Ezek. 36. 25, 26, 27, &c. Nor yet that there is any meritorious worth, either of Condignity or Congruity in the Popiſh Senſe, in the very juſtifying Act of Faith, for the which God juſtifies and ſaves us. But we ſay, That tho' God in the way of preventing Grace works Faith in us, and when it is ſo wrought, we need his aſſiſting Grace to act it, yet neither this aſſiſting nor preventing Grace makes the Act of Faith no more to be our Act: 'Tis we that believe ſtill, though in God's Strength, and that upon our believing or not believing, we have or have not the Benefits of God's Promiſes; which is the very proper Notion of a Condition.

Argument IV.

If all the Promiſes of the New Covenant be abſolute and unconditional, having no reſpect nor relation to any Grace wrought in us, nor Duty done by us, then the Tryal of our Intereſt in Chriſt by Marks and Signs of Grace, is not our Duty, nor can we take Comfort in Sanctification, as an Evidence of Juſtification.

But it is a Chriſtian's Duty to try his Intereſt in Chriſt by Marks and Signs, and he may take comfort in Sanctification, as an Evidence of Juſtification. Ergo.

The Sequel of the Major is undeniably clear, for that can never be a Sign or Evidence of an Intereſt in Chriſt, which that Intereſt may be without; yea, and as Dr. Criſpe aſſerts, according to his Antinomian Principles, Chriſt is ours (ſaith he) before we have gracious Qualifications. Every true Mark and Sign muſt be inſeperable from that it ſignifies. Now, if the Works of the Spirit in us be not ſo, but an Intereſt in Chriſt may be where theſe are not; then they are no proper Marks or Signs; and if they are not, it cannot be our Duty to make uſe of them as ſuch; and conſequently if we ſhould, they can yield us no Comfort.

Dr. Criſpe 2d Vol. of Chriſt exalted. Serm. 14.

The Minor is plain in Scripture, 1 John 2, 3. Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments. The meaning is, we perceive and diſcern our ſelves to be ſincere Believers, and conſequently that Chriſt is our Propitiation, when Obedience to his Commands is become habitual and eaſy to us: So 1 John 3. 19. Hereby we know that we are of the Truth, and ſhall aſſure our Hearts before him, (i. e.) by our ſincere cordial Love to Chriſt and his Members, as v. 18. this ſhall demonſtrate to us, that we are the Children of Truth; and again, 1 John 3. 14. We know that we are paſſed from death to life; becauſe we love the Brethren: With multitudes more to the ſame purpoſe, which plainly teach Chriſtians to fetch the Evidences of their Juſtification out of their Sanctification, and to prove their Intereſt in Chriſt, by the Works of his Spirit found in their own Hearts.

And this is not only a Chriſtian's Liberty, but his commanded Duty; to bring his Intereſt in Chriſt to this Touchſtone and Teſt, 2 Cor. 13. Examine your ſelves, prove your ſelves, &c. 2 Pet. 1. 10. Give all diligence to make your calling and election ſure, (i. e.) your Election by your Calling. No Man can make his Election ſure a priori, nor can any Man make it ſurer than it is in ſe, therefore it is only capable of being made ſure to us a poſteriori, argu-from the Work of Sanctification in us, to God's Eternal Choice of us.

And as the Saints in all Ages have taken this Courſe, ſo they have taken great and lawful Comfort in the Uſe of theſe Marks and Signs of Grace. 2 Kings 20. 3. 2 Cor. 1. 12.

I am ſenſible how vehemently the Antinomian Party, Dr. Criſpe, Mr. Eyre, and ſome others, do oppugn this Truth, repreſenting it as illegal and impracticable; (for they are for the Abſolute and Unconditional Nature of the New Covenant, as well as you;) but by your Eſpouſing their Principle, you have even run Anabaptiſm into Antinomianiſm; and muſt, by this Principle of yours, renounce all Marks and Trials of an Intereſt in Chriſt, by any Work of the Spirit wrought in us. You muſt only ſtick to the immediate Sealings of the Spirit; which, if ſuch a Thing be at all, it is but rare and extraordinary.

I will not deny but there may be an immediate Teſtimony of the Spirit; but ſure I am his mediate Teſtimony by his Graces in us, is his uſual way of Sealing Believers. We do not affirm any of theſe his Works to be Meritorious Cauſes of our Juſtification; or that conſider'd abſtractedly from the Spirit, they can of themſelves ſeal, or evidence our Intereſt in Chriſt. Neither do we affirm, that any of them are compleat and perfect Works; but this we ſay, that they being true and ſincere, tho' imperfect Graces, they are our uſual and ſtanding Evidences, to make out our Intereſt in Chriſt by. And I hope you, and the whole Antinomian Party, will find it hard, yea, and impoſſible, to remove the Saints, from that comfortable and Scriptural way of Examining their Intereſt in Chriſt, by the Graces of his Spirit in them; as the Saints, who are gone to Heaven before them, have done in all Generations.

Argument V.

If the Covenant of Grace be altogether Abſolute and Unconditional, requiring nothing to be done on our Part, to entitle us to its Benefits; then it cannot be Man's Duty in entring Covenant with God, to deliberate the Terms, count the Coſt, or give his Conſent by Word or Writing, explicitly to the Terms of this Covenant.

But it is Man's Duty, in entring Covenant with God, to deliberate the Terms, and count the Coſt, Luk. 14. 26, to 34. and explicitly to give his Conſent thereto, either by Word or Writing. Ergo.

The Sequel of the Major is ſelf-evident: For where there are no Terms or Conditions required on our Part, there can be none to deliberate, or give our Conſent to; and ſo a Man may be in a Covenant, without his own Conſent.

The Minor is undeniable in the Text cited. If you ſay theſe are Duties, but not Conditions; I reply, They are ſuch Duties, without the Performance of which, we can have no Benefit by Chriſt and the New Covenant; Luk. 14. 33. And ſuch Duties have the true ſuſpending Nature of Conditions in them. If you ſay they are only ſubſequent Duties, but not antecedent or concomitant Acts; the 28th Verſe directly oppoſes you: Let him firſt ſit down, and count the coſt. And for thoſe Overt-Acts, whereby we explicitly declare our Conſent to the Terms of the Covenant, at our firſt entring into the Bond of it, I hope you will not ſay that's a Legal Covenant too. Iſa. 44. 3, 4. I will pour water upon him that is thirſty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my Spirit upon thy Seed, and my Bleſſing upon thine Off-ſpring; and they ſhall ſpring up as among the graſs, as willows by the water-courſes. One ſhall ſay, I am the Lord's, and another ſhall call himſelf by the name of Jacob; and another ſhall ſubſcribe with his hand unto the Lord, &c. A plain Alluſion to Soldiers, when they liſt themſelves under a Captain, or General.

What remains now, to reply to theſe Arguments; but either that the Places by me cited and argued upon, do not intend the New Covenant under which we are; or that this New Covenant hath its Conditions, and is not altogether abſolute, as you have aſſerted it to be?

And thus, Sir, you are fairly beaten off (if I miſtake not) from the new Ground you had choſen and marked out to raiſe your Battery upon, to demoliſh that ſtrong Fort which ſecures the Right of Believers Infants to Baptiſm; and you muſt return again to the old Anſwers of Mr. Tombes, and others, to our ſolid and ſubſtantial Arguments from Abraham's Covenant, Gen. 17. which have been baffled over and over, by Baxter, Blake, Sydenham, and many other ſtout Champions for Infants-Baptiſm.

All that I am further concerned about, is to examine ſo many of thoſe Scriptures as you have ſpoken to, which are by us produced in Defence of thoſe Four Grounds or Principles mention'd in the Beginning of this Diſcourſe, whereon we eſtabliſh the Right of Infants Baptiſm; and to vindicate thoſe Scriptures, from your ſtrained and injurious Interpretations of them: Which being done, they will each of them ſtand in thoſe eminent Places of Service, where they have been ſo long uſeful to the Cauſe we defend.

As for your pretended Solutions of the Incomparable Mr. Baxter's, and the Learned and Acute Dr. Burthogg's Arguments; I admire at your Confidence therein; and let me tell you, without Breach of Charity, 'tis an high Piece of Confidence in you, to throw the Gantlet, and bid Defiance to Two ſuch Worthies yet alive, and eaſily able to detect your Folly, in the Weakneſs and Impertinency of your Anſwers. Alas! my Friend, you little know, what it is to have ſuch weak and inartificial Diſcourſes as yours, brought under the ſtrict Examen of ſuch Acute and Judicious Eyes. But,

——— Sic Dama leonem
Inſequitur, audetq; viro concurrere Virgo.

Nor will I preſume to anticipate either of their Anſwers to your Diſcourſe, (if they ſhall think it worthy of an Anſwer) but rather briefly reflect upon what you return to the Arguments of thoſe Eminent Divines that are gone to Glory, in the Faith of that Truth you oppoſe; and are not capable of defending their Solid and Regular Interpretations of Scriptures, againſt the Notions you force upon them, contrary both to the Grammar and Scope of ſeveral of them.

And here, Sir, in the Beginning, let me mind you what a Learned and Judicious Perſon ſaith, about all Interpretations of Scriptures. Four Things (ſaith he) commend an Interpretation, and eſtabliſh it as a King upon the Throne, againſt whom there is no riſing up.

(1.) If the Letter and Grammar of the Text will fairly bear it.

(2.) If the Scope and Argument of the Place will cloſe directly with it.

(3.) If the Interpretation ſet up againſt it, cannot ſtand before both, or either of the former.

(4.) If

(4.) If the Judgment of Learned, Wise, and Impartial Men, be found generally agreeable to it.

According to these Rules, (whereat you can have no just Exception,) I shall briefly, yet I hope clearly and sufficiently, answer some of the Replies you make to the Arguments of those deceased Worthies. And,

(1.) In Pag. 1. you produce Mr. William Allen's Argument ad hominem, against your Practice. He tells you, your own Principle condemns you; for you reject the Baptizing of Infants, because there is no Example in the New Testament for it; and yet baptize Persons at Age, whose Parents were Christians; which is as much without a Gospel-President, or Example, as the former. The Sum of your Reply is, That tho' it should be granted, that there is no express Example for the Baptizing of such in Scripture, yet there are Examples enough concerning the Baptism of Believers.

Reply. Here you grant all that Mr. Allen objects; viz. That you are altogether without Example, or President, for your Practice: And object to him and us, what he nor we ever scrupled or denied; viz. The Baptizing of some adult Persons, upon the personal Profession of their Faith. I have done it my self; and, in like Circumstances, am ready to do it again. Once you clearly yield it, that you have no President nor Example for your Practice in the Gospel. That's all that he seeks; and what he seeks, you plainly grant. As to the Precept and Examples of Baptizing adult Believers, whose Parents were Unbelievers, and themselves never baptized in Infancy; that's not the Point you are now to speak to; nor have we any Controversy about it. Certainly you are none of the fittest Persons in the World to clamour so loudly against us, for want of express Presidents for Infant-Baptism; whilst your self confess, you want even one President in the New Testament, to legitimate your own Practice; and in the mean time, are found in the sinful Neglect of a sweet and heavenly Gospel-Ordinance, viz. the Singing of Psalms, for which you have both Precept and President in the Gospel. Col. 3. 16. James 5. 13. 1 Cor. 14. 26.

(2.) It is objected against you, Pag. 2. That if the Commission, Mat. 28. excludes none from Baptism, but such as are to be excluded by the Order therein to be observed; and if Baptizing and Teaching are to precede, or follow one the other, as there named by Christ, then these Two Conclusions will follow. (1.) That Infants are not there excluded from Baptism. (2.) That a Person may be baptized, before he be taught; for there we have, First, Μαθητέυσατε πάντα τὰ ἔθνη, Disciple all Nations; make them Disciples, or Christians. Secondly, We have Βαπτίζοντες, ϗ διδάσκοντες; which literally to translate, is, Baptizing-Teaching. Now then Discipling being a general Word, that contains in it the Two others that follow, viz. Baptizing and Teaching; and being the Imperative Mood, whereas the other Two are Participles; it is manifest, that the whole Command, or Commission, is given in that, and the Mode of Execution in these. And if the Mode of Executing that general Commission be expressed in these, where Baptizing is first, and Teaching comes after; what is become of the Order the Antipœdobaptists have so long talk'd of?

The Sum of your Answer is, That if Baptizing be first, and Teaching comes after; then it will follow, that the Apostles understood not their Commission aright; for they first preached, and then baptized them that by their Preaching believed; Acts 8. Acts 10. Acts 2. with many other Places you heap up to the same Purpose: And therefore Infants must be excluded by that Commission, because uncapable of being taught. And therefore let us Criticize as we please upon Imperative Moods and Participles, the Case is clear, Teaching must go before Baptizing.

Reply. It had been more modest to suspect, that you understood not the Text aright, than that the Apostles understood not their Commission aright. The Order of the Words (as this well fortified Objection declares, and you cannot deny) puts Teaching after Baptizing: And tho' we should allow you, that they Disciped adult Persons by Teaching, and taught others Baptized in Infancy, after their Baptizing them; in both they followed their Order and Commission, in Discipling the Parents by Preaching, and Teaching their Children baptized, by virtue of the Promise to them, after their Baptism. For he declares, Acts 2. the Promise is to them, and to their Children; which gives a Right of both unto Baptism: And so Teaching, according to the Order of this Commission, may be an antecedent Duty to the Parent, and a subsequent Duty to him and his Baptized Children. For if Μαθητέυσατε includes Teaching before Baptizing, why should not Διδάσκοντες, which is put after Baptizing, respect the subsequent Duty of Teaching both the one and other?

(3.) Mr. Allen's next Argument, mention'd by you, Pag. 5. is taken from Mat. 19. 14. Suffer little Children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven. Whence he argues against your Objection, of the Incapacity of Infants for Baptism; That if they are capable of Intereſt, or Membership in the Kingdom of Heaven, or Church, they are equally capable of the Sign or Cognizance, which is Baptism.

To this you reply Three Things: (1.) That it remains to be prov'd, that these little Children were Infants, and not grown Boys or Girls, capable of making an actual Profession of their Faith in Christ. (2.) 'Tis doubtful, whether they were for the present in the Kingdom of God, or were only elected, and so in time should be of his Kingdom. And (3.) Whatever they were, they were brought unto Christ, who himself baptized not; not to his Disciples, who did baptize.

Reply. Your first Exception is vain and groundless: That they were very Young, and Little Ones, appears not only by Christ's taking them in his Arms, but from the very Notation of the Word Παιδία, a Diminutive Word, signifying a little Child, or Infant. So John was call'd, when Newborn, Luk. 1. 76. And Christ, when he lay in the Manger; and Moses, when among the Flags. And if this be not enough, St. Luke gives them another Name, Luk. 18. 15. Τὰ βρέφη, Infants; a Word given to a Child in the Womb, Luk. 1. 41. And for what you object out of Piscator, that the same Word is us'd of Timothy, who knew the Scriptures from a Child; 'tis an evident Mistake, or Shift: For the Word is, ἀπὸ βρέφους; He knew them, not being an Infant, but from his Childhood, or Infancy; that is, when he had pass'd his Infant-State, in which State these were that were brought unto Christ. And, (2.) Whereas you question their present Right in the Kingdom of God; or, whether it were not future, by virtue of their Election? The Text will not allow your Interpretation, Τῶν γὰρ τοιούτων ἐστὶν, Of such is; not ἔσεται, shall be, the Kingdom of God. Their present Church-Membership, asserted by Christ, is also a known Rule, to regulate for the future the Disciples Carriage towards them; which was too severe, harsh, and therefore highly displeasing to Christ: But by telling ling them they were Members of the Church, or Kingdom of Heaven, (they being very probably the Infants of Believing Parents, as their bringing them unto Chriſt with ſuch Affection, through the Frowns and Repulſes of the Diſciples, ſhews) he gives them a known and plain Rule, how to diſtinguiſh Infants, and regulate their Carriage towards them; which God's Election can never be, that being an unrevealed Secret. And, (3.) Whereas you ſay, Chriſt did not baptize them: I reply, We never urged this Scripture, to prove he did ſo; but only to prove their Church-Membership; which methinks Chriſt aſſerts as plainly as Words can aſſert it, when he ſaith, Of ſuch is the Kingdom of Heaven. And tho' you uſe to quibble at the Word Τοιούτων, of ſuch, as tho' it reſpected not the preſent Infants, but grown Perſons, reſembling them in humble and innocent Qualities; Mr. Sydenham hath ſufficiently baffled that Interpretation, by ſhewing its Inconſiſtence with the Scope and Argument of that Place, and how ridiculous this Senſe would be, when reduced to a formal Argument.

(4.) The Fourth Argument you pretend to anſwer, Pag. 8. is drawn from 1 Cor. 7. 14. Elſe were your Children unclean, but now are they holy. To this, you anſwer Two Things: (1.) That the Holineſs here ſpoken of, is not a Fœderal, but a Matrimonial Holineſs, namely, Legitimacy; and is as much as to ſay, Your Children are no Baſtards, ſeeing one of you is a Believer.

Reply. If this be true, and the genuine Senſe of this Text, then all the Children in the World, not immediately deſcended from one, or both Believing Parents, muſt of neceſſity be all Baſtards; their Parents, how ſolemnly ſoever married, muſt live in Uncleanneſs: And what mad Work (think you) will this Aſſertion make in the World? And how many Millions of Perſons will it nearly touch, both in Point of Honour, and Inheritance?

(2.) You ſay, Tho' the Holineſs here ſpoken of, ſhould be allowed to be a Fœderal, or Covenant-Holineſs; yet for want of an expreſs Inſtitution, it will not warrant our Practice.

Reply. The Holineſs of the Children being granted to be a Covenant-Holineſs, none can deny them to be within the Covenant; how elſe come they to be Holy by Covenant? And if within the Covenant, who can deny them the initiating Sign, which is Baptiſm? Or how ſhall they (ordinarily) be viſibly admitted into the Viſible Church without it? The Connection betwixt their Fœderal Holineſs, and Right to Baptiſm, will appear plain enough from Acts 2. 38. which you come next to ſpeak to.

(5.) You attempt to anſwer Mr. Allen's Argument from Acts 2. 38. Be baptized; for the Promiſe is to you, and to your Children, and unto all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God ſhall call.

On this Text, you know, we lay very great Streſs for the Proof of Infants-Baptiſm; and it deſerves a remark, that you wholly ſuppreſs our Arguments drawn from that Text, but however return an Answer to them all, ſuch as it is. You firſt tell us, The Promiſe here ſpoken of, is not a Promiſe of any external Privileges, but the Promiſe of the Goſpel, or the Grace of God in Chriſt Jeſus.

Secondly, That the Promiſe was not to their Children, as Believers Seed, nor to them, or any other uncall'd by the Lord; but only a Promiſe of Remiſſion of Sins, and Receiving the Holy Ghoſt, upon their actual Repentance; which Infants cannot perform, and therefore cannot here be intended. This is the true and whole Senſe of your Answer.

Reply. Now becauſe you have wholly omitted our Argument from this Text, (for which doubtleſs there was ſome Reaſon;) I think my ſelf obliged to let the World know how we expound it, and what we duly infer from that Expoſition of it; and then let the Reader judge, whether by the fore-mentioned Rules of a juſt Interpretation, you or we are in the Right.

(1.) We obſerve this famous Text to contain the firſt Argument uſed by the Apoſtle, after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, to perſwade the Jews to embrace Chriſtianity, by Repenting, and ſubmitting themſelves to Baptiſm, the initiating Sign of it; and therefore here we juſtly expect much Light about this controverted Point: Nor doth the Apoſtle, in this Text, deceive our Expectation.

(2.) We take it for granted, that the direct and proper Scope of this Place, is to perſwade the Jews (to whom St. Peter preach'd) to repent, and be baptized. This you allow, when you ſay, P. 10. He uſes it as a Motive, why they and theirs ſhould actually repent, and be baptized. In theſe Two then there is no Controverſy.

(3.) We take it for certain, that the Promiſe here referr'd to by Peter, is that gracious Promiſe, Gen. 17. 7. I will be a God to thee and thy Seed: The Adjoining of their Children to them, ſaith Calvin, (and with him runs the general Current of Expoſitors) depends on the Words of that Promiſe, Gen. 17. 7. If you be not ſatisfied with this, but rather will refer it to Joel 2. 28. you are then oblig'd to anſwer Mr. Sydenham's Arguments à fortiori, from that Reference. But you make no Exception at all to this Accommodation of it: And then the Senſe muſt be this; The Promiſe ſhall run as before, to you, and to your Children.

(4.) We ſay, that except it had had Relation to the Covenant with Abraham, there had been no Occaſion, or Reaſon at all, here to have mentioned Children, as well as Parents: The Promiſe is to you, and to your Children. It had been enough, if he had only intended the Believing Parents, excluſive of their Infant Seed, to have ſaid, The Promiſe is made to as many as the Lord our God ſhall call. What Reaſon, or Occaſion, was there to bring in their Children at all?

(5.) We find here the Children both of Believing Jews and Gentiles, mentioned in the Promiſe, accompanying the Precept of Baptiſm; and the Precept to them built upon the Promiſe, as that which gave them their Title to Baptiſm; Ὑμῖν γὰρ ἐστὶν ἡ ἐπαγγελία, For the Promiſe is to you, and to your Children. In the ſame Line that he mentions Baptiſm, he alſo mentions the Promiſe, upon which their Right is founded; and in the ſame Breath with which he mentions their Children, he alſo mentions the Promiſe: Which he would never have done, had his Deſign been to have excluded their Children from both, or either of them; eſpecially ſeeing their Children had been ſo long in the Poſſeſſion of both. Theſe Things are obvious, natural, and every way agreeable, both to the Grammar and Scope of the Text: Whence we argue,

Arg. If the Promiſe be the ſame to Believers under the Goſpel, that ever it was to Abraham, and his Natural Seed; then the Children of Believers, by virtue thereof, have as good a Title to Baptiſm, as Abraham's Children had to Circumciſion.

But the Promiſe is the ſame. Ergo, &c.

Next let us conſider your Anſwers.

(1.) You ſay, The Promiſe here ſpoken of, is not a Promiſe of any external Privileges, but the Promiſe of the Goſpel.

Reply.

Reply. Your Diſtinction is vain and groundleſs; for it oppoſeth Promiſes that contain External Privileges, to Goſpel-Promiſes; contrary to 1 Tim. 4. 8. Godlineſs hath the Promiſe of the Life that now is, and of that which is to come. Secondly, Circumciſion then, and Baptiſm now, which have both their Foundation in that Promiſe, contain Privileges in them of both Sorts. This no Man can deny, but he that thinks it no Privilege to be admitted into the Viſible Church, by the external initiating Sign, and to be thereby diſtinguiſhed from the Pagan World. You have no Warrant therefore, to divide thoſe Things which God hath united.

(2.) You ſay, The Promiſe was not to them as Believers Seed, nor to any uncalled by the Lord.

Reply. Your Meaning is, that theſe Words [as many as the Lord ſhall call] are a Limitation of the Promiſe to them only, whether Parents or Children, that are actually called. Let this your Interpretation be compared with, and examin'd by the Scope of the Text, which you confeſſed before to be a Motive to perſwade them and theirs to Repentance and Baptiſm, and ſee if it can ſtand before it, as ours doth. For if this be the Meaning, then the Apoſtle's Argument muſt run thus: 'I exhort you, convinced Jews, to Repentance 'and Chriſtian Baptiſm: For whereas you, and 'your Children, have hitherto been an Holy Seed, 'and the Promiſe formerly was to them as well as 'you; but now the Caſe is alter'd: If you your 'ſelves repent, and be baptiz'd, you ſhall have the 'Benefit of the Promiſe; but as for your Children, 'they ſhall be in the ſelf-ſame Caſe, and State, with 'the Children of Pagans and Infidels. Indeed, if 'any of your Children ſhall hereafter believe, they 'ſhall have Benefit by the Promiſe, but no more than 'the Children of Pagans and Infidels, which upon 'Repentance ſhall be equal with them. Repent ye 'therefore, and be baptized; for the Promiſe is unto you, 'and to your Children. This, and no other, muſt the Apoſtle's Motive be, according to your Interpretation, and Limitation of his Words.

We make the Motive or Argument to run thus: 'God hath now remembred his Covenant to Abra-'ham, in ſending that Bleſſed Seed, in whom he 'promiſed to be the God of him, and his Seed; 'yea, and of all Believing Gentiles, as well as Jews 'and their Children: Don't you therefore, by 'your Unbelief, deprive both your ſelves, and 'your dear Children, of the Mercies and Privi-'leges of ſo great a Promiſe? Repent therefore, and 'be baptized; for the Promiſe is unto you, and to your 'Children, &c. Let the impartial Reader judge both, and the acknowledged Scope of the Place determine the Matter. And as it cannot ſtand with the Scope of the Place, ſo neither (as Mr. Sydenham hath plainly evinc'd) with the Grammar of the Text, nor Rules of Logick, by which (according to your Expoſition) the Word [Children] muſt be redundant and ſuperfluous, as being neither comprehended under Jews or Gentiles, thoſe that are near, or far off; into which two Claſſes, or Ranks, the Text diſtributes the whole World; but muſt ſtand out of the Text, as a Party by themſelves, tho' expreſly mentioned in it, as thoſe to whom the Promiſe belongs. But enough of this.

Infant-Baptiſm, p. 44, 45.

(6.) Having vindicated Acts 2. 38, 39. which confirms our Fourth Aſſertion, viz. the Identity of the Promiſe the Jews were, and we are under; we proceed next to vindicate 2. Col. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. whereby we prove the Succeſſion of Baptiſm to Circumciſion; and vindicate it from that foreign Senſe you force upon it, to the great Injury of the Text, as well as of our Infants, whom you exclude from any Concernment therein.

Without any Repreſentation at all of the Grounds on which we proceed, to prove the Succeſſion of this Ordinance to that, you (as raſhly as confidently) call it a groundleſs Inference; which, whether it be or no, let the Impartial judge, when they ſhall ſee the Grounds on which we build that Aſſertion.

(1.) 'Tis out of Controverſy, that the Scope of this Place is to take off the Coloſſians from Circumciſion, and other Jewiſh Rites and Ceremonies, which the Falſe Teachers at that time earneſtly endeavour'd to reduce them to; as appears, ver. 4. to be his plain Deſign: And this I ſay, leſt any man ſhould beguile you with enticing words. And he ſaith it with great Concernment of Mind, as appears ver. 1.

(2.) Tis as plain, that the Argument by which he eſtabliſhes them in the Truth of the Goſpel, and ſecures them againſt the Danger of returning to thoſe Jewiſh Rites, eſpecially Circumciſion, is drawn from their Compleatneſs in Chriſt without it; Ver. 9, and 10. And that whatſoever they had under Circumciſion, they now enjoy in as compleat and full a meaſure and manner, as ever Abraham and his Seed did. And ye are compleat in him; i. e. in Chriſt.

(3.) To evince this, he inſtanceth in the very Caſe then under Debate, viz. Circumciſion, ver. 11, 12. And firſt diſtinguiſhing of a twofold Circumciſion, one made with, and the other without Hands, which he calls the Circumciſion of Chriſt: He tells them, as to both of theſe, (namely, Inward Circumciſion of the Heart, and the External Sign thereof too) both are fully anſwer'd in Baptiſm; In whom alſo ye are circumciſed with the Circumciſion made without hands; in putting off the body of the ſins of the fleſh, by the Circumciſion of Chriſt, buried with him in Baptiſm, Ver. 11, 12. That is, look, as before inward Circumciſion of the Heart was ſignified by outward Circumciſion of the Fleſh, as the proper, direct, and appointed Sign of it; ſo now the ſame inward Circumciſion, or Regeneration of the Soul, is as really and fully ſignified to you, by the New Goſpel-Sign of it, which is Baptiſm: And therefore you are as compleat, in reſpect both of outward and inward Privileges now, as ever Abraham and his Seed were. Do but convert the Propoſition, and ſuppoſe the Apoſtle's Deſign had been to take them off from Baptiſm, and bring them back to Circumciſion; and in order to it had ſaid In whom ye are alſo baptized with the Baptiſm of Chriſt being circumciſed with him: Would not the Subſtitution of Circumciſion in the place of Baptiſm have been clear? And why is not this as clear, as that would have been?

(4.) We further ſay, that except he had intended in theſe Words to have placed Baptiſm as an external Ordinance, in place and ſtead of outward Circumciſion, he could never have pitch'd upon a worſe Inſtance than that of Circumciſion, which was ſo much valued by them: Yea, from the very Inſtance he brings, he had put a ſtrong Objection in to their Mouths, againſt his Aſſertion ver. 10. That we are every way as Compleat without it, as the Jews were with it: For then their Children enjoy'd an Ordinance of great Value, which ours are deprived of, having none under the Goſpel in Lieu of it. Hence we argue,

Argument. If the Ordinance of Baptiſm now be appointed to anſwer the ſame Ends that Circumciſion cumſion did to the Jews, and to make us every way as compleat in Privileges as Circumciſion did them, then it comes in the Place and Room of it; and our Children have the ſame Right to this, as theirs had to that.

But the Antecedent is plain, from the Scope and Argument of the Apoſtle in this Text, and Context: Ergo. So is the Conſequent.

The Sum of your Anſwer is, (1.) That Circumciſion in the Fleſh, is neither expreſs'd nor meant here, but that of Chriſt in his own Perſon. (2.) That if Baptiſm had been intended to have come in the Place of Circumciſion; then it would follow, that Females muſt be excluded from Baptiſm.

Reply. Your firſt Anſwer is manifeſtly falſe: For if the Apoſtle diſtinguiſhes of a Twofold Circumciſion, (one made with Hands, the other made without Hands,) then 'tis manifeſt, he means Circumciſion in the Fleſh; which is now aboliſh'd, and all its Ends and Uſes anſwer'd, in Goſpel-Baptiſm. And whereas you ſay, the Circumciſion here ſpoken of, is no other but the Circumciſion of Chriſt in his own Perſon; I would gladly know, how the Coloſſians are ſaid to be circumcis'd in Chriſt's Perſonal Circumciſion only? And whether the Baptiſm here ſpoken of, wherewith they are ſaid to be buried with him, be not meant of Chriſt's Perſonal Baptiſm too; and conſequently, there is no need of the outward Ordinance to paſs upon them, or us. But eſpecially, 'tis worth while for you to explain the Reaſon, why he calls the Coloſſians Circumciſion, a Circumciſion of Chriſt, made without hands, if he only intends Chriſt's Perſonal Circumciſion; when we all know, that Chriſt's Perſonal Circumciſion was a Circumciſion made with hands; and could not poſſibly be ſuch a Circumciſion as theirs was, conſiſting in the Putting off the Body of the Sins of the Fleſh, or Mortification of their Corruptions. Chriſt had no Sin by Propagation, to put off, or mortifie in his own Perſon.

(2.) Your Second Anſwer is no leſs abſurd; That if Baptiſm, according to our Argument, ſucceeds in the Place of Circumciſion, then Females muſt be excluded from Baptiſm. You had as good have ſaid, That the Enlargement of the Privilege under the Goſpel, is no good Medium to prove we are as compleat now under Baptiſm, as they were under Circumciſion. Cannot Baptiſm ſtand in the Place of Circumciſion, becauſe it anſwers all its Ends with an Advantage? This, to me, is a very ſtrange Answer; however, it muſt ſtand in the Place of a better, rather than Baptiſm ſhall ſtand in the Place of Circumciſion.

Obj. But if Baptiſm ſucceed in the Room of Circumciſion, and there be ſuch an Analogy betwixt them, as you pretend; then it will follow, that you are oblig'd to baptize your Children the eighth Day, as they circumcis'd theirs.

Sol. The Objection is frivolous and vain: No Man, that I know, doubts, but the Lord's-Supper ſucceeds in the Room and Place of the Paſſover. Chriſt was the Subſtance of that, as well as this; and that was abrogated by his Inſtitution of this, the very ſame Night: As ſoon as he and his Diſciples had celebrated the one, the other was inſtituted, and immediately ſucceeded it. And yet Chriſtians are not obliged to the ſame Month, Day or Hour, for the Celebration of the Lord's-Supper: The Analogy is betwixt the Subſtantial Parts of both; amongſt which, the Spiritual Myſtery, Principal Ends, and Proper Subjects, are of principal Conſideration; not the minuter Circumſtances of Time and Place. In the Paſſover, and the Lord's-Supper, there is a Correſpondence betwixt the proper Subjects of both. No Uncircumcis'd Perſon, or Stranger to the Covenant, might eat of that, Exod. 12. 43, 48. No unbelieving Perſon, uncircumcis'd in Heart, hath a Right to this; 1 Cor. 11. 27, 28. So in the other; The Infants of God's Covenanted People were the Proper Subjects of Circumciſion then, and ſo they are (ſay we) of Baptiſm now; for the ſame Promiſe is ſtill to Believers, and their Children; Acts 2. 38, 39. Here lies the Analogy, and not in the variable Circumſtances of Time.

Whereas you ſay, Pag. 12. Baptiſm cannot ſucceed Circumciſion, becauſe it leaves no Character, or Mark upon the Body, as that did. This very Objection of yours is borrow'd in expreſs Words from Socinus, that Enemy of Chriſt, in Diſp. de Bapt. Pag. 113. and fully anſwer'd by Maccovius, Loc. Com. p. 830, 831.

Object. But it will be further ſaid; That according to our Opinion, there can be no Analogy, or Correſpondency, betwixt the very Subjects of both Ordinances: For Infants, at Eight Days old, were the proper Subjects of Circumciſion; but the Subjects of Baptiſm were adult Believers, from the Time of its firſt Inſtitution: And ſo the Analogy fails in the very Subjects.

Sol. This Objection is grounded upon a great Miſtake: 'Tis your Opinion, not ours, that deſtroys it; for with us it lies fairly in theſe Three Reſpects of it. (1.) We find, that at the firſt Inſtitution of Circumciſion, Abraham, the Father, at 90 Years old, and all the Men of his Houſe, were firſt circumcis'd, Gen. 17. 25, 26, 27. Anſwerably, at the firſt Inſtitution of Baptiſm, Parents, Maſters of Families, &c. being adult Believers, were firſt baptiz'd. (2.) After the Circumciſion of Abraham, and the Men of his Houſe, their Infant-Seed were alſo circumcis'd; the Promiſe belonging to them, as well as their Parents. Anſwerably, under the Goſpel, the whole Families of Believers were baptiz'd; and the Promiſe runs to their Infants under the Goſpel, as it did before, Acts 2. 39. (3.) As in the Days of Circumciſion, if any Stranger, that had not been circumcis'd in his Infancy, ſhould afterwards become a Proſelyte, and join himſelf to the Lord; he was to be circumcis'd, of whatever Age he was: So now, if any Infidel ſhall be converted, he is to be baptiz'd, upon his perſonal Profeſſion of Faith. And ſo much for the Analogy. As for your Correſpondency of Identity, I cannot underſtand it.

I meet with little more in your firſt Part, wherein I have any Concernment; only there I find Four Arguments, in Mood and Figure, againſt the Innovation of Symbolical Rites, by Human Authority, into the Worſhip of God; which is certainly the beſt Page in your Book. And of them I have nothing to ſay, but that they are good Ware; and I very well know the Mark and Number of that Parcel of Goods, and to whom they properly belong.

But yet before I diſmiſs your Book, I think my ſelf concern'd to vindicate one Place of Scripture more, viz. Rom. 11. 16, 17. which I alledg'd in the Beginning, for the Confirmation of our firſt Propoſition; viz. That God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. is the ſame Covenant for Subſtance we Gentile Believers are now under. If the firſt-fruits be holy, the lump is alſo holy: And if the root be holy, ſo are the branches. And if ſome of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wild Olive, were'ſt grafted in among them, and with them partakeſt of the root and fatneſs of the Olive-tree; boaſt not againſt the branches, &c. This Place is deſervedly of great Value with us, to prove, That we Gentile Believers, with our Infant-Seed, are inveſted under the Goſpel with the ſame ſubſtantial Privileges, that the Jews and their Infants formerly enjoy'd. Here, without opening one Term, you proceed (in your wonted manner) confidently to deny the Arguments of our Learned Divines from this Place. I ſhall therefore open this famous Text, and regularly deduce the Right of Gentile Believers Infants to Baptiſm from it. And here, keeping to the Rules above;

(1.) I note, that ver. 13, 14, 15. give us the true Level and Scope of the Apoſtle's Argument, which is to prove the Calling in again of the Jews, tho' for the preſent broken off; and on this ground, to excite himſelf to all Diligence for their Converſion, and ſuppreſs all Glorying and Boaſting in the Gentile Believers, as if they were more worthy than thoſe, becauſe they fill their Rooms and Places.

(2.) To prove the Calling again of the Jews, he argues ſtrongly, ver. 16. from the Fœderal Holineſs deriv'd to the Branches from their Root, or Anceſtors; namely, Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, with whom the Covenant was made; Gen. 17. For if the firſt-fruit be holy, the lump is alſo holy: And if the root be holy, ſo are the branches: i. e. Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, being in Covenant with God, a Fœderal Holineſs is from them deriv'd to the Branches. And this can be no other than a Fœderal Holineſs; becauſe thoſe their Anceſtors were utterly uncapable to tranſmit any inherent Holineſs to them, that being the incommunicable Prerogative of God. This Fœderal Holineſs lying ſtill in the Root, (the Covenant with Abraham,) will recover the Branches again to Life, tho' at preſent many of them be broken off; as Job ſpeaks in another Caſe, Job 14. 7, 8, 9. There is hope of a tree, tho' it be cut down, that it will ſprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not ceaſe; tho' the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the ſtock thereof dry in the ground; yet thro' the ſcent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.

(3.) We affirm, by the Authority of this Text, that all the Jewiſh Nation was not broken off, but only a Part of it: So the 17*th* Verſe plainly declares; And if ſome of the branches be broken off, &c. Not all, but ſome; for many of them were converted to Chriſt: We read of Three Thouſand, at one Sermon, Acts 2. and Multitudes more at other Times. All theſe converted Jews ſtood in the Apoſtles Time, as Branches in the true Olive, ſtill enjoying all their Privileges; and that which brake off them that were broken off, was nothing elſe but their own Unbelief; ver. 20. Well then, becauſe of unbelief, they were broken off. For at the Promulgation of the Goſpel, a New Article was added to their Creed; namely, That this ſame Jeſus, whom they had crucified, is the promiſed and true Meſſiah. This ſome believ'd, and ſo ſtood by Faith, ſtill enjoying all their Ancient Privileges of the Covenant: Others believed not, and their Unbelief broke them off.

(4.) We find in this Place Two Sorts of Branches growing upon this Root Abraham; ſome Natural Branches, namely, Jews by Nature, embracing Chriſt by Faith; others wild and foreign Branches, viz. Gentiles by Nature, but ingrafted by Faith, and by their Ingrafture growing among the Natural Branches, and with them partaking of the Root and Fatneſs of the Olive-tree, ver. 17. that is, the Rich Privileges of the Covenant and Promiſe to Abraham, Gen. 17. I will be a God to thee, and to thy Seed. This is the ſweet Juice, or Fatneſs of the Olive-tree, which both Sorts of Branches live upon, ver. 17. ſome on the external, others on the internal; ſome on both.

(5.) Theſe naturally wild, but now ingrafted Branches, viz. the Believing Gentiles, being grafted by Faith amongſt the Natural Branches, and with them ſucking the Fatneſs of the ſame Root and Olive; that is to ſay, the Privileges, Ordinances, and Franchiſes of the Church; we cannot but judge it to be a natural, clear, and neceſſary Conſequent, that the ſame Privileges the Natural Branches once had, and the remaining Branches, (amongſt whom the Gentile Believers were ingrafted) then had; the very ſame the Gentile Believers, and their Children, do now enjoy, by virtue of their Intereſt in the ſame Root; elſe we cannot underſtand, how we ſhould be ſaid to partake with them of the Root and Fatneſs of the Olive. Certainly the Sap is the ſame, which the Root ſends into all the Branches, whether they be natural, or ingrafted ones; and is as plentifully communicated to the ingrafted, as to the natural Branches: For the watering of this Olive with the more rich and plentiful Grace of the Goſpel, muſt make the Olive-tree as fat and flouriſhing as ever it was, to ſupply all its Branches, and more than ever before.

Seeing then we Gentiles have (1.) the ſame Graſting into the true Olive; and, (2.) that our preſent Grafting in, is anſwerable to their preſent Caſting out; and, (3.) that their Re-ingrafting, in the End of the World, ſhall be the ſame for Subſtance that ours now is, and their own firſt was: For when they were firſt taken in, they and their Children were taken in together; when they were broken off, they and their Children were broken off together; and when they ſhall be taken in again, they and their Children ſhall be taken in again: And, (4.) Seeing all theſe their expected Mercies are ſecured to them by the Covenant with Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, which will extend again to them, when their Unbelief ſhall be taken away: Methinks (as was ſaid before) nothing can be clearer than this Concluſion; That we Gentile Believers are now inveſted with the ſame Privileges they once enjoy'd; and our Children have the ſame Fœderal Holineſs, or Relation to the Covenants, theirs had; by being grafted amongſt them, and living on the ſame Sap they did, and that by the ſame Promiſe; Acts 2. 39.

But you will ſay, There's no Mention here made of the Grafting in of our Children with us. We reply, Neither is there any Mention here made of the Breaking off of their Children with them; which yet was ſo. Nor was there need to ſay it, ſeeing both their Infants and ours are comprehended in the Parents, as Twigs are comprehended in the Branch, or Buds in the Graft; and the one being Holy, ſo is the other. And this Fœderal Holineſs of the Children, is not only mention'd in this Chapter, Ver. 16. but alſo in 1 Cor. 7. 14. Now are your Children holy. And the very ſame Promiſe, which convey'd the Fatneſs of the Olive to Abraham's Natural Seed, manifeſtly extends it ſelf to the Gentile Believer's Seed, Acts 2. 38, 39. And if Men will not ſhut their Eyes, and ſtudy Evaſions; what can be plainer from Scripture in this Explication, and Application of this Place? We have with us the Conſent of the Generality of Orthodox Expoſitors; the Senſe it ſelf is genuine, eaſy and unconſtrain'd, agreeable with the Letter and Scope of the Text: Whether the Senſe you ſet up up againſt it, be as probable as this, we come next to examine. And truly, Sir, your Anſwer is as ambiguous as a Delphick Oracle: For (1.) you tell us, Pag. 8. That the Ingrafting, ſpoken of in this place, is into the Inviſible Church by Election: We ſay, it is into the Viſible Church, by Profeſſion of Faith; for we know not how to underſtand any breaking off from the inviſible Church, nor falling from Election: But 'tis like, you better conſider'd the Conſequents of that Opinion, drawn upon you by Mr. Sydenham, in his 85th Page; and therefore, nauſeating thoſe Dregs of Arminianiſm, you ſpeak more orthodoxly to the Point, Pag. 27. where you honeſtly acknowledge, That the Church of the Jews and Gentiles, as to the true Eſſence and inward Subſtance of either, is one and the ſame: In which reſpect, the Believing Gentiles (according to the Apoſtle's Metaphor) are here ſaid to be grafted in amongſt them, and, with them, to be made Partakers of the Root and Fatneſs of the Olive-tree: And in reference hereunto, it's rightly added by the Apoſtle, that the Gifts and Callings of God are without Repentance: The inward Subſtance of the Church, and Covenant of Grace, whereon it is founded, being invariable, and which ſhall for ever remain immoveable, tho' the outward Form and Adminiſtration be not ſo. Well then; from hence we have gain'd Two Things. (1.) That the Church of the Jews and Gentiles, are eſſentially and ſubſtantially the ſame Church. (2.) That the Jews were not broken off from the inviſible Church, or from Faith and Election; for theſe, you truly ſay, are invariable and immoveable: And if you had denied it, the Apoſtle aſſures us, That the Foundation of God ſtands ſure; and that the Gifts and Callings of God are without Repentance. But what then was their Breaking off, and the Gentiles Grafting in, which made this great Alteration in the Church? Can it be any Thing elſe, but our Ingrafting into the Viſible Church, by the Profeſſion of our Faith, from whence the Jews were broken off, for their Unbelief? For certainly, from the Inviſible Church they were not broken off; and into the Inviſible Church, Multitudes of profeſſing Chriſtians are not ingrafted. 'Tis evident therefore, by Grafting us into the Olive-tree, he means the Viſible Church; and by the Fatneſs thereof, the Ordinances and Privileges of that Church. Tho' we deny not, but all ſincere Profeſſors are Members of the Inviſible Church alſo, and do belong to the Election of Grace; but that's not the Breaking off, or Grafting in, here ſpoken of.

And now, having given up Mr. Tombes's Notion of the Inviſible Church, and Election, you are again put to your Shifts; and muſt either ſhuffle, and ſeek to hide your ſelf in an Heap of ſtrange and unintelligible Diſtinctions, or (which had been much fairer) honeſtly have yielded the Cauſe; and whereever you met with them, I find a whole Troop of Diſtinctions rallied together for this Purpoſe, Pag. 23, 24.

This Grafting in (ſay you) may be either into the Viſible, or Inviſible Church; either by Faith, or Profeſſion of Faith, or by ſome outward Ordinance. Children may be either grown Men, or Infants. The Ingrafting in, may be either certain, or probable. Certain, either by reaſon of Election, or their Natural Birth, being Children of Believers. Probable, as being likely; either becauſe frequently, or for the moſt part, it happens ſo: Tho' neceſſary, and ſo not certain. The Thing to be prov'd, is, That the Children of Believers are in the Covenant of Free Grace in Chriſt, and by Virtue thereof, to be baptiz'd into the Communion of the Viſible Church.

Reply. Words enough, and Diſtinctions enough, to reduce the Text to an indiviſible Point. But whither doth all this tend? I will ask you Two or Three plain Queſtions, and then make what uſe you pleaſe of your Diſtinctions. (1.) Whether the Breaking off of the Jews, and the Ingrafting of the Gentiles, here ſpoken of, have Relation to the Inviſible Church by Election, or to the Viſible Church by Profeſſion of Faith, and ſome outward Ordinance? (2.) Whether, if it were into the Viſible Church by Profeſſion of Faith that the Gentile Believers were grafted in, as doubtleſs it was; (and by relinquiſhing the former Senſe, you here ſeem to yield it; ſaying, this Ingrafture may be certain, upon the Account of Natural Birth, being Children of Believers) then I would fain know, why you ſo ſtate the Queſtion, as to make the Certainty of Believers Children's Intereſt in Chriſt, to be the only Ground of their Admiſſion into the Communion of the Viſible Church? This (ſay you) muſt firſt be prov'd, or no Baptiſm for them.

Alas, poor Infants! to what hard Terms are they here tied up? Very much harder than the Terms any of your own Society are tied to: And if Baptiſm muſt be ſuſpended, till this Point can be clear'd; That the Perſon to be baptiz'd be firſt in Chriſt, and in the Covenant of Free-Grace, as to the Saving Benefits thereof; then farewel to all Baptiſm, both of Infants and Adult Profeſſors too. For how can you prove, that the Perſons you Baptize, are all, or any of them, really in Chriſt? May they not deceive you, as Simon Magus did Peter? I did not think you had proceeded in this Matter upon a Certainty, but a Probability: And if you proceed with yours upon the Grounds of Probability; how come you to tie up the Children of Believers, to a Certainty of their Intereſt in Chriſt, as the antecedent ſuſpending Condition of their Baptiſm? We need diſpute no more about the Proper Subjects of Baptiſm, for by this Account we have loſt the Ordinance of Baptiſm it ſelf.

We thought, Sir, that our Childrens Title to Baptiſm was derived to them from their Believing Parents; as the Children of the Jews was to Circumciſion, from their Circumcis'd and Profeſſing Parents; and that the ſame Promiſe, which convey'd their Children's Privilege to them, Gen. 17. had convey'd the Right of Believers Children to Baptiſm unto them alſo, Acts 2. 38, 39. and that the Root being holy, the Branches are holy alſo, that is, fœderally holy, Rom. 11. 16. But to this you make ſuch an Anſwer, as aſtoniſhes me to read, Pag. 26. where allowing Abraham to be the Root, you ſay, The Holineſs here ſpoken of, is firſt in reſpect of God's Election; Holineſs perſonal and inherent, in God's Intention: Epheſ. 1. 4. He hath choſen us in him, that we ſhould be holy. (2.) 'Tis alſo Holineſs derivative; but not from any Anceſtors, but from Abraham only; and that not as a Natural, but a Spiritual Father; wherein he is a lively Image, or Figure of Chriſt, and is derived from the Covenant of Grace, which paſſed in his Name, to him and his Seed. And laſtly; It ſhall be inherent, being actually communicated by the Spirit of God, when they ſhall be actually call'd.

Reply. Here we ſee, into what Brakes and Pits Men run themſelves, when they depart from the plain and ſafe Path, in Explications of Scripture. Here is ſuch a Tripartite Diſtinction of Holineſs, as I never met with before. (1.) Here is Perſonal Holineſs inherent in God's Intention. By this you muſt either mean Sanctification decreed for them, and to be beſtow'd on them at the Time of their Calling; and then it is coincident with the Third Member of your Diſtinction. Or elſe you mean, That it is Holineſs inherent in the Intention of God, as an Accident in its Subject; and then the Simplicity of God's Nature reſiſts your incongruous Notion. But it would be a leſs Crime, to confound the firſt with the laſt Member of your vain and ſelf-created Diſtinction, than to ſpeak Things ſo repugnant to the ſimple and uncompounded Nature of God.

Or if your Meaning be, That this Holineſs is in God by way of Intention, but in them by way of Inheſion; that will not deliver you out of your Confuſion neither, but run you into greater: For then you confound the Immanent with the Tranſient Acts of God, and make the ſame Thing, at the ſame Time, to be purely in Intention, and in Execution; or to be only in God's Purpoſe to beſtow hereafter, and yet at the preſent inherent in the Perſons he intends it for: So that I muſt leave your ſtrange Notion of Perſonal Holineſs inherent in God's Intention, to be clear'd by a more Metaphyſical Head than mine; or elſe to ſtand, among other rare and unintelligible Notions, to be admired and applauded by the ignorant Reader.

But then, when we come to the Second Member of your Diſtinction, I am as much at a loſs to find your Senſe as before: For there you tell us, The Holineſs here ſpoken of, is a Derivative Holineſs alſo; and that from Abraham only; and from him not as a Natural, but a Spiritual Father, reſembling Chriſt herein.

Reply. This Word Derivative is an Equivocal Word, and may ſignify either Inherent Perſonal Holineſs, or Fœderal Holineſs; for both of them are derived. If you ſay the former; it looks too black and horrid, for me to believe you mean it, tho' you ſhould ſay you mean it: For then you make Abraham not only the Figure and Image of Chriſt, (as you ſpeak) but Chriſt himſelf, by attributing to Abraham Chriſt's incommunicable Property and Prerogative. Then Abraham may ſay to all his Children, as Chriſt doth, Joh. 15. 4, 5. I am the Vine, ye are the Branches, &c. I am he that ſanctifies you. But if you mean the laſt, (as neceſſarily you muſt, if you mean any thing that hath Orthodox Senſe in it) then this Derivative Holineſs you ſpeak of, is not Perſonal Holineſs, or Internal Sanctification; but Fœderal Holineſs, deriv'd from Covenanted Anceſtors, or Parents to their Children; and therein you come over to us, and to the true Senſe of the Text. But why muſt this be ſqueezed from you with ſo much difficulty? And why did you hide this Fœderal Holineſs under an equivocal Term, leſt you ſhould ſeem to yield the Controverſy with a Word? This is not fair.

Object. If you ſay we are too haſty, and triumph before the Victory: For tho' you do yield it to be a Fœderal Holineſs, yet it is ſuch as can be derived from no other Father, or Progenitor, but Abraham only.

Sol. Yes, Sir, I hope you will allow Iſaac and Jacob, at leaſt, to be the Root and Firſt-Fruit, as well as Abraham, ſeeing the Covenant was jointly and expreſly made with them all three; and thereby they became the Root and Firſt-Fruit of that holy Nation: And if that People be called the Seed of Abraham, they are alſo called the Seed of Jacob; and if Fatherhood be aſcribed to Abraham, it is aſcribed to Jacob too, Iſa. 58. 14. And if Abraham be firſt named in the Covenant, ſo is Jacob: See Lev. 26. 42. But if you allow theſe Three Patriarchs, belike that's all you will allow; for you ſeem to ſay, that no Fœderal Holineſs can be derived from any other Progenitors. Good Sir, whatever your own private Opinion be in this Matter, allow us to believe otherwiſe, as long as thoſe Scriptures, 1 Cor. 7. 14. and Acts 2. 39. ſtand in our Bibles: For we cannot think but the Fœderal Holineſs of Children, reſults from the immediate Parent's Faith, or Covenant-Intereſt, as well as from the remoter Progenitors; elſe we cannot underſtand how the Corinthians Children ſhould be Holy, or how the Promiſe ſhould belong to the Children of them that are afar off, viz. the Gentiles; who could derive no ſuch Thing to their Children by a Lineal Deſcent from Abraham, but only as they became ingrafted Branches by Faith; and ſo ſuck the Fatneſs of the Olive to themſelves, and to their Buds, or Children, as the Natural Branches did. I deſire you to conſider alſo, how this Covenant paſſed, as you ſay it did, to Abraham and his Seed, in Chriſt's Name, if it be the ſame with Adam's Covenant? Did that paſs to Adam in Chriſt's Name too?

I have now diſpatched what I at firſt promiſed and intended, viz. the Confutation of my Friend's Miſtakes about the Covenants; and the Vindication of thoſe Scriptures, by which our Arguments, deduced from one of them, are confirm'd. And now I have no further Concernment with Mr. Cary's Solemn Call; ſave only, to note his high Confidence, raſh and moſt unchriſtian Cenſures, of all his differing Friends and Brethren, with which he concludes his Diſcourſe, wherein he calls Infants Baptiſm,

(1.) A great Abuſe in the Divine Worſhip, pag. 242, 243. And yet he that ſo calls it, never look'd half way into the Controverſy; nor is able, without manifeſt Shuffling, and Contradiction, both to the Words of God, and his own Words, to anſwer our Arguments; as is here made too evident.

(2.) That it is no other, than a Change of a Divine Inſtitution, and making void the Commandment of Chriſt, the horrid Sin charged by Chriſt upon thoſe Hypocrites, the Scribes and Phariſees, Mat. 15. 6. With no better than theſe, doth he rank and aſſociate the many Thouſands of God's choice and dear People, who differ in this circumſtantial Point from him.

(3.) He compares it with the Sin of Nadab and Abihu; and with that of Iſrael, with reſpect to the Ark, 1 Chron. 15. 13. A Sin, which provoked the Lord to execute Judgment, by an immediate Stroke, in Fire from Heaven upon them. Thus Mr. Cary is ready to call for Fire from Heaven, upon his Brethren. Alas, poor Man! he knows not what Spirit he is of; as Chriſt told the Diſciples, in a like Caſe. 'Tis well we are not in his Hands, to execute the Wrath, as well as charge the Guilt upon us. But I hope all this is but Raſhneſs in him.

(4.) He affirms it to be no leſs than a Tranſgreſſing of the Law, a Changing of the Ordinances, and a Breaking of the Everlaſting Covenant. If it be a Tranſgreſſing of the Law, he ſhould have ſhewn us in what Scripture that Law that forbids it is; or where God hath repealed his former Grant to the Children of his Covenant-People. And for the Changing of the Ordinances; I am of Opinion, 'tis He that is guilty of that Sin, and not We: For we have proved, God ſettled this Privilege upon the Infant-Seed of his People; that the Promiſe under the Goſpel, continues ſtill to them; and he exclude them from Baptiſm, he changes the Ordinance of God. And for breaking the everlaſting Covenant, for which he cites Iſa. 24. 5, 6. the Lord make him ſenſible of the Danger he hath put himſelf under, from that very Text he produces againſt us; for it's manifeſt, that the Covenant there ſpoken of, is God's Covenant with Abraham, renewed with the Iſraelites at Sinai, which in that Text is truly called an everlaſting Covenant; when meantime Mr. Cary hath pronounced it to be an Adam's Covenant, and now utterly aboliſhed. Who is it, Sir, that fights againſt, and changes this everlaſting Covenant, you or we, that are for its continuance to us and our Children?

(5.) He affirms theſe things to be of higheſt Concernment to us. If ſo, then ſure it muſt follow, that Repentance from dead Works, and Faith towards our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, muſt be inferior things to them; for nothing can be higher than the higheſt, or equal with it. And then by making them the chief Fundamentals in Religion, as that Expreſſion doth, (if it be not a vain and ſinful Hyperbole) the Salvation or Damnation of Men depends upon compliance, or non-compliance with them. And then whither muſt you ſend all God's People in the World, that differ from you? Sir, I find your Brethren, in the Appendix to their Confeſſion of Faith, page 110. placing one of theſe which you make of higheſt Concernment, among the other Circumſtances of Religion: And doubtleſs that is in its proper place. Nor do I ſee how they can free themſelves from participation in your Sin, 'till they have admoniſhed you for it, and cauſed you to expugn it out of your Book.

(6.) That it is a ſettling of your Threſholds by God's Threſhold. The Words you recite from Ezek. 43. 8. which ſpeak of the Idolatrous Kings of Judah and Iſrael, building Temples and Altars for their Idols, in, or near the Courts of the Temple of God: As the Engliſh Annotations on the Text will inform you, an Abomination that defiled God's Holy Name, a Wickedneſs not to be named, and for which the Lord conſumed them; and calls it Whoredom in the next words. Here, Sir, you have exceeded all the Bounds of Society and Chriſtian Charity; and made this circumſtantial Difference about the proper Subject of Baptiſm, the groſſeſt Heatheniſh Idolatry in the World: And conſequently diſſolved the Bonds of Chriſtian Charity, and broken off all Communion with us; for with ſuch Idolaters you ought not to have any Communion.

Your more wiſe and moderate Brethren in the place above-cited, tell us, They are loth hereby to alienate their Affections or Converſations from any that fear the Lord, and are willing to participate of the Labours of thoſe whom God hath endued with Abilities above themſelves; qualified and called to the Miniſtry of the Word; deſirous of Peace, and not of renewed Conteſts hereabout. This is a Language of another Air. And if they be (as I dare not ſuſpect but they are) ſincere in that Profeſſion, they dare not comprobate ſuch a Deſperate and Unchriſtian Cenſure as yours is: If they do, then we may eaſily gueſs what our Lot and Treatment ſhall be, whenever Anabaptiſm get the Aſcendant in England. We may expect as Civil Uſage as is due to groſs Idolaters, and no better. But I hope better things.

(7.) You ſay, that as theſe things are of higheſt Concernment, ſo they ought to be our moſt ſerious practice and endeavour, page 243. ult. Good Lord, whither hath Zeal for an Opinion tranſported you! Our moſt ſerious practice and endeavour, Sir! I thought the moſt ſerious practice of a Miniſter had been to preach Chriſt, and Salvation to the Souls of Men; and not to baptize. I am ſure St. Paul reckoned ſo, Chriſt ſent me not to baptize, but to preach. That is, Baptiſm is not my principal Work, or main Buſineſs. And Verſe 14th he thanks God he baptized none of them, but Criſpus and Gaius. I believe he never utter'd ſuch an Expreſſion about his other Work of preaching Chriſt. And for all Chriſtians, I thought the ſecuring of their Intereſt in Chriſt, living in the Duties of Communion with him, watching their Hearts, and mortifying their Corruptions, had been the Object Matter of their moſt ſerious Practice, and faithful Endeavour; and not the Litigations about Baptiſm. But I hope theſe were only inconſiderate Expreſſions, falling from your Pen, whilſt you were in a Paroxiſm of Zeal, or a Tranſport in the height of a conceited Triumph. But whatever was the Cauſe, I am ſure you ought to revoke and repent ſuch Words.

(8.) You wiſh, your Teſtimony riſe not up at laſt as a Witneſs againſt us. Sir, we do not apprehend any Cauſe we have to fear your Teſtimony againſt us, or ſevereſt Cenſures of us, whilſt we are ſatisfy'd, that as you neither have a Faculty or Commiſſion to be our Judge, ſo neither is there any convincing Evidence in your Reply to our Arguments. But I think you have much more cauſe to fear, leſt thoſe Arguments ſhould come in at laſt as a Witneſs againſt you, who deny and contemn them; when mean time you are put to moſt lamentable Shifts, even Contradictions, and ſomewhat worſe, to eſcape the Point and Edge of them.

(9.) To Conclude, You tell us, we muſt not expect the ſpecial Preſence of Chriſt to be afforded to us, without our compliance in theſe Points with you.

Sir, We never yet deſerted the Judgment or Practice of Infants Baptiſm, and yet have had (bleſſed be Jeſus Chriſt for it) great and manifold, ſweet and ſignal Proofs and Evidences of his Preſence with us: He hath owned and bleſſed our Miniſtry to the Converſion of many; and there are ſome, and thoſe not mean, or few, of our Spiritual Children, now in your Societies in England, who have acknowledged us to be the Inſtruments of their Converſion: The Lord lay it not to their Charge, who now deſert that Miniſtry in which they firſt received Chriſt. But as for the Departure of his Preſence, I aſſure you, Friend, I am more afraid of the Rents and Diviſions you now renew ſo unſeaſonably among the Churches of Chriſt, than of any one thing amongſt us beſide. It grieved my Soul to ſee you, Quieta movere, awake a ſleeping Controverſy, eſpecially in ſuch a Seaſon, when we are little more than half delivered from our Enemies and Dangers; you take us by the Heel, as Jacob did his Brother, whilſt but yet in the Birth. Sir, except you return to a more quiet and Chriſtian Temper, than you ſeem here to be in, I am out of hope that ever you and I ſhall ſee thoſe bleſſed Days, we have ſo often, with pleaſure, comforted our ſelves with the hopes of. However, extend your Charity (if you have any left) ſo far, as to believe that I am one, notwithſtanding all this, that am ſtudious of the Churches Peace, and inquiſitive into the Rules of Duty, not daring to hold any Truth of God in Unrighteouſneſs; and yet well ſatisfy'd I am, in the Path of my Duty, wherein, tho' we cannot walk together, yet I hope to meet you at the end of our way, in our Father's Father's Houſe, where perfect Light and Peace dwells.

And here I had put an end to this Debate, had I not received your Return to ſome of theſe Sheets, whilſt the laſt of them was under my Hand; wherein I only find Four Things in which I am concerned. In general, you tell me, You are not convinced of any Error, by what I have ſaid. I am ſorry to hear it: But conſidering the Nature of Error on one ſide, and the Difficulty of Self-denial on the other, you have not much deceiv'd my Expectation. More particularly,

(1.) You ſay, As to your hooking the Sinai Covenant into this Controverſy, I gave you the firſt occaſion of it; for when you ſhew'd me your Papers about God's Covenant with Abraham, I told you, that you were beſt firſt to try, if you could prove the Covenant at Sinai, to be a Covenant of Works; foraſmuch as our Divines are ſo far from conceiting the Covenant with Abraham to be a Covenant of Works, that they will not allow the Sinai Law it ſelf to be ſo; and to convince you of it, I lent you Mr. Roberts, and Mr. Sedgewick, on the Covenant, to enlighten and ſatisfy you about it: But little did I think, you had Confidence enough to enter the Liſts, with two ſuch learned and eminent Divines, and make them to follow your Triumphant Chariot, ſhackled with the incomparable Baxter and Allen, Sydenham and Burthogg, like three Pair of Noble Priſoners of War. But whatever was the occaſion, (ſetting aſide your Sin) I am not ſorry you have given a fit Opportunity to enlighten the World in that Point alſo.

(2.) You ſeem to fancy in your Letter, that I was once of your Opinion about the Moral Law, becauſe you find theſe Paſſages in a Sermon of mine, upon John 8. 36. If the Son therefore ſhall make you free, then are you free indeed, viz.

That the Law required perfect working, under pain of that Curſe; accepted no ſhort Endeavours, admitted no Repentance, and gave no Strength. But finding me here pleading for the Law, you think you find me in a Contradiction to that Doctrine.

The Words I own; the Contradiction I poſitively deny; for I ſpeak not there, and here, ad idem: For in that Sermon, and in thoſe very Words you cite, I ſpeak againſt the Law, not as God intended it, when he added it to the Promiſe; but as the Ignorance and Infidelity of unregenerate Men, make it to themſelves a Covenant of Works, by looking upon it as the very Rule and Reaſon of their Juſtification before God. This was the Stumbling-ſtone, at which all Legal Juſticiaries then did, and ſtill do ſtumble, Rom. 9. 31, 32, 33. In this Senſe the Apoſtle in his Epiſtles to the Romans and Galatians, argues againſt the Law, and ſo do I in the Words you cite; but vindicate the Law in the very ſame Sermon you mention, as conſiſtent with, and ſubſervient to Chriſt, in the former Senſe; and there tell you, The Law ſends us to Chriſt to be juſtified, and Chriſt ſends us back to the Law to be regulated. The very ſame double Senſe of the Law you will find in this Diſcourſe; and from the miſtaken end and abuſe of the Law, which the Apoſtle ſo vehemently oppoſeth, I here prove againſt you, that the Law in this Senſe cannot conſiſt with, or be added to the Promiſe, and therefore make it my Medium to prove againſt you, That the true Nature and Denomination of the Sinai Law, can never be found in this Senſe of it, but it muſt be eſtimated and denominated from the Purpoſe and Intention of God, which I have proved to be Evangelical. Try your Skill to faſten a Contradiction betwixt my Words in that Sermon, and this Diſcourſe. I know you would be glad to find the Shadow of one, to make ſome ſmall Excuſe, or Attonement, for the many Faults, of that Nature, you have here committed.

(3.) Your Letter alſo informs me, that you hear you are anſwered by one Hand already, and for ought you know, many more may be employed againſt you, and I for one; and ſo we ſhall compaſs you about like Bees.

Reply. I have only ſeen Mr. Whiſton's little Book againſt your Brother Grantham, wherein he hath baffled two of your principal Arguments; but you only come in collaterally there, and muſt not look upon it as a full Anſwer to your Book, but only as a Laſh for your Folly, en paſſant. And for our compaſſing you about like Bees, methinks you ſeem to be greatned in your own Fancy, by the ſuppoſition, or expectation, of a multitude of Opponents. You know as well as I, who it is that glories in this Motto, Unus contra omnes. Sir, I think your Mind may be much at reſt in that matter. Of all the ſix famous Adverſaries mentioned in your Title Page, there are but two living: And you know, Mortui non mordent; and of the remaining two, one of them, viz. Mr. Baxter, is almoſt in Heaven, living in the daily Views, and chearful Expectations of the Saints Everlaſting Reſt with GOD; and is left for a little while among us, as a great Example of the Life of Faith: And it is queſtionable with me, whether ſuch a great and heavenly Soul can find any leiſure or diſpoſition to attend ſuch a weak and trivial Diſcourſe as this.

And as for my ſelf, you need not much fear me; I have not, neither do I intend to vibrate my Sting againſt you, unleſs I find you infecting or diſturbing that Hive to which I belong, and to which I am daily gathering and carrying Honey; and then who but a Drone would not Sting?

(4.) To Conclude, in the Cloſe of your Letter you fall into the former Strain of Love, aſſuring me, That the ancient Friendſhip of ſo many Years, ſhall ſtill continue on your part.

Reply. All that I ſhall return to this, is only to relate a ſhort Story out of Plutarch, in the Life of Alexander; where he tells us, That whilſt he was warring in the Indies, one Taxiles, an Indian King, came with his Company to meet him, and ſaluting Alexander, ſaid, What need you and I to Fight and War one upon another? If thou comeſt not to take away our Water, and the Neceſſaries of Life from us, for which we muſt needs fight: As for other Goods, if I am richer than thee, I am ready to give thee of mine; and if I have leſs, I will not think ſcorn to thank thee for them. Alexander, highly pleaſed with his words, made him this Reply, Thinkeſt thou, that this Meeting of ours can be without Fighting? No, no; thou haſt won nothing by all thy fair Words; for I will fight and contend with thee in Honeſty and Courteſie, and thou ſhalt not exceed me in Bounty and Liberality.

I ſay with Taxiles, I had never armed againſt you, had you not come to take away our Water, and the Neceſſaries of Life; I mean, the Covenant of God with Abraham, which contains the rich Charter of the Gentile Believers Children, and make it an aboliſhed Adam's Covenant, and told us, that we muſt come up to the Primitive Purity in theſe things; that is, in renouncing it as a Covenant of Grace, and relinquiſhing Infants Baptiſm, as grounded thereon.

Sir, Were my own Father alive, I muſt and would oppoſe him, ſhould he attempt what here you you do. Infant-Baptiſm with you, is not; Singing of Pſalms, that plain and heavenly Goſpel Ordinance with you, is not; and will you take away our Benjamin alſo? What! the Covenant of God, with Abraham and his Children in their Generations? All theſe things are againſt us. No, Sir, we cannot part with that Covenant, as an aboliſh'd Adam's Covenant; nor will I give it up for all the Friendſhip in the World.

And yet I will ſay with Alexander, I will contend with you in Friendſhip and Courteſie, even whilſt I earneſtly contend againſt you for the Truths of GOD, which you have here oppoſed, and I have endeavoured to vindicate.

One Word more before I part with you; I do aſſure you, and the whole World, that in this Controverſy with you, I have not knowingly or adviſedly miſrepreſented your Senſe: If you ſhall ſay I did ſo in my Second Argument, from the Words, p. 179. I aſſure you, both my ſelf, and others, could underſtand you no otherwiſe than I did in the Papers I ſent you; and when you told me, you meant there was no Pardon in either of thoſe Covenants, but that it plainly directed to Abraham's Covenant, you will find I have given you as fair a Choice as you can deſire, either to ſtand to your Words in the firſt Senſe, wherein I underſtood them, (or which will be the ſame to me) to your own Senſe, in which you afterwards explained it to me. And whereas I blame you over and over in my Epiſtle and Concluſion, for putting the proper Subject of Baptiſm, amongſt the higheſt Things in Religion: Let the Reader view your Concluſion, and ſee whether you do or not. If you ſay, you ſpeak of the Covenant there, as well as of Baptiſm: I allow that you do ſo; yet I hope 'tis equally as bad; nay, in deed and truth, a great Aggravation of your Fault, to make this Article, viz. God's Covenant with Abraham, Gen. 17. an aboliſhed Adam's Covenant, one of the higheſt Concernments of a Chriſtan; the Baptiſm only of Adult Believers another. My Conſequences from your Words are juſt and regular, how ſtarting ſoever they ſeem to you.

If you think fit to rejoin to this my Anſwer, I deſire you will avoid as much as you can, a tedious Harangue of Words, and ſpeak ſtrictly and regularly to my Arguments, by limiting, diſtinguiſhing, or denying, as a Diſputant ought to do: If ſo, I promiſe you a Reply; but if I find no ſuch thing, it ſhall paſs with me but for waſte Paper; nor will I waſte Time about it. The Lord give us Unity in Things neceſſary, Liberty in Things indifferent, and Charity in all Things.

Sacramental

Sacramental Meditations

Upon divers Select Places of SCRIPTURE.

WHEREIN

Believers are assisted in preparing their Hearts, and exciting their Affections and Graces, when they draw nigh to GOD in that most Awful and Solemn Ordinance of

The LORD's SUPPER.

TO THE READER.

Christian Reader,

CHRIST may be said to be crucified three ways; by the Jews actually, in the Sacrament declaratively, and by Unbelievers at his Table interpretatively. Among Sins, Blood-guiltiness is reckon'd one of the most hainous; and of all Blood-guiltiness, to be guilty of the Blood of Christ, is a Sin of the deepest guilt, and will be aveng'd with the most dreadful Punishment, 1 Cor. 11. 17, 29. If Vengeance be taken sevenfold on him that slew Cain, what Vengeance shall be taken on him that crucifies afresh the Lord of Glory?

The heaviest Blow of Divine Justice is still ready to avenge the abuse of the best Mercy: What can the Heart of Man conceive more solemn, more sacred, or more deeply affective, than the Representation of the most gracious Love of the Father, and the most grievous Passion of the Son? What Sin can be more provoking to God, than the slight and contempt of those most awful Mysteries? And what Punishment can be more terrible, than for such a wretched Soul to eat and drink Damnation to it self? Melanchon records a very dreadful Example of God's righteous Judgment upon a company of prophane Wretches, who in a Tragedy intended to act the Death of Christ upon the Cross. He that acted the Soldier's Part, instead of piercing with his Spear a Bladder full of Blood hid under his Garment, wounded him to death that was upon the Cross, who falling down, kill'd him who (in a disguise) acted the Part of the Woman that stood wailing under the Cross. His Brother who was first slain, slew the Murderer who acted the Soldier's Part, and for slaying him was hang'd by order of Justice. Thus did the Vengeance of God speedily overtake them, and hang'd them up in Chains, for a Warning to all that should ever dare to dally with the great and jealous God.

These are terrible Strokes, and yet not so terrible as those which are more ordinarily, but less sensibly, inflicted on the inner Man for the abuse of this Ordinance.

To prevent these Judgments, and obtain those Blessings which come through this Ordinance, great regard must be had to two things, viz. 1. The Inbeing. 2. The Activity of true Grace.

First, Examine thy self, Reader, whether there be any gracious Principle planted in thy Soul, whereby thou art alive indeed unto God. It was an ancient abuse of the Sacrament, (condemn'd and cast out by the Carthaginian Council) to give it unto dead Men. Dead Souls can have no Communion with the living God, no more benefit from this Table, than the Emperor's Guests had from his Table, where Loaves of Gold were set before them to eat. There is more than a shew of Grace in the Sacrament; it hath not only the Visible Sign, but the Spiritual Grace also, which it represents. See that there be more than a Shew and Visible Sign of Grace also in thy Soul, when thou comest nigh to the Lord in that Ordinance. See to the Exercise and Activity, as well as to the Truth and Sincerity of thy Grace.

Concil. Carthag. Can. 6. Placuit defunctorum corporibus non detur Eucharistia, &c.

Even a Believer himself doth not eat and drink worthily, unless the Grace that is in him be excited and exercis'd at this Ordinance.

It is not Faith inhering, but Faith realizing, applying and powerfully working. It is not a disposition to humiliation of the Heart for Sin, but the actual thawing and melting of the Heart for Sin, whilst thou lookest on him whom thou hast pierced, and mournest for him as one that mourneth for his only Son, for his first Born. Nor is it a disposition or principle of love to Christ that is only requir'd, but the stirring up of that Fire of love, the exciting of it into a vehement flame.

I know the Excitations and Exercises of Grace are attended with great difficulties. They are not things within our Command, and at our beck. O! 'tis hard, 'tis hard indeed, Reader, even after God hath taken the Heart of Stone out of thee, and given thee an Heart of Flesh, to mourn actually for Sin, even when so great an occasion and call is given thee to that work at the Lord's Table; for the same power is requisite to excite the Act that was required to plant the Habit. Gratia gratiam postulat.

However, the Duty is thine, though the Power be God's; why else are his People blamed, because they stirred not up themselves to take hold of him? Isa. 64. 7.

To assist thee in this work, some Help is offered in the following Meditations: 'tis true, it is not the reading of the best Meditations another can prepare for thee that will alter the temper of thy Heart, except the Spirit of God concur with these Truths, and bless them to thy Soul: But yet these Helps must not be slighted, because they are not self-sufficient. Man lives not by Bread alone; but by every Word that proceedeth out of the Mouth of God: Yet it were fond Vanity, and Sin, for any Man, upon that ground, to cast away Bread, and expect to live by a Miracle without it. We must lift up our Hearts to God for a Blessing, and then eat. Do the same here: First pray; then read; and the Lord quicken thee by it for Duty.

cur

There are Two Things, of special Concernment to thee, Reader, when thou art to address thy self to any Solemn Duty, especially such as this.

1. Prepare for thy Duty diligently.
2. Rely not upon thy Preparations.

1. Prepare with all Diligence for thy Duty. Take pains with thy dull Heart; Cleanse thy polluted Heart; Compose thy vain Heart: Remember how Great a Presence thou art approaching. If Augustus thus reproved one, that entertain'd him without suitable Preparation, saying, I did not think we had been so familiar; Much more may thy GOD reprove thee, for thy careless Neglect of due Preparation for him.

Non putabam me tibi tam familiarem.

2. But yet take heed, on the other side, that thou rely not upon thy best Preparations. It is an ingenious, and true Note of Luther, (speaking to this very Point of Preparation for the Sacrament) 'Never are Men more unfit, than when they think themselves most fit, and best prepared for their Duty; never more fit, than when most humbled and ashamed, in a Sense of their own Unfitness.

Tunc pessimè dispositus, quando aptissimè.

That the Blessing of God, and the Breathings of his good Spirit, may accompany these poor Labours to thy Soul, is the Heart's Desire of Thy Servant in Christ,

JOHN FLAVEL.

The First MEDITATION,

UPON

PSAL. LXXXIX. 7. God is greatly to be feared in the Assembly of his Saints, and to be had in reverence of all that are about him.

THERE are special Seasons, wherein the Saints approach near unto God in this Life, wherein the Lord comes near unto them.

It pleaseth the Majesty of Heaven, sometimes to admit poor Worms of the Earth to such sensible and sweet Perceptions of himself, as are found above all Expression, and seem to be a transient Glance upon that Glory, which glorified Eyes more steadily behold above: Believing, we rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory; or, glorified Joy, as it is, 1 Pet. 1. 8. And yet how sweet and excellent soever these Foretasts of Heaven are, Heaven it self will be an unspeakable Surprize to the Saints, when they shall come thither.

Inerrabili, & glorificato. Montanus.

Now among all those Ordinances, wherein the Blessed God manifests himself to the Children of Men, none are found to set forth more of the Joy of his Presence, than that of the Lord's-Supper. At that Blessed Table, are such sensible Embraces betwixt Christ and Believers, as do afford Delight and Solace, beyond the Joy of the whole Earth.

And where such special Manifestations of God are; suitable Dispositions and Preparations, should be found on our Part, to meet the Lord.

And certainly we shall find Reason enough for it, if we will consider the Importance of this Scripture before us: God is greatly to be feared in the Assembly of his Saints, and to be had in reverence of all that are round about him. Wherein we have, 1. The Object; 2. The Subject; 3. The Mode of Divine Worship.

First, The Object of Worship, God: God is to be fear'd. In all Divine Worship, Men and Angels have to do with God. All things (saith the Apostle) are open and naked to the eyes of him, with whom we have to do; Heb. 4. 13. With whom we have Speech, or Business: So it may be sensed. When we worship, we draw nigh to God; and that about the greatest Concerns, and weightiest Business in the World.

Secondly, The Subject, or the Persons that approach unto God in his Worship; His Saints, and all that are about him. By Saints, many Interpreters do (in this place) understand the Angels, call'd Saints from the Purity and Holiness of their Nature; and so make the next Clause exegetical of this. Those that before were call'd Saints, in Respect of their Nature, are, in the next Words, said to be such as are round about him; his Satellites, Attendants, or those that stand as Servants about him, to do his Pleasure; where they are describ'd by their Office. Both these seem to be grounded upon the precedent Verses: Who in the Heaven can be compared to the Lord? Who among the Sons of the mighty, (or of God; so the Angels are call'd, Job 1. 6.) can be likened to the Lord? And tho' it be true, that the Angels worship, and serve the Lord with the greatest Reverence and Dread; (for these are his nigh ones, or such as are round about him;) yet there is no Necessity to limit this Scripture so narrowly, by excluding the People of God on Earth: They also are his Saints, and more frequently so stil'd, tho' they be Saints of a Lower Class and Order. And they also are round about him, as well as the Angels; and when they worship him, he is in the Midst of them. St. Matth. 18. 20. And the Place where they assemble to worship, is call'd the Place of his Feet; Isa. 60. 13.

But if we find not the Saints on Earth in the direct and immediate Senſe of this Text, yet we muſt needs meet them in the Rebound and Conſequence. For if Creatures ſo much above us as the Angels, do perform their Service, and pay their Homage to the Higheſt Majeſty with ſo much Fear and Reverence; ſhall not inferior Creatures, the poor Worms of the Earth, tremble at his Preſence? And this brings us to the Third Thing; namely,

Thirdly, The Mode, or Manner, in which the Worſhip of God is to be perform'd; viz. with great Fear and Reverence: God is greatly to be feared. Piſcator tranſlates it, Vehementer formidandus, to be vehemently fear'd; and oppoſes it to that formal, careleſs, trifling, vain Spirit, which too often is found in thoſe that approach the Lord in the Duties of his Worſhip. The Obſervation hence will be this:

Obſ. That the greateſt Compoſedneſs and Seriouſneſs of Spirit is due to God, from all thoſe that draw nigh unto him in his Worſhip.

And this is no more than what the Lord expreſly requires at our Hands, Lev. 10. 3. I will be ſanctified in them that come nigh unto me. So Heb. 12. 28. Let us have grace, whereby we may ſerve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear: For our God is a conſuming Fire.

And as this Diſpoſition and Temper of Spirit is due to every Act and Part of God's Worſhip; ſo (to accommodate this general to our particular Occaſion) it is eſpecially due to this great and ſolemn Ordinance of the Lord's-Supper.

It is the Obſervation of the Caſuiſts, that Sacramentum & mortis articulus aquiparantur; The Sacrament of the Lord's-Supper, and the very Point of Death, require equal Seriouſneſs. A Man's Spirit ſhould be as deeply ſolemn and compos'd at the Lord's Table, as upon a Death-bed. We ſhould go to that Ordinance, as if we were then going into another World.

The Primitive Chriſtians us'd to ſit up whole Nights in Meditation and Prayer, before their Participation of the Lord's-Supper; and theſe Nights were called Vigiliæ, their Watches. Such was the Reverence the Saints had for this Ordinance, (which they uſually called Myſterium tremendum, a tremendous Myſtery,) that they would not give Sleep to their Eyes, or Slumber to their Eye-lids, when ſo Great and Solemn a Day drew near. Chryſoſt. lib. 3. de Sacerdot.

And that all this Solemn Preparation is no more than needs, will convincingly appear to us, upon the following Grounds and Reaſons.

Reaſon 1. From the Solemn Nature and Ends of this Ordinance? For what is the expreſs Deſign and Uſe of it, but a lively Repreſentation of the Lord's Death? 1 Cor. 11. 26. As often as ye eat this Bread, and drink this Cup, ye do ſhew the Lord's death, till he come. Jeſus Chriſt is therein ſet forth crucified before us; and not to make a bare Repreſentation of it to us, as a Thing wherein we have no perſonal Intereſt or Concernment, but to repreſent his Death lively, and ſeal our Title to it firmly: This is my body, which is broken for you. Ver. 24.

Now, which of theſe is to be attended with a dead, careleſs, and ſlight Spirit? Is't the Repreſentation of Chriſt's Death? God forbid. O! if there be any Subject of Meditation in the World, able to drink up the very Spirit of a Man, this is it.

The Sun fainted, the Heavens mourn'd in black, the very Rocks rent in pieces, when this Tragedy was acted; and ſhall our Hearts be more ſenſeleſs and obdurate than they, at the Repreſentation of it? But lo! here is more than a Repreſentation: Chriſt is ſet forth in this Ordinance, as crucified for you; as ſuffering, and enduring all this, in your room and ſtead. Now

Suppoſe, Reader, thy ſelf to be juſtly condemn'd to the Torture of the Rack, or Strappado; and that thy Father, Brother, or deareſt Friend, preferring thy Life to his own, would become Ranſomer, by undergoing the Torment for thee; and all that is left for thee to ſuffer, were only by way of Sympathy with him. Suppoſe now thy ſelf ſtanding by that Engine of Torture, and beholding the Members of thy dear Friend diſtorted, and all out of joint; hearing his doleful Groans, extorted by the Extremity of Anguiſh; and under all theſe Torments, ſtill maintaining a conſtant Love to thee: Could'ſt thou ſtand there with dry Eyes? Could thy Heart be unaffected and ſtupid at ſuch a Sight? Write him rather a Beaſt, a Stone, than a Man, that could do ſo.

But this is not all: The Believer's Intereſt in Chriſt is ſeal'd, as well as the Sufferings of Chriſt repreſented, in this Ordinance.

And is a ſeal'd Intereſt in Chriſt ſo cheap or common a Thing, as that it ſhould not engage, yea, ſwallow up all the Powers of thy Soul? O, what is this! what is this!

The Seal of God, ſet to the Soul of a poor Sinner, to confirm and ratify its Title to the Perſon of Chriſt, and the ineſtimable Treaſures of his Blood! Surely, as the Sealing up of a Man to Damnation, is the Sum of all Miſery; and that poor Creature that is ſo ſeal'd, hath Cauſe enough to mourn and wail to Eternity; ſo the Sealing up of a Soul to Salvation, is the Sum of all Mercy and Happineſs; and the Soul that is ſo ſeal'd, hath Cauſe enough to lie at the Feet of God, overwhelm'd with the Senſe of ſo invaluable a Mercy.

Reaſon 2. As the Nature and Ends of this Ordinance call for the greateſt Compoſedneſs of Spirit; ſo the Danger of Unworthy Receiving, ſhould work our Hearts to the moſt ſerious Frame: For if a Man be here without his Wedding-Garment, if he eat and drink unworthily, it is at the greateſt Peril of his Soul that he doth ſo; 1 Cor. 11. 27. Whereſoever whoſoever ſhall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, ſhall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord.

To prophane and undervalue that Body and Blood of the Lord, is a Sin above meaſure ſinful; and the Puniſhments of ſuch Sins, will be moſt dreadful: For ſtill the more excellent the Bleſſings are, that come by any Ordinance, the more dreadful the Curſes are, that avenge the Abuſe of ſuch Mercies. How ſoon may a Man draw fearful Guilt upon his Body, by an heedleſs Management of ſuch Sacred Myſteries! For this cauſe many are weak and ſickly among you, and many ſleep; ver. 30.

It is a moſt weighty Note, that a worthy Pen ſets upon this Scripture: 'They diſcern'd 'not the Body of his Son Jeſus Chriſt, 'in his Ordinances; but inſtead of 'that holy, reverend, and deep-dy'd 'Behaviour, which was due to it, both from their 'inner and outward Man, as being a Creature of the 'higheſt and deepeſt Sanctification, that ever God 'ſanctified; ſanctified not only to a more excellent 'and glorious Condition, but alſo to many Ends 'and Purpoſes, of far higher and dearer Concern-'ment, both for the Glory of God, and Benefit of 'Men themſelves, than all other Creatures what-'ſoever, (Mr. Tho. Goodwin's Epiſtle to Mr. Fenner's Sermons.)

'ſoever, whether in Heaven or Earth. They han-
'dl'd, and dealt by it in both Kinds, as if it had 'been a common unſanctified Thing: Thus they
'diſcern'd not the Lord's Body.

And as they diſcern'd not his Body, ſo neither did God (in ſome ſenſe) diſcern theirs; but in thoſe ſore Strokes and heavy Judgments which he inflicted on them, had no other Regard or Conſideration, than as if they had been the Bodies of his Enemies, the Bodies of wicked and ſinful Men; thus drawing the Model and Platform of their Puniſhment (as uſually he doth) from the Structure and Proportion of their Sin.

Thus the Juſt and Righteous God builds up the Breaches that we make upon the Honour belonging to the Body of his Son, with the Ruins of that Honour which he had given unto ours, in Health, Strength, Life, and many other outward Comforts and Supports.

O then what need is there of a moſt awful and compos'd Spirit, when we approach the Lord in this Ordinance?

Reaſon 3. As the Danger of unworthy Receiving ſhould compoſe us to the greateſt Seriouſneſs, ſo the Remembrance of that Frame and Temper Chriſt's Spirit was in when he actually ſuffer'd thoſe Things for us, ſhould compoſe our Spirits into a Frame more ſuitable and agreeable to his. When we ſee his Death, as it were, acted over again before our Eyes; was his Heart roving and wandering in that Day? Did he not, with Senſe and Mind, the Work he was going about? Was his Heart, like thine, ſtupid, and unaffected with theſe Things? Look but upon that Text, Luke 22. 44. and you ſhall ſee whether it were ſo, or no. It's ſaid, (when this Tragedy drew nigh, and his Enemies were ready to ſeize him in the Garden,) That being in an Agony, he prayed more earneſtly; and his ſweat was, as it were, great drops of blood falling to the ground. And Mat. 26. 38. he ſaith, My ſoul is exceeding ſorrowful, even unto death. His Soul was full of Sorrow; and is thine full of Stupidity? God forbid.

If thy Heart be cold, Chriſt's was hot: If thou can'ſt not ſhed a Tear, He poured out Clods of Blood from every Part. Oh, how unſuitable is a dry Eye, and hard Heart, to ſuch an Ordinance as this!

Reaſon 4. As the Frame Chriſt's Spirit was in at his Death, ſhould command the moſt ſolemn Frame upon our Spirits, at the Recognizing of it; ſo the Things here repreſented, require, and call for the highеſt Exerciſe of every Grace of the Spirit in our Souls: For we come not thither as idle Spectators, but as active Inſtruments; to glorify God, by Exerciſing every Grace upon Chriſt, as crucified for us. Behold here are, among the reſt,

1. The proper Object of Faith.
2. The flowing Spring of Repentance.
3. The powerful Attractive of Love.

Firſt, The Proper Object of Faith is here. This Ordinance, as a Glaſs, repreſents to thine Eye that Glorious Perſon, of whom the Father ſaid, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleaſed, Mat. 3. 5. Of whom he ſaid, I have laid help upon one that is mighty. This was he that was made ſin for us, who knew no ſin, that we might be made the righteouſneſs of God in him; 2 Cor. 5. 21. Who trod the Winepreſs alone, and is here to be ſeen in his Red Garments. Every Drop of his precious Blood hath a Tongue, crying for Faith to behold it, pour'd forth as a Sacrifice to God for Sin. This, ſaith he, is the Cup of the New Teſtament in my blood, which was ſhed for many for the remiſſion of ſins.

And what Footing could thy Faith find for Pardon and Salvation any where elſe? 'Tis Chriſt crucified that Faith claſps, as the laſt and only Hope and Refuge of a poor Sinner: Here all Believers drop Anchor. This is that Bleſſed Object, on whom they take the dead Gripe, or laſt Graſp, when their Eye-ſtrings and Heart-ſtrings are breaking. When you ſee the Blood of Chriſt flowing forth, how can Faith be ſilent in thy Soul? When he bids thee, as it were, to put thy Finger into his Side, ſhews thee his Hands and his Feet there; it will cry out in thy Soul, My Lord! and my God!

Secondly, The flowing Spring of Repentance is here. If there be any Fire that can melt, or Hammer that can break a hard Heart, here it is; Zech. 12. 10. They ſhall look upon me, whom they have pierced, and mourn. Nothing lays a Gracious Soul lower in it ſelf, than to ſee how low Chriſt was laid in his Humiliation for it.

Here the Evil of Sin is alſo repreſented in the cleareſt Glaſs, that ever the Eye of Man ſaw it in. The Sufferings of the Son of God, diſcover the Evil of Sin, more than the Everlaſting Torments of the Damned can do. So that if there be but one Drop of Spiritual Sorrow in the Heart of a Chriſtian, here, methinks, it ſhould be ſeen dropping from the Eye of Faith.

Thirdly, The moſt attractive Object of Love is here. Put all created Beauties, Excellencies, and Perfections together; and what are they but Blackneſs and Deformity, compared with the Lovely Jeſus? My beloved (ſaith the enamour'd Spouſe) is white and ruddy; Cant. 5. 10. Behold him at the Table, in his perfect Innocency, and unparallel'd Sufferings! This is He who was rich, but for our ſakes became poor; that we, thro' his poverty, might be rich; 2 Cor. 8. 9. This is he that parted with his Honour in his Inclinations, that he might be capable to part with his Life for our Redemption.

Behold here the Degrees of his Sufferings, and by them meaſure the Degrees of his Love. Behold in his Death, as in the Deluge, all the Fountains beneath, and the Windows of Heaven above, opened; the Wrath of God, the Cruelty of Men, the Fury of Hell, breaking in together upon him: And how can this be repreſented, and thy Soul not aſtoniſhed at this amazing, matchleſs Love of Chriſt? Surely one Flame doth not more naturally produce another, than the Love of Chriſt thus repreſented to a gracious Soul, doth produce Love to Chriſt, and that in the moſt intenſe degree.

Uſe 1. How naturally doth this Doctrine ſhame, and humble the beſt Hearts, for their ſinful Diſcompoſures, Vanity, and Deadneſs; for the Rovings and Wanderings of their Hearts, even when they come near the Lord in ſuch a ſolemn Ordinance as this is?

The Holieſt Man upon Earth, may lay his Hand upon his Breaſt, and ſay, 'Lord, How unſui-
'table is this Heart of mine, to ſuch an Object of 'Faith, as is here preſented to me? Doth ſuch a 'Temper of Spirit ſuit thine Awful Preſence?
'Should the repreſented Agonies and Sufferings of 'Chriſt for me, be beheld with a Spirit no more 'concerned, pierced, and wounded for Sin? O
'how can I look upon him whom I have pierced,
'and not mourn, and be in Bitterneſs for him, as
'for an only Son, a Firſt-born! O the ſtupifying
'and benumbing Power of Sin! O the Efficacy of 'Unbelief!

It was charged upon the Iſraelites, as the great Aggravation of their Sin, that they provoked God at the ſea, even at the red ſea; Pſal. 106. 7. the Place where their miraculous Salvation was wrought. But, Lord Jeſus, my hard Heart provokes thee in an higher Degree; even at the Red Sea of thy precious invaluable Blood, by which my Eternal Salvation was wrought. O my God, what a Heart have I! Did the Blood of Chriſt run out ſo freely and abundantly for me; and cannot I ſhed one Tear for my Sins, that pierced him? O let me never be Friends with my own Heart, till it love Chriſt better, and hate Sin more.

Uſe 2. This Scripture hath alſo an awakening Voice, to all that come nigh to God in any of his Ordinances, eſpecially in this Ordinance. O Chriſtians! bethink your ſelves where you are, and what you are doing: Know you not, that the King comes in to ſee the Gueſts? Yea, you do know, that God is in this Place; an Awful Majeſty beholds you! All the Churches ſhall know, that I am he that ſearcheth the Heart and the Reins, and will give to every one as his work ſhall be; Rev. 2. 23.

Thy Buſineſs, Chriſtian, is not with Men, but with God; and the ſolemneſt Buſineſs that ever thy Thoughts were converſant about. Thou art here to recognize the Sufferings of thy Redeemer; to take the Seals and Pledges of thy Salvation from the Hand of his Spirit: Imagine the ſame Thing, which is now to be done ſpiritually, and by the Miniſtry of Faith, were but to be performed viſibly and audibly, by the Miniſtry of thy Senſes.

Suppoſe Jeſus Chriſt did perſonally ſhew himſelf at this Table, and were pleas'd to make himſelf known in Breaking of Bread, as once he did to the Diſciples. Suppoſe thou ſaweſt him appear in Heaven, as a Lamb that had been ſlain: Imagine thou heardeſt him ſay, 'Believer; This precious 'Blood of mine was ſhed for thee: There be Mil- 'lions of Men and Women in the World, natu- 'rally as good as thee, that ſhall have no Intereſt 'in it, or Benefit by it: But for thee it was ſhed, 'for the Remiſſion of thy Sins; and it hath made 'full Satisfaction to God for them all: Thy Sins, 'which are many, are therefore forgiven thee: 'My Blood hath purchaſed the Eternal Inheritance 'of Glory for thee; and this Day I am come to de- 'liver the Seals and Pledges thereof into thine 'Hand. Take then the Seals of Eternal Salvation 'this Day: Take then thine own Chriſt, with all 'that he is, and hath, in thine Arms. Whatever 'I have ſuffered, done, or procured for any of my 'Saints; I have ſuffered, done, and procured the 'ſame for thee.

Why, all this is here to be done as really and truly, tho' in a more ſpiritual way, at this Table. And ſhall not ſuch Buſineſs as this is, fully fix and engage thy Heart? What then ſhall do it?

Awake, Faith; awake, Repentance; awake, Love: Yea, let all the Powers of my Soul be throughly awakened, this Day to attend the Lord.

The Second MEDITATION,

UPON

JER. XII. 2. Thou art near in their Mouth, and far from their Reins.

THIS Scripture gives us the Character and Deſcription of an Hypocrite: And he is here deſcribed Two ways; viz.

1. By what he hath.
2. By what he hath not.

Firſt, The Hypocrite is deſcrib'd by what he hath: He hath God in his Mouth; Thou art near in their Mouth: i. e. They profeſs with a full Mouth, that they are thy People, ſaith Piſcat.: or, They ſpeak much about the Law, (as another ſenſes it); God, and his Temple, Religion, with its Rites, are much talk'd of among them; They have him in their Prayers and Duties: And this is all that the Hypocrite hath of God. Religion only ſanctifies his Tongue; that ſeems to be dedicated to God; but it penetrates no farther. And therefore,

Secondly, He is deſcribed by that he hath not, or by what he wants: And (or, but) thou art far from their Reins: i. e. They feel not the Power and Influences of that Name, which they ſo often invocate and talk of, going down to their very Reins, and affecting their very Hearts. So we muſt underſtand this Metaphorical Expreſſion here, as the Oppoſition directs: For the Reins, having ſo great and ſenſible a Sympathy with the Heart, (which is the Seat of the Affections and Paſſions,) upon that account, it is uſual in Scripture, to put the Reins for thoſe intimate and ſecret Affections, Thoughts, and Paſſions of the Heart, with which they have ſo near Cognation, and ſo ſenſible a Sympathy. When the Heart is under great Conſternation, the Loins or Reins are ſeiz'd alſo. As Dan. 5. 6. Then the King's Countenance was changed, and his Thoughts troubled him, and the Joints of his Loins were looſed. On the contrary, when the Heart is fill'd with Delight and Gladneſs, the Reins are ſaid to rejoice: Prov. 23. 16. Yea, my Reins ſhall rejoice, when thy Lips ſpeak right things: Totus lætitiâ diffiliam; I ſhall even leap for Joy. So then, when the Prophet ſaith, God is far from the Reins of the Hypocrite; the Meaning is, He feels not the Heart-affecting Influence and Power of Religion, upon his Heart and Affections, as God's People do. And hence the Note will be;

Doct. That God comes nearer to the Hearts and Reins of his People in their Duties, than he doth to any Hypocritical, or Formal Profeſſor.

By God's Nearneſs, we underſtand not his Omnipreſence, (that neither comes nor goes) nor his Love to his People, (that abides;) but the ſenſible, ſweet Manifeſtations, and Outlets of it to their Souls. So in Pſal. 145. 18. The Lord is nigh unto all that call upon him, and unto all that call upon him in truth.

Note the Reſtriction and Limitation of this Glorious Privilege; 'Tis the peculiar Enjoyment of ſincere and upright-hearted Worſhippers. Others may have Communion with Duties, but not with God in them.

But that God comes nigh, very nigh, to upright Hearts in their Duties, is a Truth as ſenſibly manifeſt to Spiritual Perſons, as that they are nigh the Fire, when they feel the comfortable heat of it refreſhing them in a cold Seaſon, when they are almoſt ſtarved and benumbed with Cold. Three things make this evident.

Firſt, Sincere Souls are ſenſible of God's Acceſſes to them in their Duties, they feel his Approaches to their Spirits, Lam. 3. 57. Thou dreweſt near in the day that I called upon thee; thou ſaidſt, Fear not. And what a Surprize was that to the Church? Cant. 2. 8. It is the Voice of my Beloved, behold he cometh, &c. Certainly there is a felt Preſence of God, which no Words can make another to underſtand; they feel that Fountain flowing abundantly into the dry Pits, the Heart fills apace, the empty Thoughts ſwell with a fulneſs of Spiritual Things which ſtrive for vent.

Secondly, They are ſenſible of God's Receſſes, and Withdrawments from their Spirits, they feel how the Ebb follows the Flood, and how the Waters abate. So you find it in Cant. 5. 6. I opened to my Beloved, but my Beloved had withdrawn himſelf, and was gone, my Soul failed when he ſpake: I ſought him, but I could not find him; I called, but he gave me no Anſwer. The Hebrew is very pathetical; He was gone, he was gone. A ſad change of the Frame of her Heart quickly followed.

Thirdly, The Lord's nearneſs to the Hearts and Reins of his People in their Duties, is evident to them from the Effects that it leaves upon their Spirits. For look, as it is with the Earth and Plants, with reſpect to the approach or remove of the Sun in the Spring and Autumn: So it is here, as Chriſt ſpeaks, Luke 21. 29. When ye ſee the Fig-tree, and all the Trees ſhoot forth, we know that Summer is nigh at hand. An approaching Sun renews the Face of the Earth, and makes Nature ſmile. The Trees bud and bloſſom, the Fiſhes riſe, the Birds Sing; it's a kind of Reſurrection to Nature from the Dead. So is it when the Lord comes near the Hearts and Reins of Men in Duty: For then they find that,

Dr. Preſton when dying ſaid, I ſhall change my Place, not my Company.

Firſt, a real Taſte of the Joy of the Lord is here given to Men, the Fulneſs whereof is in Heaven; hence call'd, 2 Cor. 1. 22. The Earneſt of his Spirit. And 1 Pet. 1. 8. Glorified Joy; or a ſhort Salvation. O! what is this! What is this! Certainly it is ſomething that hath no Affinity with Fleſh, or groſs Corporeal Pleaſures; but is of another Nature, ſomething which tranſcends all that ever was felt or taſted in this World, ſince we were firſt converſant among ſenſible Objects.

Secondly, A mighty Strength and Power coming into their Souls, and actuating all its Faculties and Graces. When God comes near, new Powers enter the Soul; the feeble is as David, Pſal. 138. 3. In the day that I cried, thou anſweredſt me, and ſtrengthendſt me with ſtrength in my Soul. Cant. 1. 12. Whilſt the King ſitteth at his Table, my Spikenard, &c. Hope was low, and Faith was weak, little Strength in my Grace, except Deſires; but when the Lord comes, Strength comes with him. Then as it is, Neh. 8. 10. The joy of the Lord is your ſtrength. O the vigorous Sallies of the Heart to God! Pſal. 63. 8. In the ſtrength of Love, Cant. 8. 6. Duties are other manner of things than they were wont to be. Did not our Hearts burn within us, Luke 24. 32.

Thirdly, A remarkable Transformation and Change of Spirit follows it.

Theſe things are found to be marvellouſly aſſimilating. The ſights of God, the felt Preſence of God, is as Fire, which quickly aſſimilates what is put into it to its own likeneſs. So 2 Cor. 3. 18. They are ſaid to be changed from Glory to Glory. It always leaves the Mind more refined and abſtracted from groſs material things, and changed into the ſame Image. They have a Similitude of God upon them, who have God near unto their Hearts and Reins.

Fourthly, A vigorous working of the Heart Heaven-ward; a mounting of the Soul upwards. Now the Soul ſhews that it hath not forgot its way home again. It is with ſuch a Soul as ſenſibly embraces Chriſt in the Arms of Faith, as it was with Simeon, when he took him Bodily into his Arms. Now (ſaith he) let thy Servant depart in peace, for mine Eyes have ſeen thy Salvation. O! it would have the Wings of a Dove, to fly away from this polluted World, this unquiet World, and be at reſt.

1. Infer. Then certainly there is an Heaven, and a State of Glory for the Saints. Heaven is no Dream or Viſion. It is ſenſibly taſted and felt by Thouſands of Witneſſes in this World; they are ſure it is no miſtake. God is with them of a Truth, in the way of their Duties. They do not only read of a glorified Eye, but they have ſomething of it, or like it in this World. The pure in heart do here ſee God, Mat. 5. 8. The Saints have not only a Witneſs without them in the Word, that there is a State of Glory prepared for Believers, but they have a Witneſs in themſelves. Theſe are not the Teſtimonies of craz'd Brains, but of the wiſeſt and moſt ſerious of Men; not conjecturally delivered, but upon taſte, feeling, and trial. O bleſſed be God for ſuch ſenſible Confirmations, ſuch ſweet Prælibations.

2. Infer. But, O, what is Heaven! And what that State of Glory reſerved for the Saints! Doth a Glimpſe of God's Preſence in a Duty, go down to the Heart and Reins? O how unutterable then muſt that be which is ſeen and felt above, where God comes as near to Men as can be? Rev. 22. 3, 4. The Throne of God and the Lamb ſhall be in it, and his Servants ſhall ſerve him; and they ſhall ſee his Face. And 1 Theſ. 4. 17. And ſo ſhall we be ever with the Lord. O, what is that! Ever with the Lord? Chriſtians, what you feel and taſte here by Faith, is part of Heaven's Glory; but yet Heaven will be an unſpeakable Surprizal to you, when you come thither for all that: It doth not yet appear what we ſhall be, 1 John 3. 1, 2.

3. Infer. See hence the neceſſity of caſting theſe very Bodies into a new Mold by their Reſurrection from the Dead, according to that, 1 Cor. 15. 41. It is ſown in weakneſs, but raiſed in power. How elſe could it be a Co-partner with the Soul in the ineffable Joys of that Preſence above?

Certainly, my Friends, that which is to be a Veſſel to contain ſuch ſtrong Liquor as this, had need be ſtrongly hooped, leſt it flies to pieces, as old Bottles do when fill'd with new Wine. The State of this Mortality cannot bear the fulneſs of that Joy. Hold, Lord, ſtay thy Hand, (ſaid a choice Chriſtian once), thy Creature is but a Clay-Veſſel, and can hold no more. If a tranſient Glimpſe of God here, be felt in the very Reins, if it ſo work upon the very Body by Sympathy with the Soul, O what vigorous Spiritual Bodies, doth the State of Glory require! And ſuch they ſhall be, Phil. 3. 21. Like unto Chriſt's glorious Body.

4. Infer. Is God ſo near to his People above all others in the World? How good is it to be near them them that are ſo near to God? O, it would do a Man's Heart good to be near that Perſon who hath lately had God near to his Soul. Well might David ſay, Pſal. 16. 3. All my delight is in the excellent of the Earth. And again, Pſalm 119. 63. I am a Companion of all ſuch as fear thee. O, this is the Glory of that Society; not the Communication of their Gifts, but the ſavour of God on their Spirits. If any thing be alluring in this World, this is, 1 John 1. 3. That ye may have fellowſhip with us, and truly our fellowſhip is with the Father, and with his Son Chriſt Jeſus. It's ſaid, Zech. 8. 23. of the Jews, the time ſhall come, when there ſhall be ſuch a Preſence of God among that People, that ten Men out of all Languages ſhall take hold of the Skirts of him that is a Jew; ſaying, We will go with you, for we have heard that God is with you.

Chriſtians, if there were more of God upon you, and in you, others would not be tempted to leave your Society, and fall in with the Men of the World; they would ſay, we will go with you, for God is with you.

5. Infer. If God be ſo near to the Heart and Reins of his People in their Duties, O, how aſſiduous ſhould they be in their Duties? It's good for me to draw nigh to God, Pſalm 73. 28. Good indeed; the World cannot reward the expence of time at this rate, with all its Glory, James 4. 8. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: Thou meeteſt him that rejoiceth and worketh righteouſneſs; thoſe that remember thee in thy ways, Iſai. 64. 5.

Obj. It would be an Encouragement indeed, if I might thus meet God in the way of Duty, but that's but ſeldom I can ſo meet God there, in ſenſible powerful Outlets of his Grace and Love. I am moſt dead and cold there. I feel not Communion with God, going down to my Heart and Reins.

Sol. Firſt, you draw nigh to God; but is it in Truth, or in meer Formality? God is only nigh to ſuch as call in truth upon him, Pſalm. 145. 18.

Secondly, If your Hearts be ſincere, yet are they not ſluggiſh? Do you ſtir up your ſelves to take hold of God? Many there be that do not, Iſa. 64. 7. and Cant. 5. 3, 5.

Thirdly, Have you not grieved the Spirit of God, and cauſed him to withdraw from you. O remember what Pride and Vanity hath been in you after former Manifeſtations, Eph. 4. 33.

Fourthly, Nevertheleſs wait for God in his ways; his coming upon our Souls is oftentimes, yea moſtly, a ſurprizal to us; Cant. 6. 12. Or ever I was aware, my Soul made me as the Chariots of Aminidab.

6. Infer. What ſteddy Chriſtians ſhould all real Chriſtians be? For lo, what a Seal and Witneſs hath Religion in the Breaſt of every ſincere Profeſſor of it? True Chriſtians do not only hear by Report, or learn by Books the Reality of it, but feel by Experience, and have a ſenſible proof of it in their very Hearts and Reins, their Reins inſtruct them as it is, Pſal. 16. 7. They learn by ſpiritual ſenſe and feeling, than which nothing can give greater Confirmation in the ways of God.

There are two ſorts of Knowledge among Men, one Traditional, the other Experimental: This laſt, the Apoſtle calls a knowing in our ſelves, Heb. 10. 34. and oppoſes it to that Traditional Knowledge which may be ſaid to be without our ſelves, becauſe borrowed from other Men.

Now this Experience we have of the Power of Religion in our Souls, is that only which fixes a Man's Spirit in the ways of Godlineſs. It made the Hebrews take joyfully the ſpoiling of their Goods; no Arguments or Temptations can wreſt Truth out of the Hand of Experience, Non eſt diſputandum de guſta. For want of this, many Profeſſors turn aſide from Truth in the hour of Trial. O Brethren, labour to feel the Influences of Religion upon your very Hearts and Reins; this will ſettle you better than all Arguments in the World can do: By this the Ways of God are more endeared to Men, than by any other way in the World. When your Hearts have once felt it, you will never forſake it.

The Third MEDITATION,

UPON

Rom. 7. 28. I find then a Law, that when I would do good, evil is preſent with me.

THis Chapter is the very Anatomy of a Chriſtian's Heart, and gives an Account of the moſt ſecret Frames, and inward Workings of it, both as to Graces and Corruptions; and this Verſe is a Compendium of both; for the Words are a mournful Complaint, uttered with a deep ſenſe of an inward preſſure, by reaſon of Sin; wherein we are to conſider Three Things:

1. The Perſon complaining.
2. The Matter of Complaint.
3. The Diſcovery of that Matter.

Firſt, The Perſon complaining: I find: I Paul, tho' I come not behind the chiefeſt of all the Apoſtles, tho' I have been wrapt into the Third Heaven, and heard things unutterable; yet I for all that, find in me a Law. Never was any meer Man more deeply ſanctified; never was any lived at an higher rate of Communion with God; never any did Chriſt more Service in this World; and yet he found a Law of Sin in himſelf.

Secondly, The Matter of the Complaint, which conſiſts in a double Evil he groaned under, viz. 1. The preſence of Sin at all times. 2. The Operation of Sin, eſpecially at ſome times.

Firſt, The preſence of Sin at all times: Evil (ſaith he) is preſent with me, it follows me as my Shadow doth. By Evil we muſt underſtand no other Evil but Sin, the Evil of Evils; which in reſpect of Power and Efficacy, he alſo calls a Law, becauſe as Laws by reaſon of their annexed Rewards and Puniſhments, have a mighty Power and Efficacy upon the Minds of Men; ſo Sin, in-dwelling Sin, that Root of all our Trouble and Sorrow, hath a mighty Efficacy upon us.

And this is the mournful Matter of his Complaint: 'Tis not for outward Afflictions, tho' he had many; nor for what he ſuffered from the Hands of Men, tho' he ſuffered many grievous things; but 'tis Sin dwelling and working in him, that ſwallows up all other Troubles, as Rivers are loſt in in the Sea; this Evil was always with him, the constant Residence of Sin was his Heart and Nature.

Secondly, And what further adds to his Burden, as it dwelt in him at all times, so it exerted its Efficacy more especially at some times, and those the special Times, and principal Seasons in his whole Life: When I would do good (saith he) any spiritual good, and among the rest, when I address my self to any spiritual Duty, or heavenly Employment; when I design to draw near to God, and promise my self Comfort and Redress, in Communion with him, then is Evil present. O, if I were but rid of it in those Hours, what a Mercy should I esteem it, tho' I were troubled with it at other times! Could I but enjoy my Freedom from it in the Seasons of Duty, and Times of Communion with God, what a Comfort would that be? But then is the special Season of its Operation. Never is Sin more active and busy, than at such a time; and this, O, this is my Misery and Burden.

Cum ad optima quæque contendo, experior aliam legem, tunc maxime insurgit & præcipitur lex carnis. Tolletus.

Thirdly, The next thing to be heeded here, is the discovery of this Evil to him, over which he so mourns and laments. I find then a Law, saith he, I find it (i. e.) by inward Sense, Feeling, and sad Experience. He knew there was such a thing as Original Sin in the Natures of Men, when he was an Unregenerated Pharisee; but tho' he had then the notion of it, he had not the sense and feeling of it as now he had; he now feels what before he traditionally understood and talk'd of. I find a Law, q. d. what or how others find, I know not: Some may boast of their Gifts, and some may talk more than becomes them of their Graces; they may find Excellencies in themselves, and admire themselves too much for them; but for my part, I find a Law, that when I would do good, evil is present. I am sure I find a bad Heart in the best season, a proud, dead, wandring, hard Heart. I find it wofully out of order, God knows, and this is my Misery. Hence note, Doct. That the best Christians do sensibly feel, and sadly bewail the workings of their Corruptions, and that in the very Seasons and Opportunities of their Communion with God.

Bring thy Thoughts, Reader, close to this Point, nd sadly ponder these three things in it:.

First, In what special acts Christians use to feel ie working of their Corruption in the season of eir Communion.

Secondly, Why is it that Corruption stirs and troues them more at such a time than at others.

Thirdly, Upon what account this is so great a rden to every gracious Heart.

First, As to the first of these, namely, the special tings of Corruption in the seasons of Communi-, they are such as have a natural aptitude and sign to destroy all Communion betwixt God and e Soul, Gal. 5. 17. The flesh lusteth against the spi-

It's contrary to the Spirit, and by reason of it contrariety, a poor Christian cannot do the ngs that he would.

How many times have some Christians lamented s upon their Knees, with bleeding Heart and weep- Eyes? Lord, I came hither to enjoy thee, I 'd for some Light, Strength, and Refreshment his Duty. I promis'd my self a good hour, my art began to warm and melt in Duty, I was nigh the expectation and desire of my Soul; but the unbelief, deadness, and vanity of my Heart hath separated betwixt me and my God, and withheld good things from me.

Three things are requisite to Communion with God in Duties:

First, Composedness of Thoughts.

Secondly, Activity of Faith.

Thirdly, Excitation of Affections. And all these are sensibly obstructed by innate Corruption; for by in-dwelling Sin,

First, The order of the Soul is disturb'd by sending forth multitudes of vain and impertinent Thoughts, to infest and distract the Soul in its approaches to God: The sense of this Evil, gave occasion to that Prayer, Psal. 86. 11. Unite my heart to fear thy name. How much have we to do with our own Hearts upon this account every day? Abundance of Rules are given to cure this Evil, but the Corruption of the Heart makes them all necessary.

Secondly, The activity of Faith is clogg'd by natural Unbelief: O, what Difficulties is every Work of Faith carried through! Lord, I believe, help thou my unbelief, Mark 9. 24. It cramps the hand of Faith in every part of its work; the Soul sensibly feels it self bound and fetter'd by its own Unbelief, so that it cannot assent with that fulness, clearness, and determinateness that it would; it cannot apply with that strength, certainty and comfort it desires; and thus are the Wings of Faith pinion'd, that when we should soar aloft in the highest acts of sweet Communion with God, we can but flutter upon the Earth, and make some weak essays and offers Heaven-ward, which oftentimes are frustrated and put by, through the Unbelief that is in us.

Thirdly, The Excitation of the Affections is rendred difficult, by reason of that natural deadness and hardness that is in the Heart. Alas, it's naturally an Heart of Stone, and as easy it is to dissolve or melt the Rocks into a sweet Syrup, as the Heart into Spiritual and Heavenly Affections towards God. There is scarce any one thing in this World that Christians more passionately bewail, and are more sensibly afflicted for, than the deadness and hardness of their own Hearts. Nothing is found sufficient sometimes to affect and raise them; and yet if they be not excited out of their Torpor and Stupidity, they cannot have Communion with God in Duties.

Secondly, And if we enquire into the Reasons why poor Christians find themselves more infested by natural Corruption in the Seasons of Duty than at other times; the Reasons are obvious to him that considers, 1. That Duty irritates it; 2. Satan excites it; 3. God permits it to be so.

1. Corruption is irritated by Duty, it's provok'd by that which bridles and purges it: Nothing is found more destructive to Sin than Communion with God is, and therefore nothing makes a fiercer opposition to all Fellowship and Communion betwixt the Soul and its God than Sin doth. As Waters swell and rage when they are obstructed by a Dam, so do our Corruptions when obstructed and check'd by Duty. Sin would fain make Men leave praying, and Prayer would fain make Men leave sinning.

2. As Duty irritates it, so Satan excites it, especially in such Seasons. When Joshua the High-Priest stood before the Lord, Satan was seen standing at his Right hand to resist him, Zech. 3. 1. How hard is it for a Christian then to be dextrous, apt, and ready for Spiritual Works, whilst Satan stands his Right hand, the working Hand, to make Reſiſtance!

at

The Devil is aware that one hour of cloſe, ſpiritual, and hearty converſe with God in Prayer, is able to pull down what he hath been contriving and building many a Year. Now this envious Spirit having an eaſy acceſs to the Fancy, that buſie and unruly power of the Soul, will not be wanting to create ſuch Figments and Notions in it, as, like a rapid Stream, ſhall carry away the Soul and its Thoughts from God in Duty. Oh, what ado have moſt Chriſtians to prevent the Sallies and Excurſions of their Hearts from God at ſuch times!

3. As Satan exerciſes it, ſo the Wiſe and Holy God, for good Ends to his People, permits it to be ſo.

This Thorn in the Fleſh keeps them humble; theſe lamented Diſtractions and Corruptions in their Duties deſtroy their dependance upon them. For if we be ſo prone to Pride and Confidence in our Duties, amidſt ſuch ſenſible workings and minglings of Corruption with them, what would we be if they were more pure and excellent? Theſe things alſo make the Saints weary of this World, and to groan within themſelves about the more perfect State wherein God ſhall be enjoy'd and ſeen in more Perfection and Satisfaction. But,

Thirdly, This in the mean time cannot but be a very grievous Affliction and Preſſure to the gracious Soul, to be thus clogg'd and infeſted by its own Corruptions in the very ſeaſon of its Communion with God. For,

Firſt, By this the Soul is render'd very unſuitable to that holy Preſence it approaches, Hab. 1. 13. Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canſt not look upon iniquity. Muſt the great and bleſſed God wait upon a poor Worm till it be at leiſure to attend him? Muſt he be forſaken for every trifle that comes in the way of its Fancy? Oh, how provoking an Evil is this! Surely God heareth not vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it, Job 35. 13. This unſuitableneſs of our Spirits to the Lord, cannot do leſs than cover our Faces with Shame; Ezra 9. 6. O my God, I am aſhamed, and even bluſh to look up unto thee.

Secondly, By this thoſe Benefits and Comforts are intercepted, which are better than Life; there is a ſenſible Preſence of God; there are manifeſtations of Pardon, Peace and Love; there are reviving influences and freſh anointings of the Spirit, there are a thouſand Mercies of this kind, that in their ſeaſon are communicated to Men in the way of Duty; and would it not grieve a Man to the very Heart and Soul, to be defeated of thoſe ineſtimable Treaſures, by the breaking forth of the Unbelief, Pride, or Vanity of his own Heart, when ſuch Mercies are almoſt in his Hand? Your iniquities, (ſaith the Prophet) have ſeparated betwixt you and your God, and your ſins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear, Iſa. 59. 2. O cruel Covering! O diſmal Cloud! that hides the Face of God from his People, that they cannot behold it. Wherefore am I come from Geſhur (ſaith Abſalom) if I may not ſee the King's face?

What do I here upon my Knees, ſaith a Chriſtian, if I may not ſee God? Duties are nothing to me without God; the World and all its Comforts are dry and taſteleſs things to me without God; His manifeſted Favour and ſealed Love are the very Life of my Life, and from this the Corruptions of my own Heart have cut me off.

Thirdly, By theſe things the Beauty and Excellency of Duties are defaced. Theſe dead Flies ſpoil that excellent Ointment; for wherein conſiſts the Beauty and true Excellency of Duties, but in that ſpirituality and heavenly Temper of Soul with which they are perform'd? This makes them ſuitable to their Object, John 4. 24. Take away Spirituality from Duties, and then you may number them among your Sins, and the matters of your Shame and Sorrow. Take away the Heart from Duty, and what remains but a dead Carcaſs without Life or Beauty?

Fourthly, By theſe things gracious Souls are greatly puzzled and perplexed about their Eſtate and Condition; this is the fountain of their fears and doubtings. O, when a Man ſees ſuch deadneſs in his Heart towards God, ſuch ſtiffneſs in his Will to the Will of God, ſuch a liſtleſs careleſs Temper to all that is ſpiritual, how (thinks he) can this conſiſt with a renew'd State and Temper? Sure no Chriſtian is troubled with ſuch an Heart as mine is, eſpecially when it ſhall be found in its ordinary courſe, ſo free, nimble, and indefatigable in its Purſuits and Entertainments of things ſenſual and earthly. There it is as the Chariots of Aminadab, but here, like Pharaoh's Chariots; there it as much needs the Curb, as it doth the Spur here. Lord, ſaith the poor Soul, I know not what to do: if I do not look into my heart, I cannot be ſincere; and if I do, I can have no comfort. This is a ſad Perplexity indeed.

Fifthly, and laſtly, By theſe things the Spirit of God is griev'd, and that which grieves him cannot but be a Grief and Burden to us: His Motions are quench'd by theſe Corruptions, his ſanctifying Deſigns (as much as lies in us) obſtructed by them, ſurely then there is cauſe enough why a Chriſtian ſhould follow every vain Thought with a deep Sigh, and every ſtirring of unbelief with a ſad Tear.

The Uſefulneſs of this Point is great and exceeding ſeaſonable, when we are to draw nigh to God, and addreſs our ſelves to Spiritual Duties; it may to great purpoſe be improv'd by ways,

1. Of Information.
2. Direction.
3. Conſolation.

We may greatly improve it for our Information in the following Particulars.

Hence we may take our meaſures of the wonderful and aſtoniſhing Grace and Condeſcenſion of God to his People, who notwithſtanding all that Evil which is preſent with them in the good they do, will not reject their Perſons or Duties for all that.

How doth Free Grace make its own way thro' ſwarms of Vanity! how doth it break thro' all the deadneſs, infidelity and hardneſs of our Hearts to do us good! Though Evil be preſent with us, our gracious God will not be abſent from us notwithſtanding that.

How greatly was the Spouſe amaz'd at the unexpected Condeſcenſion and Grace of Chriſt in this matter? Cant. 2. 8. It is the voice of my beloved, behold, he cometh leaping over the mountains, skipping over the hills. It is the voice of my beloved; That abrupt broken Expreſſion ſhews a perfect Surprize. She ſaw Mountains of Guilt and Unworthineſs between Chriſt and her Soul; and yet, behold, he comes ſkipping over all thoſe Mountains and Hills. O free Grace, rich and admirable Grace, which with ſo many notwithſtandings and nevertheleſſes, will ſave and comfort the poor unworthy Soul!

2. How little reaſon have any of us to be proud of our beſt Performances! There is not a juſt man on earth, that doth good, and ſinneth not, ſaith Solomon, Eccleſ. 7. 20. If there be ſomething ſupernaturally Good in our Duties, yet there is abundance of natural Evil commixed with that Good; the Evil is wholly ours, the good wholly God's: we have no reaſon then to glory in our beſt Performances.

It hath been a Queſtion with ſome, Whether ſome ſhort tranſient Act of a regenerate Soul may not be free from Sin; but it was never queſtion'd, whether any continued Act, much leſs a courſe of Actions, could be without Sin. Evil will be preſent with us in all we do; 'twill be with us in our Cloſets, preſent even in the awful Preſence of the holy God, in the moſt high and ſolemn Duties of Religion, in the moſt pure and ſpiritual Actions that paſs from us: Ceaſe then, as from Dependance, ſo from Pride and Conceitedneſs in all you do. Whilſt our Natures are ſanctified but in part, and our Principles mixt, our Duties and Performances can never be pure. Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one; Job 14. 4.

3. How are we all oblig'd to bleſs God for Jeſus the Mediator, to make us and our ſinful Duties acceptable to God? Sad were our caſe if this High-prieſt did not bear the iniquity of our holy things, as it is, Exod. 28. 38. 'Tis his Oblation and Interceſſion that obtains and continues our Pardon for our Prayer-ſins, our Hearing-ſins, our Sacrament-ſins; theſe alone would eternally damn us, if we had no other, did not Free-grace make us accepted in the beloved, Eph. 1. 6. When Evil is preſent with us, then is Chriſt our Advocate preſent with the Father for us; and hence it is that we are not deſtroy'd upon our Knees, and that the Jealouſie of God breaks not forth as Fire, to devour us in our very Duties.

4. If Evil be preſent with us, yea, inherent in us, in our beſt Duties, what need had Chriſtians then to watch againſt the external occaſions of Sin, and to keep a cloſe guard upon their Senſes, eſpecially when they have to do with God?

There's Danger enough from within, you need not open another Door from without. This natural Corruption is too active in it ſelf, if there be no irritation by any external occaſion; how much more when the Eye and Ear are open'd and unguarded, and occaſions are offer'd it from without. Watching is half the Work of a Chriſtian, whilſt he is praying, Eph. 6. 18. The Arabian Proverb is as inſtructive as it is myſtical, Shut the Windows, that the Houſe may be light.

5. If Evil be preſent when we would do Good, if it infeſt us in our beſt Duties, then certainly there is no Reſt to be expected for any of God's People in this World. Where ſhall we go to be free from it? If any where, let us go to our Cloſets, to our Knees, to the Ordinances of God; yea, but even there Evil is and will be preſent with us; if we cannot be free from Evil there, it's vain to expect it elſewhere in this World. Only in Heaven Believers are free from Sin. When once they are abſent from the Body, and preſent with the Lord, Sin ſhall no more be preſent with them; which ſhould make all the hate Sin long for Heaven, and be willing to be diſſolved, and be with Chriſt.

6. For Direction. Let all that experimentally feel what the Apoſtle here mourns over, carefully attend ſuch Directions as may prevent the ſpoil of their Duties by the working of their Corruptions in them.

Tho' no Rules are found ſufficient to prevent wholly the influence of our Corruptions upon Duties, yet own it as a Special Mercy, if it may in any meaſure be prevented or reſtrain'd: In order whereunto I ſhall hint briefly theſe following Rules, which the Experience of many Chriſtians hath recommended, as exceeding uſeful in this caſe.

Rule 1. Be more diligent in preparation for your Duties, if you would meet with leſs interruption in your Duties. The very Light of Nature teacheth ſolemn Preparation to all important and weighty buſineſs; And is there more weighty and concerning buſineſs in all the World, than that which thou tranſacteſt with God in Duties? Angels approach not this God with whom thou haſt to do, without profound Reſpects to his immenſe Greatneſs and awful Holineſs, Iſa. 6 3. When you ſtretch forth your Hands, it is requir'd that you firſt prepare your Hearts, Job 11. 13.

Rule 2. Realize the Preſence of God in all your Duties, and awe your Hearts all that you are able by that conſideration. O, think what a piercing holy Eye beholds thy Heart, and tries thy Reins. Wouldſt thou not be really aſham'd, if thy Thoughts were but vocal to Men, and the workings and wandrings of thy Heart viſible to thoſe that joyn with thee in the ſame Duty? O, if the Preſence of God were more realiz'd, certainly your Hearts would be better ſecur'd againſt the Incurſions of your Corruptions.

Rule 3. Labour for a deeper meaſure and degree of Sanctification; many other Rules are but Spiritual Anodynes, to give preſent Eaſe, but this is the way to a real Cure. A thouſand things may be found helpful to put by a vain Thought for the preſent, but then it returns again, and it may be with more Strength: This is the proper method to dry the Spring, when others are but Attempts to divert the Stream: If Habits of Grace were more deeply radicated, Acts of Grace would be more eaſie to us, and flow more freely from us.

Rule 4. Laſtly, Conſider what an aggravation it is to your Evil, to vent it ſelf in the ſpecial preſence of God in his Duties. See how Paul mourns over it in the Text. It is not only a Sin, but an affronting of God to his Face: This grieving of his Spirit is the ſpoil of thy Duty; it is (as one aptly calls it) obex infernalis, an helliſh Bar or Remora to all ſweet and free intercourſe of the Soul with God.

3. Conſolation. But whilſt I am repreſenting the Evil of it to ſome, it may be there are others overwhelm'd with the ſorrowful ſenſe of it, even to Diſcouragement and Deſpondency: Poor Chriſtian, is this thy Caſe? Are all the Afflictions in the World nothing to thee, in compariſon with this Evil which is preſent with thee when thou wouldſt do good? Well, tho' thou canſt not do the good thou wouldſt, nor free thy ſelf yet from the Evil thou wouldſt, rather than live, be freed from, there are four things that may give much Relief to thy penſive Soul.

1. Tho' the preſence of Evil, even in thy beſt Duties, be ſad, yet thy grief and affliction for it is ſweet. That is a ſad Sin, but this is a ſweet Sign. It is not heart-evils, heart-wandrings in Duties, hardneſs and unbelief, that Hypocrites mourn for, but more groſs and external Evils. Let this trouble for Sin comfort thee when the preſence of Sin grieves thee.

2. God accepts through Jeſus Chriſt what you do ſincerely, tho' you can do nothing purely and perfectly, Cant. 5. 1. Your Sincerity is your Evangelical Perfection; the Evil that is preſent is not imputed; the Good that is preſent is (notwithſtanding that commix'd Evil) accepted, which is ſtrong Conſolation.

3. You find your Caſe was the Caſe of bleſſed Paul, a man of eminent Sanctity. And if you conſult all the Saints, one by one, you will find them all ſick of this Diſeaſe; ſo that your Caſe is not ſingular.

4. Your Juſtification is perfect, and without ſpot, tho' your Sanctification be not ſo; and the time is comin when your Sanctification ſhall be as your Juſtificat on is, and after that no more Complaints.

The Fourth MEDITATION,

UPON

Epheſians I. 13. In whom alſo, after that ye believed, ye were ſealed with the holy Spirit of Promiſe.

FROM his Doxology and ſolemn Thankſgiving, ver. 3. the Apoſtle enumerates the principal Chriſtian Privileges that gave the occaſion of that Thankſgiving, among which this Text is not the leaſt, tho' laſt nam'd.

In this one Verſe we have the two noble acts of Faith diſplay'd, its direct act call'd Truſting, and its reflex act, which in order of Nature and Time follows it, and is implied in the word Sealing.

In the latter Clauſe (to which I ſhall confine my Meditations) four things muſt be remark'd, viz. 1. The Subject, 2. Nature, 3. Author, and 4. Quality of Aſſurance.

1. The Subject of Aſſurance, which is and can be no other than a Soul that hath clos'd with Chriſt by Faith: Reflex Acts neceſſarily preſuppoſe direct ones. Never was any Unbeliever ſeal'd, except to Damnation: Aſſurance is peculiarly the Prerogative of Believers.

2. The Nature of Aſſurance; he calls it Sealing, an apt Metaphor to expreſs the Nature of it; for Aſſurance, like a Seal, both confirms, declares and diſtinguiſhes; it confirms the Grant of God, declares the Purpoſe of God, and diſtinguiſhes the Perſon ſo privileg'd from other Men.

3. The Author of Aſſurance, which is the Spirit, he is the Keeper of the Great Seal of Heaven, Rom. 8. 16.

4. Laſtly, the Quality of this Spirit of Aſſurance, or the Sealing Spirit: He ſeals in the quality of an holy Spirit, and of the Spirit of Promiſe; as an holy Spirit, relating to his previous ſanctifying work upon the ſealed Soul. As the Spirit of Promiſe, reſpecting the Medium or Inſtrument made uſe of by him in his Sealing Work, for he ſeals by opening and applying the Promiſes to Believers from the Spirit's order. The Note will be this:

Doct. That the Privilege of Sealing follows the Duty of Believing.

There is no Seaſon more proper to treat of the Sealing of the Spirit, than at a Sealing Ordinance; nor can I handle the Spirit's Sealing-work in a more profitable Method, than in ſatisfying theſe five Queries particularly, and then applying the whole.

1. What is the Spirit's Sealing, and how perform'd.
2. Why none are ſeal'd till they believe.
3. Whether all Believers are ſeal'd.
4. What is the Privilege of being ſeal'd.
5. What are the Effects of the Spirit's ſealing.

1. Query. What is the Spirit's Sealing-work? and how is it performed?

Anſw. The Sealing of the Spirit is, his giving a ſure and certain Teſtimony to the reality of that Work of Grace he hath wrought in our Souls, and to our Intereſt in Chriſt and the Promiſes, thereby ſatisfying our Fears and Doubts about our Eſtate and Condition.

Every matter of Weight and Concernment is to be prov'd by two ſufficient Witneſſes, Deut. 19. 1 Our Sincerity and Intereſt in Chriſt are matters the deepeſt Concernment to us in all the World, a therefore need a farther Witneſs to confirm and cle them, than that of our own Spirits, Rom. 8. 16. Thr things concur to the Spirit's ſealing-work.

He ſanctifies the Soul; he irradiates and cle that Work of Sanctification; he enables it there to apply Promiſes.

The firſt is his material or objective Seal, the latt his formal Sealing. None but the Spirit of God c clear and confirm our Title to Chriſt, for he on ſearcheth the deep things of God, 1 Cor. 2. 10. a it's his Office, Rom. 8. 16. to witneſs with our Sp rits.

This Seal or Witneſs of the Spirit muſt needs true and certain, becauſe Omniſcience and Tru are his eſſential Properties: He is Omniſcient, 1 C 2. 10. and therefore cannot be deceiv'd himſelf. H is the Spirit of Truth, John 14. 17. and therefo cannot deceive us; ſo that his Teſtimony is mo infallible and ſatisfactory than a Voice from He ven, 2 Pet. 1. 19.

If an Angel ſhould appear, and tell us, Chr had ſaid to him, Go and tell ſuch a Man, tha love him, that I ſhed my Blood for him, and w ſave him; it could never give that repoſe and ſa faction to the Mind as the internal Witneſs or S of the Spirit doth; for that may be a deluſion, this cannot. The Witneſs of our own Heart m amount to a ſtrong probability, but the witneſs the Spirit is demonſtration, 1 John 4. 24.

So that as it is the deſign and work of Satan caſt in Doubts and Fears into gracious Hearts, to p plex and entangle them, ſo oppoſitely it is the wo of the Spirit to clear and ſettle the ſanctified So and fill it with Peace and Joy in believing, Jo 16. 7. Rom. 14. 17.

In ſealing he both atteſts the fidem que creditur, t Doctrine or Object of Faith, and the fidem qua credi the infuſed Habit or Grace of Faith: Of the form he ſaith, This is my Word; of the latter, This is Work; and his Seal or Teſtimony is evermore agr able to the written Word, Iſa. 8. 20. So that wh he ſpeaks in our Hearts, and what he ſaith in t Scripture, are evermore concordant and harmo ous Teſtimonies.

To conclude; in ſealing the Believer he doth make uſe of an audible Voice, nor the Miniſtry Angels, nor immediate and extraordinary Reve tions, but he makes uſe of his own Graces, impla ed in our Hearts, and his own Promiſes written the Scriptures; and in this method he uſually bri the doubting trembling Heart of a Believer to R and Comfort.

2. Query. Why are none ſealed till after Believing

Anſw. It cannot be denied, but that many p ſons in the State of Nature and Unbelief, may h groun rounded Confidences, and falſe Comforts built hereupon. This is evident from Matth. 7. 22. Many will ſay unto me in that day, Lord, Lord, have not we propheſied in thy name? And John 8. 54, 55. Of whom ye ſay that he is your God, and yet ye have not known him. And beyond all is that ſtartling Scripture, Heb. 6. 4, 5. —— Who were once enlightned, and have taſted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghoſt, and have taſted the good Word of God, and the powers of the world to come, if they fall away, &c.

But for any, except real Believers, to have thoſe Witneſſes and Sealings of the Spirit deſcrib'd above, utterly impoſſible, and will evidently appear to e ſo, whether we conſider the Author, Nature, bject, Mediums, End and Deſign of this Work.

Firſt, Conſider the Author of this Work, the Spi- of God, who is an holy Spirit, as the Text calls m, and the Spirit of Truth, as Chriſt calls him, ohn 14. 17. and it cannot be that ever he ſhould ve Teſtimony to a Lye, or give a falſe Witneſs, ite croſs to the very tenour of the written Word, he muſt do, ſhould he ſeal an Unbeliever. What ough they be Elect? yet whilſt unregenerate, ve no actual Intereſt in Chriſt and the Promiſes, d therefore can have none ſeal'd by the Spirit. ius eſt predicare de eſſe quam de cognoſci; We muſt be ints before we can be known to be ſo.

Secondly, Conſider but the Nature of this Work, d it cannot be that ever an Unbeliever ſhould be al'd by the Spirit; for Aſſurance is produc'd in r Souls by the reflexive Acts of our Faith: The irit helps us to reflect upon what hath been done him formerly upon our Hearts; Hereby we know at we know him, 1 John 2. 3. To know that we ow, is a reflex act; now it's impoſſible there ould be a reflex before there hath been a direct t. No Man can have the Evidence of his Faith, fore the Habit be infus'd, and the Vital Act firſt rform'd.

Thirdly, Conſider the Object-matter, to which he als, and it will be found to be his own ſanctify- g Operations upon our Hearts, and conſequent- to our Privileges in Chriſt, Rom. 8. 16. 1 Joh. 3. The thing or matter atteſted is, that Chriſt ideth in us, and that we are the Children of God; t no ſuch thing can be ſeal'd till we believe, for ther our Adoption nor Sanctification can be be- e Faith.

Fourthly, Conſider the Mediums or Inſtruments uſed the Spirit in his Sealing-work: The Promiſes his ſealing Inſtruments, and on that account he call'd the Spirit of Promiſe in the Text; not only auſe he is the Spirit promiſed, but as the Promi- contain the Spirit, ſo the Spirit uſes the Promiſes, e.) clears them to our Underſtandings, and helps o apply them to our Souls. But this he never h, nor can do, till the Soul by Faith have Union h Chriſt; for till then it hath no right in the miſes.

Fifthly, and laſtly, Conſider the End and Deſign his Work of the Spirit, which is to ſecure to the l its Peace, Pardon, and Salvation in Chriſt, eals Believers to the day of Redemption, Eph. 4. (i. e.) to their compleat Salvation: So then it t be equally impoſſible for an Unbeliever to be d as to be ſav'd.

Query. The next Enquiry is, Whether all Believers eal'd by the Spirit?

Anſw. The reſolution of this Query will depend n ſeveral Diſtinctions that muſt be made upon matter,

1 Diſtinction. We muſt diſtinguiſh the different Kinds of the Spirit's ſealing; all his Sealing-work is not of one kind, nor to one and the ſame Uſe and End.

There is an Objective Seal which diſtinguiſhes the Perſon, and a Formal Seal which clears and ratifies his Intereſt in Chriſt and Salvation. The firſt he doth in Sanctifying us, the ſecond in Aſſuring us.

When he ſeals us Objectively, that is, when he ſanctifies us really by the infuſion of Grace, he ſeals us by way of diſtinction from other Men, which is one End of ſealing; for tho' in reſpect of God's Decree and Purpoſe there was a difference betwixt us and others before time, 2 Tim. 2. 19. and altho' in regard of Chriſt's Intention in his Death there was a difference betwixt us and others, John 17. 9. yet all this while there is no perſonal, actual difference betwixt us and others, till Sanctification do make one, Eph. 2. 3. and 1 Cor. 6. 11. but the Sanctification of the Spirit makes a real difference in the State and Temper of the Perſon; 2 Cor. 5. 17. and manifeſts that difference which Election put betwixt us and others before time, 1 Theſſ. 1. 4, 5. And yet all this while a Man may not be formally ſeal'd, (i. e.) his Sanctification may be very doubtful to himſelf, and he may labour under great fears about it.

2 Diſtinction. The Seaſons of the Spirit's ſealing muſt be diſtinguiſh'd; and theſe are to ſome,

1*ſt*, Immediately upon the Soul's firſt cloſing with Chriſt at Converſion, eſpecially when Converſion is wrought at riper Age, and is uſher'd in by a greater degree of the Spirit of Bondage, and deep inward Terrors. Thus the Prodigal (the Emblem of a Convert ſo brought home to God) was entertain'd with the fatted Calf and Muſick, but all find not this preſently, as ſome do.

2*dly*, Times of eminent Communion with God are ſealing Times. There are extraordinary outlets of Peace, Joy, and Comfort, at ſome Seaſons, in Duty, which makes the State of the Soul very clear, and baniſhes all Scruples and Fears from the Heart.

3*dly*, Others are ſeal'd upon ſome eminent hazard they have been expos'd to for Chriſt, or ſome extraordinary Sufferings they have undergone for Chriſt, wherein they have carried it with eminent Meekneſs, Patience, and Self-denial, 2 Cor. 1. 4, 5. Thus the Martyrs were many times ſeal'd in the depth of their Sufferings.

4*thly*, It's uſually found that a ſealing-time follows a dark Day of Deſertion and ſore Combats with Temptation; poſt nubila Phœbus. So that Text, Rev. 2. 17. is expounded by ſome, To him that overcometh will I give the white ſtone, and the new name.

5*thly*, Dying-times prove Sealing-times to many Souls, if their whole Life hath been like that Day deſcrib'd by the Prophet, Zech. 14. 17. neither dark nor light, a Life betwixt Hopes and Fears, yet at Evening-time it hath been light.

3 Diſtinction. Laſtly, We muſt diſtinguiſh the ſeveral Ways and Manners of Sealing: Some are extraordinary and immediate, vouchſafed only to ſome Perſons, at ſome ſpecial times and ſeaſons. Thus Zacheus was in an extraordinary and immediate way aſcertain'd of his Salvation, Luke 19. 9. This day is Salvation come to this houſe. And ſo the Palſie-man, Mark 2. 5. Son, (ſaith Chriſt) thy ſins be forgiven thee. But theſe immediate ways are ceaſed, no Man may now expect by any new Revelation or Sign from Heaven, by any Voice or extraordinary Inſpiration, to have his Salvation ſeal'd, but muſt expect that Mercy in God's ordinary way and method, ſearching the Scriptures, examining our own Hearts, and waiting on the Lord in Prayer.

The Learned Gerſon gives an Inſtance of one that had been long upon the Borders of Deſpair, and at laſt ſweetly aſſur'd and ſettled; and being ask'd how he attain'd that Aſſurance, he anſwer'd, Non ex nova aliqua revelatione, &c. Not by any new Revelation, but by ſubjecting my Underſtanding to, and comparing my Heart with the written Word.

And Mr. Roberts, in his Treatiſe of the Covenants, ſpeaks of another that ſo vehemently panted after the Sealings and Aſſurance of the Love of God to his Soul, that for a long time he earneſtly deſir'd ſome Voice from Heaven; and ſometimes walking in the ſolitary Fields, earneſtly deſir'd ſome miraculous Voice from the Trees or Stones there: This was denied him, but in time a better was afforded in a Scriptural way.

Now to reſolve the Query out of theſe Diſtinctions.

Firſt, Tho' all Believers have not the formal Sealings of the Spirit, they have the objective or material Seal; that is, the Spirit is in them as a ſanctifying Spirit, putting a real difference betwixt them and others, when he is not with them by way of Evidence and Aſſurance of Sanctification.

Secondly, Tho' all Believers are not ſeal'd at one and the ſame time, yet there are few, if any Believers, but do meet with one ſeaſon or other in this Life, wherein the Lord doth ſeal them; if not at their firſt cloſe with Chriſt, as might have been ſealed, yet in ſome choice and eminent ſeaſon of Communion with God: Such precious ſeaſons moſt Chriſtians can ſpeak of; tho, as Bernard ſpeaks, it be rara hora, brevis mora, ſeldom, but ſweet: Or if not in the courſe of their active Obedience, 'tis a thouſand to one but they ſhall meet it in the way of their paſſive Obedience, if God exerciſe them eminently under the Croſs, or after a dark Cloud of deſertion, or in a dying hour.

Thirdly, and laſtly, Though God now ſeals not Men in an extraordinary and immediate way by Revelation, immediate Inſpiration, or Voices from Heaven, yet moſt Chriſtians are ſealed in the ordinary way of the Spirit, under one Ordinance or other, in one Duty or other.

4. Query. What is the Privilege of being ſealed by the Spirit?

Anſw. Much every way; words cannot expreſs the Riches of this Mercy: For let us but conſider the four following Particulars, and you will admire the Mercy.

Firſt, Conſider whoſe Act and proper Work Sealing is. God doth not ſend Angels upon this Errand; though, if he did, that would be a great honour to poor Duſt and Aſhes, but he ſends his Spirit to do it. Oh, the Condeſcention of the great God to Men! this is a greater Honour than if Millions of Angels were employ'd about it.

And then, as to Certainty and Satisfaction, it is beyond all other Ways and Methods in the World; for in miraculous Voices and Inſpirations it's poſſible there may, ſubeſſe fallum, be found ſome Cheats or Impoſture of the Devil; but the Spirit's Witneſs in the Heart, ſuitable to his Revelation in the Scripture, cannot deceive us.

Secondly, The Concluſion or Truth ſeal'd is raviſhing and tranſporting. All Chriſtians vehemently pant for it, few have the enjoyment of it for any long continuance; but whilſt they do enjoy it, they enjoy Heaven upon Earth, a Joy beyond all the Joys of this World. To have this Concluſion ſurely ſealed, Chriſt is mine, my Sin is pardon'd, I ſhall be ſaved from Wrath thro' him; O, what is this! what is this!

Thirdly, Conſider the Subject or Perſon ſealed, a poor ſinful Wretch, that haſt ten thouſand times over-grieved the good Spirit of God, by whom notwithſtanding thou art ſealed to the Day of Redemption: Thou haſt by every Sin deſerved to be ſealed up to Damnation: Thou haſt reaſon to account and eſteem thy ſelf much inferior in Grace and Duties to many thouſands of the Saints that are panting after this Privilege, and cannot obtain it. O the Riches of the Goodneſs of God!

Fourthly, and laſtly, Conſider the Deſigns and Aims of the Spirit in his ſealing thy Soul, which are,

1. To ſecure Heaven to thee for ever.

2. As intermediate thereunto, to bring very much of Heaven into thy Soul, in the way to it: indeed to give thee two Heavens, whilſt many others muſt ſuffer two Hells.

5. Query. Laſtly, we will enquire, What are the Effects of the Spirits ſealing upon our Souls, by which we may diſtinguiſh and clearly diſcern it from all deluſions of Satan, and all Impoſtures whatſoever?

Anſw. The genuine and proper effects and fruits of ſealing are, 1. Inflamed Love. 2. Renewed Care. 3. Deep Abaſements. 4. Increaſe of Strength. 5. A deſire to be with the Lord. 6. Improved Mortification to the World.

Whereſoever theſe are found conſequent to or Communion with God, and his Manifeſtations of himſelf to us therein, they put it beyond all doubt that it was the Seal of his own bleſſed Spirit, and no Deluſion.

1. The Sealings of the Spirit cannot but inflame the Love of the Soul in a very intenſe degree towards God; one Flame doth not more naturally beget another, than the Love of God doth kindle the love of a gracious Soul to him: We have known and believed the love that God hath to us, 1 John 4. 16, 19. When Chriſt had forgiven much to that poor Woman that had ſinn'd much, and manifeſted pardoning Mercy to her Soul; O, how much was her Love to Chriſt inflamed thereby? Luke 7. 47.

Renewed Care and Diligence follows the Sealings of the Spirit. Now is the Soul at the Foot of Chriſt, as Mary was at the Sepulchre, with Fear and great Joy. He that travels the Road with a rich Treaſure about him, is afraid of a Thief in every Buſh. This is exemplified in the Spouſe, who had endured many a ſad Day and Night in Chriſt's abſence, and ſought him ſorrowing: But when ſhe had regained his felt and ſenſible Preſence, it's ſaid, Cant. 3. 4. I found him whom my Soul loveth; I held him, and would not let him go.

She doth not (as Mr. Durham ſpeaks) lay by Diligence, as if all were done; but is of new taken up with as great Care to retain and improve the Mercy, as before ſhe was ſollicitous to obtain it. Whether a Believer want or have, whether he be ſeeking or enjoying, there is ſtill matter of Exerciſe for him in his Condition.

Deep Abaſement, and great Humblings, uſe to follow the eminent Appearances of God to the Sons of Men. Lord (ſaith that Diſciple) how is it that thou wilt manifeſt thy ſelf to us, and not unto the World? John 14. 22. When God ſealed the Covenant to Abraham, to be a God to him, at this Abraham fell upon his Face, Gen. 17. 1, 2, 3. Never doth a Soul lie lower in the Duſt, and abhor it ſelf, than when the Lord makes the moſt ſignal Manifeſtations of his Grace and Love to it.

Increaſe

Increaſed Strength follows the Sealings of the Spirit. New Powers enter into the Soul, and a ſenſible Improvement of its Abilities for Duty: Or ever I was aware (ſaith the Spouſe), my Soul made me the Chariots of Aminadab, Cant. 6. 12.

Now the Wheels of the Soul being oiled with the Joy and Comfort of the Spirit, run nimbly in the Ways of Obedience. The Joy of the Lord is your Strength.

Fifthly, Sealings of the Spirit, inflame the Deſires of the Soul after Heaven, and make it long to go home. Nothing makes Death ſo undeſirable to the Saints, as the Doubts and Fears that hang upon their Spirits, about their Condition. Were their Evidences for Heaven clear, and their Doubts reſolved, they would, as the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Deſire to be diſſolved, and to be with Chriſt, Phil. 1. 23. If once the great Queſtion of our Intereſt in Chriſt be throughly decided, and all be clear, betwixt us and our God, we ſhall find Life the Matter of Patience, and Death the Object of Deſire.

Sixthly and laſtly, Improved Mortification to the World, flows naturally from the Sealings and Aſſurances of the Love of God to our Souls. It is with our Souls after ſuch a view of Heaven, and a ſealed Intereſt therein, as it is with him that hath been gazing upon that glorious Creature the Sun, when he comes to caſt his Eye again upon the Earth, all things ſeem dark and cloudy to him. He ſees no Beauty in any of thoſe things becauſe of that excellent Luſtre which he lately beheld. We know (ſaith the Apoſtle) that if our earthly houſe of this Tabernacle were diſſolv'd, we have a building of God, an houſe not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens; there's Aſſurance or Sealing: For in this we groan earneſtly, deſiring to be cloathed upon with our houſe which is from Heaven. There's the natural Effect of it, 2 Cor. 5. 1, 2.

Uſes. The Point ſpeaks to three ſorts of Perſons, viz. 1. To thoſe that have not yet been ſealed. 2. To thoſe that once had, but now want this Comfort. 3. To thoſe that enjoy the Comforts of it.

Firſt, To thoſe that yet want this Mercy, who have not been formerly ſealed by any aſſurance of their Title to Chriſt, but all their Days have been clogg'd with Fears and Doubt of their Condition. To ſuch my Counſel is, Firſt, That you be not quiet under theſe Uncertainties, but pant after the Aſſurance of Peace and Pardon. Say unto Chriſt as the Spouſe did, Cant. 8. 6. Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm: Pant after it as David did, Pſal. 35. 3. Say unto my Soul, I am thy Salvation.

How can you look upon ſuch precious Promiſes, and not dare to taſte them? How can you hear others ſpeak of their Satisfaction, Peace, and Aſſurance, and be quiet until you alſo have attain'd it? What is it that hinders this Mercy that it cannot come home to your Souls? Is it your neglect of Duty? O ſtir up your ſelves to take hold of God! Is it want of a thorough Search and Examination of your State? O let not thine Eyes find reſt, 'till that be fully done: Is it ſome ſpecial Guilt upon thy Soul that grieves the Spirit of God? Be reſtleſs 'till it be removed. I know this Mercy is not at your Command, do what you can do; but yet I alſo know when God beſtows it, he uſually doth it in theſe ways of our Duty.

Secondly, To thoſe that once had, but now want this Bleſſing, who ſay as Job 29. 2, 3. O that it were with me as in days paſt! The Darkneſs is the greater to you, becauſe you have walked in the Light of the Lord. The Sum of Chriſt's Counſel in this Caſe is given in three words, Rev. 2. 5. Remember, Repent, Reform.

Firſt, Remember, (i. e.) ponder, conſider, compare time with time, and State with State, how well it once was, how ſad it now is.

Secondly, Repent, mourn over theſe your ſinful Relapſes; ſure you may challenge the firſt place among all the Mourners in the World. Your loſs is great. O better to have loſt the Light of your Eyes, than this ſweet Light of God's Countenance; your Sin hath ſeparated betwixt you and your God, O mourn over it.

Thirdly, Reform, Do your firſt Works again. O Chriſtian! conſider, thy Heart is ſunk deeper into the World than it was wont to be. Thy Duties are fewer, and thy Zeal and Affection to God much abated. Return, return, O backſliding Soul, and labour to recover thy firſt Love to Chriſt, whatever Pains it coſt thee.

Laſtly, To thoſe that do enjoy theſe choice and invaluable Mercies, the Sealings of the Spirit.

Firſt, Take heed that you grieve not the good Spirit of God, By whom you are ſealed to the day of Redemption, Eph. 4. 30. He hath comforted you, don't you grieve him: The Spirit is a tender and delicate thing, you may quickly deprive your ſelves of his Joy and Peace.

Secondly, Be humble under this Advancement and Dignity. If your Hearts once begin to ſwell, look out for humbling Diſpenſations quickly, 2 Cor. 12. 7. This Treaſure is always kept in the Veſſel of a contrite and humble Heart.

Thirdly, Keep cloſe to Duty; yea, tack one Duty to another by intermediate Ejaculations. If care of Duty be once remitted, you are not far from a ſad change of your Condition.

Fourthly, Improve all Ordinances, eſpecially this great Sealing Ordinance for your farther Confirmation and Eſtabliſhment. Act your Faith to the uttermoſt of its ability, upon Chriſt crucified, Comfort will flow in: The more the direct Acts of Faith are exerciſed, the more powerful and ſweet its reflex Acts are like to be.

The Fifth MEDITATION,

UPON

John I. 29. Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the Sins of the World.

THE Scope of this Chapter, is to prove the Divinity and Eternal Godhead of Jeſus Chriſt. One of thoſe Arguments by which this great Article of Faith is confirmed and proved, is the Teſtimony of John. This Teſtimony of John is the more remarkable, becauſe it was before propheſied of him, that when the Meſſiah ſhould come, this Meſſenger ſhould go before his Face to prepare the way for him, Mal. 3. 1.

Now

Now among all the Teſtimonies that ever John gave of Chriſt, none ever was, or could be more full and clear than this in the Text:

Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the Sins of the World!

In which Words are remarkable, 1. The Preface to his Teſtimony. 2. The Teſtimony it ſelf.

Firſt, The Preface, or Introduction to John's Teſtimony; Behold. There is a double Uſe in Scripture of this Word. Sometimes it's us'd by way of Indication, and ſometimes by way of Excitation. In the firſt, it points out the Perſon; in the laſt, it raiſes our Affections to him. In this place, it hath both theſe Uſes.

Behold the Lamb of God! q. d. 'This is the great 'Expectation and Hope of all Ages. This Perſon 'whom you behold, is the Deſire of all Nations. 'Lo! this is God manifeſt in the fleſh. This is the 'Great Sacrifice, the Lamb of God. Never did Human Eyes behold ſuch an Object before.

Secondly, The Teſtimony it ſelf: Which muſt be conſider'd Two ways; as it reſpects, 1. The Truth and Reality; 2. The Virtue and Dignity, of Chriſt its Object.

Firſt, John's Teſtimony reſpects the Truth and Reality of the Object: This is the Lamb of God; the very Antitype, to which all Legal Sacrifices had Reſpect, and from which they deriv'd all their Value and Virtue: Grace and Truth came by Jeſus Chriſt, as he had ſaid before, Ver. 17. The Paſchal Lamb for daily Sacrifice, were but the Types and Shadows of this Lamb of God.

Secondly, His Teſtimony reſpects the Virtue and Dignity of Chriſt, and his Blood. He taketh away the Sins of the World. The Greek Word, αἴρων, (as De Dieu, a Learned Critick, obſerves) anſwers both the Hebrew Words, נשׂא סנל, and Iſa. 53. and ſignify not only to bear, but to bear away: Portando expiat, expiando aufert, efficitque ut remittatur. By bearing Sin, he expiates it; by expiating, takes it away, or procures the Remiſſion of it. The Expreſſion ſeems to allude to the Scape-Goat, mention'd Lev. 16. 22. Thus Chriſt really and wholly takes away the Sin of the World; i. e. the Sin of all Believers in the World, for whom he was ſacrificed; as Druſius well expounds it, concurrent with the Stream of Sound Expoſitors.

So that this is a very full Teſtimony, which John gives to Chriſt; and it is given with great Affection, and Admiration of him: Behold! Yea, admire in beholding, the Lamb of God, which taketh away the Sin of the World: Behold him with Affections ſuitable to ſuch an Object. Ecce Perſona à Deo ordinata, in victimam ad expiandum peccata. Grotius. Behold the Perſon appointed by God, for a Sacrifice to expiate Sin! Now tho' this Scripture be very fruitful in Practical Obſervations, yet it is not my Purpoſe at this Time, to note or proſecute any of them, except this one, which riſes from the præfatory Particle, or that Note of Admiration, with which John's Teſtimony of Chriſt is uſher'd in: Behold the Lamb of God! And the Note thence will be this:

Doct. That Jeſus Chriſt, the Lamb of God, is to be beheld with Admiration and Affection, ſuitable to ſuch an Object.

Firſt, Carnally, with an Eye of Fleſh. So Men ſaw him in the Days of his Fleſh, and deſpiſed him; Iſa. 53. 2. Carnal Eyes ſaw no Beauty in him, that he ſhould be deſired.

Secondly, Fiducially, by the Eye of Faith. Believing, is Seeing Chriſt; Joh. 6. 40. Faith is to the Saints inſtead of Eyes: By it, they make Chriſt preſent, tho' the Heavens have received him out of our Carnal Sight.

Thirdly, Beatifically, by the glorified Eye. So the Spirits of juſt Men made perfect do, by their mental Eye, ſee him in Glory; and all the Saints, after the Reſurrection, ſhall, with theſe Corporeal Eyes, ſee their Redeemer; according to Job 19. 26, 27.

The Sight of Chriſt by Faith, (which is all the Sight of him that any Man now hath, or can have in this World) as it is much more excellent than the firſt; for bleſſed are they that have not ſeen, and yet believe; Joh. 20. 29. ſo it is much inferior to the laſt: 1 Cor. 13. 12. For now we ſee darkly thro' a glaſs, but then face to face. But tho' it be an inferior Viſion, in reſpect of that which is immediate and perfect; yet the Eye of Faith is a precious Eye, and the Viſions of Chriſt by Faith, are raviſhing Viſions: And he that beholds Chriſt, the Lamb of God, by a ſteddy fixed Eye of Faith, cannot but admire, and be deeply affected with ſuch a Sight of him. The Views of Chriſt by Faith, are raviſhing and tranſporting Views; 1 Pet. 1. 8. Whom having not ſeen, ye love; in whom, tho' now ye ſee him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unſpeakable, and full of Glory.

It is a Diſparagement to ſo Glorious an Object as Chriſt, to behold him, and not wonder; to ſee, and not love him. Certainly the Admiration, Love, Delight, and Joy of our Hearts, are all at the Command of Faith. For let us but conſider what raviſhing Excellencies are in Chriſt, for the Eye of a Believer to behold and admire.

Firſt, God is in Chriſt; 2 Cor. 5. 19. He is God manifeſt in the fleſh; 1 Tim. 3. 16. A God Incarnate, is the World's Wonder! Here is Finite and Infinite join'd in one; Eternity match'd with Time; the Creator and Creature making but One Perſon! The Lord hath created a new thing in the Earth; a Woman ſhall compaſs a Man; Jer. 31. 22. 'Tis an Argument of Weakneſs, to admire little Things; and of Stupidity, not to admire great Things. 'Many Miracles (ſaith one) were wrought by Chriſt 'in the Fleſh; but the greateſt of all Miracles, 'was, his Aſſumption of Fleſh.

Secondly, The Wiſdom of God is in Chriſt: Yea, In him are hid all the Treaſures of Wiſdom and Knowledge; Col. 2. 3. Never did the Divine Wiſdom diſplay its Glorious Beams, in the Eyes of Men and Angels, in any Work of God ſince the Beginning of Time, as it hath done in the Deſignation of Chriſt to be the Lamb of God, a Sacrifice for Sin. Behold the Lamb of God! And in him, behold the Unſearchable Wiſdom of God, in Recovering the Elect perfectly from all the Danger of Sin; and yet making Sin more dreadful to them, by the way of their Recovery from it, than ever it could be made by any other Conſideration.

Infinite Wiſdom, in ſuiting the Sinner's Remedy to the Cauſe of his Diſeaſe. The Diſeaſe was the Pride of Man; the Remedy was the Humiliation of the Son of God. Man affected to be as God; that ruin'd him: God comes down, aſſumes Fleſh, and will be found in faſhion as a Man; that ſaved him.

O profound Wiſdom! which from the Loſs and Ruin of our Primitive Glory, (which was the undoing of us, Soul and Body,) takes the Occaſion of raiſing us to a far better State, and ſettles us in it, with a much better Security than the former.

Who, but Jeſus Chriſt, the Wiſdom of God, (as he is call'd, 1 Cor. 1. 24.) could ever have order'd and over-rul'd the worſt of Evils; ſo as by Occaſion of the Breach of the Law, to raiſe more Glory to God, than ever could have been given to him, by the moſt punctual Obſervation of its Commands, or by the moſt rigorous Execution of its Penalties? O the aſtoniſhing Depth of Wiſdom!

ry

Thirdly, The Love of God is in Chriſt. Behold the Love of God, in the higheſt and moſt triumphant Diſcovery that ever was, or can be made of it in this World! 1 Joh. 4. 10. Herein is Love; not that we loved him, but that he loved us, and ſent his Son to be the Propitiation for our Sins. O here, here is the Love of God to Sinners! He manifeſts Love to us, in our daily Proviſions, Protections, Deliverances, and Comforts. That we have Health to eat, when others groan under Pains; therein is Love. That we have Bread to eat, when others are ready to periſh; therein is Love. O! but to have Chriſt to be a Propitiation for us, when the Angels that fell were left deſperate; therein was Love indeed. All the Love that breaks out in the Variety of Providences for us in this World, in our Health and Eſtates, in our Relations and Comforts, is nothing compar'd with this Love. Herein is Love indeed!

Fourthly, The Tender Mercies of God over poor Sinners, are in Chriſt. As Chriſt is the Mercy promiſed, Luk. 1. 72. the Capital Mercy; ſo he is the Channel, thro' which all the Streams of God's Mercy flow freely to the Sons of Men; Jude 21. The Mercy of God to Eternal Life, or his Saving Mercies, are only diſpenſed to us thro' Jeſus Chriſt. Behold the Lamb of God! A Lamb prepared by the aſtoniſhing Mercy of God, a Sacrifice for us, when no Sacrifice laid out for fallen Angels. Mercy alone hath made this Difference: Mercy opened its tender Eye, and looked thro' Chriſt upon us, in the Depth of our Miſery. In Chriſt it is, that the milder Attribute of Mercy is exerciſed upon us, whilſt ſevere Juſtice puniſhes them.

Fifthly, All the Hopes of poor Sinners are in Chriſt; Col. 1. 27. 'Tis by the Blood of the Lamb that we have hope towards God: In his Oblation, and no where elſe, our Hope of Salvation finds Footing. On him it is, the Anchor of Hope is fixed, and the Soul ſtayed, when the Storms of Fear and inward Trouble do ariſe, and beat violently upon it.

Sixthly, The Salvation of our Souls to Eternity, is in Chriſt. Acts 4. 12. Neither is there any other Name given under Heaven, by which we muſt be ſaved. He is the Ark, in whom we are preſerved; Jude v. 1. Look, as the Sprinkling of the Blood of the Paſchal Lamb, upon the Door-Poſts of the Iſraelites, was that which preſerved them from the Deſtroying Angel; ſo the Blood of Chriſt, the Lamb of God, typified by that Blood, ſaves Believers from the Wrath to come.

But who can open the unſearchable Riches, or recount the raviſhing Excellencies found in Chriſt? Angels, and the Spirits of Juſt Men made perfect, behold, and admire for evermore, the Incomparable Excellencies of Chriſt! Heaven would be no Heaven to them, if they could not behold Chriſt there: Pſal. 73. 25.

But my Buſineſs rather lies in improving this Point, than endeavouring farther to unfold it: For New Wonders will appear in Chriſt, if we behold him to Eternity.

Uſe. And all the Improvement I ſhall make of it, ſhall be in one Uſe of Exhortation; beſpeaking every one of you, whatever your preſent Condition and Eſtate be, to behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the ſins of the world. And,

Firſt, If there be found among you any that are ſenſible of a ſtony hard Heart, which cannot relent and mourn for all the Wrong done to Jeſus Chriſt by Sin, whoſe Affections are benumb'd and ſtupified by Sin; ſo that no Conſiderations they can urge upon their own Hearts, are able to thaw them, and cauſe a relenting Pang for Sin: To ſuch I would direct the Words of this Text, as the moſt effectual Means to melt ſuch Hearts. Look hither, hard Heart: Behold the Lamb of God! Conſider, believe, and apply what is here ſenſibly repreſented; and thy Heart is hard indeed, if it relent not upon ſuch a View of Chriſt. It's ſaid, Zech. 12. 10. They ſhall look upon me, whom they have pierced, and mourn. Behold the Son of God, brought as a Lamb to the ſlaughter, for thee, a vile, polluted Sinner! Behold the invaluable Blood of this Sacrifice, ſhed for thee! Bring thy Thoughts cloſe to this Subject: Think who it is, that was made a Lamb for Sacrifice; for whom he endured all his unſpeakable Sufferings; how meekly and willingly he endured all the Wrath of God and Men; ſtanding in his perfect Innocency, to be ſlain for thee. Behold! he was made Sin for thee, who had no Sin; that thou, who had'ſt no Righteouſneſs, mighteſt be made the Righteouſneſs of God in him. O! who ever loved thee at that rate Chriſt hath done? Who would endure that Miſery, that Chriſt did endure for thy Sake? Would thy Father, or the Wife of thy Boſom, or thy Friend, that is as thy own Soul, be content to feel that for thee (tho' but one Hour) which Chriſt felt, when his Sweat was, as it had been great drops of blood falling down to the ground? Nay, thou would'ſt never take ſuch a Cup for the Saving of thine own Child, as Chriſt drank off, when he cried, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? Behold, how he loved thee!

Surely, if the Rocks rent aſunder at his Paſſion, thy Heart is harder than a Rock, if it thaw not at ſuch a Sight as this. Fix thine Eyes a while here; and thine Eye will affect thy Heart.

Secondly, Is there any among us that make too light of Sin, and are eaſily overcome by every Temptation to the Commiſſion of it? O come hither, and behold the Lamb of God! And you cannot poſſibly have ſlight Thoughts of Sin, after ſuch a Sight of Chriſt. See here the Price of Sin! Behold what it coſt the Lord Jeſus Chriſt to expiate it! Did he come into the World as a Lamb, bound with the Bands of an irreverſible Decree, to die for Sin? Did he come from the Boſom of the Father, to be our Ranſomer, and that at the Price of his own Life? Did the Hand of ſevere Juſtice ſhed the Heart-blood of this Immaculate Lamb, to ſatisfy for the Wrongs thy Sins have done to God? And yet, canſt thou look upon Sin as a light Matter? God forbid.

I remember, when the Worthies of Iſrael brake thro' the Hoſt of the Philiſtines, and brought unto David the Waters of the Well of Bethlem, it's ſaid, 2 Sam. 23. 17. He would not drink thereof, but poured it out before the Lord, and ſaid, Be it far from me, that I ſhould do this: Is not this the Blood of the Men, that went in jeopardy of their Lives?

He long'd for it, and yet would not taſte it, how pleaſant ſoever it would have been to him, conſidering what Hazard was run to obtain it.

Ah Chriſtian! it was but the Hazard of their Blood, that gave Check to David's Appetite to the Water: And if the Water had coſt an equal Quantity of their Blood, yet it had been but a low Argument to diſſwade him from drinking it, to this Conſideration that now lies before thee. Thy Sin actually coſt the Blood of Chriſt; one Drop whereof is more valuable than all Human Blood; and yet yet wilt thou not deny thy Luſts, nor reſiſt a Temptation for his Sake? Behold the Lamb of God, ſlain for thy Sin; and thou can'ſt never have ſlight Thoughts of it any more.

Thirdly, Is there any among you that droop, and are diſcourag'd in their Spirits, becauſe of their manifold aggravated Iniquities; who being overweigh'd with the burdenſome Senſe of Sin, deſpond and ſink in their Minds? To ſuch I would apply the Words of my Text, as a Sovereign Cordial, to revive their Hearts and Hopes: Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the Sins of the World!

If the Blood of the Lamb can take away the Sin of the World, it can take away thy Sin, tho' there be a World of Sin in thee. For do but conſider Chriſt, as deſigned from Eternity to be our Propitiation; Joh. 6. 27. Him hath God the Father ſealed, as ſacrificed in our room, in the fulneſs of time; 1 Cor. 5. 7. Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us. As accepted by the Father with the greateſt Content and Pleaſure, even as a ſweet-ſmelling ſavour, Eph. 5. 2. As publickly juſtified and diſcharged by God, the Creditor, at his Reſurrection, 1 Tim. 3. 16. and Joh. 16. 9. And laſtly; Conſider him as now in Heaven, where he appears before God for us, as a Lamb that had been ſlain, Rev. 5. 6. bearing the very Marks of his Death, and preſenting them before God, as the moſt effectual and moving Plea, to procure Pardon and Mercy for his People. Let theſe Things, I ſay, be duly ponder'd, and nothing will be found more effectual, to relieve the deſpondent Minds of poor Believers, againſt the ſinking Senſe of their Sin.

He that repreſents himſelf in the Sacrament as wounded for you, ſhews at the ſame time, to the Father in Heaven, the real Body that was wounded; than which, nothing more effectually moves Mercy, or ſtays the ſliding Feet of a poor Believer's Hope: And that whether we conſider, Firſt, The Dignity of the Body which was wounded; the moſt hallowed and deeply ſanctified Thing that ever was created; Luk. 1. 35. That holy thing.

Secondly, Or his Vicegerency in ſuffering. He was wounded for our tranſgreſſions, Iſa. 53. 5. It was for that hard, proud, vain, dead Heart, that thou complaineſt of. Or,

Thirdly, The End and Deſign of thoſe Wounds; which was to repair the Honour of God, and the violated Law: The Language of that Blood (which is ſaid to ſpeak better things than the blood of Abel, Heb. 12. 24.) is this:

'Father, Have theſe poor Souls wounded thy 'Name, thine Honour, thy Law? Behold the 'Wounds thy Juſtice hath inflicted on me, for Re'paration of all that Wrong they have done thee! Oh how ſweetly doth the Blood of the Lamb ſettle the Conſcience of a poor drooping Believer.

Fourthly, Is there any among you, that are faint-hearted, and ready to ſhrink away from any Sufferings for Chriſt, as unable to bear and endure any thing for his Sake? To ſuch I would ſay, in the Words of this Text, Behold the Lamb of God! Did Chriſt ſuffer ſuch grievous Things for you; and cannot you ſuffer ſmall Matters for him? Alas! what is the Wrath of Man, to the Wrath of the great and terrible God? Beſides, he was an innocent Lamb, and deſerved not to ſuffer the leaſt degree of Penal Evil, upon his own Account; but thou haſt deſerved Hell, and yet ſhrinkeſt under the Suffering of a Moment. Did he ſuffer ſo much for you; and can you ſuffer nothing for him? Surely he, in ſuffering for you, hath left you an Example, that you ſhould follow his ſteps, 1 Pet. 2. 21. What! is our Blood compar'd in Dignity to the Blood of Chriſt? What! are our Sufferings compar'd in Kind, or Degree, to the Sufferings of Chriſt? Nothing is found to fortify a Man's Spirit for Sufferings, as the Meditation of Chriſt's Sufferings for us doth.

Fifthly, Is there any among you, that are impatient under your own perſonal Trials and Troubles; apt to howl under common Afflictions from the Hand of God; or ſwell with Revenge, under Injuries from the Hands of Men? To ſuch I would ſay, Behold the Lamb of God! Was Chriſt a Lamb for Meekneſs; and art thou a Lion for Fierceneſs? Was he ſilent, not once opening his Mouth, when he ſuffer'd moſt vile Things from the Hands of Sinners; and can you bear nothing? He ſuffer'd patiently, and deſerved it not; you ſuffer impatiently, and have deſerved infinitely more.

O that you would learn to be more Chriſt-like in all your Trials and Afflictions! Let it not be ſaid, that Chriſt carried it as a Lamb when he was tried, and we like Swine, grumbling or howling, when we are tried. O get a Chriſt-like Temper.

Sixthly, Is there any among you, that ſtagger at the Promiſes, through Unbelief; that cannot rely upon a Word of Promiſe, becauſe their own unbelieving Hearts fill them with unworthy Suſpicions of the Power, Faithfulneſs, or Willingneſs of God to perform them to them? O that ſuch would behold the Lamb of God, as repreſented in this Ordinance! Are not all the Promiſes of God ſealed to Believers in the Blood of this Lamb? Heb. 9. 17, 18, 19, 20. Are not all the Promiſes of God in Chriſt, Yea, and Amen, to all that are in him? 2 Cor. 1. 20. Or is there any Thing put into any Promiſe, of greater Value than the Blood of the Lamb, that was ſhed to purchaſe it? Or is not the giving of Chriſt to die for us, the Accompliſhment of the greateſt Promiſe that ever God made to us? And after the fulfilling thereof, what Ground remains, for any to doubt the fulfilling of leſſer Promiſes?

Laſtly, Is there any among you, that deſire to get up your Affections at this Table; to have your Hearts in a melting Temper; to awaken and rouze up all the Powers of your Souls, in ſo great an Occaſion for it as this? Behold the Lamb of God; and this will do it.

Chriſt calls off your Eyes and Thoughts from all other Objects to himſelf, Iſa. 65. 11. I ſaid, behold me! behold me! Fix the Eye of Faith here; and you will feel a Pang quickly coming upon your Hearts like that, Cant. 2. 5. Stay me with Flaggons, comfort me with Apples; I am ſick with love. Your Eye will affect your Hearts; whilſt you behold, your Hearts will melt within you.

The Sixth MEDITATION,

UPON

Romans VIII. 32. He that ſpared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things.

THIS Scripture contains a moſt weighty Argument to encourage and confirm the Faith of Chriſtians in the expectation of all ſpiritual and temporal Mercies. It proceeds from the greater to the leſſer affirmatively. He that deliver'd his Son for us, what can he deny us after ſuch a Gift? Every word hath its weight.

Did not God ſpare (i. e. abate) any thing which his Juſtice could inflict upon his Son, his own Son, oppoſed here to his adopted Sons, as being infinitely more excellent than they, and moſt dear to him above and beyond all others; but on the contrary deliver'd him up, how dear ſoever he was unto him, to Humiliation, Contradiction of Sinners, to all Sorrows and Temptations, yea, to Death, and that of the Croſs, and all this for us, for us ſinners, for us enemies to God, for us unlovely wretches? How ſhall he not with him alſo freely give us all things? How is it imaginable that God ſhould with-hold, after this, Spirituals or Temporals from his People? How ſhall he not call them effectually, juſtify them freely, ſanctify them throughly, and glorify them eternally? How ſhall he not cloath them, feed them, protect and deliver them?

Surely if he would not ſpare or abate to his own Son one Stroke, one Tear, one Groan, one Sigh, one Circumſtance of Miſery, it can never be imagin'd that ever he ſhould after this deny or withhold from his People, for whoſe ſakes all this was ſuffer'd, any Mercies, any Comforts, any Privilege, ſpiritual or temporal, which is good for them and needful to them. So that in the words we find, 1. A Propoſition. 2. An Inference from it.

The Propoſition opens the Severity of God's Juſtice to Chriſt; the Inference declares the Riches of his Mercy to us in Chriſt.

1. We have here before us a Propoſition, containing the Severity of Divine Juſtice towards Chriſt; and this is expreſſed two ways, viz.

1*ſt*, Negatively; he ſpared him not.

2*dly*, Affirmatively; he delivered him up for us.

1*ſt*, Negatively; He ſpared not his own Son. There is a threefold Mercy of God, viz. Preventing Mercy, which ſteps between us and trouble: Delivering Mercy, which takes us out of the Hand of Trouble: And Sparing Mercy, which tho' it do not prevent nor deliver, yet it mitigates, allays, and graciouſly moderates our Troubles; and tho' ſparing Mercy be deſirable and ſweet, yet it is the leaſt and loweſt ſort of Mercy that God exerciſes towards any. Tho' 'tis be Mercy to have the time of Sufferings ſhortned, or one degree of Suffering abated, yet theſe are the loweſt and leaſt Effects of Mercy, and yet were denied to Jeſus Chriſt, when he ſtood in our room to ſatisfy for us. God ſpared not one Drop, he abated not one degree of that Wrath which Chriſt was to ſuffer for us.

2*dly*, Affirmatively; but on the contrary, He delivered him up for us all.

He delivered him, as a Judge by Sentence of Law delivers up the Priſoner to be executed. 'Tis true, Pilate deliver'd him to be Crucified, and he alſo gave himſelf for us; but betwixt God's delivering, Pilate's delivering, and his own, there is this difference to be obſerv'd: In God it was an Act of higheſt Juſtice; in Pilate an Act of greateſt Wickedneſs; in Himſelf, an Act of wonderful Obedience.

God, as by an Act of higheſt Juſtice, delivered him up for us. For us, notes the Vicegerency of his Sufferings, not only for our good, as the final Cauſe; nor only for our ſins, as the meritorious Cauſe, but for us, (i. e.) in our room, place or ſtead, according to 1 Pet. 3. 18. and 2 Cor. 5. 14.

Secondly, We have alſo here before us a moſt ſweet and comfortable Inference and Concluſion, from this Propoſition. If God have ſo delivered him, how ſhall he not with him freely give us all things? For Chriſt comprehends all other Mercies in himſelf; therefore in giving him for us, all other Mercies are neceſſarily with him given to us.

And theſe Mercies the pooreſt, weakeſt Believer in the World may warrantably expect from God; for as God delivered him for us, all ſpiritual and temporal Mercies are thereby freely opened to us all, to the weak as well as to the ſtrong.

He ſaith not, Chriſt was delivered for all abſolutely, but for us all, (i. e.) all that believe, all that are elected and called; in whoſe Perſon it is manifeſt the Apoſtle here ſpeaks, as Pareus on the place well obſerves: Hence theſe two Doctrinal Concluſions fairly offer themſelves.

Doct. 1. That the Rigor and Severity of Divine Juſtice was executed upon Jeſus Chriſt, when he ſuffered for us.

Doct. 2. That Believers may ſtrongly infer the greateſt of Mercies to themſelves, from the Severity of God's Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt.

I would willingly ſpeak to both theſe Points at this time, each affording ſuch proper matter of Meditation to us in ſuch a Seaſon as this. To begin therefore with the firſt Obſervation.

Doct. 1. That the Rigor and Severity of Divine Juſtice was executed upon Jeſus Chriſt, when he ſuffered for us; God did not ſpare him.

In Zech. 13. 7. you have God's Commiſſion given to the Sword of Juſtice, to ſmite his own Son, and that without pity; Awake, O Sword, againſt the man that is my fellow, ſmite the Shepherd, &c. When this Commiſſion came to be executed upon Chriſt, the Text tells us, God did not ſpare him. All the Vials of his Wrath were poured out to the laſt Drop.

Two things require our attention in this Point, 1. Wherein the Severity of Juſtice to Chriſt appeared; 2. Why muſt Juſtice be executed on him in ſuch Rigor and Severity; why there could be no abatement, mitigation, or ſparing mercy ſhewn him in that Day.

1. Wherein the Severity of Divine Juſtice to Chriſt appeared. And this manifeſts it ſelf in the Conſideration of the following Particulars.

Firſt, Let us conſider what Jeſus Chriſt ſuffered, and we ſhall ſee the Severity of Juſtice in his Suffer- rings, for he ſuffered all kinds of Miſeries, and that in the moſt intenſe degrees of them: His Sufferings were from all Hands, from Heaven, Earth, and Hell; from his Enemies, who condemned him, buffeted him, reviled, ſcourged, and crucified him; from his own Diſciples and Followers, one of whom perfidiouſly betray'd him, another openly denied him, and all in the hour of his greateſt trouble forſook and abandon'd him.

He ſuffer'd in his Body the moſt exquiſite Torments; the Croſs was a cruel Engine of Torment, and more ſo to him than any other, by reaſon of the excellent Craſis and Temperament of his Body, and his moſt acute and delicate Senſe; for as the Schoolmen truly ſay, he was optime complexionatus, of the moſt exact and exquiſite Complexion; and his Senſes remain'd acute and vigorous, no way blunted, during the whole time of his Sufferings, but full of Life and Senſe to the laſt gaſp, as may be gather'd from Mark 15. 39. When the Centurion which ſtood over againſt him ſaw that he ſo cried out, and gave up the ghoſt, he ſaid, Truly this was the Son of God.

He ſuffer'd in his Soul; yea, the Sufferings of his Soul were the very Soul of his Sufferings; he felt in his inner Man the exquiſite Torments and inexpreſſible anguiſh of the Wrath of God. Hence was that preternatural bloody Sweat in the Garden; and hence that Heart-rending outcry upon the Croſs, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me?

In all which Sufferings from Heaven, from Earth, from Hell, from Friends, from Enemies, there was no allay, no abatement of the leaſt degree of Miſery. God ſpared not his own Son, (ſaith the Text) but delivered him up. Wherein the Severity of Divine Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt, is diſplay'd in theſe five remarkable Conſiderations following.

Firſt, God ſpared not. If Mercy, Pity, and Forbearance might be expected from any Hand, ſurely it might be God; he is the Fountain of Mercy, The Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy, ſaith the Apoſtle, Jam. 5. 11. The moſt melting and tender Compaſſions of a Mother to her ſucking Child, are but Cruelty in compariſon with Divine Tenderneſs and Mercy, Iſa. 49. 15. Can a Woman forget her ſucking Child, that ſhe ſhould not have compaſſion upon the ſon of her womb? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

Can a Woman, the more affectionate Sex, forget her ſucking Child, her own Child, and not a Nurſe-child? only her own Child, whilſt it hangs on her Breaſt, and with the Milk from her Breaſt draws Love from her Heart; can ſuch a thing as this be in Nature? Poſſibly it may, ſome ſuch cruel Mothers may be found, but yet I will not forget thee, ſaith God. Tho' human corrupt Nature may be ſo vitiated, yet from the Divine Nature, Compaſſion and Mercy are inſeparable; it flows as Waters flow from their Fountain, only here it reſtrain'd it ſelf, and let not out one drop to Jeſus Chriſt, in the Day of his Sufferings. God, the God of Mercy, ſpared not.

Secondly, God ſpared not, ſaith the Text, (i. e.) he abated not any thing which Juſtice could inflict: Chriſt was not ſpared one Stroke, one Tear, one Groan, one Drop, one Sigh, one Shame, one Circumſtance, no, not the leaſt, which Juſtice could demand as Satisfaction for Man's Sin.

There be divers kinds of Mercy in God; there is in him preventing Mercy, delivering Mercy, and ſparing Mercy. Now ſparing Mercy (as Mr. Caryl on Job well obſerves) is the loweſt Mercy of all the three; 'tis leſs Mercy to be ſpar'd or abated ſome Degree or Circumſtance of Miſery, than to have Miſeries prevented by Mercies ſtepping in betwixt us and it; it's leſs alſo than to be wholly deliver'd out of the Hand of Miſery. Either of theſe are greater Acts of Mercy, than to abate a degree, or ſhorten an hour of our trouble; the leaſt abatement of any one Circumſtance of Miſery had been ſparing Mercy, tho' it had been but the leaſt and loweſt Act of Mercy; and yet even this was denied to Chriſt, he was not abated one Minute of Time, or the leaſt Degree of Sorrow, ſpared not.

Thirdly, He ſpared not his own Son, ὁ ἰδιος υἱος: So ſtiled Signanter his own or his proper Son, in a ſpecial and peculiar manner nearer and dearer to him than Angels, who are his Sons by Creation, Job 1. 6. or any of the Saints, who are his Sons by Grace, in the way of Regeneration and Adoption, John 1. 12, 13. This was his own Son by Nature, a Son of an higher Rank and Order, Pſal. 2. 7. begotten in an ineffable manner, from all Eternity, in his own Divine Eſſence; and ſo is his Son by Nature, having the ſame Eſſence and Nature with the Father, being co-equal, co-eſſential, and co-eternal with the Father.

No Relation in Nature is ſo intimate, ſtrict and dear as this; our Children are not ſo much our own Children, are not ſo much our own Bodies, as Chriſt was God's own Son; and yet tho' he were ſo dear to him, his other Self, his expreſs Image, his own dear Son, he ſpared him not. God ſpared not his own Son.

Fourthly, And that which makes a farther Diſcovery of Divine Severity towards Jeſus Chriſt is this, that God ſpared not his own Son in the day of his greateſt diſtreſs, when he cried to his Father in an Agony, that if it were poſſible the Cup might paſs from him: For of that Day this Scripture is mainly to be underſtood, the Day when he fell to the Ground and pray'd, That if it were poſſible the hour might paſs. When he ſaid, Abba Father, all things are poſſible to thee, take away this cup from me, Mark 14. 35, 36. He beheld his own dear Son ſweltring great drops of Blood, crying, If it be poſſible, let this hour, this cup paſs, and yet it could not be granted. O the Severity of God! he heard the cry of Ahab, and ſpared him; he heard the Ninevites cry, and ſpared them; he heard the cries of Hagar and Iſhmael, and ſpared them; yea, he hears the young Ravens when they cry, and feeds them; but when his own Son cried with the moſt vehement cry, that the Cup might paſs, he cannot be excus'd, he muſt drink it up, even the very dregs of the Cup of trembling, and that to the laſt drop. O, the Juſtice and Severity of God!

Fifthly, and laſtly, Conſider what the Father of Mercies did inſtead of ſparing the Son of his love, and the Text will inform you, that he delivered him up for us all. So 'tis noted in Acts 2. 23. Him being delivered by the determinate counſel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and with wicked hands have crucified and ſlain.

There was a Conceſſion or Permiſſion to thoſe wicked Inſtruments that ſhed his Blood, a looſing of the Chain to thoſe Bandogs that compaſſed him about. Such a Conceſſion as was never given them before, for ſtill they were tied up from perpetrating their wickedneſs; but now the Reſtraints of Providence are taken away, and he is deliver'd unto their Will, his own Father delivers him into the Hands of Cruelty. And thus you ſee wherein the Severity of Divine Juſtice to Chriſt was manifeſt.

In the laſt place, let us ſee the Ground and Reaſon of this Rigor and Severity to Chriſt: Now there are, among others, Three ſpecial Reaſons why Chriſt could not be ſpared.

The Honour of Divine Juſtice requir'd, that he ſhould ſuffer the utmoſt degree of Puniſhment. It was meet that the Rights of Heaven ſhould be vindicated to the full, and that the Juſtice of God ſhould have the laſt Mite it could demand for Satisfaction. And this was the ſpecial Deſign and Aim of God in the Sufferings of Chriſt, as the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Rom. 3. 25, 26. It was to declare his righteouſneſs; and leſt we ſhould loſe the emphatical word, it is doubled and repeated, to declare, I ſay, at this time his righteouſneſs. And indeed herein God fully obtain'd his Deſign; for never was Juſtice ſo honour'd before, to have ſuch a Perſon as the Son of God at its Bar, and ſuch a Sum as his Blood paid down at once for our Diſcharge. So that Juſtice triumphs as well as Mercy, and one Attribute is not robb'd to pay another.

As it was neceſſary to God's Satisfaction, ſo it was neceſſary to ours alſo. If the Lord Jeſus had not made full Payment to the utmoſt Mite, we could never have had full Satisfaction in our Conſciences, about that deep and dear concernment of our Souls, the Remiſſion of Sin. Man is a guilty and a ſuſpicious Creature, and hard to be brought to an entire Confidence in the pardoning Mercy of God. Yea, it is impoſſible to perſwade a convinced Conſcience, of the poſſibility of Remiſſion, except you can alſo prove the fulneſs of Divine Satisfaction; for Conſcience requires as much to ſatisfy it, as God doth to ſatisfy him. If God be ſatisfied, then Conſcience can be ſatisfied too, and ſecurely reſt upon that Ground; but if there be any doubt of that, there is no appeaſing of an anxious and jealous Conſcience. Greatly therefore hath God conſulted our Peace in the Severity of his Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt. Now the God of peace, who brought again from the dead our Lord Jeſus, that great Shepherd of the Sheep, through the blood of the everlaſting Covenant, Heb. 13. 20. Let the Words be weigh'd; he is ſtiled the God of Peace when he brought back Chriſt from the dead. It was incenſed Juſtice that brought him back from the dead; and that which pacifies God, is the only thing in the World that is able to ſatisfie the Conſcience of a Sinner.

3. Therefore did God proceed with ſuch Rigor and Severity with Jeſus Chriſt, that thereby the demerit and evil of Sin might be fully diſcovered to the World, and an everlaſting Caution left upon all Hearts to beware of contracting new Guilt. If Juſtice had deſcended in a viſible Form, and hang'd up Millions of Sinners in Chains, it had not been ſuch a Warning as this againſt Sin. Nay, let me ſay, the grievous and Eternal Torments that the damn'd ſuffer in Hell, is not ſuch a Demonſtration of the Evil of Sin as this is; for thoſe Torments are ſuch unknown to Men till they feel them, and when they begin to feel them, it is too late to be convinc'd or caution'd againſt Sin then. But to ſee ſuch a Perſon as Chriſt expos'd to the utmoſt Severity of God's Wrath for our Sin, to ſee ſuch things done in the green Tree, may well make us cry out, and, what will be done to the dry Tree? O, the infinite Evil of Sin! O, the inflexible Severity of Divine Juſtice! It is a fearful thing to fall into the Hands of the living God.

In a word; hereby Jeſus Chriſt is endear'd the more to his People, by ſuffering ſuch great and ſad things in their place, and for their ſakes. The Extremity of his Sufferings for us, commends the Strength of his Affection to us.

And thus you ſee the Reaſons of all this Severity on Jeſus Chriſt. God intended the ſweeteſt Mercies for you, and therefore prepar'd the bittereſt Sufferings for Chriſt: from his deep Sufferings you may confidently conclude the beſt of Mercies are deſign'd for you; as you will hear in the ſecond Doctrine, which for diſpatch I purpoſe to handle, as one Uſe of this Point now before me.

O, the admirable and aſtoniſhing Love of God to us poor Worms of the Earth, to deliver up his own Son into the Hands of his Enemies, that thirſted for his Blood! Long had they been reſtrain'd from ſatisfying their Wickedneſs, and executing their Malice, till now; and this was the hour which he often ſpake of, My hour is not yet come. But, O, what a diſmal hour was it when it did come, when Providence let looſe both Devils and Men upon Chriſt, deliver'd him over to the Will of his Enemies! And this was not all; Chriſt was not only deliver'd up into the Hands of the worſt of Men, but, which was much more terrible, into the ſevere Hands of Divine Juſtice, to grapple with the pure, unmix'd, and unallay'd Wrath of the great and terrible God.

Laſtly, We will improve this Point by a double Uſe, of Information and Exhortation.

Uſe 1. Of Information.

The Severity of God's Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt informs us what a dreadful Evil Sin is, which ſo incenſes the Wrath of God even againſt his own Son, when he bare our Sins, and ſtood before the Bar of God as our Surety.

Come hither, hard Hearts, (hard indeed if this cannot break them) you complain you cannot ſee the Evil of Sin, ſo as to be deeply humbled for it; fix your Eyes a while here, and intently conſider the Point in Hand: Suppoſe you ſaw a tender and pitiful Father come into open Court with Fury in his Face, to charge his own, his onely, and his moſt beloved Son, and proſecute him to Death, and nothing able to ſatisfy him but his Blood, and be well pleas'd when he ſees it ſhed; would you not ſay, O, what horrid Evil hath he done? It muſt be ſome deep Wrong, ſome heinous Crime that he is guilty of, elſe it could never be that his own Father could forget his Bowels of Pity and Mercy. Yet thus did the Wrath of God break forth againſt his dear Son, when he ſtood before the Bar, charg'd, as our Surety, with the Guilt of our Sins.

Secondly, Learn hence what a fearful thing it is to fall into the Hands of the Living God. Well might Luther cry out, Nolo Deum abſolutum, Let me have nothing to do with an abſolute God. Woe to them that ſtand before God in their own Perſons, without Chriſt; how will Juſtice handle them! For if theſe things were done in the green tree, what ſhall be done in the dry tree? Luke 23. 31. Did the Son of God fear, tremble, ſweat Clods of Blood? Did he ſtand amaz'd, and fall into ſuch an Agony of Soul when he drank that Cup, which he knew in a few hours he ſhould drink up, and then never taſte the bitterneſs of it more? How ſad is their caſe that muſt drink of that Cup for ever, a Cup that hath Eternity to the bottom!

Thirdly, How incomprehenſible and raviſhing is the Love of God to Men, that would rather be ſo ſevere to Jeſus Chriſt, the Darling of his Soul, than make us the Objects of Wrath for ever? Which of you (though there be infinitely leſs Tenderneſs in your Hearts than God's) would lay your Hands upon a Child, the worſt Child you have, and put him to Death, for the ſake of the beſt Friend you have in the World? But God with his own Hand deliver'd his Son, his only Son, that from everlasting was the Delight of his Soul, who never offended him, to Death, the moſt curſed and cruel Death, and all this for Enemies: How unſpeakable is this Love, and paſt finding out!

Fourthly, Did not God ſpare his own Son? then let none of us ſpare our own Sins. Sin was that Sword which pierced Chriſt; O let Sorrow for Sin pierce your Hearts: If you ſpare Sin, God will not ſpare you, Deut. 29. 20. We ſpare Sin when we faintly oppoſe it, when we excuſe, cover and defend it, when we are impatient under juſt Rebukes and Reproofs for it; but all Kindneſs to Sin is Cruelty to our own Souls.

Fifthly, and laſtly, If God did not ſpare Chriſt, certainly he intends to ſpare Believers for his ſake.

The Surety could not be ſpar'd, that the Principal might be ſpar'd for ever. If God had ſpar'd him, he could not have ſpar'd us; if he afflicts his People, it is not for Satisfaction to himſelf, but Profit to us, Heb. 12. 10. Should God ſpare the Rod of Affliction, it would not be for our Advantage; ſo many ſanctified Afflictions as are ſpared or abated, ſo many Mercies and ſpiritual Advantages are withheld from us. But as for thoſe Strokes of Juſtice that are the Effects of God's vindictive Wrath, they ſhall never be felt by Believers for ever. All the Wrath, all the Curſe, all the Gall and Wormwood was ſqueez'd into Chriſt's Cup, and not one drop left to imbitter ours.

Uſe 2. Of Exhortation.

Did not God ſpare his own Son, but give him up to Death for us all? Then poſſeſs your Hearts fully in the aſſurance of this great Truth, That the greateſt and beſt of Mercies ſhall not be denied or withheld from you, if you be in Chriſt; lay it down as a ſure Concluſion of Faith, and build up your Hope and Comfort upon it. This takes in the ſecond Obſervation, and ſurely never was any Truth better fortified, never any Inference more ſtrongly inferr'd. Henceforth ye may infer Temporal, Spiritual, and Eternal Mercies; all muſt be yours if you be Chriſt's, 1 Cor. 3. 21, 22, 23. Oh, make ſure that Chriſt is yours, and never heſitate at any other Mercy; for, Firſt, God hath certainly a value and eſteem for his own Son infinitely above all other things; he is his own Son, his dear Son, Col. 1. 13. the Beloved, Eph. 1. 6. The delight of his Soul, Iſa. 42. 1. Nothing is valued by God at that rate that Chriſt is valued. If therefore he ſpare not the moſt excellent Mercy, but parts with the very Darling of his Soul for us, how ſhall he deny or with-hold any leſſer inferior Mercy? It is not to be imagin'd, for he is the Mercy, emphatically ſo call'd, Luke 1. 72.

Secondly, Jeſus Chriſt is a Comprehenſive Mercy, including all other Mercies in himſelf; he is the Tree of Life, all other Mercies are but the Fruits growing on him; he is the Sun of Righteouſneſs, and whatever Comfort, ſpiritual or natural, refreſhes your Souls or Bodies, is but a Beam from that Sun, a Stream from that Fountain. If then God part with Chriſt to you, and for you, he will not with-hold other Mercies; he will not give the whole Tree, and deny an Apple; beſtow the Fountain it ſelf, and deny you the Streams. All ſpiritual Mercies are in him, and given with him, Epheſ. 1. 3. Bleſſed be the God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who hath bleſſed us with all ſpiritual bleſſings, in heavenly places in Chriſt Jeſus. All Temporals are in him, and given with him, Matth. 6. 33. they are Additionals to that great Mercy.

Thirdly, If God ſpar'd not Chriſt, the beſt Mercy, but deliver'd him up for us all when we were his Enemies, then certainly he will not deny leſſer Mercies when we are reconciled and made Friends to him. And this is the forcible Reaſon of the Apoſtle, which even compels aſſent, Rom. 5. 9. Much more being now juſtified by his blood, we ſhall be ſaved from wrath through him. In a word, Fourthly, and laſtly, If it were the very Deſign and Intention of God in not ſparing his own Son, to open thereby a Door for all Mercies to be let in upon us, then 'tis not imaginable he ſhould with-hold them. He will not loſe his Deſign, nor lay ſo many Stripes upon Chriſt in vain; ſome ſhall ſurely have the Benefit of it, and none ſo capable as Believers.

When God ſpared not his own Son, this was the Deſign of it, and could you know the Thoughts of his Heart, they would appear to be ſuch as theſe.

I will now manifeſt the fierceneſs of my Wrath to Chriſt, and the fulneſs of my Love to Believers. The Pain ſhall be his, that the Eaſe and Reſt may be theirs; the Stripes his, and the healing Balm iſſuing from them theirs; the Condemnation his, and the Juſtification theirs; the Reproach and Shame his, and the Honour and Glory theirs; the Curſe his, and the Bleſſing theirs; the Death his, and the Life theirs; the Vinegar and Gall his, the ſweet of it theirs. He ſhall groan, and they ſhall triumph; he ſhall mourn, that they may rejoice; his Heart ſhall be heavy for a time, that theirs may be light and glad for ever; he ſhall be forſaken, that they may never be forſaken; out of the worſt of Miſeries to him, ſhall ſpring the ſweeteſt of Mercies to them. O Grace! Grace beyond Conception of the largeſt Mind, the Expreſſion of the Tongues of Angels!

The Seventh MEDITATION,

UPON

Mark IX. 24. And ſtraightway the Father of the Child cried, and ſaid with tears Lord, I believe, help my unbelief.

THE Occaſion of theſe words is to be gather'd from the Context, and briefly it was this: A tender Father brings a poſſeſs'd Child to Chriſt to be cur d, with ſi potes, a doubting Queſtion, If thou canſt do any thing, have compaſſion upon us, and help us. Words importing much natural Affection and tender Love to his Child. Have Compaſſion [upon us] and [help us.] If the Child be Sick, the Parent is not well; what touches the Child, is felt by his Father.

And as they import his Natural Affection to his Child, ſo alſo his own Spiritual Diſeaſe, or the Weakneſs of his Faith. His Child was poſſeſs'd with a dumb Devil; and himſelf with unbelieving Doubts and Suſpicions, of Chriſt's Ability to cure his Child. The Child had a ſick Body, and the Father an infirm Soul: Satan afflicted one by a Poſſeſſion, and the other by Temptation; V. 22.

Chriſt returns his doubting Language upon himſelf, ver. 23. If thou canſt believe, all things are poſſible to him that believeth: q. d. Doſt thou doubt of my Ability to heal thy Child? Queſtion rather thy own Ability to believe, for his Cure: If he be not heal'd, the Cauſe will not be in my Inability, but in thine own Infidelity. Which he ſpeaks not, to inſinuate that Faith was in his own Power; but to convince him of his Weakneſs, and drive him to God for Aſſiſtance: Which Effect it obtain'd; for immediately he cried out, and ſaid with Tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

O how good is it for Men to be brought into the Streights of Affliction ſometimes! Had not this Man fallen into this Diſtreſs, it's not like that he had (at leaſt not ſo ſoon) arriv'd either to the Senſe of his Grace, or the Weakneſs of it.

In the Words we may note theſe Three Parts.

Firſt, A Profeſſion of his Faith; Lord, I believe.

Secondly, A Senſe of the Weakneſs of his Faith; Help thou my unbelief.

Thirdly, The Affection with which both were utter'd; He cried out, and ſaid with tears. If theſe Tears proceeded from the Senſe and Feeling of Divine Power, enabling him to believe, as ſome think; then they were Tears of Joy, and would inform us of this great Truth:

Doct. 1. That the leaſt and loweſt Meaſure of true Faith, is Matter of Joy unſpeakable to the Poſſeſſor of it.

If they proceeded from the Senſe of the Weakneſs of his Faith, then they give us this Note:

Doct. 2. That the Remainders of Unbelief in the People of God, do coſt them many Tears: They are the Burdens and Sorrows of gracious Souls.

Doct. 1. That the leaſt and loweſt Meaſure of Faith, is Matter of Joy unſpeakable to the Poſſeſſor of it.

The Apoſtle, in 2 Pet. 1. 1. calls it precious Faith; and it well deſerves that Epithet: For the leaſt and loweſt Degree of Saving Faith, is of invaluable Excellency; as will appear in theſe Particulars.

Firſt, The leaſt Degree of Saving Faith, truly unites the Soul to Jeſus Chriſt, and makes it as really a Branch or Member of him, as Moſes, Abraham, or Paul were.

All Saving Faith receives Chriſt; Joh. 1. 12. Indeed, the ſtrong Believer receives him with a ſtronger and ſteadier Hand than the weak one doth, who ſtaggers, doubts, and trembles, but yet receives him; and conſequently is as much intereſſed in the Bleſſed Privileges flowing from Heaven, as the greateſt Believer in the World. Such is Chriſt's Complacency in our Perſons and Duties; his Sympathy with us in our Troubles and Afflictions, and our Intereſt in his Perſon and Purchaſe. And is not this Matter of exceeding Joy? Is it not enough to melt, yea, overwhelm the Heart of a poor Sinner, to diſcover and feel that in his own Heart, which entitles him to ſuch Mercies?

Secondly, From the leaſt Degree of Saving Faith, we may infer as plenary a Remiſſion of Sin, as from the ſtrongeſt. The weakeſt Believer is as compleatly pardon'd, as the ſtrongeſt; Acts 10. 43. By him, all that believe are juſtified from all things. All that believe; without difference of Sizes, Strength, or Degrees; the leaſt, as well as the greateſt; the Believer of a Day old, as well as the Fathers and Worthies of greateſt Name, and longeſt Standing.

Lo then, the leaſt Meaſure of Faith entitles thee as really to the greateſt Bleſſing, as the higheſt Acts of Faith can do. 'Tis true, the ſtronger the Acting of Faith is, the clearer the Evidence uſually is; but Intereſt in the Privilege is the ſame in both. If then thou canſt diſcern but the weakeſt Act and ſmalleſt Meaſure of Faith in thy Soul; haſt thou not Reaſon, with him in the Text, to cry out, and ſay with Tears, Lord, I believe? Canſt thou receive and read this Pardon, of ſuch and ſo many Sins, and not wet it with thy Tears? O, it's Matter of Joy unſpeakable!

Thirdly, The leaſt Degree of Saving Faith infers thy Election of God; and if that be not Matter of melting and tranſporting Conſideration, nothing is. O, it's Matter of more Joy, that our Names are written in the Book of Life, than that the Devils are ſubject to us; Luk. 10. 20. From hence it may be inferr'd, that we are choſen of God; Acts 13. 48. As many as were ordained to eternal life, believed.

Fourthly, The leaſt Meaſure of Saving Faith, is a Mercy greater than moſt Men ever partake of.

'Tis true, God is rich and bountiful in the Gifts of Providence to others; they have the good Things of this Life, many of them more than their Hearts can wiſh; Pſal. 73. 7. He enricheth many of them alſo with Endowments of the Mind, Natural and Moral Knowledge and Wiſdom; yea, and adorns them with Homilitical Virtues, that render them very deſirable and lovely in their Converſes with Men; but there are but few, to whom he gives Saving Faith: Iſa. 53. 1. Believers are but a ſmall Remnant among Men.

Fifthly, and laſtly; He that hath any, the leaſt Degree of Saving Faith, hath that which will never be taken from him: All other Excellencies go away at Death, Job 4. 21. but this is a Spring that never fails, it ſprings up into everlaſting Life, John 4. 14. A Man may outlive his Friends and Familiars, his Eſtate and Health, his Gifts and Natural Parts; but not his Faith. How great Matter of Joy and Comfort, is wrapt up in the leaſt Degree of Faith!

Uſe 1. Of Tryal.

It concerns us then to examine our ſelves, whether our Faith be true, be it more or leſs, ſtronger or weaker; and till we diſcern its Truth, it will yield us but little Comfort.

I confeſs, weak Believers are under great Diſadvantages to Comfort; ſmall and weak Things being uſually very inevident, and undiſcernable. But yet in this Example before us, we find weak Faith was made evident, tho' much Unbelief was mixed with it. Lord, I believe; help thou my unbelief. In which Words, many very uſeful Signs of true, tho' weak Faith, did appear; and they are very relieving to weak Believers, to conſider them. O that we might find the like in us!

Firſt, His Faith gave him a tender, melting Heart; He cried out, and ſaid with tears. Doth your Faith melt your Hearts, either in Senſe of your own Vileneſs, or the Riches of Free Grace to ſuch vile Creatures?

Secondly, His Faith gave him a deep Senſe of his remaining Unbelief, and burden'd his Heart with it;

it: Help my unbelief. And ſure ſo will yours, if it be but as a Grain of Muſtard ſeed in you.

Thirdly, His weak Faith carried him to Chriſt, in fervent Prayers and Cries, for his Help to ſubdue Unbeliefe in him; and ſo will yours, if your Faith be right. Oh, how often do the People of God go to the Throne of Grace upon that Errand? Help, Lord, my Heart is dead, vain, and very unbelieving; there's no dealing with it in my own Strength: Father, help me.

Fourthly, His weak Faith made him hunger and thirſt after greater Meaſures of it: Help my Unbelief: i. e. Lord, cure it; that I may believe with more ſtrong and ſteddy Acts of Faith; that I may not queſtion thy Power any more, or ſay, If thou canſt do any thing. Why thus it will be with you, if you be true Believers; Luk. 17. 5. Lord, (ſaid the Diſciples) increaſe our Faith.

Fifthly, There was a Conflict in his Soul betwixt Faith and Infidelity, Grace and Corruption; and this, very ſenſible to him; Faith inclining him one way, and Unbelief carrying him another: And hence he ſpeaks like a Man greatly diſtreſſed, betwixt the working of contrary Principles in his own Soul; (and ſo you will alſo find it in your ſelves) Gal. 5. 17. The Fleſh luſteth againſt the Spirit; ſo that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

Uſe 2. Of Conſolation. Well then, bleſs the Lord for the leaſt Degree of Saving Faith; and be not ſo diſcouraged at its Imperfections, as to overlook and ſlight the ſmalleſt Working of Faith in your Souls. This poor Man was deeply ſenſible of his Unbelief, and yet at the ſame Inſtant, truly thankful for a ſmall Meaſure of Faith; and ſo ſhould you. For, Firſt, The leaſt Meaſure of Saving Faith, is more than all Creatures Power could produce: 'Tis the Faith of the Operation of God; Col. 2. 12. 'Tis the Work of God, that ye believe; Joh. 6. 29. Yea, 'tis the exceeding greatneſs of his Power, Eph. 1. 19, 20. No Miniſters of Chriſt, how excellent ſoever their Gifts are; no Duties or Ordinances, no Labour or Diligence of your own, without this mighty Power of God, can ever bring you to Faith.

Secondly, 'Tis juſt Matter of Wonder and Aſtoniſhment, that ever one Spark of Faith was kindled in ſuch an Heart as thine is; an Heart, which had no Prediſpoſition, or Inclination in the leaſt, to believe: Yea, it was not Raſa Tabula, like clean Paper, void of any Impreſſion of Faith; but fill'd with contrary Impreſſions to it; ſo that 'tis marvelous that ever your Hearts received the Stamp, or Impreſſion of Faith, on them.

It was wonderful, that Fire ſhould fall from Heaven, and burn upon the Altar, when Elijah had laid the Wood in order upon it; but much more, when he poured ſo much Water upon it, as not only wet all the Wood, but fill'd the Trenches; 1 Kings 18. 33. Juſt ſo was the Caſe of thy Soul, Reader, when God came to kindle Faith there. Thy Heart was dark and ignorant, neither acquainted with God, or thy own Condition; yea, thy Heart was a proud Heart, full of Self-Righteouſneſs, and Self-Conceitedneſs; Rom. 3. 17. Rom. 10. 3. A Heart, that would rather venture Eternal Damnation, than deny ſelf, and ſubmit to Chriſt: And yet the Light of the Lord muſt ſhine into this Darkneſs; and the Pride and Stiffneſs of thy Heart muſt be broken, and brought to yield, or there is no Believing.

Beſide: How many and mighty Enemies did oppoſe the Work of Faith in thy Soul? Among which, Satan, and thy own Carnal Reaſonings, were the principal; 2 Cor. 10. 4. By them, what Strong-holds and Fortifications were raiſed, to ſecure thee from the Strokes of Conviction, that make way for Faith. Let but the State of thine own Heart, as it was by Nature, be conſidered; and thou wilt ſay, it was the wonderful Work of God, that ever thou was't brought in any Degree to believe.

Thirdly, Tho' thy Faith be weak, yet it is growing, if it be ſaving Faith. The largeſt Tree, was once but a Kernel, or Acorn; the moſt famous Believer, at firſt but a weak and doubting one. Be not diſcouraged therefore, God will fulfil all the good Pleaſure of his Goodneſs in you, and the Work of Faith with Power. It were certainly much better for you, to be bleſſing God for a little Faith, praying for the Increaſe of Faith, and diligently attending thoſe Means, by which it may be improved and made flouriſhing in your Souls; than by a ſinful, ungrateful, and prejudicial Deſpondency, at once to diſhonour God, and thus wrong your ſelves.

Doct. 2. That the Remains of Unbelief in gracious Hearts, do coſt them many Tears and Sorrows.

There are many Things that afflict and grieve the People of God from without; but all their outward Troubles, are nothing to theſe Troubles that come from within.

There are many inward Troubles that make them groan, but none more than this, the Unbelief they find in their own Hearts. This Sin juſtly coſts them more Trouble than other Sins, becauſe it is the Root from which other Sins do ſpring; a Root of Bitterneſs, bearing Wormwood and Gall, to the imbittering of their Souls. For, Firſt, The Remains of Unbelief in the Saints, greatly diſhonour God; and what is a great Diſhonour to God, cannot but be a great Grief and Burden to them: For look, as Faith gives God ſpecial Honour, above all other Graces; ſo Unbelief, in a ſpecial manner, both wrongs and grieves him above all other Sins Unbelief in Dominion, makes God a Liar, 1 Joh. 5. 10. And even the Relicks thereof in Believers, do ſhake their Aſſent to his Truths and Promiſes, and nouriſh a vile Suſpicion of them in the Heart. And how do thoſe baſe Jealouſies reflect upon his Honour? Certainly, it cannot but be a Grief to a gracious Heart, to ſee God diſhonour'd by others; Pſal. 119. 36. and a much greater, to diſhonour him our ſelves. Hinc illæ Lachrymæ: Upon this ground, we may juſtly cry out, and ſay with Tears; Lord, help our Unbelief.

Secondly, The Remains of Unbelief in the Saints, doth not only diſhonour God, but defaces and ſpoils their beſt Duties, in which they at any time approach unto God. Is the Face of God clouded from us in Prayer, Hearing, or Receiving? Examine the Cauſe and Reaſon; and you will find that Cloud rais'd from your own Unbelieving Hearts. Are your Affections cold, flat, and dead in Duty? Dig but to the Root, and you will find this Sin to lie there. If the Word do not work upon you as you deſire, and pray it might; 'tis becauſe it is not mingled with Faith; Heb. 4. 2. No Duties, nor Ordinances, no Promiſes, can give down their ſweet Influences upon your Souls, becauſe of this Sin. Now Communion with the Lord in Duties, is the Life of our Life: Theſe Things are dearer to the Saints, than their Eyes. Juſtly therefore do they bewail, and mourn over that Sin, which obſtructs and inter-intercepts their Sweeteſt Enjoyments in this World.

Thirdly, The Remains of Unbelief give Advantage and Succeſs to Satan's Temptations upon us. Doth he at any time affright and ſcare us from our Duty, or draw and entice us to the Commiſſions of Sin; or darken and cloud our Condition, and fill us with inward Fears and Horror, without cauſe? All this he doth, by the Mediation of our own Unbelief. The Apoſtle, in Epheſ. 6. 16. calls Faith the Soul's Shield againſt Temptation: And 1 Joh. 5. 4. 'tis call'd the Victory by which we overcome; i. e. the Sword, or Weapon, by which we atchieve our Victories. And if ſo, then Unbelief diſarms us both of Sword and Shield, and leaves us naked of Defence in the Day of Battel, a Prey to the next Temptation that befals us.

Fourthly, The Remains of Unbelief hinder the Thriving of all Graces; it's a Worm at their Root; a Plant of ſuch a malignant Quality, that nothing which is Spiritual can thrive under the Droppings and Shadow of it. It's ſaid, Heb. 4. 2. That the Goſpel was preached to the Iſraelites, but it did not profit them; not being mixed with Faith in them that heard it. No Ordinances, nor Duties, be they never ſo excellent, will make that Soul to thrive, where Unbelief prevails. You pray, you hear, you faſt, you meditate; and yet you do not thrive; your Spiritual Food doth no good. You come from Ordinances as dead, careleſs and vain, as you went to them. And why is it thus? Becauſe of remaining Unbelief.

USE I.

Let all the People of God bewail, and tenderly mourn over the Remainders of Infidelity in their own Hearts: There, there is the Root of the Diſeaſe. And ſurely, Reader, thy Heart is not free of ſuch Symptoms of it, as appear in other Men's Hearts. For do but conſider, Sympt. 1. What is our Impatiency to wait for Mercy, and Deſpondency of Spirit, if Deliverance come not quickly in the outward, or inward Streights of Soul or Body, but a plain Symptom of Unbelief in our Hearts? He that believes, will not make haſte; Iſa. 28. 16. He that can believe, can alſo wait God's Time; Pſal. 27. 14.

Sympt. 2. And what means our Readineſs to uſe ſinful Mediums, to prevent, or extricate our ſelves out of Trouble; but a great deal of Infidelity, lurking ſtill in our Hearts? Might but Faith be heard to ſpeak, it would ſay in thy Heart, Let me rather die Ten Deaths, than commit One Sin. It's ſweeter, and eaſy, to die in my Integrity, than to live with a defiled, or wounded Conſcience. 'Tis nothing but our Unbelief, that makes us ſo ready to put forth our Hands to Iniquity, when the Rod of the Wicked reſts long upon us, or any eminent Danger threatens us; Pſal. 125. 3.

Sympt. 3. Doth not the Unbelief of your Hearts ſhew it ſelf in your deeper Thoughtfulneſs, and great Anxieties about Earthly Things? Matth. 6. 30. We pretend, we have truſted God with our Souls to all Eternity, and yet cannot truſt him for our daily Bread. We bring the Evils of To-morrow upon To-day; and all becauſe we cannot believe more.

O Reader! How much better were it to hear ſuch Queſtions as theſe from thee? How ſhall I get an Heart ſuitable to the Mercies I do enjoy? How ſhall I duly improve them for God? What will I render to the Lord, for all his Goodneſs? This would better become thee, than to afflict thy ſelf with, What ſhall I eat? What ſhall I drink? Or wherewithal ſhall I be clothed?

Sympt. 4. What doth the ſlaviſh Fear of Death ſpeak, but Remains of Unbelief ſtill in our Hearts? Are there not many Faintings, Tremblings, Deſpondencies of Mind, under the Thoughts of Death? O! if Faith were high, thy Spirit could not be ſo low; 2 Cor. 1. 2, 3. The more Bondage of Fear, the more Infidelity.

Sympt. 5. To conclude: What is the Voice of all thoſe Diſtractions of thy Heart in Religious Duties, but Want of Faith, Weakneſs in Faith, and the actual Prevalence of Unbelief? You come to God in Prayer; and there a Thouſand Vanities beſet you: Your Heart is carried away; it roves, it wanders to the Ends of the Earth. Conſcience ſmites for this, and ſaith, Thou doſt but mock God; thy Soul will ſmart for this: Thou feeleſt neither Strength nor Sweetneſs ariſing out of ſuch Duties. You enquire for Remedies, and fill the Ears of Friends with your Complaints; and it may be, ſee not the Root of all this to be in your own Unbelief. But there it is; and till that be cured, it will not be better with you.

USE II.

Yet let not poor Chriſtians ſo mourn, as thoſe that have no Hope, or Ground of Comfort, even in this Caſe. For, Firſt, Tho' there be Remains of Unbelief in you, yet you have infinite Cauſe to bleſs God that they are but Remains. You once were in Unbelief; 1 Tim. 1. 13. (i. e.) under the full Power and Dominion of it. Had God cut you off in that State, you muſt certainly have periſhed. This is the Diſeaſe, but that was the Death of your Souls.

Secondly, Tho' Unbelief be in you, yet it is not in you per modum quietis, by way of Reſt, as it is in all Unbelievers; but by way of daily Conflict, and as a Burden too heavy to be born. Now tho' the Sin be ſad, yet the Sorrow for it is ſweet; and your Conflicts with it, bring you under a very comfortable Sign of Grace; Rom. 7. 21.

Thirdly, This is a Diſeaſe, under which all Chriſtians do labour more or leſs. There is not a Heart ſo holy in all the World, but is in ſome degree tainted and infected with this Diſeaſe. And this hath been evident, not only in all Chriſtians, of all Sizes, but in all the Acts of their Faith. Job's Faith triumph'd in Chap. 13. 15. yet had its Eclipſe and Fainting-fit, in Chap. 19. 20. Abraham was a moſt renowned Believer, a great Pattern and Example of Faith: Oh how high a Pitch did his Faith mount to, in Gen. 22. 3.! And yet there was a Time when it fainted, and failed him; as at Gerar, Gen. 20. 2, 10, 11. David, in Pſal. 27. 1, 23. was not like David, in 1 Sam. 27. 1. The Faith of Peter ſhone out like the Sun, in a glorious Confeſſion, Mat. 16. 16. and yet was not only beclouded, but ſeemed to be gone down, and quite ſet, in Mat. 26. 69. tho' it afterwards recover'd it ſelf.

Fourthly, 'Tis not this, or that Degree of Unbelief, that damns a Man, but the Power and Dominion of it, that damns him. Indeed, your Comfort much depends upon the Strength of your Faith; but your Salvation depends upon the Truth of it. Moſt Chriſtians come to Heaven with a weak and doubting Faith; but few, with their Sails fill'd with a direct and freſh Wind of Aſſurance.

Fifthly, There is enough in Chriſt to help Unbelief: Lord, ſaid this poor Man, help my Unbelief.

lief. He is an excellent Phyſician, and knows how to relieve and cure thee: Go to him, and groan out thy Complaint, tell him, thy Heart is pained and troubled with this Diſeaſe; thou ſhalt find him a faithful, skilful, and merciful Saviour.

Sixthly, It's but a little while, before this, with all other Diſeaſes bred by it in thy Soul, ſhall be perfectly healed; Sanctification is a Cure begun, Glorification is the Cure performed and compleated: The former hath deſtroy'd the Dominion, the latter will deſtroy the Exiſtence of it in thy Soul: When you come to Heaven, and never 'till then, will you find your ſelves well, and at eaſe in every part.

And thus much of the Second Point.

There are ſome general Obſervations ariſing from both parts of my Text conſidered together, viz. the thankful Acknowledgment of his Faith, and the Sorrowful Senſe of his Unbelief. It ſhall ſuffice for a Concluſion to this Meditation only to note them; and they are theſe:

Firſt, That the deepeſt Senſe of Sin muſt not exclude an humble and thankful Acknowledgment of the Grace of God in his People. 'Tis the fault of moſt to hide their Sins, and the fault of ſome to hide their Graces.

Secondly, Acceptance of our Perſons and Duties, is a pure Act of Grace. There's no Duty performed in a perfect Act of Faith; all is mix'd with Unbelief in ſome degree, the Honey and the Comb are mix'd together, Cant. 2. 8. No Duty as it comes from us is pure.

Thirdly, Juſtly may we ſuſpect that Faith for a falſe Faith, which boaſts of its own Strength, but never mourns in the Senſe of Unbelief. Where there are no Conflicts with Sin, there can be no ſound Evidence of Sincerity.

Fourthly, Believers muſt not wonder to find ſtrange Viciſſitudes and Alterations in the State of their Souls. Sometimes a clear, and ſometimes a cloudy Day. Sometimes they have their Songs in the Night, and ſometimes their bitter Lamentations. If you ask, Why is it thus? the Anſwer is, there are Twins within you, contrary Principles ſtruggling in your Souls, and it is no wonder at all to find Peace and Trouble, Hope and Fear, Light and Darkneſs taking their Turns, and ſharing your Time betwixt them.

The Eighth MEDITATION,

UPON

Pſalm XL. 8. I delight to do thy will, O my God; yea, thy Law is within my Heart.

CAſting my Eye upon this precious Text, I find it perplex'd and darkned with variety, yea, contrariety of Expoſitions: The Jews and Socinians generally refer all to David, denying Chriſt to be the Perſon here ſpoken of. Others refer the whole Pſalm to Chriſt; but the beſt Expoſitors refer it partly to David, and partly to Chriſt. That this Paragraph, in which my Text lies, refers to Chriſt, is plain from the Apoſtle's Allegation of it in Heb. 10. 5, 6, 7. In this and the two former Verſes there lie three great Points of Truth, which you may take up in this order.

Firſt, The inſufficiency and rejection of all legal Sacrifices, as things of no vertue in themſelves to ſatisfy God, or ſave Men, ver. 6. Theſe thou wouldſt not, (i. e.) thou never didſt appoint them to be the Means of Salvation, farther than they ſignified and pointed at me, and now muſt vaniſh when I come in a Body of Fleſh; according to that, Col. 2. 17.

Secondly, The introduction of a compleat and ſufficient Means of Redemption, ver. 7. Lo, I come.

Thirdly, The ſuitableneſs and agreeableneſs of this Work of Redemption to the Heart and Will of Jeſus Chriſt, ver. 8. I delight to do thy Will, O my God; yea, thy Law is within my Heart; or as it is in the Hebrew, in the midſt of my bowels.

In the words we are to note two things, viz. 1*ſt*, The Riſe and Spring of Man's Redemption. 2*dly*, The acceptableneſs and ſuitableneſs of it to the Heart of Chriſt.

1*ſt*, The Riſe and firſt Spring of Man's Redemption, the Will and Pleaſure of God. So it pleaſed the Lord to appoint and order it, that a Remnant of poor loſt Sinners ſhould be ſaved.

The Execution and Accompliſhment of this good Pleaſure of God, was that part which by agreement and conſent was committed to the Son, and is here call'd a Law, or Command laid upon him. And anſwerably to the Death of Chriſt is repreſented as an act of Obedience, Phil. 2. 8. and reſpected God's Command for it, John 10. 18. This commandment have I received from my Father; referring to the Covenant of Redemption which was betwixt them from everlaſting: And this was the riſe and firſt Spring of our Redemption by Chriſt.

2*dly*, You have here the gratefulneſs and ſuitableneſs of this Work to the Heart of Chriſt; I delight to do it, it is in my heart. Lo, I come.

The Hebrew words note not ſimple Conſent or Willingneſs, but the higheſt Pleaſure and Complacency that can be; a Work which raviſhes his Soul with the Delights of it. I delight to do thy will; and that other Expreſſion, Thy law is within my heart, or Bowels, hath as deep a Senſe and Signification as the former. It notes the greateſt care, ſollicitude and intention of Mind, in keeping the moſt precious Treaſure that was committed to him; for ſo the Phraſe is us'd in Prov. 4. 21. and ſo did our Redeemer eſteem and reckon this Work, which was by the Father demandated and committed to him. Hence the Note is,

Doct. That the Will of God to redeem Sinners by the Incarnation and Death of Jeſus Chriſt, was moſt grateful and pleaſing to the very Heart of Chriſt.

It is ſaid, Prov. 8. 31. When he was ſolacing himſelf in the ſweeteſt Enjoyment of his Father, whilſt he lay in that bleſſed Boſom of Delights, yet the very proſpect of this Work gave him Pleaſure, Thus were his delights with the Sons of men. And when he was come into the World, and had endur'd many Abuſes and Injuries, and was even now come to the moſt difficult part of the work; yet, how am I ſtrait-

I ſtraightned, or pained, (ſaith he) till it be accompliſhed, Luke 12. 50.

Two Things call our Thoughts to ſtay upon them in this Point.

Firſt, The Decency of it, why it ought to be ſo.

Secondly, The Reaſons of it, whence it came to be ſo.

Firſt, Why it ought to be a pleaſant and grateful thing to Chriſt, to take a Body of Fleſh, and lay it down by Death again for the Redemption of Sinners.

1. It became Chriſt to go about this Work with Chearfulneſs and Delight, that thereby he might give his Death the Nature and Formality of a Sacrifice.

In all Sacrifices you ſhall find that God had ſtill a Regard, a ſpecial Reſpect, to the Will of the Offerer. See Exod. 35. 5, 21. and Levit. 1. 3. the Voluntarineſs and Chearfulneſs with which it is given is of great Regard with God.

2. It ought to be ſo, in regard of the Unity of Chriſt's Will with the Father's. The Work of our Redemption is call'd, the Pleaſure of the Lord, Iſa. 53. 10. and what was the Father's Pleaſure, could not be diſpleaſing to him who is one with the Father. It's impoſſible their Wills can claſh, whoſe Nature is one.

3. This was neceſſary to magnify and commend the Love of Jeſus Chriſt to us, for whom he gave himſelf. That he came into the World to die for us, is a Mercy of the firſt Magnitude; but that he came in Love to our Souls, and underwent all his Sufferings with ſuch Willingneſs for our ſakes; this heightens it above all Apprehenſion. O, this is the moſt taking, the moſt raviſhing, the moſt aſtoniſhing Conſideration of all: He loved me, and gave himſelf for me, Gal. 2. 20. He loved us, and waſhed us from our Sins in his own Blood, Rev. 1. 5. Here Love is in its higheſt Exaltation.

4. It was neceſſary to be ſo, for the regulating of all our Obedience to God according to this Pattern, that ſeeing and ſetting this great Example of Obedience before us, we might never grudge nor grumble at any Duty or Suffering that God ſhould call us to; You know the grace of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; how, that though he was rich, yet for your ſakes he became poor, ſaith the Apoſtle, when he would preſs the Corinthians to their Duty, 2 Cor. 8. 9. And when he would effectually urge the Philippians to their Duty, this is the Argument, Let this mind be in you, which alſo was in Chriſt Jeſus, Phil. 2. 5. So that it became and behov'd Chriſt thus to undertake this great Service.

Secondly, Next let us conſider and examine whence it came to be ſo pleaſant and acceptable to Jeſus Chriſt to come into the World and die for poor Sinners.

And we ſhall find, that although the Sufferings of Chriſt were exceeding ſharp, and the Cup of God's Wrath unſpeakably bitter, yet that which made it pleaſant and deſirable to Jeſus Chriſt, was the Proſpect he had of the ſweet Reſults and Iſſues of his Sufferings, Iſa. 53. 10, 11. He ſhall ſee of the travail of his ſoul, and ſhall be ſatisfied, (i. e.) he ſhall have great Content and Pleaſure from the Iſſues and Fruits of his Sufferings; as Pſal. 128. 2. Thou ſhalt eat the labour of thy hands, (i. e.) the Fruit of thy labours. So here, He ſhall ſee the travail of his ſoul, (i. e.) the Fruit and Effects of his Travail; and to ſee this, ſhall be to him the Reward and Recompence of all his Sufferings. Now, among the great Reſults of the Sufferings of Chriſt, there are eſpecially theſe three, which he foreſaw with ſingular Content and Delectation.

Firſt, That in his Sufferings there would be made a glorious Diſplay and Manifeſtation of the Divine Attributes; yea, ſuch a glorious Diſplay of them, as was never made before to Angels or to Men, nor ever ſhall be any more in this World. For though,

1. The Wiſdom of God had made it ſelf viſible to Men in the Creation of the World, yet there it ſhone but in a faint and languiſhing Beam, compar'd with this. Here Divine Wiſdom put it ſelf as it were into a viſible Form, and repreſented it ſelf to the Life. See 1 Cor. 1. 24. and Eph. 3. 10. Behold in the Death of Chriſt the Wiſdom of God in its higheſt Exaltation and Glory: O the manifold Wiſdom of God! O the Depth of his unſearchable Wiſdom! which I touched in ſome Particulars before.

Behold here the Wiſdom of God, raiſing more Glory to himſelf by Occaſion of the Breach of the Law, than could ever have riſen to him from the moſt punctual Obſervation of its Commands, or the moſt rigorous Execution of its Threatnings; from the Occaſion of the Fall (which was our undoing) raiſing us to a far better Eſtate, and with a much better Security to enjoy it, than that from which we fell. Yea, behold and wonder, God by the Death of Chriſt recovering his Elect from all the Danger and Miſchief of Sin, and yet making the Way and Manner of their Recovery the faireſt Glaſs to repreſent the Horror and Evil of Sin to them that ever was ſhewn them in this World. Oh, the Triumph of Divine Wiſdom!

2. Though the Love of God had appear'd before in our Creation, Protection, and Proviſion, yet nothing to what it doth in our Redemption by the Death of Chriſt. Lo, here is the Love of God in its Strength and Glory, 1 John 4. 10. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and ſent his Son to be the propitiation for our Sins. Herein is love, (i. e.) here is the higheſt Expreſſion of God's Love to the Creature; not only that ever was, but that ever can be made; for in Love only God acteth to the uttermoſt: Whatever his Power hath done, it can do more; but for his Love, it can go no higher, he hath no greater Thing to give than his Chriſt. 'Tis true, in giving us a Being, and that in the nobleſt Rank and Order of Creatures on Earth, herein was Love. In feeding us all our Life long by his aſſiduous tender Providence, herein is Love. In protecting us under his Wings from innumerable Dangers and Miſchiefs, herein is Love, much Love; and yet ſet all this by his Redeeming Love in Chriſt, and it ſeems nothing. When we have ſaid all, herein is the love of God, that he ſent his Son, &c. This was free Love to undeſerving, to ill-deſerving Sinners: Preventing Love; not that we lov'd him, but that he lov'd us. Juſt as an Image in the Glaſs, (ſaith Ficinus) that is imprinted there by the FACE looking into it; the IMAGE does not look back upon the Face, except the Face look forward upon the Image; and in that the Image does ſeem to ſee the Face, it's nothing elſe but that the Face does ſee the Image. O the unexpreſſible Glory of the Love of God in Chriſt!

3. Though God had given ſeveral ſad Marks of his Juſtice before, both upon the Angels that fell, clapping upon them the Chains of Darkneſs; in the Overthrow of Sodom and the neighbouring Cities, turning them to Aſhes, as you may read in Jude, ver. 6, 7. yet never was the Exactneſs and Severity of Juſtice ſo manifeſted before, nor ever ſhall be any more, as it was at the Death of Chriſt. Chriſt did not only ſatisfy it fully, but he alſo honour'd it highly, making that Attribute which was once a Bar, now to be a Bottom of our Peace, Rom. 3. 25. Never did ſuch a Perſon as Chriſt ſtand at the Bar of Juſtice before: The Blood of God was pour'd out to appeaſe and ſatisfy it. When Chriſt ſuffer'd, he did both give and take Satisfaction; he gave it to the Juſtice of God in dying; he took it in ſeeing Juſtice ſo honour'd in his Death.

Secondly, Another delightful Proſpect Chriſt had of the Fruit of his Sufferings, was the Recovery and Salvation of all the Elect by his Death; and tho' his Sufferings were exceeding bitter, yet ſuch Fruit of them as this was exceeding ſweet: Upon this account he aſſum'd his Name Jeſus, Math. 1. 21. yea, and his human Nature alſo, Gal. 4. 4, 5. Souls are of great Value in his Eyes; one Soul is of more Worth in his account than all the World, Mark 8. 36. What a Pleaſure then muſt it be to him, to ſave ſo many Souls from the everlaſting Wrath of the great and terrible God! Add to this,

Thirdly, The Glory which would rebound to him from his redeemed ones to all Eternity; for it will be the everlaſting pleaſant Employment of the Saints in Heaven, to be aſcribing Glory, Praiſe, and Honour to the Redeemer: For him that loved us, and waſhed us from our ſins in his own blood, and hath made us Kings and Prieſts to God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever, Rev. 1. 5, 6. The Improvement of all this will be in a word or two.

Uſe 1. for Conviction.

This Truth then, in the firſt place, may convince, ſhame, and humble the very beſt of Chriſtians, who find ſo little Delight in the moſt eaſy, ſweet, and ſpiritual Duties of Obedience, when Chriſt undertook and went through the moſt difficult Task for them with ſuch Chearfulneſs and Readineſs, Lo, I come, thy law is in my heart, I delight to do thy will; and yet the Work he ſo applied himſelf to, was a Work full of Difficulty, attended with Reproach and Shame, as well as Anguiſh and Pain.

Did Chriſt find Pleaſure in Abaſement and Torment, in ſuffering and dying for me, and can I find no Pleaſure in praying, hearing, meditating, and enjoying the ſweet Duties of Communion with him? Did he come ſo chearfully to die for me, and do I go ſo dead-heartedly to Prayers and Sacraments to enjoy Fellowſhip with him? Was it a Pleaſure to him to ſhed his Blood, and is it none to me to apply it, and reap the Benefits of it? Oh, Lord, what an Heart have I! How unſuitable is this Frame of Heart to the Nature of God, whoſe eſſential Excellencies make him the ſupreme Delight, the ſweet Repoſe, Solace, and Reſt of Souls! Pſal. 16. 11.

How unſuitable to the Principles of Regeneration and Holineſs, purpoſely planted in the Soul, to make ſpiritual Performances a Pleaſure to it!

How unſuitable to the future expected State of Glory, which brings the ſanctified Soul to a ſweet complacential Reſt and Satisfaction in God! In a word, how unſuitable is this Temper of Spirit to the Heart of Jeſus Chriſt! O, methinks I hear Chriſt thus expoſtulating with me this Day:

Is this thy Zeal and thy Delight in the Duties of Obedience? Is it rather the Awe of Conſcience than the Pleaſure of Communion that brings thee to this Duty? Doth thy hard Heart need ſo many Arguments to perſuade it, even to the ſweeteſt, eaſieſt, and moſt pleaſant Duties in Religion? Well, I did not love thee at that rate; my Heart readily eccho'd to the Father's Call, to die for thee, to drink the Dregs of the Cup of Trembling for thee: I come, I come, I delight to do thy will, thy law is in the midſt of my bowels.

2. Uſe of Exhortation.

If it be ſo, how great a Motive have the People of God before them, to make them apply themſelves with all Chearfulneſs and Readineſs of Mind to all the Duties of active and paſſive Obedience? O, let there be no more Grumblings, lazy Excuſes, Shiftings of Duty, or dead-hearted and liſtleſs Performances of them, after ſuch an Example as this. Be ready to do the Will of God; yea, be ye alſo ready to ſuffer it. Let the ſame Mind be in you, which alſo was in Chriſt Jeſus. The more Pleaſure and Delight you find in doing or ſuffering the Will of God, the more of Chriſt's Spirit is in you, and the more of his Image is upon you. Are not all holy Duties expreſſed in Scripture by the Saints walking with God? Gen. 17. 1. And is not this an Angelical Life? Can it be a Burden to the Ear to hear ſweet raviſhing Strains of Melody; or to the Eye, to behold Variety of pleaſant and lively Colours; or to the Palate, to reliſh the delicious Sweetneſs of Meats and Drinks?

Oh, Reader, were thy Heart more ſpiritual, more deeply ſanctified, and Heavenly, it would be no more Pain to thee to pray, hear, or meditate on the Things of God, than it is to a Bird to carry and uſe his own Wings; or to a Man, to eat the moſt pleaſant Food when he is an hungry. I have rejoiced (ſaith David) in the way of thy Commandments, as much as in all riches, Pſalm 119. 14.

And as to Sufferings for Chriſt, they ſhould not be grievous to Chriſtians, that know how chearfully Chriſt came from the Boſom of the Father to die for them. What have we to leave or loſe, in compariſon with him? What are our Sufferings to Chriſt's? Alas, there is no Compare; there was more Bitterneſs in one Drop of his Sufferings, than in a Sea of ours.

To conclude, Your Delight and Readineſs in the Paths of Obedience, is the very Meaſure of your Sanctification.

The Ninth MEDITATION,

UPON

Zechariah XII. Part of Ver. 10. And they ſhall look upon me, whom they have pierced; and they ſhall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only Son; and ſhall be in bitterneſs for him, as one that is in bitterneſs for his firſt-born.

THIS Promiſe is confeſſed to have a ſpecial Reſpect to the Jews Converſion to Chriſt: It was in part accompliſhed in the Apoſtles Days, Acts 2. 37. yet that was but a Specimen, or Handſel of what ſhall be, when the Body of that Nation ſhall be call'd.

But yet it cannot be denied, that all Chriſtians find the ſame piercing Sorrows, and wounding Senſe of Sin, when God awakens them by Convictions, and brings them to ſee the Evil of Sin, and the Grace of Chriſt, that is here expreſs'd concerning them at their Converſion.

The Words preſent us with Three very Remarkable Particulars in Evangelical Repentance; viz.

Firſt, The Spring and Principle of it.

Secondly, The Effects and Fruits of it.

Thirdly, The Depth and Meaſure of it.

Firſt, The Spring and Principle of Repentance, expreſs'd in theſe Words, They ſhall look upon me, whom they have pierced. This Looking upon Chriſt, is an Act of Faith; for ſo it is deſcrib'd in Scripture, Joh. 6. 40. Iſa. 45. 22. and it reſpects Chriſt crucified, as its proper Object: Yea, and that by them, not only as their Progenitors involv'd them in that Guilt, by entailing it on them, but as their own Sins were the meritorious Cauſe of his Death and Sufferings; They ſhall look upon me, whom they have pierced.

Secondly, The Effects and Fruits of ſuch an Aſpect of Faith upon Chriſt, is here alſo noted; They ſhall mourn, and be in bitterneſs: i. e. It ſhall melt and thaw them into godly Sorrow; it ſhall break their hard and ſtony Hearts to pieces: The Eye of Faith ſhall affect their Hearts. For indeed, Evangelical Sorrows, are hearty and undiſſembled Tears, dropping out of the Eye of Faith.

Thirdly, and laſtly; The Depth and Meaſure of their Sorrow is here likewiſe noted. And it is compar'd with the greateſt and moſt piercing Sorrows Men are acquainted with in this World, even the Sorrow of a tender-hearted Father, mourning over dead Son, yea, an only Son, and his Firſt-born; han which, no earthly Sorrow is more penetrating nd ſharp; Jer. 6. 26. Hence the Note will be, Doct. That the Sufferings of Chriſt are exceeding powerful, to melt Believers Hearts into godly Sorrow.

The Eye of Faith is a precious Eye; and accordng to its various Aſpects upon Chriſt, it produceth arious Effects upon the Hearts of Men. Eying hriſt as our compleat Righteouſneſs; ſo it pacifies nd quiets the Heart: Eying him as our Pattern; it directs and regulates our Actions: Eying him a Sacrifice offer'd up to Divine Juſtice for our ns; ſo it powerfully thaws the Heart, and melts e Affections.

By Meltings, I do not only underſtand Tears; as they only were expreſſive of all Spiritual Sorrow: r it is poſſible, the Waters of Sorrow may run p in the Heart, when the Eye cannot yield Drop.

There be Two Things in Repentance; Trouble, and Tears. The firſt is Eſſential, the laſt Contingent. The firſt flows from the Influence of Faith upon the Soul; the laſt much depends upon the Temper and Conſtitution of the Body. It is a Mercy, when our Tears can flow from an Heart fill'd with Sorrow for Sin, and Love to Chriſt; yet it often falls out, that there is an heavy Heart, where the Eyes are dry. But that there is Efficacy in Faith to melt the Heart, by looking upon the Sufferings of Chriſt for Sin, is undoubted: And how it becomes ſo powerful an Inſtrument to this End, I will ſhew you in the following Particulars.

Firſt, Faith eyes the Dignity of the Perſon of Chriſt, who was pierced for us; how Excellent and Glorious a Perſon he is. In the Captivity, it was for a Lamentation, that Princes were hanged up by the hands, and the faces of Elders were not reverenced, Lam. 5. 2. We read alſo the Lamentation of David, 2 Sam. 3. 38. as he followed Abner's Herſe: A Prince, and a great Man, is fallen in Iſrael to-day.

But what was Abner, and what were the Princes of Iſrael, to the Son of God? Lo here, by Faith, the Believer ſees the Prince of the Kings of the Earth, the Only-begotten of the Father, equal to God in Nature and Dignity, He whom all the Angels worſhip, hanging dead upon the Curſed Tree. Faith ſees Royal Blood, the Blood of God, pour'd out by the Sword of Juſtice, for Satisfaction and Reconciliation; and this cannot but deeply affect the believing Soul.

Secondly, Faith repreſents the Severity of Divine Juſtice to Jeſus Chriſt, and the Extremity of his Sufferings; and this Sight is a melting Sight.

The Apoſtle tells us, Gal. 3. 13. he was made Κατάρα, a Curſe and Execration for us. It relates to the Kind and Manner of his Death upon the Croſs, which was the Death of a Slave; ſervile ſupplicium: A Freeman was privileged from that Puniſhment. It looks upon, and well conſiders the ſad Plight and Condition Chriſt was in, in the Days of his Humiliation for us. It's ſaid of him, Matth. 26. 38. he was Περίλυπος, undequaque triſtis, ſurrounded with Griefs; exactly anſwerable to his Name, Iſa. 53. 3. a Man of Sorrow. Let him look which way he would, outward or inward, upward or downward, to Friends or Enemies; he could behold nothing but Sorrow, and what might increaſe his Miſery. Another Evangeliſt ſaith, he was ſore amazed; Mark 14. 33. Ἐκθαμβεῖσθαι: It notes ſuch a Conſternation, as makes the Hair of the Head ſtand upright; Horripilatio. A Third tells us, his Soul was troubled, John 12. 27. ἡ ψυχὴ μου τετάρακται; unde Tartarus, a Word from whence Hell is derived; and denoting the Anguiſh and Troubles of them that are in that Place of Torments.

And the Fourth tells us, he was in an Agony; Luke 22. 44. all expreſſing, in ſeveral emphatical Notions and Metaphors, the Extremity of Chriſt's Anguiſh and Torment. This cannot but greatly affect and break the Believer's Heart.

Thirdly, But then that which moſt affects the Heart, is Chriſt's undergoing all this, not only in love to us, but in our room and ſtead. He ſuffer'd not for any Evil he had done, for there was no Guile found in his Mouth, Iſa. 53. 4, 5. 1 Pet. 3. 18. It was for me, a vile, wretched, worthleſs Sinner. It was my Pride, my Earthlineſs, the hardneſs of my Heart, the corruption of my Nature, the innumerable Evils of my Life, that brought him down to the Duſt of Death: He was made ſin for us, who knew no ſin, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

Who can believingly eye Chriſt, as ſuffering ſuch Pains, ſuch Wrath, ſuch a Curſe, in the room of ſuch a Sinner, ſuch a Rebel, ſo undeſerving, and ſo ill-deſerving a Creature, and not mourn as for an only Son, and be in bitterneſs as for a firſt-born?

Fourthly, Faith melts the Heart by conſidering the Effects and Fruits of the Sufferings of Chriſt, what great things he hath purchas'd by his Stripes and Blood for poor Sinners; a full and final Pardon of Sin, a well ſettled Peace with God, a ſure Title and Right to the Eternal Inheritance; and all this for thee, a Law-condemn'd, a Self-condemn'd Sinner. Lord, what am I, that ſuch Mercies as theſe ſhould be purchas'd by ſuch a Price for me? for me, when Thouſands and Ten thouſands of ſweeter Diſpoſitions muſt burn in Hell for ever! Oh, what manner of Love is this!

Fifthly, Faith melts the Heart by exerting a threefold Act upon Chriſt crucified.

1*ſt*, A realizing Act, repreſenting all this in the greateſt Certainty and Evidence that can be. Theſe are no devis'd Fables, but the ſure and infallible Reports of the Goſpel.

2*dly*, An applying Act; he lov'd me, and gave himſelf for me, Gal. 2. 20. He lov'd us, and waſh'd us from our Sins in his own Blood, Rev. 1. 5.

3*dly*, and laſtly, By an inferring or reaſoning Act. If Chriſt died for me, then I ſhall never die: If his Blood were paid down for me, then my Sins, which are many, are forgiven me: If he was condemn'd in my room, I am acquitted, and ſhall be ſav'd from Wrath to come, through him. O how weighty do theſe Thoughts prove to believing Souls!

1 Uſe, for Information.

Then ſure there is but little Faith, becauſe there is ſo much deadneſs and unaffectedneſs among Profeſſors. A believing ſight of Chriſt will work upon a gracious Heart, as a dead Son, a beloved and only Son, uſes to do upon a tender Father's Heart.

Reader, was it ever thy ſad Lot to look upon ſuch an heart-rending Object? Didſt thou ever feel the Pangs and Commotions in thy Bowels that ſome have felt upon ſuch a ſight? Why ſo will thy Heart work towards Chriſt, if ever thou believingly look'ſt on him whom thou haſt pierced.

Infer. 2. Then the acting and exerciſing of Faith is the beſt Expedient to get a tender Heart, and raiſed the dead Affections.

We are generally full of Complaints how hard, how dead and ſtupid our Hearts are; we are often putting ſuch Caſes as theſe, How ſhall I get a broken Heart for Sin? How ſhall I raiſe my dead Heart in Duty? Why this is the way, no Expedient in all the World like this; Look upon him whom thou haſt pierced; 'tis the melting Argument.

2 Uſe, of Examination.

But that which I eſpecially aim at in this Point, is for the Trial and Examination of thy Heart, Reader, in the Point of true Evangelical Repentance, which is thy proper buſineſs at this time; and I will go no further than the Text for Rules to examine and try it by.

Rule 1. All Evangelical Repentance hath a ſupernatural Spring, I will pour out the Spirit of grace, and they ſhall mourn. 'Till the Spirit be poured out upon us, it is as eaſy to preſs Water out of a Rock, as to make our Hearts relent and mourn. There are indeed natural meltings, the Effects of an ingenuous Temper, but theſe differ in kind and nature from godly Sorrow.

Rule 2. Godly Sorrows are real, ſincere, and undiſſembled; They ſhall mourn, as for an only Son.

Parents need not any natural helps to draw Tears on ſuch Accounts; O! their very hearts are pierced, they could even die with them; Sighs, Groans, and Tears are not hang'd out as falſe Signs of what is not to be found in their Hearts.

Rule 3. Evangelical Sorrow is very deep; ſo much the mourning for an only Son, a firſt-born, muſt import. Theſe Waters, how ſtill ſoever they be, run deep, very deep, in the bottom Channel of the Soul. See Acts 2. 27. They were cut to the heart.

Rule 4. Faith is the Inſtrument employ'd in breaking the heart; They ſhall look and mourn. This is the Burning-glaſs that contracts the Beams, and fires the Affections.

Rule 5. Laſtly, the wrong Sin hath done to God, and the Sufferings it hath brought Chriſt under, are the piercing and heart-wounding Conſiderations: They ſhall look upon me whom they have pierced, and mourn. The piercing of Chriſt by our Sin, is that muſt pierce thy Soul with Sorrow.

The Tenth MEDITATION,

UPON

John VI. 55. For my Fleſh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

IN the Context our Lord Jeſus Chriſt makes a moſt ſpiritual and excellent Diſcourſe to the Jews, about the Nature and Neceſſity of Faith in him, taking the occaſion thereof from the Bread, which a little before he had ſo miraculouſly multiplied, and fed them with, raiſing up their Minds to more ſublime and ſpiritual Things, and letting them know that Bread, how ſweet ſoever it was, was but a Shadow of himſelf, infinitely more ſweet and neceſſary.

Theſe Words are a Propoſition, in which are theſe three Things obſervable. Firſt

First, The Subject; My Flesh, and my Blood.
Secondly, The Predicate; It is Meat and Drink.
Thirdly, The Manner of Predication; It's Meat indeed, and Drink indeed.

First, The Subject, My Flesh, and my Blood, i. e. my Humanity; This is Meat and Drink, true Spiritual Food. If it be demanded, Why he had not said, I am Meat and Drink indeed; but rather chuses to say, my Flesh and Blood is so? The Reason is evident, saith Learned Camero; because if you take away Flesh and Blood from Christ, he cannot be Food or Life to us: For in order to his being so, he must satisfy God for us, and obtain the Remission of our Sins; but without Shedding of Blood, there is no Remission. Now forasmuch as by the offering up of his Body, and Shedding of his Blood, he hath obtained Pardon and Life for us; therefore his Flesh and Blood, is call'd our Meat and our Drink, that by which our Souls live. Which brings us to the Second Thing:

Secondly, The Predicate; It is Meat and Drink: i. e. It is to our Souls of the same Use and Necessity, that Meat and Drink is to our Natural Life, which cannot be sustained, or continued without them.

The Life of our Souls as necessarily depends upon the Flesh and Blood of Christ, as our Natural Life doth upon Meat and Drink. Yet beware of a Mistake here: The Flesh and Blood, or the Humanity of Christ, is not the Fountain of our Spiritual Life, but the Channel rather, thro' which it flows to us from his Divinity. By reason of his Incarnation and Death, Righteousness and Life comes to us.

Thirdly, The Manner of Predication is very emphatical; it is Meat indeed, and Drink indeed. Which notes Two Things:

First, Reality, in Opposition to all Legal Shadows and Types.

Secondly, Transcendent Excellency, far surpassing all other Food, even Manna it self, which, for its Excellency, is stiled Angels Food. My Flesh is Meat indeed; i. e. true, substantial, and real Food to Souls, and choice, excellent, and incomparable Food. Hence observe, Doct. That what Meat and Drink is to our Bodies, that, and much more than that, the Flesh and Blood of Christ is to Believing Souls.

Two Things require Explication in this Point. First, Wherein the Resemblance, or Agreement lies, betwixt the Flesh and Blood of Christ, and Meat and Drink? Secondly, Wherein the former transcends, and excels the latter?

1. Query. Wherein lies the Resemblance and Agreement, between the Flesh and Blood of Christ, and material Meat and Drink?

Sol. The Agreement is manifest in the following Particulars.

First, Meat and Drink is necessary to support Natural Life; we cannot live without it. Upon this Account, Bread is call'd the Staff and Stay; i. e. the Support of the Natural Spirits, which do as much lean and depend upon it, as a feeble Man doth upon his Staff; Isa. 3. 1. But yet how necessary soever it be, the Flesh and Blood of Christ is more indispensibly necessary for the Life of our Souls; Joh. 6. 53. Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink his blood, ye have no Life in you. Our Souls have more absolute Need of Peace and Pardon by Christ, than our Bodies have of Meat and Drink. Better our Bodies were starved and famished, than our Souls damned and lost for ever.

Secondly, Meat and Drink are ever most sweet and desirable, to those that are hungry and thirsty. It is Hunger and Thirst, that gives Value and Estimation to Meat and Drink; Prov. 27. 7. To the hungry Soul, every bitter thing is sweet: And so it is in our Esteem of Christ; Job 7. 37. If any man thirst, let him come to me, and drink. When God, by Illumination and Conviction, makes Men deeply sensible of their miserable, lost, and perishing Condition; then Ten Thousand Worlds for a Christ. All is but Dung and Dross, in Comparison of the Excellency of Christ Jesus.

Thirdly, Meat and Drink must undergo an Alteration, and lose its own Form, before it actually nourishes the Body. The Corn is ground to pieces in the Mill, before it be made Bread to nourish us. And Christ must be ground betwixt the upper and nether Milstone of the Wrath of God, and Malice of Men, to be made Bread for our Souls. The Prophet saith, Isa. 52. 14. His Visage is marred more than any Man's. He did not look like himself, the Beauty and Glory of Heaven; but the Reproach of Men, and despised of the People. Oh what an Alteration did his Incarnation and Sufferings make upon him! Phil. 2. 6, 7. Quantum mutatus ab illo?

Fourthly, Natural Food must be received into our Bodies, and have a Natural Union with them; and Christ must be received into our Souls, and have a Spiritual Union with them by Faith; or else we can have no Nourishment, or Benefit by him. An empty Profession, a mere talkative Religion, nourishes the inner Man, just as much as the Sight of Meat, and our commending of it, doth our outward Man. It's Christ's dwelling in our Hearts by Faith, Eph. 3. 17. our Receiving of him, Joh. 1. 12. our Eating his Flesh, and Drinking his Blood, Joh. 6. 53. i. e. The effectual Application of Christ to our Souls by Faith, that makes us Partakers of his Benefits.

Fifthly, Meat and Drink must be taken every Day, or else Natural Life will languish; and Spiritual Life will never be comfortably maintain'd in us, without daily Communion with Jesus Christ. If a gracious Soul neglect, or be interrupted in its Course of Duties, and stated Times of Prayer; it will be quickly discernible by the Christian himself, in the Deadness of his own Heart; and by others also, in the Barrenness of his Discourses. And in these Things stands the Analogy, and Agreement of the Flesh and Blood of Christ, with Meat and Drink.

2. Query. The next Thing, is to open the transcendent Excellency of Christ's Flesh and Blood, above all other Food in the World. And this appears in Four Particulars.

First, This Flesh and Blood was assumed into the nearest Union with the Second Person in the Blessed Trinity, and so is not only dignified above all other created Beings, but becomes the first Receptacle of all Grace, intended to be communicated thro' it to the Children of Men; John 1. 14.

Secondly, This Flesh and Blood of Christ was offered up to God, as the great Sacrifice for our Sins, and Purchase of our Peace; Col. 1. 20. Eph. 5. 2: and so it is of inestimable Price and Value to Believers. The Human Nature was the Altar on which it was offer'd up, and by which it was dignified and sanctified, and made an Offering of a Sweet-smelling Savour to God; Eph. 5. 2.

Thirdly, This Flesh and Blood of Christ, is the great Medium of Conveyance of all Blessings and Mercies to the Souls and Bodies of Believers. It lies as a vaſt Pipe at the Fountain-Head of Bleſſings, receiving and conveying them from God to Men; Col. 1. 14, 19.

as

So then, it being united to the Second Perſon, and ſo become the Fleſh and Blood of God; it being the Sacrifice, offered up to God for Atonement and Remiſſion of Sins, and the Medium of conveying all Grace and Mercy from God the Fountain, to the Souls and Bodies of Believers; how ſweet a Reliſh muſt it have upon the Palate of Faith? Here Faith may taſte the Sweetneſs of a Pardon; a full, free, and final Pardon of Sin, than which, nothing in this World can be ſweeter to a Sin-burdened Conſcience.

Here it taſtes the incomparable Sweetneſs of Peace with God, a Peace which paſſeth Underſtanding: The Breach Sin made, is by this Sacrifice made up for ever; Col. 1. 20.

Here it taſtes the unexpreſſible Sweetneſs of Acceptation with God, and an Intereſt in his Favour; a Mercy, which a poor convinced Soul would give Ten Thouſand Worlds for, were it to be purchaſed. Yea, here it reliſheth all the ſweet Promiſes in the Covenant of Grace, as confirmed and ratified by this Sacrifice; Heb. 9. 5. So that well might he ſay, My Fleſh is Meat indeed, and my Blood is Drink indeed; the moſt excellent New Teſtament Food for Believers.

I. Uſe of Information.

Firſt, See here the Love of a Saviour, that Heavenly Pelican, who feeds us with his own Fleſh and Blood. You read, Lam. 4. 10. of pitiful Women, who eat the Fleſh of their own Children; but where have you read of Men or Women, that gave their own Fleſh and Blood, for Meat and Drink to their Children? Think on this, you that are ſo loth to deny your Fleſh for Chriſt: He ſuffer'd his Fleſh to be rent, and his Blood ſet abroach for you: What Love like the Love of Chriſt!

Secondly, Learn hence a Ground of Content, in the loweſt and pooreſt Condition allotted to any Believer in this World. It may be, ſome of you live low in the World; you have hard Fare, and are abridg'd of many of thoſe ſweet Comforts in the Creature, which the Enemies of God abound in: But ſtill remember, you have no Cauſe to envy their Dainties, and be diſſatisfied with your own Lot and Portion; when not many Nobles, or Mighty in the World, feed as your Souls do feed. O what a Feaſt have you! What Dainties do your Souls taſte by Faith; whilſt others do but feed upon Aſhes and Husks! What is the Fleſh of Lambs, and Calves out of the Stall, to the Fleſh of Chriſt? Amos 6. 4, 5, 6. What is Wine in Bowls, and the chief Ointment, to the Blood of Chriſt, and the Anointings of his Spirit? O be ſatisfied with your outward Lot, however God hath caſt it, whilſt he hath dealt ſo bountifully with your Souls.

Thirdly, Learn hence the Neceſſity of Faith, in order to the Livelihood and Subſiſtance of our Souls. What is a Feaſt to him that cannot taſte it? And what is Chriſt, to him that cannot believe? That cannot, by Faith, eat his Fleſh, and drink his Blood?

'Tis not the Preparation made for Souls in Chriſt, but the Application of him by Faith, that gives us the Sweetneſs and Benefit of him. Faith is the Soul's Mouth, or Palate: The Unbeliever taſtes no Sweetneſs in Chriſt; he can reliſh more Sweetneſs in Money, Meat, Drink, carnal Mirth, or any ſenſual Enjoyment, than in Chriſt.

Fourthly, How excellent are Goſpel-Ordinances? What Sweetneſs is there to be found in them by true Believers? For there Chriſt is prepar'd, and as it were, ſerv'd in for them to feed upon. It is your Miniſter's Work, to cook and prepare for you all the Week long, and to furniſh for you a Feaſt of Fat Things. Lo here's a Table ſpread and furniſhed this Day, with the coſtlieſt Dainties that Heaven affords! O prize theſe Mercies: Sit not here with flat, or wanton Appetites, leſt God call to your Enemies, and bid them take away.

II. Uſe of Exhortation.

Is the Fleſh and Blood of Chriſt Meat and Drink indeed? Then let me exhort you, Brethren, Firſt, To come to this Table with ſharp and hungry Appetites. Have you ever taſted, that the Lord is gracious? And do you not hunger and thirſt, to taſte it again? Surely where the Carcaſe is, thither will the Eagles be gather'd; Matth. 24. 28. There is a two-fold Appetite; a dainty, and an hungry Appetite. Beware of a nice and dainty Appetite, that can reliſh nothing in the moſt ſolid and ſpiritual Duties, except the Diſh be garniſh'd with Flowers of Rhetorick, or the Matter ſerv'd in with Art and Elegancy. This hath been the great Sin of the Profeſſors of this Generation. O Chriſtians! no more of that I pray you. Were you really an hungred and a-thirſt for Chriſt, you would come to his Ordinances, as famiſhing Men to a Feaſt.

Secondly, To feed heartily upon Chriſt, in every Ordinance, and in every Sacrament eſpecially. O that your Souls might hear, and anſwer that Invitation this Day! Cant. 5. 1. Eat, O Friends: Drink, yea, drink abundantly, O Beloved.

For Motives, I will only hint theſe Three following.

Firſt, Chriſt is the Matter of the Feaſt. God hath prepar'd him for your Souls. Is any Thing in Heaven or Earth ſo ſweet, as Chriſt ſacrificed is? Do not the Angels and Saints in Heaven feaſt upon him? Surely one Drop of Chriſt's Blood hath more Sweetneſs and Excellency in it, than the whole Ocean of all Creature-Comforts.

Secondly, Don't your Graces need it? Have you not a languiſhing Love, a ſtaggering Faith, dull and ſluggiſh Deſires? Look into your Hearts, and ſee what need there is of ſtrengthening the Things that are in you, which are ready to die. O feed upon Chriſt, that your Graces may be revived and ſtrengthned.

Thirdly, Do you know how many Days you are to go, in the Strength of this Meal? How long it may be, e're you ſit again at the Lord's-Table? Surely even theſe, as well as your inferior Temporal Comforts, ſtand upon Terms of greateſt Uncertainty. Ah Chriſtians! Conſider well the Times you live in, the Enemy that ſtands ready to take away the Cloth, and remove your Spiritual Food from you. It's ſaid of Peter Martyr, that being in Oxford when Queen Mary came, and hearing the firſt Maſs-Bell ring; he was ſtruck to the Heart, and ſaid, Hæc una notula omnem meam doctrinam evertit: This one tinkling Bell overthrows all the Labours of my Miniſtry at once.

God grant we may hear none of that Muſick in England any more; but it's like to be, according to your Eſtimation and Improvement of Chriſt's precious Ordinances.

Thirdly, Commend the experienc'd Sweetneſs of Chriſt to others. Don't conceal his Lovelineſs and Excellency. Thus the fair and enamour'd Spouſe charges, or

or adjures others ; Cant. 5. 9. Be not content to feaſt upon Chriſt alone, whilſt other Souls are ſtarving, and perhaps the Souls of your dear Natural Relations. Say to them, as David, Pſal. 34. 8. O taſte and ſee, how good the Lord is !

Fourthly, and Laſtly ; See that your Appetite to Chriſt be right, and truly ſpiritual. Such an Hunger and Thirſt, upon which Bleſſedneſs is entailed by Promiſe. And you may conclude it ſo, when, Firſt, It is a ſharp and ſtrong Appetite ; Pſal. 42. 1. Let your Thoughts run upon Chriſt night and day, like the Deſires of a longing Woman.

Secondly, When 'tis an univerſal Appetite, after every thing in Chriſt ; his Holineſs, as well as his Righteouſneſs ; his Commands, as well as his Promiſes ; for he is altogether lovely, Cant. 5. 16.

Thirdly, When 'tis a continued Appetite. I mean not, that the Pulſe of your Deſires ſhould keep an even Stroke at all times ; but that there be real and ſincere Workings of Heart after him always ; Pſal. 119. 23.

Fourthly, When 'tis an induſtrious Appetite, awakening the Soul to the Uſe of all Means, and Practice of all Duties, in order to Satisfaction ; Pſal. 27. 4. One thing have I deſired of the Lord, and that will I ſeek after.

Fifthly, and Laſtly ; It's then aright, when 'tis an inſatiable Appetite, never to be allay'd with any Thing beſide Chriſt ; Pſal. 73. 29. no, nor with Chriſt himſelf, till thou comeſt to the full Enjoyment of him in Heaven. The Believer knows, how ſweet ſoever his Communion he ſhall have with Chriſt is in this World, yet that Communion he ſhall have with Chriſt in Heaven, far excels it : There it will be more intimate and immediate, 1 Cor. 19. 12. more full and perfect, even to Satisfaction, Pſal. 17. 15. more conſtant and continued, not ſuffering ſuch Interruptions as it doth here, Rev. 21. 25. more pure and unmixed. Here our Corruptions work with our Graces, Rom. 7. 21. but there Grace ſhall work alone : In a word, more durable and perpetual ; We ſhall be ever with the Lord, 1 Theſ. 4. 7. Long therefore to drink that new Wine in the Father's Kingdom. The Spirit and the Bride ſay, Come ; and let him that heareth, ſay, Come. Even ſo come, Lord Jeſus ; come quickly !

The Eleventh MEDITATION,

UPON

Canticles VIII. 6. Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm : For Love is ſtrong as Death ; Jealouſy is cruel as the Grave : The Coals thereof are Coals of Fire, which hath a moſt vehement Flame.

THis Book is a Sacred Allegory ; the Senſe thereof is deep and ſpiritual. Our Unacquaintedneſs with ſuch Schemes and Figures of Speech, together with the want of Spiritual Light and Experience, makes it difficult to be underſtood ; but the Allegory being once unfolded, by reaſon of its Affinity with the Fancy, Truth is more eaſily and affectingly tranſmitted, both to the Mind and Heart.

St. Auguſtin aſſigns this Reaſon, why we are ſo much delighted with Metaphors and Allegories ; becauſe they are ſo much proportioned to our Senſes, with which our Reaſon hath contracted an Intimacy and Familiarity : And therefore God, to accommodate his Truth to our Capacity, doth, as it were, embody it in earthly Expreſſions ; according to that of the Ancient Cabaliſts, Lumen ſupremum nunquam deſcendit ſine indumento ; Heavenly Truth never deſcendeth to us without its Veil and Covering.

The Words before us, are the Requeſt of the Spouſe to Jeſus Chriſt ; and conſiſt of Two Parts ; viz.

1. Her Suit ; which is earneſt.
2. Her Argument ; which is weighty.

1. Her earneſt Suit, or Requeſt, to Jeſus Chriſt ; Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, as a Seal upon thine Arm. The Heart of Chriſt notes his moſt dear, inward, tender Affection ; his Arm notes his protecting and preſerving Care and Power. The laſt naturally follows the firſt ; what Men dearly affect, they tenderly and carefully protect. And by ſetting her as a Seal upon his Heart and Arm, ſhe means aſſure and a well-confirmed Intereſt, both in his Love and Power ; this ſhe would have firmly ſealed and ratified : And that this is her Meaning, will plainly appear from

The Argument with which ſhe enforces her Requeſt : For Love is ſtrong as Death ; Jealouſy is cruel as the Grave, &c.

By Jealouſy, we muſt underſtand her Fears and Suſpicions of coming ſhort of Chriſt and his Love. q. d. What if after all I ſhould be deceived ? What if Jeſus Chriſt do not love me with a ſpecial Love ? O theſe Fears and Suſpicions are intolerable Torments to her ; ſhe cannot bear them : They are cruel as the Grave ; inſufferable as Coals of Fire, which have a moſt vehement Flame. q. d. Lord, if thou leave me in the midſt of theſe Jealouſies of thy Love, I ſhall be but a Torment to my ſelf : I ſhall live as one upon the Rack, or in the Flames. Hence the Note is,

Doct. That there is nothing in this World, which true Chriſtians more earneſtly deſire, than to be well aſſured and ſatisfied of the Love of Jeſus Chriſt to their Souls.

In the Meditations of this Point, Two Things muſt be enquired into :

1. Why this Aſſurance is ſo deſirable.
2. How it may be obtained.

1. Why the Aſſurance of the Love of Chriſt, is ſo deſirable in the Eyes of true Chriſtians. And among others, there are Two Things that eſpecially make it ſo ; viz.

1. The Sweetneſs of its Enjoyment.
2. The Difficulty of its Attainment.

The

The Sweetneſs of its Enjoyment, which is unexpreſſible, and inconceivable; for it is a Mercy above all Eſtimation. It is,

1. The Riches of Faith.
2. The Reſt and Eaſe of the Heart.
3. The Pleaſure of Life.
4. A Cordial at Death.
5. A ſweet Support in all Troubles.

1. It is the very Riches of Faith, the moſt pleaſant Fruit which grows upon the Top Branches of Faith. The Scripture tells us of an Aſſurance of Underſtanding, Hope, and Faith. All theſe Graces are precious in themſelves; but the Aſſurance of each of them, is the moſt ſweet and pleaſant Part. Knowledge above Knowledge, is the full Aſſurance of Knowledge: Hope above Hope, is the full Aſſurance of Hope: And Faith above Faith, is the full Aſſurance of Faith. The leaſt and loweſt Act of Saving Faith is precious, and above all Value; what then muſt the higheſt and moſt excellent Acts of Faith be? Certainly, there is a Sweetneſs in the Aſſurance of Faith, that few Men have the Privilege to taſte; and they that do, can find no Words able to expreſs it to another's Underſtanding. The weakeſt Chriſtian is exalted above other Men; but the aſſured Chriſtian hath a Preference before all other Chriſtians.

2. It is Heart's Eaſe; the very Sabbath, and ſweet Repoſe of the Soul. Thouſands of poor Chriſtians would part with all they poſſeſs in this World, to enjoy it; but it flies from them. The Life that moſt of them live, is a Life betwixt Hopes and Fears; their Intereſt in Chriſt is very doubtful to them. Sometimes they are encouraged, from ſenſible Workings of Grace; then all is daſhed again, by the contrary Stirrings and Workings of their own Corruptions. Now the Sun ſhines out clear; by and by the Heavens are overcaſt and clouded again: But the aſſured Chriſtian is at reſt, from thoſe tormenting Fears and Jealouſies which my Text ſpeaks of, that are as cruel as the Grave, and as inſufferable as Coals of Fire in a Man's Boſom. He can take Chriſt into the Arms of Faith, and ſay, My beloved is mine, and I am his. Return to thy Reſt, O my Soul, for the Lord hath dealt bountifully with thee!

3. It is the Pleaſure of Life; yea, the moſt rational, pure, and tranſporting Pleaſure. What is Life without Pleaſure? And what Pleaſure is there in the World, comparable to this Pleaſure? For let the ſealed and aſſured Believer conſider, and compare; and he muſt needs find a Joy and Pleaſure, beyond the Joy of the whole Earth. If he conſider well what he is aſſured of, it is no common Mercy, but Chriſt himſelf, and his Love; a Mercy incomprehenſible by Men or Angels; Epheſ. 3. 19. Put Chriſt into the ſenſible Poſſeſſion of a Believer, and Joy is no more under his Command for that Time: He can no more refuſe to rejoice, than he that is tickled can forbear to laugh; and eſpecially when his Thoughts are exercis'd in comparing States and Conditions, either his own with other Mens, or his own now with what it was, and what it ſhall be. To think with thy ſelf thus; I am aſſur'd of Chriſt, and his Love; my Intereſt in him is ſealed; but this is a Mercy few enjoy beſides me. There be Millions of Souls of equal Value with mine by Nature, that ſhall never enjoy ſuch a Mercy as this. Yea, the Time was, when I my ſelf was far from it, in my unregenerate State. Lord, how is it I had not then been ſeal'd to Damnation? O, 'tis well with me for the preſent, that I can call Chriſt my own; and yet it will be better and better: My Condition will mend every Day. I am now in Chriſt; and it is but a little while, before I ſhall be with Chriſt, and arrive at the full Satisfaction of my very Heart. O, what Pleaſure doth every Glance, backward or forward, give to the ſealed Soul!

4. It is a Cordial in Death; and there is none like it. This will make the Soul triumph over the Grave, take Death chearfully by the cold Hand, welcome its grim Meſſengers, and long to be gone, and be with Chriſt. Dark and doubting Chriſtians may indeed ſhrink back from it, and be afraid of the Exchange; but the aſſured Soul longs to be gone, and needs Patience to live, as other Men do to die. When one was ask'd, if he were willing to die? His Anſwer was, Illius eſt nolle mori, qui nolit ire ad Chriſtum; Let him be loth to die, that is loth to go to Chriſt. The Sugar of Aſſurance ſweetens the bitter Cup of Death, and makes it delectable to a Believer's Reliſh.

5. In a word, it is a ſweet Support, in all the Troubles and Afflictions on this Side the Grave. Let the aſſured Soul be caſt into what Condition the Lord pleaſes; be it upon a Bed of Sickneſs; yet this gives his Soul ſuch Support and Comfort, that he ſhall not ſay, I am ſick. Sin being forgiven, the Soul is well, when the Body is in Pain. Iſa. 33. 24. Let him be caſt into a Priſon, here's that will turn a Priſon into a Paradiſe; Acts 5. 41. Let him be pinch'd with outward Want; this will ſupply all: As having nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all things, 2 Cor. 6. 10. Thus you ſee, how deſirable it is for its own Excellency.

2. And as it is deſirable for the Sweetneſs of its own Enjoyment, ſo alſo from the Difficulty of its Attainment. All Excellencies are lock'd up under many Difficulties; but none like this. It is indeed eaſy to preſume an Intereſt in Chriſt, and cheat a Man's own Soul with a Dream and Fancy of our own Creation; but ſure it's hard, to get a Sealed, Clear Title to Chriſt, and his Benefits. And there be, among others, Three Things that make it difficult.

(1.) The Corruptions that remain, and daily work in the beſt Hearts; theſe are evermore puzzling and ſcaring the poor Soul, with Fears and Doubts about its Condition. Grace teacheth Men due Severity to themſelves; and Fear of their own Deceitfulneſs, makes them think no Hearts are like their Hearts; eſpecially whilſt they compare other Mens Outſide with their own Inſide, as generally they do. Oh, how do our own Corruptions every Moment raiſe Miſts and Clouds, that it is a wonder we ever ſhould have one clear Beam of Aſſurance ſhining into ſuch Hearts, as our Hearts are!

(2.) The Multitudes of Miſtakes and Cheats, that are frequently committed, and found in this Matter, makes upright Hearts the more ſuſpicious and doubtful of their own Conditions. O when they read, Matth. 7. 22. that many will ſay to Chriſt in that Day, Lord, we have propheſied in thy name, &c. it ſcares them, leſt they alſo be deceived!

(3.) The grand Importance of the Matter, makes poor Souls fearful of concluding certainly about it. O when a Man conſiders, that the whole Weight of his Eternal Happineſs or Miſery, depends upon the Reſolution of theſe Queſtions, Am I in Chriſt or am I not? it will make him tremble to determine! In a word, Aſſurance is not in our Power, or at our Command. There be many holy, humble, diligent and longing Souls, to whom 'tis denied

It

It is arbitrarily diſpens'd by the Pleaſure of the Spirit, to whom he will; and ſuch Favours are rare, even among true Believers; the more therefore is it to be valued and deſired by all, as the Spouſe doth in this place. And ſo much to the firſt Thing; Upon what Account, the Aſſurance of Chriſt's Love is ſo deſirable in the Eyes of Chriſtians.

2. In the laſt place, let us conſider, how this Mercy, which is ſo deſirable, may be obtain'd: And this is our proper Work and Buſineſs at this Time.

You are now come to a Sealing Ordinance, inſtituted on purpoſe for this Noble End and Uſe. O that we could pray and plead for it, as the Spouſe here doth! Set me as a Seal upon thine Heart, a Seal upon thine Arm: For Love is ſtrong as Death; Jealouſy is cruel as the Grave, &c. Now, in order to the Attainment of this moſt deſirable Mercy, take a few neceſſary Hints of your preſent Work and Duty, in the following Directions.

Direction I.

Would you be well ſecur'd of Chriſt's Love to you, and that you are ſet as a Seal upon his Heart? Then exerciſe and manifeſt more Love to Chriſt, and let him be much upon your Hearts. If it be clear to you, that you have true Love to Jeſus Chriſt, you need not at all to doubt, but you are in his Heart, and in his Love: I love them that love me, Prov. 1. 17. And ſurely you have now before you the greateſt Motive in the World, to inflame your Love to Jeſus Chriſt. Behold him as he is here repreſented to you, wounded for your Iniquities; yea, ſacrific'd to the Wrath of God, for your Peace, Pardon, and Salvation! O what manner of Love is this! Behold, how he loved thee! If Chriſt's Love draw forth thine, it will ſo far clear thy Intereſt in his Love, as it ſhall engage thy Heart in Love to him.

Direction II.

But ſeeing the Activity of your Love will be according to the Activity of your Faith; therefore, in the next place, I adviſe you, to make it the main Work and Buſineſs of this Hour, to exerciſe your Faith upon Jeſus Chriſt. Set your ſelves this Day to believe: The more ſtrong the direct Acts of your Faith ſhall be, the more clear and comfortable its Reflex Acts are like to be.

There are Three diſtinct Offices, or Employments for your Faith, at this Table; viz.

1. To realize,
2. To apply,
3. To infer from, the Sufferings of Jeſus Chriſt.

1. Realize the Sufferings of Chriſt for you, and behold them here repreſented in a true Glaſs to the Eye of Faith. See you that Bread broken, and that Wine pour'd out? As ſure as this is ſo, Jeſus Chriſt endur'd the Croſs, ſuffer'd the Wrath of the Great and Terrible God, in his Soul, and in his Body upon the curſed Tree, for, and in the room of poor condemn'd Sinners. Your Faith for the one hath as much, yea, more Certainty, than your Senſe hath for the other. This is a faithful ſaying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Jeſus Chriſt came into the world to ſave Sinners; 1 Tim. 1. 15. And without controverſy, great is the myſtery of Godlineſs; God was manifeſt in the fleſh, &c. 1 Tim. 3. 16.

2. Apply the Sufferings of Chriſt this Day to thine own Soul: Believe all this to be done and ſuffer'd in thy Room, and for thy Sake. He offer'd not this Sacrifice for his own Sins, but ours; Iſa. 53. 9. Heb. 7. 27. He was incarnate for you; Iſa. 9. 6. For us a Child is born; to us a Son is given. His Death was for you, and in your Stead, Gal. 3. 13. He was made a Curſe for us; and when he roſe from the dead, he roſe for our juſtification; Rom. 4. 25. And now he is in Glory, at the Right Hand of God, he is there for us; Heb. 7. 25. He ever lives, to make interceſſion for us. It was the Pride, Paſſion, Earthlineſs, and Unbelief of thy Heart, which Jeſus Chriſt groan'd, bled, and died to procure a Pardon for.

3. Infer from the Sufferings of Chriſt, thoſe Concluſions of Faith that tend to Aſſurance. As thus: Did Chriſt die for me, when I was an Enemy? Then ſurely, being reconcil'd, I ſhall be ſav'd by his Life; Rom. 5. 10. Again; Is Chriſt dead for me? Then I ſhall never die eternally. Nothing ſhall ſeparate me from the Love of God; it is Chriſt that died. Rom. 8. 34.

Direction III.

Mourn over all thoſe Sins, that cauſe the Lord to hide his Face from your Souls. Have you grieved the Spirit by your Sins? O be griev'd for it this Day at your very Hearts; cover the Table of the Lord with Tears: Look upon him whom you have pierced, and mourn, as for an only Son. Tho' there be no Merit, yet there is much Mercy in a broken Heart for Sin; and there is no ſuch Advantage to get your Hearts broken, as this is, which is now before you. When the Shower of Repentance is fallen, the Heavens over thee may be clear, and the Sun ſhine out in its Brightneſs upon thy Soul.

Direction IV.

In a word; Pour out thy Soul to God, in hearty Deſires, for a Seal'd and Clear Intereſt in his Love this Day: Tell him, it is a Mercy thou valueſt above Life; Thy favour is better than life, Pſal. 63. 3. Tell him, thou art not able to live with the Jealouſies and Suſpicions of his Love; thou art but a Torment to thy ſelf, whilſt thy Intereſt in his Love abides under a Cloud. Beſeech him to pity thy poor afflicted Soul, which hath lain down and riſen ſo long with theſe Fears and Tremblings, and been a Stranger to Comfort for ſo many Days. Tell him, how weak thy Hands have been, and ſtill are, in Duties of Obedience, for want of this Strength and Encouragement. Engage thy Soul to him this Day, to be more active, chearful, and fruitful in his Service; if it will pleaſe him now, to free thee from thoſe Fears and Doubts, that have clogg'd thee in all thy former Duties. O, cry unto him in the Words, and with the deep Senſe of the Spouſe in this Text; Set me as a Seal upon thy Heart, (which hath a moſt vehement Heat,) as a Seal upon thine Arm: For Love is ſtrong as Death; Jealouſy is cruel as the Grave; the Coals thereof are Coals of Fire, &c.

The Twelfth MEDITATION,

UPON

Epheſians 3. 19.----And to know the Love of Chriſt, which paſſeth knowledge.

THE Knowledge of Chriſt, and of his Love, is deſervedly in this Place ſet down among the Deſiderata Chriſtianorum, the moſt deſirable Enjoyments of Believers in this World. This Love of Chriſt had center'd the Apoſtle's Heart; he was ſwallow'd up in the Meditation and Admiration of it, and would have all Hearts inflamed and affected with it, as his was.

Some think the Apoſtle ſpeaks extatically in this place, and knows not how to make the Parts of his Diſcourſe conſiſtent with each other, when he puts them upon Endeavours to know that Love of Chriſt, which himſelf confeſſes to paſs Knowledge.

But tho' his Heart was raviſh'd with the Love of Chriſt, yet there is no Contradiction or Inconſiſtency in his Diſcourſe. He doth earneſtly deſire for the Epheſians, that they may know the Love of Chriſt; i. e. that they might experimentally know his Love, which paſſeth knowledge: That is, as ſome expound it, all other Kinds of Knowledge; yea, and all Knowledge of Chriſt, which is not practical and experimental. Or thus: Labour to get the cleareſt and fulleſt apprehenſive Knowledge of Chriſt, and his Love, that is attainable in this World, tho' you cannot arrive to a perfect comprehenſive Knowledge of either. Mens humana hoc & capit, & non capit; atque in eo capit, quod rapitur in admirationem; as others reconcile it.

The Note from it is,

> Doct. That the Love of Chriſt ſurpaſſes, and tranſcends, the Knowledge of the moſt Illuminated Believers.

The Love of Chriſt is too deep for any Created Underſtanding to fathom; it is unſearchable Love, and it is ſo in divers Reſpects.

1. It is unſearchable, in reſpect of its Antiquity. No Underſtanding of Man can trace it back to its firſt Spring; it flows from one Eternity to another. We receive the Fruits and Effects of it now; but, O how ancient is that Root that bears them! He loved us before this World was made, and will continue ſo to do, when it ſhall be reduced into Aſhes. It is ſaid, Prov. 8. 30, 31. When he gave the Sea his decree, when he appointed the foundations of the Earth: Then was I by him, as one brought up with him; and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him: Rejoicing in the habitable Parts of his Earth, and my delights were with the Sons of men.

2. The Freeneſs of the Love of Chriſt paſſes Knowledge. No Man knows, nor can any Words expreſs, how free the Love of Chriſt to his People is: It is ſaid, Iſa. 55. 8. My thoughts are not your thoughts. The Meaning is, My Grace, Mercy, and Love to you, is one Thing, as it is in my Thoughts, and quite another Thing, when it comes into your Thoughts. In my Thoughts, it is like it ſelf, free, rich, and unchangable; but in your Thoughts it is limited and narrowed, pinch'd in within your ſtrait and narrow Conceptions; that it is not like it ſelf, but alter'd according to the Model and Platform of Creatures, according to which you draw it in your Minds. Alas! we do but alter and ſpoil his Love, when we think there is any thing in us, or done by us, that can be a Motive, Inducement, or Recompence to it. His Love is ſo free, that it pitch'd it ſelf upon us, before we had any Lovelineſs in us at all: When we were in our blood, he ſaid unto us, Live; and that was the Time of Love. It did not ſtay till we had our Ornaments upon us; but embraced us in our Blood, in our moſt loathſome State; and of Seaſons, that is the Seaſon of Love, the choſen Time of Love, Ezek. 16. 7, 8. Chriſt loved us, not upon the Account of any foreſeen Excellency in us, or upon any Expectation of Recompence from us: Nay, he lov'd us not only without, but againſt our Deſerts. Nothing in Nature is found ſo free, as the Love of Chriſt is; our Thoughts therefore of this Love going beyond all Examples and Inſtances, that are found among Men, quickly loſe themſelves in an immenſe Ocean of Free Grace, where they can find neither Bank nor Bottom.

The Bounty and Liberality of the Love of Chriſt to his People, paſſeth Knowledge. Who can number, or value the Fruits of his Love? They are more than the Sands upon the Sea-ſhore. It would weary the Arm of an Angel, to write down the Thouſandth Part of the Effects of his Love, which come to the Share of any particular Chriſtian in this World. Who can tell how many Sins it pardons? The free gift is of many offences unto juſtification; Rom. 5. 16. how many Dangers it prevents; or how many Wants it ſupplies? This we know, that of his fulneſs we all receive grace for grace; John 1. 16. But how full of Grace Chriſt is, and how many Mercies have, and ſhall flow to us out of that Fountain of Love; this is unknown to Men, to the beſt, wiſeſt, and moſt obſervant Men. O, if the Records of the Mercies of our Lives were, or could be gather'd and kept, what vaſt Volumes would they ſwell to! 'Tis true, indeed, you have the total Sum given you in 1 Cor. 3. 22. All are yours; but it is ſuch a Number, as no Man can number.

The Conſtancy of Chriſt's Love to his People paſſeth knowledge: No Length of Time, no Diſtance of Place, no Change of Condition, either with him or us, can poſſibly make any Alteration of his Affections towards us; He is the ſame yeſterday, to day, and for ever; Heb. 13. 8. It is noted alſo by the Evangeliſt, John 13. 1. That having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them to the end. 'Tis true, his Condition is alter'd; he is no more in this World converſing with his People, as he did once in the Days of his Fleſh: He is now at the Right Hand of God, in the higheſt Glory; but yet his Heart is the ſame that ever it was, for Love and Tenderneſs to his People. Our Conditions alſo are often alter'd in this World; but his Love ſuffers no Alteration. Yea, which is much more admirable, we do many Things daily, that grieve him, and offend him; yet he takes not away his Loving-kindneſs from us, nor ſuffers his Faithfulneſs fulneſs to fail. We pour out ſo much cold Water of Unkindneſs and Provocation, as is enough to cool and quench any Love in the World, except his Love; but notwithſtanding all, he continues unchangeable in Love to us. This Peter found, notwithſtanding that great Offence of his: No ſooner was the Lord riſen from the dead, but he greets him in the Style of his former Love and Ancient Reſpect; Go, tell the Diſciples; and tell Peter.

So then, the Love of Chriſt, is a Love tranſcending all Creature-Love, and Human Underſtanding. We read in Rom. 5. 7, 8. that peradventure for a good man, ſome would even dare to die; but we never find where any, beſide Jeſus Chriſt, would lay down his Life for Enemies. It is recorded as an unparallel'd Inſtance of Love in Damon and Pithias, the Two Sicilian Philoſophers, that each had Courage enough to die for his Friend. One of them being condemn'd to die by the Tyrant; and deſiring to give the laſt Farewel to his Family; his Friend went into Priſon for him, as his Surety to die for him, if he return'd not at the appointed Time: But he did not die; yea, he had ſuch a Confidence in his Friend, that he would not ſuffer him by default to die for him; and if he had, yet he had died for his Friend. But ſuch was the Love of Chriſt, that it did not only put him under a Danger of Death, but put him actually unto Death, yea, the worſt of Deaths, and that for his Enemies. O what manner of Love is this! We read of the Love that Jacob had for Rachel, and how he endur'd both the Cold of Winter, and Heat of Summer, for her Sake. But what is this to the Love of Jeſus, who for us endured the Heat of God's Wrath? Beſide, ſhe was beautiful, but we unlovely. David wiſh'd for Abſalom his Son, Would God I had died for thee! But it was but a Wiſh; and had it come to the Proof, David would have ſhrink'd from Death, for all the Affection he bare his beautiful Son. But Chriſt actually gave his Life for us, and did not only wiſh he had done it. O Love, tranſcending the Love of Creatures; yea, and ſurmounting all Creature-Knowledge!

The Uſes follow.

1. Uſe.

If the Love of Chriſt paſs Knowledge, O then admire it! yea, live and die in the Wonder and Admiration of the Love of Chriſt! As it is a Sign of great Weakneſs, to admire ſmall and common Things; ſo it ſpeaks great Stupidity, not to be affected with great and unuſual Things. O Chriſtian! if thou be one that converſeſt with the Thoughts of this Love, thou can'ſt not but admire it; and the more thou ſtudieſt, the more ſtill wilt thou be aſtoniſh'd at it. And among the many Wonders that will appear in the Love of Chriſt, theſe Two will moſt of all affect thee; viz.

1. That ever it pitch'd at firſt on thee.

2. That it is not, by ſo many Sins, quench'd towards thee.

1. 'Tis admirable, that ever the Love of Chriſt pitch'd at firſt upon thee; for are there not Millions in the World, of ſweeter Tempers, and better Conſtitutions than thy ſelf, whom it hath paſs'd by, and yet embraced thee? Lord, (ſaid the Diſciples) how is it, that thou wilt manifeſt thy ſelf unto us, and not unto the World? Joh. 14. 22. Surely he did not ſet his Love upon thee, nor chuſe thee, becauſe thou waſt better than others, but becauſe he loved thee.

2. It is admirable, that his Love to thee is not extinguiſh'd by ſo many Sins as thou haſt committed againſt him. Lay thy Hand, Chriſtian, this Day upon thy Heart; and bethink thy ſelf, how many have been the Provocations, Wrongs, and Diſhonours thou haſt been guilty of againſt thy God, and that ſince he call'd thee by his Grace, and ſet his Love upon thee. What, and yet love thee ſtill! Yea, notwithſtanding all, he is ſtill thy God, and loves thee with an unchangable Love. O, with how many Notwithſtandings is his Love continued to thy Soul! All this is juſt Matter of Admiration and Wonder for ever.

3. Is the Love of Chriſt paſt Knowledge; and unſearchable Love? Then learn, whence and why it is, that the Souls of Believers never are, nor can be tir'd, in Beholding and Enjoying Jeſus Chriſt. We uſe to ſay, one Thing is tireſome; and it is very true, if it be an earthly Thing, it will be ſo, how ſweet or excellent ſoever it ſeems at firſt: And the Reaſon is, becauſe the beſt Creature-Enjoyment is but a ſhallow Thing, and a few Thoughts will ſound it to the bottom; and there being no Supply of new Matter, to feed the hungry Soul upon, it is quickly ſated and cloy'd with the Repetition of the ſame Thing over and over. But it is far otherwiſe in Chriſt: For tho' he be but one, yet in that one Thing, all Things are virtually and eminently contain'd; ſo that every day he ſeems a new Chriſt for Sweetneſs, and yet is the ſame Chriſt ſtill. And in Heaven, the Redeem'd ſhall view him with as much Wonder, and love him with as much Ardor, after Millions of Years, as they did at their firſt Sight of him. O, there is no Bottom in the Love of Chriſt; it paſſeth Knowledge.

4. In a word; beſtow your beſt and chiefeſt Love upon Chriſt, whoſe Love to you paſſeth all Knowledge. Let no Creature be loved equally with Chriſt; but as his Love to you paſſeth all Creature-Love, ſo let yours to him be a matchleſs Love.

Believer; Chriſt loves thee with an unſearchable Love; he loves thee more than the deareſt Friend, that is as thine own Soul, loves thee. He loves thee more than thou loveſt thy Child, or the Wife of thy Boſom; more than thy Soul loves thy Body, with which it is ſo intimately united: And wilt thou content thy ſelf with ſuch poor, narrow, remiſs Affections to Jeſus Chriſt? O, look upon him this day, in his Red Garments! Behold him in the Strength of his Love, breaking thro' the Curſe of the Law, the Wrath of God, the Agonies of Death, to bring home the Fruits of his Eternal Love to thy Soul; and whilſt thou art beholding, and muſing upon it, let thy Heart melt, thy Eyes drop, and thy very Soul cry out, Behold, how he loved me! Bleſſed be God, for Jeſus Chriſt.

A FAMILIAR

CONFERENCE

BETWEEN A

Minister and a Doubting Christian,

CONCERNING THE Sacrament of the Lord's-Supper.

Christian.] SIR, If it may be no Interruption to your Studies, I would be glad to be resolved of several Doubts, that arise in my Mind, about Receiving the Blessed Sacrament of the Lord's-Supper.

Minister.] 'I shall be very glad to contribute a-'ny thing for Removing those Scruples which 'may disturb you upon that Account; therefore, 'pray go on.

Christian.] Sir, I have heard many Sermons, and read several Discourses, which do much urge and declare the Necessity of Communicating in this Blessed Ordinance; and yet I durst never presume to join therein.

Minister.] 'Have you then lived hitherto in the 'Neglect of this Important Duty?

Christian.] To speak freely, Sir, I never yet did Communicate therein all my Life; because I have much questioned, whether I were worthy to Receive that Blessed and Holy Seal, to the Glory of God, and my own Edification and Comfort; since I never truly understood the Institution, Nature, Administration, and Ends of it, nor the Qualifications of those who are to be Partakers thereof, according to the Appointment of Jesus Christ.

Minister.] 'Well then, I hope, if these Things 'be plainly opened to you, it may much conduce 'to satisfy your Scruples.

Christian.] Sir, I shall receive your Instructions with Thankfulness; and, if my Heart deceive me not, shall rejoice in the Light and Knowledge that I may gain thereby.

Minister.] 'Let us then first enquire into the 'Qualifications of a Sincere Christian in general; 'and, secondly, of the Qualifications of such 'Christians, as are meet to partake of the Lord's-'Supper; for they are distinct, and sometimes se-'parate.

Christian.] I hope, in doing this, you will much help me to judge of my present State and Condition Godward. And now, in the first place, pray inform me, how I may know if I am a Sincere Christian.

Minister.] 'All true Believers, among other 'Graces, have such a Knowlege of God in Christ, 'as works by Love, and stirs up in them an earnest 'Study of the Will of God, and a sincere Endea-'vour to live in the Faith, Knowledge, and Pra-'ctice of it.

Christian.] Sir, I cannot boast of my Knowledge; yet, by the Grace of God shewed to me, those Conceptions which I have of God in Christ, have, I hope, so far prevailed upon me, that to live in the Knowledge, Love, and Enjoyment of him, and to have my All devoted to his Will and Praise, is all the Heaven that I desire in this World, and a great Part of that which I hope for in the World to come.

Minister.] 'These are good Signs of a real 'and renewed Change in your Soul, and so doubt-'less have wrought good Dispositions in you; of 'which you have had Evidence in your Heart, 'and have made it appear in your Life and 'Actions.

Christian.] I would be loth to flatter my self; but yet I hope, that I find some Delight in the Word of God, both read and preached; and do seriously meditate thereon, that I may grow in Grace, and in the Knowledge of Jesus Christ our Lord. And tho' I am sometimes tempted with vile and vain Thoughts, yet I endeavour to stifle them, and my Heart rises against them. I thank God, I strive to resist the first Motions to Sin, and avoid all Occasions of Evil; and am never more uneasy, than when I happen into the Company of profane and ill People; having an Hatred to Lying, obscene and filthy Discourses, Swearing, Cursing, and all dishonourable Reflections upon God and Godliness. I make Conscience of taking up a Slander against my Neighbour; and to be just, and to do good to all, according to my Ability, and to walk in all the Commandments of the Lord blameless.

Minister.] 'If these be the Fruits and Effects 'of your Faith, it is not a dead Faith; yet we 'must not rest upon our own Works, or Righte-'ousness, for Justification, Merit, or Satisfaction; 'because it will be derogatory to the Merits and 'Righteousness of Jesus Christ, and dangerous to 'our own Souls.

Christian.] Sir, I know right well, that there is no Justification, but by the Blood of Jesus; neither dare I trust to my own Righteousness, but to his only, for the Pardon and Remission of my Sins. And if by Grace I am enabled to bring forth any Fruit meet for a Gospel-Faith, Repentance, and Love; these I bless God for, as a Part of my Duty and Happiness, and desire to look on them as Proofs of Faith, (if they are worthy to be such), and no otherwise.

Mini-

Minister.] 'This is well. But do you find your 'Soul always in a good Frame and Temper, with-'out Haltings, Slips, or Excursions?

Christian.] Sir, I dare not say I do: For I must with Sorrow acknowledge, that at some times my Thoughts are polluted, my Words are unsavoury, without Edification, my Actions not adorning the Doctrine of the Gospel of God my Saviour; but such as I may fear may prove a Grief and Snare to others. My Spiritual Relish of God's Word is very insipid, and its Authority not so sensibly powerful; so that I am unready to any thing that is good, even like a dead Man, as if my Religion had no Life nor Soul in it.

Minister.] 'Well; but when you thus fall into 'Sin, or fail in your Duty, what do you think of 'your self and ways? How are you affected there-'with?

Christian.] When I am in this deplorable Condition, my Soul is much disturbed, my Joy and Peace of Conscience are gone: But when I am a little rouzed out of this sinful Lethargy, my Heart is then melted with Sorrow for my Folly and Miscarriage, and I address my self to God with the greatest Fear and Shame, humbly imploring him to renew a right Spirit within me.

Minister.] 'Well, Friend, if your Conscience 'confirms what your Tongue has utter'd, you have 'express'd enough to evidence the Sincerity of your 'Obedience to God, and that you are a sound Be-'liever, and a sincere Convert. And I hope you 'have Faith also in Jesus Christ, the Mediator; with-'out a due Respect to whom, our Faith and good 'Affections will not deserve the Name of being tru-'ly Evangelical and Saving.

Christian.] Thro' Grace, I desire to acknowledge and embrace the Lord Jesus Christ, upon the Terms on which he is offer'd in the Gospel; to believe all his Doctrines, as my Teacher and Guide; to trust and depend upon him, as the High-Priest of our Profession, who makes Atonement by his Sacrifice and Intercession. And I desire to submit to his Government, as Lord and King of his Church.

Minister.] 'These are very considerable Attain-'ments, and include the Substance of Saving Faith. 'But are you sensible, how you arrived to this 'good Disposition and Frame of Mind? Do you 'imagine it was natural to you, or the Result of 'the Improvement of your Natural Reason, Pow-'ers, or Faculties?

Christian.] Oh Sir, I dare by no means ascribe that to Nature, which is only the Effect of Divine Grace. If I have any Measure of Sanctification, it is only by the Gift and Grace of God; for I have had too much Experience, that by Nature I am alive to Vanity and Sin, but dead and lifeless to God, and to all real Goodness; that I am Darkness; Folly possesseth my Soul: I am at Enmity with God, and altogether unable to will, or to do what is pleasing in his Eyes; having a great Contrariety in my Heart to the Way of Salvation proposed in the Gospel of Christ.

Minister.] 'And have you taken up strong Re-'solutions, that, by the Help of God, and the As-'sistance of his Blessed Spirit, you will endeavour to persevere in the Faith and Practice, which you have now declared, to your Life's End?

Christian.] Sir, there is nothing that I more dread than Apostatizing, or Relaxing in my Duty and Profession, and that I should have a backsliding Heart from the Lord; and I earnestly watch and pray, against every Symptom and Degree thereof.

Minister.] 'Do you think, that by your own 'Strength and Ability, you have Power to persevere 'and continue in the Faith and Obedience of the 'Gospel; against the many Temptations and Cor-'ruptions that assault us, and the lamentable Mis-'carriages of those who seem'd Pillars in the House of God.

Christian.] I have no Confidence in my own Ability, Sir, I assure you; but do wholly rely on the Rock that is higher than I; even upon him who hath promised, that he will perfect a good Work begun to the Day of Christ. I rest upon him, who is the Author and Finisher of our Faith; I beg his Holy Spirit, to instruct, guide, assist and comfort me. And I earnestly desire and purpose, (by the Grace of God) to expect those Aids, in a constant and universal Attendance upon God in his Ordinances, with an honest, humble, and believing Heart.

Minister.] 'These are all plain Evidences of the 'Saving Grace of God; which I beseech the Lord, 'may always continue, and grow in your Heart; 'that so you may have a full Assurance of his Love, 'who hath dealt so graciously with you.

Christian.] The Lord grant, that in the Sense of his Love to my Soul, I may walk worthy of his Grace. And now, Sir, by what has been said, do you think, I may presume to feed on Jesus Christ at his Table, and receive that Blessed Seal of my Redeemer's Love?

Minister.] 'You know I told you, that a Man 'may be a true Christian, and yet may not be fit 'to partake of this Holy Ordinance: Because he 'may believe unto Salvation, and yet be so ignorant 'of this Mystery, as not to be able to make a due 'Application of it to his own Soul.

Christian.] Ah, Sir, I would willingly be inform'd, what is necessary to be done by a Sound Believer, in order to the Partaking of this Blessed Ordinance?

Minister.] 'First, He must consider, that the E-'lements and Matter of this Ordinance, are not 'common Bread and Wine after Consecration, but 'set apart to a holy Use, and so to be receiv'd with 'an holy Understanding and Fear. And therefore 'the Corinthians were blamed by the Apostle, for their 'Ignorance and Irreverence, 1 Cor. 11. Again; That 'these Elements, so blessed and set apart by Christ's 'Appointment, do represent a Crucified Redeemer; 'and we are to partake of them with Love, as a 'Memorial of his Death; and with Faith, as the Seal 'of the Promise, and the Means appointed by God, to 'convey the Benefits of Christ crucified to the Soul.

Christian.] Sir, These Considerations raise up my Desires to come to the Lord's-Table; which I hope to be a Partaker of, with the same Sentiments that you have now laid before me; and that I shall feast mine Eyes on that Lovely Object, which is so full of Love; and that my Eye will so deeply affect my Heart toward my Holy Redeemer, that I may meet with my Blessed Lord in all the Ways of his Appointment.

Minister.] 'Again; You ought to set your Soul 'upon Self-Examination, that so you may be sensi-'ble of your Wants and Defects, and come to 'Christ for a Supply of the Graces of his Holy 'Spirit; that you may exercise Faith, Love, Re-'pentance, and all other Graces, with such 'Warmth and Vigor, that Jesus Christ may delight 'in you, and you in him; and there may be a 'mutual and joyful Renewing of your Covenant of 'Love and Obedience to your Blessed Saviour.

Christian.]

Chriſtian.] Sir, we cannot ſuppoſe that there ſhould be the Actings and Exerciſes of Grace, where the Habits are wanting, no more than there can be Motion without Life: But it is uſually ſaid, that the Holy Sacrament is a quickning, cheriſhing, comforting, and confirming Ordinance.

Miniſter.] 'No doubt but the worthy prepared 'Receivers of this bleſſed Banquet, have by a due 'Participation found their Love inflamed, their 'Faith ſtrengthened, their Obedience confirmed, 'their Humility increaſed; ſo that they have ap-'peared vile in their own Sight, and have had an 'utter Deteſtation of all Sin, and an earneſt Ex-'pectation and Deſire, after the glorious Appear-'ance of their bleſſed Lord and Redeemer.

Chriſtian.] Sir, ſince the Benefits and Bleſſings are ſo great, it makes me the more earneſtly long to be a Communicant in theſe ſacred Myſteries.

Miniſter.] 'It is the Duty of all Chriſt's Mini-'ſters, to give the Sacramental Bread of Life, and 'the Cup of Conſolation, to thoſe who hunger 'and thirſt after Jeſus Chriſt, and his Righteouſ-'neſs and Kingdom. And now I have told you 'your Duty, I ſhall be willing to declare to you 'the Nature and the Circumſtances of this bleſſed 'Ordinance.

Chriſtian.] Sir, I muſt confeſs I am not ſo well inſtructed herein; and if I may not be too troubleſome, would be very glad to underſtand what this Holy Ordinance is, and why it is called a Sacrament.

Miniſter.] 'It is a Seal of the Covenant of God 'in Chriſt, wherein by certain outward Signs in-'ſtituted by our Saviour, Chriſt with all his Bene-'fits are ſignified, conveyed, and ſealed to the 'worthy Receiver. The Word Sacrament hath 'been anciently uſed, both to ſignify Baptiſm and 'the Supper of the Lord; and was taken up by the 'Ancient Fathers, from the Oath by which the 'Roman Soldiers were ſworn to their Duty, and 'were not admitted to be Soldiers, 'till they had 'ſolemnly taken that Oath or Sacrament. It is 'called by ſeveral other Names in Scripture, name-'ly, breaking of Bread, Acts 2. 42. the Lord's 'Table, 1 Cor. 10. 21. the Communion, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

Chriſtian.] Pray, Sir, how many Sacraments were inſtituted under the New Teſtament, and by whoſe Authority were they appointed.

Miniſter.] 'There are only two, Baptiſm and 'the Lord's Supper; and they were ordained by 'the ſole and immediate Authority of Jeſus Chriſt; 'and thoſe other Five which the Papiſts have ad-'ded, and called by that Name, as Order, or Or-'daining of Prieſts, Penance, Marriage, Con-'firmation, and Extreme Unction, or Anointing 'at the Hour of Death; all theſe were neither 'immediately inſtituted by Chriſt, nor have the 'proper Ends of a Sacrament.

Chriſtian.] What are the Elements to be uſed in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper?

Miniſter.] 'Bread and Wine, and no other, 'Luke 22. 19, 20. And all Communicants are to 'receive both of them, notwithſtanding the bold 'and ſacrilegious Practice of the Papiſts, who give 'the People the Bread, or Wafer only, none but 'the Prieſt receiving both the Bread and Wine. 'And this without any ſound Reaſon, or Scripture-'Warrant; and they may as well corrupt, totally 'aboliſh, or add to any of the Ordinances and In-'ſtitutions of Chriſt Jeſus, as preſume to do 'this.

Chriſtian.] What Reſemblance or Congruity is there between Bread and Wine, the Signs, and what is ſignified by them in the Lord's Supper?

Miniſter.] 'Bread is ſo neceſſary, that it is often 'put for all Kind of Food, and Neceſſaries; and 'the leaſt Morſel of it is compleatly Bread. Thus 'Chriſt is Food, and all Neceſſaries to the Soul; 'and every worthy Communicant receives whole 'and compleat Chriſt: And as Corn is not Bread, 'till it be bruiſed or ground; ſo Jeſus Chriſt had 'not been Food for us, if he had not been bruiſed 'with Wounds and Sorrow. And as Bread is the 'common Food of all People, ſo is Jeſus Chriſt of 'all real Chriſtians. Again, as Bread being a ſo-'lid Body, may properly denote the Body of 'Chriſt; ſo Wine being liquid may repreſent his 'Blood: And as Wine is preſſed from the Grape, 'ſo the Blood of Jeſus was forced out by his Ago-'ny, and the Wounds of the Croſs.

Chriſtian.] May not the Bread and Wine at our common Tables ſignify the ſame thing?

Miniſter.] 'No; becauſe this is ſolemnly ſet a-'part, and conſecrated to Sacramental Uſe by 'Prayer and Bleſſing, and by applying the Words 'our dear Redeemer uſed in the Inſtitution of this 'Ordinance.

Chriſtian.] Is not the Bread and Wine after Conſecration tranſubſtantiated, or transformed from the Subſtance of Bread and Wine, into the real Subſtance and Eſſence of the Body and Blood of our Saviour; ſince Chriſt's own Words are, This is my Body, &c. This is my Blood, &c.

Miniſter.] 'No, by no means; this being a Po-'piſh Error, attended with many Abſurdities and 'idolatrous Practices. But it is the Body and 'Blood of Chriſt, in the Senſe that Chriſt ſpake 'it; but he did not ſay, This is no longer Bread in 'Subſtance, but the very Subſtance of my Body. 'And ſuch Phraſes are often uſed in Scripture, and 'yet not always to be taken in a ſtrict Senſe, no 'more than that Rock was Chriſt, and, I am the true 'Vine, the Door, the Shepherd, &c. Moreover, Chriſt 'intended it for a Sacrament, that is, a Sign of 'what it repreſents; now it cannot be the real 'Body of Chriſt, and the Sign of it alſo. Again, 'our Senſes of Seeing, Smelling, and Taſting, 'aſſure us that it is Bread and Wine, and no way 'ſubſtantially changed after the Words of Conſe-'cration. And if we muſt deny our Senſes in this, 'we may as well doubt whether theſe Words, This 'is my Body, &c. be recorded in Holy Scripture, 'tho' we ſee them there.

Chriſtian.] If the Bread and Wine be not the Body and Blood of Chriſt really and ſubſtantially, how then doth the true Believer, in receiving, eating, and drinking them, receive, eat, and drink the Body and Blood of Chriſt?

Miniſter.] 'By receiving thoſe Elements ſo con-'ſecrated, as Signs, Seals, and Conveyances of 'Chriſt and his Benefits to the Soul; and a true 'Chriſtian hath them conveyed to him thereby, as 'really as a Writing under Hand, Seal, and Wit-'neſſes, can convey Lands, or other Benefits, 'which are not really in the Writings themſelves.

Chriſtian.] What are the Actions of the Miniſter, in adminiſtring this Ordinance?

Miniſter.] 'After bleſſing the Bread, he breaks 'it, and delivers it to the Communicants in the 'Words of Jeſus Chriſt, ſignifying thereby a cru-'cify'd Jeſus, who was wounded for our Tranſ-'greſſions. He then pours out the Wine in the 'Sight of the Congregation, and delivers that to 'them

'them also, after Blessing it in the Words of Christ. 'And hereby is represented to us, our Dear Re-'deemer shedding his Blood for us; which is the 'Sacrifice of Atonement, whereby we obtain Remis-'sion of Sins. In which Action, the Minister stand-'ing in Christ's stead as his Minister, (wherein Christ 'is present, and by his Spirit and Authority) doth 'as really tender and bestow Himself and Benefits, 'as if he had spoken the same Words in his own 'visible Person.

Christian.] But say some, since our Saviour re-strained this Ordinance to the Time of his Coming; he being come in the Spirit, it is now at an end, and abolished.

Minister.] 'If these Enthusiasts mean the Co-'ming of the Spirit, in its sanctifying Operations; 'then it seems, that it was appointed only for Un-'believers; and that the Disciples, who communi-'cated with Christ at the Institution thereof, had 'not the Spirit, but were Unbelievers, which is 'false and absurd. If they mean, the extraordi-'nary Gifts of the Spirit, or the Pouring it 'forth in an extraordinary Measure; the Practice 'of the Apostles and the Church of God, both at 'that Time, and long after, will abundantly con-'tradict that Assertion; Acts 2. 42. 1 Cor. 10. 16.

Christian.] What are the Benefits that Christ gives, and we receive, in this Ordinance?

Minister.] 'The Exercise and Increase of eve-'ry Grace; the Cleansing our Souls from the 'Guilt of Sin; Healing the Wounds which Sin 'hath made in our Consciences; a Confirmation 'of the Truth and Promises of God; an humble 'and holy Delight in Christ, and our Fellow-'Christians; and a more earnest Longing for, and 'Expectation of the Blessedness of the Life to 'come: And is an Ordinance chiefly intended for 'Confirmation of our Faith, Love, and Increase 'in Grace; so that no Person ought to come there-'unto, but in Faith.

Christian.] What are the necessary Preparations for this Solemn Ordinance?

Minister.] '1. That a Man have the Habit of 'Faith. 2. That he have an hearty Disposition 'and Willingness, to receive Christ as his Lord and 'Redeemer. 3. That he be in Charity with all 'Men; Joh. 1. 7. Matth. 15. 26. We must also 'exercise renew'd Acts of Repentance, and clear 'up our Interest in Christ, and have our Souls full 'of Faith, and Love toward him.

Christian.] Sir, There is one Scripture that, I believe, discourages many from Partaking of the Lord's-Table; neither do I indeed well understand it: 1 Cor. 11. 27, 28, 29. Whosoever shall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the Body and Blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that Bread, and drink of that Cup. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh Damnation (or Judgment) to himself, not discerning the Lord's Body.

Minister.] 'I am indeed of the Opinion, that the want of right understanding this Scripture, has been a Stumbling-block to many, and so I shall endeavour briefly to explain it. The Apostle here truly represents, and very much aggravates the Danger of unworthy Receiving this Holy Sacrament; but he does not deter the Corinthians from it, because they had sometimes come to it without due Reverence; but exhorts them to amend what had been amiss, and to come better prepar'd and dispos'd for the future. And therefore, after that terrible Declaration, that Whoso-'ever shall eat this Bread, and drink this Cup of the 'Lord, &c. He does not add, Therefore let Christi-'ans take heed of Coming to the Lord's-Table; 'but let them come prepar'd, and with due Re-'verence; not as to a common Meal, but to a So-'lemn Participation of the Body and Blood of 'Christ: But let him examine himself; and so let him 'eat of that Bread, and drink of that Cup. For if 'this be a good Reason to abstain from this Ordi-'nance, for fear of performing it in an undue 'manner; then a wicked Man may as well lay a-'side all other Holy Duties, as Prayer, Hearing 'and Reading the Word of God, for fear of the 'unworthy Use of them; since, The Prayer of the 'wicked (that is, one that resolves to continue so) 'is an abomination to the Lord. And Christ says, 'Take heed how you hear. And the Apostle says, 'that those who will not believe the Gospel, it is 'the savour of Death to them: That is, it is deadly, 'and damnable to such Persons. Now there is as 'much Reason for Men to give over Praying, or 'attending on the Word of God, as not to Receive 'the Sacrament; since he that Prays unworthily, 'that is, without Spiritual Benefit and Advantage, 'is guilty of great Contempt of God, and Jesus 'Christ, and aggravates his own Damnation; as 'well as he, who by Partaking of the Lord's-Sup-'per unworthily, eats and drinks his own Judgment. 'And when the Apostle adds, But let a man examine 'himself; and so let him eat of that Bread, and drink 'of that Cup: It seems clear, by the Occasion and 'Circumstances of his Discourse, that he does not 'intend we should examine our State of Grace, 'whether we are true Believers or no, and sincere-'ly resolved to continue so; but he speaks of the 'actual Fitness and Worthiness of the Corinthians at 'that Time, when they came to receive the Lord's 'Supper. And therefore, Ver. 20. he sharply re-'proves their irreverent and unsuitable Carriage at 'the Lord's-Table; they coming thereunto disorder-'ly, one before another. It was the Custom of Chri-'stians then, to meet at the Feast of Charity, in which 'they did Communicate with great Sobriety and Tem-'perance; and when that was ended, they celebrated 'the Lord's-Supper. Now among the Corinthians, 'this Order was broken: The Rich met, and ex-'cluded the Poor from this common Feast; and 'after an irregular Feast, (one after another eat-'ing his own Supper as he came) they went to the 'Sacrament in great Disorder: One was hungry, 'having eaten nothing at all; others had drank 'and eat intemperately; and the Poor were de-'spis'd and neglected. This the Apostle condemns 'as a great Prophanation of that Solemn Institu-'tion, for behaving themselves with as little Re-'verence, as if it were a common Supper, or Feast: 'And this he calls, not discerning the Lord's Body; 'making no Difference between the Sacrament and 'a common Meal; which contemptuous Carriage, 'he calls Eating and Drinking unworthily; for which 'he pronounceth them guilty of the Body and Blood 'of Christ; by which, he tells them, they did in-'cur the Judgment of God, which he calls Eating and 'Drinking their own Judgment; for so the Word sig-'nifies in the Greek, and not Eternal Condemnati-'on. It is meant of some Temporal Judgment and 'Chastisement, in order to the preventing of Eter-'nal Damnation: Which is evident from what 'follows; He that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eat-'eth and drinketh Judgment to himself. And then he 'says, For this cause many are weak and sick among you, 'and many sleep. That is, for this Irreverence of theirs,

God

'God ſent among them ſeveral Diſeaſes, of which 'many had died. And then he adds, For if we 'would judge our ſelves, we ſhould not be judged. That 'is, if we would cenſure and examine our ſelves, 'ſo as to be more careful for the future, we ſhould 'eſcape the Judgment of God in theſe Temporal 'Puniſhments. But when we are judged, we are 'chaſtened of the Lord, that we ſhould not be condemn-'ed with the world. That is, when by neglecting 'thus to judge our ſelves, we provoke God to judge 'us; he inflicts theſe Temporal Judgments upon us, 'to prevent our Eternal Damnation.

Chriſtian.] Sir, I am much obliged to you, for the Satisfaction you have given me in theſe weighty Points, referring to the Lord's-Supper: And now, tho' in a deep Senſe of my great Unworthineſs, yet with humble Confidence in my Dear Redeemer, who graciouſly invites all that are heavy laden to come unto him; I do intend, by the Bleſſing of God, to addreſs my ſelf to the Lord's-Table the next Lord's-Day; humbly beſeeching the Aſſiſtance of your Prayers, that I may not come without the Wedding-Garment; but may be ſo qualified, as to obtain thoſe Glorious Privileges and Bleſſings, which are there repreſented and ſealed to every Worthy Communicant.

A HYMN,

UPON

ROMANS V. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

Ver. 6.

When we were deſtitute of Strength,
Our ſelves to help or ſave,
Chriſt for Ungodlineſs at length
His Life a Ranſom gave.

7.

For one that's Righteous, we would grudge
To lay our Life at ſtake;
And for a Good Man, it were much
Such an Exchange to make.

8.

But God his matchleſs Love commends,
In that Chriſt Jeſus dies
For us, when we were not his Friends,
But wretched Enemies.

9.

Much more, being juſtify'd and free
Thro' his own Blood, from Sin;
From Wrath to come we ſav'd ſhall be,
Ev'n by the Life of him.

10.

For if, when Enemies, for us
Chriſt's Death did end the Strife;
Much more, when reconciled thus,
He'll ſave us by his Life.

11.

Yea, more than ſo, we triumph now
In God with one Accord,
Having receiv'd Atonement through Chriſt Jeſus our own Lord.

Wherefore to him, who is the firſt
Begotten of the Dead,
Who over Earthly Princes muſt
Be Supreme Lord and Head:
Ev'n unto him who lov'd us ſo,
To waſh us in his Blood,
And make us Kings and Prieſts unto
His Father and his God:
To him Dominion therefore,
By us be given, when
This preſent World ſhall be no more;
To which we ſay, Amen.

THE

THE

REASONABLENESS

OF

Perſonal Reformation,

AND

The Neceſſity of Converſion:

The True METHODS of Making all Men Happy in this World, and in the World to come.

Seaſonably Diſcourſed, and Earneſtly Preſſed upon this Licentious Age.

To all ſuch as are moſt Immediately and Particularly Concerned in the following Treatiſe, of what Rank or Quality ſoever they be.

GENTLEMEN,

TWO of the greateſt, faithfulleſt, and moſt intimate Friends in the World, Reaſon and Conſcience, command me here in their Names, courteouſly to ſalute and invite you in.

They earneſtly deſire three or four Hours ſerious and private Conference with you, about ſome very Important Perſonal Concerns of yours, which cannot admit of Denial, or long Delay. And if you make any trifling Excuſes, they have commanded and inſtructed me, here to anſwer them.

In caſe of abſolute and obſtinate Refuſal to hear them, they order me to tell you; If you will not talk with them now, they'll talk with you ſhortly, whether you will or no. If you ſay, you are not now at Leiſure, having other Buſineſs to do; they both deſire you to conſider, Firſt, You can have no Buſineſs in the World of equal Importance with theirs. Secondly, That whatever other Lawful Affairs you are purſuing, their Buſineſs with you will no way obſtruct, but greatly promote it. And Laſtly, That a greater Perſon than any of you, loſt his Life, by Pocketing up a Letter at Night, ſaying, To-morrow is a New Day: And it proved to him indeed Dies noviſſima, his laſt Day; he loſing by that Neglect the only Opportunity of living longer.

If you demand, how your Reaſon came to be bound up in this little Book; and ſay, That which is Reaſon to this Author, may be Folly and Nonſenſe to you: I am bid to tell you, you are obliged firſt to read and compare; elſe your own Reaſon will preſently call it, your own Folly and Nonſenſe, ſo to pronounce. Sound Reaſon is uniform, and like it ſelf all the World over. It's true, Laws and Dictates equally oblige one, as another, in like Caſes and Circumſtances.

If you ſay, There have been ſome Jars and Diſguſts betwixt you, and your Reaſons and Conſciences; you find they have fallen out ſo oft, that you have no great fancy to come near them in private, for you expect nothing but harſh and chiding Language from them; and therefore are fain, by continual Diverſions, and quick Succeſſions of Buſineſs, to maintain your Peace, by keeping at as great a Diſtance from them as you can.

'Tis their Deſire you ſhould here know, Firſt, That their Debates with you will be as calm and friendly, as they are ſeaſonable and neceſſary. Secondly, That they both profeſs (and you may believe them) they neither do, nor can deſign any thing but your Good. Thirdly, That that Perſon is certainly in a very bad Caſe, that cannot endure to converſe with himſelf. Fourthly, That you herein deny a Civility to your own Reaſons and Conſciences, which you daily pay to Strangers and Inferiors. And in a word, that they deſire a Reconciliation with you, upon as fair and honourable Terms as can well be deſired: And that this being done, they will both ſtick faithfully by you in all the Troubles and Dangers of your Lives, and follow you as your inſeparable Friends, into any thing but Sin.

If you ſay, This is but a Wheedle, to draw you into a Book, that will make you melancholy, and perhaps mad.

'Tis their Senſe and Judgment, that of all Men living, you have leaſt Reaſon to pretend the one or the other, in this Caſe: For they are very confident, you are now in the moſt melancholy Circumſtances, Men can ordinarily be in on this ſide Hell. And for Madneſs, they deſire to know, what you your ſelves would call that Man, that is running with ſuch Poſt-haſte to Hell, (as will not admit of two or three Hours Stop upon the Road,) to prove himſelf to be no Madman, but in his right Mind and Wits?

Moreover, they command me to inform you; It is their Deſire, that ſeeing their Debates with you will neither be tireſome nor impertinent, you will pleaſe to hear them out what they have to ſay to you: And then if you ſhall find Cauſe to complain, that your Pleas and Excuſes are not fairly drawn, or that you have new Matter to furniſh a better Apology; they are both content you ſhall have your Liberty to amend, or add what you pleaſe; and if they be not able to refute them, they'll give you no further Trouble or Interruption in your Courſe.

This, Gentlemen, is what I have in Charge to ſay to you in the Porch: And now, if you pleaſe, the Door is open; you may be as private as you will. They'll attend you to your Bed-Chamber, or Cloſet; and I heartily wiſh an Happy Iſſue to this Friendly Debate.

J. F.

CHAP I.

The Introduction, and State of the Case.

§. 1. REason exalts Man above all Earthly Beings: 'Tis his Dignity and Privilege, that God hath furnished him with Abilities of Mind, to recollect, animadvert, compare, infer, ponder, and judge his own Actions. Hereby he becomes not only capable of Moral Government by Human Laws, (which no Creature beside him is) but also of Spiritual Government by Divine Laws, and the Blessed Fruitions of God in Glory, which no other Species of Creatures (Angels only excepted) have a subjective Capacity for.

Right Reason, by the Law of Nature, (as an home-born Judge) arbitrates and determines all Things within its proper Province; which Province is extended far and wide. All Actions, Natural, Moral, and Civil, are weighed at this Beam and Standard: None are exempted, but Matters of Supernatural Revelation; and yet even these are not wholly, and in every Respect, exempt from Right Reason: For tho' there be some Mysteries in Religion above the Sphere and Flight of Reason; yet nothing can be found in Religion, that is unreasonable.

And tho' these Mysteries be not of Natural Investigation, but of Supernatural Revelation; yet Reason is convinced, nothing can be more reasonable, than that it take its place at the Feet of Faith; which is but to suffer it self to become Pupil to an Omniscient and Infallible Instructor. The Resolution of our Reason into Faith, and of Faith into God's Veracity, are Acts highly becoming Reasonable Beings in such Cases as these.

It may not pry too nicely into unrevealed Mysteries, demand the Reasons, or examine the Causes of them, as bold and daring Socinians do; but it feels it self obliged to receive all those Things, both as possible and true, which God hath reveal'd, counting his Revelation alone to be Reason sufficient. For the Veracity of God takes out of Reason's Mouth all Objections against the Truth of them; and his Almighty Power silences all its Scruples against the Possibility of them.

But in all Matters properly under the Jurisdiction of Reason, every Man is obliged to account with himself, as well as others, for the Reasonableness of his own Actions; and that Act which will not endure the Test of Sound Reason, it judges not fit for the Entertainment of a Man. If Reason cannot justify it, 'tis beneath the Rank and Dignity of a Man to do it.

§. 2. The Light of Reason was at first the bright Lamp or Candle of the Lord, till Sin, like a Thief, melted it down to a Snuff; whereby (comparatively speaking) it is become a poor glimmering Light in the best of Men, and almost quite extinguished in some Men. Fallen Man is become less than himself, and will never act like himself, till he be fully restored to himself.

Sanctification indeed snuffs and trims the Lamp of Reason; but there being few sanctified Persons among Men, a double Misery consequently befals a very great Part of Mankind; whose Conversation speaks them not only destitute of Religion, which bereaves them of the Blessedness of the World to come; but Men almost entirely despoiled of the Benefits and Blessings of their own Reason, which makes them unhappy and miserable in this World: Beasts, rather than Men, as the Sacred Scripture stiles them: Unreasonable Men; Men fallen out with their own Faculties; who, after many a sharp Battel with their Reason, are now dragging it like a conquer'd Captive, at the Chariot-Wheels of their victorious and triumphant Lusts.

§. 3. 'Tis scarce imaginable, that ever Sin should prevail so far as it doth, to the very Unmanning of Men, did they not first delude and bribe their own Reason, by close and cunning Applications to their bewitched Affections; whereby, tho' they cannot make it a Party, yet they make it stand by as a silent Spectator, or Neuter, whilst they act the Beast, yea, the Devil, rather than the Man.

We little know, how far unsanctified Reason may (this way) be prevail'd upon to quit its Throne, and resign its Sceptre into the Hands of Lust and Appetite; yea, to engage in the Defence of their most absurd Laws and Dictates. It only serves in some Men, to invent Excuses, Pleas, and specious Pretences, to justify or extenuate their Beast-like Actions; the basest Servitude it can be condemned to.

If this will not do, Sensual Lusts have another way, to obtain their Satisfaction in Despite of Reason and Conscience; even by stopping their Ears to the Voices of both, and pushing on with a Brutish Impetus, they suffer neither to enjoy the Opportunity of a calm Debate of these Matters with them.

§. 4. But let Men do what they will, 'tis next to an Impossibilty, they should so far subdue and destroy those inbred Principles of Reason and Conscience, but that they will at one Time or other, give them some Checks and Oppositions in their prophane Courses; especially when they shall get the Advantage of some eminent Distress, or special Danger, which disposes them to lend an Ear to their Voices. And there be few Men in the World, but are sometimes providentially cast into such Cases and Conditions.

So that Appeals to the Reason of the most profligate Wretches, are not altogether vain and useless: For if the Case cannot be tried and decided at the Bar of Reason and Conscience one time, it may with more Advantage at another: And haply, Appeals to Reason may produce Reformation in some Men, sooner than Appeals to the Scriptures, or Principles of Faith; especially when the World is so notoriously drenched in Practical Atheism, that Serious Religion becomes the common Subject of Drollery amongst Multitudes of Men.

Yet it were hard and uncharitable, to imagine any Man sunk so deep into the Mire of Bestiality and Prophaneness, as not still to retain some Value and Veneration for his own Reason, and as much as he abuses it, yet to refuse the whole World in Exchange for it; and to account it a greater Misery to be utterly deprived of it, than to have the Hoofs of an Horse given him in Exchange for his Hands and Feet.

§. 5. The

§. 5. The Scriptures therefore do, in many Cases, appeal to the Reason of Sinners, and design their Reformation by such Appeals: For it being a most shameful thing, for a Man to be convicted at the Bar of his own Reason, of acting like a Beast rather than a Man; every Man is presum'd to be afraid, and ashamed of such an Indictment. Such Miscreants are the Shame and Reproach of Humanity it self: They are branded for Brutes throughout the sober World; their Company declin'd and shunn'd by all Wise and Good Men. He that hath no Reason to justify his Actions, may yet be supposed to be Owner of some Stock of Natural Shame; which cannot but afford a Blush, upon such a plain Conviction. This therefore was the Course which the Prophet Isaiah took, by Divine Direction, to reform the Idolatrous Israelites; Isa. 46. 8. He states the Case at the Bar of their own Reason, and calls for a Verdict upon it. The Case was this: 'Whether Idols, having not 'Power enough to shew themselves Gods, those that 'worship them, must not want Wisdom enough to 'shew themselves Men? Remember this, and shew your selves Men; and bring it again to mind, O ye Transgressors! q. d. For shame, let not Men act like Brutes, which have no Animadversion.

§. 6. When Things therefore are brought to such an Exigence, that Ruin or Reformation is the only Choice Men have to make, and all Religious Impressions so obliterated and worn out, that Men pay no Reverence to them; an Appeal to the Reason of Men, seems then to be an hopeful Method of prevailing with them, to suffer a Reformation rather than a Ruin. Not that I imagine the Topicks of Reason able to afford more powerful Arguments, than those of Religion do; but that they, who by their Ignorance and strong Prejudices against Religion, have made themselves more uncapable of Conviction that way, may haply feel the Force of Reason prevailing so far at least, as to put their outrageous Lusts under some Restraint.

As for the Scriptures, and Serious Religion begotten by them in the Souls of Men; they are perfect Strangers to all, but the Names of these Things: And even their very Names are grown almost ridiculous with them too. But Reason may convince and shame them. What Force the Reason of Man hath, even without Saving Grace, to produce Civility, Sobriety, and other Moral Virtues, is abundantly evident in the very Heathens; who, by the only Light of Reason, discover'd so much Odiousness in Vice and Immorality, and such amiable Beauty in Justice, Temperance, and the other Moral Virtues, that their Praises for them are founded throughout the World.

Now whatever unthinking Men dream, to me it is evident, that when Kingdoms and Commonwealths are overflowed with unrestrained Vice and Immoralities; when Cursing and Swearing becomes the common Language, Drunkenness and Adultery the common Practices of the Inhabitants; God will either sweep away the Filth of those Nations, by the Besom of a General Reformation, or he will sweep away their Inhabitants out of them with the Besom of Destruction. For if we have not excussed the Notion and Belief of a God, and that he animadverts the Wickedness of Men, (which the very Heathens, by the Light of Nature, saw and acknowledged) we may thereby easily be led to this Conclusion; that such Overflowings of Abomination do, and must certainly presage our Desolation, except speedy and general Reformation do prevent it.

§. 7. Now the Persons, whose Reformation I particularly design by this Method, being Men that exercise more Reason than Religion, might (methinks) be prevailed with to take up at last, and reform their unreasonable, as well as ungodly Courses, could they be once prevail'd with to debate these Matters with cool, considerative Minds, becoming Men governed by Reason, not wholly swayed like Brute-Beasts, by Lust and Appetite.

And is it not highly reasonable, that Men should weigh their own Actions at the same Beam and Standard where they weigh other Men's Actions; and renounce all that with Shame and Detestation, which they themselves must censure as utterly beneath, and unworthy of a Man? Wherefore hath God planted a Principle of Reason and Conscience within us? Is it rational to think, it was planted there for no other End or Use, but to scan and censure other Mens Words and Actions by, but not our own? Or to be wholly useful to other Mens Interests, without any Benefit to our selves? Ask thine own Reason, silly Man, why God placed it in thy Soul? And for what Use it was intended? And it will tell thee, it was particularly designed and appointed, to regulate and order thine own Life and Actions; and next, for the Benefit and Good of the Community. It will tell thee, there is not a single Act thou dost, of any Weight or Moment, but thou oughtest to consult with it, and have its Pass or License before thou do it. But when thou entrest into a Series and Course of Actions, thy Consultations with it ought to be very frequent and solemn, because these Things are of great Importance to thee.

Thy Reason will tell thee, Sinner, that it is a vile Affront to it, to be thrust by thee from the Council-Table, unworthily dismiss'd from its Office, and discharged from any further Attendance upon thy Life, and the Concerns thereof, and Brutish Lust and Appetite consulted in its room; and that it needed not at all to have been implanted into thy Soul, if the same Principles that govern the Beasts of the Field, must also be thy governing Principles. It stands ready to offer its Service to thee, to save thee from, or to receive thee out of those Mischiefs thou hast, or mayest run thy self into; if thou wilt but hear, and obey its Advice. It tells thee, it is thy Privy-Counsellor, by God's Appointment; and if thou wilt not find Leisure among the Heats and Hurries of thy Lusts, to consult it, and hearken to its Counsels now; if thou wilt forsake the Conduct of thine own Reason and Conscience, which have a Right and Authority to govern thy Words and Actions, and follow thy blind and head-strong Lusts and Passions, thou shalt hear other Language from them, when thy Lusts have precipitated thee into thine own Ruin and Destruction; as they speedily and inevitably, must, and will do, according to the Course they now steer for thee.

§. 8. And there is yet more Ground to hope, that Reason may prevail with Men living under the Gospel, to return to Sobriety and Temperance, when we consider their Reason is assisted by some Illuminations from the Christian Religion. They live in a Land of Bibles and Ministers, where they cannot avoid the Light; an Advantage far beyond whatever the Heathens enjoy'd; who yet by their single unassisted Reason, arriv'd to an Eminency in Moral Virtues.

Our Reasons and Consciences do not only convince us, (as theirs also did them) that there is a God, and a future Life of Retribution, wherein every Man shall be judged according to his Works; but also, that the Scriptures are the very Word of God, and Rule of Faith and Manners. And if there be any among the debauched Crew, that question, or deny it; we may be confident, none of them are able, by plain and sound Reason, to overthrow those mighty Arguments pleaded for the Confirmation of that Truth: At least, they find in themselves a strong Suspicion and Fear, that they may prove to be true; which Jealousy and Suspicion, working together with their own Reason and Consciences, are no contemptible Helps towards their Recovery.

For if what Reason, Conscience, and Scripture with one Mouth pronounce, be true and certain, (as undoubtedly it will be found to be); then it must be plain and obvious to them also, that their Brutish Lusts have put them into the direct and ready way, both to ruin themselves, and also greatly to hazard the Community to which they belong.

§. 9. As for themselves, if they will make a Judgment upon their own Condition, in the Light of Reason, Conscience, or Scripture, (and they very well know, they take their Measures in perfect Darkness, if they take them not by this Direction); then, continuing the same Course they now do, they are a Lost Generation.

All their Lawful and Faithful Guides tell them, with one Mouth, they are certainly in the Broad Way to Damnation; and that, how irksome and terrible soever the Thoughts and Apprehensions of Hell are to them, yet thither they must certainly come, if they pursue this Course. Their Reason plainly tells them, he that chuseth the Means, and engageth in the Way leading to Hell, must, and ought to make account, that Hell is the Place he is preparing for.

Conscience is as plain and positive with them, that they must either return, or perish. The Scripture confirms the Testimonies of both, by telling them plainly, That the end of these things is death; Rom. 6. 21.

'Tis downright Folly and Madness, by the Vote of the whole Rational and Sober World, for any Man to conclude, or hope he shall be Happy in the World to come, whose Life is drawn through, and finished in all manner of Obscenity, Filthiness, and Prophaneness in the present World.

For let the Case be brought into the Light of your own Reason, as dim as it is, and let it freely judge, when you are belching out your black and horrid Blasphemies against God, imprecating Damnation from him upon your own Souls, wallowing in beastly Lusts, vomiting and roaring in Taverns and Alehouses: Ask, I say, your own Reason, Conscience, or the Scripture, whether all, or either of them, will allow you to say or think, Now we are in the right Way to Eternal Blessedness? This is the very Course, that will bring us to Happiness in the World to come: This pleaseth God better, and is a surer Path to Glory, than Repentance or Faith, Mortification, Prayer, or Reformation. No, no; as blind as your Reason is, and as seared as your Consciences are, you will never bring them to comprobate, or subscribe, such absurd and horrid Conclusions as these.

But on the contrary, they will tell you, That if you will have the Pleasure, you must have the Pain and Torment of Sin. That 'tis Madness to say, you are afraid to burn, but not afraid to sin; that you are loth to be damned, and yet challenge the Almighty God to his Face, to damn you: As much a Folly, as to drink a baneful Dose of known Poison, and think to feel no painful Gripes afterwards.

As for the Scriptures, they appeal to the Reason of Men in this Case, as a most known and allowed Thing, scarce imaginable to lie hid from any Man. 1 Cor. 6. 9. Know you not, that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived; neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind; nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

It would make the Bowels of a Compassionate Christian to rowl and yern within him, to behold Multitudes of Souls of invaluable Worth, running greedily on to their Eternal Ruin, wilfully stopping their Ears all the way, to the Voices of their own Reason and Conscience, as well as to the Voice of God in his Word; not once making a Pause, till they fall into that Gulph of Eternal and Intolerable Misery, into which, with great Precipitation, they are casting themselves.

§. 10. And then, for the Community to which they belong; how dangerous, yea, how destructive such Persons are to it, cannot possibly be hid from any wise and serious Observer. For if one Sinner destroys much Good; if one Achan trouble the whole Camp of Israel; how much more will whole Swarms and Droves of Drunkards, Blasphemers, and Adulterers, as now fill every Place, pull down the Judgments of God, upon those States and Kingdoms wherein they breathe? If our Fears and Dangers were greater than they are, yet Reformation might save us. Jer. 5. 1. Run ye to and fro thro' the Streets of Jerusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a Man, (i. e. a Publick Man, a Man in Authority,) if there be any that executeth Judgment, that seeketh the Truth; and I will pardon it. And if our Hopes and Confidences were much higher than they are, yet unrestrained Sin would undo us. Kingdoms and Commonwealths are not so much endanger'd by the Powers and Policies of their Enemies without them, as they are by the Unreformedness of profligate Wretches within, and amongst them. Reformation quickly recovers the Ancient Glory of Kingdoms, and makes them the Terror of their Enemies.

For tho' there will be still too much Sin privately committed under the best Laws, and most vigorous and impartial Execution of them; yet Abundance of Sin would thereby be prevented, and the Sins that are committed would not become National, but Personal only; and these would not so much concern and hazard the Publick Weal and Tranquility of the State.

Moreover, States and Kingdoms are in no small Hazard by the Publick Debauchery, and common Prophaneness of their Subjects; forasmuch as in this very Sink and Puddle of their Lusts, the Manly Wisdom, Sprightly Courage, and True Gallantry of their Subjects, are quenched and drowned, their Spirits softned and effeminated. 'Tis hard to imagine those Men will engage far in the Cause of Reformation, when Reformation it self is the only Thing they hate and fear.

Nor need we wonder to find Men intimidated, and low-spirited, in Times and Places of imminent Danger, who not only carry about them so much Guilt, (which is the Fountain of Fear) but are wholly addicted to Sensual Pleasures, which they are loth to hazard upon Publick Accounts and and Considerations, these being the only Heaven they have, or hope for: Whoredom and Wine, and new Wine, take away the Heart; Hos. 4. 11. 'Tis in the very Nature of these Sins, to make Men sottish, and in the very Nature of Guilt to make them pusillanimous.

Seneca observes, (and his Observation is true,) That the Conscience of a wicked Man is a terrible Scourge and Torment to him, perpetually lashing him with sollicitous Thoughts and Fears; so that he distrusts all Securities, and knows not where to be safe. Hence it comes to pass, that many Men of good Extraction, liberal Education, and Excellent Natural Endowments, become so useless, yea, so pernicious as they are; who, could they be recover'd but to Temperance and Sobriety, would become both excellently useful, and ornamental to the Nation where they had their Birth, and to the Safety and Honour whereof they owe their Service.

Seneca, Epist. 97.

§. 11. This most desirable Recovery and Reformation of prophane debauched Persons, is not simply and absolutely impossible: And if Magistrates and Ministers were every where exemplary themselves for Sobriety and Piety, zealous and impartial in the Discharge of their respective Duties, a general Reformation would not be difficult. But when those, whose Office it is to suppress Wickedness, shall associate themselves with lewd and profligate Persons, and vye with them in their prophane Courses, or discourage more Conscientious Persons in the Discharge of their Duties; this makes Reformation morally impossible.

If Prophaneness were once found the General Odium of the People, and a Bar to all Preferments, it might be hoped, Things would quickly alter for the better. 'Twas an ancient Custom among the Heathens, (as Learned and Excellent Mr. Hale of Eaton, out of Chrysostom observes) That if a Man offer'd himself to contend in the Olympick Games, he was not permitted so to do, till Proclamation had been first made, Whether any Man knew him to be either a Servant, or a Man of infamous Life? And if any such Imputation were proved against him, it was sufficient to keep him back, let his Skill be what it would.

What Care was here taken, that their Vanities should not be discredited? And will neither Reason nor Religion convince us, that not only equal, but far greater Care ought to be taken, to discourage Prophaneness among Christians, than the blind Heathens ever took, to preserve the Reputation of their vain Exercises? Let all Subordinate Ministers of State, and Officers in the Church, consider how great a Part of this Blessed Reformation is demanded at their Hands.

§. 12. Were Kingdoms and Commonwealths once purged from that Spirit of Prophaneness and Debauchery, which thus defiles and overflows them, and the People generally reduced but to Civility, Sobriety, and Temperance; Experience would quickly shew them the comfortable Effects, and happy Fruits thereof.

For tho' this be much short of what Christianity exacts from all its Professors, and insufficient to obtain the Happiness of the World to come; yet it is greatly conducent to the Civil Happiness and Flourishing of the Kingdoms of this World; and therefore richly worth the Studies and Endeavours of all Men, to promote and obtain it.

There is no Kingdom or Commonwealth in the Christian World, which would not by this means breed and send forth Multitudes more than they do, with Excellent Abilities and Qualifications, fitting them to sit at the Helm of Government, and steer a more prosperous Course than they do at present. A wise and steddy Direction of the arduous and important Affairs of Kingdoms, can only be expected from those that are able to govern themselves, and their own Affairs, with Sobriety and Discretion.

If the Laws of Nations take care for the Preservation and Growth of Timber, fit for the Building of Houses and Ships, and every one sees the Usefulness and Necessity of such Acts; much more ought they to take care for such an Education of Men, as may render them serviceable Members to the State, both in Camp and Council.

Magistrates are (in a Sense) the Foundation of Kingdoms; the strong Shoulders, that bear the Burthen of Government: And Reason will tell, that so great a Weight and Stress, as the Affairs and Concerns of Kingdoms, ought not to be laid on their Shoulders, whose Legs, through Debauchery, are too weak to bear their own reeling and staggering Bodies.

Seamen and Soldiers are the Walls of Kingdoms, and (under God) their Prudence and Courage are the People's Defence and Safeguard. Plutarch tells us, there were Two Virtues in Hannibal, which made him prosperous and successful: There was in him, Plurimum audaciæ ad capienda pericula, & plurimum consilij inter ipsa pericula: He was bold in attempting, and prudent in managing the most difficult Services. The former had signified little without the latter. Courage may throw Men into the midst of Difficulties; but Counsel and Wisdom helps them to emerge those Difficulties; and I'm sure, that cannot be rationally expected from Men, that daily dethrone their own Reason by Debauchery.

But when Men, not only sober, just and temperate, but religiously good, are employed in Publick Trusts and Services; we cannot but think, the Security and Prosperity of such a State are abundantly provided for. And our Confidence hereof is not only founded upon the Maxims of Human Reason, but of Scripture, Wisdom, and Authority also.

What a renowned, prosperous, and successful Captain of the Armies of Israel, was good Joshua! No Man was able to stand before him all the Days of his Life; Josh. 1. 5. But what bred those brave, gallant, and undaunted Spirits in the Breast of this Hero, and crowned his Noble Designs with such admirable Success? If we look into ver. 8. we shall find, it was Religion, that gave both the Edge and Point to his Natural Courage. This Book of the Law shall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do all that is written therein: For then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success.

Hezekiah, this way, became a Non-such among the Kings of Judah; for he clave to the Lord, and the Lord was with him; and he prospered whithersoever he went forth; 2 Kings 18. 5, 6, 7. And dying David, from a whole Life of Experience, recommended this as the only Method of Prosperity, unto Solomon his Son; Keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways; that thou mayest prosper in all that thou dost, and whithersoever thou turnest thy self, 1 Kings 2. 3, 4.

How

How great a Lustre therefore doth this Truth cast about it; that the Restraint and Reformation of Vice, and the due Encouragement of Virtue and Piety, becomes the very Civil Interest of Kingdoms and Nations, by the Joint Votes and Suffrages both of Human and Divine Wisdom? Let any Kingdom or State make Trial of this Method, and from that very Time they shall date their Prosperity. This will make them become the Terrors of their Enemies round about them: Peace and Prosperity shall flourish in the midst of them; which is the true Level and Design, of this most necessary and seasonable Attempt.

CHAP. II.

Producing one Dictate, or Rule of Right Reason, respecting Morality, allowed by Mankind; and passing current thro' the World without one Negative Voice, except only from those Men, whose Reasons are utterly captivated by their Lusts.

§. 1. SUch is the Degeneracy and deep Corruption of some Mens Natures, by ill Education, base Company, and long Custom in Sin; that abandoning and casting away the Bonds and Restraints of Right Reason, as well as Religion, they give the full Scope and Liberty to their Lusts and Passions, reckoning their chief Happiness to consist in the Gratification and Satisfaction of their Sensitive Appetites. They affect a soft, delicate, Sense-pleasing Life; reckoning it the only real Heaven to be desired and sought by them; and any other Heaven beside that, to be merely notional and fantastick. This is the Element they desire to live and sport in, fitly described, Tit. 3. 3, by serving divers Lusts and Pleasures. Hence it comes to pass, that their Bodies serve only to be Strainers for Meats and Drinks, and Channels for filthy Lusts to stream through. In this Stream, their Masculine Agility melts away, and all Publick Hopes and Expectations from them, are totally defeated and disappointed. Appetite is the Master, and Reason the Slave.

These Men (if it be fit to call them Men) have bid defiance to their own Reason, and denounced a War against their own Faculties; as if Reason had licensed and privileged (which it never did, nor can do) their worse than brutish Lusts, to act to the uttermost of their Abilities, without any Master of Restraint over them.

§. 2. But notwithstanding the present Captivity of Reason, under usurping and domineering Lusts, so long as it hath a permanent and fixed Root and Principle in their Nature, 'tis possible it may recover its Throne and Empire over them again; as many an imprisoned King hath done, and probably would do it in a very short Space, if those Prejudices they have conceived against its Government, were but once fairly confuted and remov'd; which certainly is not hard to do.

They are of Opinion, that the Laws of Reason are too severe, strict, and rigorous; that they too much abridge them of their Pleasures and Delights; and that the Government of Sensuality being more easy, favourable and indulgent, is, for that Reason, much more eligible and desirable.

Whereas Right Reason designs not the abandoning of all Pleasures, but only the Exchange of them, and that Exchange every way to our great Advantage. The only Hurt, or Loss, (if this must be accounted so) any Man can sustain by the Exchange of Pleasures made by Reason and Religion, is this; that they design for you the rational, ordinate, and congruous Delights, both of a Man, and of a Christian; in lieu of the lower, baser, and filthy Pleasures of a Beast, or a Devil.

They propose to you Rules about Pleasures, far more safe and grateful, without any culpable Severity, or Austerity in them. Reason would only regulate and legitimate yout Delights, and Religion sanctify them; that you might much more purely and sweetly enjoy them, without either Shame arising from their Turpitude, or Fear from their Guilt. The Rules of both are large and indulgent enough; and, keeping within their Lines and Limits, Men shall find such Generous, Manly, and Agreeable Delights, as are no where to be enjoyed without them.

§. 3. To make this evident, I shall postulate and presume but one Thing, and that a Thing so immediately true and self-evident, that in the first naked Proposal of it, it naturally and easily lets it self into every Man's Understanding, and no sooner asks, but gains the Approbation of right Reason. And that self-evident Principle, which I take for granted, no Man of sound Intellectuals will quarrel or dispute, is this:

That Good which comprises and involveth the true Honour, Profit, and Pleasure of the whole Man, which is more congruous to Human Nature, and preservative of it, is to be preferred in our Estimation and Choice, to that which only yields a lower degree of Pleasure, without Profit or Honour, to the baseſt Part of Man; and that low and transient Pleasure it doth yield, attended and followed with many present and future Miseries, destructive to the whole Man.

The several Parts of this complex Proposition, cast such a Light and Glory round about them, that I cannot imagine, but as soon as it shall be propounded to the Judgment and Censure of sound Reason, it must immediately gain both its Approbation, and Applause.

But because Reason in many Men is so beclouded, and disturbed by Lusts and Passions, that it can neither receive Things orderly, nor judge of them truly and impartially; I conceive it needful, to demand the Censure and Judgment of their Reason, upon the Particulars comprised in this General Complex Proposition; that so weighing and examining them one by one, we may try, whether sound Reason hath any valuable Exception against any Part, or Member thereof.

§. 4. And first, I take it for granted, that no Man's Reason will deny, or demur to this Proposition; That Good is to be chosen, and Evil to be avoided: For the Will is naturally carried to that which is good, as to its proper Object, and shuns that which is evil. And

And that is naturally good, which is convenient and agreeable to Nature; and that naturally evil, which is disconvenient and hurtful to Nature. So that the Choice of Good rather than Evil, is the Natural Choice of the Will; and this Choice of the Will is founded upon the Law of Self-Preservation, without which the Creation would quickly disband, and no particular Being could be long preserved.

And not only the Will of Rational Creatures chuseth the Good, and refuseth the Evil; but every Sensitive Creature is endowed with a Natural Faculty, to discern the one from the other, in order to the Preservation of their Beings. You find it in the smallest and most despicable Animals; and therefore cannot deny it unto Man, the Noblest and most Excellent Being on Earth; except only in his Non-age, before he hath lived to the Years of Discretion. Children indeed, in their Infancy, have no Knowledge to discern between Good and Evil; Deut. 1. 39. But Men, not discerning Good from Evil, or chusing Evil rather than Good, are many degrees beneath Babes.

Secondly, Nor will Reason hesitate at all upon this Particular, That there are degrees of Goodness found among Pleasures and Delights; some are better than others. Every Life is not alike pleasant and happy. To deny this, is to make the most despicable Worm, or Fly, equally happy with the most Excellent Creature upon Earth. And beside, for the Conviction of such debauched Persons as I am here arguing with, it will follow clearly from the Denial of that Truth, that they really gain nothing to themselves, by all their extravagant and licentious Courses; there being altogether as much Pleasure and Felicity, in a temperate, chaste, and sober Life, as there is in that beastly Life they live: And their very Departure from the way of Sobriety, to embrace the ways of Debauchery, most clearly evinceth to the World, that they do not think all Pleasures equal; but that they do confidently expect to find more Pleasure and Satisfaction in the way that they chuse, than they did in the way of Sobriety, which they have left and abandon'd.

Thirdly, I cannot be so uncharitable to think, but the Relicks of Reason in the most profligate Person, will readily admit and grant, That wherever the Good of Pleasure, Profit, and Honour, meet together, and jointly conspire to make the Life of a Man more comfortable, and more durable upon Earth; that is much rather to be chosen, than a mere transient Touch of sensitive Pleasure, accompanied with present Regret, and followed with the Ruin of Estate, Name, Honour, Soul and Body. He that thinks otherwise, is more fit for a Bedlam, than a Rational and Sober Confutation. These Things therefore I take for granted, they being innate and self-evident Notions and Principles in all Men.

§. 5. The Wisdom and Goodness of God are clearly discernible, in leaving such Principles of Reason, and common Notices of Conscience in Men after the Fall, as prompt them naturally unto Justice, Chastity, Temperance, and Sobriety; and do struggle within them, to restrain them from, or recover them out of their Immoralities; from which many Advantages do result.

For hereby God is acknowledged all the World over; Men every where shewing by these Things the Work of the Law written in their Hearts; Rom. 2. 15.

Hereby Kingdoms and Commonwealths are preserved; this being the common Bridle, which restrains the outrageous Lusts of Millions of Men, which else would turn the World into Confusion; tho' here and there some have slipt Bridle, and run into all Excess of Riot. We justly admire the Providence of God, in butting, bounding, and restraining the boisterous Ocean, by Mountains, Rocks, and Sands: And as much is he to be admired, in curbing the insatiable Lusts of Men, by these innate Principles of Reason and Conscience.

Hereby the way to Sin is in some measure barr'd and shut up; and the further Progress of Sinners, already enter'd into it, stopp'd and denied. For Actions done with Regret, cannot be supposed to be done so frequently and furiously, as if they were done without any Regret; or that the way to Sin was smoothed to them, with a full Consent and Approbation of their whole self. For most Sinners find in themselves what Medea did,

——— Video meliora proboque,
Deteriora sequor ———

They both see and approve that which is better, tho' they follow that which is worse.

In a word; these Relicks of Reason and Conscience in Men, are fit Handles to catch hold on, for the turning them about from Satan unto God. When Paul reasoned with Felix, about Temperance, Righteousness, and Judgment to come, his Words laid hold upon these Handles, and gave him such a Shake, that the Text saith, Felix trembled. And oh! that this Discourse might take hold of the Reason and Conscience of every prophane Reader, and produce some more excellent and lasting Effect upon his Soul.

§. 6. These Notices and Dictates of Reason and Conscience in Men, being so necessary, and many ways beneficial to themselves, as well as to the whole Community; it must therefore be an horrid Villany to war against them, and, by Violence, to suppress and enslave them to our own Lust.

This is, as if a Company of desperate Ruffians, should assault Innocent and Noble Travellers upon the lawful Road, bind and gag their Guides, whilst they rob and prostitute them. Thus deal brutish Lusts, (headed by the Devil,) with the Affections of Men, travelling along the lawful Road of Duty, under the Conduct of Reason and Conscience. For this Villany it was, that the Apostle tells us, The Wrath of God was revealed from Heaven against the Heathens, who held the Truth in Unrighteousness; Rom. 1. 18. They had the Light of Natural Reason and Conscience in them, the inbred Notions of Good and Evil; which raised their Hopes or Fears, according to the Nature and Quality of their Actions:

Conscia mens ut cuique sua est, ita concipit intra Pectora pro facto spemque metumque suo. Ovid.

But their headstrong boisterous Lusts, rudely and violently brake in upon Reason and Conscience, imprison'd and bound them; as Zedekiah did the faithful Prophet Jeremiah, for the Discharge of his Duty to him. For this, the wrath of God was revealed from Heaven against them. And indeed, we cannot wonder it should be incensed against them, as it will against all that act like them. For into such a Sin as this, many direful Aggravations fall in together, to make it a monstrous and prodigious Sin.

Here

Here we find an high and cauſeleſs Abuſe of the Nobleſt Natural Faculties and Powers of a Man's own Soul. What Harm have thy Reaſon and Conſcience done thee, by ſtimulating and perſuading to Temperance, Chaſtity, and Sobriety; or by ſtruggling and ſtriving with thee, to prevent both thy preſent and future Ruin? Do they lay their faithful and loving Hands of Reſtraint upon thee, when they ſee thee running headlong into Deſtruction? And do they deſerve for this, and no worſe than this, to be thus trampled under Foot, and abuſed? Ask thy ſelf, Man, Whether thou thinkeſt thy very Dog deſerves to be hanged, for Opening at Midnight, and taking that Thief by the Throat, who came to cut thine? And dareſt thou uſe thoſe Noble Powers within thee, worſe than thou would'ſt uſe a Dog? Humanity would bluſh at ſuch an Action.

Theſe vile Abuſes of thy Reaſon and Conſcience, carry alſo in them an horrid Contempt of God; whoſe Patent, Officers and Delegates, thy Reaſon and Conſcience are. Thoſe certainly ſin with an high Hand againſt the Lord, who make nothing to controul, kick, and lay in Irons, his Commiſſion-Officers, appointed for no other End, but their preſent and future Felicity. Nay,

Such Men as theſe are found in a plain Confederacy with the Devil, and that in a moſt unnatural and horrid Plot againſt their own Souls and Bodies. Their Light and their Luſts are ſtruggling together. Sin and Conſcience are combating one with another; the one to deſtroy, the other to ſave the Man. Dareſt thou join with thy Luſts againſt thy Light, and think not to be brought in as a Party and Confederate with the Devil? The ſtopping of the Mouth of thy Conſcience, fully proves both thy Conſent and Concealment: And if proved Conſent and Concealment make thee not a Party and Acceſſary, it will be very ſtrange.

Plutarch, in his Book de Amicitia, relates a Story of a Perſian, who ſcūffling in the dark with a Magician, againſt whom he had a Grudge; and not being able to conquer him himſelf, called upon his Friend, who ſtood by him with a naked Sword ready to ſtrike, but durſt not, for fear of killing his Friend: The Perſian cries out, Strike, ſtrike, however thy Stroke fall: Thruſt at an Adventure. I care not, ſo thou kill the Magician, tho' thou kill him thro' mine own Body.

Much ſo ſtands the Caſe here, with a little Variation. Thou art furiouſly ſet upon the Enjoyment of thy Luſts; nothing will quiet thee, but their Satisfaction. Thy Reaſon and Conſcience will oppoſe it, and ſtruggle hard with thee, to with-hold thee from them. But thou careſt not, in the Rage of thy inſatiable Appetite, tho' thy Reaſon and Conſcience both fall in the Combat, rather than thy Luſts ſhould not be ſatisfied. Oh, what Brutes! yea, what Monſters, can Sin turn Men into!

§. 7. If Men have not quite extinguiſhed both Reaſon and Conſcience by Debauchery, and diveſted themſelves of Humanity; one would think, no Motion or Addreſs can poſſibly be made to them more fair, rational, and inoffenſive than this; That they would be pleaſed but to conſult themſelves, and hearken to the native and unconſtrained Voice of their own Reaſon and Conſcience, before they engage themſelves in Matters of great Concernment, upon which both their preſent and eternal Welfare do depend; or if they are already engaged, yet at leaſt to lend an Ear to what they have to offer for their Recovery, before it be too late.

You are not here urged and preſſed, to hearken to the Voices of your Enemies that hate you, or to the Counſel and Advice of mere Strangers, who know not your Affairs; but to hearken to your ſelves, to be your own Arbitrators and Judges, to draw up the Award with your own Hand. 'Tis a ſtrange and an hard Caſe indeed, and ſcarce to be ſuppoſed, that Men ſhould fall out with themſelves at ſuch a rate, that they had rather hear the Voice of their mortal Enemy the Devil, and liſten to his Advice and Counſel, than to the Voice of their own Reaſon and Conſcience.

We all account it Madneſs in Balaam, to beat his innocent Aſs, and threaten to kill her for ſhunning the Sword of the Angel, that oppoſed his Paſſage in a ſinful and dangerous Expedition: But how many uſe both their Reaſon and Conſcience worſe than Aſſes, becauſe they dare not go forward, and deſperately carry them into the very midſt of Dangers and Miſeries, which they plainly foreſee, and warn them of?

What Injuries have thy Reaſon or Conſcience done thee, Man? What Affronts have they given thee; that thou wilt not ſuffer them to ſpeak, or offer one Word, tho' never ſo pertinent, ſeaſonable, and neceſſary? There is a Civility due from us to mere Strangers; yea, to Strangers of an inferior Rank and Quality. The leaſt we can do, is to give them a patient Hearing; and not interrupt them, whilſt they ſpeak nothing but what is rational, pertinent, and neceſſary, eſpecially if it be to their own Good and Advantage. 'Tis ſtrange, Men ſhould not think themſelves as much obliged to pay Civility and Reſpect to their own Reaſons and Conſciences, as they daily pay to mere Strangers and Inferiors. Give them but a patient Hearing, and they will both tell thee;

We are thine appointed Guardians, and have our Commiſſion from God, to adviſe, direct, and counſel thee. We are thy faithful and inward Friends; yea, we are thine own ſelf, and the beſt and nobleſt Part of thy ſelf too. At our Hands God will require thy Blood, ſhould'ſt thou periſh by our Silence or Treachery. We cannot be both Silent and Innocent, both are in ſuch Hazard. Don't abuſe us, and ſtop our Mouths for crying out, Stop, ſtop; when we ſee thee departing from the Paths of Honeſty, Honour and Safety, and taking the direct Road to that Gulph of Miſery, in which few (if any) Footſteps are found, of ſuch as return again, that are far engaged therein.

Suffer us but fairly and friendly to expoſtulate the Matter with thee. What Deſign can we have againſt thy true Intereſt; whilſt thine, and ours, cannot poſſibly be oppoſite, or disjunct, but one and the ſame Intereſt?

Well then, that which thy Reaſon and Conſcience offers, being ſo weighty, fair and juſt, and what thine own Intereſt plainly lies in; I will not be ſo uncharitable, as to ſuppoſe thou wilt either refuſe to hear, or reject what they have to ſay, in the following Caſes and Debates.

CHAP.

CHAP III.

Wherein the true Censure and Judgment of Right Reason and Conscience, are given upon prophane Swearing, and Blaspheming the Name of GOD: As also their Replies to several Pleas, offer'd in Defence or Excuse thereof.

§. 1. GOD bestowed on Man the Noble Faculty of Speech, (a peculiar Favour and Privilege) for Two Ends and Uses. (1.) That by the Use of his Tongue, he may glorify his Maker, and sound forth the Praises of his Redeemer. (2.) That we might thereby be able to communicate our Minds one to another, in all our necessary and convenient Interests and Concernments, whether Civil or Religious. This Member, (the Tongue) tho' small in Quantity, is found to be mighty in Efficacy; and whilst it is kept under the Rule and Government of Grace, the Words that drop from it, are as Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver. Gracious Words are Bread to feed, and Water to refresh the Souls of others. A sanctified Tongue is as a Tree of Life. Conversion, Edification, and Consolation, are the delicious Fruits of the Lips.

But the Tongues of some Men break loose from under all the Laws and Rules both of Reason and Religion, and serve only to vent the Froth and Filth, which abounds in the Heart, as in a Fountain of Pollution: For out of the abundance of the Heart, the Mouth speaketh. The Tongue moves lightly, but falls heavily; it strikes soft, but wounds deep. It would not spare Men of the highest Rank and Eminence, did not the Fear of Capital Punishments teach them so much Wit, to keep their Tongues in Prison, that they may keep their Bodies out of Prison. And tho' for this Reason, they are afraid of making too bold with the Names of Men; yet having no Fear of God at all, they fall upon his great and dreadful Name, tossing it to and fro, without any Respect or Reverence.

Augustus prohibited the common Use of his Name, lest it should grow too cheap and vile, by the common and needless using of it. The Name of Mercurius Trismegistus was very sparingly used, because of the great Reverence the People had for him. The very Heathens were afraid to pronounce the Name of their great God, Demogorgon, as fearing the Earth would tremble, when his Name was mentioned. How doth the Reverence of Heathens to their false Gods, expose and aggravate the Impudence of professed Christians, in their vile Indignities and Abuses of the Great and Terrible Name of the True God! Yea, they not only take up his Name vainly and rashly into their Lips, but audaciously insert it by a prophane Oath into their common Talk, as that which gives the Grace, Lepor, and Ornament to their Discourses. Some have not been ashamed to say, What pity is it, that Swearing should be a Sin; which gives so great a Grace and Ornament to Language?

§. 2. Swearing by the Name of God in a Righteous Cause, when called thereto by due Authority, is not only a Lawful, but a Religious Act, founded upon, and directed to the Honour of God's Omniscience; whereunto there is a solemn Appeal made, in every assertory and promissory Oath, and a Religious Acknowledgment made him, of his infallible Knowledge of the Truth or Falshood of our Hearts, and all the Secrets of them, be they never so involved and inward Things.

The Lawful Use and End of Swearing, is to put an End to all Strife, and to maintain both Equity and Charity among Men; the Two Bonds and Ligaments of Human Society. Now it being the Sovereign Right and Property of God alone, infallibly to search and try the Hearts and Reins of Men, he thereby becomes the infallible Witness to the Truth or Falshood of what they speak; so that in every such lawful Oath, there is not only a solemn Appeal, and in that Appeal, an Ascription of Glory to his Sovereign Omniscience; but therein (implicitly at least) they put themselves under his Wrath and Curse, in case they swear falsly; which makes this Action most sacred and solemn.

The deep Corruption of Human Nature by the Fall, makes these Appeals to God under a Curse necessary. For it is supposed, tho' Men be false and deceitful, yet there is some Reverence of a Deity, and Fear of his Wrath and Curse, left unextinguished in their fallen Nature. So that Men will rather speak the Truth, (tho' to their own Shame and Loss) than by invocating so Glorious a Name in vain, put both Soul and Body under his Wrath and Curse. By which it appears, what an awful and solemn Thing an Oath is; and that every good Man, not only takes a Lawful Oath with holy Fear and Trembling, because of the Solemnity of the Action; but rather ought to chuse Death, than to swear profanely, because of the horrid Malignity of the Action.

§. 3. The Contumely and Malignity found in prophane Oaths, appears in that terrible Threatning, The Lord will not hold him guiltless, that taketh his Name in vain: A Threatning, altogether as just and righteous, as it is severe and terrible. This Sin admits of degrees of Guilt. 'Tis highly sinful to Swear by the Name of God lightly and vainly in our common Discourses, tho' the Oath be clipp'd, and half suppress'd, or disguized in the Pronunciation of it; which argues some Remains of Fear and Shame in the Sinner.

'Tis yet worse (and indeed not a jot below Blasphemy) to swear by any other Name, than the Name of God: For in so doing, they attribute to a Creature the Sovereign and Incommunicable Property of God, set that Creature in the very Throne of God, and invest it with the Regalities of his Omniscience, to know our Hearts, and Almighty Power, to avenge the Wrong upon us done to himself, as well as to Men by false Swearing.

But to break in rudely and blasphemously upon the Sacred and Tremendous Name of God, with bold and full-mouth'd Oaths, striking through his Sacred Name with direct contumelious Blasphemies; this argues an Heart, from which all Fear of God is utterly expell'd and banished.

Yet some there are, grown up to that prodigious Heighth of Impiety, that they dare assault the very Heavens, and discharge whole Vollies of Blasphemies against that Glorious Majesty which dwells there. They are not afraid to bid Defiance to him, and challenge the God that made them, to do his worst. They deck and adorn (as they account it) their common Discourses with bloody Oaths, and horrid Imprecations; not reckoning them Genteel and Modish without them. It consists not with the Greatness of their Spirits, to be wicked at the common Rate. They are willing to let the World know, that they are none of those puny, silly Fellows, that are afraid of invisible Powers, or so much Cowards, as to clip a full-mouth'd Oath, by suppressing, or whispering the Emphatical Sounding Syllable; but think an horrid Blasphemy makes the most sweet and graceful Cadency in their Hellish Rhetorick.

They glory, that they have fully conquer'd all those troublesome Notions of Good and Evil, Virtue and Vice, Heaven and Hell, to that degree, that they can now affront the Divine Majesty to his very Face, and not fear the worst he threatens in his Word against their Wickedness.

If there be a God, (which they scarce believe) they are resolved, audaciously to provoke him to give them a convincing Evidence of his Being. And if he be (as they are told he is) rich in Patience and Forbearance, they are resolv'd to try how far his Patience will extend, and what Load of Wickedness it is capable to bear.

If their Damnation be not yet sure enough, they will do their utmost to make it sure, by breaking down the only Bridge whereby they can escape Damnation: I mean, by trampling under their Feet the precious Blood and Wounds of the Son of God, and imprecating the Damnation of Hell upon their own Souls, as if it slumber'd too long, and were too slow-pac'd in its Motions towards them. I am of Opinion, there are few Christians to be found on Earth, crying so often, Lord, pardon; Lord, save me; as some Wretches among us cry, (Horresco referens!) God damn me; the Devil take me.

Herein they seem to envy the Happiness of the Devils, and damned Wretches in Hell, and endeavour (as one speaks) to snatch Damnation out of God's Hands before the Time; as if they could not be soon enough among their roaring and howling Companions, in the midst of the everlasting Burnings. But, why such Haste to be perfectly miserable? The very Devils themselves deprecate Torments before their Time, tho' you imprecate them. Your Misery makes Haste enough towards you; you need not quicken it, or thus run to meet it.

I am perswaded, that if the Bars of the bottomless Pit were broken up, and Devils should ascend in Human Shapes, none among them would be found hastening upon themselves the Fulness and Compleatness of their Misery, as you do. 'Tis a Truth, tho' a strange one; That it is much easier to find, than imagine Men upon Earth professing Christian Religion, yet in some Respect sunk below the Wickedness of the Diabolical Nature, by making Damnation both the Subject of their Drollery, and the Object of their very Wishes and Desires. Some greater Masters of our Language, may more lively and emphatically express the horrid Nature of this Sin; but excuse me, Reader, if I believe, no Words or Thoughts can measure the Heighth or Depth of this monstrous Abomination.

§. 4. Such contumelious Language as this (especially when grown modish or common) cannot but be a most high and dreadful Provocation of God, and such an one as will certainly bring down his desolating Vengeance, not only upon the Heads of Blasphemers themselves, but upon the States and Kingdoms that connive at, or tolerate them. We read, Zech. 5. 2, 3, 4. of a flying Roll, full of Curses, the Length thereof twenty Cubits, and the Breadth thereof ten Cubits; which shall enter into the House of the Swearer, remain in the midst of his House, and consume it with the Timber and Stones thereof. Blasphemy and prophane Swearing, are like Barrels of Gunpowder laid under the Foundation of many Great and Noble Families, many of which are already blown up, and laid in Ruins by this Sin, and many more ready to follow, as soon as the Justice of God shall give Fire to it.

And (comparatively speaking) it were happy if the Mischief ended here; but alas! it causes God to commence a Quarrel with the whole Land; Hos. 4. 2, 3. And because of Oaths, the Land mourneth. You find in Isa. 38. what it was that brought that unparallel'd Desolation upon that famous and flourishing City Jerusalem, and the whole Land of Judah: For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen; because their Tongues and their Doings are against the Lord, to provoke the Eyes of his Glory.

But alas! Scripture-Threatnings signify scarce so much with these Men, as the Predictions of the Weather in an Almanack; and, which is strange to consider, the very Execution of Scripture-Threatnings before their Eyes, will not terrify them from this inhuman Wickedness: Even these also are laughed to scorn, or easily forgotten.

Oh! that God would set it home with Power, upon the Spirits of all that are in Power, to take some speedy and effectual Course, to remove this accursed thing, this Iniquity to be punished by the Judge; one (and a chief one too) of those direful Provocations of Heaven, to which we owe a special Part of our National Infelicity at this Day. We all acknowledge, that all Prosperity and Success depends upon God: If so, Reason will subsume, that it must be therefore the Interest of Kingdoms and Commonwealths, to prevent and restrain those Impieties, which so audaciously provoke and incense his Wrath. As much is this their Duty and Interest, as it is the Interest of a Courtier to avoid Offences of his Royal Master, the King, upon whose Favour his Honour and Preferment depends. Or as it is the Duty of the Owner, to keep in that Ox which is used to goring; or cover that Pit, into which some have, and others of his Family are like to fall; or carefully and speedily to remove that Gunpowder, which his Enemies have placed under the Foundation of his House, to blow it up. Both Reason and Experience will inform the Rulers of this World, That profess'd Rebels to the God of Heaven, are never like to make useful Subjects in the Kingdoms of Men.

§. 5. 'Till Publick Justice lay hold upon such Offenders, let us try what close Reasoning may effect, for their Reformation. 'Tis hard to imagine, that Men of Sense should so generally, and so far, engage themselves in this Course of prophane Swearing, and have nothing at all to say for themselves.

If they have no Reason at all, to offer in Justification or Excuse of what they do, they act the Brutes, not the Men, and are self-condemned already.

'Tis

'Tis a Question with me, Whether the Soul of Man, on this side Hell, can sink so deep into the Nature of a Devil, as to sin because he will sin; or to engage himself in a Course of Sin, without any Respect at all to some Carnal Interest, either of Profit, Pleasure, or Honour?

The Thief hath a visible Temptation of Gain to allure him, or pinching Necessity, to induce him. The Lyar is drawn in, to commit that second Sin, to cover the Shame and Turpitude of a former. The Adulterer promiseth himself Pleasure, in the Satisfaction of his Lusts. And tho' Men generally stand amazed to think, what that Temptation should be, which prevails upon the Swearer; yet doubtless, something there is he hath to plead in Excuse and Extenuation of his Fault. Whatsoever it be, let it be produced, and weighed in the Balance of right Reason; Valeat quantum valere potest, Let it have its due Value and Consideration. And could I imagine any thing more likely to be their Inducements, that what I shall here mention, I would not conceal them. There are only Four Things, that can fall within the Compass of my Imagination, pleadable by them, when seriously charged with the Evil of the Fact.

1. Some of them will haply tell us, that they would not swear as they do, if they could gain Credit to what they say without it; but the Incredulity of others, provokes them to add so many Oaths to their single Affirmations.

2. Others of them will tell us, they only swear in their Passion, when provoked by Injuries received from others; and if Men did not wrong them, they would not wrong God as they do.

3. Some will plead, that Swearing is become modish, the Badge and Character of a Gentleman; that it gives them Reputation among Men of their own Rank and Quality; and that they shall be looked upon as sneaking Fools, unfit for the Company of Gentlemen, if they could not discourse with them in this Dialect.

4. And some will confess the Practice is evil; but that they have gotten such an ill Habit, and the Sin is become so customary with them, that many times they know not whether they swear or no.

I cannot imagine, nor (I think) they themselves, what else is pleadable in Excuse, or Extenuation of this horrid Sin: Let these that are produced, have a fair Trial at the Bar of Reason; and carry your selves towards this Sin for ever hereafter, according to that righteous Verdict your selves shall be forced to pass upon it.

§. 6. To begin with the first Plea. You say, you would not swear as you do, could you gain Credit to your Words without it. Weigh this Question in the upright Balance of thine own Reason, whether any wise or sober Man in the World, will find himself ever the more obliged to believe what you say, by the Addition of blasphemous Oaths and Imprecations, to your plain and simple Affirmations and Negations. I cannot think, that you your selves would give the more Credit to any Man, that should profess his Sincerity to you, by finding him, in that his very Profession, false and treacherous to his God. Say, Reason, dost not thou take this for a sure Truth; That he who makes no Conscience of being true to God, will never make much Conscience of being false to Men? For what is that which gives any Man's Words Reputation among wise and sober Men, but the Supposition of his Integrity, and Conscientious Fear of his Deceit and Guile? Take away that, and with it you take away the Credibility of all his Reports and Affirmations.

If I look upon the Person that speaks, as a Man of Integrity and Conscientious Tenderness, I have a sufficient ordinary Security of the Truth of what he saith. But if I look upon him as a Man of a prostitute and seared Conscience, that dares venture upon any Sin; a Man, in whom there is no Awe of God, to produce Veracity in his Words; then my Reason presently concludes, that where there is no Truth, there ought to be no Trust: For Truth is the very Ground-work and Foundation of Trust. Now what Truth can we suppose to be left in that Man, that sticks not, upon any trivial Occasion, to break asunder all the Obligations of a Creature to his Creator; together with all the Bonds of Kindness, his great and best Benefactor hath bound him withal; and without any the least Injury he can pretend his God hath done him, to fly in his very Face with the most contumelious Language? Can we suppose any Truth to be in, or any Trust to be due to such a Man as this?

Good Men and Bad are thus contradistinguished; Eccl. 9. 2. Him that sweareth, and he that feareth an Oath. A Conscientious Man is so afraid of an Oath, that he would rather chuse to die, than swear some kind of Oaths: And tho' he be satisfied of the Lawfulness of an Oath in general, and of the Matter of that Oath he sweareth in particular; yet an holy Awe and Fear of God fills his Heart, when he swears lawfully and necessarily, lest he should fail in the manner of it, by not giving that due Reverence to the Name of God, which so Sacred and Solemn an Action requires.

But from prophane Swearing, and Blaspheming the Name of God, every Man's Reason may justly and plainly infer this Conclusion; that the Fear of God is not in that Man's Heart. And where there is no Fear of God, what Truth can be supposed in him; or what Trust can be due to his Words, or Oaths? But the more he swears, still the less Reason all wise Men have to believe him. And I am sure, the Credulity of Fools adds little Reputation to him. This Plea therefore, for prophane Swearing, is altogether sham'd, baffled, and cashier'd by the common Reason of Mankind.

§. 7. Call therefore to the Bar of Reason, the Second Plea, or Apology, for prophane Swearing.

You say, you swear not, unless provoked by Injuries Men have done you.

This is so weak a Plea for so great a Sin, that I wonder, Men are not ashamed to bring it into the Court of Reason. This is the true Sense, and Strength of it. My Enemy hath abused me; therefore I'll avenge the Wrong my Enemy hath done me, upon my best Friend and Benefactor. I challenge you to give but the Colour, or the Shadow of a sound Reason, why, upon any Abuse you have received from Men, you should fall so injuriously upon the Name of God, who never abused or injured you, since he gave you a Being; but hath always done you good. Tell me, Man, (if thou have the Reason of a Man in thee) what Wrong hath God done thee? Wherein hath he injured thee, that thou thus wreakest thy Revenge upon him? If an Enemy have affronted you, Reason would tell you, you ought not to take Revenge for it, upon your Friend, and best Benefactor. Have you none but God to abuse, when Men abuse and injure you? Can your Reason compro-bate and allow ſuch an Action as this? Satan inſtigates the Corruptions of Men to injure you; and you fly in the Face of God for it, whoſe Laws ſeverely prohibit ſuch Actions, and will avenge the Injuries done unto him. Speak no more therefore for ever, in the way of excuſing the horrid Sinfulneſs of this Fact againſt God, upon the Account of Injuries done thee by thy Fellow-Creature. The Caſe is plainly determined, and caſt over the Bar of Reaſon with Contempt and Abhorrence.

§. 8. Come we next to your Third Excuſe, or Plea; That Swearing is become modiſh, and gives you a Reputation among Men of your own Rank and Quality; and that you ſhall be looked upon as ſneaking Fellows, unfit for the Society of Gentlemen, if you did not diſcourſe with them in their own Dialect.

This Apology for Sin is of no late Date: Salvian mentions it as far back as his own Time: Prophane Perſons then * thus pleaded for themſelves, that they were compell'd to be evil, leſt they ſhould be accounted vile.

* Mali eſſe coguntur, ne viles habeantur.

Whether there be any Weight in this Apology for Swearing, will quickly appear, now it is to be laid in the Balance of true Reaſon.

1. And firſt of all, let us conſider what makes a true Gentleman; and whether prophane Swearing have any place in his true Character and Deſcription. † A Gentleman, is one that ſprings from famous and renowned Anceſtors, and degenerates not from their Probity and Honour.

† Generoſus, nobilis, ex præclaro genere ortus, qui à genere non deflectit.

This is the Man, whom the Latins call Generoſus, and we, a Gentleman: Becauſe we ſuppoſe a Man of ſuch an Extraction and Education, more gentle, affable, and condeſcending to Inferiors, and to keep a ſtricter Government over his Tongue and Paſſions, than rude Plebeans are wont to do. Upon this Account, the Poet rightly obſerves,

Quo major eſt quiſquis, magis eſt placabilis ira,
Et faciles motus mens generoſa capit.

Men of Genteel Extraction and Education, are Perſons, whoſe Paſſions are ſuppoſed to move more gently than other Mens: And if at any time they be moved diſorderly, yet are they more placable, and ſooner reduced, than thoſe of ſordid and baſer Spirits are.

'Tis Virtue which raiſes and ennobles Families at firſt; for Omnis ſanguis concolor, all Human Blood is derived from, and equally tainted by Adam. Nobler, and Baſer Blood, is an After-Difference, made by Virtue and Vice among Men. And as Virtue firſt ennobled, and raiſed ſome Families above others, ſo it will ſtill continue the Line of Honour in their Poſterity: And as their Virtues ſhall increaſe, ſo will their Honour proportionably do.

The Caſe truly and plainly ſtanding thus; 'tis morally impoſſible, to make Debauchery the proper Badge and Character of Gentility. For Men of Eminency (above the Vulgar) are more obliged than they, to ſhun all baſe and ſordid Actions: And as their Honour increaſeth, ſo do their Obligations to Temperance and Sobriety, increaſe and ſtrengthen upon them proportionably.

'Twas therefore a Right and Rational Obſervation of Hierome; I ſee nothing deſirable in Nobility, (ſaith he) but this; That ſuch Men are bound by a certain kind of Neceſſity, not to degenerate from, or ſtain the Glory and Honour of their Renowned Anceſtors. And the Reaſon is ſtrong and evident: For Virtue being that which firſt differenced their Blood from others, they are obliged, by all the Value they have for the Honour of their Blood and Families, to ſhun thoſe Vices which ſtain that Honour and Dignity. And what Vice can diſhonour and debaſe them more, than prophane Swearing? For if the Arms of many Noble Families have been reverſed, for Treaſon againſt the King; 'tis irrational to imagine, that Treaſon againſt the King of Kings, ſhould add a new Mark of Honour: And what is Blaſphemy, but Treaſon againſt God? 'Tis plain then, from the true Riſe and Character of a Gentleman, prophane Swearing neither firſt raiſed, nor can preſerve and continue, but rather blots and expoſes, their Reputation and Honour.

2. Tho' I am moſt willing to pay a becoming Deference to all Perſons of Noble and Genteel Extraction, yet in Faithfulneſs to their true Honour, I am here obliged to ſay, (and in ſaying it, I can offend no Man that hath a true Senſe of Honour) that their Natural Deſcent can never give them ſo much Honour, as the Vices I am here cenſuring will reflect Ignominy and Diſhonour upon them. To be a Slave of Satan, and your own Luſts, is ſuch a Mark of Infamy, as all the Honourable and Illuſtrious Titles in the World can never cover. It is better to riſe by Virtue to Honour, from contemptible Parents, than by Vice and Prophaneneſs, to grow contemptible from Honourable Parents. 'Tis your Honour, to have many Servants at your Command, obſequiouſly attending a Nod of your Head, or a Beck of your Finger: But ask your own Reaſon, Gentlemen, whether it be not a greater Diſhonour, for you to attend as obſequiouſly your ſelves, upon every Beck and Nod of Satan, and your own Luſts?

Were your Natural Birth once ennobled by the New Birth, you would be more than thrice Honourable. Grace would make you more illuſtrious, than your Natural Extraction doth, or can do. Or if Morality (which is far inferior to that Honour, and for which Heathens themſelves have been renowned in the Pagan World) did but adorn and beautify your Converſations; tho' it cannot entitle you to Heaven, or ſecure to you the Glory of the World to come; yet it would make you ſhine in the Eyes of Men in this World, and taking its Advantage from your Honourable Extraction, make you differ from Perſons of an inferior Rank, as Stars of a greater Magnitude and Luſtre. I hope, Gentlemen valuing themſelves upon their Honour, will not be offended at a ſharper Invective than this, againſt thoſe Vices that darken and eclipſe their Honour, both in the Eyes of God, as well as in the Judgment of all Wiſe and Good Men.

3. Suppoſe what you ſay to be true, that ſome prophane Gentlemen ſhould ſcoff and deride you, for your ſober Carriage, and decorous Language, (Things which ought to be inſeparable from true Gentility) I would in this Caſe appeal to your own Reaſon, why you ſhould not enjoy your own Pleaſure in as full Latitude and Liberty, as they do theirs? They delight in the Dialect of Devils; you, in pure and inoffenſive Language. If they will drink the puddled Waters, and you refuſe them for the pure Criſtal Streams; you have, to be ſure, as much Reaſon (and a Thouſand times more) to aſſert your Liberty to be virtuous, than they have (or can pretend to have) a Privilege to be vicious.

And

And if they will be offended with you for this, their Offence is groundless in themselves, and will be greatly advantageous to you. For you need not doubt but you may find better Company than theirs any where on this side Hell. I remember that rational and excellent Apology, which Tertullian made for the Christians in his Time against the Gentiles: 'Wherein (saith he) do we offend you, 'if we will not partake with you in your Delights? 'If we sustain any Damage by such our Refusal, 'the Injury can be only our own: We reject your 'Pleasures, and you are not delighted with ours.

You will shew your selves true and worthy Gentlemen, in abandoning and rejecting (upon so noble an Account as this) all further unnecessary Society with such Gentiel-men; for so they deserve to be called, rather than Gentlemen. They boast, indeed, the Honour of their Blood, whilst they trample the precious and invaluable Blood of Christ under their Feet: They boast their Eminency above the Vulgar, whilst mean time they labour vilely to debase him that set them there.

I am sure there's not a Devil in Hell, but is by Nature of a more honourable and illustrious House, than the proudest of Blasphemers. They are Angels by Nature, tho' Devils by Practice. They have little Reason to boast of their Original Excellency, which now aggravates their Misery. Sin darkened their Lustre, degraded them from their Natural Dignity; and so it will do theirs also, that imitate Devils in their Blasphemy and Malignity against God.

4. It may as easily be proved as asserted, That to make Cursing, Swearing, and Blaspheming, the Badges and Characteristical Marks of a true Gentleman, is the foulest Blot and Mark of Infamy, which the Malice of their Enemies can devise to put into their Escutcheons; and such an Affront, as ought to be highly resented by all true Gentlemen.

Should the most malicious Enemy you have in the World, see an Herald to devise a Mark of Infamy for your Coat of Arms, to make you ridiculous, and a By-word among the People; he could never dishonour you at that rate, you this way dishonour your selves.

For if Debauchery be both asserted and allowed to be the true Badge of Gentility, then your own Reason will infer, that all the ancient Epithets of Gentility ought thereupon to be altered. And would those Gentlemen, think you, take it well, to have the Titles and Epithets of Ingenious, Worthy, Honourable, and Noble, changed into Cursing, Swearing, Damning, Blaspheming Gentlemen? You cannot but see the Inconsistency of both: If therefore you will adopt and wear the latter, you must either cashier and renounce the former, or try to make the former consistent with the latter, which I am sure the most Ingenious among you will find an hard Task to do.

5. I humbly beg leave to propound one plain blunt Question to you, Gentlemen. The Matter of it is too rational to be rejected, and let that make Atonement for the blunt manner of its Proposal. And the Question is this:

Quest. Whether your Reason and Conscience be fully satisfied, that when you die (as you know you shortly must) you shall then appear before the Judgment-Seat of God, in the Quality and Character of Gentlemen? Do you verily think you shall find the more Favour there, for the sake of your Noble Descent, and Honourable Extraction, or that your Gentility shall make an Atonement for all your Impiety?

I am perswaded, Gentlemen, you do not; you cannot think so. You know you must appear before that God, with whom there is no Respect of Persons; a God that will certainly damn the impenitent Blasphemer. The Man must assuredly go to Hell, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. And if the Man be damned, certainly the Gentleman is in a bad Case.

6. In a word, I am past all doubt, and so may you too, that this genteel Mode of Swearing, Drinking, and Whoring, which hath spread so far in this present infamous Age, into Protestant States and Kingdoms, is the very Spirit and Strength of a Popish Plot, subtilly projected, and industriously managed, for their effectual Reduction to Popery.

For nothing in the World can reconcile Men to Popery; yea, and even endear them to it, like Debauchery. Under Popery, Gentlemen may come up to the Rates of costly Pardons and Indulgences, for their greatest Sins. They may give themselves Liberty to wallow in Prophaneness all the Days of their Life. They may give their Lusts the utmost Scope and Liberty, and yet have a plenary Pardon when they die. So that they need not abridge themselves of any sinful Liberty, or boggle at the loudest Blasphemy, while they have that in their Pocket to still and quiet something that grumbles in their Bosom. Do you not see, Gentlemen, the natural Tendencies of these Things? Does not Debauchery look like a Shoeing-Horn to Popery.

Besides, Gentlemen, the Devil and the Pope are Confederates in a farther Design upon you; and if their Design hit, they hope to win by Power, what they may miss by Policy; and that by the very same Method of corrupting and debauching Persons of eminent Rank and Quality, in Protestant Kingdoms and Commonwealths. For (as a * Learned Man in Queen Elizabeth's Days rightly observed): These are the Men especially interested in the Publick Affairs of Kingdoms. These represent the People in Parliaments. These make their Laws, administer the Government in Peace and War. To their Hands are committed the great Concerns of Nations. These are they that fill the Seats of Publick Judicature.

If Gentlemen, therefore, by this means be generally corrupted and infected by Debauchery, their Influence and Example is likely to infect the greatest Part of the Body Politick, and either make the People easily pliable to the Charms and Courtships of Popery, for the Rason before-mentioned; or so besot their excellent Parts, and enervate their Masculine Courage, that they shall fall an easy Prey to their (otherwise) weak and despicable Enemies.

And certainly, Gentlemen, we have all Cause to reckon this Plot very far advanced, when we shall see Debauchery every-where made the Badge of Gentility; and Chastity, Temperance, and Sobriety, become the Marks and Notes of Infamy. When Civility it self shall be hiss'd with Derision out of some Gentlemens Company; and the more temperate and sober any Man is, by so much the less fit to be a Gentleman's Companion.

By this time I hope you are convinced, that true Gentility is no Enemy to Sobriety, nor Debauchery the Character of Gentility; and will at last pardon,

* Lauren. Humphredus de Nobilitate, p. 64.

Qui publicis rebus intersunt & præsunt, nisi viri summi ac nobiles? Quis in Senatu præit, in foro præsidet? Principes sanè viri & nobiles. Quis jubet, vetat, agit, satagit? Quis versat & volvit omnia? Quis leges fingit & refingit? Quis in pace Rempublicam, contra hostes bella administrat, præterquam viri nobiles? &c.

pardon, if not thank me, for endeavouring this way to secure the true Honour of some, whilst I rationally argue down the Vices and Follies of others. This Plea for Debauchery, you see, hath the same Fate the former had, and deserves never to be mentioned more.

§. 9. There is but one Plea more, and that as silly and irrational as any of the former: And that is,

The Custom and Habit of Swearing, which you say is hard to be broken. This Sin is become so customary to you, that now you scarce note or observe it in your selves.

That there may be Truth in the Matter of this Plea, I neither deny nor doubt; but that it is a rational and allowable Plea, will never be granted by your own Reason. The thing you say may be true; for we sometimes find, that when you are taxed for Swearing, you will presently swear that you did not swear; and curse him to his Face, that accuses you for Cursing.

But pray, Gentlemen, make your own Reason judge, whether Custom be a valid and allowed Plea for prophane Swearing and Cursing. Say, Reason, wilt thou allow that one of the highest Aggravations of Sin, is pleadable in thy Court for the Excuse and Extenuation of it? Wilt thou give it under thy Hand, that the Man is the less guilty, because the more wicked? Darest thou to warrant it, that God will take the less Notice of the Wrongs Men do him, because they are used and accustomed so to wrong and abuse him every Hour in the Day? If your Reason can allow and warrant this, I must say it is different, yea, and opposite to the common Reason of Mankind.

Say not, I make my own Reason the Rule and Standard of yours, or other Mens. For I argue here (as I have done all along before) upon the common Topicks and Maxims of Reason, generally allowed all the World over by Mankind. If a Practice be evil, the oftner it is repeated, the more still it is aggravated.

To be plain and faithful with you, Gentlemen; If it be your Custom to blaspheme, 'tis God's Custom to damn Blasphemers. If you use to be drunk and unclean, God uses to punish Drunkards and Adulterers (if impenitent and unreformed) with his everlasting Wrath.

And when you are cited (as shortly you must be) before the awful Tribunal of the Great, the Just, and the Terrible God, ask but your selves, whether such a Plea as this, be like to excuse you in whole, or in part, and take off the Heinousness of these horrid Impieties? Will your prophane Oaths, and direful Execrations and Imprecations, be excused in the least degree, by telling him, Lord, I was so accustomed to blaspheme thy Name; Cursing, Swearing, and Damning, were so familiar Language in my Lips from Day to Day, that I had quite lost the Sense of the Action, as well as of the Evil thereof; and therefore, Lord, pity, spare, and have Mercy on me: O damn not my Soul to thine everlasting Wrath. For tho' I have imprecated it upon my self, yet frequent Custom at length extinguished all my Sense and Conscience of the Evil thereof, 'till at length I could play with a direful Imprecation as an harmless thing; nay, thought it an Ornament and Grace to my Speech, a gallant Expession, alamode the Times and Places I lived in.

Is not this as good a Plea, and not a jot better than that of a Malefactor upon his Tryal for Life and Death, when Theft or Robbery have been evidently and substantially proved upon him, and the Judge demandeth, What he hath to say for himself, why Sentence of Death should not pass upon him? Mercy, my Lord, Mercy, cries he; for I have been so used and accustomed to filching and thieving from my Youth up, that for some Years before I was apprehended, every ones Goods and Cattle seemed to me to look like my own; so that I scarce knew when I stole, and when I did not.

And thus, Gentlemen, you have heard a fair Tryal of the Sin of prophane Swearing, and Imprecations of Damnation; and you have heard the Verdict of your own Reason and Conscience upon the Case. The Lord help you to break off and reform that Sin, for which there is not one Word of Apology or Excuse now left in your Mouths.

Let me close all I have to say upon this Head, with one plain Question: Do you think you must die, or live here for ever, as you now do? If you are convinced (as all the Living are supposed to be) that you must die, do you desire an easy and comfortable, or a painful and terrible Death? I presume there is no Man living that is convinced he must die, but desires naturally and rationally an Εὐθανασίαν, as easy and comfortable a Dissolution as may be. If so, I appeal to your Reason, whether prophane Swearing and Blaspheming the Name of God, be a proper rational way to obtain Peace and Comfort at Death? With what Hope or Encouragement can those Tongues of yours cry at Death, Lord, have Mercy upon me, which have prophaned that Name, and imprecated Damnation from him, till you came into your last Extremities, which convinced you, you could live no longer.

'Tis a serious Question, and well worth a cool and solemn Debate in your own Reasons and Consciences. Some of you are more immediately exposed to the Dangers of Death than others, ready to be disbanded by a Bullet. If you fall, you must either fall considerately, or inconsiderately. If inconsiderately, and without any Sense or Conscience of this horrid Guilt, you die impenitently, and consequently desperately and miserably. If considerately, and with awakened Consciences, I demand, Whether such Guilt as this will not roar louder than the Peals and Vollies of those great and small Guns do, which breathe Destruction upon you, and round about you? I have done my Message plainly and faithfully to the very Face of your Reason and Conscience; and if for my Faithfulness and Zeal, both for God's Honour and yours, I am rewarded with your Curses; yet if you would forbear to blaspheme and rend in Pieces the Name of God, I shall not much regard the Obloquy and Reproach my Name shall undergo and suffer upon that account. But I expect from you better Fruit than this.

CHAP.

CHAP. IV.

Wherein Reason and Conscience are again consulted, about the Practice of Drunkenness; and their Righteous and Impartial Censure given upon that Case.

§. 1. THough our Souls and Bodies be of vastly different Natures and Originals, yet they do clasp and embrace each other with most dear and tender Affection. 'Tis marvelous to behold such a Spiritual and Heavenly Creature as the Soul in all Men, fervently loving, and in most Men fondly doting upon a Lump of Clay, a Clod of Earth: It sympathizeth tenderly with it. If the meanest Member of the Body be in pain, the Soul is presently concerned for it, and evidences it self to be so, by commanding the Eyes both to watch and weep, the Tongue to complain and moan, the Hands to bind up its Wounds with all imaginable Tenderness, and carefully defend it from the least injurious Touch. But if the whole be in Danger, how do its Nobler Faculties of Understanding, Memory, and Invention, awaken and bestir themselves to the uttermost for its Deliverance and Safety.

Whilst the Soul lives in Union with the Body, 'tis filled with assiduous (and too often with exorbitant and distracting) Cares, for its necessary Support and Comfort. And when it must be separated from it by Death, what strong Aversations to Death doth it ordinarily discover? The strong Ties and Bonds betwixt it and the Body, cannot be loosed without much Conflict and Struggling, evidenced by these emphatical Groans it sends forth; Groans which other Men understand not, nor can be supposed to understand, till they themselves come to feel the Parting-Pull.

The Reason of all which lies in the intimate Relation which is betwixt these different Natures, which God hath married together in the Womb, from which Time they have been Companions and Partners in all the Comforts and Troubles of Life. The Body is the Soul's House in which it dwells, and still shall dwell, 'till Death dissolve it. 'Tis the Soul's Garment, that clothes and covers it. It hath worn this Garment of Flesh from the Beginning, and is to wear it still, till Sickness hath brought it to Rags, and Death stript it from the Soul.

'Tis the Tool and Instrument by which it doth all its Works, whilst it is in this State of Composition; and therefore the Soul cannot but love it fervently. No Man ever yet hated his own Flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it.

§. 2. The Case so standing betwixt the Soul and Body, the Wisdom or Folly of the Soul is plainly discovered in its way and manner of governing the Body, as the Love and Prudence of an Husband is in the Government of his Wife; or the Master in ordering the Affairs of his House; or the neat Breeding of a Man, in the comely wearing of his Garments; or the Skill and Care of an Artificer, in the Brightness, Keenness, and Sharpness of his Tools.

Some Husbands give Evidence to the World of their Governing-Prudence and Ability, in such an Allowance of Liberty to their Wives, as the Laws of Conjugal Love require, and their Estates and Incomes will conveniently bear, and no more; and in restraining their Extravagancies, as well as by encouraging their virtuous Courses, in keeping back no due Encouragement to Virtue, nor giving the least Encouragement unto Vice.

A well-bred Man, that carries with him a becoming Sense of his Quality, and the Decorum he ought accordingly to observe, will wear his Garments decently, and becoming his Rank: They shall be sure to be neat and clean, and sit fit and comely upon his Body. He abhors to wear a Garment tumbled in the Mire, and go like a Beast, without regard to his Reputation.

No prudent Owner and Governor of an House, will let the Rain drop through the Roof, nor choak up the Passage to his Door with a nasty Dunghill. His House within shall be neat, and not nasty: The Rooms clean and comely: And yet abhors to suffer superfluous Ornaments, and costly Vanities, to swallow up his Estate that should maintain it, and bring Bailiffs (more odious than a Dunghill) to his very Doors.

The curious Artificer neither grinds away the Substance of his Instruments to make them bright and glittering, and set an Edge too fine to hold one Minute's Use; nor yet suffers them to be thrown aside in some neglected Corner, where Rust and Flaws shall render them utterly useless, or make him blush at the Botches such Instruments will cause in his Work.

The prudent Husbandman will neither break the Heart of his Ground for want of Rest and Compost, nor yet overload it with Dressing, which brings forth nothing but rank and useless Weeds; he will in a fit Season turn in a Stream of Water to his Meadows, like a Cordial-draught to fainting Spirits; but will not drown it, and rot the very Roots of his Grass, by letting in too much, or by suffering it to lie under Water too long. He will feed his Horse high enough to perform his Journey, and carry him through the Mire; but will not feed him to such a heighth, that the Rider shall neither be able to sit, nor command him.

In all these Cases, the common Prudence of every Man directs him to that just Mediocrity, wherein both his Honour and Profit do apparently lie. And what we say in such common Cases and Concerns as these, is as true, and much more excellent in the Soul's prudent Government of its own Body, unto which it was espoused in the Womb, and is its dear and constant Partner, both in present and future Good or Evil. 'Tis the Garment it wears, the Instrument it useth, and the Field it cultivates. It must neither deny the Body those necessary Supports and Comforts which God and Nature allow it, nor yet surfeit and overcharge it with more than it is able to bear. In either of these Extremes, the extreme Folly of the Soul is discovered.

§. 3. Now the dethroning of Reason, and frequent Oppressions of Nature, by the Practice of Drunkenness, is the highest Exaltation of Folly in the Soul of Man; plainly manifesting its Ignorance rance and Inability to order and govern the Body, to which it is married by a vital Union.

Here's a foolish Soul by Misgovernment, dishonouring and destroying its vigorous and comely Body, under a pretence of Love and Kindness to it. We account it one of the greatest outward Infelicities in this World, incident to a discreet and virtuous Woman, to be headed and governed by a sottish Fool, neither able to govern himself, or her, nor give a Reason of his own Actions or Commands. A Man whose Folly shall make her blush in all sober Companies he comes into, and forces her upon such a Course of Life, as she perfectly abhors, and will bring speedy Ruin upon her; all Men pity such a Case as this. And this is the very Case of many a comely, vigorous Body.

Only such a Woman hath two Reliefs under her Bondage, which the Body of a Drunkard wants. She can sometimes withdraw and retire from his Company, and enjoy the Relief of her Solitude, which the wretched Body of a Drunkard cannot do till Death; but is tied Day and Night to the Company of its foolish Soul, which is frequently abusing it, and imposing upon it.

Besides, such a Woman may haply over-live her vicious, abusive Husband, and spend many a comfortable Year in the World with a more discreet, sober, and religious Partner of her Life, whose Sobriety, Discretion, Piety, and Love, shall make full Compensation for all those Years of Misery and Slavery she endured before. But the Case before us, admits no such Relief: For as long as ever the Body lives and breathes, the Soul is, and must be with it, and in it. And tho' Death will for a time separate and divorce them, yet the Body's Second Marriage at the Resurrection, can be with no other but the same Soul which oppressed and ruined it in this World. And this Second Marriage will be far worse than the first: For tho' it were the sottish Soul's Slave and Drudge in this World, and suffered many a Sickness, Shame, and Loss by its Folly; yet in the World to come, it must be its Partner and Companion in Hell-Torments for evermore, inasmuch as it was the Instrument the Soul used in most of those Sins committed by it in this World. And this is the Case of all Bodies married to, and governed by Souls that have neither Reason nor Religion enough prudently and soberly to order and govern their own Bodies.

§. 4. Sad and doleful, therefore, are the Lamentations and Complaints of the Bodies of Drunkards, against the Folly and Tyranny of their Souls; and just as sad. Let me therefore here act the Part of an Advocate for your Bodies, which is a Part of your selves, and to which by the Law of Nature you owe Love, Care, and Honour; or rather by a Prosopopœa, let me bring in the Body sighing out its own Complaints in the Ears of its own Soul, and thus bemoaning it self to it.

'Oh, my Soul! I have cause to lament the 'Day, that ever I was married to such a sottish 'Fool as thou art, who art destitute both of Wis'dom and Love to rule and govern me. I may 'justly resume Job's Lamentation upon thy Ac'count, and say with him: Let the Day perish where'in I was born, and the Night wherein it was said, 'there is a Man child conceived. Why died I not from 'the Womb? Why did not I give up the Ghost when I 'came out of the Belly? For now should I have lien still 'and been quiet; I should have slept, then I had been at 'rest.

'I have been a perfect Slave and Drudge to thy 'unreasonable Lusts and Impositions. I was once 'an active, vigorous, comely Body, and hadst 'thou been wise and sober, I had been happy. 'But thou hast been a cruel Tyrant to me, op'pressing and loading me with more than I was 'able to stand under. Thou hast plunged me 'many times into those Puddles of Excess, where'in thou hast drowned thy own Reason, and my 'Health. My well-mixed Beauty is now turned 'into the Colour of flaming Fire; my Hands and 'Legs shake, my Tongue falters, my natural Cra'sis and Temperament is destroyed. Thou hast 'made me miserable in this World, and intendest 'to make me more wretched in the World to 'come.

'Sober Nature gave me my Stint and Measure. 'I knew when it was enough, and gave thee suf'ficient Items and Intimations (amidst thy foolish 'Frolicks) that I could neither with Honour or 'Safety bear one Glass more. But thou wast deaf 'to all my Moans, and shewedst more Mercy to 'thy Horse than me. Sick or well, able or un'able, live or die, I must take in the full Number 'of Cups and Bottles thou enjoinedst me to take. 'Like another Pharaoh, thou hast required of me 'the full Tale, whether I had Strength to perform 'it or no. Yea, like another Devil, thou hast 'sometimes cast me into fiery Fevers, and watry 'Dropsies; and will next cast me, if thou continue 'this Course, into Hell-fire it self.

'Other Souls have set thee a better Pattern in 'their more sober and prudent Government of 'their Bodies. They give their Bodies the true 'Pleasure of the Creature, by keeping them to 'that happy Mediocrity in which it consists. They 'devote their Bodies to the Service of God; thou 'hast devoted me to the immediate Service of the 'Devil. A Majestick Beauty sits upon their Fa'ces; Sottishness and Folly upon mine. Their 'Knees are daily bowed in Prayer to God; mine 'shake and tremble in the Service of the Devil. 'They enjoy pure and sanctified Pleasures every 'Day; but I am denied the sober Pleasures of a 'Beast. Their Bodies will be happy with their 'Souls in the World to come; but I must suffer 'eternally with thee, and for thee. Thou hast 'both consumed me, and thy Estate given to 'support me; and now I am like to suffer as much 'by want, as I have done by Excess; and all this 'through thy Misgovernment. These Feet (if 'thou hadst pleased to command them) would as 'readily have carried thee to thy Closet, or the 'Assemblies of God's People, as to an Ale-house 'or Tavern. These Fingers would have served to 'open and turn the blessed Pages, which contain 'the Oracles of God, as to cog a Dye, or have 'shuffled and dealt a Pack of Cards. This Tongue 'might have been melodiously employed in singing 'the Praises of God among his People, as well as 'in Swearing, Roaring, and Singing among 'drunken Sots and Fools, if thou hadst been en'dued with governing Wisdom.

'Thou knowest I could do nothing without 'thee. Thou hast a despotical Power over all my 'Members. They are at thy Beck, and thou at 'the Devil's. Better had it been for me, had I 'been the Body of a contemptible Worm or Fly, 'than a Body animated and governed by such a 'sottish Soul as thou art.

'And now, my Soul, what hast thou to say for 'thy self? What tolerable Account canst thou give 'to God or me, of these thy vile Abuses of both!

§. 5. Now,

§. 5. Now let us hear what the Soul of the Drunkard hath to plead, in its own Excuſe and Defence, for all his Wrongs againſt God, Miſchiefs to it ſelf, Ruin to his Health, Name, and Eſtate. They have various Excuſes, tho' not one ſound or rational one among them all. Such as they are, let them be tried by the Rule of Reaſon, if any Reaſon be yet left in them, who daily dethrone it by this worſe than brutiſh Practice.

That which they have to ſay for themſelves, is this:

1. That their Bodies are ſtrongly conſtituted, more capacious to receive, and able to bear greater Quantities of Wine and Strong-drink, than others are; and therefore, why ſhould they not drink down, and glory over thoſe that vye with them.

2. Others ſay, They would not take that Courſe they do, but that when they are ſober and ſolitary, they are ſo preſs'd with the Thoughts of their Debts and Incumbrances in the World, that they are upon a perfect Rack, and they find nothing like Goodfellowſhip in a Tavern or Ale-houſe, ſo effectually relieving againſt the Cares and Anxieties of their Minds.

3. Some will tell us, they are drawn into it by the Snare of Pleaſure; nothing being ſo grateful to their Palate, as their full Load of generous Wine, or Strong Drink. And ſeeing it is ſo pleaſant and delightſome to them, why ſhould they deny and abridge themſelves of their Pleaſures?

4. Others will profeſs, they had never taken this Courſe, which they find upon many Accounts pernicious to them; but that they are not able in Civility to deny their intimate Friends and Companions, eſpecially ſuch with whom they have Concerns in Trade and Buſineſs; and they muſt drink as they do, or ſuffer Loſs in their Trade; and beſide that, be ſtigmatized for Fanaticks.

5. They will alſo ſay, they are obliged in Point of Loyalty, to pledge him that conſecrates (as they Catechreſtically call it) the firſt Glaſs to the King, or Perſons of Quality and Honour.

6. And Laſtly, Some will tell us, They have plentiful Eſtates, that will bear ſuch Expences; and ſince their Pockets are full, why ſhould not their Heads and Stomachs be ſo too?

Beſides theſe Six Apologies for Drunkenneſs, nothing falls into my Imagination, pleadable for this Sin. We will weigh theſe that are pleaded, in the common Balance of the Reaſon of Mankind, and try the Validity of them one by one. And for the Excuſe I.

And firſt; To what you ſay of the Capacities of your Bodies, Strength, and Ability of your Conſtitutions, to receive and bear greater Quantities of Wine and Strong Drink, than others can; and therefore, why ſhould you not give a Proof of it, when challeng'd, and get Reputation to your ſelves, by drinking down, and glorying over ſuch as vye with you?

To this I reply Three Things, which muſt be laid in the Counter-balance; and let the Balance be held in the upright Hand of your own Reaſon.

1. A ſtrong and vigorous Conſtitution will be readily acknowledged to be ſo great an external Bleſſing and Mercy, that no Man of ſound Intellectuals ought to do any thing to deſtroy it; but is obliged to uſe all proper Methods, for the Preſervation of it. If therefore Temperance ſhall be found to preſerve it, and Exceſs to impair and deſtroy it; let your own Reaſon judge, which of theſe two Courſes you are obliged to take. Conſult either the beſt Phyſicians, or your own and other Mens Experience; and they will tell you, that Apoplexies, Palſies, Gout, and innumerable other Diſeaſes, are bred by ſuch Exceſſes, in the ſoundeſt and ſtrongeſt Conſtitutions, and Death it ſelf haſten'd by ſuch intemperate Courſes; whereas Temperance and Sobriety might have made your Lives more comfortable and durable. As ſtrong as you are, frequent Drunkenneſs will bring Cain's Curſe upon your vigorous Bodies, and make you go ſhaking and trembling (as he did) about the World.

2. Let it be demanded of your own Reaſon, Whether it do really judge that God beſtowed more Strength and Vigor upon your Bodies, than he hath upon others, to arm a ſtronger Enemy, than others are; to fight more vigorouſly againſt him, than others do, or can do? Or whether it were not deſigned by him, for greater Uſe and Service to his Glory in the World, than others of his People (how willing ſoever they be) can do, for want of that Strength you have? I am confident, no Man of ſound Intellectuals will dare to aſſert the former, or deny the latter.

3. And Laſtly; For your glorying in drinking down, and conquering others; you will certainly put your own Reaſon to a Bluſh, by offering ſuch a Plea as this to it. You are not yet arrived to Impudence enough, to deny Drunkenneſs to be a Sin; and your Reaſon is yet ſound enough, eaſily and naturally to infer, That by how much the more any Man exceeds and goes beyond others in Sin, by ſo much the greater Sinner that Man is.

And as for the Honour and Glory you talk of, in exceeding others in your Abilities to drink; your Reaſon will quickly make you aſhamed of that Glory; and prove, as well as aſſert it to be a Mark of baſeſt Infamy.

Do you think that Lombard was really honoured, or ſtigmatized, whom Tiberius Cæſar dubb'd a Knight, for drinking off Three Gallons of Wine at one Draught, and Sirnamed him Tricongius, that is to ſay, the Three Gallon Knight; which Story Pliny (in his Natural Hiſtory) relates, to the perpetual Infamy of them both? Or think you, it added to the Glory of Tiberius himſelf, who Knighted this Three Gallon (not Thrice Gallant) Knight, to have his Name changed among the People, from Tiberius into Biberius; as afterwards they did the Name of that Monſter Nero, into Mero?

Plin. Nat. Hiſt. l. 14. c. 22.

Gentlemen, I appeal to your own Reaſon, if the vaſt Continent you have within you for Wine and Strong Drink, be really your Honour; Whether the Butt or Hogſhead, whence you have it, be not (for the ſame Reaſon) much more honourable than you? Your Reaſon will plainly give the Concluſion.

But, oh! conſider not only what Reaſon ſaith, but what God (the Fountain of that Reaſon) ſaith in Iſa. 5. 22. Wo to them that are mighty to drink Wine, and Men of Strength to mingle Strong-drink. Methinks it ſhould make you ſit in as little Eaſe upon the Tavern, or Alehouſe Bench, as that Court-Paraſite ſat at a rich Banquet, furniſhed with Variety of Dainties, and all Sorts of generous Wine; over whoſe Head, Dionyſius cauſed an heavy Sword to be hanged, with the Point downward, by a ſingle Hair, every moment ready to drop perpendicularly upon it.

Excuse II.

As for those that throw themselves into these Excesses, on purpose to delude those anxious Cares and Thoughts, which cruciate and oppress them, whenever they are sober and solitary: I shall only propound three plain Questions to the small Remainders of Reason in them, which yet I presume sufficient to determine rightly upon them.

Quest. 1. Whether they think that which greatly increaseth Want and Poverty, be a rational Cure and proper Remedy of it? And whether a Jar of Oyl be not as fit to quench a Flame, as Tavern and Ale-house Scores and Reckonings are to buoy up a sinking Trade, and keep Bailiffs from Mens Doors? Certainly none but a sottish Fool can think it to be otherwise. Your own Improvidence, or God's afflictive Providence, have brought you into other Mens Books; and certainly you cannot think, if you be in your Wits, that Chamberlains Bills for so many Bottles of Wine, and Flaggons of Beer, will be accepted by your Creditors for good Bills, to quit your Scores with them. Were you sober, frugal, and industrious, you would put your selves thereby into a better way to obtain a Blessing from God, and Respects and Forbearance from Men, than in the Course you now take.

Quest. 2. Nor can you, without manifest Impudence, propound such a Question as this to your own Reason, Whether the Addition of Injustice to Prophaneness, be a rational Plea or Excuse for it? And is not that the very Case here? Whose Money is that you so lavishly and prodigally waste, out of your consuming Estates? 'Tis either your Creditors, or the small Remains of your own. Whether the one or the other, methinks that Wine and Drink should not go down very pleasantly, which must be mingled with manifest Injustice, or with the Tears, and (in a sense) the Blood of your Wives and Children. If your Reasons can allow these things for lawful Excuses, then you are excused, else self-condemned.

Quest. 3. I shall trouble your Reason with the Decision but of one Question more, and 'tis briefly and plainly this:

Whether the Addition of far greater Troubles, or Causes of Troubles to the Inner Man, be a proper Expedient to alleviate and ease the Loads and Burdens of your outward Troubles, already grown almost too heavy for you to bear.

I dare venture all that I am worth, upon sound Reason's Side, that it will never allow or comprobate such an Absurdty, as the affirmative part of this Question draws along with it.

Believe it, Sirs, all the outward Necessities, Cares and Fears, which now oppress you upon the score of worldly Affairs, (which frame not to your Minds) are much more tolerable, and comparatively light and easy, to the Stings, Wounds, and Lashes of a guilty Conscience: But when all these inward Troubles shall be superadded to your outward Troubles, they will in Conjunction make a Burthen too heavy for Man to bear.

Whatever Cares or Troubles Providence involves any good Man in, in the honest and painful Pursuit of his Civil Calling, he may in a great measure relieve his burthened Spirit under them, by the comfortable Testimony of his own Conscience, and his free Addresses to God in Prayer. These will sweetly support him under his other Entanglements and Perplexities in the World. But the Course you take, does not only strike away these Props from under your Minds; but doubles and trebles the Burthen upon them. Were Men but once acquainted with that Relief and Chearfulness of Spirit, which a good Conscience, and a Spiritual Address to God in Prayer, afford in the midst of Troubles, they would run to their Closets, rather than to Taverns and Ale-houses, to divert and cure their Troubles. I leave it therefore before your own Reason to consider, what Weight or Validity there is in this Second Excuse for Drunkenness.

Excuse III.

Others plead they are drawn into this Sin by Pleasure and Delight, whose Charms are too strong for them to resist.

In this, as in all the former, I resolve to make you your own Judges. Give me leave but to state the Questions right, and let your own Reason freely determine them. And what fairer Dealing can Men that exercise Reason expect? And let the first Question be this:

Quest. 1. Whether the Pleasures of Temperance do not far excel those of Intemperance? If they do, then this your Plea is vain and irrational: For you foolishly chuse a lesser Pleasure, and refuse a greater and sweeter one. And that you do so in this Case, no wise Man can deny or doubt.

For temperate Drinking refreshes the Body, and no way burthens it, as excessive Drinking doth: And that which burthens Nature, can never be equally pleasant with that, which yields nothing but due Refreshment. Temperance doth not vitiate, but raiseth the pure and ordinate Appetite of Nature to its just Pitch and Height; in which Temper, and at which Height, it is most capable of the sweetest Pleasure from the Creature. As the Strings of a Lute give us the sweetest and most delicious Notes, when they are not let down too low, but are all fixed at their due Height.

Temperance gives us the most pleasing Enjoyment of the good Things of this Life, still leaving the Mind free, and fit for the more spiritual and sweet Enjoyments of a better and more excellent Life; which Excess never did, nor can do.

Moreover, Temperance maintains the Manly Grace and Majesty of the Countenance, but Excess totally disguises it. It draws the Lines of Drunkards Faces into a Form much like those ridiculous Dutch Pictures, which some set upon their Chimney-pieces, to move Laughter in those that behold them.

Now by the Vote of universal Reason, that Pleasure which refreshes the Body, but no way burthens it, which raises the ordinate and unvitiated Appetites of Nature, to its just Pitch and due Height, which gives Nature the sweetest Refreshment, leaving it always fitter and freer for higher and better Pleasures, which maintains the Manly Grace and Majesty of the Countenance, and makes not a wise Man look like a Fool or an Antick, must needs be better than the lower and flatter Pleasures of a burthened Body, and vitiated Palate, which draw after them so great a Train of present Mischiefs (which Temperance avoids), besides far heavier and more durable ones in the Life to come.

Quest. 2. But if the present Pleasures of Temperance were in some respect inferior to those of Excess (which I have proved they neither are, nor can be); I demand in the second place, whether the Loss of your Honour and Health, your Time and Estate, your present Peace and future Hopes, do not not make ſuch ſenſitive Pleaſures baſe and inferior, compared with thoſe of Temperance and Sobriety? Do you in good earneſt think a Glaſs or two above what ſatisfies and refreſhes Nature, can recompence for all that Shame, Sickneſs, Poverty, and Guilt that follows it? If you think ſo, Sin hath turned you into Brutes, and made you utterly uncapable of all Arguments and manly Conſiderations, to reduce and recover you.

Excuſe IV.

You ſay, You would not haunt Taverns and Ale-houſes as you do, but that you are drawn in by Company and Buſineſs, which you cannot well reſiſt or avoid, and ſhould you do ſo, it would be to your Loſs; and beſides that, you ſhould be branded for Fanaticks.

I deny not, but there is a Snare in vain Company; yet give me leave to propound a few plain and eaſy Queſtions to your Reaſon.

Queſt. 1. Why muſt the Importunity of Good Fellows (as you call them) be an irreſiſtible Temptation to you, and deprive you of all Power to deny them, whilſt you diſcern the Snares and Miſchiefs they draw you into? This ſeems to be a thing unaccountable to Reaſon. Suppoſe you were allowed to ſpend the longeſt Summer's Day in the higheſt Gratifications of all your Senſes together, or ſucceſſively one after another, upon Condition that you would endure the Torments of the Rack till that Day Twelvemonth came about again; do you think the Importunity of all your Intimates in the World, would prevail with you to accept the Pleaſures of a Day under ſuch a Condition as this? And yet what are the Torments of a Year upon the Rack, to the Torments of Hell for ever and ever? Or to come lower: Suppoſe one of thoſe lewd Companions, not worth a Groat, if every Man had his own, ſhould requeſt you to lend him an Hundred Pound upon his own Security, could you find no Power (think you) to deny him, eſpecially if the Loſs of that Hundred Pound would certainly ruin you? If you would deny him (as I doubt not but in ſuch a Caſe you wou'd) tell me then, why you ſhould not find Power to deny him, when he asks a far greater Matter than an Hundred Pound, even the Peace, Purity, and Safety of your Souls, as well as the Health of your Bodies, and Honour of your Names? Why then ſhould you be ſo eaſy and flexible when they ask the latter, and ſo ſtiff and unperſuadable to the former?

Queſt. 2. You ſay, You have Buſineſs and Concerns in Trade, to diſpatch in ſuch Places and Companies, and this draws you into the Snares of Exceſs. I will not deny but Men may lawfully tranſact their Buſineſs in ſuch Places, and there may be a Conveniency, and ſometimes a Neceſſity for it: But that's not the Caſe. The Queſtion referred to the Determination of your Reaſon, is this, Why Drunkenneſs muſt accompany Buſineſs? And whether a Man be not more fit to tranſact his Buſineſs, and drive Bargains of the greateſt Value, whilſt his Body and Mind are cool, ſober, and temperate, than when his Reaſon is beclouded and depoſed by Drunkenneſs? How many Men have undone themſelves, their Wives and Children, by Drunken Bargains!

Beſides, I muſt tell you, that in all ſuch Drunken Meetings, the Devil comes to drive his Bargain with you, as well as your other Cuſtomers. He bids for your Souls, and offers you ſuch Pleaſures as you there find in Exchange for them, and is content to make your Dying-day the Time of your delivering them into his Poſſeſſion. How do you like ſuch Trading as this, Gentlemen?

Queſt. 3. You ſay, Should you refuſe to accompany them, and do as they do, you ſhould be branded for Fanaticks. I would fain know, whether ſuch a Plea for Drunkenneſs as this, doth not juſtly caſt the greateſt Reproach of Fanaticiſm upon your ſelves, and ſet a Mark of true Honour upon thoſe Men whom the World unjuſtly ſtigmatizes with that Title? Gentlemen, I do aſſure you, the Fanaticks (as you call them) have Reaſon to thank you for the Honour and Juſtice you have done them, in acknowledging them to be none of the Members of your helliſh Society, but Perſons of a more ſober and honourable Character. And I appeal to your Reaſon, whether it wou'd not be more for your Honour, to wear the unjuſt Title of a Fanatick, than the juſt Cenſure of a Drunken Sot.

Excuſe 5.

You ſay, You are obliged in point of Loyalty to pledge him that conſecrates the firſt Glaſs to the Health of the King, or any Perſon of Eminency. I leave it ſtill to your Reaſon to be Judge,

1. Whether the King have cauſe to account the manifeſt Breach of the Laws by which he governs, to be a ſignal Expreſſion of his Subjects Loyalty to him? Is not his Royal Authority his Honour and Safety in his Laws? And is he not finely honoured, think you, by ſuch Drunken Loyalty as this? Gentlemen, you have a King over you of ſounder Intellectuals, and more exemplary Temperance and Sobriety than to be thus impoſed upon.

2. Can you think he reckons his Health in the leaſt degree advanced or ſecured by the Ruin and Subverſion of his Subjects Health? No, no; did the genteeleſt Drunkards in England enquire, they would quickly find, it would more pleaſe him, if they would conſult their own Health better, and pray for his more ſincerely and fervently than they do.

Excuſe 6.

Your laſt Excuſe is, That you have plentiful Eſtates that will bear it; and ſince your Pockets are full, why ſhould your Heads or Stomachs be empty.

Queſt. The only Queſtion I would here ſtate, and leave your own Reaſon to determine, is this, Whether you think the Expence of the Redundancy and Over-plus of your Eſtates in Exceſs and Drunkenneſs, be the very End and Deſign God aimed at, in beſtowing thoſe things with ſuch a bountiful Hand upon you? And whether the Expence of it in this way will pleaſe him as well, as if you clothed the Naked, and fed the Hungary with it, and brought the Bleſſings of them that are ready to periſh, upon you and your Families? Ah, Gentlemen, you muſt come to a Day of Reckoning. Your Reaſons and Conſciences can never tell you, you can make up as comfortable an Account with God, by ſetting down ſo many Hundred Pound in Wine and ſtrong Drink, more than was neceſſary or beneficial: Item, So many Thouſand Pounds loſt in Play: So much upon Whores; as if you ſet down ſo much to feed and cloath the Naked and Hungary. So that all your Excuſes for this Sin are baffled by your own Reaſon; and it was eaſy to conclude, that ſuch a Traytor to Reaſon as Drunkenneſs is, which hath ſo often dethroned it, could not poſſibly receive a more favourable Judgment and Sentence than this now given upon it.

Let all Drunkards henceforth consider, what a voluntary Madness the Sin of Drunkenness is, how it unmans them, and sets them below the very Brutes. A Grave Father calls it rightly:

A Distemper of the Head, a Subversion of the Senses, a Tempest in the Tongue, the Storm of the Body, the Shipwrack of Virtue, the Loss of Time, a wilful Madness, a pleasant Devil, a sugar'd Poyson, a sweet Sin, which he that hath, hath not himself; and he that commits it, doth not only commit Sin, but himself is altogether Sin.

Turbatio capitis, subversio sensus, tempestas linguæ procella corporis, naufragium virtutis, amissio temporis, insania voluntaria, blande Dæmon, dulce venenum, suave peccatum, quam qui habet, seipsum non habet, quam qui facit, peccatum non tantùm facit, sed ipse totus est peccatum.

'Tis a Sin at which the most sober Heathens blushed. The Policy of the Spartans was more commendable than their Piety, in making Men drunk, that their Children might gaze upon them as a Monster, and be scared for ever from such an horrid Practice. He that is mastered by Drunkenness, can never be Master of his own Counsels. Both Reason and Religion condemn this Course. Make a Pause therefore where you are, and rather throw that Wine or Beer upon the Ground, which else will cast thy Body upon the Ground, and thy Soul and Body into Hell.

CHAP. V.

Containing the Result and Issue of the Third Consultation with Reason, upon the Case of Uncleanness; and the true Report of the Determination of every Man's Reason, with respect thereunto.

§. 1. THE Bountiful and indulgent God hath made more abundant Provision for the Pleasure and Delight of Rational, than of Brutal Beings: And his wise and righteous Laws order and limit their Pleasures to their great Advantage; his Allowance under those Restrictions being large and full enough. Both Reason and Experience assure us, that the truest Pleasures are most freely and honourably to be enjoyed within the Pale and Boundary of his Laws; and that there are none fit for the Enjoyment of a Man or Christian, to be found without, or beyond them.

That prudent Owner provides best for his Cattle, who puts them into inclosed fragrant Fields, where they have Plenty of proper and pleasant Food, sweet and pure Springs of Water, the pleasant Covert of shady Trees, and all that is either necessary or convenient for them; altho' those Fields be so inclosed within Pales or Walls, that they cannot stray without those Boundaries into other Mens Grounds, to be by them impounded, and brought back lank, tired, and dirty, to their Owner; or by straying into Wasts and Wildernesses, fall a Prey (as Stragglers use to do) to Wolves and Lyons.

God envies not any true, rational, and proper Pleasure to Men or Women; when he bounds them in by his Command, within the Allowance whereof, sufficient Provision is made for the Benefit and Delight of Propagation. And tho' it be all Mens Duty, to tremble at the awful Solemnity, yet it would be any Man's Sin to repine and murmur at the Strictness and Severity of his Command, delivered with Thunder and Lightning from Mount Sinai, Thou shalt not commit Adultery. Man's honourable Liberty, and God's wise and just Restraint and Limitation thereof, are both set together before our Eyes, in that one Scripture, Heb. 13. 4. Marriage is honourable in all, and the Bed undefiled; but Whoremongers and Adulterers God will judge. Here's a liberal Allowance granted, and a severe Punishment threatned for the Inordinancies and Exorbitancies of boundless and ungovernable Lusts. God will judge with temporal Judgments in this World; and upon impenitent Persistents, with eternal Judgments in the World to come.

§. 2. Such is the Corruption of Man's Nature by the Fall, that it hates Inclosures, Restraints, and Limitations. These things which were intended to regulate, serve only to sharpen and enrage their sensual Appetite. No Fruit so sweet to corrupt Nature, as forbidden Fruit. Nitimur in vetitum semper, cupimusque negata. The very Restraint of Evil, makes it look like a pleasant and desirable Good. Sons of Belial can endure no Yoke of Restraint. There's a great Truth in that Observation of the Divine Herbert, That if God had laid all common, Man himself would have been the Inclosер. For his Reason and Experience would have plainly informed him of the great and manifold Advantages of Distinction and Propriety. How many Quarrels and barbarous Murders have been occasioned by Whores! which by keeping within God's Bounds and Rules, had been both honestly and honourably prevented.

Were Men left to that Liberty Brutes are, to scatter their Lusts promiscuously, Fathers would not know their own Children, nor Children their Fathers; whereby both their Duties and Comforts would be prescinded together. Such Mischiefs as these, would make Men glad of that Inclosure, which the Laws of God have made for them. But behold with Admiration the perverse Wickedness of corrupt Nature, manifested in this, that because God hath inclosed and secured their Relations to them by his Laws, (which Inclosure is every way to their Advantage;) yet this makes their Lusts the more head-strong and outragious, and they cannot take that Comfort in their own, because their own, that they think to find in another's, because another's.

Remarkable to this Purpose is that Relation of Mr. Firmin's, which he received from his near Relation, who was Minister to the Company of English Merchants in Prussia. The Consul, or Governor of that Company being a Married Man, and that to a very proper and comely Woman, was yet enslaved Real Christian, p. 60.

ved to others, not to be compared with his own Wife for Comelineſs. This Miniſter dealt with him about it. One Argument he urged, was this: That of all Men he had the leaſt Temptation, having a Wife ſo comely, that few Women were like her. He anſwer'd, Yea, were She not my Wife, I could love her. Had She been his Whore, he could have loved her; he thought none like her; but becauſe ſhe was his Wife, hedged in by God, he cared not for her. O what Hearts have Men, that they ſhould ever think that to be beſt for them, which is moſt croſs to God! Why ſhould ſtolen Waters be ſweeter, than thoſe of our own Fountains?

§. 3. God's Choice muſt needs be far better for us, than our own. Ordinate and lawful Pleaſures and Enjoyments, are far better and ſweeter, than exorbitant and forbidden ones. And the Reaſon is evident and undeniable: For amongſt all the Operations of the Mind, its reflex Acts are the Acts that beſt reliſh Pleaſure. And indeed, without Self-Reflection, a Man cannot tell whether he delights or no. All Senſe of Pleaſure implies ſome Reflection of the Mind: And thoſe Pleaſures of a Man muſt needs be the ſweeteſt, which afford the ſweeteſt Reflections upon them afterward; and thoſe the baſeſt Pleaſures, which are accompanied and followed with preſent Regret, or the ſtinging and cutting Reflections of the Conſcience upon them afterwards.

Lawful and Ordinate Enjoyments, are as Honey without the Sting. Forbidden Pleaſures are embitter'd and extinguiſhed, by theſe Regrets and Reflections of the Conſcience. They are like that pleaſant Fruit, which the Spaniards found in the Indies, which were ſweet to the Taſte, but ſo environ'd and armed on every ſide with dangerous Briers and Thorns, that they tore not only their Clothes off their Backs, but the Skin off their Fleſh, to come at them; and therefore they called them Comfits in Hell. And ſuch are all forbidden, and unlawful Pleaſures.

A Merchant (ſaith the forenamed Author) dining with the Friars at Dantzick, his Entertainment was very Noble. After he had dined, and ſeen all, the Merchant fell to commending their pleaſant Life. Yea, (ſaid one of the Friars to him) we live gallantly indeed, if we had any body to go to Hell for us when we die. You ſee what mingles with Mens ſenſual and ſinful Luſts. Pag. 63.

2. Your Honour is ſecured, by keeping within God's Bounds and Limits: Marriage is honourable in all. Here Guilt can neither wrong your Conſciences, nor Infamy your Reputations. Fornicators and Adulterers go up and down the World, as Men burnt in the Hand: Their Conſcience laſhes them within; and Men point at them abroad. They are a Terror to themſelves, and a Scorn to Men.

3. The Health of the Body is ſecured by chaſte and regular Enjoyments, but expoſed to Deſtruction the other way. God hath plagued the Inordinacy of Mens Luſts, with moſt ſtrange and horrid Diſeaſes. That Morbus Gallicus, Sudor Anglicus, and Plica Polonica, were Judgments ſent immediately by God's own Hand, as the Witneſſes of his high Diſpleaſure, againſt the bold and daring Contemners of his ſacred and awful Command. Thus, as Prov. 5. 11. They mourn at laſt, when their Fleſh and Body are conſumed. Other Sins are committed on the Body; but this againſt it, as well as in it.

4. The Blaſt and Waſte of our Eſtates (which is the uſual Conſequent of Uncleanneſs) is prevented and avoided, by keeping within God's Rules. The Truth of what the Scripture tells us, Prov. 10. 5. is often exemplified before our Eyes; That by reaſon of a whoriſh Woman, a Man is brought to a Morſel of Bread. Adultery gives a Man Rags for his Livery; it lodgeth his Subſtance in the Houſe of Strangers, and entails Wants and Curſes on him and his.

5. In a word, Continence, or Lawful Marriage, expoſes not the Soul to the Eternal Wrath of God, as Uncleanneſs doth; 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. This Sin does not only ſhut a Man out of his own Houſe, and the Hearts of good Men, but out of Heaven it ſelf, without thorough Repentance and Reformation.

§. 4. The Caſe ſtanding thus; 'tis Matter of juſt Admiration, how the Sin of Uncleanneſs ſhould grow ſo epidemical and common as it doth, ſeeing ſuch as live in this filthy Courſe, muſt needs counter-act and oppoſe their own Reaſon and Intereſt together. For they forſake God's way, which gives them as much Liberty as can be reaſonably deſired; and caſt themſelves into a Courſe of Life, clogg'd with all manner of Temporal and Eternal Miſeries, of Soul and Body, Honour and Eſtate.

The plain Rule and Dictate of common Reaſon (which I laid down before) being applied to this particular Caſe, manifeſtly condemns it. For ſeeing Honeſty and Chaſtity comprizes the true Pleaſure, Profit, and Honour of the whole Man; is more congruous to Human Nature, and preſervative of it; it ought therefore to be preferred in the Eſtimation and Choice of all Men, to unlawful adulterous Pleaſures, which (for the Reaſons above) are inferior in themſelves to Chaſte, Conjugal Enjoyments; and beſides that, are attended and followed with ſuch a Train of preſent and future Miſeries, deſtructive to the whole Man.

And yet for all this, to the Amazement of all ſerious Obſervers, never was any Age more infamous for this Sin, than the preſent Age is; and that under the clear ſhining Light of the Goſpel.

What the ſpecial Cauſes and Inducements, to the overflowing and abounding of this Sin, are in the preſent Age, will be well worth the enquiring and ſifting at this Time.

§. 5. Inducement 1.

'Tis highly probable, the influencing Examples of Great Men, have had no ſmall Hand in the ſpreading of this abominable and crying Sin, amongſt all inferior Ranks and Orders of Men.

Great Mens ill Examples, like a Bag of Poyſon in the Fountain, corrupt and infect Multitudes. The Vulgar think they are privileged, or at the leaſt very much excuſed, when they do but follow the Preſidents and Examples of Great and Eminent Perſons.

But this will be found a weak and fooliſh Plea for Uncleanneſs, which will never be able to endure the Teſt of your own Reaſon: For the inbred Notions of a God, and of a future Life of Retribution, being ſo firmly ſealed and engraven upon Human Nature, they can never be utterly eradicated; your own Reaſon will argue from thoſe inbred Notions in this manner, and how you will be able to refel the Argument, and eſcape Conviction and Self-Condemnation, quite ſurmounts my Imagination, whatever it do yours. And thus it will diſpute, and dilemma you, do what you can.

That

That God, before whom greater and lesser, honourable and baser Sinners shall appear in Judgment, will be either partial or impartial, in his Judgments upon them. There is, or there is not Respect of Persons with him. If there be, (which both his Nature and Word utterly deny;) then those great and honourable Adulterers, or Fornicators, whose Examples you follow, may haply be excused for their Eminency and Honour's Sake; but you, that have no such Eminency and Honour in the World, as they have, must be condemned, tho' you thought to escape as well as they.

But if there be no Partiality, or Respect of Persons with God, (as most assuredly there is none) then both greater and lesser, honourable and baser Adulterers, must be condemned together to the same common and intolerable Misery.

So that to take any (tho' the least) Encouragement to Sin, from the Presidents and Examples of Great ones, is a most senseless and irrational thing, utterly unworthy of one that believes there is a just and impartial God; and he is worse than a Devil, that believes it not: For the Devils themselves believe and tremble.

§. 6. Inducement 2.

But others would perswade us, they are drawn into this Sin by a kind of inevitable Necessity; they being neither able to contain, nor marry.

They are not yet arrived to Estate sufficient to maintain a Family with Reputation: But when they have gotten enough by Trade, or by the Fall of their Paternal Estates, to live in equal Reputation with their Neighbours; then they design to alter their Course of Life, and abandon these Follies.

But, Reader, if this be thy Plea for Uncleanness, thou shalt have as fair a Tryal for a foul Fact, as thine own Heart can desire: Be still thine own Judge; and let thine own Reason give a fair Answer to these Three pertinent Questions.

Quest. 1. Whether Whoredom be as likely and promising a way, to engage God's Blessing upon your Trades and Employments, as Continence or Conjugal Chastity are? That is to say plainly, Whether Obedience and Disobedience to the Law of God, be all one, and please him alike? You know, your Success of Business is not in your own Hand; 'tis God that giveth thee Power to get Wealth: His Blessing maketh rich. And is Sin as likely a way to engage his Blessing, as Duty and Obedience is? I am confident, your own Reason will never give it.

Object. If you say, such Persons prosper in the World as well as others, for ought you can see.

Sol. The contrary is evident in the common Observation of Mankind: By reason of Whoredom, Multitudes are brought to a Piece of Bread. And tho' God suffer some unclean Persons to prosper in the World; yet Chastity with Poverty, is infinitely preferable to such accursed Prosperity.

Quest. 2. Whether the Course of Sin you are now driving and accustoming your selves to, will not, in all Probability, so insatuate and bewitch you, that when you come into a married Estate, you shall still be under the Power of this Sin; and so ruin the Person you marry, as well as your self? If the Word of God signify any thing with you, it signifieth this; That there is a Witchcraft in Whoredom; and, comparatively speaking, None that go to her return again, neither take they hold of the Paths of Life; Prov. 2. 18, 19.

Object. If to invalidate this Testimony, you shall say, That he that spake this, did himself go after strange Women:

Sol. 'Tis true, he did so. But then withal, you must remember, that he hath warned you by his own sad Experience, that you never follow him in those his Footsteps: Eccles. 7. 26. I find (saith he) more bitter than Death, the Woman whose Heart is Snares and Nets, and her Hands as Bands. Whoso pleaseth God, shall escape from her; but the Sinner shall be taken by her.

Quest. 3. And lastly, I demand of your Reason, Whether it can, or will allow any Place to this Plea of Necessity; before you have used and tried all God's appointed Remedies, which are sufficient to prevent that Necessity you plead?

There are lawful Remedies enough, sufficient (with God's Blessing) to keep you from such a Necessity to Sin; such as Temperance, and more Abstemiousness in Meats and Drinks; avoiding lascivious Books, Play-Houses, and filthy Company; laborious Diligence in your lawful Callings, and fervent Prayer, for mortifying and preventing Grace: And if Temptations still stir amidst all these Preventives; then casting your selves upon the Directions and Supply of Providence, in the honourable Estate of Marriage. Never plead Necessity, whilst all these Preventives might, but have not been used.

§. 7. Inducement 3.

Others plead the Absence of their lawful Remedies, and Presence of tempting Objects. This is the Case of our Soldiers and Seamen. But tho' this be the most colourable Pretence of all the rest, yet your own Reason and Conscience will (even in this Case) so dilemma and non-plus you, that if you will adventure upon the Sin, you shall never have their Leave or Consent with you: For they have a special and peculiar Consideration of you, as Persons more eminently and immediately exposed to the Dangers of Death than other Men. And thus (would you but give them a fair hearing) they will expostulate and reason out the Matter with you.

'Either thou shalt escape, or not escape the Ha'zard of this Voyage, or Battel. If thou fall, (as 'to be sure many will) will this be an honoura'ble, safe, and comfortable Close, and Winding 'up of thy Life! What, from a Whore to thy 'Grave! God forbid. From burning Lusts, to 'everlasting Burnings! Better thou hadst never 'been born.

Or if thou do escape, and return again to thy Family; how canst thou look her in the Face, with whom thou hast so basely broken thy Marriage-Vow and Covenant? Whatever else thou bring home with thee, to be sure thou shalt bring home Guilt with thee, and a Blot never to be wiped away.

Object. If you say, you are not such Fools to publish your own Shame; you'll follow Cæsar's Advice to the young Adulterer, Si non castè, tamen cautè; if I act not chastly, I'll act cautelously.

Sol. Your Reason and Conscience will both deride the Weakness and Folly of this Pretence: For they both very well know, no Man sins so secretly, but he sins before Two infallible Witnesses, viz. God, and his own Conscience; and that the last, and least of these, is more than a Thousand Witnesses. That God usually detects it in this World, carry it as closely as you will; but to be sure, it shall be published as upon the House-top, before Men and Angels in the Great Day.

§. 8. Induce-

§. 8. Inducement 4.

Another Inducement to this Sin, (and the last I shall mention) is the Commonness of it, which abates the Shame of it.

What need they trouble themselves so much, or be so shy of that which is practised by Thousands, which is so frequently acted in every Place, and little made of it?

But if either your Reason or Conscience will admit this Plea for good and lawful, the Devil hath utterly blinded or infatuated the one or other; as will evidently appear by the following Reasons. For,

Reason 1.

If the Thing be evil, (as you cannot deny but it is) then, by how much the commoner, by so much the worse it must needs be. Indeed, if a Thing be good, by how much the commoner, so much the better: But to attribute this Essential Property of Good unto Evil, is to confound and destroy the Difference between them, and make Good and Evil both alike.

Reason 2.

If the Commonness of Uncleanness will excuse you, it will more excuse all others that shall commit this Sin after you: And still by how much more the Numbers of Adulterers and Fornicators are increased, still the less Scruple Men need make to commit it; and so the whole Community shall in a little time be so infected and defiled, that Christian Kingdoms shall quickly become like Sodom, and God provoked to deal with them, as he did by that wretched City.

Reason 3.

If the Commonness of the Sin be an Excuse and Plea for it; suppose the Roads should be more infested than they are with Highway-men, so that every Month you should see whole Cart-loads of them drawn to Tyburn; would your Reason infer from thence, that because Hanging is grown so common, you need not scruple so much as you were wont to do, to take a Purse, or pistol an honest innocent Traveller upon the Road?

Object. If you shall say, Uncleanness is not so costly a Sin as Robbery is: There's a great deal of Difference between Tyburn, and a Whore-House Punishment.

Sol. There's a great Difference indeed, even as much as is betwixt Tyburn and Hell, or a small Mulct in the Court of Men, and the Eternal Wrath of a Sin-revenging God: So great will the Difference betwixt the Punishments of all Sins by God, and by Men, be found.

Thus you see, Gentlemen, the common Pleas for Uncleanness, over-rul'd by your own Reasons and Consciences.

We live in a plentiful Land, abounding with all the Comforts of this Life, and with Thousands of full-fed Wantons; of whom the Lord complains this Day, as he did of the Jews, whom that flowing Land vomited out; Jer. 5. 7. When I had fed them to the full, they committed Adultery, and assembled themselves by Troops in the Harlots Houses. They were as fed Horses in the morning; every one neighed after his Neighbour's Wife. How many such Stallions are thus neighing in the fat Pastures of this good Land!

Nor do I wonder at all to see the Growth of Atheism, in a Land swarmed and over-run with so many Thousands of Blasphemers, Drunkards, and Adulterers. It was a great Observation of that gallant Moralist, Plutarch: If Epicurus (saith he) should but grant a God in his full Perfections, he must change his Life presently; he must be a Swine no longer.

The Lord purge out this crying Abomination also, with Atheism and Drunkenness, the Inlets of it, which darken our Glory, and threaten to make us desolate.

CHAP. VI.

Wherein Reason and Conscience are once more consulted, about that bitter and implacable Enmity found in Thousands this Day, against all serious Piety, and the strict Professors thereof, who differ from them in some External Modes, and Rites of Worship; and their Determinations upon that Case, impartially reported.

§. 1. MAN is naturally a Sociable Creature, delighting in Company and Converse. He that affects to live by, and to himself, must be (saith the Philosopher) Ἢ θηρίον, ἢ θεός; either a God that is self-sufficient, and stands in need of none; or a wild Beast, so savage and fierce, that it can endure nothing but it self.

This Natural Quality of Sociableness is diversly improved. Sometimes sinfully; in wicked Combinations to do Mischief; like the Herding together of Wolves and Tygers: Such was the Confederation of Simeon and Levi, Brethren in Iniquity; Gen. 49. 56. Sometimes 'tis improved civily, for the more orderly and prosperous Management of Human Affairs. Thus all Civilized Countries have improved it, for the common Security and Benefit. And sometimes religiously, for the better promoting of each other's Spiritual and Eternal Good.

Now the more firmly any Civil or Religious Societies are knit together by Love, and coalesce in Unity, by so much the better they are secured against their common Enemies and Dangers, and become still the more prosperous and flourishing within and among themselves. For when every Man finds his particular Interest involved in the Publick Safety and Security, (as every private Cabbin and Passenger is in the Safety of the Ship) every particular Person will then stand ready to contribute his uttermost Assistance, for the Publick Interest, both in Peace and War. United Force, we all know, is more than single; and in this Sense we say, Unus homo, nullus homo; One Man is no Man, that is, consider'd disjunctively, and alone; when yet that single Person, standing in a proper Place of Service in the Body, may, by his Prudence and Courage, signify very much to the Publick lick Weal of his Country; as Fabius did to the Roman State, of whom the Poet truly observed, Unus homo nobis cunctando restituit rem.

That one Man, by his prudent Delay and Conduct, hath saved the whole Commonwealth.

§. 2. 'Tis therefore the undoubted Interest of Christian States and Churches, to make every individual Person as useful as may be to the whole, and to enjoy the Services of all their Subjects and Members, one way or other, according to their different Capacities; that it may be said of them, (as the Historian speaks of the Land of Canaan) that there was in it, Nihil infructuosum, nihil sterile; Not a Shrub but bare some Fruit.

No prudent Kingdom, or Church, will deprive themselves of the Benefits they may enjoy by the Services of any considerable Number of Men, (especially if they be able and good Men) without a plain inevitable Necessity. No Man, without such a Necessity, will part with the Use and Service of the least Finger or Toe, much less with a Leg or Arm; but would reckon himself half undone, if a paralytick Disease should strike one Half of the Body, and render it utterly useless, to defend and succour the other Part in Time of Danger.

§. 3. Much so stands the Case with Churches and Kingdoms, when the causeless and cruel Enmity of one Part, prevails so far against the other, as to deprive that State (or Church) of the Use and Service of Multitudes of good and faithful Members.

It is Folly in its highest Exaltation, for one Part of a Nation, out of bitter Enmity to the other, not only to seek all Ways and Means to suppress and ruin it, whilst a common Danger hangs over the whole; but to rejoice in the Miseries of their Brethren, as the principal Thing which they fancy would contribute to the great Advantage of their Cause. What, but a general Punishment, (if that will do it) can work Mens Hearts into a more general Compassion?

The Histories of those Times sufficiently inform us, That the great Feuds and Factions in the Western Church, not only immediately preceded, but opened the way to the terrible Inundations of the Goths and Vandals. Whilst the suffering Part cries out, Cruelty, Cruelty; those that inflict it, cry as loud, Justice, Justice. Whatever rational Apologies, or Methods of Peace, come from the oppressed Party, are censured by the other as Murmur and Mutiny. All Men commend Unity, and assert it to be the Interest of Kingdoms and Churches. They wish all Men were of one Mind; but what Mind must that be? To be sure, none but their own.

The more cool, prudent, and moderate Spirits of each Party, may strive to the uttermost, to allay these unnatural Feuds and Animosities. The Wisdom of the Governing Part, may take the Instruments of Cruelty out of their Hand; but 'tis God alone, that can pluck up the Roots of Enmity out of their Hearts.

And what is the Matter, when all is sifted and examined? Why, the Matter is this: Some will be more serious, strict and conscientious, than others think necessary for them to be. They dare not Curse, Swear, Whore, and be Drunk, as others do. They scruple to comply with what God hath not commanded, and the very Imposers confess to be indifferent, antecedently to their Command. They reverently mention the Name of God without an Oath, and the solemn Matters of Religion, without a Jest in their Company. They will assume as much Liberty to reprove Sin, as others do to commit it. They take more Pleasure in Heavenly Duties, and Holy Conferences, than in Ranting and Roaring in Taverns and Alehouses. That is, in a word, they live up to the Principles of Religion, which all pretend to; and this is their unpardonable Crime, a Fault never to be expiated by any less Punishment than their Destruction.

And are not People (think you) come to a fine Pass; when the strictest Obedience to the Laws of God, shall be accounted more criminal, than the most open and prophane Violation of them? Nay, tho' they reprove the other Party's Sins no other way, but by their more serious and religious Lives; yet this alone shall be sufficient to make them culpable and obnoxious.

§. 4. If the Party thus generally hated and maligned, be (for the Generality of them) serious and godly Christians; or if the Strictness and Holiness of their Lives, and Tenderness of their Consciences, be the true Ground and Reason of our Hatred of them; such an Hatred, when it becomes general, is a direful Presage of some common Calamity and Misery hast'ning upon such a People: Hos. 9. 7. The Days of Visitation are come, the Days of Recompence are come; Israel shall know it. The Prophet is a Fool; the Spiritual Man is mad; for the multitude of thine Iniquity, and the great Hatred.

And our own Reason will give us this Conclusion, as well as Scripture: For whatsoever brings Sin to its full Maturity, must needs hasten Judgments. And what can heighten and accent the Sins of a People, more than such a cruel Hatred of good Men, upon the Score and Account before given? All Hatred of Godliness hath a Tang of Devilishness. 'Tis a desperate flying in the very Face of God, whose Image Holiness is. Sin can scarce be graduated a Peg higher.

Reason tells the Husbandman, 'tis Time to mow and reap his Corn, when it is full ripe. And it may convince you, that God's Time of reaping down a sinful People is near, when their Sins are grown to such full Maturity as this: Put ye in the Sickle, for the Harvest is ripe; come, get ye down, for the Press is full, the Fats overflow, for their Wickedness is great; Joel 3. 13.

§. 5. The true Cause and Rise of this great and fixed Hatred amongst professed Christians, (whatever may be pretended to salve Reputation) is the Contrariety and Repugnancy of the Natures, and Principles, by which the Godly and Ungodly are governed. There is an Enmity betwixt the Two Seeds, Gen. 3. 15. And this Enmity runs down in a Blood, more or less, in all Ages and Places; Gal. 4. 29. As then, he that was born after the Flesh, persecuted him that was born after the Spirit; even so it is now. So it was, and so it is, and so it will be, till Conversion changeth the Heart and Principle. This Enmity cannot die, whilst Satan lives, and rules in the Hearts of Children of Disobedience.

And the Enmity is mutual: An unjust man is an abomination to the just; and he that is upright in the way, is an abomination to the wicked; Prov. 29. 27. Only with this Difference; The good Man hates, non virum, sed vitium; not the Person, but his Sin. The wicked Man hates both the Person of the Godly, and his Godliness too; yea, the Person, for his Godliness Sake.

This

This Humour of the Godly, secretly and habitually lurks in the Nature of a wicked Man; as Rapaciousness doth in a young Wolf, that never saw a Lamb. It extends it self universally to the whole Kind, and reaches those, whose Lives are most obligingly sweet; yea, those that are bound to them in the strictest Bonds of Nature: As we may see, in that most unnatural Instance of Cain's murthering his own Brother Abel. It discovers it self, in seeking the Destruction of them they hate upon a Religious Account, and in rejoicing at any Evil that befals them. Nothing is more grateful to them, than any Occasion to disgrace, and expose them with Contempt to the World.

§. 6. But tho' the Strictness and Holiness of Good Men, causing the Consciences of Wicked Men privately to condemn, and inwardly to gaul and grate them for their Looseness and Prophaneness, be the true and real Ground and Cause of the Grudge and Hatred; yet they think it fit, for Reputation-sake, that this be wholly suppressed and silenc'd, and something else pretended for the Cause and Reason of it, else it would look too like the Devil himself. And therefore, amongst other plausible Pretensions, for their Malignity to those that are better than themselves, these Three are principally insisted on, and pleaded.

1. That it is not their Piety, but their Hypocrisy, which they hate: Not because they have indeed more Piety than others, but because they make more vain Shew and Ostentation of it than themselves do; who, setting aside their ridiculous Grimaces, and affected fantastick Words and Actions, are every whit as good as themselves.

2. Because, under a Pretence of greater Strictness in Religion, they do but hatch and carry on Sedition and Rebellion; and that the World will never be quiet, whilst such Vipers are suffered in the Bowels of it.

3. That both the former have been made sufficiently evident and apparent, in several former, and more recent Instances, of the Hypocrisy and seditious Designs of as high Pretenders to Religion and Reformation, as those are, whom they truly hate, and would not suffer them to live, if their Power were answerable to their Hatred.

As to this first Plea, viz. their Hypocrisy; 'twill quickly be found to be too thin and weak, to endure the Test of your own Reason and Consciences. For how will you answer them, when they shall thus argue and expostulate the Matter with you?

'You that thus censure, and those that are censured for Hypocrisy by you, do both profess one 'and the same Religion. Your prophane Lives are notoriously contrary to all the Principles of this 'Religion. You Swear, Drink, Whore, Revile, 'and Persecute the others, only because you fancy 'their Tones, Gestures, &c. to be some way or 'other indecent. You cannot deny, but they 'live soberly and godly: They attend upon all 'the Duties of Religion strictly and conscientiously. 'Your Malice against them can find nothing to 'carp at, but some little Trifles, with which the 'Essence of Religion is not concerned. Did they 'run into the same Excess of Riot with you, greater Matters than these would be overlooked, yea, and applauded too.

Now let Reason and Conscience say, who is most likely to be the Hypocrite; the Man that calls himself a Christian, and under that Profession wallows in all Prophaneness, not once censuring himself for it; or he that lives soberly and godly, against whom Malice it self can produce nothing but such inconsiderable Trifles as these? Is not this the very Case, which Christ hath determined to our Hands, and made such Censurers the Hypocrites? Matth. 7. 3. And why beholdest thou the Mote that is in thy Brother's Eye, but considerest not the Beam that is in thine own Eye? It was but one Blemish, and that a very small one too, but a Mote; however this you can quickly spy, and as rashly censure. But mean while there's a Beam, an horrid flagitious Wickedness in your selves; but 'tis too near your own Eyes, to be discerned by you. Which of these Two (think you) is the Hypocrite?

2. But what if this Mote that you discern, be but a Fancy, a mere Imagination of your own; how will that aggravate your Sin, and evince both your Malice and Hypocrisy together? You say, their Tones and Gestures in Religious Duties are ridiculous, and scenical. This you take up lightly against some few of them, and as unjustly apply unto the Aspersing of the whole Party; which your own Reason must, and will immediately condemn. For there are Multitudes of that Party, whose Countenances, Tones and Gestures, are as decorous, grave, and becoming the Presence of that God with whom they have to do, as any Men in the World.

3. And as for those few whom you thus blemish for their indecent Tones or Gestures; what if those Tones you speak of, amount to no more but natural Defects, and unavoidable Infirmities, which they would, but cannot help? Do they for this, and no worse than this, deserve to be censured, and condemn'd for Hypocrites? Or, what if they be insensible Actions, occasion'd by the greater Intention of their Spirits in the Service of God? May not those very Things, which you prophanely flout, censure, and scoff at, either not at all be noted as Blemishes to their Devotion by the Eye of God, or noted with Approbation and Delight, as the Effects of Spiritual Fervency in his Service? Certainly, Gentlemen, you are no good Marksmen, that neither draw the right Arrow, nor level at the true Mark.

4. And were not this a vain and empty Pretence, to cover your own Malice against Godliness; how comes it to pass, that more Scenical Habits, Words and Gestures, should pass as Ornaments in others, whom you affect? Whether this be not Partiality unworthy of a Man, let Reason and Conscience freely judge.

In a word; What Commission or Authority can you produce, thus to ascend the Throne of God, and draw your bittersest Censures thro' the very Hearts of God's People, for such pitiful Trifles as these; first condemning them as Hypocrites, which is a most unwarrantable Presumption; and then persecute them as far as you can, for their presumed Hypocrisy? Have a care what you do; be not Mockers, lest your Bonds be made strong. This is a Sin which hastens National Desolation; 2 Chron. 36. 16, 17. They mocked the Messengers of God, and despised his Word, and misused his Prophets; until the wrath of the Lord arose against his People, till there was no remedy. Therefore he brought upon them the King of the Chaldees, who slew their young Men with the Sword, &c.

Plea 2. You say, 'Tis not Godliness you hate, and would persecute; but they are a Sort of Persons, who under a Pretence of Zeal for Religion and Reformation, design nothing else but Sedition and Rebellion, that the Nation will never be quiet, whilst such Vipers are suffer'd to live in it: And to fortify this Plea, you add, that both their Hypocrisy and Sedition have been made sufficiently evident to the World in many Instances.

Zeal for the Laws, and Security of the Government, if rightly temper'd and qualified, is highly commendable; and whereever Sincerity animates, and Prudence governs it, it ought by no Means to be discouraged. But there are too many Grounds and Causes of Suspicion, that both these will be found wholly wanting, or extremely defective, in many high Pretenders to it, when it comes to be sifted to its bottom Principles, and weighed in the just Balance of sound Reason.

For if you be inflamed with a pure Zeal for the Laws and Government you live under; then you will find your selves obliged, for your own Vindication, to satisfy the just Expectation of your own, and other Mens Reasons and Consciences, in the following Particulars.

Expectation 1. First, Reason and Conscience, in your selves and others, will expect it from you, that you (of all Men living) should be most precisely and punctually obedient to all those just and good Laws you live under; since your Zeal burns so hot against those that comply not punctually with them. For those that make so much Conscience (as you seem to do) of other Mens Offences against the Laws, must be presumed (if your Profession be sincere) to make at least as much Conscience of breaking any of them in your own Persons; else neither Reason nor Conscience will ever admit this Plea of yours for sound and good.

Now the Laws sometimes appoint Punishments for Nonconformity to the Rites and Ceremonies, affixed to the Publick National Worship; and so they do always for convicted Swearing, Drunkenness, and Adultery. All these Laws have the very same Sanction, by the Authority we live under. They forbid, and punish, the one as well as the other. And if there be any Difference, it lies in this, that these latter are expressly forbidden and threatned by God, antecedently to the Magistrate's Prohibition of them, which hath no small Weight in the Matter under Consideration.

Now if any Man shall pretend Zeal and Conscience, against Dissent in Judgment or Practice from the Church, but makes no Conscience at all to curse and swear, be drunk or unclean; he will find it a difficult Task to perswade his own, or other Mens Reasons or Consciences, that this his Zeal for the Laws and Government, is sincere and pure. For were it so, it could never allow him to live in the notorious Violation of the Laws himself, which he is so fierce and bitter against others for.

Expectation 2. Secondly, If your Zeal be sincere, it will contain it self within the Bounds and Limits of the Offence, and not lay hold upon the Innocent, as well as upon the Guilty; and make you hate and persecute them that were never turbulent and seditious, equally with the greatest Criminals. If you will hug this Principle, as Things stand now, Reason will tell you, 'tis as just at all other Times, as it is at this.

Would you not think it an unreasonable and most injurious Thing, to be plucked out of your Shops, or Houses, and hurried away to the Goal; because Two or Three dissolute Fellows in the City or Town where you live, have been riotous or seditious, tho' you possibly know not the Men, nor can be so much as justly suspected of any Confederacy with them? True Zeal for the Laws and Government, is content to wait, and suspend its Revenges, till a fair Conviction have passed upon the Guilty. And when it falls upon them, 'tis careful that it touch none besides them; but suffers a Man to retain, in the very Height of it, due Love and Honour for all that are innocent.

If Christians be first denominated by General Titles and Terms of Distinction, which they cannot help, and then the Crimes of any particular Person, that the World pleases to denominate as one of the same Party, must be charged and imputed to the whole; what must the Consequence of this be, but that the whole Community become obnoxious to Punishment, and the very Government it self thereupon be dissolved?

For I take it to be past Denial or Doubt, that some of each Denomination have been, are, or may be guilty of seditious Practices. Some Hypocrites will lurk among those vast Bodies of People, under the most strict and watchful Government; but God forbid their Guilt should affect the whole Body, under whose Name they shelter themselves. God, Reason, and Conscience, do all command the hottest Zeal, to make its Pause and just Distinction here. Let the Guilty be brought to condign Punishment, upon fair Trial and Conviction. This Discourse designs no Favour for such. But let not those who abhor their Wickedness, and are as pure from their Crimes as your selves, suffer with them, or from them: For then your Reason will tell you, your selves are as liable to Sufferings as they; and that your Zeal is not kindled by Love to Justice, but the Hatred of a Party.

It is not in the Body Politick, as in the Body Natural: If the Hand steal, the Feet are justly laid in Irons, and the Neck put into an Halter; because all the Members of the Body Natural are animated, and governed but by one Soul. But in the Body Politick, every Individual hath a distinct Soul of his own; and therefore that Member only that offends, ought to be punished, and all the rest to enjoy their full Liberty and Honour as before. Away therefore for ever with this Church and State-destroying Synecdoche.

Expectation 3. Thirdly, If there be a Change made upon the Laws, and they shall at any time tolerate and protect that Party and Practice which once they made criminal; then your Reason, and every Man's else, will expect from you, (if your Zeal for the Laws and Government be sincere and unfeigned) that your Countenance and Carriage to that People be changed and altered, according to the different Aspect of the Laws and Government upon them: That your Envy and Hatred cease with the Offence; and that you be as ready to assist and encourage them, when they act according to Law, as you formerly were to afflict and prosecute them for acting contrary to Law: Else, pretend what you will, 'tis plain enough, that it was not Zeal for the Laws and Government, but somewhat else (which every body may guess at) that inflamed your Rage against them.

For whensoever the Wisdom of the Government finds it necessary, by Toleration, to take away way the Crime and Offence, it must necessarily take away this very Plea for Hatred and Persecution with it: Otherwise it would be all one, to act for Law, and against Law; to punish them that are Offenders, and them that offend no more than your selves; to turn the Edge of your Rage and Fury, against those that undermine the Government, and those that are as Zealous as your selves, to support and defend it, by their Persons and Purses.

Expectation 4. Fourthly, Your Reason will justly expect it from you. that when or wheresoever you shall see eminent Piety meeting with punctual Conformity in one Man, that Man shall be your very Darling; and that both these Qualifications should recommend him to your dearest Affection. The more strictly godly he is, the more conformable he is to the Laws of God; as well as by his punctual Compliance with enjoined Rules and Rites of Worship, to the Laws of Men. If he be a Man of Catholick Charity to all of every Perswasion, whom he judges to fear God, and be truly conscientious; if he boldly and impartially reprove Sin, where-ever he finds it, tho' it be in his own Patron, or Men of his own Profession; you will still love him the more for that. For if Sincerity and Conformity (as you pretend) be the very Things which you make such a Noise and Bustle for in the World, here you have them both in Conjunction. This is the Man you seem to seek (by these Pleas of yours) for a Pattern and Standard, to reduce other Men to.

And is it really so, Gentlemen, with you? Do you heartily affect and prize a strict and serious Conformist, that fears not to expose the odious Shamefulness and Wickedness of prophane Swearing, Cursing, Drunkenness and Uncleanness; without Respect of Persons, both in his Pulpit and private Converses? Do you love him the better, for his plain dealing with your Consciences, in detecting the grand Cheat of Formality in Religion; for his close cutting Convictions of the Insufficiency of mere Civility to your Salvation, and the indispensible Necessity of Regeneration? Do you heartily love and honour him, for thundering you out of Ale-houses and Taverns, unto your Family and Closet-Duties? 'For telling you plainly, your Love 'must not be confined to your own Party, but extended to all that fear God, however they be externally distinguish'd among Men? Nay, for convincing you plainly, that Religion lies not in external Modes and Rites, in Standing, Kneeling, or Responses? That the Name and Cry of The Church, the Church, will as little avail to your Salvation, as the Cry of the superstitious and prophane Jews, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord are these? That true Religion is an inward, serious, spiritual Thing, consisting in an Evidencing it self by the Mortification of your Sins, and real Devotedness of your Hearts to the Lord?

If such a Man as this will please, and delight your very Hearts; then my Reason is bound to conclude, there may be Reality in what you pretend. But if you shall hate and loath such a Man as this equally with a profes'd Dissenter; you must excuse me, and all the Rational World with me, if we shall conclude, that it is not true Zeal for the Laws, for the Church, or for the Sincerity and peaceable Lives of its Professors; but an inward rooted Enmity at Religion it self, that sets you on work, under the feigned Pretences of other things.

Expectation 5. Fifthly, Your Reason will expect, and exact it from you, That whensoever you shall be convinced, that all these Stirs and Bustles that have been in the World, all this Fining, Imprisoning, and Impoverishing your Protestant Brethren and Neighbours for their Conscience-sake, hath done the Church no good, but given a great and real Advantage to our common Enemy, to ruin us together; that we may distinguish our selves how we please in our Folly, but they will never distinguish us in their Fury; for we are all known to them, by one common Name of Hereticks.

In this Case, your Reason exacts it from you, and so doth the common Reason of Mankind, that a Sense of common Interest, and common Danger, now quiet those Feuds, and extinguish those Fires, which our own Lusts first kindled, and the Devil and our common Enemies have incensed, to the great Damage and Hazard of the whole Protestant Cause.

Such a seasonable and becoming Sense as this, were in it self sufficient to cool a Wise Man's Heats, if Penal Laws were left standing in their full Force and Vigor: But when the Wisdom and Reason of the State shall plainly discern both the Usefulness and Necessity of Liberty, and thereupon take away (as they have now most prudently and seasonably done) the further Occasions of Mischiefs to the whole, by relaxing the Yoke that bound some (and those a very great Body of truly Loyal and Useful Subjects) leaving the rest in the quiet Possession of their own Liberties and Properties; what shall we call that Fire, which still continues burning and increasing, not only after, but by all this, but an unquenchable Hell fire?

If Chimæra's, and self-created Jealousies, that some Carnal Interests of ours are not so well secured to us under Liberty, as they were under Persecution and Tyranny; this were the right way to perpetuate Dissentions and Persecutions to the End of the World.

And now, Gentlemen, I hope I may say, without being vain or opinionative, that your own Reason hath fairly disarmed you of these Pleas and Excuses, by which you have hitherto defended your selves in your most sinful Practices of prophane Cursing and Swearing, Drunkenness, Uncleanness, and bitter Enmity against your Protestant Brethren, for Things that touch not the Essence of Christianity.

And believe it, Sirs, it is truly Genteel and Glorious, to suffer your selves to be subdued and conquered by the plain Convictions of your own Reason and Conscience. 'Tis Ten thousand times more Honourable and Glorious, to lay down your Arms at the Feet of these, than to lay down both Reason and Conscience at the Feet of Satan and your Lusts, and continue fighting obstinately against God, your own Souls, Bodies, Estates, Reputations; yea, your very Reasons and Consciences, your innocent Brethren, and the Peace of Church and State, under Satan's Banner.

In all this Discourse, I have not designed to exasperate, but assuage and restrain your Lusts and Passions, by laying the loving and gentle Hands of your own Reasons and Consciences upon them. I have not given the least injurious Touch to your Honour, but all along pleaded for the Recovery, or Security of it. I have exposed no Man by any particular Mark. or Indigitation.

But now I have done with you; if your own Consciences shall begin to make a rounder and more particular Application of theſe general Reaſonings and Arguments, and ſay to you, as Nathan to David, Thou art the Man; I am not accountable for that. But be confident of it, you are accountable to God for all thoſe plain Convictions, and faithful Endeavours uſed with you, and tried upon you, to ſave you from all thoſe Miſeries your headſtrong Luſts, with furious Precipitation, are manifeſtly running you into.

If you can ſubſtantially and ſolidly refel thoſe Arguments againſt, and vindicate thoſe Pleas for Sin, which Reaſon and Conſcience have urged and cenſured above; and can produce ſtronger and clearer Arguments, to defend and juſtify the Courſes here cenſured and condemned: Or if you can obtain a Writ of Error, to remove theſe Cauſes to another Lawful Court of Judicature, where you ſhall obtain a more favourable Verdict, your Complaint of ſevere Dealing with you here, will not want ſome Ground or Colour: But if you cannot, (as you know you cannot) then never blame your own Reaſons, nor mine, for dealing rigorouſly or injuriouſly with you.

I am willing to hope, and perſwade my ſelf, that I ſhall at leaſt obtain a Reformation of Life from many of you. I have tugg'd hard for it with you here: I will tug harder with God in Prayer, to obtain it for you. But yet, Gentlemen, I muſt tell you in the Cloſe, That tho' an external Reformation of theſe evil Courſes may make your Lives more healthy, happy, and durable in this World, and will greatly conduce to the publick, as well as your perſonal and private Intereſt; yet if you expect compleat and perfect Happineſs in the World to come, you muſt advance one Step further beyond Reformation, unto ſound Converſion. The firſt makes you comparatively happy here; but the ſecond will make you perfectly happy and bleſſed for ever hereafter. The firſt frees you from many temporal Miſeries upon Earth; but the ſecond, from eternal Miſeries in Hell. And this brings you to the other Bleſſed Step, by Converſion; which is the Second Part.

THE SECOND PART:

EVINCING THE

Poſſibility, Neceſſity, and Excellency

OF

Converſion to GOD;

The Only Thing that makes Men truly Happy, and perfectly Bleſſed, in the World to come.

---

§. I. Conviction ſuppoſed, and Grace admired.

REaſon and Conſcience having been ſhaming Men out of their Prophaneneſs, in the former Part of this Diſcourſe; Free Grace invites them to the Life of Holineſs, and thereby to the Life of Bleſſedneſs, in this Second Part.

There you ſee what it is to live like Beaſts; here you may ſee what it is to live like Chriſtians.

My Charity commands me to ſuppoſe, that ſome Readers ſtand (by this time) convicted in their own Conſciences, both of the extreme Wickedneſs, and the immediate Danger of that prophane Courſe they have hitherto purſu'd, and perſiſted in; and that by this time they begin to interrogate them in the Apoſtle's cloſe and cutting Language, Rom. 6. 21. What fruit had ye then in thoſe things, whereof ye are now aſhamed? For the end of theſe thengs is death. 'Tis hard to imagine, that ſo many cloſe Debates and Reaſonings, as you have heard in the former Part, ſhould not leave many of you under Conviction and Trouble of Spirit. You ſee, your own Reaſons and Conſciences have condemned you: And if our Heart condemn us, (ſaith the Apoſtle) God is greater than our Heart, and knoweth all things; 1 Joh. 3. 20. 'Tis Folly to imagine, you ſhall be acquitted at God's immediate Bar, who are already caſt and condemned at your own Privy Seſſions.

If this be the happy Effect (as I hope it is) of all the former cloſe and ſolemn Debates with your Conſciences, it will naturally and immediately caſt thy Soul, Reader, into great Admiration of, and Aſtoniſhment at, the Patience and Long-ſuffering of God, that hath born with thee, under a Life of prodigious and reiterated Provocations until this Day. And his Goodneſs will be as admirable to thee, as his Patience; in that he hath not not only suffer'd thee to live till this Day, but made it the Day of thy Conviction, the first necessary Step towards thy Conversion; and the very first Things he entertains thy convinced and troubled Soul with, to be the Possibility and Probability of thy Conversion to God.

The Greatness of his Patience shews his Almighty Power; Rom. 9. 22. Nahum 1. 3. But his Willingness to pass by all the Wrongs you have done him, and to be at Peace with you, discovers the immense Riches of his Grace; Tit. 3. 3, 4.

That God should be so quick in the Executions of his Wrath upon your Companions in Sin, and so patient and long-suffering towards you, that have out-sinned them all; is such a comparative Consideration of his Bounty, as should even overwhelm the Man that beholds it; Rom. 11. 22. Behold the goodness and severity of God! On them that fell, severity; but towards thee, goodness.

If thou be that very Man, who in the past Course of thy Life hast been a prophane Swearer, a beastly Drunkard, a lascivious Person, an Hater and Persecutor of Good Men; and after all this, the Lord hath brought an Offer of Mercy to thy Soul, and shall convince thee it is not come too late, but that the Door of Hope stands yet open to thee: My Advice to thee is, That thou cast thy self down at the Feet of Mercy, and after this manner pour forth thy Laments and Desires before the Lord.

'And is there yet a Possibility of Mercy, O 'Lord God, for such a vile Wretch as I have been! 'Can the Arms of Free Grace yet open them-'selves to embrace such a Monster of Wickedness 'as I am! Who then is a God like unto thee! And 'what Patience, Mercy, and Goodness, is like 'thine! I have far exceeded others in Sin; I have 'lived the Life of a Beast, yea, of a Devil. I 'have darted thy Dreadful and Glorious Name, 'with Thousands of horrid Blasphemies, trampled 'all thy glorious Attributes under my Feet; chal-'lenged thee to thy very Face to do thy worst, 'even to damn me to the Pit of Hell: I have 'yielded up this Soul, with all its Noble Faculties 'and Powers, as Instruments of Sin unto the De-'vil; and made this Body, which should have 'been the hallowed Temple of thy Spirit, to be 'the noisome Sink (or Common-Shore) for all 'unclean and abominable Lusts, to run and settle 'in. I have hated, reviled, and persecuted those, 'that were more strictly, soberly, and godly than 'my self; because their convincing Examples dis-'quieted, checked, and convicted my Consci-'ence, in the eager Pursuit of my Lusts and 'Pleasures.

'I have liv'd in the prophane Neglect of Prayer, 'Meditation, Self-Reflection, and all other Spiritual 'Christian Duties; thinking to make an Atone-'ment for all, by a few hypocritical, external 'Formalities.

'To accommodate my Carnal Interest in the 'World, I have come reeking hot out of an Ale-'House, or Whore-House, to the Table of the 'Lord; where, with unhallowed Hands, and a 'more unhallowed Heart, I have crucified again 'the Lord of Glory; and given the vilest Affront 'and Despite to that most Sacred and Precious 'Blood, which now must save me, or I am lost 'for ever. Thus have I done; and because thou 'kept'st silent, I thought thee to be altogether such an one 'as my self: But this Day hast thou reproved me, and 'set mine Abominations in order before me.

'I have tempted and induced many others into 'the same Impieties with me; of whom, some 'are already gone down to the dead, and others so 'fixed, and fully engaged in the Pursuit of their 'Lusts, that there appear no Signs of Repentance, 'or Recovery, in them.

'Thy Wrath, Lord, soon brake forth against 'the Angels that sinned in Heaven; yet hitherto 'hast thou forborn and spared me, who have been 'highly provoking thee ever since I was born, 'by a Life of unparallel'd Wickedness upon Earth. 'Vile Wretch, that I am! I have despised the 'Riches of thy Goodness, and Forbearance, and Long-'suffering; not knowing that the Goodness of God lead-'eth me to Repentance. And after all, here I am 'told, that there is yet a Possibility of Pardon, 'Mercy, and Salvation for me. The News is so 'great, and so good, that I am zealously concern-'ed to examine the Grounds and Evidences of it. 'And if it shall appear to be as true, as it is asto-'nishingly strange, and ravishingly sweet; I hope, 'it shall effectually lead me to Repentance, and 'dissolve for ever the strongest Ties betwixt me 'and my Lusts.

§. II. Conversion of the vilest Sinner possible.

THat it is possible for the greatest and most infamous Sinner, to be recovered by Repentance and Conversion, and thereupon to find Mercy and Forgiveness with God; is a Truth as sure and firm, as it is sweet and comfortable. Three Things will give full Evidence of it.

1. That their Sins do not exceed the Power and Sufficiency of the Causes of Remission.

2. That such Sinners are within the Calls and Invitations of the Gospel.

3. That such Sinners are found among the Instances and Examples of Pardoning Mercy, recorded in the Scriptures.

And if the Causes of Pardon be sufficient, and able to produce it; if the Gospel-Invitations do take them in; and such Sinners as these, every way as vile and wicked, have not been shut out, but received to Mercy; then 'tis beyond all doubt, that there is (at least) a Possibility of Mercy for such Sinners as you are.

I. 'Tis past all rational doubt, that the Causes of Remission are every way sufficient and able, to produce the Forgiveness of such Sins as yours are. For consider with your selves,

The Power of { 1. The Impulsive Cause. 2. The Meritorious Cause. 3. The Applying Cause.

1. The Sufficiency and Ability of the Impulsive Cause of Pardon, which is none other but the Free Grace of God, the Immense Riches and Treasures whereof, do infinitely exceed the Accompts and Computations both of Angels and Men: Exod. 34. 6, 7. And the Lord passed by before him, and proclaimed, The Lord! the Lord God! Merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth: Keeping mercy for thousands; forgiving iniquity, and transgression, and sin. Mic. 7. 18, 19. Who is a God like unto thee; that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgressions of the remnant of his heritage? He retaineth not his anger for ever; because he delighteth in mercy. He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us; he will subdue our iniquities, and thou wilt cast all our sins into the depths of the sea. Once more; Rom. 5. 20. Where Sin abounded, Grace did much more abound. So that what-whatever thy Sins have been, they do not, they cannot exceed the Ability and Power of the Grace of God, the All-sufficient, Impulsive Cause of Remission. That Infinite Abyss, or Sea of Mercy, can swallow up and cover such Mountains of Guilt, as thine have been.

2. Nor do thy Sins exceed the Power and Ability of the Meritorious Cause of Remission, namely, the Blood of the Lord Jesus Christ; for that Blood is the Blood of God, Acts 20 28. He is the Lamb of God, whose Blood is sufficient to take away the Sins of the World; John 1. 29. There is but one Sin in the World, exempt from Remission by this Blood; and if thy Heart be now wounded with the Sense of Sin, (as I here suppose it to be) that's none of thy Sin, how heinous soever thy other Sins be.

3. Nor do thy Sins exceed the Ability and Power of the Applying Cause of Pardon, namely, the Spirit of God. For tho' I should suppose thy Mind to be clouded and overshadowed with grossest Ignorance, thy Heart to be as hard as an Adamant, or Nether Milstone, thy Will stiff and obstinate, thy Affections enchanted and bewitched with the Pleasures of Sin; yet this Spirit of God, in a moment, can make a convincing Beam of Light to dart into thy dark Mind, make thy hard Heart relent, thy stubborn Will to bow, and all the Affections of thy Soul to comply, and open obedientially to Christ; Joh. 16. 9, 10. The Spirit, when he cometh, he shall convince the World of Sin, &c.

Thus you see, whatever your Guilt be, it does not exceed the Abilities of the Causes of Remission. Oh what an Encouragement is this!

II. And there is yet further Encouragement in this, that if you will open your Bibles, you may find your selves within the Calls and Invitations of the Gospel. And no Man can say, that Man is without Hope, that is within a Gospel-Invitation. Consider Isa. 55. 7, 8. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon: For my Thoughts are not your Thoughts, &c. Here you have the Nature of Conversion described negatively and positively; by Forsaking your Ways and Thoughts, and Turning to the Lord. The Way notes the external Course of the Conversation; the Thoughts denote the internal Frame and Temper of the Mind: Both these must be forsaken. And Turning to the Lord, denotes the sincere Delicacy of the whole Man to God; all which is possible, and easy for the Spirit of God to do; and this being once done, abundant Pardon is assured. If you say, you cannot think it; God tells you in the very next Words, That his Thoughts are not your Thoughts; but as far above them, as the Heavens are higher than the Earth. Read to the same Purpose, Isa. 1. 18. Rev. 3. 20. Joh. 7. 37.

III. And to make the Possibility of Remission yet clearer, know for your Encouragement, that as vile, infamous, and prodigious Sinners as your selves, are recorded and found amongst the Instances and Examples of forgiven Sinners in Scripture. Paul was once a fierce and cruel Persecutor and Blasphemer, yet he obtained Mercy; 1 Tim. 1. 13, 14. That sinful Woman, recorded Luk. 7. 37, 38. was an infamous and a notorious Sinner; yet her Sins, which were many, were forgiven her, v. 47. Manasseh was a Monster of Wickedness, as you may read, 2 Chron. 33. yet found Mercy. And if you view that Catalogue of Sinners, given in 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. you will seem to find among them the very forlorn Hope of desperate Sinners, advanced nearest to Hell of any Men upon Earth; yet see, ver. 11. what is said of some of them: And such were some of you; but ye are washed, but ye are justified.

All these Things plainly shew (I say not the Certainty that you shall be, but) the Possibility that you may be pardoned; which is a Mercy and Encouragement unspeakable.

§. III. The Conversion of Prophane ones highly probable.

AND because Satan labours to discourage them that are gone in Sin so far as you are, by cutting off all Hopes of Mercy from them, and bringing them to this desperate Conclusion; Damned we know we shall, and must be; and therefore as good be damned for more, as less. If we had lived sober and civil Lives, we might have had some Hope; but because we have no Hope, 'tis as good for us to take our full Swinge in Sin, as to think of returning by Repentance and Conversion, so late in the Day as this is.

To obviate this deadly Snare of Satan, I shall here further add, That there is not only a Possibility of your Recovery, but in some respect a stronger Possibility, that such as you may be converted and saved, than there is for those who have led a smoother and more civil Life in the World, and wholly trust to their own Civility for their Salvation, instead of the imputed Righteousness of Christ.

This plainly appears, by that convictive Expression of Christ to the Scribes and Pharisees; Mat. 21. 31. Verily I say unto you, that the Publicans and Harlots go into the Kingdom of Heaven before you. Publicans! the most infamous among Men; and Harlots! the worst of Women: yet these are sooner wrought over to Christ by Faith and Repentance, than the more civil and self-righteous Scribes and Pharisees.

And indeed, 'tis far easier to come at the Consciences of such Sinners by Conviction, than at the others: They having nothing to ward off the Stroke of Conviction; it must fall directly and immediately upon their Consciences. The most smooth and civil Part of the World trust to their own Righteousness, and this Self-Confidence, like Armour of Proof, resists all Attempts to bring them to Christ for Righteousness. Nothing fixes Men in a State of Evil more, than a strong Conceit that their Condition is good.

But such as you are, whose whole Lives have been polluted with Prophaneness and all Impiety, your Consciences will more easily receive Convictions of your present Danger, and of the Necessity of a speedy and thorough Change. You cannot think, as others do, that you need no Repentance or Reformation. In this Respect, therefore, you lie nearer the Door of Hope and Mercy, than other Sinners do.

If therefore it shall pléase the Lord, (whose Grace is rich and free to the vilest of Sinners) to pluck out such as you, as Brands out of the burning, by thorough Conversion to Christ; you will not only become real Christians, (as all true Converts are) but the most excellent, useful, and zealous amongst all Christians. As you will be most eminent Instances of his Grace, so will you be the most eminent Instruments for his Glory. As you have gone beyond other Sinners in Wickedness, so you will strive to exceed them all in your Love to Christ, Christ. Luk. 7. 47. She loved much, for much was forgiven her. You'll never think you can do enough for him, who hath done such great Things for you.

Who more fierce and vile before Conversion, than Paul, who was a Blasphemer, a Persecutor, and Injurious? 1 Tim. 1. 13. And who among all the Servants of Christ, loved or laboured for him more than he? How did he rather fly, than travel up and down the World, in a Flame of Zeal for Christ? As you have been Ringleaders in Sin, so you will not endure to come behind any in Zeal and Love to the Lord Jesus: Yet not thinking this way to make him a Requital for the Injuries you have done him; (that would be the most injurious Act of all the rest) but to testify this way the deep Sense you have of the Riches and Transcendency of his Goodness and Mercy to you above others.

§. IV. Conversion frequently and fatally mistaken.

BUT here I must warn you of some common, but most dangerous Mistakes, committed in the World with respect to Conversion unto God. Except these be seasonably prevented, or removed, none of you will ever stir, or move further than you are towards Christ. Amongst others, beware especially of these Three following fatal Mistakes; that of,

1. Baptismal Regeneration.
2. Common Profession of Christianity.
3. Formality in Religious Duties.

1. There is a Notion spread among Men, and almost every where obtaining: That the Scriptures mean nothing else by Conversion, but to be baptized in our Infancy into the visible Church; and that this Ordinance having pass'd upon them long ago, they are sufficiently converted already; and that Men make but a needless Stir and Bustle in the World, about any other, or further Conversion.

But, Sirs, I beseech you, consider how dangerous a Thing it is, to take your own Shadow for a Bridge; and venturing upon it, drown your selves. If Baptism be Conversion enough, why doth Christ say, Mark 16. 16. He that believeth, and is baptized, shall be saved; but he that believeth not, shall be damned? Baptism, without Faith, signifies nothing to Salvation; but Faith, without Baptism, (where it cannot be had) secures Salvation. And why doth the Apostle say, Gal. 6. 15. Neither Circumcision, nor Uncircumcision availeth any thing, but a new Creature? Or what needed Christ to have pressed and inculcated the indispensible Necessity of Regeneration upon Nicodemus, as he doth, Joh. 3. 3, 5, 7. who had been many Years a Circumcised Jew? This your dangerous Dependance upon your Baptismal Regeneration, is what hath given such deep Offence and Prejudice to many (tho' without just cause) against that Ordinance. I lament it as much as they, that Men should turn it into such a deadly Snare to their own Souls, yet will still honour Christ's abused Ordinance.

2. Some think, the common Profession of Christianity makes Men Christians enough. They are no Heathens, Mahometans, or idolatrous Papists; but Protestants, within the Pale of the True Church; that is, professed Reformed Christians.

But Friends, I beg you to consider that conclusive Text, 1 Cor. 4. 20. The Kingdom of God is not in Word, but in Power. Many there be, that in Words confess Christ, but in Works they deny him. And why were the foolish Virgins (that is, professed Reformed Christians) shut out of the Kingdom of God; if the Lamps of verbal Profession, without the Oyl of internal Godliness, were enough for our Salvation? Mat. 25. 3, 12. Believe it, Sirs, many will claim Acquaintance with Christ upon this Account, and expect Favour from him in the Great Day, of whom he will profess he never knew them, Mat. 7. 22. Christ need not have put Men upon striving, as in an Agony, to enter in at the strait Gate; if Baptism in our Infancy, or verbal Profession of Christianity, were all the Difficulties Men had to encounter in the Way to Heaven.

3. Formality in External Duties of Religion, is another fatal Mistake of Conversion. Have not these been the inward Thoughts of your Hearts: As bad as we are, tho' we take Liberty to swear, be drunk, and unclean sometimes; yet we say our Prayers, keep our Church, and hope for Heaven and Salvation, as well as those that are more precise?

But tell me, Gentlemen, seriously, What do you say, or plead for your selves more in all this, than those convicted Hypocrites did, Isa. 58. 2. ? Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a Nation that did Righteousness, and forsook not the Ordinances of their God: They ask of me the Ordinances of Justice; they take delight in approaching to God. Or, to come nearer yet to your Case, and cut off at one Stroke for ever this vain Plea of yours, read and ponder God's own Censure of it, in Jer. 7. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit. Will ye steal, murder, commit adultery, and swear falsly, &c. and come and stand before me in this House, which is called by my Name, and say we are delivered to do all these Abominations? Is this House, which is called by my Name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the Lord; but go ye now to my place, which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the first, and see what I did to it, for the Wickedness of my People Israel.

§. V. Of the Nature of true Conversion.

YOU have heard, that Conversion does not consist in these External Things; at your Eternal Peril be it, if you trust in them. But true Conversion is the Turning of the whole Man to God, Acts 26. 18. 'Tis nothing less, than the total Change of the inward Temper and Frame of the Heart, and the external Course of the Life, Isa. 55. 8. 'Tis not the cold Confession, but the real Forsaking of Sin, in which we shall find Mercy, Prov. 28. 13. Thy Heart and Will, Love and Delight, must turn Sin out, and take Christ in, or thou art no Gospel-Convert. A true Convert loaths every Sin, and himself for Sin, Ezek. 36. 31. But General Confessions of Sin, are consistent with the full Dominion of Sin. Moreover, in all true Conversion, there is a positive Turning unto God, a whole Heart-Choice of him, for your Supreme and Ultimate Happiness and Portion, Psal. 73. 25. and of the Lord Jesus Christ, as your Prince and Saviour, Acts 5. 31. And answerably, it will devote your whole Life to his Service and Glory, Phil. 1. 21. And thus it brings forth the New Man; and the whole Frame of your Heart and Life is marvelously changed and alter'd, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Old things are passed away; behold all things are become new.

It

It may be, you will think such a Change as this impossible to be made upon you. And so it is indeed, until the Day of God's Power come; Psal. 110. 3. What! to forsake with loathing your old Companions and Courses, which you have so long lived with, and delighted in; and to embrace with highest Pleasure strict Godliness, which you have so loathed and ridiculed! This would be a strange Alteration indeed. But as strange as it seems to be, 'twill be effected in a moment, when God fulfils that gracious Promise (as I hope he is now doing) to you, Ezek. 36. 26. A new Heart also will I give you, and a new Spirit will I put within you. Operations follow Natures. When the Heart of a Beast was given to that great King Nebuchadnezzar, Dan. 5. 21. his Dwelling was with the wild Asses; they fed him with Grass, like Oxen: But let the Spirit of a Man return to him again, and he'll blush to think of his brutish Company, and way of Life: And so will you of yours also. As marvelous a Change as this, has pass'd upon as eminent and notorious Sinners as your selves, Gal. 1. 22. The God of the Spirits of all Flesh, can with Ease and Speed produce all this by that Almighty Power, whereby he is able to subdue all Things to himself.

§. VI. Of the Hazards attending Conversion.

IF the Lord shall, in his rich Grace and Mercy to your Souls, stir up in them the Thoughts and Resolutions of a Change of your Course; great Care ought to be taken, in the Time of this Change, lest they miscarry in their Remove from one State to another. Multitudes miscarry betwixt a State of Prophaneness, and true Godliness. To continue in the State of Prophaneness, is to be certainly lost; and so it is to take up short of Christ, in mere Civility and Formality in Religion. This Middle State takes up Multitudes by the way, who do but change the open Road, for a more private Way to Hell.

Mere Civilized Nature, is Unregenerated Nature still: They return, but not to the Most High; they are like a deceitful Bow, saith the Prophet, Hos. 7. 16. They seem to aim at Christ, and Salvation; but, as an Arrow from a weak Bow, it goes not home; or, as from a deceitful Bow, it slents aside, and misses the Mark. 'Tis true, they are not openly prophane, as they were before; but they take up, and settle in an Unregenerate State still. Their Condition is the same, tho' their Company be not.

This is excellently set forth by our Saviour, Mat. 12. 43, 44, 45. The Devil may be cast out as a prophane Devil, and yet keep his Propriety still as a formal Devil. The Sense of that Text is well expres's'd by one, in this Note upon it: That a Restraint by Formality, keeps the Devil's Propriety, and disposes the Soul to final Apostacy. You are as far from Christ and Salvation, under the Power of Formality, as you were before. He that's cur'd of a Fever, hath no great Cause to rejoice, if his Fever have left him under a Consumption; which will kill him as surely, tho' it may be less violently or speedily.

§. VII. Of the absolute Necessity of a thorough Change.

WHatever the Difficulties and Hazards be, that attend this Change by Conversion unto God, the Change it self is absolutely and indispensibly necessary to every Man's Salvation. The Door of Salvation can never be open'd, without the Key of Regeneration. Christ assures Civil and Formal Nicodemus, That except he be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God, Joh. 3. 3. Think not Conversion to be the Attainment of some singular and extraordinary Christians; for 'tis the very Point upon which every Man's Eternal Happiness or Misery depends. There is one Law for all the World; They must be changed, or damned. No Restitutions or Reformations, no common Gifts or Abilities, no Religious Duties or Services, can save any Man from Hell, without a Change by thorough Conversion; Rom. 8. 8. They that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

Satisfy and please not your selves with this: Tho' we live in Sin, yet God is a Merciful God: We will confess our Sins to him, say our Prayers, keep our Church; and no doubt but God will be merciful to us, as well as others. Consider it, Man, that this merciful God is also a God of Truth; and this God of Truth hath plainly assured thee, That all these external Things signify nothing to thy Salvation, unless thou become a new Creature; Gal. 6. 15. And that thou must be born again, Joh. 3. 3. Say not, without this you will hope in God: If you hope in God, you must hope in his Word, Psal. 119. 81. Now where will you find that Word in the Bible, that warrants the Hope of Salvation in an unregenerate Person? All Scriptural Hope is of a purifying Nature, and evermore productive of an Holy Life; 1 Joh. 3. 3.

If you say, Christ died for the greatest of Sinners, and you trust to be saved thro' him: 'Tis true, he did so; but Conversion is His only Method of Salvation; Tit. 2. 14. And those that are not washed by Sanctification, have no Part in him, or in his Blood, Joh. 13. 8. He came not to save Men continuing in their Sins, but to save his People from their Sins, Mat. 1. 21. His way is to lead you thro' Sanctification unto Salvation; 2 Thes. 2. 13. If you have a mind to see whom, and how he saves; you have it before your Eyes, Tit. 2. 14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar People, zealous of good works. Those only are saved by him, that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, live not only soberly and righteously, but godly in this present World.

And this is the Change I am here pressing you to: And until this Change be made, you cannot find your selves within the Compass of any Covenant-Promise, Eph. 2. 12. But if you will turn to Heb. 12. 14. you may the very next Minute find your selves barr'd out of Heaven by a Scripture-Threatning. Let no Man therefore impose so great a Cheat upon his own Soul, as once to imagine, that any Thing short of sound Conversion, can ever put him out of the Danger of Damnation.

§. VIII. Every Man might do more than he doth, towards his own Conversion.

IT is not in any Man's Power to convert himself: But yet because every Man might do more towards it than he doth do, and doth it not, he is justly chargeable with his own Damnation. We are bid, and bound, to strive to enter in at the strait Gate, Luk. 13. 24. 'Tis true, a Man, in his natural State, can do nothing that is spiritually or supernaturally good; yet he can do, and forbear to do many Things, the doing or forbearing of which, have a true (tho' remoter) Tendency to his Conver-

Converſion ; and not doing or forbearing of them, his Deſtruction is of, and from himſelf.

You can, if you will, forbear to ſwear and blaſpheme the Name of God. Who can, or does, compel or force your Tongues to it ? The Devil can tempt, but not compel them. You can, if you will, ſtop, when Nature is duly refreſhed. Your wicked Companions can provoke, but not force you. You can, if you pleaſe, ſhun laſcivious Books and Company ; and keep your Bodies chaſte, at leaſt from the External Acts of Uncleanneſs.

And why cannot you (if you pleaſe) perform, as well as neglect, the External Acts of Religious Duties ? The ſame Feet that carry you to a Tavern, can carry you to your Cloſets, if you pleaſe to have them do ſo. Nor do I know any Reaſon, why you cannot compoſe your ſelves, when engaged in God's publick or private Worſhip, to a cloſe and ſerious Attendance to thoſe Duties. The Application of the Mind to what is ſpoken, is of great Concernment to you : And if an unſanctified Miniſter can apply his Thoughts to compoſe a Sermon, and preach it ; I ſee no Reaſon, why an unſanctified Hearer may not alſo compoſe and apply his Mind to hear it. And I am paſt all doubt, that ſomething may be done beyond all this. You have ſome Power certainly to reflect upon, and conſider what Concernment you have in the Things you read or hear ; and how they agree, or diſagree with your Experience.

Now if Men would but do this, (which certainly they have a Power to do) tho' they cannot convert themſelves, yet thereby they would lie in the hopeful way of Converting Grace ; which is more than they could ever yet be perſwaded to do. And tho' there be no poſitive Certainty, or Aſſurance, that Converſion and Salvation ſhall follow theſe Acts ; yet Hope and Probability are Engagements enough. Hope ſets all the World on Work, without Aſſurance. The Plough-man ploughs in Hope ; and the Merchant ventures in Hope. Do but as much for your Souls, as theſe do for their Bodies.

§. IX. Temptations and Diſcouragements in the Way of Converſion.

BUT here I expect to be encounter'd by all the Policy and Power of Hell. Satan, and your own Luſts, are in Confederacy, to turn away your Minds from ſuch Counſel and Perſwaſions as theſe. They will tell you, this is no proper Seaſon to mind your Converſion ; 'tis either too ſoon, or too late. You have not yet had Pleaſure enough in Sin, or ſo much as hath put you beyond all Hope of Mercy. That Religion is a melancholy Thing ; and if once you look that way, you'll never have a merry Day, or Hour more. With a Thouſand ſuch Damps and Diſcouragements.

But pray, Gentlemen, do ſo much at leaſt for your Souls, before you turn away your Ear from the Inſtructions of Life, as to hear theſe Matters examined. If they be not worth that, they are worth nothing.

I will ſuppoſe you in the Flower and Vigor of your Youth, and this dangerous Seaſon now nick'd with a more dangerous Temptation, that it is too ſoon to mind ſuch ſerious Matters now : You have not yet had your full Pleaſure out of Sin.

Need I to ſpend a word, to refute and baffle ſuch a Temptation as this ? I doubt not; but your your ſelves can eaſily do it. Ask your ſelves, Sirs, if Sentence of Death were paſs'd upon you by Men, (as it is by God, Joh. 3. 18. He that believeth not, is condemned already) would you think a Pardon could come too ſoon ? Be aſſured, every Bit of Bread you eat, is the Bread of the Condemned. You are in Hazard of Hell every Day and Hour : There wants nothing but a Sword, a Bullet, a Shipwreck, or Diſeaſe, (of which Multitudes wait on you every Day) to put you beyond Mercy, and all Hopes of Mercy. And can you get too ſoon (think you) out of this Danger and Miſery ? Oh, why do you linger any longer ? The Danger is too great and imminent, to admit one Hour's longer Delay.

And it is as ſtrange and ſtrong a Deluſion on the other ſide, to fancy it is now too late. The Vanity and Groundleſneſs of this, hath been evinced in the Second Section, to which I refer you for full Satisfaction.

And for the Loſs of your Pleaſures, by Converſion to God ; that's the thinneſt and ſilliеſt Pretence of all the reſt. That's the ſame Thing, as to imagine it is to a Thirſty Man's Loſs, to leave the Puddle-Waters of a broken Ciſtern, to enjoy the Cryſtal Streams of a flowing Fountain : For the Pleaſures of an Ale-Houſe, Play-Houſe, or Whore-Houſe, to be ſweeter than the Light of God's Countenance, the Comforts of his Pardon, or the lively Hopes of Glory with him in Heaven ; of which you read, 1 Pet. 1. 8.

Poor Men ! O that you did but once know, what the Life of Holineſs, and Dedication to God is ! What the Seals, Earneſt, and Firſt-fruits of his Spirit are ! How willingly and joyfully would you trample all the Sordid Pleaſures of Sin under your Feet, to enjoy them !

§. X. Motives and Conſiderations perſwading to Converſion.

THis ſhort Diſcourſe ſhall wind up it ſelf in Motives and Conſiderations, to prevail with you, not only to make the firſt Step out of Prophaneneſs to Civility ; but the other neceſſary and happy Step too, for the Lord's Sake, Gentlemen ; that bleſſed Step beyond mere Civility, to ſerious Godlineſs.

Oh, that I knew what Words to chuſe, and what Arguments to urge, that might poſſibly prevail with you ! My Witneſs is in Heaven, I would do any Thing within my Power, to procure your Temporal and Eternal Happineſs. I beg you, in the Bowels of Chriſt Jeſus, as if I were upon my bended Knees before your Feet, turn not away your Eye or Ear from theſe Diſcourſes. Ponder and conſider, once and again, what hath been rationally debated in the Firſt Part, about your Reformation ; and what hath, and ſhall be offer'd, in this Second Part.

Oh, my God ! Thou that haſt counted me faithful, and put me into the Miniſtry : Thou that haſt inclined my Heart to make this Attempt, and encouraged me with Hope, that it ſhall not be in vain to all them that read it, if it muſt be ſo to ſome : I beſeech thee, lay the Hand of thy Spirit upon the Heart and Hand of thy Servant ; ſtrengthen and guide him in drawing the Bow of the Goſpel, and directing the Arrows, that they may ſtrike the Mark he aims at, even the Conviction and Converſion of loud and diſſolute Sinners. Command theſe Conſiderations to ſtay and ſettle in their Hearts, till they bring them fully over to thy ſelf in Chriſt.

1st Consideration. And First, O you that would consider how the whole of your Life past hath been cast away in vain, as to the Great End and Business you came into the World for. You have breathed many Years, but not lived one Day to God. Your Consciences could never yet prevail with you, to get out of the Noise and Hurry of the World, and go along with it into some private Retiring-Place, to debate the State of your Souls, and think close (but for one Hour) to such awful Subjects as God, Soul, Christ, and Eternity, Heaven, Hell, Death, and Judgment. Do you think, Gentlemen, that you came into this World to do nothing else but to eat and drink, sport and play, sleep and die? Ask your selves, I beseech you, whether the Life you have hitherto lived, has looked to your own Eyes like an earnest Flight from Hell, and a serious Pursuit of Heaven and Salvation? How much nearer are you got to Christ now, than you were when in your Cradles? The sweetest and fittest Part of your Life is pass'd away in Vanity; and there's no calling one Day, or Hour of it, back again.

2d Consideration. Consider, Gentlemen, for Christ Jesus Sake, you have yet an Opportunity to be eternally Happy, if you will slight and neglect Opportunities of Salvation no longer: The Door of Mercy is not yet finally shut up: The Lord Jesus yet waits to be gracious to you. Such is his astonishing Grace and Mercy, he will pardon and pass by all that you have done against him; if now, after all, you will but come unto him, that you may have Life. Turn ye, turn ye; for why will ye die? Your Swearing, and Blaspheming, your Drunkenness, Uncleanness, and Enmity at Godliness, shall never be mention'd, if you will yet repent and return. Ezek. 18. 21, 22. If the Wicked will turn from all his Sins that he hath committed, and keep all my Statutes, and do that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live, he shall not die. All his Transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him.

If you say, these are hard and impossible Terms to Nature: 'Tis true they are so. And God's End in urging them here upon you, is to convince you of your Natural Impotence, and drive you to Christ; that by Union with him, the Righteousness of the Law might be fulfilled in you.

3d Consideration. Let it be throughly considered, 'tis no less than Salvation, and your own Salvation too, which depends upon your Conversion. How diligent was Christ in purchasing Salvation! How negligent and remiss are we in applying it! Oh, what Compositions of Sloth and Stupidity are unconverted Sinners! How do they sit with folded Arms, as if it were easy to perish? Is this your Running and Striving, to obtain the Palms and Crowns of Immortal Glory? Work out (saith the Apostle, Phil. 2. 12, 13.) your own Salvation with fear and trembling. 'Tis for Salvation, and nothing less, you are here pressed to strive. And what Care, Pains, or Sollicitude of ours, can be equal and proportionate to so great a Thing as Salvation? If every Thought of the Heart were rescued from all other Concerns, and the Mind stand continually fixed with utmost Intention upon this Subject, surely such a Subject deserves it all, and much more.

But when you consider it is not another's, but your own Salvation you are striving for; how powerfully should the Principle of Self-Preservation awaken and invigorate your utmost Endeavours after it! The Law of Charity, and Bowels of Mercy, would compel us to do much to save the Body, and much more the Soul of another: And will they move us to do nothing for our own Salvation?

Say not, if I should be careless and neglective, yet God is good and gracious: If this Season be neglected, there be more to come. Alas! that's more than you know. 'Tis possible, your Eternal Happiness may depend upon the Improvement of this present Opportunity. There's much of Time in a short Opportunity.

4th Consideration. Do you think, your Hearts would be in such a dead, careless, and unconcerned Frame, about this great and awful Matter of your Conversion and Salvation; if those Things were now before your Eyes, which certainly and shortly must be before them?

How rational and necessary is it, for you now to suppose those very Things as present before you, which you know to be near you, and a few Days or Hours will make present? Here let me make a few Suppositions, so rational, because certainly future and near, that no Wise Man will, or dare to slight them, as Fictions and Chimæra's.

1st Supposition. Suppose your selves now upon your Death-Beds; your Heart and Breath failing, your Eye and Heart-strings breaking, all Earthly Comforts failing and shrinking from you: These Things, you know, are unavoidable, and must shortly befal you; Eccles. 8. 8. Suppose also in these your last Extremities, your Consciences shou'd awake (as probably they will, there being now no more Charms of Pleasure, and sinful Companions, to divert or stupify them) what a Case will you find your selves in! What a cold Sweat will then lie upon your panting Bosoms! What a pale Horror will appear in your Countenances? Will you not then wish, Oh that the Time I have spent in Vanity, had been spent in the Duties of Serious Piety! Oh that I had been as careful of my Soul, as I was of my Body! What are the Pains of Mortification, which I was so afraid of, to the Pains of Damnation, which I begin to scent and apprehend! I thought it hard to pray, mourn, and deny my self; but I shall find it harder, to grapple with the Wrath of an incensed God to all Eternity.

2d Supposition. Suppose your selves now to be at the Judgment-Seat of God, where you know you must be immediately after Death; or that you did behold the Process and awful Solemnity of the General Judgment of the Great Day! Both which Appearances are indisputably sure and certain; Heb. 9. 27. 2 Cor. 5. 10. Suppose you saw all Adam's Posterity there assembled and convened, even Multitudes, Multitudes, which no Man can number; all these separated into Two Grand Divisions; Christ, the Supreme and Final Judge, upon the Judgment-Seat; the Christless and Unregenerate World quivering at the Bar; the last Sentence pronouncing on them; the Executioners standing ready to take them away: Will you not then (think you) be ready to tear your selves with Indignation, for this your supine and sottish Carelessness? A Voice from the Throne, like the Voice of a Trumpet, sounds a Loud Alarm to all Careless, Negligent, and Trifling Sinners: And this is is the Voice, if you will not be in the same Case with the miserable, condemn'd World. Put to it heartily then, in the Use of all Means with God and Men, for Converting and Regenerating Grace now, which is the only Thing that differences your State from those miserable Wretches then.

3d. Supposition. Suppose God did but give you a Foresight, or Fore-taste, in the Terrors of your Consciences, of that Damnation you have jested at, and so often imprecated upon your selves: Did you but lie one Night in that Plight poor Spira, and many others beside him have done, with the Terrors of the Lord upon your Spirits, under Horror and Remorse of Conscience, which are the first Nibblings and Bitings of that Worm that shall never die:

——Tum pallida mens est,
Criminibus, tacitâ sudant præcordia culpâ.

Paleness and Horror, Fear and Trembling, upon the outward and inward Man, whilst God is making the immediate Impressions of his Wrath upon the Conscience; seeming to want some one to let out that miserable wretched Soul, that is weary to stay any longer in the Body, and yet afraid to be dislodged, lest its Condition be made worse by the Exchange; do you think you would ever imprecate Damnation any more? And yet all these Terrors and Horrors upon the Conscience, are but as the Sweating of Marble-stones before the great Rain fall.

But what if God should give you a Vision of Hell it self, and of the inconceivable and unexpressible Misery of those desperate and forlorn Wretches, that lie there sweltring and groaning under the heavy Pressures of the Wrath of a great and terrible God, immediately and everlastingly transacted upon their Souls? Would you ever jest with Damnation any more, as with an harmless Thing? Nay, would you not strive to the uttermost, to flee from this Wrath to come? Do you not seem to hear, in this rational and just Supposition, a doleful Cry coming from Hell, and the State of the Damned, with this very Sound and Sense: 'Good Souls, if ever you expect to be de-
'liver'd from this State and Place of Torments,
'strive to the utmost, strive while you have Op'portunity; strive whilst Breath and Strength do
'last, to flee from and escape, by a sound Con'version, this doleful State of Eternal Damnation.

4th Supposition. Lastly, and in a word: Suppose you had a Vision of Heaven, as Stephen and Paul had in the Body: Suppose you saw the Glory of God, and Jesus standing at his Right Hand, surrounded with the Triumphant Myriads of Palm-bearing Saints, singing Hosanna's and Hallelujahs to God, and the Lamb for ever; and Blessing, Praising, and Admiring Him, that gave them another Spirit, vastly different from that which governs such as you: Blessing the Lord, that enabled them to be Praying and Praising, whilst others were Cursing and Swearing; to be Sighing and Groaning for Sin in secret, whilst others were Shouting and Singing, in Taverns and Alehouses; to beat down their Bodies, and keep them under, whilst others were pleasing and gratifying their Lusts; would you still drive that Course you do? Well, Sirs, if ever you expect to come where these Blessed ones are, you must take the Course they did. Let this be your Endeavour, and it shall be my fervent and hearty Prayer.

A

Coronation-Sermon,

PREACH'D AT DARTMOUTH.

CANT. III. 11.

Go forth ye Daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon, with the Crown wherewith his Mother crowned him in the Day of his Eſpouſals, and in the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

A Crown is the Top of Earthly Glory, the Culminating Point of Human Dignity; Pſal. 21. 2, 3. Thou haſt given him his Heart's Deſire; thou haſt ſet a Crown of pure Gold upon his Head. The Ambition of the many, moves in various Spheres below it; the Ambition of none aſpires above it; except it be that Anomalous Monſter, the Man of Sin, who affects to ſit in the very Throne of God, and exalts himſelf above all that is called God; 2 Theſſ. 2. 4.

When God puts a Crown upon the Head, and a Sceptre into the Hand of a Man, he engraves upon that Man (in a qualify'd Senſe) both his Name, and the lively Characters of his Majeſty and Authority; Pſal. 82. 6. I have ſaid ye are Gods, and all of you the Children of the moſt High. But yet, in all the Grants and Conveyances of Heaven, there is always a Reſervation and Salvo to the Divine Prerogative, to * diſplace it at Pleaſure, and ſet it upon what Head he ſhall pleaſe; Ezek. 21. 26. Thus ſaith the Lord God; Remove the Diadem, and take off the Crown: This ſhall not be the ſame: Exalt him that is low, and abaſe him that is high.

* Deponit Reges, diſponit Regna.

Tho' Dominion be not founded in Grace, yet Grace both embelliſhes and ſecures the Dominion of Men: The Princes of the Earth owe Fealty and Homage to Jeſus Chriſt; and had ſome of them been more ſubject to his Laws, their Kingdoms had flouriſh'd, and their Government been more auſpicious.

Pſal. 2. 10, 11, 12.

The Coronation-Day of a King is, in a Senſe, the Marriage-Day betwixt him and his People, and is accordingly ſolemnized with all the Signs and Demonſtrations of Joy and Gladneſs: For the Shout of a King is among them. Thus when the Crown of Iſrael was ſet upon the Head of Solomon, the Scripture repreſents their exuberant Joy in an elegant and lofty Hyperbole; 1 Kings 1. 40. And all the People came up after him; and the People piped with Pipes, and rejoiced with great Joy, ſo that the Earth rent with the Sound of them.

Carnal Men rejoice carnally; and Spiritual Men ſhould rejoice ſpiritually. The moſt Glorious Part of the Solemnity of ſuch a Day, conſiſts in,

1. Praiſes and Prayers for him that wears the Crown.
2. In a Spiritual Improvement of the Action to our ſelves.

1. In Praiſes and Prayers for the King, whom God hath ſet over us. Your Prayers and Praiſes reflect more Glory upon the Crown, than all the Jewels and ſparkling Stones with which it ſhines: And ſo I am perſuaded our King will account it; according to Zech. 12. 5. The Governors of Judah ſhall ſay in their hearts, The inhabitants of Jeruſalem ſhall be my ſtrength, in the Lord of Hoſts their God.

Praiſe thy God, O England! for ſetting thy Crown this Day upon the Head of a Proteſtant Prince; who accounted not his Treaſures, or Blood, dear unto him, to redeem the Intereſt of Chriſt out of the Dangers that were ready to ſwallow it up.

Pray fervently for your King this Day: The Concernments of the People of God are ſo great in him, as that they exact from all the Saints the uttermoſt Importunity in Prayer:

(1.) That God would cleanſe and waſh the Crown of England, from all that Guilt and Pollution it hath contracted under former Governments, that the Sins of the Crown may not deſcend with it.

(2.) That the Royal Head on which it ſhall be ſet this Day, may be filled with the Wiſdom of God, and match'd with an holy Heart, inflamed with Love to God, and Zeal for his Glory.

(3.) That as ſoon as Men have ſet the Crown upon his Head, he may chearfully take it off again, and caſt it at the Feet of Jeſus Chriſt, as the Twenty-four Elders did, Rev. 4. 10. And the Twenty-four Elders fell down before him that ſat on the Throne, and worſhipped him that liveth for ever and ever; and caſt their Crowns before the Throne, &c.

(4.) That

(4.) That God would make the Crown ſit eaſy, and long upon his Royal Head. Eaſy, becauſe Crowns are uſually lined with thorny Cares; and Long, for the Church's Peace and Tranquillity.

Secondly, The next Thing belonging to the due Solemnity of this Day, will be the Spiritual Improvement of the whole Scene of Actions, to your own Inſtruction and Spiritual Advantage; and this will be much more glorious, than all the Triumphant Arches, Royal Robes, Thundering Guns, and Loud Acclamations of the People. To this Purpoſe, I have choſen this Text, for the Direction, and Spiritualizing of the Duties of the Day. Go forth ye Daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon, with the Crown wherewith his Mother crowned him, in the Day of his Eſpouſals, and in the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

This Book of the Canticles, is a Spiritual Epithalamium, ſung in Parts, betwixt the Heavenly Bridegroom and the Bride. The Matter of it is moſt ſpiritual and weighty; the Stile of it rapturous and lofty; the intimate Union and Communion of Chriſt and the Church, is elegantly illuſtrated in an Allegory of Marriage. But nothing is found here light or obſcene;

------Procul hinc, procul eſte profani:
Nil hic niſi caſtum.

'Tis a Cryſtal Stream of pure Spiritual Love, ſliding ſweetly betwixt Two pleaſant Banks, Chriſt and the Church.

In the Ninth and Tenth Verſes, you have the Deſcription of a Triumphant Chariot, prepared by King Solomon for the Daughters of Jeruſalem: The Pillars thereof of Silver, the Bottom of Gold, the Covering of Purple, and the Midſt thereof paved with Love. A Chariot is an Inſtrument framed for eaſy, ſafe, and honourable Conveyance. This Chariot is the Covenant of Grace, fitted by Chriſt for the ſafe and honourable Tranſporting of his Bride, the Church, thro' this World, to her ſtately Pavilion, or glorious Manſion in the higheſt Heavens.

But how ſtately and magnificent ſoever this Royal Chariot be, he that contrived and framed it, is much more glorious to behold: And therefore, in the next Words, which are my Text, Believers are ſummon'd and invited, to behold and contemplate Chriſt, that framed it: Go forth, ye Daughters of Zion, and behold King Solomon, with his Crown, &c. In which Words we have,

1. The Spectators ſummon'd, or invited.
2. The Spectacle they are invited to ſee.

1. The Spectators invited; the Daughters of Zion. By Zion, underſtand the Church; and by the Daughters of Zion, the Members of the Church, or every particular Believer. Theſe are here invited, or ſummon'd to go forth, i. e. of their entangling, diverting Temptations; and to behold, viz. by the Eye of Faith, this moſt glorious and heart-raviſhing Object.

2. The Spectacle they are invited to behold and contemplate; King Solomon, with his Crown, &c. The moſt illuſtrious, glorious, and raviſhing Sight that ever the Eyes of Men did, or ſhall behold. By King Solomon, underſtand Chriſt; of whom Solomon, in this Book, is the Figure or Shadow; yet one, to whom Solomon in all his Glory, was but as a depainted Sun on a Sign-Poſt, to the Sun in the Mid-Heavens, ſhining in all his Glory.

And by his Crown, underſtand not any Material Crown, as that of Solomon's was; but the Glory and Honour, that is put upon Chriſt, the King of Zion; of which Glory, a Crown is the Emblem.

What Crown is here meant, Interpreters are not all agreed about it. Some would have it to be underſtood of our Human Nature, which he was Crowned withal by his Mother Mary, of whom he took it: But tho' this Aſſumption of our Nature, put ſuch a Crown of Glory upon it as it never had before, yet it was rather an Obſcuring of Chriſt's Glory, than any Addition of Glory to him.

Others interpret it of the Crown of Thorns, with which his Mother (the Jewiſh Church, or Synagogue) Crowned him in the Day of his Paſſion at Jeruſalem: But this ſeems to be as hard and foreign a Senſe as the former.

The moſt Judicious Expoſitors are agreed in a Third Senſe; viz. That by the Crown on Chriſt's Head, we are to underſtand that Glory and Honour, which Believers give unto, or put upon Chriſt, when in the Day of their Eſpouſals to him by Faith, renouncing Satan, Sin, and all that had exerciſed Dominion over them before, with all Truſt and Dependance on any Righteouſneſs of their own, they give their deliberate, full, and hearty Conſent, That Chriſt alone ſhall Reign over them for ever and ever; ſaying, The Lord is our King, the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Lawgiver. Chriſt is the Lord our Righteouſneſs, and in all Things we will obey him. This Chriſt eſteems as a Crown of Glory put upon his Head, in the Day of his Eſpouſals, and in the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart. There is no ſuch Honour, no ſuch Pleaſure a poor Sinner can give to Chriſt, as to believe in him; this is as the putting of a Crown of Glory upon his Head. 'Tis true, it adds no Glory to him; but it is the greateſt Manifeſtation of his Glory, we are capable to make.

Object. But then it will be objected, In what Senſe Believers can be tolerably ſtiled his Mother? For the Text tells us, it was the Crown his Mother put upon him.

Anſw. They may be ſo ſtiled in a double Reſpect:

(1.) Becauſe Chriſt is formed in every Believer, he is (in a ſpiritual Senſe) conceived and formed in their Souls, as the Child is formed in its Mother's Womb: So the Apoſtle ſpeaks, Gal. 4. 19. My little Children, of whom I travail again in Birth, till Chriſt be formed in you.

(2.) In reſpect of the dear Affection Chriſt bears to every Soul that believeth in him. No Man loves his Brother, Siſter, or Mother, as Chriſt eſteems and loves Believers; Mark 3. 34. When he was told, his Mother and Brethren were without, ſeeking him; He ſaid, Behold my Mother, and my Brethren: For whoſoever ſhall do the will of God, the ſame is my Brother, and Siſter, and Mother. The Day of a Sinner's Conſent to come under Chriſt's Government, is the Day of Eſpouſals, 2 Cor. 11. 2. And the Day of a Sinner's Eſpouſals to Chriſt, is the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart; Luk. 15. 32. Thus you have the Parts, and Senſe of the Text. The Point from it is this:

Doct. That the Day of a Believer's Eſpouſals to Chriſt by Faith, is to Chriſt as the Day of a King's Coronation is to him, even the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

'Tis very remarkable, what we find in Luk. 10. 21. where the Spirit hath carefully recorded one Hour of Joy in the Life of Chriſt; for he had no many, being a Man of Sorrows, and acquaint ed with Grief. In that hour, Jesus rejoiced in Spirit, saith the Text: And what Hour was that? Why, it was the same Hour, in which the Seventy returned with these joyful Tidings to him; Lord, even the Devils are subject to us through thy Name; v. 17. The Hour, when Christ saw Satan falling as Lightning from Heaven, v. 18. His Kingdom tottering, his Forces routed by the Gospel, his Subjects running away to Christ, from under his cruel Bondage, and made willing to come under his Government: In that hour, Jesus rejoiced in Spirit. This was joyful News to Christ; it was the Day of the Gladness of his Heart. He had now got a new Throne in the Souls of poor Sinners, over whom the Devil and Sin had reigned; this was as a Crown of Glory to Christ.

d

In opening this Point, I shall discourse these Three Things:

(1.) In what respect, a Sinner's Espousals to Christ, resembles the Day of a King's Coronation, over his Subjects.

(2.) Wherein these Two Days differ each from other.

(3.) On what Accounts, it is the Day of the Gladness of Christ's Heart, as the Text calls it.

And then apply it.

Let me shew the Resemblances and Agreements, which are betwixt the Day of a King's Coronation, and the Day of a Sinner's Espousals to Christ by Faith. And this will appear in Six Respects.

(1.) A King that is duly Crown'd over his Subjects, hath a lawful Right to govern them, either by Lineal Descent, Conquest, or Compact. Solomon had his Right and Title to the Kingdom, by Descent from his Royal Father David; who, by his Last Will and Testament, constituted and appointed him to be his immediate Successor upon the Throne of Israel; 1 Kings 1. 35. The Roman Cæsar's Title to that Kingdom, was by Conquest; and this Title was legitimated not only by the Jews Acknowledgment of it, but also by Christ's express owning it, and Submission to it. The People said, We have no King but Cæsar; Joh. 19. 15. And Christ owned it, Luk. 20. 25. when he pay'd Tribute, saying, Give unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's. But David had his Title by Compact with, and voluntary Election of the People: Abner confers with the Elders of Israel about it; and they meet David at Hebron, and there chuse him King in the room of Saul; 2 Sam. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5. and that in Consideration of the Eminent Service he had performed for that Kingdom, in delivering them from their mortal Enemies the Philistines, Enemies to their Religion, and Civil Liberties. And certainly, the Crown of Israel was not a Reward above the Merit of such a Performance. Then came all the Tribes of Israel to David unto Hebron, and said, Behold we are thy Bone, and thy Flesh. Also in time past, when Saul was King over us, thou wast he that leddest out, and broughtest in Israel: And the Lord said to thee, Thou shalt feed my People Israel; and thou shalt be a Captain over Israel. So all the Elders of Israel came to the King to Hebron; and King David made a League with them in Hebron, before the Lord: And they anointed David King over Israel.

But Christ hath Right to Reign over our Souls, by all these Titles and Claims: The Throne of our Souls is, by his Father's Constitution and Decree, (Psal. 2. 6. Yet have I set my King upon my holy Hill of Zion) by Conquest; for he wins it by the Sword of his Spirit, before he possesseth it; 2 Cor. 19. 4, 5. He casts down by Spiritual Weapons all that opposeth, and brings every Thought into Obedience to him. And he hath Right also by Consent and Compact; Psal. 110. 3. The People shall be willing, in the Day of thy Power. Of which more anon.

(2.) On the Coronation-Day, Kings appear in all their Royal Robes, glittering Jewels, and all the Lustre that can be put upon them; they shine in the Eyes of the People more gloriously, than all that are about them. Velut Luna, inter minora Sidera: There's none like him, in the Beauty of his Ornaments. Much more doth Christ excel all others in Beauty and Glory, to the Eyes of those that chuse him for their Lord and King; 1 Pet. 2. 7. To you that believe, he is precious; Ἡ τιμὴ, Honour it self; Col. 1. 17. He is before all Things; not only in Time, or in Order, but in real Dignity, and solid Glory and Excellency. So his Spouse pronounceth him, Psal. 45. 2. Thou art fairer than the Children of Men; Grace is poured into thy lips. And Cant. 5. 10. My Beloved is white and ruddy; the chiefest among ten thousand. Examine and mark all the Creatures in both Worlds, Angels and Men, and they bear no more Proportion to Christ in Glory, than a Glow-worm to the Sun.

(3.) On the Coronation-Day, the Consent of the People is demanded, and given. Consent was demanded by Abner, in the behalf of David, 2 Sam. 3. 17, 18. and freely given by them, in order to David's Coronation, 2 Sam. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Thus at the Coronation of our Kings, the Consent of the Nobles and Commonalty is demanded on the Publick Theatre, in these Words:

'HEre present you such an one, (naming the King) the Rightful Inheritor of the 'Crown of this Realm: Are you willing to do 'your Homage, Service, and do bounden Duty to 'him?

And they say,

'WE are willing; or signify they are so, by 'their loud and joyful Acclamations.

So it is, when Christ is Crowned King over the Soul: His Right is asserted, and their Consent demanded by his Ambassadors; the Believer manifests his hearty Consent, Psal. 110. 3. The People shall be willing in the Day of thy Power. And over all that are made truly willing to receive him, he reigns, and invests them with all the Privileges of his Kingdom; John 1. 12. The Unbeliever is not willing to come under Christ's Government, Joh. 5. 4. You will not come to me, &c. And the Issue of their Unwillingness, is their Eternal Ruin, Luk. 19. 27. But those mine Enemies, that would not that I should reign over them; bring them hither, and slay them before me. Now, to make a Soul truly willing to accept Christ's Government, and give his Consent to him; Four Things must be done upon, and by such a Soul. (1.) He must be convinced of his Sin and Misery: No Man will be willing to change his Lord, whilst he finds no Matter of Complaint. (2.) He must know, and deliberate upon the Terms of Christ; for an ignorant Person cannot be said to consent. Non consentit, qui non sentit. Christ will have all the World to know his Terms, and will not hide the worst and hardest Things from them, whether they like them or not. No Man shall say afterwards, I was surprized, or imposed upon; had I known this, I had never consented to be a Christian. Therefore the hardest hardeſt Terms of Chriſtianity are plainly propounded, Luk. 14. 26. and that to cut off all After-Pleas and Pretences for reſiling from Chriſt; Joh. 16. 1. Theſe Things have I ſpoken to you, that ye ſhould not be offended in me. (3.) Upon Deliberation, there muſt appear to the Soul that chuſeth Chriſt, and conſents to his Government, a preponderating Good; that Chriſt, with all his Reproaches and Sufferings, is better than Sin, with all its Honours and Pleaſures. No Man will change for no Advantage, much leſs to his Loſs. Thus Moſes ſaw more Glory and Excellency in the very Reproaches of Chriſt, than in all the Treaſures of Egypt, or Pleaſures of Sin; Heb. 11. 25, 26. O! ſaith the Soul, tho' there be hard and bitter Sufferings in the way of Godlineſs, yet 'tis infinitely better for me to endure them for Chriſt, than to be damned. And upon Ballancing the Gains and Loſſes, the Conveniences and the Inconveniences of Chriſtianity, the Odds appears ſo great, that the Soul pronounceth, they are not worthy to be compared; Rom. 8. 18. (4.) When all is done, there muſt be a Divine Almighty Influence upon the Will; without which, Men will never heartily conſent to Chriſt's Terms. No Man (ſaith Chriſt) can come unto me, except my Father, which hath ſent me, draw him; Joh. 6. 44. This Influence of God upon the Will, is in a way ſuitable to its Nature, Hoſea 11. 4. and produceth a Conſent without Coaction. If the Lord ſhew any Man the infinite Advantages, that come and accrue to his Soul by Chriſt; this very Diſcovery doth, as it were, compel that Man to come into Chriſt; as that Expreſſion is uſed, Luk. 14. 23. a Scripture vilely abuſed in our Times. Chriſt compels none into his Kingdom, as the Spaniards did the poor Indians to Baptiſm, or as others have been compell'd to the Lord's Table. He will Reign over a willing People, or not Reign at all.

(4.) On the Coronation-Day, a Champion appears on the King's Behalf, to challenge any that ſhall deny his Right, or by Allurements or Threatnings, attempt to draw his Subjects from their Duty and Allegiance: He throws down the Gantlet, and defies the proudeſt Enemy the King hath.

So when Chriſt is Crowned King over the Souls of his People, there is a publick Defiance bid, a formal Challenge given, to all the Enemies of Chriſt and his People; as you may read at large, Rom. 8. 33, 34, 35. Who ſhall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? Who is he that condemneth? Who ſhall ſeparate us from the Love of Chriſt? Devils and Men are defied to do their worſt. Chriſt muſt reign, till all his Enemies be put under his Feet. Sin ſhall not have Dominion over his People; for they are not under the Law, but under Grace. Come Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek; come Satan, and all his Infernal Powers; they are all defied in the Name of Chriſt. Believers are his own Subjects; and none ſhall pluck them out of his Hand.

(5.) At, or about the Coronation-Day, an Act of Indemnity, Pardon, and Oblivion is paſs'd and publiſhed, pardoning the Offences the Subjects had committed unto that Day.

Thus it is at the Day of Chriſt's Coronation over the Believer's Soul, and its Eſpouſals to him by Faith; and all his Sins are pardoned, new and old, great and ſmall. And of this, Proclamation is openly made in the Goſpel; Acts 10. 43. To him give all the Prophets witneſs, That through his Name, whoſoever believeth in him, ſhall receive Remiſſion of Sins. O glorious Pardon! free without Purchaſe; full without Exception; and final without Revocation. Now there's a Goal-Delivery; the Priſon-Doors are open, Liberty proclaimed to the Captives; Iſa. 61. 1, 2. The King of Sion is a merciful King, and his Subjects ſhall find him ſo: They have gladded his Heart, by accepting his Government; and he will glad theirs, by his Pardons: The Son hath made them free, and they are free indeed.

(6.) In a word, a Coronation-Day is a Day of Gladneſs, a Day of Joy and Triumph: Joy diſplays it ſelf in the Faces of all Loyal Subjects; thoſe only that had rather be under another Government, hang the Head, and bite the Lip.

So 'tis here: All that are Loyal Subjects to Jeſus Chriſt, rejoice exceedingly in his Government. And it muſt needs be ſo; becauſe his Kingdom conſiſts in Joy in the Holy Ghoſt; Rom. 14. 17. When Zacheus came under this King, he came down joyfully, Luk. 19. 6, 9. When the Eunuch receiv'd him for his Lord and King, he went home rejoicing, Act. 8. 39. When Samaria ſubmitted to his Sceptre, there was great Joy in that City, Acts 8. 5, 6. And let the Joy be what it will, the Cauſes of Joy are greater than the Joy it ſelf. But thoſe that belong to Satan's Kingdom, that love to be under the Dominion of Sin, and hate the Strictneſs and Severities of Religion; theſe are the only Malecontents; theſe fret to ſee Chriſt's Kingdom enlarged, and ſecretly plot to deſtroy it. Thus we ſee the Agreement betwixt the Day of a King's Coronation over his Subjects, and Chriſt's Coronation over Believers.

But tho' they harmonize in theſe Particulars, and divers others that may be named; yet,

2*dly*, There are as many remarkable Differences and Diſagreements betwixt them, but none to the Believer's Loſs or Diſadvantage; for they all fall on his Side: As, ex. gr.

(1.) 'Tis not the Privilege of every Subject, no nor of one among many Thouſands, to ſee the King who is Crowned over them, to hear his Voice, or give their explicit Conſent in his Preſence. But every Subject in Chriſt's Kingdom, doth ſee Chriſt by the Eye of Faith. Joh. 6. 40. He that ſeeth the Son, and believeth on him. Seeing, and Believing, are Terms convertible; they do all hear his Voice, and give their explicit Conſent to take him for their King. Union with Chriſt is not a Work to be done by a Proxy, or Repreſentative; but it is the Reſult of a Solemn Debate betwixt Chriſt and the Soul.

(2.) Kings are Crowned over many that love them not, but are fill'd with Prejudice againſt their Perſons and Government.

But it cannot be ſo in the Kingdom of Chriſt; To them that believe, he is precious, 1 Pet. 2. 7. All Chriſt's Subjects love him above Father or Mother, Wife or Children; yea, above their own Lives, otherwiſe they cannot be his Subjects; Luk. 14. 26. They alſo delight in his Government, and nothing would be more pleaſant to their Souls, than to find every Thought of their Heart brought into Subjection to him; 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. They dare not confederate with his Enemies, and will chuſe rather to die than forſake him: They will eſteem it a glorious Thing, tho' their Right Arm ſhould be ſevered from their Shoulder-blade, for their Regular Endeavours to defend and ſupport the Crown upon the Head of their Royal Maſter.

(3.) The

(3.) The Relation betwixt a King and his Subjects; may, and muſt be diſſolved by Death: Death fears not to arreſt the moſt Potent Monarch upon his Throne, and tranſlate his Crown to another Head.

But our King, Chriſt, lives for ever; Death hath no Dominion over him: His Kingdom is an Everlaſting Kingdom, and his Dominion that which ſhall have no End; Dan. 7. 13, 14. Death is ſo far from ſeparating Chriſt, and his Subjects, that it brings them nearer together than ever they were before; it brings them into his immediate Preſence, to his Facial Viſion, 1 Cor. 13. 12. and fixes them there for ever, 1 Theſ. 4. 17.

(4.) Kings may degenerate into Tyrants, and Subjects into Rebels: They may undermine the Laws, Liberties, and Religion of their People. They that Rule over the People, may make them to howl, Iſa. 52. 5. The World is too full of ſuch Inſtances and Examples. But Chriſt can never oppreſs his Subjects; The Sceptre of his Kingdom is a right Sceptre, Pſal. 45. 6. His Yoke is eaſy, and his Burden is light, Mat. 11. 29. And his true Subjects can never ſhake off their Allegiance to him; they will rather die, than do it.

(5.) Kings will not permit their greateſt Favourites to ſit in their Thrones: 'Tis their peculiar Honour, and not communicable to any. Gen. 41. 40. Only in the Throne I will be greater than thou, ſaid Pharaoh to his Joſeph.

But Chriſt permits, and appoints all his Subjects to ſit with him upon his Throne, Rev. 3. 21. The Glory which God gave him, he hath given to them, Joh. 17. 22. What King is like Chriſt?

(6.) To conclude. The Joy and Triumph at a King's Coronation, is only among Men, in this Lower World; but the Joy and Triumph at Chriſt's Coronation, is among Angels in Heaven; Luk. 15. 7. The City of God holds a Solemn Triumph at the Converſion of a particular Sinner. What are the Shouts of Men, to the Jubilations of Angels?

Thus you have Six Particulars wherein they agree, and as many in which they differ.

We come, in the next place, to enquire into,

3*dly*, The Reaſons why Chriſt's Coronation over Believers, is the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart. And it muſt be ſo,

(1.) Becauſe it is Chriſt's Marriage-Day, at leaſt the Day of his Eſpouſals; and the Day of Marriage, or Eſpouſals, is a Day of Joy and Gladneſs. Chriſt hath now a New Spouſe; a Soul, in which he never dwelt before; and as a Bridegroom rejoiceth over the Bride, ſo doth Chriſt over Believers; Iſa. 62 5. Here is a new Relation entred, and that with the King of Kings; the Angels of God rejoice exceedingly in it; but much more Chriſt, the Bleſſed Bridegroom.

(2.) 'T'is Chriſt's Day of Conqueſt and Victory over Satan; the Day in which he hath depoſed him from his Throne, Mat. 12. 29. deliver'd a Soul, of invaluable Worth in his Eyes, out of the Power of Darkneſs, and tranſlated it into his own Kingdom, Col. 1. 13. And the Day of Conqueſt, is a Day of Extraordinary Joy and Triumph, Iſa. 9. 3.

(3.) 'Tis the Day, in which he receives the Fruit and Reward of his bloody Travels, and bitter Agonies: There is now a Son, or Daughter, born to God, an Heir born to the Heavenly Inheritance. Now 'tis moſt pleaſant and joyful to Jeſus Chriſt, to ſee of the Travail of his Soul, Iſa. 53. 11. No Satisfaction in this World comparable to it. When a Young Heir is born to the Kingdom and Crown of Heaven, it deſerves a Triumph.

(4.) 'Tis the Day, in which Chriſt finds a Soul that was loſt, Luk. 15. 5, 6. What Joy was it to the Father of the Prodigal, when he had found his loſt Son? Luk. 15. 20. There was Mirth and Muſick, Feaſting and Rejoicing, This my Son was loſt, and is found; was dead, and is alive.

Poor Sinners are loſt Creatures by Nature; they have loſt their God, and therein themſelves too. God hath loſt, and the Devil found, every Unregenerate Sinner: All Strayers from God, fall to his Share. But this Loſs is not irrecoverable; the Errand and End for which Chriſt came into the World, was to ſeek and to ſave that which was loſt, Mat. 18. 11. And when the Sinner that was loſt, comes home to him by Repentance and Faith, he obtains the End of his Incarnation, Life and Death, upon that Soul; which cannot but be the Day of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

If then the Day of Kings Eſpouſals, or Marriage, be a Day of Joy and Gladneſs to his Soul; If a Day of Conqueſt, and Dividing the Spoils, be a Day of Joy to the Conqueror, after a ſharp and bloody Fight: If it be a Joy to a Mother, after long and ſore Travail, to embrace in her Arms, and kiſs the Child, for whom ſhe endured ſo many bitter Throws: If it be a Joy to a Father, to find and recover a Child that was loſt, and as dead to him: In a word; If it be high Delight and Satisfaction, to ſee a great Deſign, on which the Heart is intently ſet, brought at laſt by orderly Conduct to the deſired Happy Iſſue: Then let us allow the Day of a Sinner's Coming into Chriſt by Converſion, to be as a Coronation-Day to a King, the Day of his Eſpouſals, and of the Gladneſs of his Heart.

Uſe I. This Point, like a fruitful Root, ſends forth many Branches, and all loaden with Diverſity of Fruits. The firſt is for Information, in ſeveral Inferences from it.

Infer. 1. Be informed from hence, what is the true Cauſe and Reaſon of Satan's Rage and Spite againſt the Goſpel, and the moſt painful, able, and ſucceſsful Preachers of it in the World. The great Deſign of the Goſpel, and of all that ſincerely preach it, is to win and perſwade Satan's Subjects, to forſake his cruel, unjuſt, and Tyrannical Government, and ſubmit to the Kingdom and Sceptre of the Lord Jeſus. What is the Preaching of the Goſpel, but the Sounding of a Trumpet in the Devil's Kingdom, to win his Subjects from their Allegiance to him; to proclaim another King in his Territories? Every Faithful Miniſter's Buſineſs is, to gather theſe wretched Vaſſals of Satan together, and ſet before them the miſerable Captivity and Bondage they are in, under that Tyrant that rules over them, (whoſe Laws, like Draco's, are written in the Blood of their Souls) to exaggerate their Sin and Miſery, and to let them know how willing Chriſt is to receive and ſave them, if they will renounce and abandon Satan's Government. To ſet before them the Bleſſed Freedom, and Glorious Privileges of the Subjects of Chriſt: To beſeech and perſwade them, to break away from their old cruel Maſter, and come over to Chriſt: To anſwer all their Pleas and Objections againſt it; and to denounce the Wrath of God againſt all the Refuſers of Chriſt's Gracious Proclamation. Now Satan is not igno-ignorant of all this ; he eſteems the Loſs of one, much more the Revolt of many, a greater Miſchief, than a King reckons the Loſs of a Kingdom, and to ſee them break away ſo faſt from him, and be liſted to fight againſt him. Oh how it grates that envious Spirit, and ſharpens his Malice againſt the Inſtruments and Agents in this Work ! 'This, as a late Worthy ſpeaks, torments 'the foul Spirit, to ſee himſelf forſaken 'of his old Friends and Servants, and 'this new Lord to come and take away 'his Subjects from him. Hence come 'Perſecutions, Slanders, &c. in Showers, upon 'Chriſt's faithful Miniſters. He knows his Kingdom of Darkneſs muſt vaniſh, as the Light of the Goſpel riſes and ſpreads it ſelf. You read, Rev. 14. 6, 7. of an Angel fleeing in the midſt of Heaven, having the everlaſting Goſpel to preach to them that dwell on the Earth. And in Ver. 8. you have another Angel following him, ſaying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen ; that great City ! No ſooner is the two-edged Sword of the Goſpel drawn, but the next Voice is, Victory ! Victory ! He knows every Home-Charge made by the Goſpel, will iſſue in a Rout of his Infernal Legions. Now Miniſters coming forth againſt him as Heralds, to proclaim Chriſt's Right, and as Captains of the Army of Chriſt their General ; he owes them a particular Grudge, and ſeeks every way to ſtop their Mouths, and deſtroy their Perſons. And ſurely he hath puſhed hard at them, and made deſperate Attempts againſt them, in our Days : No doubt but it was reckon'd a great Service done him, to ſhut up the Mouths of ſo many at once ; but the Time draws nigh that Babylon muſt fall ; and thoſe that could not lately ſhew their Faces on Earth, muſt fly in the Midſt of Heaven, with the Everlaſting Goſpel. The dead Witneſſes of Chriſt, ſhall hear ſhortly a great Voice from Heaven, ſaying, Come up hither ; and they ſhall aſcend in a Cloud, their Enemies beholding, but not able any more to hinder them.

Gurnal's 1ſt Part, p. 59.

Infer. 2. How cauſeleſs, and altogether groundleſs, are the Diſcouragements and Fears of humbled and convinced Sinners, That Jeſus Chriſt will reject them, and ſhut the Door of Mercy againſt them, if they ſhould go to him, and caſt their poor ſinful Souls upon him by Faith ?

Certainly ſuch Perſons fear, where no Fear is. That which is the Command of Chriſt, the earneſt Deſire of his Soul, that Act which makes his Heart glad, as the Text ſpeaks, can never meet with ſuch a Repulſe as you fear. Was ever any King unwilling to have the Crown ſet upon his Head ? Do they uſe to frown upon their Subjects that are upon the Knee, tender their Homage and Allegiance to them ? No, no, 'tis the Day of the Gladneſs of their Hearts. Renounce thy old Maſter Satan ; give a Bill of Divorce to thoſe Luſts which have reigned over thy Soul ; ponder well Chriſt's Terms, and heartily conſent to them ; and try whether he will not quickly confute theſe vain Fears of thine, and fully make good his gracious, ſweet, and moſt encouraging Word ; Joh. 6. 37. Him that cometh unto me, I will in no wiſe caſt out. A ſweet Encouragement to a Coming-Soul ! And becauſe Senſe of Guilt and Unworthineſs uſually doubles their Fears, Chriſt hath cauſed a double Negative to be put into that Text, on purpoſe to obviate their Fears and Diſcouragements ; οὐ μὴ ἐκβαλω ἔξω ; I will not, no, I will not ; or as we render, I will in no wiſe caſt him out. Acts of Delight flow freely and eaſily ; and ſo doth this.

Infer. 3. What an High and Honourable Relation doth Faith bring the Soul of a Sinner into ! The Day of Converſion, is the Day of that Soul's Eſpouſals to Chriſt.

A King from Heaven makes Suit for a poor Sinner's Heart, woo's for Union with ſinful Creatures ; rejoices exceedingly, when he wins their Conſent, and eſpouſes them for ever to himſelf, when he obtains it ; for Contractus is nothing elſe, but Conſenſus explicatus ; a Contract is Conſent explained, in affirmative plain Words, de præſenti. I do diſclaim, and for ever renounce all others ; and willingly yield up my Heart and Life to Jeſus Chriſt. Now ex Contractu oritur Vinculum, an Obligation reſults from this Contract with Chriſt, and a moſt Honourable Myſtical Union with him. He that is joined to the Lord, is one Spirit ; 1 Cor. 6. 17. The greateſt Honour that was ever put upon the Human Nature, was by its Aſſumption into Union with the Son of God Hypoſtatically ; and the greateſt Honour that can be done to our Perſons, is by our Union with Chriſt Myſtically ; hereby we become Members of his Body, of his Fleſh, and of his Bones, Eph. 5. 30. the Spouſe of Chriſt. Oh what a Preferment is this ! What Soul feels not it ſelf lifted up far above all earthly Honours, in ſuch a Relation to Chriſt as this ? The Nobles and Barons of the Kingdom, think it a Preferment to ſerve the Queen ; and the Angels of Heaven do not think themſelves degraded, by performing Service to the Bride, the Lamb's Wife. Well might Great Conſtantine prefer the Honour of being a Member of the Church, to that of being Head of an Empire.

Let all the Saints underſtand their Dignity and Privileges, by this their Honourable Union with Chriſt ; and with it, let them balance all the Reproaches, Scorns, and Contempts, this vile World loads them with for his Sake.

Infer. 4. Be informed hence of the dreadful and damning Nature of the Sin of Unbelief ; a Sin that queſtions, yea, denies Chriſt's Right to rule over the Soul ; blinds the Mind, hardens the Heart, ſtiffens the Will, and makes the Soul obſtinate and inflexible to all the gracious Tenders of Chriſt in the Goſpel.

Unbelief is the poiſonous Breath of Satan, whiſpering Jealouſies, Surmizes, and dangerous Prejudices againſt Chriſt into the Ear of the Soul, and all tending to this Miſchievous Deſign and Purpoſe, viz. to hinder or break the Treaty of the Spiritual Marriage betwixt Chriſt and the Soul. Now 'twill be digging at the very Root and Foundation of the aſſenting Act ; and thus it whiſpers, How canſt thou be ſure of the Reality of the Things reported in the Goſpel ? Is it not poſſible they may be deviſed Fables ; the cunning Artifices of Men, to keep the World in Awe ? Thou never ſaweſt Chriſt, for whoſe Sake thou art ſo earneſtly ſollicited to renounce all thy real, ſweet, and preſent Comforts and Enjoyments. Then it dilates rhetorically upon the ſevere Terms of the Goſpel ; adviſes the Soul to think ſadly, how hard, grievous, and unreaſonable the Demands of Chriſt be ; Luk. 14. 26. If any Man come to me, and hate not his Father and Mother, Wife and Children, Brethren and Siſters, yea, and his own Life alſo, he cannot be my Diſciple. How likeſt thou this, Soul ? Here be all thy principal Comforts, thy moſt dear and deſirable Things in the World, both perſonal and relative, to be forſaken, yea, hated for Chriſt's Sake : The Terms are ſet ſo high, that a Man muſt loſe his Brains and Bowels too, ſaith Unbelief, before he can be wrought up to them. Canſt thou endure to ſee all the Labours of thy Life to become a Prey to thine Enemies? That which hath coſt thee ſo much Study and Toil, ſcattered and deſtroyed in a Day, when it is yet in the Power of thine Hand to ſave all; thy Habitation to caſt thee out, thy pleaſant Fields poſſeſs'd by Strangers: Impius has ſegetes; Haſt thou Hardineſs enough to encounter Beggary? To fight with Hunger, Thirſt, and Nakedneſs? To lie in a naſty Gaol; to endure a Parting-pull with neareſt Relatives, which are as thine own Soul? But yet there are harder Trials than theſe? Canſt thou endure a tormenting Death, by cruel barbarous Enemies? Canſt thou ſtand quietly at a Stake, and endure the exquiſite Torments of the Fire; and that in the Fulneſs of thy Time, whilſt thou art in the Flower of thine Age, Fulneſs of thy Senſes, and haſt ſo fair a Proſpect of many pleaſant Years before thee; and all this for an unſeen Glory in another World? Theſe are the feeling Arguments urged by Infidelity, againſt embracing Chriſt's Overtures in the Goſpel, or coming under the Sceptre of this New Lord: And with how many do they prevail! Thus Satan fixes his Subjects, and makes them ſecure to himſelf.

But Sinner, if God have any Intention of Saving-Mercy to thy Soul, thou ſhalt feel the more potent Principles of Divine Faith and Love, overpowering and ſubacting theſe Carnal Reaſonings within thy Soul. 'Tis admirable to behold the Almighty Influences of Grace upon Nature. How the Drawings of the Spirit, his Omnipotent Pull at the Heart, makes the ſtrongeſt Ties this World hath upon it, to give way, and eaſily to looſe, Mark 10. 28. Lord, we have left all, and followed thee. If not, but thou be fixedly reſolved not to change Satan's Government for Chriſt's; if thou ſay in thy Heart, and ſtand to that Saying, I will never conſent to ſuch hard Conditions; then hear thy Sentence, read thy Mittimus, Luke 19. 27. But thoſe mine Enemies, that would not that I ſhould reign over them; bring hither, and ſlay them before me. The Sentence is dreadful, the Execution ſure: Thy Unbelief will as ſurely damn thee, as a Milſtone about thy Neck, in the midſt of the Sea, will drown thee; Mark 16. 16. He that believeth not, ſhall be damned. Thou haſt caſt the vileſt Diſhonour upon Chriſt, thou haſt rejected the only way of Salvation: And what can the Iſſue of thy final Unbelief be, but Ruin and Deſtruction?

Uſe II. My next Work will be perſwaſive Work, to gain the Conſent of the Souls to come under the Sceptre and Government of Chriſt; to make his Heart glad, and your ſelves happy for ever by your Eſpouſals to him. And Oh that I could this Day ſo repreſent this King in his Glory, ſo diſcover the miſerable Thraldom you are in under Satan, and your Luſts; ſo clear up the Reaſonableneſs and Eaſineſs of Chriſt's Terms and Demands, that there might be as chearful and hearty (tho' not ſo loud and audible) an Applauſe, and Acclamations returned to my Demand of your Conſent to Chriſt, as this Day is, or ever was at the Coronation of any King.

1. And to this end, firſt conſider the Glory and Dignity of the Perſon of Chriſt; he is the Son of God by Nature, the Brightneſs of his Glory, and the expreſs Image of his Perſon, Heb. 1. 3. He is the Prince of the Kings of the Earth, Rev. 1. 5. The moſt Glorious Monarch that ever ſway'd a Sceptre over Men, is but as a Worm of the Earth, or a deſpicable Inſect in the Air, compar'd with Solomon in his Glory; the moſt perfect Beauty in the Creatures, beneath or above, is Blackneſs and Deformity, in Compariſon with Chriſt; the Beauty of Roſes, Lillies, Sun, Stars, Angels, is not worthy to be mentioned in Compariſon with Chriſt: Thou art fairer (ſaith his Spouſe) than the Children of Men. None ever ſaw him ſavingly by the Eye of Faith, but were charmed into his Boſom by Love. The Facial Viſion of Chriſt, is the Feaſt of Bleſſed Souls above.

This King of Glory makes Suit for your Hearts this Day; he woo's for your Conſent: He paſſed by Apoſtate Angels, not once making them a Tender of Reconciliation or Union, but comes to you in his red Garments, glorious in his Apparel: He ſhed his invaluable Blood, to redeem you to God. He loved you, and gave himſelf for you: If there be a Drop of Love in your Hearts, methinks the Excellency of Chriſt ſhould extract and engage it: Write that Man a Beaſt, a ſenſeleſs Stock, that hath no Love for Chriſt.

2. Conſider, Secondly, What a Bleſſed State, abounding with Glorious and Invaluable Privileges, your Conſent to be Chriſt's is introductive to: It opens into all Privileges, Mercies, and Bleſſings, deſirable in the Eyes of Men; it opens into Freedom and Liberty, from the Vaſſalage of Satan, the Servitude of Sin, the Curſe of the Law, the Danger of Wrath to come. Joh. 8. 36. If the Son therefore make you free, then are ye free indeed. It opens the Door into Reſt and Peace; Peace with God, Peace in your own Conſciences; Rom. 5. 1, 2, 3. The Deliciouſneſs of Peace you never yet taſted, who are Strangers to Chriſt; nor ever ſhall, till you conſent to be his, Rev. 2. 17. This ſhall be your Support, amidſt all the Confuſions and Diſtractions, Hurries and Tumults, of this reſtleſs and unquiet World: Mic. 5. 5. This Man ſhall be the Peace, when the Aſſyrian cometh into our Land, and when he ſhall tread in our Palaces. Chriſt hath pitch'd his Standard in the Goſpel; repair unto it, come under his Banner, and liſt your ſelves among his Faithful Subjects, and the Glory of the World to come is yours, if you overcome, and be faithful unto Death, Rev. 3. 21. The Subjects of Chriſt in this Kingdom of Grace, are ſhortly to be all tranſlated into the Kingdom of Glory, Rom. 8. 30.

3. Conſider the Miſerable Bondage you are now in, over whom Satan rules; and how your Condition ſtill grows worſe and worſe, till it ſhall not be capable of any further Addition of Miſery, to make it more abſolutely and compleatly miſerable.

You are now without God, without a Promiſe, without Peace, without the Pardon of one Sin, Eph. 2. 12. You have no Communion with God, nor Title to Heaven; Slaves to your ſordid Luſts, Tit. 3. 3. You are under the Curſe, Gal. 3. 10. Condemned already, Joh. 3. 18. And whenever you die out of Chriſt, you ſhall die in your Sins, Joh. 8. 24. He that was your Ruler in this World, is to be both your Companion and Tormentor in the World to come, Mat. 25. 41.

Is this a Condition to be ſatisfied in? Can you ſleep quietly in your Chains? O methinks the poor Priſoners of Satan ſhould ſigh and cry, thro' the Grates of the Priſon, eſpecially when they are informed of Deliverance at the Door!

You have no Reaſon to ſcare at the Terms and Conditions propounded to you by Chriſt; they are equal, neceſſary, and eaſy: Mat. 11. 29. Come unto unto me; my yoke is eaſy, and my burden is light. His Commands are not grievous; 1 Joh. 5. 3. All his ways are pleaſantneſs, and all his paths are peace; Prov. 3. 17. The joy of the Lord ſhall be your ſtrength, Neh. 8. 10. If there be Repenting-Work, Believing-Work, Sin-mortifying-Work, or Suffering-Work for you; there is alſo a ſuitable Proviſion of Divine Aſſiſtance, to enable and carry you thro' it all. 2 Cor. 12. 9. My Grace is ſufficient for thee. If Men caſt you out, God will receive you; 2 Cor. 6. 17, 18. If any ſharp Trial befal you, there's a Door of Eſcape prepared for your Out-let; 1 Cor. 10. 13. If you meet with Trouble in the World, you ſhall not fail of Peace in Chriſt; Joh. 16. 33. If you loſe any outward Enjoyment for Chriſt's Sake, it ſhall be recompenced an Hundred-fold in this World, beſides the Reward of Heaven hereafter; Mat. 19. 29. If you be caſt in Priſon for Chriſt; the Comforter ſhall come from Heaven, and reſt upon you there; 1 Pet. 4. 13, 14. If you ſuffer with him, you ſhall reign with him; 2 Tim. 2. 12.

What think ye, Brethren, of Chriſt's Terms now? What is there here, for Men to ſcare and fright at? Can you mend your ſelves elſewhere? O! when ſhall the Match be made? When will you come to Chriſt, and ſay; 'Lord, I heartily 'conſent to take thee for my King: I am pleaſed 'with the hardeſt Condition required in thy 'Word?

5. Laſtly, Be convinced of the Unreaſonableneſs of all that you can pretend againſt this great Duty. If you ſay, the Pains of Mortification are hard; you muſt in Reaſon yield, that the Pains of Damnation are harder; and that it's better for you to enter into Life halt and maimed, than having two Eyes or Hands, to be caſt into Hell; where the Worm dies not, and where the Fire is not quenched; Mat. 5. 29. If you ſay, you have no Power to come to Chriſt; your Conſciences will preſently tell you, that you never yet put forth the uttermoſt Power that you have, in ſtriving for your own Salvation. It will alſo tell you, that you ſuppoſe you have ſuch a Power; elſe, why have you ſo long delayed Repentance and Converſion upon this Pretence, that you will ſeriouſly perform them hereafter? Beſides, tho' your Endeavours do not oblige God to do that for you, you cannot do of your ſelves; yet 'tis more probable he will do ſo, when you ſtrive to your utmoſt, than when you careleſly neglect thoſe Duties, and give your ſelves up to the contrary Courſes. If you ſay, you would ſtrive, if you were aſſured of Succeſs; and that you ſhould be received and accepted by Chriſt, if you came unto him, and did caſt your poor Souls upon him; you can anſwer your ſelves, if you will, that you daily ſpend your Time, Pains, and Studies, upon leſſer Things, having no Aſſurance at all of Succeſs. The Husbandman toils all Day at Plough, yet is not aſſured of a good Harveſt; his Corn may die in the Seed, or be blaſted in the Ear. The Mariner ventures his Eſtate upon the Sea, yet hath no Aſſurance of a good Return; the Ship may miſcarry. The Miner will dig into the Bowels of the Earth, and try here and there; yet hath no Aſſurance he ſhall find that Rich Vein of Ore, that ſhall recompence his Coſt and Pains. Now, if Men will labour ſo hard, and adventure ſo much upon Uncertainties for a little of the World; doth not your own Reaſon conclude, you ought to do more, and adventure further than any of them, to obtain Chriſt, and Eternal Salvation? O ſtrive, ſtrive to make your Eſcape out of Satan's Kingdom, to Chriſt: Sit not with folded Hands on the Seats of Sloth, ſaying, 'Tis to no Purpoſe.

Suppoſe your ſelves now upon your Death-bed, all earthly Comforts inſipid Things to you; Conſcience preſaging the Wrath to come; Time and Hope ending together; would you not then wiſh, O, that we had been rul'd and govern'd by Chriſt's Laws and Spirit, and not by Satan, and our own Luſts! Had we been the Servants of Chriſt, we had now been going to Chriſt: Had he govern'd, he would have ſaved us; but his Servants we are, to whom we obey. We have ſerved our Luſts; and the Wages of Sin is Death.

Or ſuppoſe you ſaw the Glory of Heaven, or the Horrors of Hell; that you heard the Hallelujahs of the Palm-bearing Multitude, or the Shrieks of damned Caſt-aways; would it be ſo indifferent a Thing to you, whether you obey Chriſt's Call or no? Believe it, theſe are no deviſed Fables; but do really exiſt, whether you mind them or not. And why ſhould you not ſuppoſe, and forethink Things ſo ſure, and ſo nigh? A ſweet Voice comes from Heaven this Day, ſaying, Let all that expect to enjoy the Glory that is here, ſee that they ſubmit heartily to Chriſt's Sceptre; for he ſaves no more than he rules: And the whole Number of the Glorified in Heaven, is made up of ſuch as heartily cloſed with Chriſt's Terms on Earth. A dreadful Voice comes up from Hell, crying (as it were) in your Ears; As ever you expect to eſcape the Miſeries and Torments that are here, do not reject Chriſt's Yoke and Government as we did: Our yielding up of our ſelves to the Sway and Government of our Luſts, was our Ruin.

Uſe III. To conclude: Let all Men try their own Eſtates, and examine to what King they do indeed belong, and whoſe Subjects in truth they are, Chriſt's or Satan's; for theſe Two Kingdoms divide the Whole World. God hath furniſhed us with ſelf-reflecting Powers: We are able to retire out of the confuſed Noiſes of the World, and ſit retired in the innermoſt Cloſet of our own Souls, where none but God and our Conſciences ſhall be privy to our Debates; and there ſolemnly demand of our Conſcience, and charge it to make plain and faithful Anſwers to ſuch Queſtions and Enquiries as theſe:

Queſt. 1. To whom do I yield the moſt prompt, chearful, and conſtant Obedience? To the Commands of Chriſt; or to Sollicitations of Satan and my own Luſts? He that hath my Obedience, the ſame is my Lord and King: Rom. 6. 16. To whom ye yield your ſelves Servants to obey, his Servants ye are to whom ye obey. When God and Conſcience calls me to pray, and the World calls me off to attend its enſnaring Pleaſures, and unneceſſary Employments; which of theſe Calls do I pay Obedience to?

Queſt. 2. Who governs the ſecret and unſeen Part of my Life? That every Man is in the Account of God, which he is in ſecret; Rom. 2. 28, 29. Now, who is King in the Cloſet? And what Rules do my Thoughts move by? If Chriſt bring my Thoughts into Obedience, ſo that I dare not indulge to my ſelf a ſinful Liberty, to enjoy the ſpeculative Pleaſure of the Sins I have acted, or would act, had I Opportunity for it: And if I am in the Fear of God when alone, and make Conſcience of my ſecret, as well as publick Duties; then I am under Chriſt's Government, and he is King of my Soul; 2 Cor. 10. 5. Mat. 6. 6. But if I make an external Show of Obedience to Chriſt, and ſecretly obey my Luſts; I am really the Servant of Sin, and belong to another King. O my Conſcience, what ſay'ſt thou to theſe Things?

Queſt. 3. Whom do I follow, or heartily reſolve to follow, when it comes to a Parting-Point betwixt Chriſt and the World? When I muſt cleave to the one, and forſake the other, Mat. 6. 24. do I with full Purpoſe of Heart cleave to the Lord? Acts 11. 23. Is it my ſincere Reſolution, to follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goeth? Rev. 14. 4. Or have I ſecret Reſerves to quit Chriſt's Service, and give Religion the Slip, when it comes to a real Diſtreſs and Difficulty? Theſe are ſounding Queſtions, and will diſcover whoſe Government we are under.

The CONCLUSION.

Thus I have endeavoured to ſpiritualize and improve the great and ſolemn Actions of this Good Day; a Day, for which (I hope) the Children yet unborn ſhall praiſe the Lord. How happy will our King and Queen be, if they Reign over a People that Chriſt Reigneth over; and will conſcientiouſly pay them Obedience in, and for the Lord! I believe it will be a greater Joy to their Souls, to ſee you ſet the Crown upon Chriſt's Head, in your Subjection to his Laws; than to ſee the Imperial Crown of England ſet upon their own Heads. Religion breeds the beſt Subjects.

Let England praiſe the Lord for ſuch a Day as this! How many ſad Years are run out, ſince it ſaw the Crown upon the Heads of a Proteſtant King and Queen at once! Let Faithful Magiſtrates rejoice, they ſhall never more be put upon the odious and dangerous Drudgery of perſecuting Good Men, under ſuch a Government as this.

Let Miniſters rejoice; yea, let them rejoice with double Joy to others; they ſhall no more be driven into Corners, nor put to Silence, (a Silence as bitter as Death) whilſt the Royal Sceptre is ſwayed by ſuch Hands, as God hath now put it into.

Let all the People rejoice; for theſe their Rulers ſhall be to them as the Light of the Morning, and as the clear Shining after Rain; 2 Sam. 23. 3, 4. And let us all ſay, Iſa. 25. 9. Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will ſave us: This is the Lord, we have waited for him; we will rejoice and be glad in his Salvation.

THE

THE CHARACTER OF A Compleat Evangelical PASTOR, DRAWN by CHRIST.

MAT. XXIV. 45, 46, 47.

Who then is a faithful and wise Servant, whom his Lord hath made Ruler over his Houshold, to give them Meat in due season?

Blessed is that Servant, whom his Lord, when he cometh, shall find so doing.

Verily, I say unto you, that he shall make him Ruler over all his Goods.

THIS Great and Solemn Assembly, (met upon a Greater and more Solemn Account,) brings to my Mind those Words, and with the Words, a very sensible Touch of the same Affection, with which the Church uttered them, Isa. 49. 20, 21. Children, which thou shalt have after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine Ears, The place is too strait for me: Give place to me, that I may dwell. Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my Children, and am desolate; a Captive, and removing to and fro? And who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone: These, where had they been?

Words, big with holy Admiration and Wonderment, at her strange and sudden Increase and Multiplication, after such a wasting Time as those Seventy sad Years had been to her. This was a miraculous and surprizing Work of God, in their Eyes.

We have had our Wasting-time, as well as they: Multitudes of Faithful and Prudent Ministers have been swept into their Graves by Ejections, Banishments, Imprisonments, and Heart-breaking Silencings. Whence then are all these, which our Eyes behold this Day! Who hath begotten us, and brought up these? These, where had they been; and out of what secret Recesses are they come!

Many thought the Days of our Prosperity, and Opportunities of our Service, had been numbred and finished; and that God had no more Work (except Suffering-Work) for us: When lo, above and beyond the desponding Thoughts, and unbelieving Fears of our Hearts, we are here this Day in a numerous Assembly, with Peace and Liberty, to consult the Affairs of Christ's Kingdom.

Yea, to the Joy of our Souls, we see the Plummets and the Lines once more in the Hands of our Zerubbabels; as Zech. 4. 10. Who hath despised the Day of small things? For they shall rejoice, and shall see the Plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, with those seven; they are the Eyes of the Lord, which run to and fro thro' the whole Earth. Our prudent Repairers, co-working with the Divine Providence, expres'd emblematically by the Seven Eyes, will bring weak and contemptible Beginnings, to Happy and Blessed Results and Issues. What shall one now answer the Messengers of the Churches? That God hath founded Sion; and the Poor of his People shall trust in it.

We are met this Day in all Hearty LOYALTY to the Government, and PEACEABLENESS to the National Church-Establishment, to review and consider the Cases of our respective Congregations; which I doubt we shall find too like that Description, Prov. 24. 31. all over-grown with Thorns and Nettles, and the Stone-Wall broken down.

Thus Ignorance and Error have over-spread the People, and the Wall of Discipline greatly decayed. Our Business is, to cleanse our Churches, and repair their Walls; that so they may become Gardens of Delight, and Beds of Spices, for Christ to walk and take pleasure in.

You have order'd this Meeting to be opened with a Sermon; and demandated that Work to my Hand, by your earnest and unanimous Call. I wish the Work may not suffer by your Choice.

When I consider'd the Quality and Occasion of this Assembly, my Thoughts quickly center'd themselves in those Words of our Lord, which I have read unto you. Who then is a faithful and a wise Servant, vant, whom his Lord hath made Ruler over his Houſehold, to give them Meat in due ſeaſon? &c.

Here we find our ſelves in a Parable. A Parable is the Veil of ſome Divine Truth: Whilſt we are embodied and veiled with Fleſh, Truth muſt embody and veil her ſelf too in order to our freer Converſes with it. There's much Truth and Reaſon, in the Obſervation of the Ancient Cabbaliſts. * The Supreme Light never deſcends without a Covering. Yea, ſaith Dionyſius, the ſuppoſed Areopagite, † 'Tis impoſſibe that a Divine Beam ſhould otherwiſe ſhine to us, except it be covered with variety of Sacred Veils, and Umbrages.

* Lumen ſupremum nunquam deſcendit ſine indumento.

† Impoſſibile eſt nobis aliter lucere radium divinum, niſi varietate Sacrorum velaminum circumvelatum, Cœleſt. Hier. cap. 1.

Not to ſpend much time about the Order and Relation of the Text; Chriſt had been ſolemnly warning the Diſciples, and all the Chriſtian World, of his moſt certain, (tho' ſecret) coming to Judgment, and therefore to beware of Idleneſs, Luxury, and Security, the Sins of the World; and that all be found at his coming, watchful and diligent in their proper Places of Duty. This Exhortation he infers, from what common Prudence would teach any Servant, eſpecially any Steward of an Houſe to do, to whom his Lord hath committed the Care of his Family. 'Tis agreed by all, that the Words have a ſpecial and immediate reſpect to Goſpel Miniſters, the Stewards of Chriſt's Houſe or Church, to whom Chriſt, the Οἰκοδεσπότης, or Lord of the Family, hath truſted the Care and Diſpenſation of the Affairs thereof. And in them we find,

I. An Evangelical Paſtor deſcribed.

II. The Reward of ſuch as Anſwer that Deſcription, propounded.

1. Chriſt's Deſcription of an Evangelical Paſtor, verſe 45. which he doth by two excellent and eſſential Properties, or Qualifications, Πιστὸς, ᾧ φρονίμῳ, Faithful, and Wiſe; both which make up the Character of a Compleat Goſpel Miniſter: For if he be Faithful, he deceives not others; and if Wiſe, or Prudent, he is not apt to be deceived himſelf. His Prudence ſuffers not Deceivers eaſily to impoſe upon him; and his Faithfulneſs will not ſuffer him knowingly to impoſe upon his People. His Prudence will enable him to diſcern; and his Faithfulneſs oblige him to diſtribute wholeſome Food to his Flock. Theſe two therefore meeting together, make a Paſtor after God's own Heart, according to Jer. 3. 15.

Both theſe are found in an Interrogative Form of Speech in the Text; but 'tis agreed, that τίς is put conditionally for εἴ τις, and is rather Hypothetical, than Interrogatory. But in this Form of Speech, it inſinuates the Rarity and Difficulty of finding ſuch a Servant. He is Σπάνιος καὶ Δυσεύρετος, as Theophylact gloſſeth it. And Chryſoſtom, by way of Admiration, Quam rari, & præſtantes eſſent tales! How rare and excellent would ſuch Servants be? Theſe are their Properties.

2. The Reward of thoſe that anſwer theſe Characters, is propounded,

1. In Proper
2. In Metaphorical } Terms.

1. In Proper Terms, Bleſſed is that Servant, v. 46. He is certainly bleſſed of God, whatever his Uſage be from Men. If he be faithful, all his Prudence will not ſecure him from the Hatred and Perſecution of Men, but it is enough that Chriſt calls and counts him bleſſed; and thoſe whom he bleſſeth, are truly and eternally bleſſed.

2. In Metaphorical Terms, ver. 47. Verily I ſay unto you, That he ſhall make him Ruler over all his Goods. In Alluſion to the Cuſtom of great Kings and Generals, who uſe to prefer and advance diſcreet and faithful Servants to Places of eminent Truſt, Profit, and Honour; as Daniel and Joſeph were. The Senſe thus cleared, runs naturally and eaſily into this DOCTRINE.

That our Lord Jeſus Chriſt will amply reward the faithful and prudent Stewards of his Houſe, in the Day of their Account.

This Point will open it ſelf to you in theſe Three Doctrinal Branches.

1. That Miniſters in a ſpecial Senſe are the Stewards of Chriſt's Houſe.

2. Faithfulneſs and Prudence are the neceſſary Qualifications of Chriſt's Stewards.

3. Where-ever theſe are found, Chriſt will abundantly reward them.

1. Miniſters in a ſpecial Senſe are the Stewards, or chief Servants of Chriſt's Houſe. So ſpeaks the Apoſtle, 1 Cor. 4. 1. Let a Man account of us as the Miniſters of Chriſt, and Stewards of the Myſteries of God. To them he hath committed the Diſpenſation of the Word and Sacraments, which contain the Great Myſteries of the Kingdom of God.

Every private Perſon, who hath received any Talent from God (and to be ſure the meaneſt among us hath one Talent at leaſt) is a Steward, and will be called to an Account for the Employment, or Non-employment of that Talent in the Audit-Day. But Miniſters are Stewards in the ſtrict and ſpecial Senſe. Chriſt diſtinguiſhes them from the others, as Porters from the reſt of the Servants, Mark 13. 34. Nor may any aſſume that Office, but by Order from Chriſt the Maſter of the Family. But this is too obvious to ſtay longer upon it.

2. We will therefore immediately take into Conſideration the Properties or Qualifications of the Stewards of Chriſt: Which are,

1. Faithfulneſs.
2. Prudence.

And conſider them,

1. Diſtinctly.
2. Conjunctly.

1. Faithfulneſs, an Eſſential Requiſite to a Steward, 1 Cor. 4. 2. It is required in Stewards, that a Man be found faithful. What ground is there for Truſt, where there is no Truth? Hence is that ſolemn Charge, 2 Tim. 2. 2. to commit that great Truſt of the Miniſtry to faithful Men. And Paul bleſſeth God, 1 Tim. 1. 11, 12. who had accounted him Faithful, and put him into the Miniſtry. This Faithfulneſs, as it reſpects GOD, our Selves, and the Flocks committed to us, includes, Faithfulneſs.

1. Pure and Spiritual Aims and Intentions.
2. Sincerity and Integrity of Heart.
3. Diligence in the diſcharge of Duty.
4. Impartiality in the Adminiſtrations of Chriſt's Houſe.
5. And unſhaken Conſtancy and Perſeverance to the end.

1. Miniſterial Faithfulneſs includes pure and ſpiritual Aims and Intentions for God. A Servant is ὅλως ἑκείνου. 'Tis not his own, but his Maſter's Honour and Intereſt, he muſt deſign and aim at. Fidelity will not endure Self-ends, diſguiſed with a pretence of Zeal for Chriſt. 'Tis ſaid of the Maſter workmen men of the Temple, 2 Kings 22. 7. that there was no Reckoning made with them of the Money collected for that use, because they dealt faithfully, i. e. they had given sufficient proof that they appropriated not a Farthing to themselves, but truly applied it to the publick Sacred End and Use, to which it was given. Oh, let us be all such faithful Master-builders of the House of our God. Let us say, Not our Interest, but Christ's; not our Glory, but his. Pure Ends in our Service, will give us abundant Comfort at the end of our Service. Have a care, Brethren, of all Artifices and Designs to accommodate carnal Interests, under a shew of Devotion to God.

Timothy is our Pattern in this, of whom Paul saith, Phil. 2. 20, 21. I have no Man like-minded, who will naturally care for your state; for all seek their own, not the things that are Jesus Christ's. Where the Word Naturally is not opposed to Spiritually, but to Artificially. Others had the Art to cloak Self-ends under Christ's Honour; but Timothy was ignorant of such unfaithful Tricks and Artifices.

2. Ministerial Faithfulness imports Personal Sincerity. So the Word signifies, where it's said of Abraham, that God found his Heart faithful; that is, sincere before him. A faithful Minister is a sincere-hearted Minister. And herein, Brethren, Oh herein, or in nothing, let us approve our selves the Ministers of Christ. Let this be our rejoycing, that in all Sincerity, and Godly Simplicity, we have had our Conversations in this World, 2 Cor. 1. 12. And the rather let us be careful in this, because no Sin is more apt to insinuate it self into our Hearts and Duties, than Hypocrisy. We of all Men are most in danger to be deceived by it: For our Employment lying in, and about Spiritual things, we are on that Account stiled Spiritual Men, Hos. 9. 7. But it's plain from that very Place, that a Man may be Objectively a Spiritual, and all the while Subjectively a Carnal Man. Believe it, Brethren, it's easier to declaim like an Orator against a thousand Sins of others, than it is to mortify one Sin, like Christians, in our selves; to be more industrious in our Pulpits, than in our Closets; to preach twenty Sermons to our People, than one to our own Hearts.

Believe it, Sirs, all our Reading, Studying, and Preaching, is but trifling Hypocrisy, 'till the Things read, studied and preach'd, be felt in some degree upon our own Hearts. We tell our People (the Lord help us to tell the same to our own Hearts) that there are similar, as well as saving Works of the Spirit, by which their (and why not our own) Souls may be lost?

3. Ministerial Faithfulness includes Ministerial Diligence. A slothful cannot be a faithful Servant, Mat. 25. 21. His Lord said unto him, Well done thou good and faithful Servant, &c. And ver. 26. His Lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful Servant, &c. I may say to him that snatcheth at the Ministry, as Henry the Fourth to his Son, that hastily snatch'd at the Crown, He little knows what an heap of Cares and Toils he snatcheth at. * The Labours of the Ministry will exhaust the very Marrow from your Bones, hasten Old Age and Death. They are fitly compared to the Toil of Men in Harvest, to the Labours of a Woman in Travail, and to the Agonies of Soldiers in the extremity of a Battel. We must watch, when others sleep.

And indeed it is not so much the Expence of our Labours, as the Loss of them, that kills us. It is not with us, as with other Labourers: They find their Work, as they leave it, so don't we. Sin and Satan unravel almost all we do; the Impressions we make on our Peoples Souls in one Sermon, vanish before the next. How many Truths have we to study! How many Wiles of Satan, and Mysteries of Corruption, to detect! How many Cases of Conscience to resolve! Yea, we must fight in defense of the Truths we preach, as well as study them to Paleness, and preach them unto Faintness. But well-spent Head, Heart, Lungs, and all; welcome pained Breasts, aching Backs, and trembling Legs; if we can by all, but approve our selves Christ's faithful Servants, and hear that joyful Voice from his Mouth, Well done, good and faithful Servants.

4. Ministerial Faithfulness includes our Impartiality in all the Administrations of Christ's House. He that is partial, cannot be faithful. Oh! with what extraordinary Solemnity doth Paul set on this Exhortation upon Timothy! I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou observe these things, without preferring one before another, doing nothing by Partiality, 1 Tim. 5. 21.

Brethren, you will shortly appear before an impartial God; see that ye be impartial Stewards. Take the same Care, manifest the same Love, attend with the same Diligence, the poorest and weakest Souls that are committed to your Care, as you do the Rich, the Great and Honourable.

Remember all Souls are rated at one Value in your Master's Book, and your Redeemer paid as much for the one, as for the other. Civil Differences must be civilly acknowledged; but these have no place in your Spiritual Administrations.

5. Lastly, Ministerial Faithfulness includes Constancy and Stedfastness: A backsliding, or flinching Servant, Rev. 2. 10. Be thou faithful, (i. e. Fixt and Constant) to the Death, and I will give thee a Crown of Life. We look for Happiness, as long as God is in Heaven; and he expects Constancy, as long as we are on Earth.

Many of us have cause to bless the Lord, and greatly to rejoyce in his Goodness this Day, who enabled us to be stedfast and unmoveable in the Trials that have past over us; and when the great Earthquake shaked down our Liberties, our Estates, and made our Hearts to shake, yet our Resolutions for God and his Truth, stood firm and unshaken. Our Hearts turned not back, nor did our Steps decline, tho' we were broken in the place of Dragons, and covered with the Shadow of Death. This we wholly owe to him, that holds the Stars in his Right-hand: But our Warfare is not yet ended. Our Faithfulness is not yet Faithfulness to the Death; We hope it will shortly be called so, whilst it thus involves our Self-denial. Sincerity, Diligence, Impartiality, and Constancy.

These are the principal things included in the first Qualification of Ministerial Faithfulness. In the next place let us weigh and value,

2. The Second Qualification in the Text, viz. Ministerial Prudence.

The Lord's Servant must not only be Πιστὸς, Faithful; but Φρονιμος, Prudent, Discreet, and Wise. Fidelity and Honesty makes a good Christian; but the Addition of Prudence to Fidelity, makes a good Steward. Faithfulness will fix the Eye upon the right End; but it's Prudence must direct to the proper Means of attaining it. Prudence.

If we look into Rev. 4. 6, 7. we shall there find a stately a ſtately Emblem of true Goſpel-Miniſters. They are Ἄνθρωποι πολύομματοι, Men full of Eyes. They have Eyes looking before them to God for Direction, behind them to the Flocks they lead, and within them to their own Hearts; leſt after they have preached to others, themſelves become Caſtaways. They have alſo Six Wings; with two they cover their Faces, manifeſting their deep Reverence of God; with two their Feet, manifeſting the humble Senſe of their Infirmities; and with two, they fly with chearful Expedition in the Service of God. They have not only the Courage of the Lion, the Strength of the Ox, the Loftineſs of the Eagle, but the Face of a Man, i. e. Prudence and Diſcretion.

* Labores Ecclesiastici succum exhauriunt abimis medullis, senium, mortemque accelerant. Luther.

The Uſe of Prudence to a Miniſter of Chriſt, is unſpeakably great: It not only gives Clearneſs and Perſpicacity to the Mind, by freeing it from Paſſions and Corporeal Impreſſions, enabling it thereby to apprehend what is beſt to be done; but enables it in its Deliberations, about the Means to make choice of the moſt apt and proper; and directs the Application of them in the fitteſt Seaſon, without Precipitation, by too much Haſte; or Hazard, by too tedious Delay. And judge you, Brethren, by this, what an Intereſt the Affairs of Chriſt's Kingdom have in this Second Qualification.

I know there is a Carnal Policy, an Unworthy Puſillanimity, that often ſhrowd themſelves under the Name of Prudence; I have nothing to do with Mock-Graces here. My Buſineſs is to ſhew you, in what Particulars true Miniſterial Prudence is highly ſerviceable to the Affairs of Chriſt's Houſe, or Kingdom. And this I will briefly diſcourſe in Two Reſpects.

The Eye of Prudence muſt look,

1. To our own proper perſonal Work, to ſee that be well done.
2. To others who work,
   1. With us as Friends, that we may have Aſſiſtance from them.
   2. Or againſt us as Enemies, that our Work be not ruin'd by them.

1. Prudence will direct the Servants of Chriſt, in their own Proper Miniſterial Work, that it be well done. And in order thereto, it will guide them in their Deliberations to the Six following Proper Means, and Excellent Expedients.

1. Prudential Expedient.

And Firſt, Prudence will direct us, to lay a good Foundation of Knowledge in our People's Souls, by Catechiſing and Inſtructing them in the Principles of Chriſtianity, without which we labour in vain.

Except you have a Knowing People, you are not like to have a Gracious People. St. Paul's Prudentials lay much in this; 1 Cor. 3. 10. As a wiſe Maſter-builder, I have laid the Foundation. And indeed, this is the Maſter-piece of a Maſter-builder. All your Excellent Sermons will be daſh'd to pieces, upon the Rock of your People's Ignorance. You can never pitch upon a better Project, to promote and ſecure the Succeſs of your Labours, than the fruitful way of Catechiſing.

What Age of Chriſtianity ever produced more lively and ſtedfaſt Chriſtians, than the firſt Ages? And then the Care of this Duty moſt eminently flouriſhed in the Churches. Clemens Alexandrinus, Origen, Optatus, Baſil, Auſtin, and Ambroſe, were all Catechiſts. And it is the Opinion, both of Chemnitius and Zanchy, That that Exerciſe, which Chriſt honoured with his Preſence in his Youth, was a Catechiſtical Exerciſe.

We that live in this Age, have as much Obligation as they; and God hath furniſhed to our Hands the beſt Help for it, that ever any Age ſince Chriſt enjoyed. As Chymiſts extract the Spirits of Herbs and Minerals, into ſome rare Elixir; ſo have our Venerable Aſſembly (lately ſitting at Weſtminſter, now in Glory) compoſed for us the moſt Judicious and Compendious Syſtem, that ever bleſſed this Age. And to make it yet more uſeful, divers worthy Hands have been employ'd, ſome in one Method, ſome in another, to make thoſe Compendious Anſwers more intelligible to the People. And yet I am of Opinion, ſomewhat may be further done to advance that Great Deſign, in a Third Method, that ſhall not only make thoſe Points more intelligible, than in Anſwering by Yea and No; or drawing out the ſubſervient Anſwers to ſuch a Length, as too much charges the People's Memory, but withal to intermix the moſt uſeful Practical Matter with what is Doctrinal. If ſuch a Courſe might obtain in all our Congregations, I think it would greatly diſcover our Prudence, and turn richly to the Account of our People's Profit.

2. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence diſcovers it ſelf in the Choice of ſuch Subjects, as the Needs of our People's Souls do moſt require, and call for.

A Prudent Miniſter will ſtudy the Souls of his People, more than the beſt Human Books in his Library; and not chuſe what is eaſieſt for him, but what is moſt neceſſary for them. Miniſters that are acquainted with the State of their Flocks as they ought to be, will be ſeldom at a loſs in the Choice of the next Subject. Their People's Wants will chuſe their Text, from time to time, for them.

The greateſt Part of our Congregations are poor, ignorant, and unregenerated People, that know neither their Miſery, nor their Remedy. This will direct us to the great Doctrines of Conviction, Regeneration, and Faith; and make us to ſit with ſollicitous Minds in our Studies, pondering thus in our Hearts: 'Lord, what Courſe ſhall 'we take, and what Words ſhall we chuſe, that 'may beſt convey the Senſe of their Sin and Dan'ger, with the Fulneſs and Neceſſity of Chriſt, in'to their Hearts!

Others are withering and decaying in their Affections, or ſtaggering and floating in their Judgments: Prudence will enable the Man of God, to give to every one his proper Food, or Phyſick, in due Seaſon. This will make us ſpend more Hours in our Studies, and ſet to it with all our Might and Skill, that thereby we may both ſave our ſelves, and them that hear us.

3. Prudential Expedient.

This Miniſterial Wiſdom will not only direct us thus in the Choice of our Subjects, but of the Language too, in which we dreſs and deliver them to our People.

It will tell you, a Crucified Stile beſt ſuits the Preachers of a Crucified Chriſt. A grave and proper Stile becomes the Lips of Chriſt's Ambaſſadors. Prudence will neither allow us to be rude, nor affectedly gaudy in our Expreſſions. Tertullian checks thoſe Preachers, whoſe Sermons dreſs up Chriſtianity in Philoſophical, rather than Evangelical Terms. Prudence will chuſe Words

Qui Platonicum Chriſtianiſmum procudunt Chriſtianis.

that

that are ſolid, rather than florid: As a Merchant will a Ship by a ſound Bottom, and capacious Hold, rather than a gilded Head and Stern. Words are but Servants to Matter. An Iron Key fitted to the Wards of the Lock, is more uſeful than a Golden one, that will not open the Door to the Treaſure.

Some of Chriſt's Miniſters excel in a neat and pleaſing Plainneſs of Language. For this Auſtin was ſo affected with the Stile of Ambroſe: * With his ſweet Words, which I loved, came into my Mind the Duties which I neglected. And Zanchy ſaith of Viret, † I admir'd his Eloquence, and the Force it had in moving the Affections.

* Veniebant in animum meum ſimul cum verbis, quæ diligebam, etiam res, quas negligebam.

† Singularem eloquentiam, & in commovendis effectibus efficacitatem admirabar.

Prudence will caſt away a thouſand fine Words, for one that is apt to penetrate the Conſcience, and reach the Heart. This made Baſil look upon the famed Allegories of his time, with a compaſſionate Smile, ſaying, * We take them for pretty Witticiſms, but Things of little Uſe or Value in the Miniſtry. Who, in the laſt Age, was ever honour'd with more Succeſs in his Miniſtry, than bleſſed Mr. Burroughs? And who ever excell'd him in Skill, to bring down the Sublime Myſteries of the Goſpel to the meaneſt Capacity?

* Ὡς γελοιομυθούμενον μὲν ἡμῖν λόγον ἀποδεχόμεθα.

4. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence will ſhew us, of what great Uſe our own Affections are, for the moving of others; and will therefore adviſe us, That, as ever we expect the Truths we preach ſhould operate upon the Hearts of others, we firſt labour to work them in upon our own Hearts. Such a Preacher was St. Paul; he preached with Tears accompanying his Words, Phil. 3. 18. An hot Iron, tho' blunt, will pierce ſooner than a cold one, tho' ſharper.

And why, my Brethren, do we think, God hath Commiſſionated us, rather than Angels, to be his Ambaſſadors? Was it not, among other Reaſons, for this? Becauſe we having been under the ſame Condemnation and Miſery our ſelves, and felt both the Terrors and Conſolations of the Spirit, (which Angels experimentally know not) might thereby be enabled to treat with Sinners more feelingly and affectionately, in a way more accommodate to them, and therefore more apt to move and win them.

5. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence will direct the Servants of Chriſt (who highly value, and earneſtly long for the Succeſs of their Labours) to be careful, by the Strictneſs and Gravity of their Deportment, to maintain their Eſteem in the Conſciences of their People.

In your Pulpits, you are carrying on a Treaty of Peace betwixt God and them; and therefore, it will not allow you to do any thing out of your Pulpits, to make the Breach wider, or hinder the happy Cloſe between him and them. The Fowler that ſpreads his Net to take the Birds, will not leave a Feather, or make the leaſt Noiſe, to ſcare the Bird he intends to take. Let not them who aim no higher than a Bird, be more prudent and cautious, than you that are ſet to catch immortal Souls. Remember that of Solomon, Prov. 11. 30. He that winneth Souls, is wiſe. Prudence will not allow the Miniſters of Chriſt to immix themſelves with vain Company, and take the ſame Liberty they do in vain Jeſts, and idle Stories. Nor will it allow, on the other ſide, a morboſe Reſervedneſs, and diſcouraging Auſterity; but temper Gravity with condeſcending Affability.

To you that are Juniors and Candidates for the Miniſtry, I will aſſume the Boldneſs to addreſs one Seaſonable Word of Advice. And it is this: Have a care of that light and airy Spirit, which ſo much obtains every where in this unſerious Age. It was the Charge of God againſt ſome Miniſters of old, that they were light Perſons, Rev. 3. 4. And yet I cannot but think, comparatively ſpeaking, with ſome of our Times, they might paſs for grave and ſerious. The People have Eyes to ſee how we walk, as well as Ears to hear what we ſay. It will be our Wiſdom and great Advantage, to be able to ſay, as St. Paul did, Phil. 4. 9. The Things which you have both heard and ſeen in me, do.

6. Prudential Expedient.

Miniſterial Prudence will ſend you often to your Knees, to ſeek a Bleſſing from God upon your Studies and Labours, as knowing all your Miniſterial Succeſs entirely depends thereupon; 1 Cor. 3. 7.

Thoſe are the beſt Sermons, that are obtained by Prayer. Bleſſed Bradford ſtudied upon his Knees. Luther obtained more this way, than by all his Studies. If an honeſt Husbandman could tell his Neighbour, That the Reaſon why his Corn proſpered better than his, was, becauſe he ſteeped the Seed in Prayer, before he ſowed it in the Field; we may bluſh to think, how much more precious Seed we have ſown dry and unſteeped in Prayer, and by this Neglect have fruſtrated our own Expectations. Thus laying our Foundations in the Knowledge of Principles, chuſing our Subjects by the Peoples Neceſſities; handling them in apt Language; working them firſt upon our own Affections, enforcing them by ſtrict Converſations, and ſteeping this holy Seed in Prayer; we ſhall approve our ſelves the Prudent Miniſters of Chriſt.

2*dly*, Having ſaid thus much of Prudence, with reſpect to our ſingle Perſonal Concernment in the Work of the Miniſtry; I come next to ſhew its great Uſefulneſs with reſpect to others, who are concern'd either,

1. With us, as Friendly Aſſiſtants in our Work.
2. Or againſt us, as Enemies, who labour to obſtruct and fruſtrate our Work.

1. As to our Brethren and Fellow-workers in the Lord: Prudence will dictate and enjoin it upon us, that by the firmeſt Union with them, we make their Gifts and Graces as uſeful as is poſſible, for the Furtherance and Advancement of our great and difficult Work. We cannot be ignorant how much Satan hath gained, and Chriſt's Intereſt hath ſenſibly loſt, by thoſe unhappy Diviſions and Alienations amongſt Brethren, and Fellow-labourers in the Work of the Lord. Chriſt hath ſhed down Variety of Glorious Aſcenſion-Gifts upon them, which are not capable of a full Improvement, but in Union and Conjunction with each other. Gifts are improved in us by Prayer and Study; but the Benefits of thoſe Gifts are ſhared among us by Love and Unity. Love and Union bring every Man's Gifts and Graces into the Common Bank; and inſtead of Monopolies, they drive a free and open Trade, to the great Enriching of the Church.

There is not a greater or more pleaſant Variety of Qualities, Smells, and Colours, among the Herbs and Flowers, with which the Earth is variegated and decked for the Delight and Service of Man, than there is in the Gifts and Abilities of Miniſters, for the Uſe and Service of the Church. One hath Quickneſs of Parts, but not ſo deep and ſolid a Judgment. Another is grave and ſolid, but not ſo ready and preſential. One is wary and reſerved; another open and plain. One is melancholy and timorous; another chearful and courageous. When theſe different Gifts and Qualities ſhine together in the Church-Heavens, what a Glorious Conſtellation do they make! And what ſweet benign Influences do they ſhed down upon the Lord's Heritage! All theſe Miniſterial Gifts and Graces are improvable for Chriſt,

1. More Privately,
2. More Publickly, } by Brotherly Union.

1. More Privately. When God caſts the Lot of Two, or more, Fellow-Labourers in the Goſpel, upon the ſame City, Town, or Neighbourhood; what a bleſſed Advantage have they beyond ſolitary Miniſters, to carry on the Work of the Lord chearfully, vigorouſly, and ſucceſsfully! Whilſt Love cauſes their Hearts to claſp and cloſe, how muſt their Work be facilitated, ſweetned, and proſpered in their Hands! But if once Jars and Jealouſies get in amongſt them; if Pride, Envy, or Carnal Intereſt, diſſolve the Bond of Brotherly Love; if inſtead of Planting for Chriſt, they once begin to Supplant one another; no Words are able to ſhew, what a Train of Miſchief and Sins will now break in amongſt them, to the great Diſhonour of Chriſt, and Obſtruction of the Goſpel.

I do therefore, in the Name of Chriſt, as upon my bended Knees, earneſtly intreat and beſeech my Brethren, by all the Regard they have to the Honour of Chriſt, the Souls of their People, their own Comfort, or the Succeſs of their Labours; that no Envyings, or Strifes, no Supplantings, or Detractions, be once admitted, or named among them. Methinks it is ſcarce imaginable, that thoſe who have ſo lately and ſeverely ſmarted, ſhould fall again into the ſame Follies, for which God hath chaſtiſed them.

2. And as Prudence directs us into the way of our Profit and Comfort, by this more private Improvement of our Gifts and Graces, ſo into a more excellent way, by a General Union and Coalition with all our Brethren, farther diſtant in Place from us. It calls upon us to bury, and forget henceforth the factious Names of Diſtinction, growing out of our different Apprehenſions about ſmaller Diſciplinary Points. How many fervent Prayers have been poured out! How many excellent Irenicums have been written by thoſe excellent Miniſters, that are now at perfect Unity in Heaven! Tho' they did not, yet I hope we and our Children ſhall reap the bleſſed Fruits of thoſe pious Endeavours. God hath ſpoken with a ſtrong Hand to our pious and prudent Brethren, in and about the Great City of this Kingdom: They have moſt wiſely and ſeaſonably projected this Great and Glorious Deſign: They have followed it cloſe with unwearied Diligence, admirable Patience, Chriſtian Humility, and Condeſcenſion; and, by the good Hand of the Lord with them, have brought it at laſt to a comfortable Iſſue.

The happy Reſult of their fervent Prayers, and frequent Brotherly Conſults, (all Praiſe to the God of Love and Peace for it!) are now in our Hands, in thoſe bleſſed Sheets, called Heads of Agreement; Wherein God hath ſignally helped them to evidence their Wiſdom in the Choice of Words, and their Humility and Charity, in mutual and neceſſary Conceſſions. They have, by the Mouth of an Eminent Brother, (whoſe Praiſe is in the Goſpel, and whoſe Hand hath eminently aſſiſted in this Service) chearfully offer'd up their Praiſes to Jehovah-Shalom, for making the Two Sticks of Judah and Ephraim, to become one Stick in his own Hand.

And now, Brethren, they wait, yea, give me Leave to ſay, Chriſt waits as well as they, for our explicit Conſent, and chearful Suffrages. We have heard the joyful Sound of our Brethrens Praiſes: Shall we not Eccho to it, and ſay, Hallelujah; and again, Hallelujah? Ephraim ſhall no more envy Judah, nor Judah vex Ephraim: Our Swords are turned into Plow-ſhares, and our Spears into Pruning-hooks: The Lord hath this Day rolled away our Reproach. Thus Prudence will direct us to carry it with Love and Unity towards our Brethren, that labour in the Work with us.

2. Let us next ſee, what Direction it gives us, with reſpect to our Enemies, who endeavour to obſtruct and hinder the Work of the Lord in our Hands. If we be heartily engaged in the Service of Chriſt, we muſt expect many Adverſaries, and ſtrong Oppoſitions; Men, that will raiſe Clouds of Reproaches, to darken our Reputation among the People; Men, that will repreſent us to them as Ignorant and Unlearned, Factious and Seditious, Erroneous and Enthuſiaſtical. Prudence, in this Caſe, will reſtrain us from rendring Reproach for Reproach; and propound to us the beſt Project in the World, for the Vindication of our Names, and Succeſs of our Labours; and that is, that we ſo preach the Goſpel, that the People may feel the Power of Chriſt in our Doctrine; and ſo live, that they may ſee the Beauty of Chriſt in our Converſations; and ſo Preaching and Living, we ſhall bear down all the Prejudices of the World before us. Such Doctrine, ſeconded with ſuch a Converſation, like the Sun in the Heavens, will not only break up and ſcatter all Clouds of Reproach; but ſhed down their enlightning and enlivening Influences upon the Hearts of the People.

I neither do, nor dare ſuggeſt and inſinuate any thing in this Diſcourſe, againſt any Party or Body of Men; being convinced, that amongſt thoſe who differ from us, there are many Learned, Pious, and Peaceable Men, who can heartily rejoice to ſee the Work of Chriſt carried on by thoſe that follow not them. But ſome there are almoſt in every Place, who are more concerned for a Ceremony, than for the Subſtance of Religion; for a Tile upon the Roof, than a Stone in the Foundation: Whoſe Envy, if it cannot reach others by Imitation, will be reſtleſs till it meet them by Calumniation. In this Caſe, Miniſterial Prudence will carefully ſhun all Occaſions of Exaſperation; and if that Care be not ſufficient to avoid them, it will furniſh us with that Patience and Conſtancy, which will be ſufficient to bear them.

Thus we ſee the Neceſſity and Excellency of Miniſterial Faithfulneſs and Prudence, diſtinctly conſider'd. Let us next,

2. View

2. View them conjunctly in ſome ſpecial Parts of our Work, whereinto they ſhed down their joint and commixed Influences. And theſe, among ſome others, are the Duties of,

1. Defending Truth againſt Error.
2. Reproving Offenders.
3. Dealing with diſtreſſed Conſciences.

1. There is great need of Faithfulneſs and Prudence, in defending the Truths of Chriſt, againſt the Errors of the Times. Our Faithfulneſs indeed will oblige us to do it; but Prudence muſt direct us how to do it. The Eſtabliſhment of our People in the Truth, is one Special End of the Inſtitution of the Miniſtry, Eph. 4. 11. But without the Aſſiſtance of both theſe Graces, that End is never like to be attained. A Faithful Miniſter dares not be ſilent, where the Souls of his People are concerned; yet all his Endeavours to ſecure them, will be to little Purpoſe, if Prudence be wanting in the Management of that Deſign. Prudence muſt both time our Contentions, and regulate the Manner of them. 'Twill neither ſuffer us to appear too ſoon, nor too late: Not too ſoon, becauſe Errors are ſometimes beſt cured by Neglect, and in a little time grow weary of themſelves: Not too late, leſt they get Head, and be paſt Retrieve. Haſty Contenders, like young Faulconers, let fly the Hawk with her Hood on. Upon the other ſide, if Friendſhip, or Relation to Seducers, ſtop our Mouths too long, we may in a few Days be entertained by them, (as Thyeſtes was by his Brother Atreus) with the Limbs of our own (Spiritual) Children. Prudence will not ſuffer our Pulpits to ring with Invectives againſt Seducers, till the more private and gentle Methods have been tried in vain; and then neither Prudence nor Faithfulneſs will admit of longer Delay. But yet when they both adviſe us to engage, Prudence muſt regulate the Manner of the Contention, and commands us to urge hard Arguments, with mild and ſoft Language.

Erroriſts are uſually hot and paſſionate, proud and daring Perſons. Moſt true is that of Nazianzen, Φύσεις θερμαὶ καὶ μεγάλαι τῆντης τῆς ταραχῆς αἴτιον, Hot and haughty Spirits are the Cauſes of Troubles and Diſtractions in the Church: Hot to hot will never do well. Theſe Heights and Heats are beſt taken down and cooled by ſtrong and mild Reaſonings: The Wrath of Man worketh not the Righteouſneſs of God.

2. The joint commixed Influences of both theſe Graces, muſt be found in all our Miniſterial Reproofs. Reprove we muſt, or we cannot be faithful; and prudently too, or we cannot be ſucceſsful. He that is ſilent, cannot be innocent; and yet 'tis a meaſuring Caſt, whether Cowardly Silence be more prejudicial to the Reprover, than indiſcreet Zeal may be to the Reproved. Faithfulneſs is loth to loſe the Soul of another for want of Reproof: Prudence is jealous of loſing it by the ill Management of the Reproof. Faithfulneſs ſaith, 'Tis better to loſe the Smiles, than the Souls of Men: Prudence ſaith, To ſave both is beſt. Reprehenſion is Χειρουργία τῶν παθῶν, The Chirurgery of the Paſſions; and Cutting-work is no eaſy or pleaſant Work. Sick and pained Men are wayward and pettiſh; but Prudence will caſt Fetters upon their Paſſions, and make them lie quiet, whilſt Faithfulneſs probes and ſearches their Wounds to the bottom. Prudence can ſometimes convey a Reproof ſo effectually and inoffenſively, that the Conſcience of the Reproved ſhall ſenſibly feel it; and yet his Paſſions not be awakened by the leaſt injurious Touch. Faithfulneſs conſiders, and urges the Neceſſity of the Duty: Prudence conſiders the Quality of the Perſon, Time, and Manner of Application. It will reach the Sin, and yet (if poſſible) avoid the Offence of the Sinner. It ſometimes directs us to convict an Offender, by transferring the Offence by way of Suppoſition to our ſelves; ſometimes by relating a ſuitable Hiſtory, or folding down a remarkable Scripture-Threatning or Example, as it were accidentally to meet them. How prudently did Nathan prepare David, before he came to touch the quick, with, Thou art the Man? Above all, Prudence adviſeth us, to keep our ſelves pure from thoſe Sins we reprove in others; and when we muſt apply the precious Oyl of Reproof to them, that we work it in with the warm, ſoft, gentle Hand of Love and Compaſſion; and then the Reproof is like to do good, and the Reprover receive Thanks for his Kindneſs. Let the Righteous ſmite me, it ſhall be a Kindneſs: Let him reprove me, it ſhall be an excellent Oyl, which ſhall not break mine Head, Pſal. 141. 5.

3. Once more; Their Joint Influences muſt alſo meet in all our Dealings, with diſtreſſed Conſciences.

Conſcience is a very tender Thing; and when ſick and diſtreſſed, needs to be handled both judiciouſly and tenderly. The Wound muſt be ſearched, ſaith Faithfulneſs. It muſt be ſearched skilfully, ſaith Prudence. He that can ſo ſearch and cure it, deſerves that excellent Encomium, One among a Thouſand, Job 33. 23. What expert and dextrous Perſons at this Work, were our Greenham, Crook, Dod, Ball, and Burroughs! Every Empyrick can skin over a Wound; but a faithful Miniſter will ſearch it throughly, and a prudent Miniſter will heal it warily. Ne

Vulnus in antiquum redeat, male firma Cicatrix; leſt it feſter at the bottom, and break out again with greater Danger. It requires a great Meaſure of both theſe Graces, to bring general confuſed Troubles to ſettle upon the right bottom; to direct a ſin-ſick Soul to Chriſt, in the true Goſpel-Method; to furniſh the tempted Chriſtian with proper Weapons againſt Satan's Aſſaults, and teach him how to manage them; to diſſolve the Doubts, and remove the Scruples, which ariſe almoſt in every Step of his way to Chriſt; and ſo to ſettle the fluctuating Soul in a ſweet and ſure Dependance upon him by Faith. Theſe Things, I ſay, require much faithful Prudence, and prudent Faithfulneſs.

And thus we ſee the manifold Uſefulneſs of both theſe Graces in the Servants and Stewards of Chriſt. Of ſuch I may ſay, as Chriſt in the Text, Who then is a faithful and wiſe Servant? Hi nuncij (inquit Piſcator) rari ſunt, ita ut ex mille hominibus vix unus reperiatur, qui munere illo recte fungi poſſit. Chriſt hath not many ſuch Servants; yet, bleſſed be God, ſome ſuch there are. And,

3. Whoever, or whereever ſuch Faithful and Wiſe Servants be, Chriſt will abundantly reward them in the Day of their Account. Which caſts me upon the Third and laſt Doctrinal Head I promiſed to ſpeak to. The Glory prepared for, and promiſed to ſuch Servants of Chriſt, is elegantly laid out (in ſhining Terms) by the Prophet Daniel; Dan. 12. 3. And they that be wiſe, ſhall ſhine as the bright- brightneſs of the Firmament ; and they that turn many to Righteouſneſs, as the Stars for ever and ever. A Promiſe which points directly to faithful and wiſe Miniſters. What a beautiful Sight is the Azure Canopy of Heaven, when it's about to ſhut its beautiful Eye-lids in a ſerene Evening ! And much more, when it is about to open them with a Smile or Bluſh, in the Dawning of the ruddy Morning ! And how is that Beauty again outvied by the Glory of the Stars, where the pleaſant Light ſports and twinkles ! And how doth one Star excel another in Glory ! Yet thus, and more than thus, even above the Brightneſs of the Sun it ſelf, ſhall the Servants of Chriſt ſhine ; who, by their Faithfulneſs and Prudence, have inſtrumentally turned many unto Righteouſneſs !

The Queſtion about Degrees of Glory in Heaven is not neceſſary, but problematical. We reject with Abhorrence the Popiſh Doctrine of Diverſity of Glories, as founded in the Diverſity of Merits : Nor is it queſtioned among the Orthodox, whether there be an Equality of Glory, as to the Eſſentials ; but only in reſpect to the Accidentals, and Concomitants : Amongſt which, they place the Additional Glory and Joy of ſuch Miniſters, whoſe faithful and prudent Labours God hath bleſſed, and crowned with the Converſion and Edification of many Souls. And of this the Apoſtle ſpeaks, 1 Theſſ. 2. 19, 20. For what is our Hope, or Joy, or Crown of Rejoicing ? Are not even ye, in the Preſence of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt at his coming ? For ye are our Glory and Joy. Where we find a very Remarkable Gradation. He calls his Theſſalonian Converts, his Hope, his Joy, nay, his Crown of Rejoicing. His Hope, that is, the Matter of his Hope, that they ſhould be ſaved. His Joy, as they had already given him abundant Cauſe of Joy, in their Converſion to Chriſt by his Miniſtry. And the Crown of his Rejoicing in the Preſence of Chriſt, at his coming : This is an High Strain indeed ! The Meaning, I ſuppoſe, is, That the Fruit and Succeſs of his Miniſtry among them, would add to his Crown, and redound to his Glory, in the Day of Chriſt.

O Brethren ! who would not ſtudy and pray, ſpend and be ſpent, in the Service of ſuch a bountiful Maſter ! Is it not worth all our Labours and Sufferings, to come with all thoſe Souls we inſtrumentally begat to Chriſt ; and all that we edified, reduced, confirmed, and comforted in the way to Heaven ; and ſay, Lord, here am I, and the Children thou haſt given me ? To hear one Spiritual Child ſay, Lord, This is the Miniſter, by whom I believed. Another, This is he, by whom I was edified, eſtabliſhed, and comforted. ,This is the Man, that reſolved my Doubts, quickned my dying Affections, reduced my Soul, when wand'ring from the Truth ! O bleſſed be thy Name, that ever I ſaw his Face, and heard his Voice ! What think we of this, Brethren ? But, far beyond this ; What will it be to hear Chriſt, the Prince of Paſtors, ſay in that Day, Well done, good and faithful Servant ; thou haſt been faithful over a few things, I will make thee Ruler over many things : Enter thou into the Joy of thy Lord ; Mat. 25. 21. O Sirs ! we ſerve a good Maſter, who is not unrighteous to forget our Work, and Labour of Love for his Name-ſake. He keeps an exact Account of all your fervent Prayers, of all your Inſtructive and Perſwaſive Sermons ; and all your Sighs, Groans, and Pantings, with every Tear and Drop of Sweat, are placed like Marginal Notes againſt your Labours in his Book, in order to a full Reward.

But I have far out-run my own Intention, and (I doubt) your Patience too, in the Doctrinal Part. I conſider to whom I ſpeak, and ſhall be the ſhorter in the Application ; which I ſhall diſpatch apace, in Three Uſes.

1. For Information.
2. For Reprehenſion.
3. For Exhortation.

U S E I.

And firſt for our Information, briefly, in Two or Three Conſectaries.

1. Conſectary.

By this it appears, Chriſt hath eſtabliſhed an Order and Government in his Houſe, which none muſt violate. The Church is a Οἶκον κατάστασιν well-order'd Family, or Houſhold, ὁ Κύριος. whereof Chriſt is the Head, Chriſtians Members, Miniſters Stewards, the Ordinances Food to be diſpens'd by them in Seaſon. Every one is to keep his own Place and Station. Paſtors muſt faithfully feed and govern the Flocks of Chriſt, Acts 20. 28. People muſt know, honour, and obey thoſe that are over them in the Lord ; 1 Theſ. 5. 12. Heb. 13. 17. The one muſt not impoſe, nor the other uſurp ; but each walk according to the Rule of Chriſt, with a right Foot, ordinately and comely.

This Order is the Church's Beauty, Col. 2. 5. And truly we may expect ſo much of Chriſt's Preſence, as we have of his Rule and Order amongſt us, and no more. Oh, that the Rules and Orders of his Houſe were better known and obſerved ! Then Miniſters and People would clearly underſtand, what they are to expect from each other in the way of Duty, and each Perſon keep his proper Station. Miniſters would not invade the Civil Callings of the People ; nor the People the Sacred Calling of the Miniſtry ; but all Things would move ordinately, Secundum, ſub, & ſupra. The Pleaſure of ſuch a Sight, would as much tranſport gracious Souls with Joy and Pleaſure, as the Order of Solomon's Houſe did the Queen of the South.

2. Conſectary.

In the Light of this Truth, we may alſo read our Duty, how we ought to govern our ſelves in the Ordination of Men to the Miniſterial Office. This Office is to be committed unto faithful and able Men, 2 Tim. 2. 2. Not to Novices, 1 Tim 3. 6. I know, the Neceſſities of the Churches are great ; but no more Haſte (I beſeech you) to ſupply their Wants, than good Speed. Satis celeriter fieri, quisquid commodè geritur : That's ſoon enough, that's well enough. 'Tis a leſs Hazard, to put an ignorant Ruſtick into an Apothecary's Shop, to compound and prepare Medicines for Men's Bodies, than to truſt a Man deſtitute both of Faithfulneſs and Prudence, with the Diſpenſation of Chriſt's Ordinances to Men's Souls.

Some Men are moved by pitiful low Ends, 1 Sam. 2. 36. Put me into the Prieſt's Office, that I may eat a Piece of Bread. Some by Ambition, conceiting themſelves as able and holy as the beſt, Numb. 16. 3. What Men's ſecret Ends are, we cannot know : But their Qualifications for that Work, we may, and ought to know. We are ſolemnly charged, to lay Hands ſuddenly upon no Man, 1 Tim. 5. 22. In Solomon's Time, the Jews were exceed-exceeding careful and wary in admitting Proſelytes, becauſe they were then in a flouriſhing and proſperous State; not ſo cautelous in Time of Adverſity, as Joſephus obſerves. I would diſcourage none that appear to have pious Inclinations, match'd with competent Qualifications. Many be uſeful, that cannot be excellent. Weaker Gifts rooted in a gracious Heart, will grow by uſing: But nothing grows without a Root. I think, the plaineſt Men have done the greateſt Service in the Church of Chriſt; as tender-eyed Leah brought forth more Children, than beautiful Rachel. But ſtill Fidelity and Prudence are indiſpenſible Qualifications.

3. Conſectary.

If there be ſuch Rewards in the Hand of Chriſt for all his faithful and wiſe Servants; Then we have no juſt Cauſe or Reaſon, to repent of our Choice of this Office, whatever Sufferings and Reproaches it hath, or yet may expoſe us to. I believe, none of us ever yet felt ſuch Straits, endured ſuch Miſeries, or ſuſtained ſuch Labours, as the Apoſtle mentions to have befallen him, 2 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25, 26, 27. And yet he heartily thanks the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, (for all that) who had counted him faithful, and put him into the Miniſtry.

Brethren, We have ſerved a good Maſter, and have Cauſe to admire his Care over us, and Bounty to us; and whatever we have ſuffered, we may ſay to them that ſhall ſucceed us, as Toſſanus to his Children and Kindred, in his Laſt Will and Teſtament: 'I charge you, 'my dear Children and 'Relations, That ye never be aſhamed of the 'Evangelical Truth, either for the Sake of Offences ariſing from within the Church, or of 'Perſecutions from without it. Truth may labour, but cannot be ſuppreſſed: And I have often found by Experience, the Lord to be wonderfully preſent with them, that walk before him diligently and uprightly. Oh, he hath been a good God to us! He hath cover'd us in Days of Danger, made Proviſion for us and ours; and yet his beſt Rewards are behind. Let none ſcare at the Reproaches and Perſecutions that attend the Goſpel.

* Obteſtor vos liberos & generos chariſſimos, ne illius veritatis Evangelicæ unquam vos pudeat, vel propter ſcandala domi, vel propter perſecutiones, quæ foris excitantur. Poteſt enim laborare, ſed non vinci veritas. Et non ſemel expertus ſum Dominum Deum mirabiliter adeſſe iis, qui coram ipſo ambulant, & in ſua vocatione ſeduló & integrè verſantur, &c. Melch. Adam in Vita Toſſani, p. 720.

U S E II.

This Point caſts an ireful Countenance upon all unfaithful and imprudent Miniſters, who give their People the Chaff for the Wheat, and Stones for Bread; who glory in the Title, and live upon the Profits, but neither feed the Flock, nor mind the Account. They Preach, they Pray, becauſe they muſt do ſo; but none are the better for their Prayers or Preaching. They ſeem to labour an Hour or two in a Week; but their Labours turn to no Account; nor can be expected to turn to any good Account, whilſt they are neither animated by Faithfulneſs, nor guided by Prudence.

Agricola, writing de Animantibus Subterraneis, tells us of a certain Kind of Spirit that converſe in Minerals, and much infeſt thoſe that work in them. They ſeem to buſy themſelves according to the Cuſtom of Workmen. They will dig and cleanſe, melt and ſever the Metals. Yet when they are gone, the Workmen do not find that there is any thing done. I came not hither (I confeſs) to deal with this Sort of Men; and therefore ſhall leave them to conſider the Words immediately following my Text, which, like a Thunder-clap from the Mouth of Chriſt, diſcharge Woes and Threatnings upon them; Ver. 48. ad finem: If that evil Servant ſhall ſay in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming; and ſhall begin to ſmite his Fellow-ſervants, and to eat and drink with the drunken: The Lord of that Servant ſhall come in a day that he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of; and ſhall cut him aſunder, and appoint him his Portion with Hypocrites. There ſhall be weeping, and gnaſhing of teeth. Who can aggravate their Miſery more, than theſe Words of Chriſt have done?

But I am principally concerned at this time about our own Defects, both in Faithfulneſs, and in Prudence: Tho' neither of theſe (I hope) be totally wanting in us, yet our Defects and ſhort Comings, may, and muſt greatly humble us. Our vain Expence of much precious Time; our ſhuffling Haſte in ſo weighty a Study as the Salvation of our People is: Our ſinful Silence, when Conſcience ſaith, Reprove: Our Coldneſs and Dead-heartedneſs; our unſerious and unprofitable Converſes; our Pride and Oſtentation of Gifts; our Neglect of Perſonal Conferences: All theſe evidently diſcover, that both our Brains and Bowels need more Strength and Tenderneſs. I will not inſiſt here upon theſe Particulars, (let us do that in our Studies) but haſten to Exhortation, and therein to the Cloſe of this Diſcourſe.

U S E III.

Are Faithfulneſs and Prudence the Eſſential Requiſites of the Servants and Stewards of Chriſt's Houſe? And will he ſo amply reward them in whomſoever he finds them? Then let it be our Care and Study to approve our ſelves to him, ſuch as he here deſcribes and encourages.

But who am I, to manage ſuch a Work as this, among Men every way above me! However, you have called me to this Service; and Chriſt hath directed me to this Subject. And ſhould I now ſilently paſs over this Part of my Work, how ſhall I approve my ſelf either a faithful, or a wiſe Servant, to him that ſent me?

I deſpair of ever having ſuch another Opportunity. I ſee many Faces in this Aſſembly, whom I ſhall never ſee any more in this World. I ſpeak to the Miniſters of Chriſt, the Guides and Paſtors of ſo many Flocks. May I be in the leaſt inſtrumental to quicken them in their Duties; their reſpective numerous Congregations will reap the Benefit of it.

My Brethren; This is the Day I have often wiſhed for, when in the ſad and ſilent Years that are paſt, I have been ſearching my own Heart, and enquiring into the Cauſes of God's Indignation (as I doubt not you alſo have done); I have bewailed the forementioned Defects before the Lord, and engaged my Soul by ſolemn Promiſe to him, that if he would once more open the Door of Liberty, I would (thro' his Grace) labour to reform, and do my utmoſt to perſwade all my Brethren, to exerciſe more Miniſterial Faithfulneſs and Prudence.

And now I am where my Soul hath long deſired to be, and the Vows of God are upon me. Suffer therefore (Dear Brethren); yea, ſuffer from unworthy me, this Word of Exhortation:

Take

Take heed to your Miniſtry, that you fulfil it: Take heed to your ſelves, and to the Flocks over which the Holy Ghoſt hath made you Overſeers. Let us ſo Study and Preach, let us ſo Pray and Converſe among our People, that we may both ſave our ſelves, and them that hear us. Let us frugally and induſtriouſly husband our Time and Talents for Chriſt. Let us prudently contrive, zealouſly and unanimouſly execute our holy Contrivances, for the advancement of his Kingdom and Intereſt in the World. Theſe are Plotting-times, wicked Men are every-where plotting to diſturb the Civil Peace. Let us have our Plot too, an honeſt Plot, how to advance the Intereſt of Chriſt in the Souls of our People; wherein we ſhall alſo promote and ſecure the Civil Peace of that happy Government we live under. Let us learn Prudence from our paſt Follies, and Conſtancy from our paſt Experiences. I look upon you that are Aged Miniſters, as ſeaſoned Timber, that hath lain out near Thirty Years in the Weather, yet neither warped, raned, nor rotten. I confeſs in all this time, the Sun hath not much tried the force of his Influence upon us, tho' the Storms have. I ſuſpect our greateſt danger will be in the Sun-ſhine of Liberty. If we hold it now, and manage this Trial by Liberty, with eminent Faithfulneſs and Prudence, Humility and Peaceableneſs, Zeal and Diligence; Chriſt may account us fit Materials to build his Houſe. Let us now redeem our many ſilent Sabbaths, by double and treble Improvements of thoſe we enjoy. Let none of us dare to bring our old Sins into our new Pulpits. Then will the Prince of Paſtors delight to uſe us here, and crown our prudent Faithfulneſs with a full Reward hereafter. In order whereunto give me leave to hint (for I can do no more than hint) theſe Three Things by way of Motive, which are worth thinking on:

We have a Solemn Charge given us by Chriſt.

We have a Solemn Account to paſs ſhortly with Chriſt.

We have now a great Opportunity to improve for Chriſt.

1. We have a ſolemn Charge given us by Chriſt, 2 Tim. 4. 1, 2. I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who ſhall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing, and his Kingdom; preach the Word, be inſtant in Seaſon, and out of Seaſon; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long ſuffering and doctrine. It muſt be a powerful Opiate indeed, that can ſo benumb and ſtupify the Conſcience of a Miniſter, as that he ſhall not feel the awful Authority of ſuch a Charge.

The precious and immortal Souls of Men are committed to us; Souls about which God hath concerned his Thoughts from Eternity; for the purchaſe of which Chriſt hath ſhed his own Blood; for the winning and eſpouſing of which to himſelf, he hath put you into this Office; at whoſe Hands he will alſo require an Account of them in the Great Day.

2. We have a ſolemn Account at that Day to paſs with Chriſt, Heb. 13. 17. We watch for their Souls, as thoſe that muſt give Account. And what can more powerfully excite to faithful Diligence in the diſcharge of Duty, than the Conſideration of that Day! When the Apoſtle had mentioned in 2 Cor. 5. 10. this awful Appearance before the Judgment-Seat of Chriſt, he immediately infers Verſe 11. Knowing therefore the Terror of the Lord, we perſwade Men.

Oh, Brethren, let us beware of committing, or of neglecting any thing, that may bring us within the compaſs of the Terrors of that Day. Let our Painfulneſs and Faithfulneſs, our Conſtancy and Seriouſneſs, compel a Teſtimony from our Congregations, as the Apoſtle did from his, Acts 28. 26. That we are pure from the Blood of all Men.

3. We have a great Opportunity to improve for Chriſt; which if we do, we ſhall fulfil his Charge, and eſcape the Terrors of his Judgment in that Great Day.

We have now (if I miſtake not) the faireſt Seaſon we ever enjoyed, ſince we firſt preached Chriſt: If this be loſt, I queſtion whether we may ever expect the like. There's great Odds betwixt our preſent Circumſtances at our return to our Flocks, and our paſt Circumſtances when we left them; and that both upon our own Account, and upon theirs.

1. Upon our own Account: We were then young, and (comparatively) unexperienced Miniſters to what we are now. Tho' we have too many Defects and Weakneſſes ſtill to lament; yet I am perſwaded we have not ſpent ſo many Years among Trials, Fears, and Sufferings, in vain. Theſe Things, I am perſuaded, have greatly improved our Acquaintance with God, and our own Hearts: It will be as ſad as ſtrange, if they have not. God hath been training us up in Faith, Humility, Patience, and Self-denial in this School of Affliction. When we could not preach the Doctrine of Faith, we were reduced by a bleſſed neceſſity, to live the Life of Faith. The Rules of Patience, Humility, and Satisfaction in the Will of God, we were wont to preſcribe from our Pulpits to the People, we were neceſſitated to practiſe and apply to our ſelves in our ſad Solitudes, and various Diſtreſſes, through which the Lord hath led us. So that now we come better furniſhed to the Work, than ever before. And I hope I have ground for you, Brethren, to ſay, as the Apoſtle, of his coming to the Romans, That you come among them in the fulneſs of the Bleſſing of the Goſpel of Chriſt.

2. There's great Odds upon the Peoples Account: Many of them were full-fed, and wanton, when we left them: They are hungry and ſharp ſet at our return to them. An hungry Appetite appears in the People in many Places, not without great Cauſe and Reaſon. They are willing to take any Pains: Your Words now drop upon them as the Clouds upon the clefted Earth. Oh, what an Opportunity doth this give to accompliſh the Great Ends of our Miniſtry among them!

Lift up your Eyes, and behold the Fields, Are they not even white unto the Harveſt? Let Huſbandmen rather loſe their Seed-time and Harveſt, than we loſe ſo precious a Seaſon, ſo great, ſo rich an Opportunity as this.

I have finiſhed what concerneth you, my Reverend and Dear Brethren, and Fellow-Labourers in the Lord's Harveſt: A Word or two remains to be ſpoken to the People, and I have done.

You have heard what variety of Duty lies upon us, and what difficulty in every part thereof; yet all our Labours would be light, and our Pains pleaſant, might we ſee more Fruits and Succeſs of them amongſt you.

Your Barrenneſs and Unperſuableneſs, your Diviſions and Inſtability coſt us more, than all our other Pains in our Studies and Pulpits. How eaſily and ſweetly would the Plow go, would you but ſet both your Hands of Prayer and Obedience to aſſiſt us in that Work. You

You have now as bleſſed an Opportunity as your Souls can deſire; yea, that very Seaſon of Mercy ſome of you have a long time anxiouſly deſired. You have confeſſed to God, that you once ſinned us out of our Pulpits; God forbid you ſhould next ſin us into our Graves.

If you be wanton Children at a full Table, our Enemies are not ſo far off, but God can quickly call them in to cure your Wantonneſs, by taking away the Cloath.

The Stewards of Chriſt provide choice Diſhes for you, even Feaſts of Fat Things full of Marrow; and ſerve it into your Souls upon the Knee of Prayer in due Seaſon. Have a care of deſpiſing it, if at any time the Diſhes be not garniſhed as you expect, with curious Figures, and Flowers of Rhetorick.

The Lord give you hungry Appetites, ſound Digeſtions, and thriving Souls; then ſhall ye be our Crown of Rejoycing, and we yours in the Day of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt: To the Word of whoſe Grace I commend you all, wnich is able to build you up, and give you an Inheritance among them that are ſanctified.

A Double Scheme, or Table:

Containing in the Firſt Column,

The SINS moſt incident to the Members of Particular Churches, plainly forbidden in the Word, and for which GOD ſets Marks of his Diſpleaſure on them.

And in the Second,

The DUTIES enjoined on them in the Scripture; in the Conſcientious Diſcharge whereof, they receive ſignal Fruits of his Favour.

I. Sin. THE Firſt and more General Sin of Church-Members, is, a Defect in their Care and Circumſpection, to prevent all juſt Offences to them that are without; forbidden Col. 4. 5. Walk in Wiſdom towards them which are without. By a careleſs diſregard of this Rule, we harden the Wicked in their Sins, bring Guilt upon our ſelves, and Reproach upon the Name and Ways of God.

II. Sin. The Second and more Particular Sin of ſome Church-Members, is Idleneſs, and Neglect of their Civil Callings; againſt the expreſs Rule, 2 Theſ. 3. 11, 12. There are ſome which walk among you diſorderly, working not at all: Such we command and exhort by our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, that with quietneſs they work, and eat their own Bread. This brings Poverty on Themſelves, and Scandal on Religion.

III. Sin. The Third Sin is Tale-bearing, and revealing the Secrets of Families, and Perſons; whence many Strifes ariſe, to the cooling and quenching of mutual Love; expreſly forbidden, Lev. 19. 16. Thou ſhalt not go up and down as a Tale-bearer among thy People. And 1 Tim. 5. 12. Not only idle, but Tatlers alſo, and Buſy-Bodies, ſpeaking things which they ought not.

IV. Sin. The Fourth Sin is an eaſie Credulity of private Whiſpers, and raſh Cenſures thereupon. This we ought not to do againſt the meaneſt Member, 2 Cor. 12. 20. Leſt there be debates, envyings, wraths, ſtrifes, backbitings, whiſperings, &c. Much leſs againſt Church Officers, 1 Tim. 5. 19. Againſt an Elder receive not an Accuſation, but before two or three Witneſſes. This ſtrikes at the Bond of Peace.

V. Sin. Their Fifth Sin is in their neglect of God's Ordinances upon ſlight Diverſions, when they

I. Duty. THeir Firſt Duty, is, To be often together in Acts of Chriſtian Communion, Mal. 3. 16. Then they that feared the Lord, ſpake often one to another, &c. Such Meetings for Prayer, Repetition of Sermons, and Chriſtian Conference, greatly conduce to mutual Edification; which is the Principal Intention of Chriſtian Fellowſhip, Eph. 4. 15, 16.

II. Duty. Their Second Duty, is, To follow and back the great Deſign of the Goſpel in the World, and therein aſſiſt the Publick Miniſtry, by their private and prudent helping on the Converſion of the carnal and careleſs World, Phil. 4. 3. Help thoſe Women that laboured with me in the Goſpel, &c. For the Lord Jeſus Chriſt's ſake, and for the love of the Spirit, ſtrive together with me, Rom. 15. 30.

III. Duty. Their Third Duty is, Humble Condeſcention to the Infirmities of their weaker Brethren, and denying themſelves in what they can, without Sin, that they give them no offence, Rom. 15. 1. We then that are ſtrong, ought to bear the Infirmities of the weak, and not to pleaſe our ſelves. And Verſe 2. Let every one of us pleaſe his Neighbour for his good to edification.

IV. Duty. Their Fourth Duty, is, To be exceeding tender of the Churches Unity, both in Judgment, Love, and Practice; avoiding (as much as may be, and as far as the Goſpel Rule allows) all Cauſes and Occaſions of Diviſion and Separation, Rom. 16. 17. Mark them which cauſe Diviſions and Offences, and avoid them. And Phil. 2. 1, 2. If there be any Conſolation in Chriſt, &c. be ye like minded.

V. Duty. Their Fifth Duty, is, A reſpectful Carriage towards the meaneſt Chriſtian, and to have higher they are neither disabled by Works of Necessity or Mercy; contrary to Heb. 10. 25. Not forsaking the assembling of our selves together, as the manner of some is. Trivial Occasions should divert no Christian from attending upon God's Ordinances.

VI. Sin. The Sixth Sin is a defect in Zeal for God's Ordinances, manifest in their Dilatory Attendance; contrary to Psal. 122. 1. I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the House of the Lord. And unsuitable to their first Practice, Gal. 4. 15. Where is then the Blessedness? &c.

VII. Sin. The Seventh Sin is Irreverence, and want of Seriousness under Ordinances; contrary to Psal. 89. 7. God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the Saints: And to be had in reverence of all that are round about him. And this is manifest in vain Attires, 1 Cor. 11. 10. The Woman ought to have power on her Head, because of the Angels. And unseemly Postures and Gestures, Eccles. 5. 1. Keep thy Foot, when thou goest to the House of God; and be more ready to hear, than to give the Sacrifice of Fools.

VIII. Sin. The Eighth Sin reprovable in them, is, The neglect of giving and taking due Reproofs each from other; contrary to Lev. 19. 17. Thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy Neighbour, and not suffer Sin upon him. And Christ's own Rule, Mat. 18. 15. Go, and tell him his Fault between thee and him alone. And so for taking, see Psal. 141. 5. Let the Righteous smite me, &c.

IX. Sin. The Ninth Sin, is, Mutual Strifes and Animosities, not seasonably and prudently composed among themselves, but scandalously exposed to the View of the World; contrary to the Apostle's Rule, 1 Cor. 6. 5, 6. Is there not a wise Man among you, &c. But Brother goeth to Law with Brother, and that before the Unbelievers? Now therefore, there is utterly a Fault among you.

X. Sin. Their Tenth Sin, is, The Privateness of their Spirits, centring too much in their own Concerns; expressly condemned, Phil. 2. 21. All seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's. And contrary to Scripture-Example, 2 Cor. 11. 29. Who is weak, and I am not weak? Who is offended, and I burn not?

higher esteem of others than themselves. External things make no difference with Christ, Rom. 12. 10. In honour preferring one another. Gal. 3. 28. Ye are all one in Christ Jesus. Yet a Decorum is to be kept suitable to Civil Differences, Eph. 5. 21. Submitting your selves to one another in the fear of God.

VI. Duty. Their Sixth Duty, is meekly to receive Reproofs from each other for their Sins, especially when the matter is just, and the manner of delivering it regular. Let the righteous smite me, it shall be a kindness: And let him reprove me, it shall be an excellent oyl, &c.

VII. Duty. Their Seventh Duty, is, To communicate their Spiritual Stock of Gifts, Graces, and Experiences, not interfering with Publick Offices, nor by sinful Partiality including some, and excluding many others (to whom it is as due, and who may have more need) from the Benefit thereof, 1 Pet. 4. 10. As every Man hath received the Gift, even so minister the same one to another. 1 Tim. 5. 21. Observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

VIII. Duty. Their Eighth Duty is chearfully to communicate their outward Good Things for the Relief of their Brethren, Heb. 13. 16. To do good, and to communicate forget not. And the better to enable them hereunto, to be diligent in their Callings, Eph. 4. 28. Working with his hands, that he may have to give to him that needeth. And especially to make comfortable Provision for their Ministers, not by way of Courtesie but Duty, 1 Cor. 9. 14. Even so hath God ordained, That they which preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel.

IX. Duty. Their Ninth Duty is, Not only to relieve the distressed Members of Christ, but to seek out, and visit them; to know their Spiritual and Temporal Wants, in order to the full Discharge of that Duty, James 1. 27. Pure Religion and undefiled before God, and the Father, is this, To visit the Fatherless and Widows in their affliction, &c.

X. Duty. Their Tenth Duty, is, To put charitable Constructions upon doubtful Words and Actions; and if either will admit a double Sense, always to take it in the fairest, according to the Law of Charity, 1 Cor. 13. 7. Charity beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. And such a Charity will defend and maintain Church-Peace and Unity.

Six BENEFITS of Walking by these RULES.

I. Ben. STrict and heedful Attendance to these Rules, will put a Lustre upon Religion before the World, and make it glorious in the Eyes of such as now despise it. Tit. 2. 10. Adorn the Doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. Which he here speaks, to encourage all to ordinate Walking.

II. Ben. This will allure and win the World over to Christ, and wonderfully prosper and further the Design of the Gospel, Phil. 2. 15, 16. That ye may be blameless and harmless, the Sons of God without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse Nation, &c. That I may rejoyce in the Day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

III. Ben. This will effectually stop the Mouths of all the detracting and blaspheming Enemies of Religion, 1 Pet. 2. 15. For so is the Will of God, that with well-doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men.

IV. Ben This will eminently glorify God; which is the ultimate End of our Beings, Mat. 5. 16. Let your Light so shine before Men, that they may see your good Works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven.

V. Ben. This will fill the People of God (by way of Evidence) with much inward Peace, Gal. 6. 16. And as many as walk according to this Rule, Peace be on them, and Mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

VI. Ben. This will secure the Presence of God with, and among us; whence results both the Efficacy of Ordinances, and the Stability and Glory of the Churches: For Christ walks among the Golden Candlesticks, and threatens the Churches, in case of Defection from Gospel Rules, to remove the Candlestick out of his place, except they repent, Rev. 2. 1, 5.

The End of the Second VOLUME.

A TABLE of Scriptures Illuſtrated in the Second Volume where Note, That thoſe which have a Star before 'em, are inſiſted on in ſet Diſcourſes.

N. B. After Page 308, by Miſtake of the Preſs, the Numbering of the Pages is begun again, and twice repeated; the Former of which are Noted, by ſetting the ſaid Number in a Parentheſis before them thus (308.) And the Latter, by putting alſo this † Mark before them thus (308) † which is to be obſerv'd in both Tables.

Geneſis.

Gen. iv. 7. - (308) 57
xxiv. 12 - (308) 58
xxxix. 9. (308) † 62

Exodus.

Exod. xxi. 22. - - 41
xxv. 21, 22. - 99
xxxiii. 15.-(308) 57

Leviticus.

Levit. xxvi. 23, 24. - 12

Numbers.

Num. xii. 24.-(308) † 90
xiv. 19. - 61, (308) 57
xxxii 23. - - 166 (308) 57

Deuteronomy.

Deut. * iii. 24, 25. - 114
* viii. 17, 18. -(308) 75
* xxxiii. 19. - (308) 84

Judges.

Judg. v. 6, 7, 11. 116
x. 11, 12, 13. (308) 48

Samuel.

Sam. xiii. 12. — 108
I Sam. xv. 25, 26. - 193
* xxiii. 5. - - 531

I. Kings.

King xviii. 44. - - 164

II. Kings.

King v. 1--4. -- - 149

II Chron.

II Chron. xv. 2. - - - 11
* xxxv. 24, 25. -546

Job.

Job ii. 5. - - (308) † 74, 75
vi. 2-4. - - 534
x. 2. - (308) † 91
xxi. 11-13. -(308) † 56
xxii. 28. (308) 78
xxviii. 19. -- 161
xxxv. 9, 10. -- 35, 36

Pſalms.

Pſal. i. 4, 5. - - - 281
iv. 8. - - - 179
xviii. 1. - - -172
xix. 13. -(308) † 66
xxv. 11. - - - 61
xxvii. 4. - - 99
xxvii. 7-9. - -103
xxxiv. 5. - - 101
* xl. 8. - - - 680
xliv. 3. - - - 124
li. 4. - (308) † 62, 63
* lvii. 2. - - - 136
lxvi. 12. - - 122
lxviii. 18. - - 48
lxix. 12. (308) 37
lxxiv. 14. - - 163
lxxviii. 25. - 277
lxxxi. 11, 12. - - - - 40
lxxxv. 10. - 173
* lxxxix. 7. - - 657
* cvii. 23-27.-(308) 63
cxix. 32. - - 102
45. - - 101
92. - - 534
cxxvi. 1-3. - 124
* cxxxix. 9, 10. -- (308) 68
15, 16. - - 143
cxliv. 3. - - -162

Proverbs.

Prov. i. 24, 26. - - 31
ii. 18, 19. - (308) 44
* iv. 23. - - (308) † 4
vii. 22. - - -(308) 44
xvi. 3. - - - 193
xxiii. 29, 30.-(308) 36
xxvii. 21. -- 161

Eccleſiaſtes.

Eccleſ. vii. 26. - (308) 44
ix. 11. (308) 76

Canticles.

Cant. * iii. 11. - - - 732
* viii. 6. - - - 687

Iſaiah.

Iſa. i. 2. - --(308) 48
v. 5. - - - - 33
ix. 5. - - - 123
xvii. 10, 11. (308) 48
xxvii. 9. - - 181
xxix. 15, 16. (308) 70
xxx. 20. - - - 42
xxxiii. 24. - -536
xl. 1, 2. - - - 84
xliv. 22. - - - 59
xlvi. 8. - - - 699
xlix. 13, 14. - 186
li. 1. - - - 37, 56
lv. 6-8. - - - 21
lv. 7-9. - - - 55
lv. 8 9. - - - 59
lxvi. 8, 9. - - 121

Jeremiah.

Jer. iii. iv. - - - 178
v. 1. - - - - 700
* xii. 2. - - - 660
xiii. 23. - - - 18
xxii. 21, 22. - 38
xxiii. 29. - - 37
xxx. 11. - - -279
xxxi. 33, 34.-536

Ezekiel.

Ezek. i. 18. - - - 179
xxxvi. 37.--(308) 58
xlvii. 9, 10.-72, 247

Daniel.

Daniel xi. 33-35. - - 181

Hoſea.

Hoſ. ii. 6. - - - - 158
8. - - - - 182
iv. 11. -(308) 36
iv. 17. - - - 40
ix. 12. - - - - 15
xi. 4. - - - - 36
9. - - - - 27
xiii. 5, 6. -- 191

Amos.

Amos iv. 12, - - - 500
vii. 1. - - - 500
viii. 11. - - 258
ix. 9, 10. - - 281

Jonah.

Jonah iv. 2. - - 28, 216

Micah.

Micah vi. 5. - - - 163
6. - - - - 61
9. - - - - 172
vii. 18, 19. - 60

Habakkuk.

Habak. ii. 3.-173, 185, 186
iii. 3, 4. - 174
iii. 16--19. - 214

Zechariah.

Zech. vii. 5. - - 93
viii. 23 - - 98
* xii. 10. - - 683
xiv. 7. - - 131
20. - - 132

Matthew.

Matth. iii. 9. - - 40
iii. 12. - 280, 281
vi. 12. - (308) 57
x. 37, 38. - 56
xi. 16, 17. - 39
xiv. 9. - - 108
xv. 26, 27. - 55
xvi. 8--11. - 175
xvi. 26. - - 29
xviii. 7. - - 502
11. - 293
xxi. 32 - - 73
xxiii. 2, 3. - 210
xxiv. 14. - - 7
* xxiv. 45--47. - 741

Mark.

Mark * ix. 24. - - 676
41. - - 113
xvi. 20. - - 13

Luke.

Luke * v. 5. - (308) 79
* vii. 8. - (308) † 87
x. 21. - - 45
xii. 47. - (308) 49
xviii. 11. - (308) † 49
xxi. 15. - - 13

John.

John * i. 29. - - 669
iii. 36. - (308) 51
iv. 6, 34. - 46
vi. 37, 38. - 58
* vi. 55. - 684
vii. 37. - - 37
xi. 26. - (308) 50
xii. 32. - - 48
xiv. 2. - - 49
xv. 5. - - 192
xvi. 1, 2, 4. - 52

Acts.

Acts viii. 37. - 57
xi. 23. - - 204
xiii. 10. - - 42
* xxi. 5, 6. - (308) 56
* xxi. 13. - 495
xxvi. 16. - - 7

Romans.

Rom. * i. 18. - - 105
ii. 4. - - - 38
4, 5. - - 26
vi. 19. - - 63
vii. 4. - 47, 48
* vii. 21. - - 662
viii. 3. - - 45
viii. 28. - (308) 26
* viii. 32. - - 673
x. 4. - - - - 637
xi. 22. - - 26
xii. 9. - (308) † 62
xv. 30. - - 20

I Corinthians.

I Cor. i. 10. - - 629
vii. 29, 30. - (308) 88.
xi. 30. - 658, 659
xv. 55. - - 536

II Corinthians.

II Cor. xii. 7. - - 180

Galatians.

Gal. iii. 13. - - 47
v. 16. - - 100

Ephesians.

Eph. * i. 13. - - 666
* iii. 19. - - 690
iv. 6. - - 538
iv. 26, 27, 30. - - -(308) † 26, 27
vi. 12. - - 39, 40

Philippians.

Philip. iii. 20. - - 102

I Thessalonians.

I. Thes. iv. 6. - - 111
iv. 13, &c. - 540

I Timothy.

I Tim. vi. 9. - - 111

Titus.

Tit. i. 2. - - - 44

Hebrews.

Heb. viii. 13. - 536
xii. 5. - (308) † 88
xiii. 4. - (308) 43, 716
9. - (308) † 35
20. - - 675

James.

Jam. i. 24. - 53, 118
v. 7--9. - (308) † 25

I Peter.

I Pet. iii. 19. - - 31
iv. 12. - (308) † 71

II Peter.

II Pet. iii. 9. - 150, 185
15. - - 25

I John.

I John ii. 1, 2. - - 49
iv. 10. - - - - 48

Revelations.

Rev. iii. 7. - - 36
* iii. 17, 18. - (308) † 44
* iii. 20. - - 6--105
vi. 8. - (308) 50
vi. 9--11. - - 28
xi. 6, 7. - - - - 7
xii. 1. - - - 120
xiii. 10. - (308) 57

An

An Alphabetical TABLE of the Principal Matters contain'd in the Second Volume.

A.

ADam, How all Men fell in him, Explain'd and Improv'd 568
Adoption. The Nature and Properties of it Open'd and Improv'd 579
Adultery, The great Evil and Danger of it (308) 42-45. vid. Uncleanneſs
Afar-off, How God underſtands our Thoughts ſo (308) 68
Afflictions, are ſometimes very heavy 534
How far we may complain under them 551
The great Evil of murmuring under them, 551, 552, vid. Sufferings
Appetite, Signs of our Spiritual One being right 687
Application, (of Chriſt) Explain'd and Improv'd 575, 576
Arable-Ground, Soul improving Meditations upon it 242-244
Aſſembly's-Catechiſm, The ſeveral Things in it Explain'd and Apply'd 555-628
Aſſurance of Salvation, On what Grounds a ſincere Chriſtian builds it (308) † 75
Of God's Love; ſeveral Queſtions and Anſwers for Explaining and Improving of it 580
Of Chriſt's Love, moſt deſirable to Believers 687, 688
Directions for Obtaining and Securing it, 689, vid. Love of Chriſt
Autumn, Soul-profiting Meditations upon gathering Fruits in it, 286, vid. Fruits.

B.

BAd-Ground, Edifying Meditations on the Improvement of it 244-246
The Improvement of it ſpiritualiz'd in a Poem 246, 247
An awakening Meditation on the Incurableneſs of ſome ſuch 247--249
Baptiſm, Queſtions and Anſwers concerning the Nature of it 613, 614
The ſeveral Kinds of Subjects, on whom 'tis to be Adminiſtered 614, 615
Of Infants, vindicated againſt Mr. Philip Cary 646-655
Barren-Ground, A Soul awakening Meditation concerning it 247--249
Barrenneſs, (Spiritual) The Dreadfulneſs of this Judgment 247, 248
Bars, Thoſe which ſhut up the Hearts of Sinners againſt Chriſt 17, 18
The Strength of thoſe which bar up Sinners Hearts 18, 19
How glorioufly Grace appears in removing them from the Heart 19
Beaſts, Meditation upon clogging of them when they go aſtray 303, 304
Bedford, (William Duke of) the Author's Epiſtle to him 133, 134
Believing in Chriſt, a wonderful Work of Grace 76
Believers, how far true Grace may fail in them 245
Bibles, what a Bleſſing 'tis to enjoy them 542
Birds, Meditations upon the early ſinging of them 303
Meditation on their being catch'd with a Hair Ibid.
Birds-Neſts, a uſeful Meditation on the curious Frame of ſome 302, 303
Birth, how Providence appears in the Place and Time of it 144, 145
Bleſſedneſs, the Perfection of it explain'd and improv'd 586, 587
Bradford, a remarkable Expreſſion of his before his Martyrdom 495
Bread, what is meant by it in the Lord's Prayer 623
Our praying for daily Bread, explain'd and improv'd 624
Brittain, the Excellency of it beyond many other Nations 145
What Reaſon we have to bleſs God for being Born in it 145, 146

C.

CAlling, vid. Effectual Calling
Callings, (civil) How the Wiſdom of Providence appears in ordering them 153, 154
God ſometimes blaſts Mens greateſt Induſtry in them (308) 80
Why Providence frequently diſappoints People in them (308) 80. 81
Candle, what is meant by the Phraſe of God's lighting it 484
Canute, (King of England) a remarkable Story of him (308) 20
Cattel, a Meditation on the Husbandman's Care of them 290
Thoughts on the hard Labour, and cruel Uſage of ſome of them 291
Meditation upon ſeeking 'em when loſt 293
Obſervations and Reflections on fattening of them 294, 295
A Poem on preparing them for Slaughter 295, 296
Cary, (Mr. Philip) Mr. Flavel's Defence of Infant-Baptiſm againſt him 629--655
His Three Poſitions concerning the Covenant of Sinai, &c. conſider'd 631, 632
Chaff, how the Wicked are compared to it 280, 281
Children, how much it concerns them to improve a Religious Education 148
Chriſt, his Earneſtneſs in ſuing to Sinners 44 vid. Earneſtneſs
The wonderful Condeſcenſion of his Grace towards Sinners 51
The great Advantages gain'd by receiving him 51, 52
Directions for cloſing with him in the Goſpel-way 54, 55
What is imply'd and included in a Willingneſs to receive him 56-58

His Willingneſs to receive the vileſt Sinners, demonſtrated 58--60
How his Voice opens the Hearts of Sinners 66
vid. Voice
His coming in, not hinder'd by the Unworthineſs of penitent Sinners 83, 84
What Bleſſings he brings with him into the Soul 84--87
Why he brings his Entertainment with him 88
His Offices explain'd and improv'd 572
vid. Offices
His Humiliation explain'd and improv'd 574
How a Sinners Eſpouſal to him, is repreſented by the Coronation of a King 734, 735
Why he rejoices in Sinners yielding to his Government 736
Motives to a Submiſſion to his Government 738, 739
Church, the Proſperity of it very deſirable 123
The beſt Saints may be deny'd a Sight of its outward Glory Ibid.
Civiliz'd People, a ſerious Application to them 65
Comfort, none that is real to be had without ſerious Religion 89
Directions for continuing and increaſing of it 91, 92
Commandments, vid. Ten Commandments
Coming in (of Chriſt) what is intended by it 83
Believers Unworthineſs is no Hinderance to it 83, 84
The Bleſſings which are conſequent upon it 84--87
Communion (with Chriſt) the Reality of it aſſerted 92, 93
Several Kinds of it enumerated 93
What it is not 93, 94
What is preſuppos'd in it 94
(With God) conſiſts in contemplating his Attributes, 94, 95. And in exerciſing of Grace under Divine Providences 96
Ten Evidences proving the Reality of it 96--98
Twenty ſeveral Excellencies of it enumerated 98--102
Several uſeful Inferences from the Doctrine of it 102, 103
Directions for attaining the higheſt Degrees of it 103, 104
Compaſs, The Neceſſity of it in Navigation Spiritualiz'd (308) 16, 17
vid. Mariner's Compaſs
Concealment. Many encourage themſelves in Sin, by the Hope of it (308) 69
The Vanity of hoping for it, in Sinning againſt God, (308) 69--71 vid. Secrecy Condition, The Nature of an Evangelical one 642 Faith is that of the Goſpel-Covenant 643
vid. Covenant
Conſcience, The Nature of it explain'd 107
What the Light of it is 107, 108
How it urges the Soul to Obedience 108
How 'tis hinder'd in its Work by Mens Corruptions 108, 109
Shame and Pride are great Reſtraints upon it 109
How its Convictions of Ungodlineſs are Impriſon'd 110, 111
How its Convictions of Unrighteouſneſs are reſtrain'd 111, 112
How its Convictions of Uncleanneſs are ſometimes ſilenced 112
How its Convictions of Sin for not reproving others are render'd ineffectual 112, 113
How its Convictions of Uncharitableneſs are reſtrain'd 113
How its Convictions of miſ-ſpending Time are too often maſter'd ibid
Why ſtifling its Convictions are highly provoking to God 113, 114
The Valuableneſs of a tender one 114, 115
Improvements of the Doctrine concerning it 114-116
Motives to cloſe in with the Convictions of it 116, 117
Serious Queſtions propounded for the awakening of it 117, 118
Directions for making it our Friend 118--120
How 'tis repreſented by the Helm of a Ship (308) 6, 7
A Preface perſuading to hearken to it 697
Contentment, Arguments to perſwade both the Unregenerate, and the Regenerate to it, under all Providences 169, 170
Why good Men have it 242, 243
Queries to excite good Men to abound in it 243, 244
The Nature, Poſſibility and Neceſſity of it 601, 602
Converſion, A glorious Work of Grace 19
The Neceſſity of it to Salvation ſhewn 19, 20
What Sinners themſelves may do towards it 20, 21
How God's Providence appears in ordering the Means of it 148--153
The Nature of the Change wrought by it 507
'Tis a real Change in the whole Man 507, 508
How it prepares for choice Services and Sufferings 509
The evidencing of it a neceſſary Preparative for Sufferings, 510, vid. Evidence
The Poſſibility of it in the vileſt of Sinners 724--726
That of profane Sinners highly probable 726, 727
How 'tis frequently and fatally miſtaken 727
The Nature of that which is real 727, 728
The Hazards which attend it, and the abſolute Neceſſity of it 728
All might do more than they do towards it 728, 729
Temptations and Diſcouragements in the way of it 729
Several weighty Conſiderations perſwading to it 729--731
Convictions of Sin, How to be improved 41
General Ones concerning Men's Eſtate 108, 109
More particular Ones concerning Ungodlineſs, 110 and Unrighteouſneſs 111
Of Conſcience, The Danger of ſtifling them 116, 117
vid. Conſcience
Corn, The Danger of it between Sowing and Harveſt ſpiritualiz'd 265--267
Corn-Land, Meditations upon the plowing of it 249--252
Coronation, A Sermon on the Occaſion of that of King William, &c. 732--740
How a Soul's eſpouſal to Chriſt is repreſented by it 734--736
Why that of Chriſt is joyful to him 736
Several uſeful Inferences concerning that of Chriſt 736--740
Corruption (finful) Works in the beſt Chriſtians 662, 663
Why it works moſt in Religious Duties 663, 664
Reaſons why its working in Duties is very grievous to good Men 664

Instructions resulting from the working of it in Holy Duties 664, 665
Rules to prevent its totally spoiling our religious Services 665
Comforts to those who lament it 665, 666
Covenant (of Grace) The Comfort it yields under Trouble (308) † 100, 481
Several excellent Properties of it explain'd 532
Those who are interested in it may be expos'd to great Afflictions 533
'Tis able to remove all the Grounds of a Believer's Trouble 535
It disarms Afflictions of their Sting, and turns them into a Blessing 535, 536
It makes Calamities work for the Christian's Salvation 537
It secures God's Presence to Believers in their Distresses 538
It secures the Believer's Happiness from all Hazards 539
It assures God's People that their Afflictions are the Strokes of Love 539, 540
'Tis everlasting, and yields everlasting Comfort 540
'Tis sure to those who are interested in it 541
Their Condition deplorable who have no Title to it 542
Believers should study it much 543
How our Interest in it must be known 544
An Explication and Improvement of it 570
The Conditionality of it explain'd and confirm'd 642--645
Covenant (of Works) The Nature of it explain'd, with Improvements 566
That of Sinai not the same with it 634--638
How it differ'd from that of Circumcision 638--642
Covetousness, The Nature and Mischief of it 602
Courage, The Necessity of it to prepare for Sufferings 514, vid. Fortitude
Creation, The Nature of it consider'd and improv'd 564
That of Man more particularly explain'd and improv'd 565
Crucify'd, Christ may be said to be so three ways 656

D.

DEad-Trees, Meditations on cutting them down, 288, vid. Trees
Death, How the Consideration of Divine Providence is useful in it 181, 182
Awakening Cautions against making Light of it (308) 50
Serious Questions and Answers concerning Preparation for it (308) 50--53
Wherein Preparation for it consists (308) 50-53
Considerations to raise a Christian above the Fear of it (308) † 33--35
A suppos'd Mistake about Means to prevent it should not cause excessive Grief 490
How that of good Men is not, and how 'tis to be lamented 547, 548
How Believers are perfected by it 583
Dearth, (thro' want of Rain) The terribleness of this Judgment 258
Meditation, and a Poem upon the Dreadfulness of it in a Spiritual Sense, 258--261, vid. Famine
Decays of Fruitfulness, may be great in a Christian 244
Encouragements to endeavour a Recovery from them 245
Deceivers, (of themselves) The Danger of being such (308) † 46
There are too many such among Professors (308) † 46, 47
Four Causes of Men's being such (308) † 47--49
Cautions in reference to the abounding of such (308) † 49
Warnings to Professors to take heed of being such (308) † 49, 50
Directions to those who are satisfy'd they are not so (308) † 50, 51
Decrees of God, The Properties of them explain'd and improv'd 563, 564
Deeds, (written) Meditations upon Men's Care to prove and preserve them, 297, 298, vid. Husbandman
Deer, A Meditation on the hunting of one 304
Delays, The Danger of making them in Religion (308) 52, vid. Repentance Delight, (in spiritual Duties) When 'tis of the right Kind 241
'Tis very reasonable, and the Want of it to be lamented 240, 241
That of Christ in our Redemption, confirm'd, explain'd and improv'd 680--682
Deliverance, What Things render it truly great 124, 125
What Sense it becomes us to have of it 125, 126
Useful Instructions from ours at the Revolution 126, 127
The Beginnings of One, yield Arguments in Prayer for compleating it 128
What further Mercies it gives Ground to hope for 128, 129
How it encourages the Prayers of God's People 129, 130
The Wickedness of those who murmur at it 130, 131
Directions for the due Improvement of it 131, 132
Deliverances, A Relation of some remarkable Ones at Sea 195--202
Dependance on Christ, necessary to fit us for Sufferings 523, 524
Despair, A remarkable Providence toward one in it 152
Difficulties of Religion are usually greatest at the beginning 89
Disappointments, (in Men's Callings) several Causes of them mention'd and explained (308) 80
Divers Sins which sometimes are the procuring Cause of them (308) 81
Several Considerations to quiet our Minds under them (308) 82, 83
We should especially take heed of eternal Ones (308) 83, 84
Discontent, Considerations to fortify the Mind against it 243, 244
Dog, Meditation on his Love to his Master 304
Domestick Evils, The best Men are liable to them 532
How the Covenant of Grace relieves under them 532, 533, vid. Covenant
Doubtful Providences, How we may know our way in them 184, 185
Doubting Seasons, How we should keep our Hearts in them (308) † 29, 30, vid. Heart
Drunkenness, An elegant Description of it, from St. Austin (308) 35
'Twas odious to many of the Heathen ibid
The exceeding Evil and Danger of it shewn in Ten Particulars (308) 35--38

How 'tis condemn'd by natural Reason and Conscience 711--716 Duty of Man to God, wherein it consists 587
vid. Obedience
Duties of Religion, how Sincerity is discover'd by the Performance of 'em (308) † 67--70
What Seriousness is requir'd in them 657--660
Signs of drawing near to God in them 660--662
How Corrupatons work in the Saints Performance of them 662--665
Four Rules to prevent their being spoil'd by Corruptions 665
Encouragements to them, notwithstanding the Workings of Corruptions 665, 666
Duties and Sins of Professors, a double Scheme of them 751, 752

E.

EArnest of the Spirit, the Nature and Excellency of it open'd 87
Earnestness (of Christ) in desiring the Salvation of Sinners, evidenc'd 44--49
Several useful Inferences drawn from it 50, 51
Effectual Calling, Questions and Answers for explaining and improving it 577
What are the Concomitants of it 577, 578
Election to eternal Life, several Questions and Answers for explaining it 569, 570
End of Man, Questions and Answers concerning his chief and inferior End 555, 556 England, the Danger of Popery prevailing in it 218--222
vid. Popery
Its Duty after eminent Deliverances, largely shewn 1--105 Enjoyment of the Gospel, a great Mercy 60, 61
vid. Gospel
Of God, the Fulness of it explain'd and improv'd 586, 587
Enmity to Godliness, condemn'd by natural Reason and Conscience 719--724
Estate, Meditation on Mens Care for securing their Temporal one 297--299
Trouble for want of Heirs to enjoy it, consider'd 491, 492
Eternal, Questions and Answers about God's being so 558, 559
Evidence of Conversion, Six Things shewing the Nature of it 510
The Necessity of it to prepare us for Sufferings 510, 511
Several Rules for attaining it, and prevent Mistakes about it 511, 512
Exaltation of Christ explain'd and improv'd 574, 575
Examination of our selves, several Motives to it (308) † 78--80
Rules to prevent Christians from being over severe in it (308) † 80--82
Rules to prevent Hypocrites from deceiving themselves in it (308) † 82, 83 Several useful Advices in Relation to it (308) † 83, 84
vid. Trial
Eye, of the many Guards it has to secure it 158 Margin.

F.

FAith (in Christ) a wonderful Work of Grace 76
Three Things which evidence the Difficulty of it 77
The excellent Properties of it, when true 81, 82.
Faith, the Necessity of strengthening it, to prepare for Sufferings 512
How it strengthens the Believer for Difficulties 512, 513
Several Means whereby it is strengthen'd 513, 514
God governs his People by it 542
Questions and Answers concerning this and Obedience 557
Several instructive Queries and Replies concerning that which is saving 606, 607
The least Measure of that which is saving, highly valuable 677
The Weakness of it cost Believers many Tears and Sorrows, 678, 679 vid. Saving Faith
Faithfulness of God, the Nature and Properties of it 562, vid. Truth
How 'tis to be exercis'd by Ministers in their Work 742 743
How this and Prudence should be mingled together in the Ministerial Work 747
Fall of Man, confirm'd, illustrated and improv'd 566, 567
False-Worship, the Evil and Danger of it 207, 208
vid. Idolatry, vid. Superstition
Family, what a special Mercy 'tis to be brought forth in a Religious one 146, 147
How we should endeavour to promote Religion in our own 211, 212
A declining one lamented as a great Affliction 533, 534
Famine of God's Word, The Nature and Dreadfulness of it 258--261
Finch, a Meditation upon the Singing of a blind one 302
Finches, Meditation on shooting Two of them when fighting in the Air 302 Fishes, God's Providence to be observ'd in the Plenty and Variety of them (308) 21, 22
The greater devouring the lesser, is an Emblem of Oppressors (308) 24, 25
Fishermen, Their Art is an Emblem of Satan's Subtilties (308) 22, 23
Flavel, (the Author) his Epistle to Robert and William Savery, Esqrs 228--230
Poems to him on his Husbandry, Spiritualiz'd 231
His Epistle to the Country-Reader 232
His Poem to the Reader 233
His Reply to Mr. Philip Cary, concerning Infant-Baptism 631--655
Flowers, a Meditation on the sudden withering of them 308
Meditation on the Tenderness of some Choice ones Ibid.
Forgiveness, the Petition for it in the Lord's Prayer, explain'd and improv'd 625, 626
Fornication, the great Evil and Danger of it (308) 42
vid. Uncleanness
Fortitude, the Necessity of it to prepare for Sufferings 514
The Nature of it open'd in several Particulars 515
Ten Rules for attaining and increasing of it 515, 516
Frederick (Sir John) the Author's Epistle to him, &c. (308) 33

Fruit-Trees, a Meditation on the ingrafting of them 282 vid. Ingrafting Fruits, a Meditation on gathering them in 286, 287

G.

GArden, Meditation on the new modelling of one 306
A Meditation on a heedleſs Tread in a curious one 307
Gerſon, a remarkable Obſervation of his 495
Glorification of Believers at Death, confirm'd and improv'd 583, 584
God, his Nature and Attributes explain'd and improv'd 557--563
He is preſent with his People in their Afflictions Two ways 538
The full Enjoyment of him explain'd and improv'd 586, 587
Godly-Sorrow, how the Contemplation of Chriſt's Sufferings produces it 683, 684
The Truth of it diſcover'd by ſeveral Rules 684
Gold, true Grace fitly compar'd to it for its Excellency, (308) † 51 vid. Grace
Good Men, how their Death ſhould not be lamented 547,
Several Reaſons why their Death ſhould be lamented 547, 548
A Reproof for not lamenting their Death, or not doing it aright 548
Uſeful Advices to thoſe who are mourning for the Death of ſuch 550--553
Good-Name, our Duty in Reference to that of others, or our own 601
Goodly Mountain, what Moſes meant by it in his Prayer 122
Goodneſs of God, the Properties and Evidences of it explain'd 561, 562
Goſpel, 'tis too much wanting in many Sermons 5
The Tenders of it are recorded, and will be witneſſed in the great Day 7
The Enjoyment of it is an invaluable Mercy 60, 61
The Removal of it is a terrible Judgment 74
Grace, the wonderful Effects of it in Converſion 19 vid. Converſion
Wherein it excels the moſt excellent Gifts 253, 254
The Preciouſneſs of that which is true, ſet forth in ſeveral Particulars (308) † 51, 52
Uſeful Inferences concerning the Preciouſneſs of it (308) † 53, 54
How the Tryal of it is compar'd to that of Gold (308) † 54
A Diſcourſe of its Tryal is attended with various Difficulties (308) † 54, 55
Divers ways enumerated, by which the Sincerity of it is try'd (308) † 55--73
Proſperity is a great Tryal of the Truth of it (308) † 55--57
What Probation Adverſity makes of it (308) † 57--60
How Indwelling-Sin diſcovers the Soundneſs or Unſoundneſs of it (308) † 60--67
How 'tis tried by the Performance of Religious Duties (308) † 67--70
How the Sincerity of it is tried by Sufferings for Religion (308) † 70--73
Why God expoſes his People to ſo many Tryals of it (308) † 73--75
That which is inherent, is not preſerv'd by its own Strength (308) † 76
Want of trying it, is the Ruin of many Profeſſors (308) † 76, 77
The Neceſſity of it in the Heart to prepare it for Sufferings 505, 506
Wherein the Nature of that which is ſaving conſiſts 507, 508
How it prepares for Doing and Suffering 509
Clear Evidences of it are neceſſary to prepare for Sufferings 510, 511
Rules preſcrib'd for attaining the Evidences of it 511, 512
The Growth and Increaſe of it explain'd and improv'd 582
Graft, a Spiritual Improvement of its Union with the Stock 284--286

H.

HArveſt, a Meditation on the patient Expectation of it 267
The Seaſon of it Spiritualiz'd in ſeveral Inſtances 269--272
Meditation on the Joy occaſion'd by it 276--278
Hearing the Scribes and Phariſees, in what Senſe 'twas lawful 210
Heart, a general Account of the keeping of it (308) † 4, 5
Six Things included in the Keeping of it (308) † 5, 6
What kind of Work keeping it is (308) † 6
How keeping it conduces to the Honour of God (308) † 7 vid. Keeping
How it may be kept humble in Proſperity (308) † 10--12
How it may be kept from deſponding in Adverſity (308) † 12, 13
Means of ſettling it in the Time of Sion's Troubles (308) † 13--15
How it may be preſerv'd from diſtracting Fears in publick Dangers (308) † 15--18
Helps to its truſting God in a Time of Want (308) † 19--21
How it may be kept from vain Thoughts in Religious Duties (308) † 21--23
Eight Remedies againſt its revengeful Motions under Injuries (308) † 23--26
How it may be kept meek and patient under great Provocations (308) † 26, 27
Means of ſecuring it under ſtrong Temptations (308) † 27, 28
How it may be kept from deſponding under Deſertion and Doubts (308) † 28--31
Means of keeping it ſtedfaſt in Sufferings for Religion (308) † 31--33
How it may be reconcil'd to Death in a Time of Sickneſs (308) † 33--35
The keeping of it hinder'd by fruitleſs Controverſies and earthly Thoughts (308) † 35, 36
Ten Motives to engage our Diligence in keeping it (308) † 36--39
A Sixfold Means for keeping it rightly (308) † 39, 40
Encouragements to thoſe who diligently keep it (308) † 40, 41
How much the keeping and ſearching of it excels all other Studies (308) † 42, 43
Hearts of Men are naturally bary'd up againſt Chriſt 16

Several Bars which hinder Christ's entrance into them 17
God's special Grace necessary to open them 18
What Sinners may do towards opening them to Christ 20
Signs of their being open'd to the Lord Jesus 21, 22
The great Advantages of opening them to Christ 22--24, 43
Six Motives to open them to the Lord Jesus 42, 43
The great Benefits of Christ's coming into them 66, 66
Their not opening to Christ, an Argument of their wofulHardness 80
Heavenly-Mindedness, is a Duty under all Providences 169
Helm of a Ship, an Emblem of Conscience (308) 6, 7, vid. Ship
Hind, The Hunting of it, an Emblem of Christ's Suffering 304, 305
Holiness of God, The Nature of it explain'd and improv'd 560, 561
Honeywood, (Mrs.) A remarkable Providence concerning her 152
Horse, A Meditation concerning one in a fat Pasture 304
Humiliation of Christ, explain'd and improved 574
Husbandman, His Industry, a lively Emblem of the Christian Life 237, 238
The Advantages of his Diligence is an Encouragement to a Christian's Hope 239, 240
His Chearfulness, how teachable to a Christian 240, 241
His patient Waiting for Harvest spiritualiz'd, 267--269, vid. Harvest
A Meditation upon his Care for Posterity 296, 297
His Diligence in proving and preserving his Deeds, spiritually improv'd 297--299
Husbandry, How fitly the Church is call'd God's, shewn in Twenty Propositions 233-235
Useful Inferences from God's Church being his Husbandry 236, 237
How we may spiritualize the several Parts of it 237--308
Hypocrisy, The Vanity of thinking to hide it (308) † 77
Six Things thought, without Ground, necessary Signs of it (308) † 80, 81
Queries for discovering of it (308) † 81--83
Six false Tokens of being clear from it (308) † 82, 83
Seven Directions to preserve the Soul from it (308) † 83, 84
Hypocrites, How far they may be like sincere Christians 263--265
All their Pains in Religion are lost Labour (308) † 35

I.

IDle-Words, The Evil of indulging our selves in using them (308) 39
Rules for avoiding them (308) 41, 42
Idolatry, An earnest Dissuasive from it 204, 205
The Nature, and several Kinds of it 205--207
Arguments to engage our Care for avoiding it 207, 208
Ignorance, How 'tis a great Hindrance to Conversion 17
Impotency, The Unreasonableness of pleading it for Neglect of Duty (308) 52, 53
Incarnation of Christ, explain'd and improv'd 571, 572
Indwelling-Sin, How it discovers the Soundness or Unsoundness of our Hearts (308) † 60, 61
How far a Hypocrite may be restrained from it (308) † 61
How God's Children are kept from closing with it (308) † 61, 62
How differently the Regenerate and Unregenerate hate it (308) † 62, 63
How differently Bad and Good Men are troubled for it (308) † 63, 64
Differences between Sinners and Saints, in reference to the Dominion of it (308) † 64--66
How differently God's Children, and others oppose it (308) † 66, 67
Infants, Arguments for baptizing of them proposed and vindicated 645--655, vid. Baptism
Infinite, Questions and Answers about God's being so 558
Ingrafting of Fruit-Trees, a Spiritul Improvement of it 282--284
Josiah, (King of Judah) His excellent Character 546
The Lamentation made for him, expounded 546, 547
Joy in God, Why, and how this should be maintain'd under saddest Providences 169
In the Holy Ghost, The Nature and Properties of it, with useful Inferences 581, 582
Joys of Heaven, How much they exceed the greatest Joys of Religion here 89, 90
Judgment, (the last) Witnesses for or against Sinners in it 7, 8
Several Things which will be attested therein 8
Reasons why God will have Witnesses produc'd in it Ibid.
Several useful Inferences concerning it 8, 9
How much it concerns People to prepare for it 9--11
Justice of God, The Properties and Evidences of it explain'd 561
Justification, The Doctrine of it explain'd and improv'd 578, 579

K.

KEeping the Heart, Several Things included in it (308) † 5, 6
Several Properties of this Work (308) † 6
How it conduces to the Honour of God, and the Sincerity of our Religion (308) † 7, 8
It puts a Beauty on our Profession, and yields Comfort to our Souls (308) 8, 9
The Improvement of our Graces depends upon it (308) † 9
'Tis necessary to the stability of our Souls (308) † 9, 10
Special Seasons which call for our utmost Diligence therein (308) † 11--35, vid. Heart
King, How Christ is so explain'd and improv'd 573, 574
Kingdom of God, what meant by praying it may come 621, 622
Knock, At what Doors Christ is said to do this 24, 35
What is imply'd in our Saviour's doing it 35, 36
By what Instruments Christ performs this Work 36--38

In what Manner our Lord does it, shewn in Ten Particulars 38--40
Several useful Inferences from Christ's doing it 40--42
Knowledge of God, prov'd to extend to all Secrets (308) 69--71
Several useful Inferences from the Perfection of it (308) 71--74

L.

LAbours, God sometimes blasts those of Men in their Callings (308) 80, vid. Callings
Lamb of God, Christ so call'd 669, 670
Why to be beheld with Admiration 670, 671
The great usefulness of beholding him by Faith 671, 672
Lamentations, Why to be made at the Funerals of good Men 547
Laodicea, Its woful Diseases and Remedies for curing them (308) † 44, 45
Launching of a Ship. An Emblem both of the Natural and Spiritual Birth (308) 1, 2
Law of God, Our Disability perfectly to keep it in this Life 602, 603
Useful Inferences from our Inability to yield perfect Obedience to it 603
Leek, Meditation on the pulling up of one 306, 307
Liberty, Of Protestant Dissenters, How to be improv'd by them, shewn in a Latin Epistle 2--5
A good Improvement of it the best Way to have it continu'd 6
Life, (Spiritual) Six Signs by which 'tis discover'd in the Souls of Men 75, 76
Linnets, and Sparrows, a Meditation on their mixing together 301
Locks, Enumeration of several which fasten up the Heart against Christ, 17, vid Bars
Long-suffering of God, The Nature and Evidences of it 24, 25 vid. Patience
Lord's-Prayer, Whether to be us'd as a Form or not 619
The Preface to it explain'd and improv'd 620
The first Petition therein open'd with Improvements 620, 621
It's Second Petition consider'd 621
An Exposition and Application of the Third Petition 622
The Fourth Petition of it open'd and improv'd 623, 624
An Explication and Application of the Fifth Petition in it 625, 626
The Sixth Petition of it expounded and improv'd 626, 627
An Exposition of its Conclusion with Improvements 627, 628
Lord's-Supper, Questions and Answers concerning the Nature and Ends of it 615
The Elements, Actions, and Subjects of it shewn 616, 617
The Qualifications and Duties of those who receive it 617, 618
A Discourse concerning that Seriousness which is requir'd in it 657-660
A Meditation on God's Nearness to his People in it 660-662
How Christ is to be beheld in it 669
What we may behold of Christ therein 670, 671
The Advantages of beholding Christ in it by Faith 671, 672
Love of Christ, What renders the Assurance of it most desirable 687, 688
The Difficulty of obtaining the Assurance of it 688, 689
Directions for attaining an Assurance thereof 689
How 'tis said to pass Knowledge 690
Wherein it appears to be wonderful 691
Love, (to God and Men) The Properties of it, with Improvements 589
Loveliness of Relationss, no sufficient Ground of excessive Sorrow for their Death 488,492
Lusts of Men are represented by the monstrous Things in the Sea (308) 4, 5

M.

MAgnanimity, The Necessity and Nature of it shewn, 514, 515, vid. Fortitude
Manton, (Dr.) A remarkable Citation from him (308) 30
Mariner's-Compass, How 'tis an Emblem of God's Word (308) 16, 17
Maturity of Grace, Three Signs of it mention'd 270, 271
Of Sin, Six Tokens which give Evidence of it 271
Useful Reflections upon that of Grace and Sin 271, 272
Meat and Drink, How Christ's Flesh and Blood is so to Believers 684, 685
The transcendent Excellency of that which Christ gives 685, 686
Profitable Inferences concerning that which our Saviour gives 686
Motives to feed upon that which flows from Christ 686, 687
Mediocrity is the most desirable State in reference to Worldly Things 242
Members of the Church; several of their usual Sins, and Duties enumerated 751, 752
Mind of Man, can't bear Afflictions without being supported 534
Ministers, Some eminent Providences relating to them 150
Things necessary to the Call of them 209
How those of our Nation are Call'd and Ordain'd Ibid.
Ministry, A faithful One is a great Blessing 41, 42
The Danger of attending that which leads to Superstition and Idolatry 208--210
Mirth, Excess in it represented by too much Sail in a Storm (308) 25
Miry-Ground, Represents the incurable State of many Souls 247
Moral-Law, The Nature and Obligation of it consider'd and improv'd 588, 589
Mortification of Sin, how 'tis help'd forward by Divine Providence 160--162
To Earthly Interest, necessary to prepare for Sufferings 516, 517
Several Things wherein 'tis to be chiefly exercis'd 517--519
Moses, His earnest Prayer for Admission into Canaan 102
How his Prayer for what God had before refus'd to give, is to be understood 102, 103
Mother, The mournful State of one mention'd in the Gospel (308) † 87, 88
Christ's compassionate Counsel to a mourning one (308) † 88, 89
Mourning (for dead Relations) ought to be moderated (308) † 88

How far it should be allow'd of (308) † 90, 91
When 'tis excessive and sinful (308) † 91--94
What Comfort may be given to unregenerate Sinners under it (308) † 95
Twenty Considerations for comforting God's Children under it (308) † 95, 96, &c.
Several Pleas for Excess in it answer'd 488--492
Seven Rules prescrib'd for moderating of it 492--494
Mourners, a Discourse call'd a Token for them (308) † 87
For the Death of Godly Friends, comforted by the Covenant of Grace 480, 481
Comforted by the Hope of the Resurrection 481, 482
Solac'd by the present happy State of their piously departed Friends 482
Quieted by God's Ability to make up their Losses 483
Comforted by considering that God has better Things to bestow 484
Their Grief allay'd, by considering the Good may be got by Losses, 486. And how much more others as good as our selves have lost Ibid.
Comforted by their Relation to God, and the Nearness of eternal Joy 487
Four Considerations to support them 545
Seasonable Advices to such 550--552
Mystery, what is imported in this Word being written on the Whore's Forehead 204, 205

N.

NAme of God, the sanctifying of it explain'd and improv'd 620, 621
Nation, what Sins are Tokens of its approaching Misery 499, 500
Navigation, the Excellency of that which is Spiritual (308) iii
Motives pressing to the serious Study of that which is Spiritual (308) iv
Trading by it is an Emblem of Christian Communion (308) 10, 11
Neighbourhood, how and when we should especially endeavour to promote Religion in it 212, 213

O.

OAths, the Evil and Danger of prophane Ones (308) 39
Have an Imprecation express'd or imply'd in them (308) 40 vid. Swearing Obedience to God, the Nature and Rules of it explain'd and improv'd 587, 588
vid. Ten Commandments
Ocean, how 'tis an Emblem of God's Mercy and Eternity (308) 2, 3
The monstrous Things in it, renders it an Emblem of Man's corrupt Heart (308) 4, 5
Rocks in it are an Emblem of God's Church (308) 11, 12
The Multitude of Creatures fed therein, should encourage our Faith (308) 13, 14
The sweet Waters drain'd from it, are an Emblem of the Saints Afflictions (308) 14, 15
God's limiting the Bounds of it, Spiritually improv'd (308) 15, 16
The Ebbing and Flowing of it, is an Emblem of the World's Uncertainty (308) 17, 18
The Depth of it, an Emblem of God's Judgments (308) 28, 29
The Multitude of Men buried in it, shall certainly be rais'd again (308) 29, 30
vid. Sea
Offices of Christ explain'd and improv'd 572
vid. the Words King, Priest and Prophet
Omniscience of God vid. Knowledge
One, God's being so explain'd and improv'd 562, 563
Only Son, Advices to Parents lamenting the Death of one (308) † 85, 86
The Death of such a one, no sufficient Ground of excessive Sorrow 489, 543
Opening the Heart to Christ, Marks whereby it may be known 21, 22
The Difficulty of this Work 77
The principal and subordinate Instruments of it 77, 78
'Tis the great Design carried on in the Gospel 78, 79
What Men too often erroneously mistake for it 79
Motives to persuade People to it 90, 91
Advices to those who have experienc'd it 91, 92
Oppressors, represented by the greater Fish devouring the lesser (308) 24, 25
Ordinances of the Gospel, Evidences and Advantages of Christ's Presence in 'em 12, 13
The Necessity of Christ's Presence in them 13
Useful Inferences concerning our Saviour's Presence in them 14, 15
The great Dignity of them 73, 74
Questions and Answers concerning the Nature and saving Efficacy of them 608, 609
Original Sin, the Nature of it explain'd, with Improvements 568, 569
Some Account of Man's Misery flowing from it 569

P.

PArdon, shewn to be the sweetest of all Mercies 84, 85
Parents, what a Mercy 'tis to be born of good ones 146, 147
How much it concerns them to take Care of their Childrens Souls 148
Pastor, an Evangelical one described by our Saviour 741, 742
What is included in his Ministerial Faithfulness 742, 743
The Nature and eminent Use of Ministerial Prudence to him 744--747
The glorious Reward which a good one may expect 747, 748
Several Improvements which Ministers should make of Christ's Description of him 748--751
Patience of God, the Nature of it explain'd 24
The glorious Manifestations of it towards Sinners 25, 26
Several Reasons of its being exercis'd 26, 27
Divers useful Inferences concerning it 27--30
What Obligations we have to imitate it 30
The great Danger of abusing it 30--33
The Happiness of rightly improving it 33, 34
Paul, (the Apostle) how he was ready to suffer 96
Peace with God, the Excellency of it shewn in Three Things 85
Of Conscience, this Privilege explain'd and improv'd 580, 581

Perfection of Believers at Death, explain'd and improv'd 583
Perseverance of Saints, an earnest Persuasion to it under greatest Trials 203, 204
The Grounds of its Security explain'd, with Improvements 582, 583
Peter Martyr, his remarkable Saying upon hearing a Bell ring to Mass 208, 209
Pharisees, in what Sense Christ allow'd his Disciples to hear them 210
Pilot, his Skill most peculiarly discover'd in a Storm (308) 27
How the Wisdom of God is shaddow'd forth by his Skill (308) 27, 28
Pleasures of Sin, Considerations to prevent the Power of them (308) 52
Plowing, represents the convincing of Sinners 249, 250
Reflections, and a Poem on the Spiritual Sense of it 251, 252
Popery, something of the Danger of it in England 218
Predictions of an Inundation of it 218, 219
Advances made towards the Introduction of it 219, 220
The Ceremonies of it being us'd, a Token of its prevailing 220, 221
The Persecutions and Divisions of Protestants, give Advantage to it 221
Abuse of Mercies, lays us open to it 221, 222
Addresses to the King, the Parliament, &c. concerning the Danger of it 222, 223
Arguments proving it to be a false Religion 224
'Tis a bloody, a blasphemous, an uncomfortable, and a damnable Religion 225, 226
Means to secure the Nation against it 226--228
Posy, a Meditation upon a withered one 307
Posterity, a Spiritual Improvement of the Husband-Man's Care for it 296, 297
Power of God, the Nature of it explain'd, with Inferences 560
Prayer, what Influence it has in the obtaining of Mercies (308) 58, 59
How that of others conduces to our Benefit (308) 59
The great Evil of neglecting it, or performing it slightly (308) 59, 60
Strong Motives to be frequent and earnest in it (308) 60--62
How it may be answer'd, though the Mercies pray'd for be with-held, or taken away 488
How the due Performance of it prepares for Sufferings 522
Means of improving in it 522, 523
Questions and Answers concerning the Nature and Properties of it 618
The Lord's Prayer, our peculiar Directory for performing it, 619 vid. Lord's-Prayer
To Reason with God in it, is not only lawful, but our Duty 627
Prejudices against Holiness, a great Hinderance to Conversion 18
Preparation for Sufferings, gives Rest in them 501
Is an Evidence of Sincerity 501, 502
Prevents the Scandal of the Cross 502
Tends to awaken the drowsy World 502, 503
'Tis highly commended by the Spirit of God 503
Conduces to Stability in a Day of Trial 503, 504
It evidences Love to Jesus Christ, and Submission to the Divine Will 504
Is very pleasing to God, and alleviates a Fall under them 504, 505
The Necessity of a real Conversion in order to it, shewn in Six Particulars 505--507
'Tis wofully wanting among Professors 525, 526
Several Motives persuading to it 526--528
Divers Encouragements to those who strive for it 528, 529
Presence of Christ, the various Kinds of it 12
The Advantage and Necessity of it, in Gospel-Ordinances, 12, 13 vid. Ordinances
Presence of God, what is included in it, (308) 57
Three Sorts of it instanc'd in 538
Preservation from Dangers, how eminently Providence sometimes appears in it 158, 159
Presumption, how it resists Christ's Entrance into the Soul 18
Pride, how it hinders Sinners from receiving Christ 17
Priest, how Christ executes the Office of one, explain'd and improv'd 573
Prophet, how Christ is one shewn, with Improvements 572, 573
Prosperity not to be ascrib'd to our own Abilities, but God's Blessings (308) 75, 76
Five Things necessarily included in it (308) 76, 77
The several Ingredients in it depend upon God's Providence (308) 77, 78
Useful Inferences from its Dependance on God's Blessing (308) 78, 79
Providence of God, best view'd, as the fulfilling of God's Word 134
The Contemplation of it is very pleasant 135
Good Men, especially in Straits, should recollect the Workings of it 137, 138
The Difference between the Views of it now, and in Heaven 138
The Affairs of Saints are conducted by a special one 138, 139
Why the Epicureans deny'd it 139
Eight Demands to convince of the Government of it 139--143
How it works in our Formation and Protection in the Womb 143, 144
How it orders the Time and Place of our Birth 144--146
How it determines the Stock we spring from 146--148
Remarkable Instances of it in the Conversion of Sinners 148--152
And in carrying on the Work of Conversion 152, 153
How the Wisdom of it shines forth in Men's Civil Callings 153, 154
Eminent Appearances of it sometimes in our Relations 155, 156
Remarkable Instances of it in providing for Persons and Families 156, 157
How we should depend upon it for Provision 157
Eminent Displays of it in preserving from Sin 157, 158
How it appears in outward Preservations 158, 159
The Aid it gives to God's People, in the Work of Mortification 160--162
What Reason we have to admire God's Condescension in it 162, 182, 183
How we are oblig'd to observe it, especially in Times of Trouble 163

As

Providence, As thorough a Knowledge of it as possible should be endeavoured after 164
We should consider how the Scripture is fulfill'd in it 165--167
How we should eye God's Perfections in it 167,168
Wherein we should endeavour to suit our Minds to it 168, 169
Why both Sinners and Saints should be content with its Disposals 169, 170
We should not despond under the seeming Delays of it 170, 171
We must not pry too curiously into the Secrets of it 171
We may maintain sweet Communion with God in it 172
The Pleasures of Life much consist in observing it 173, 174
Observing it is an excellent Antidote against Atheism 174, 175
Remembring the gracious Workings of it supports Faith in future Exigencies 175, 176
The Recognition of it yields continual Matter of Praise to God 176, 177
The due Observance of it endears Christ to our Souls 177, 178
Observing it tends to melt the Heart before God 178, 179
Remembring it will settle the Heart under Changes 179, 180
A due Observation of it conduces much to Holiness 180, 181
The Study of it will be of singular Use in a dying Hour 181, 182
It should be acknowledg'd in every thing which befalls us 182
Six useful Corollaries concerning it 182, 183
How we may discover our Duty under the Darkness of it 184, 185
It sometimes delays to give Mercies pray'd for 185
Whence the Spirits of good Men are apt to sink under the Delays of it 186
Considerations to support under the Delays of it 186, 187
How we may know when an afflicting one is sanctify'd to us 188, 189
Signs that a prosperous one is not sanctify'd 189, 190
Symptoms of a favourable one being sanctify'd to us 190
Its contrary Aspects on good Men usually cause disorder in their Spirits ibid
How the Mind may be kept even under the contrary workings of it 191, 192
Helps to resign our Wills to God, when a sad one is approaching 192--194
The Evil of those who depend upon Means in the Neglect of it (308) 78
A Confirmation, Explication and Improvement of it 565, 566
Providences, Should be recorded, when peculiarly remarkable 137, 138
Tis very useful to keep a written Journal of them 194, 195
Two Narratives of eminently favourable ones at Sea 195--202
Provisions, How Divine Providence sometimes appears in making them 156, 157
Prudence, Wherein Ministers should exercise it in respect to themselves 744, 745
Of Ministers, in reference to their Assisters and their Opposers 745, 746

Q.

Qualifications, What are necessary for those who come to the Lord's Table 617

R.

Rain, The Necessity of it to the Earth 255
Eight Things wherein the Gospel is compar'd to it 255--257
Reflection upon it as an Emblem of God's Word 257, 258
Rams, How Professors are resembled by two fighting ones 304
Reaping, The same we sow, how to be spiritually improv'd 274, 275
Reflections upon it, profitable for Sinners and Saints 275, 276
Reason, Arguments persuading to hearken to it 697, 698
It convinces Sinners they must chuse Reformation or Ruin 699, 700
Appeals to it for promoting Reformation 702, 703,
The Wickedness of warring against its Dictates 703, 704
Its Censure of prophane Swearing and Blasphemy 705--710
It severely condemns Drunkenness 711--716
The Determination of it against Uncleanness 716--719
Its Condemnation of Enmity against Godliness 719--724
Records, Are kept of the Offers of Grace made to us 7
What Things are register'd in those of Heaven 8
Reasons of them, and Inferences from the Consideration of them 8, 9
Serious Reflections concerning them 10, 11
Redemption, That wrought by our Saviour explain'd and improv'd 570, 571
Reformation of Manners, necessary to prevent Ruin 699, 700
The Possibility and Advantage of it 701
Appeals to Reason for promoting it 702, 703
Relations, Eminent Providences of God in reference to them 155, 156
Doubting about their State when Dead consider'd 490, 491
Trouble for over-prizing, or undervaluing them, consider'd 491
Repentance, quickning Considerations against delaying it 10, 11, 30, 31
The Nature and Necessity of that which is saving 607, 608
The Spring, the Effect, and Measure of the Sorrow of it 683
Rest in the Day of Evil, is either of Deliverance or Contentation 501
That of Believers in Death explain'd and improv'd 584
Resurrection of the Dead, how represented by the springing of Seed 261, 262
Serious Reflections on the Certainty of it 262, 263
How the Hope of it supports those who mourn the Death of Godly Friends 481
Saints shall probably know one another after it 481, 482
The Doctrine of it confirm'd, explain'd, and improv'd 584, 585
How Christ will acknowledge, and acquit Believers after it 585, 586

Revolu-

Revolution, A Sermon on the happy One (in 1688) 122--132
Ripeneſs of Corn, A uſeful Meditation upon it 269--271, vid. Maturity
Rocks in the Sea, How an Emblem of the Church in this World (308) 11, 12
Rome, Remark upon its being call'd Babylon and Egypt 202
Roſe, How an Emblem of Creature Enjoyments 307

S.

SAbbath, Reaſons of God's requiring a Weekly One 594
How it ought to be kept 595, 596
Sacraments, What the Word primarily ſignifies 611
Queſtions and Anſwers concerning the Efficacy of the Goſpel-Ones 611, 612
The Nature of them open'd and apply'd 612, 613
The Number of them determined, with Inferences 613
Sacramental-Meditations, 656, &c. vid. Lord's-Supper
Sails too much ſpread, how an Emblem of Carnal Mirth (308) 25
Salvian, A remarkable Expreſſion of this ancient Writer (308) 42
Sanctification, The Nature of it explain'd 579, 580
Satan, Why he makes great Oppoſition to the Goſpel 80
How the Fiſherman's Skill is an Emblem of his Subtilty (308) 22, 23
Saving-Faith, The Preciouſneſs of the leaſt Degree of it 677
Characters of its being true, tho' weak 677, 678
'Tis exceeding comfortable to have it, tho' in the loweſt meaſure 678
Scandals of Profeſſors, The ſight of them Matter of Grief (308) † 1
The Unreaſonableneſs of ſtumbling at them (308) † 1, 2
Diſcourſe of Keeping the Heart deſign'd to prevent them (308) † 2, 3
Scribes and Phariſees, in what Senſe 'twas lawful to hear them 210
Scripture, It's Truth appears from the Effects of it 73
The Divine Authority of it confirm'd and improv'd 556, 557
Rules fit to be obſerv'd in the Interpretation of it 645, 646
Sea, An Account of remarkable Preſervations on it 195--200
Its purging it ſelf, an Emblem of the Regenerate (308) 5
The Ebbing and Flowing of it repreſents the World's Uncertainty (308) 17, 18
The Waves of it ſhould awaken Sinners to Repentance (308) 19
How Chriſt's ſtilling its Waves is a comfortable Conſideration (308) 20, 21
The Riches gain'd from it call for great Thankfulneſs (308) 21, 22. vid. Ocean
Seal upon the Heart and Arm, what it means 687
Sealing of the Spirit, The Excellency of it 86, 87
The Nature of it, and how 'tis perform'd 666
Why none have it till they believe 666, 667
How all Believers have it, and have it not 667, 668
How great a Privilege 'tis 668
The diſtinguiſhing Effects of it 668, 669
Directions for getting, recovering, and ſecuring it 669
Seamen, Two ſerious Epiſtles to them (308) i--vi
Their Watchfulneſs teachable to us (308) 6
Their Dangers diſcover God's Power and Goodneſs (308) 7, 8
Their Prudence in ſhifting their Sails, teachable (308) 9
Their Care not to loſe their Wind, ſpiritually improv'd (308) 10
How the Dangers they run are inſtructive to us (308) 12, 13
Their chief Danger near Land conſider'd and improv'd (308) 30, 31
Their coming ſafe to Shore, an Emblem of Saints getting to Heaven (308) 31, 32
A Catechiſm for them (308) 50--53
A ſerious Addreſs to them (308) 54, 55
What Mercies they ſhould chiefly pray for when going a Voyage (308) 57, 58
Reprov'd for neglecting Prayer at their going to Sea (308) 59, 60
Eſpecially rebuk'd for their Oaths and Blaſphemies (308) 60
Motives exciting them to begin their Voyages with Prayer (308) 61--63
Their Preſervation in Storms is a wonderful Providence (308) 64, 65
Sharply reprov'd for forgetting and neglecting God's wonderful Mercies (308) 65, 66
Uſeful Inſtructions to them (308) 66, 67
Some Account of their Privilege and their Duty (308) 84, 85
When and how they are peculiarly oblig'd to be thankful to God (308) 85--88
Secreſy, People often induc'd to Sin from the Hope of it (308) 69
The Vanity of hoping for it, in ſinning (308) 69--71
The Non-Expectation of it improv'd againſt Temptations (308) 71, 72
The Wickedneſs of thoſe who ſin without regarding it (308) 72
Security of Sinners, ſome Cauſes of that which is groundleſs 40, 41
The Vanity of hoping for it in ſinning againſt God (308) 69--71
Seed-Corn, Principles of Grace compar'd to it 252, 253
Reflection and a Poem concerning it 254, 255
It's Corruption and ſpringing, an Emblem of the Death and Reſurrection of Saints 261--263
Seed-Time, Meditations on ſpringing Weather after it 255, vid. Rain
Seeth the Sins of Men, How God does it (308) 71, 72, vid. Knowledge
Self-Deceit, The Danger of it (308) † 46, vid. Deceivers Severity of God, how exercis'd towards Chriſt in his Sufferings 673, 674
Reaſons of God's exerciſing it upon our Saviour 675
Inferences from Chriſt's enduring of it 675, 676
Ship, Launching of it an Embling of the firſt and ſecond Birth (308) 1, 2
The Helm of it, an Emblem of Conſcience (308) 6, 7
Meditation upon the Means us'd to preſerve it in a Storm (308) 19, 20
Spreading its Sails unſeaſonably, an Emblem of Carnal Mirth (308) 25
A neglected Leak in it repreſents the Danger of indulg'd Sin (308) 25, 26

Shore, The Danger of a Ship near it ſpiritually improv'd (308) 30
Joy of making it, repreſents that of the Saints coming to Heaven (308) 31
'Twas uſual with the ancient Chriſtians to pray there (308) 56
Sin, The Nature and Evil of it explain'd and improv'd 567, 568
Sins, The Hainouſneſs of them ſhould not hinder believing in Chriſt 61, 62
Several Sorts and Aggravations of them 63, 64
Indulg'd ones repreſented by Leaks in a Ship (308) 25
The Inequality of them evinc'd and improv'd 603, 604
The exceeding Evil and Danger of them conſider'd and improv'd 604, 605
How we may eſcape God's Wrath and Curſe due for them 605, 606
Some too uſually found in Church-Members 751
Sincerity, Some of the moſt aſſuring Marks of it 216--218
Care in keeping the Heart, a good Evidence of it (308) † 37
The Touchſtone of it diſcover'd and apply'd (308) † 44, &c.
How much it concerns us to try and diſcover it (308) † 78
Six Motives to a diligent Tryal of it (308) † 79, 80
Rules for the Diſcovery of it (308) † 80--83
Seven Counſels for maintaining and increaſing it (308) † 83, 84
Sinners, The more hainous encourag'd, and the more civiliz'd excited to come to Chriſt 64, 65
The Vanity of thoſe who hope to conceal themſelves (308) 70--72
The Impudence of open Ones (308) 72
Sion, How we ſhould be affected with the Miſeries of it 215, 216
Sleep, Sin has caſt the Souls of Sinners into a deep one 40, vid. Security Son of God, why Chriſt is call'd God's own Son 674
How God ſpar'd him not 673, 674
Reaſons of God's Severity towards him 674, 675
Several uſeful Leſſons from God's not ſparing him 675, 676
How the Divine Severity to him encourages the Hope of Chriſtians 676
Sorrow, For the Death of Relations, when 'tis ſinful (308) † 91--94, vid. Mourning
Exceſs of that which is Worldly gives Advantage to Satan 485
When exorbitant, 'tis diſhonourable to God 485, 486
Exceſs of it, When God hides his Face, conſider'd 492
Rules for moderating it on the Death of Relations 492--494, 545, vid. Godly-Sorrow
Southerland, (George Earl of) Mr. Flavel's Epiſtle to him 121
Sparrows, Meditation on their mixing with Linnets 301
Spirit, God's being ſo explain'd with uſeful Inferences 557, 558
Storms at Sea, An Emblem of Worldly Troubles (308) 1, 2
How God's Power and Goodneſs is manifeſted in them (308) 8, 9
Are ſometimes Executioners of God's Threat'nings (308) 19
The principal and inſtrumental Cauſes of them (308) 63, 64
How God's wonderful Providence appears in them (308) 64, 65
Leſſons to be learn'd from them, and from preſervation in them (308) 66--68
Succeſs in our Affairs, to be aſcrib'd to God's Bleſſing, (308) 75, vid. Proſperity
Suddenneſs of Relations dying, no ſufficient Ground of exceſſive Sorrow 489
Sufferings for Religion, How Sincerity is tryed by them (308) † 70--72
How Sincerity eſtabliſhes the Soul under them (308) † 72, 73
How St. Paul was ready for them 496
God ſuffers the moſt grievous ſometimes to befal his beſt Servants 497
They redound to God's Glory, and the Good of his People 498
Seven Tokens of their Approach 499, 500
Why God uſually gives Warning of 'em beforehand 500, 501 Ten Excellencies of being prepar'd for 'em 501--504
vid. Preparation
Superſtition, the Nature of it open'd 207
Five Arguments to diſſwade from it 207, 208
Swearing prophanely, the great Evil and Danger of it (308) 39--41
'Tis condemn'd by natural Reaſon and Conſcience 705--710

T.

TAres, their Likeneſs to Wheat, conſider'd and improv'd 263--265
Tears, whence they may be wanting where there is much Trouble 683
Tempeſts, repreſent Worldly Troubles (308) 1, 2
vid. Storms
Temptation, Arguments by which the Devil backs it, anſwer'd (308) † 27, 28
The Petition againſt it in the Lord's Prayer explain'd 626, 627
Temptations, how eminently Providence ſometimes appears in preventing 'em 157, 158
The uſual Method wherein they prevail (308) † 27, 28
Acquaintance with them neceſſary to prepare for Sufferings. 519
Several Kinds of them 520
The Policy which Satan diſcovers in them 520, 521
The chief Danger of them lies in our own Corruptions 521
Rules to prevent being overcome by 'em, in a ſuffering Hour 521, 522
Ten Commandments, the Sum of them explain'd and improv'd 588, 589
The Preface to them open'd, with Inferences from it 589, 590
The firſt of them explain'd and apply'd 590, 591
The Second expounded, with uſeful Inferences 591, 592
The Third open'd and improv'd 592, 593
The Fourth explain'd, with Improvements 594--596
The Fifth open'd and apply'd 596, 597
The Sixth expounded and improv'd 598
The Seventh and Eighth explain'd and apply'd 599, 600
The Ninth open'd, with Improvements of it 600, 601
The Tenth explain'd and Improv'd 601, 602
The Impoſſibility of perfectly keeping them in this Life 602, 603
Thankfulneſs due to God for Recovery from dangerous Sickneſs, (308) 47. For Supplies in Neceſſities, (308) 47, 48. And for Preſervations of Life in Dangers (308) 48

Motives to it (308) 48, 49
What Things are included in this Duty (308) 85, 86
The Reasonableness of it (308) 86, 87
Five Arguments to excite to it (308) 88
Threshing of Corn, how an Emblem of God's afflicting his People 278--280
Tongue, a serious Caution against the Sins of it (308) 38
An observable Remark concerning the numerous Sins of it (308) 38, 39
'Tis compar'd in Scripture to a Tree (308) 39
Rules to prevent the Sins of it (308) 41, 42
Trade, the Badness of it chiefly caused by Sin (308) 23
By Sea, how 'tis an Emblem of Communion (308) 10, 11
Sins which peculiarly blast the Success of it (308) 81, 82 vid. Callings
Trade-Wind, how the Saints always have it in their way to Heaven (308) 26, 27
Transubstantiation, the Popish Doctrine concerning it confuted 616
Trees, how barren ones represent useless Professors 288, 289
Serious Reflections upon cutting them down 289
Occasional Meditations on several Sorts of them 305, 306
Trinity of Persons in the Godhead, confirm'd and improv'd 563
Troubles, how they are represented by Storms at Sea (308) 1, 2
Truth, how many ways 'tis held in Unrighteousness 108--112
Truth of God, the Nature and Properties of it explain'd and improv'd 562
Trial of Grace, various ways, by which 'tis done (308) † 55--73
Useful Inferences concerning it (308) † 77, 78
Christians should be diligent in doing it (308) 79--81 vid. Grace Trials, how we should prepare for them in Prosperity 214, 215

U.

VEgitables, Meditation upon the strange Means of preserving them 308
Unbelief, whence the damning Nature of it springs 80, 81
Christians have good Reason to weep for the Remains of it 678, 679
Signs of the Remainder of it in good People 679
Comfort for Christians under the lamented Remains of it 679, 680
Unchangeableness of God, the Nature of it, with Improvements 559
Uncleanness, the great Evil and Danger of it (308) 42--45
Directions for avoiding it (308) 45, 46
Union with Christ, Explication and Improvement of it 576
Unity of God, explain'd, confirm'd, and improv'd 562, 563
Unthankfulness to God, the exceeding Evil and Danger of it (308) 48, 49
Vocation, the Concomitants of it 577 vid. Effectual Calling Voice of Christ, the Nature and several Kinds of it 66, 67
The Properties of it 67--69
The most usual Objects of it 70
The remarkable Effects of it 71, 72
That many hear it not, who hear the Word, is matter of Lamentation 73
Having heard it, is a great Encouragement to come to Christ 74
Several Sorts of People exhorted to hear it 104, 105
Vows, the Nature of them (308) 48, 49
The great Evil and Danger of breaking them (308) 49, 50
Upton, (John Esq;) a Funeral-Sermon on his Death 546
Some Account of his excellent Character 549

W.

WHeat, a Spiritual Improvement of its being represented by Tares, 263 vid. Tares
How good Men are compar'd to it 280 281
Will of God, a remarkable Example of Submission to it (308) 14
What is meant by it in the Lord's Prayer 622
How we should do it on Earth, as 'tis done in Heaven 622, 623
For redeeming Sinners, was most pleasing to Christ 680--682
Will-Worship, is a kind of Idolatry 205, 206
Winds, the Mariner's Skill in improving them, Spiritualiz'd (308) 9
The Danger of losing them, Spiritually improv'd (308) 10
The principal Cause of them is God's Will (308) 63
Wings of the Morning, what is signify'd by this Phrase (308) 68
Winnowing of Corn, how it represents God's Judgments 280, 281
Serious Reflections upon it 281, 282
Winter, the Husbandman's Care to provide for it, Spiritually improv'd 272, 273
Various Reflections upon it 274
Wisdom of God, the Nature of it shewn, with Improvements 559, 560
Witnesses for or against Sinners in the last Judgment, 7, 8 vid. The Words Judgment and Records
Womb, how Providence appears in our Formation and Protection therein 143, 144
Word of God, how Reading and Hearing it, conduce to Salvation 609
The manner of Reading and Hearing it aright 610
Works of God, what renders them truly great 116, 117 vid. Deliverance World, how we may keep our selves pure from its Corruptions 213, 214
Worm, a Meditation on one catch'd by a Robin-Red-Breast 301, 302
Worship of God, Reasons for a compos'd serious Spirit in it 658, 659
God's peculiar Presence in it, explain'd and improv'd 660--602
The best Christians find the Workings of Sinful Corruptions therein 662--665

Y.

YOung People, a serious Address to them concerning their Danger 75
Youthfulness of dead Relations, no sufficient Ground of excessive Sorrow for them 488, 489, 543

FINIS.